About SSU

Located in California's premier wine country one hour north of San Francisco, Sonoma State is a small campus with big ideas. With a tradition of promoting intellectual and personal growth, leadership opportunities and technological proficiency, SSU offers its students a friendly, safe and informal atmosphere on a beautiful campus setting. Currently, campus housing accommodates students in both apartment and residential suite style facilities.

While SSU generally accepts all qualified students who apply from high schools in its service area, 80 percent of the freshmen and 55 percent of the junior transfer students come from outside the North Bay region. With 34 percent of the student body living on campus, it is one of the most residential campuses within the California State University system.

Our Mission

The SSU mission is to prepare students to be learned people who:

- Have a foundation for lifelong learning,
- Have a broad cultural perspective,
- Have a keen appreciation of intellectual and aesthetic achievements,
- Will be leaders and active citizens,
- Are capable of pursuing fulfilling careers in a changing world, and
- Are concerned with contributing to the health and well-being of the world at large.

To achieve its mission, Sonoma State University recognizes that its first obligation is to develop and maintain excellent programs of undergraduate instruction grounded in the liberal arts and sciences. Instructional programs are designed to challenge students not only to acquire knowledge but also to develop the skills of critical analysis, careful reasoning, creativity, and self-expression. Excellence in undergraduate education requires students to participate in a well-planned program that provides both a liberal education and opportunities for specific career preparation.

The University offers a wide range of traditional disciplines, as well as interdisciplinary programs, so that students are able to explore diverse modes of inquiry, the understanding gained within the various disciplines, and a global spectrum of ideas, institutions, values, and artistic expressions.

The University offers selected professional and graduate programs leading to master's degrees, teaching credentials, and certificates in various career fields. These programs respond to regional and state needs within the academic, business, education, and professional communities.

The quality of the educational experience relies on close human and intellectual relationships among students and faculty to foster the open exchange of ideas. The University is committed to creating a learning community in which people from diverse backgrounds and cultures are valued for the breadth of their perspectives and are encouraged in their intellectual pursuits. The University's special character within California education emerges from its small size; its commitment to high standards of scholarship and ongoing professional development; and its promotion of diversity in the faculty, staff, and student populations.

The University also recognizes its obligation to serve as an educational and cultural resource for people in the surrounding communities. It offers courses, lectures, workshops, and programs that are open to the public. Special events in the arts, the sciences, and athletics contribute to the intellectual and cultural life of students and the community.

Our History

The California State Legislature established Sonoma State College in 1960. The college opened in temporary quarters in Rohnert Park in fall 1961 under the leadership of founding president Ambrose R. Nichols, Jr., with an enrollment of 274 upper-division students. Most of the faculty and administrators of the Santa Rosa Center of San Francisco State College, which had served the region since 1956, joined the new college. The center's elementary education, psychology, and counseling programs were the principal offerings. The college grew steadily, developing academic programs based in the traditional liberal arts and sciences, as well as in career and professional programs, all the while emphasizing close student-faculty interaction.

The college moved to its present 215-acre site in 1966, upon completion of Stevenson and Darwin halls. Excellent new facilities have been constructed, and the grounds have been extensively landscaped, creating one of the most attractive, modern, and well-equipped campuses in the state. In 1978, University status was granted, and the name was changed to Sonoma State University.

Accreditation

Sonoma State University is fully accredited by the WASC Senior College and University Commission. In addition, individual program accreditations have been granted by the American Chemical Society, the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business, the National Association of Schools of Music, the National League for Nursing, the National Association for Schools of Art and Design, and the Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs. The School of Education and its programs are approved by the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing and the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE).

The University is also a member of the prestigious Council of Public Liberal Arts and Colleges (COPLAC), an association of public colleges and universities whose primary mission is ensuring that fine undergraduate liberal arts and sciences education is available to students in the public systems of higher education. SSU is the only California member of COPLAC.

The California State University

Welcome to the California State University (CSU) - the nation's largest comprehensive university with 23 unique campuses and seven off-campus centers serving approximately 477,000 students and employing more than 56,000 faculty and staff.

Each year, the university awards more than 133,000 degrees. CSU graduates are serving as leaders in the industries that drive California's economy, including business, agriculture, entertainment, engineering, teaching, hospitality and healthcare. To learn more visit the California State University website.

A Tradition of Excellence for More Than Six Decades

Since 1961, the CSU has provided an affordable, accessible and high-quality education to 4 million living alumni throughout California. While each campus is unique based on its curricular specialties, location and campus culture, every CSU is distinguished for the quality of its educational programs. All campuses are fully accredited, provide a high-quality broad liberal educational program and offer opportunities for students to engage in campus life through the Associated Students, Inc., clubs and service learning. Through leading-edge programs, superior teaching and extensive workforce training opportunities, CSU students graduate with the critical thinking skills, industry knowledge and hands-on experience necessary for employment and career advancement.

Facts

- Today, one of every 20 Americans with a college degree is a CSU graduate.
- 1 of every 10 employees in California is a CSU graduate.
- The CSU awards about half of the bachelor's degrees earned in California.
- The CSU awards 36% of California's undergraduate nursing degrees.
- The CSU prepares more of California's teachers, pre-school through grade 12, than any other institution. Nearly four percent of the nation's teachers graduate from the CSU.
- In 2020, CSU students earned nearly 25,000 business degrees and more than 9,000 engineering degrees.
- The CSU offers more than 170 fully online and 140 hybrid degree programs and concentrations.
- The CSU's online concurrent enrollment program gives students the ability to enroll in courses offered by other campuses in the CSU.
- Over a recent four-year period, the CSU has issued nearly 50,000 professional development certificates in education, health services, business and technology, leisure and hospitality, manufacturing, international trade and many other industries.
- CSU Centers for Community Engagement and Service Learning make available nearly 2300 service learning courses.
- 38,000 CSU students participated in service-learning, contributing 728,000 hours of service in 2020-21.

Governance

The CSU is governed by the Board of Trustees, most of whom are appointed by the governor and serve with faculty and student representatives. The CSU chancellor is the chief executive officer, reporting to the board. The campus presidents serve as the campus-level chief executive officers. The trustees, chancellor and presidents develop university-wide educational policy. The presidents, in consultation with the CSU Academic Senate and other campus stakeholder groups, render and implement local policy decisions.

CSU Historical Milestones

The individual California State Colleges were established as a system with a Board of Trustees and a chancellor in 1960 by the Donahoe Higher Education Act. In 1972, the system was designated as the California State University and Colleges, and in 1982 the system became the California State University. Today, the CSU is comprised of 23 campuses, including comprehensive and polytechnic universities and, since July 1995, the California State University Maritime Academy, a specialized campus.

The oldest campus—San José State University—was founded in 1857 and became the first institution of public higher education in California. The newest—California State University Channel Islands—opened in fall 2002, with freshmen arriving in fall 2003. And in 2022, the Humboldt campus became Cal Poly Humboldt, joining San Luis Obispo and Pomona as that state's third public polytechnical university.

In 1963, the CSU's Academic Senate was established to act as the official voice of CSU faculty in university wide matters. Also, the California State College Student Presidents Association— which was later renamed the California State Student Association (CSSA), was founded to represent each campus student association on issues affecting students.

Through its many decades of service, the CSU has continued to adapt to address societal changes, student needs and workforce trends. While the CSU's core mission has always focused on providing high-quality, affordable bachelor's and master's degree programs, over time the university has added a wide range of services and programs to support student success – from adding health centers and special programs for veterans to building student residential facilities to provide a comprehensive educational experience.

In 2010, in an effort to accommodate community college transfer students, the CSU, in concert with the California Community Colleges (CCC), launched the Associate Degree for Transfer (ADT), which guarantees CCC transfer students with an ADT admission to the CSU with junior status. The ADT has since proven to be the most effective path to a CSU for community college transfer students.

Always adapting to changes in technology and societal trends to support student learning and degree completion, the CSU launched CSU Fully Online, which enables CSU students to complete online courses at other CSU campuses, expanding enrollment opportunities and providing more educational opportunities for students who may prefer an online format to a traditional classroom setting.

The CSU marked a significant educational milestone when it broadened its degree offerings to include doctoral degrees. The CSU independently offers Doctor of Education (Ed.D.), Doctor of Physical Therapy (DPT), Doctor of Audiology (AuD) and Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP) degree programs. Additionally, the CSU was recently authorized to offer the independent Doctor of Occupational Therapy (OTD). A limited number of other doctoral degrees are offered jointly with the University of California and private institutions in California.

The CSU strives to continually develop innovative programs, services and opportunities that will give students the tools they need to meet their full potential. In 2016, the university launched Graduation Initiative 2025, a bold plan to support students, increase the number of California's graduates earning high-quality degrees and eliminate achievement and equity gaps for all students. Through this initiative, the CSU is ensuring that all students have the opportunity to graduate according to their personal goals, positively impacting their lives, families and communities.

By providing an accessible, hands-on education that prepares graduates for career success, the CSU has created a network of alumni that is so extensive and renowned that it spans across the globe. With the graduation of the Class of 2021, more than 4 million CSU alumni are making a difference in the lives of the people of California and the world.

International Programs

Developing intercultural communication skills and international understanding among its students is a vital mission of the California State University (CSU). Since its inception in 1963, the CSU International Programs (CSU IP) has contributed to this effort by providing qualified students an affordable opportunity to continue their studies abroad for a full academic year in all programs and a semester option in some countries and programs.

More than 20,000 CSU students have taken advantage of this unique study option. Also, through the CSU IP exchange partnerships, more than 5000 international students have come to study at the CSU campuses.

International Programs participants earn resident academic credit at their CSU campuses while they pursue full-time study at a host university or study center abroad. CSU IP serves the needs of students in more than 100 designated academic majors. Affiliated with nearly 60 recognized universities and institutions of higher education in 18 countries, CSU IP also offers a wide selection of study abroad destinations and learning environments.

Students participating in CSU IP pay CSU tuition and program fees, and are responsible for airfare, accommodations, meals and other personal expenses. Financial aid, with the exception of Federal Work-Study, is available to qualified students and limited scholarship opportunities are also available. All programs require students to maintain good academic and disciplinary standing, many programs are open to sophomores or graduate students. California Community College transfer students are eligible to apply (to select programs) directly from their community colleges. Students must possess a current cumulative grade point average of 2.75 or 3.0, depending on the program, and must fulfill all coursework prerequisites. Additional program information and application instructions can be found on the International Programs website.

The Arts at Sonoma State University

Center for Performing Arts

Department Offices

Ives Hall 206 and Green Music Center

Dean

Hollis Robbins, School of Arts and Humanities

Department Chairs

Christine Cali, Theatre Arts & Dance

Andy Collinsworth, Department of Music

Production Manager

Vikki Del Rosario

In addition to its broad spectrum of course offerings in music, dance and theatre, the Center for Performing Arts coordinates the performance activities of the music and theatre arts & dance departments by providing technical support in scenery, costumes, makeup, lighting, and sound, as well as marketing, facility management, and ticketing services. An estimated 16,000 people attend the Center's annual presentation of more than 140 student and guest artist workshops and performances.

The Center for Performing Arts is home to a variety of performing ensembles comprised of both students and community members, including Drama Ensemble, Dance Ensemble, Symphony Orchestra, Symphonic Chorus, Chamber Singers, Music Theatre Production, Music Theatre Scenes Workshop, Chamber Music Ensembles, Student Composers, Symphonic Wind Ensemble, Concert Band, Brass Ensemble, Guitar Ensemble, Percussion Ensemble, Concert Jazz Ensembles (2), Latin Jazz Ensemble, Technical Theatre, Theatre Studies, and Jazz Orchestra. In addition, a number of student-initiated projects in music, dance, and theatre are presented each semester, including senior recitals and projects.

In addition to the regular performances of its resident ensembles, Performing Arts' departments and programs each year host and present a variety of special events and activities. The Music Department's Collage Concert, presented each October as part of parent visitation weekend, is soon followed by the annual Scholarship Showcase for scholarship and endowment donors, which features highlights of Fall music, dance and theatre productions. Other Fall events include the High School Invitational Choral and Jazz Festivals and the annual vocal teacher's workshop presented by the local chapter of the National Association of Teachers of Singing. Throughout the year, the choral, Jazz and symphonic wind programs host a variety of regional clinics and festivals, all of which bring high school and college ensembles to SSU. Trio Navarro, Faculty Jazz Ensemble, and Sonoma Musica Viva are the Music department's resident professional ensembles and each presents a concert series. Finally, the Theatre Arts & Dance and Music departments and their many programs present each year a varied season of guest artist residencies, workshops, and concerts that introduce students to intensive, hands-on creative work with top-ranking professionals. The Center's guest artist series and the departments' many talent scholarships are made possible by the Evert B. Person endowment, established in 1991.

- The center manages a variety of distinct performance venues:
- Schroeder Recital Hall. This 240-seat recital hall houses a Magnificent Brombaugh Opus 9 Organ and functions as an intimate venue for choral performance, chamber music, and Jazz. It is equipped as a "smart" classroom and functions as a well-appointed lecture hall.
- Evert B. Person Theatre. Opened in 1990, this beautiful, state-of-the-art, fully equipped and accessible 475-seat proscenium theatre features excellent sight lines, a complete fly system, movable thrust with orchestra lift, large stage, computerized lighting board system, well-equipped scene and costume shops, and actor-friendly dressing rooms and makeup facilities. It is used for most large-scale theatre, dance, and music theatre productions, as well as for concerts, lectures, and special events;
- Warren Auditorium. Our 200-seat proscenium auditorium is a venue for Jazz concerts and other music and theatre events. It is equipped as a "smart" classroom for lecture-style classes and is the home of the Sonoma Film Institute;
- A 125-seat flexible drama theatre and rehearsal space.
- A 50-seat black box studio theatre suited to small-scale, intimate productions;
- Alumni Amphitheater, a small outdoor space surrounded by trees, used for a variety of performances;
- State-of-the-art sound engineering studio allowing for a one-year certificate program.

In addition to its own concerts and productions, the Center provides venues and support for a variety of campus activities, including convocations, lecture and film series, conferences, and events sponsored by Associated Students Productions. Many off-campus groups also rent the Center's performance facilities for meetings, conferences, dance, theatre, and music performances.

Information about performances and tickets is best accessed online on the Department of Music web page and Theatre Arts & Dance web page. Tickets to all CPA performances can be reserved or purchased weekdays at the main campus box office located in the University's Student Center. Tickets can also be obtained at three campus box office outlets 30-60 minutes prior to the performance: 1) the Evert B. Person Theatre Box Office; 2) Ives Hall box office (main floor outside Warren Auditorium); and 3) the lobby of Schroeder's Recital Hall at the Green Music Center. Discount rates on all tickets for students, senior citizens, and groups in effect for all performances. Free admission tickets are available to all SSU students.

Green Music Center

The Green Music Center is the performing arts presenter at Sonoma State University. As a cornerstone of Sonoma State University's commitment to the arts, the Green Music Center is a place to witness artistic inspiration through year-round programming, serving as home to the Sonoma State University Music Department, the Santa Rosa Symphony, and Sonoma Bach.

The mission of the Green Music Center is to present the most compelling artists of our time, to investigate ideas, and to provide access to diverse artistic experiences that educate, connect, and inspire Sonoma State University and neighboring North Bay communities.

Built to bring together artists, students, families, music-lovers, and more, the Green Music Center at Sonoma State University is a gathering place for our diverse communities in Sonoma County to explore and enjoy the things that move and inspire us. The center includes the 1,400-seat Weill Hall, with a rear wall that opens to lawn seating for a unique summertime experience, and the intimate 240-seat Schroeder Hall.

The Green Music Center is committed to connecting the artists we present in our concert halls with academic partners across campus. Artists participate in activities such as lectures, demonstrations, workshops, and conversations with students, faculty, and staff, all of which aim to foster deep engagement with diverse artistic experiences that explore a variety of themes. Activities are designed to develop creative capacities, critical thinking skills, and encourage participants to investigate communal and personal values while building empathy for the experiences of others.

Sonoma State University students can purchase $10 tickets to most shows or receive 50% off regular single ticket prices.

University Art Gallery

(707) 664-2295

Interim Director
Dr. Jennifer Bethke

Opened in 1978 as part of SSU's new art department complex, the University Art Gallery is a large and well-equipped facility with almost 2,500 square feet of exhibition space in two adjoining galleries. The Art Gallery serves the campus and surrounding communities through ongoing presentation of exhibitions, publications, and lectures, featuring work by local, national, and international contemporary artists.

Throughout its existence, the Art Gallery has organized and displayed museum-quality exhibitions, ranging in focus from experimental installations and multimedia works to more traditional styles and techniques. Some of the artists featured in Art Gallery exhibitions are Mari Andrews, Robert Arneson, Chester Arnold, Squeak Carnwath, Laurie Fendrich, John Yoyogi Fortes, Mineko Grimmer, Mildred Howard, Robert Hudson, Marc Katano, Annie Leibovitz, Judith Linhares, Hung Liu, Judy Pfaff, Peter Plagens, Sabine Reckewell, Dana Schutz, Luis Silva, Tomas Vu, and Cate White, among many others.

During each academic year, the Art Gallery presents five exhibitions, including work by graduating Bachelor of Fine Arts students and the annual Juried Student Show, which is open to all SSU students and is selected by two art professionals from off-campus. Work by the SSU Art Department faculty is also shown in the gallery every two to three years. In addition, the Art Gallery hosts a variety of programs and events, chief among them the annual Art from the Heart Auction, featuring affordable works of art by more than 100 local and nationally recognized artists, the proceeds from which directly benefit the gallery's programs.

In addition to its public programs, the Art Gallery serves as a teaching facility, providing art history, art studio, and other students with hands-on experience in the fields of museum and gallery work and arts administration.

The Art Gallery is open 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., Tuesdays through Fridays, and noon to 4 p.m. on Saturdays and Sundays. Admission is free.

University Library

Jean and Charles Schulz Information Center

Library Information

(707) 664-2375

Dean

Dr. Karen G. Schneider

Located in the Jean & Charles Schulz Information Center, the University Library provides materials, spaces, services, and technology to help the Sonoma State community learn, teach, reflect, read, collaborate, innovate, and celebrate arts and culture.

The Library makes it easy for students to access the materials they need to succeed. Along with more than half a million print books and e-books, students can borrow course readings, films, music, and laptops. For questions about how to find, borrow, print, or copy material, visit the Information/Check-out desk, located on the second floor. If the Library does not have what you are looking for, lending services such as CSU+ or Interlibrary Loan can be used to quickly request books, journal articles, and more, free of charge.

The Library's subject librarians partner with faculty in every academic department to integrate skills for identifying, finding, integrating, and citing information into SSU courses. Students have access to help for research through in-person consultations with librarians, 24/7 chat, and the Library website (library.sonoma.edu). Librarians also create online research guides for every department, with contact information and research tips.

The Library is a popular destination for students, offering individual and group study seating, study rooms, viewing rooms, a child-friendly room for students and faculty accompanied by children, a terrace, and vending machines. In addition to printers and copiers, the Library provides hundreds of desktop computers for student use as well as chargers and rolling whiteboards. Food and beverages are welcome throughout most of the Library.

Sonoma State University Library's Special Collections connect the present with the past by providing research assistance and instruction in the use of primary sources, advanced research, and digital projects. Students and researchers from around the world use Special Collections to explore the history of Sonoma State University, the life and times of Jack London, and North Bay social and environmental history.

The SSU Makerspace, located on the second floor, transforms dreams into reality through exploration of digital fabrication, prototyping, immersive technologies, and a wide range of equipment and tools. The Makerspace is open weekday afternoons and evenings for walk-in use. Students, faculty, and staff can explore new technologies through class labs, workshops, experimentation, and free-play.

The three-story, 219,000 square foot Jean & Charles Schulz Information Center opened in 2000, and was made possible through support from the Cotati-Rohnert Park Unified School District, private donations, California's taxpayers, and a generous gift from Jean and Charles Schulz. The Information Center houses the University Library, SSU Information Technology, and Charlie Brown's Cafe. The Library features an 800,000-volume automated retrieval system that houses approximately half the Library's print collection, enabling library space to be prioritized for student learning. The Library's first floor provides students a gathering space for group study, research, and writing, and houses a "Student Success District" featuring suite services such as Advising, the Center for Transfer and Transition Programs, the Dream Center, the Learning and Academic Resource Center (LARC), and the Military & Veteran Resource Center.

The Anthropological Studies Center undertakes activities that benefit the students of Sonoma State University, scholarship in the field of Cultural Resources Management, and the community at large.

The Center fulfills its mission in education, research, and public service by creating the opportunity for SSU students to learn real-world skills in Cultural Resources Management through internships and the Center's professional apprenticeship program; by maintaining an Archaeological Collections Facility in which many artifact collections are available for students and scholars to study; and by operating an Office of Interpretive and Outreach Services that provides the public with information about archeology, anthropology, and historic preservation.

Since 1974, nongovernmental organizations and state and federal agencies have awarded ASC more than $60 million in grants and contracts. The Center, which maintains more than 10,000 square feet of laboratory and administrative office space, has a staff of 15 salaried professionals and 25 part-time student employees. Former CSU Chancellor Charles Reed described the Center as "one of the finest examples in the CSU system of... active learning and student involvement in faculty-directed research."

Center for Community Engagement

Director

Merith Weisman

The Center for Community Engagement (CCE) advances community-based programs on the Sonoma State University campus. CCE supports faculty in developing community-based teaching that integrates academic theory with community service and research that is inclusive of community partners and students to address local problems. By incorporating these projects into the curriculum, we teach students to be active citizens and that the theories taught in the classroom do apply to real-world issues.

Central to the mission of the CCE are several goals:

- To integrate service-learning and community based research into the curriculum
- To support and promote SSU-community collaborative research including community-based participatory research, action research, and research for the common good
- To support and promote faculty community service and advocacy for community interests
- To support and promote high quality, reciprocal community university partnerships that are firmly rooted in the curriculum
- To assist community partners in connecting to opportunities to collaborate with and access the resources of the University
- To foster the development of a civic perspective in education

Our world increasingly demands attention to pressing matters of moral, legal, and social concern. We continue to struggle with long-standing problems like discrimination and income inequality, and we now face urgent moral and legal challenges involving such crucial areas of life as sustainable resources, revolutionary technology, and heretofore unimaginable biological capabilities. The Center for Ethics, Law, and Society is SSU's established hub for confronting such difficult questions. To this end, the Center has three objectives:

1. Foster student learning: Directly linked with the Pre-Law/Applied Ethics Concentration in the Philosophy Program, the Center addresses, develops, and promotes student learning and interest in the law and applied ethics. The Center also seeks to make connections to appropriate or overlapping curricula in other programs on campus, extending this role to students beyond the Philosophy program.
2. Engage with community: The Center strives to address, in a visible manner, questions of ethical and legal concern for the local community.
3. Promote scholarly development: The Center encourages scholarship concerned with issues related to law and ethics.

Study Away/Abroad Programs

<https://international.sonoma.edu/study-away>

Sonoma State University offers many different opportunities for students to study away as a part of their academic experience! All SSU students can study away, and should consider making it a part of their college experience! The Global Engagement Office (GEO) helps students from advising on program and location options to starting their application and then preparing students for their study away experience! GEO also assists students while they're studying away and when they return to ensure they have a successful and beneficial experience!

Study away enhances your education.

Study abroad adds a new perspective to your studies. You will see things from another point of view, which will help you to develop your analytical and critical thinking skills.

Study away builds your résumé.

In an age of global economies and information super-highways, the unique, international experience acquired while living abroad provides students with a competitive edge that sets them apart in the job market.

Study away leads to developing your self-awareness.

We sometimes impose limitations on ourselves, curbing our progress toward our goals. By leaving the familiar behind to encounter different people and places we gain a better understanding of ourselves and the world around us.

Study away teaches an understanding of another culture.

Living and learning in another culture in the midst of the unfamiliar adds to our understanding of the variety of cultures in our world and gives us maturity and perspective that can be gained in no other way.

Graduating soon? There are lots of opportunities for students to get abroad after graduating too!

National Student Exchange (NSE)

<http://web.sonoma.edu/cie/nse/study-abroad>

NSE is an agreement between almost 200 colleges and universities in the U.S., Canada, Guam, Puerto Rico, and the U.S. Virgin Islands, which allows students an opportunity to study at another campus while maintaining their enrollment status at their home campus. They avoid out-of-state tuition and can apply financial aid toward their exchange. Students cite academic diversification, the chance to travel, experiencing different geographic and cultural settings, personal growth and becoming more independent as reasons for participating in NSE. International Programs and NSE are valuable ways to travel and study while working toward a degree.

Director

Robert Eyler

Email: eyler@sonoma.edu

The Center for Regional Economic Analysis (CREA) at SSU provides research, data, and analysis for local industry and governments. Its mission is to produce and disseminate new information in the general area of economic research, and in the specific areas of business economics, economic development, regional economics, and policy. CREA serves the business community; federal, state, and local governments; individuals; and SSU. A special emphasis is placed on businesses and governments in the SSU service area.

Professor Diane Parness

The Center for the Study of the Holocaust and Genocide is an academic institute constituted in February 1987 to provide education on the origins, nature, and consequences of the Holocaust. Since its founding, the Center has broadened and expanded its focus to include the study of other historical and modern genocides. The primary activities of the Center include assisting in the organization and coordination of the annual, nationally recognized Holocaust and Genocide Lecture Series, which is offered as an upper division GE course, Political Science 307: Perspectives on the Holocaust and Genocide. The Center also develops and distributes resource materials (publications, electronic media, etc.) for campus, school, and public use, and cooperative efforts with a community-based group, the Alliance for the Study of the Holocaust and Genocide, to provide Holocaust education in the SSU service area schools. The Center played an integral part in the establishment of the Holocaust and Genocide Memorial Grove on campus as well as the installation of a heritage sapling from the Anne Frank House in Amsterdam.

The Center promotes research on Holocaust themes and has sponsored conferences, film series, author presentations, and teacher training seminars. In collaboration with the Schulz Information Center and other regional libraries, the Center enhances the collection of books, videos, and other descriptive materials. The Center also supports commemorative events and the presentation of artistic and historical exhibits and offers access to information on the Holocaust and genocide across a broad range of thematic and disciplinary approaches.

Center for Teaching and Educational Technology (CTET)

email: ctet@sonoma.edu
<https://ctet.sonoma.edu>

CTET Director

Justin Lipp, Ph.D.

The Center for Teaching & Educational Technology (CTET) is located on the first floor of Salazar Hall. The Center supports SSU faculty development in teaching pedagogy, academic technology, online course design, universal design, and equity and inclusion in learning through multi-week professional development programs, individual workshops, one-on-one advising, and technical support. At the Center, faculty have the opportunity to meet individually with Instructional Technologists and Pedagogical Consultants to develop effective tools and strategies for the enhancement of teaching, both with and without technology. Faculty can also get hands-on support with instructional technologies including Canvas (and integrated tools like Ally and TurnItIn), YuJa Lecture Capture, Zoom for online class meetings, and Qualtrics for survey development

The Center additionally provides meeting spaces for faculty to collaborate with colleagues on instruction-related activities including instructional materials design, classroom technology, and accessibility remediation; and sponsors awards and grants for faculty development. Finally, the Center collaborates not only with individual faculty, but also with departments and schools, to pilot innovative instructional methods, develop initiatives in support of faculty professional development around teaching, and promote the accessibility of instructional materials across SSU.

Center for Environmental Inquiry

Director

Claudia Luke

Email: lukec@sonoma.edu

SSU's Center for Environmental Inquiry mobilizes faculty, students and community to solve environmental challenges of the North Bay. Our staff create connections between academia and community that teach students critical skills and spark new ideas. We bring together:

- Students and faculty from all disciplines to work on high priority projects as they build skills valuable to employers.
- Businesses and agencies to partner on solving pressing environmental issues.
- Community to learn and work together to make meaningful contributions towards a thriving future

Programs: Center staff works with students, faculty and community to develop projects ranging from class assignments to multi-year studies. Staff helps faculty and students identify priority sustainability issues of the North Bay and develop meaningful projects as part of course-work, internships, student employment and independent research. An annual grant program provides funding to work on issues surrounding water, fire and technology. "Dig into Nature," an active public workshop series introduces faculty and students to local environments and challenges.

Preserves: The Center manages and promotes education and research activities at three SSU preserves totaling over 4,200 acres. The SSU preserves are open to all persons engaging in education or research. On-site trainings, tours and workshops are available year-round. The 450-acre Fairfield Osborn Preserve lies 7 miles east of campus at the top of Sonoma Mountain. Preserve facilities include on-site offices, meeting rooms, a staff residence, and a sensor network. The 40-acre Los Guilicos Preserve which burned during the 2020 Glass Fire is 16 miles north of campus at the foot of Hood Mountain. The 3,670-acre Galbreath Wildlands Preserve is 60 miles north of campus in southern Mendocino County. Onsite facilities include a large camping area with water, food storage and a restroom.

Director

Dr. Matthew Clark

(707) 664-2558

Email: matthew.clark@sonoma.edu

The mission of the Center for Interdisciplinary Geospatial Analysis (CIGA) is to enable and promote the application of geospatial technology to social and environmental problems through research, education, and community service. The Center seeks interdisciplinary collaboration among campus and external researchers, students, and other organizations in projects that involve geographic information and spatial analysis at local to global scales. To accomplish these goals, the Center provides computer software and data resources; Geographic Information System (GIS) and remote sensing expertise and consulting services; educational courses; and community outreach. Courses in the Department of Geography, Environment and Planning provide a solid foundation in geospatial science and technology. Students are given a unique opportunity to broaden and refine their education by working on real-world problems in geospatial research projects and service contracts.

The Center has a well-equipped research computer lab for GIS analysis, image processing, and web-based map applications. Example projects conducted by CIGA include: modeling bird species diversity with soundscape analysis and satellite data; mapping California natural vegetation and land use with airborne hyperspectral images; forest biomass and fire fuels estimation with lidar sensors and unmanned aerial systems (drones); and, analyzing the impact of the global economy on natural and human systems at multiple spatial scales in Latin America and the Caribbean.

Hutchins Institute for Public Policy Studies and Community Action

Director

Francisco H. Vázquez
Email: francisco.vazquez@sonoma.edu

The mission of the Hutchins Institute for Public Policy Studies and Community Action (HIPP) is to promote discussions about environmental and socioeconomic issues on and off campus, and to facilitate research and projects on these topics.

In keeping with this mission the Hutchins Institute collaborates with various profit and non-profit organizations in Sonoma County.

Presently HIPP continues to provide support to Latinos Service Providers (LSP), which has received a five-year (2016-2022), $1.18 million dollar grant from the California Department of Mental Health designed by Dr. Vázquez, to conduct Testimonios, a five-year research project on mental and behavioral health. The objective of the California Reducing Disparities Project (CRDP) is to work with the Latino community to identify cultural-based practices that promote mental health and to develop methods to translate these into evidence-based practices. Dr. Vazquez conceived and co-wrote the proposal for the Testimonios project, which will train up to twenty high school students per year as promotores de salud mental. Once trained, these promotores will collect and disseminate information from and to their particular communities. The first group of 20 students successfully completed their internship and the second group is well underway. They are supported by a Community Advisory Group made up of SSU and SRJC faculty and students, and community members, such as cultural practitioners, mental health specialists, as well as CRDP and LSP staff.

Previous projects include:

- The implementation of Latino Student Congress (now Youth Congress) within the North Bay Organizing Project of Sonoma County.
- Coalition for Latino Civic Engagement (CLACE): Its mission is to collaborate with Community Action Partnership to organize a coalition of several other organizations with expertise in voter registration to promote "Su Voto es su Voz," a voter registration and education project in the Roseland area of Santa Rosa.
- The Association of Hutchins Alumni (AHA): a network of individuals interested in lifelong learning, featuring occasional seminar reunions and the Alumni Book Club;
- Northern California Earth Institute: to promote discussion groups based on a series of five group-study guides on various topics relating to sustainability (on-going); and
- Roseland Redevelopment Project: A project to turn the Roseland Shopping Center located on Sebastopol Road (to Dutton Avenue) into a three-story building with low-income housing on the third floor, offices on the second floor, and businesses on the first floor, and to include in this urban development a multicultural center and a plaza with a kiosk and gardens (on-going).

- On March 30, 2009, HIPP submitted a proposal to the U.S. Department of Energy for a project under the Hutchins Institute: Northern California Alternative Fuels Training Consortium. It was written by Shirley Johnson, a graduate from the Hutchins Master's Program Action for a Viable Future and Dr. Vazquez agreed to serve as the Principal Investigator. It will be resubmitted in 2010;
- College Assistance Migrant Program (CAMP) (2002-2007): recruitment and support of first year college migrant or seasonal students at Sonoma State University, Santa Rosa Junior College, and Napa Valley Community College;
- Center for Information and Research on Civic Learning and Engagement (CIRCLE): a research project to determine the levels of civic engagement among Latino high school students (2002-2003); and
- The Student Congress I-VI: a high school-based project that promotes Socratic seminars among under served high school students (1994-2997).

HIPP as a clearinghouse: The Hutchins Institute invites the submission of proposals to promote activities that are in keeping with its mission. Anyone interested in participating in any of the listed current activities or wishing to propose new projects should contact the Director.

Center for Sustainable Communities

The Center for Sustainable Communities (CSC) is a research and community service center sponsored by the Sonoma State's Department of Geography, Environment and Planning.

The CSC's predecessor institution, the Institute for Community Planning Assistance, was established in 1984 to meet the needs of public agencies seeking planning studies, community surveys, public outreach efforts, and other projects suited to the skills and interests of students and faculty. ICPA also offered training programs to local governments on a variety of planning topics.

In 2009, the Center for Sustainable Communities (CSC) emerged as a program of ICPA, utilizing faculty, students, and CSC staff to support a range of state, regional, and local sustainability efforts.

In 2013, ICPA was officially renamed the Center for Sustainable Communities. Its activities are focused on an array of sustainability topics, such as:

- Local and regional government approaches to reducing green house gas emissions and adapting to climate change.
- Land use planning and public health, including general plan documents.
- Integrating water resources and land use planning

The CSC works with a mix of government agencies to develop sustainability policy documents, implementation programs, and provides training on sustainability topics for local governments and other organizations

Current and recent projects include:

- Preparing a Healthy Community Element for the City of Vallejo's General Plan
- Developing and testing a "return on investment" tool measuring costs and benefits of various low impact development strategies, for the California Department of Water Resources
- Writing and preparing graphics for Regional Climate Action Plan: Highlights and Summary, to provide community access to the Regional Climate Protection Authority's Climate Action Plan for Sonoma County
- Researching and writing existing conditions reports, policies, and implementation actions related to climate change, healthy communities, and environmental justice for the City of Rohnert Park's General Plan.

An urgent need continues to exist for role models with knowledge of challenges encountered by migrant students and for advocates sensitive to their social and academic needs. Research highlights three critical areas of need:

1. Lack of sufficient school counseling services, particularly ethnically and linguistically diverse counselors;
2. High state and national high school dropout rates among migrant students; and
3. Disproportionately low numbers of migrant students enrolling in four year colleges.

The Migrant Education Advisor Program (MEAP) is a California State University collaborative project in its 20th year of responding to these needs by working with local school districts.

Migrant Education Advisor Program Goals:

- Promote bilingual (bicultural) college undergraduates and Counseling M.A. program graduate students as role models and future school counselors and educators, offering paid work experience and training as paraprofessional school advisors and mentors;
- Provide supplemental academic advising for Migrant/English Learners and at-risk students to ensure high school graduation and attainment of skills for lifelong success and pursuit of postsecondary education or career technical/vocational training;

- Provide career guidance so that Migrant/English Learners and at-risk students develop career and educational goals;
- Support social, emotional, and academic growth of students served through fostering of self-esteem, cultural pride, and leadership development; and
- Act as liaisons for schools in order to provide much-needed outreach and education to migrant and English-Learner parents in order to assist them in their support for the education of their children.

Founded in 2001, the Osher Lifelong Learning Institute (OLLI) at SSU is a unique learning community for adults age 50 and better, offering continuing education with no tests and no grades. The goal of the Institute is to bring high quality educational and social experiences to older adults in Sonoma County.

Distinguished SSU faculty and other Bay Area educators enjoy sharing their expertise with OLLI students, whose life experience and intelligence enrich the exchange of ideas. Subject areas include the arts, world cultures, natural sciences, food and wine, social and political history, and contemporary issues. OLLI offers four sessions a year with six week, three week, and single two-hour classes.

OLLI courses take place in Rohnert Park with online courses also available. The second OLLI program established in the country, OLLI at SSU is one of 125 Osher Lifelong Learning Institutes nationwide, all supported in part by the Bernard Osher Foundation.

The Sonoma Film Institute brings to the University a broad variety of films—from silent film to the avant-garde, from contemporary American film to films from the third world—designed to expand audience awareness of film. A fun and meaningful forum for education, understanding and awareness, the Sonoma Film Institute introduces audiences to the art of film making and celebrates both the differences and the shared values of the many cultural groups that make up our global community. The program aims to develop media literacy, broaden insights into other cultures, enhance foreign language aptitude, develop critical thinking skills, and inspire a lifelong appreciation of cinema.

Twenty-five years ago, forward-thinking leaders envisioned a new kind of partnership between academia and the wine industry. That vision became the Wine Business Institute (WBI) at the School of Business and Economics (SBE) at Sonoma State University.

Sonoma State (SSU) was the first university in the United States to offer a BS in Wine Business in 1998, the first to offer a Wine MBA in 2008 and the first in the world to offer an Executive Wine MBA in 2012.

Today, professionals from California and around the world choose SSU as the global leader in Wine Business research and education to experience firsthand the expertise and network of our faculty, alumni, and industry connections.

We equip our students with wine business knowledge and industry-specific tools and strategies to deliver results for organizations competing in today's global marketplace. They study alongside industry professionals from winemakers and viticulturists, brand managers, distributors, CFOs and winery owners.

Our faculty's research informs public policy and drives innovation in the industry on topics including the impact of crises (COVID-19, fires), new marketing and distribution channels, consumer preferences, economic impact, sustainability, and philanthropy. In 2016 the WBI launched the online Wine Business Journal, a journal dedicated to practitioners, educators and researchers interested in critical issues in wine business.

In 2018, SSU opened the Wine Spectator Learning Center, a state-of-the-art education complex dedicated to training the next generation of wine business leaders. The $9.15 million center has become a nexus of collaboration for faculty, students and the leadership of the wine industry.

Arts & Humanities

The school of Arts and Humanities offers instruction in studio art, creative writing, music, dance, acting, technical theatre, and theatre arts. Programs in the humanities include American Multicultural Studies, Art History, English, French, German, Spanish, Communication Studies, Chicano and Latino Studies, Jewish Studies, Linguistics, Native American Studies, and Philosophy. The School of Arts and Humanities also houses the Hutchins School of Liberal Studies and a pre-law and applied ethics program and provides numerous opportunities for service-learning experiences and internships, as well as study abroad.

The Hutchins School, American Multicultural Studies, and the Department of Chicano and Latino Studies offer subject matter preparation programs for students who intend to enter teaching credential programs and to teach in elementary schools. Several departments and programs, including Art, English, Modern Languages, and Music, offer subject matter preparation programs that lead to secondary or single subject teaching credential programs. The English Department offers an M.A. degree in which students complete work in Literature Studies, Creative Writing and the Teaching of Writing. There is an M.A degree program in Spanish and an M.A degree program in Film Studies.

The school also oversees the Center for Performing Arts, which features music and theatre arts productions and guest artists in the state-of-the-art Person Theatre; the University Art Gallery, with nationally recognized shows and exhibits; the Sonoma Film Institute; the Writers Lecture Series, the Africana Lecture Series and other lecture series; KSUN, the campus radio station; the Sonoma State Star, the student weekly newspaper; SSU TV; Zaum, the campus literary journal; and Volt, a nationally distributed literary journal. The Music Department is housed in the Music Education wing of the world famous Green Music Center. Our Students and faculty perform in it regularly on stage in the world-class Weill Hall and in Schroeder recital Hall.

Arts and Humanities school faculty are committed to excellence in teaching and to a strong academic advising program. Students are offered guidance on coursework, advising, internships, and career paths. The school of Arts and Humanities provides an education that allows students to develop their ability to think critically and communicate clearly, the best preparation for a successful future and transforming the world.

For faculty information, please see Faculty or the AMCS faculty-staff web page.

Since 1971, the American Multicultural Studies Department (AMCS) has taken an interdisciplinary and comparative approach to teaching students about the importance of race and ethnicity to people living in the United States. The AMCS Department provides students with the theoretical foundation to understand the complexity of these issues while training them to develop cultural competence, critical thinking, and leadership skills that will empower students to navigate the fast-changing multicultural and multiracial American landscape.

The AMCS Department is listed under American Studies programs in the CSU system. The AMCS program reflects an innovative trend in American studies that is truly interdisciplinary. The core program remains grounded in Critical Ethnic and Race Studies and the concentration and pathways draw upon concepts and methods in a select variety of disciplines in the humanities and social sciences. The program enables students to develop intercultural competence, critical thinking, and leadership skills that will help them navigate the fast-changing multicultural and multiracial American landscape.

The classes that comprise our AMCS BA program focus on the histories and cultures of African Americans, Chicanos and Latinos, Asian Americans, Multiracial Americans, and Native American Indians so that students may understand more deeply America's multicultural heritage and future. Correspondingly, the teaching and research interests of our faculty explore how race, ethnicity, and gender intersect with power and inequality. Some of the areas of expertise of our faculty include: Race and Representation; Race and Equality in Education; Race and Popular Culture; Race and Ethnicity in the Arts, Literature, and Media; Race and Globalization; Multiracial Experience; Civil Rights Movement; Social Policy; Decolonization and Indigenization.

AMCS is committed to graduating students who have the knowledge and skills to live and work productively and competently in an increasingly diverse world. The faculty is committed to shaping students into culturally informed citizens who can make positive impacts on their communities. Students who complete our major or minor program will have the tools to adapt and contribute to a rapidly changing multicultural environment. At the core of our mission is the hope that our work will lead to a better world.

Through the various "AMCS Pathways" and the "Concentration in Africana Studies," students who major in AMCS can choose to focus on an area of interest and have a wide range of courses to choose from across selected departments in the university. This approach to learning will enhance students' multicultural awareness and competence and serves as a vibrant and imperative aspect of our contemporary society. The AMCS degree is versatile as evidenced by our graduates who are now practicing lawyers, college professors, social workers, educators, student affairs professionals, academic counselors, nonprofit administrators, arts administrators, and social entrepreneurs.

Careers in American Multicultural Studies

The AMCS major encourages students to develop an in-depth understanding of American cultures and ethnicities in the 21st century. Since it is predicted that the U.S. will be fifty percent non-white in 2050, our goal is to teach the analytical tools for understanding the United States as a multiracial, multi-ethnic, multicultural, and multilingual nation and to help students shape their vision of leadership, civic engagement, and professional development for the future.

We invite students to explore our multifaceted course offerings focused on issues of justice, equity, and equal access to opportunity for all.

The AMCS Department offers a Concentration in Africana Studies that includes an array of courses within the AMCS Department as well as participating departments across the university. Students pursuing this concentration will learn about African American and African Diasporic history and culture.

The AMCS Pathways allow students to choose from participating departments across the university in the following areas of interest:

- Comparative Ethnic Studies
- Hemispheric Studies
- Critical Race, Sex, Gender, and Sexuality Studies
- Literature and the Arts
- Multicultural Education
- Native American Studies

Faculty advisors will work closely with students in choosing their Pathway. Please see Faculty or AMCS for more information.

American Multicultural Studies, B.A.

Admission into the Major

Each student majoring in AMCS is assigned a faculty advisor and consults with the advisor on progress toward the degree. Upon acceptance into the major, a transfer student's records will be reviewed to articulate the lower-division courses that are equivalent to those offered within the AMCS Department. A maximum of ten lower-division units may be transferred. Upper-division courses from four-year institutions may be transferred above and beyond the ten units of lower-division transfer towards the AMCS major, based on advisor approval. Students should use assist.org to view official articulation agreements between SSU and other California colleges.

Students graduating with a B.A. in American Multicultural Studies must take 20 units of core courses and an additional 8 upper-division AMCS courses plus 16 units from their chosen AMCS Pathway or the Concentration in Africana Studies.

First Year Advising Guide

Sample Four-Year Program

The Four year Plan is a sample study plan. The sequence and specific courses given are suggestive; please see an advisor each semester to plan your personal program and track your progress using the Academic Requirements Report (ARR) in MYSSU.

Courses may be interchanged fall and spring semester depending on course offering each semester.

General Education Notes:

- GE Areas A2 and B4 should be completed by the end of the first year. Some students may take year-long courses for GE A2 and/or B4.
- GE Area A1 and A3 should be completed by the end of the second year
- Students should enroll in Upper Division GE courses after completion of Areas A1, A2, A3, and B4 with a C- or better, lower division GE in that area, and 45 units total.
- Not all First-Year Learning Communities (FLC's) meet the same GE areas.
- GE Area D must be taken in two different subject areas across the nine total required units in lower division (LD) and upper division (UD).
- Students must take American Institution requirements in U.S. History and U.S. Constitution/California State and Local Government. These requirements may be met in GE.

Overview

The Department of Art and Art History offers interdisciplinary majors with the opportunity to specialize in studio art or the history of art.

Art History

The Art History program teaches students to think critically about art and visual culture. In addition to preparing them for careers in the museum and gallery world as well as graduate work in Art History or related fields in the humanities, the program offers training in research, writing and critical thinking that will serve them in many professions. Students are given an introduction to western and non-western art before taking more specialized courses that focus the art and culture of particular regions, periods or themes. Students will gain familiarity with critical theory, historical methodology and research using print, online, and electronic sources. Professors work closely with students to hone their writing, critical thinking and research skills and enable them cultivate and express their own ideas about art and visual culture.

Students in the BA Art History program take 43 units of major core courses.

Art Studio

The Studio Art curriculum is designed for students to develop the ability to create, analyze, interpret, and evaluate art. Students learn to express their thoughts, feelings, and values in a variety of visual forms. The department strives to stimulate creativity and competency as students broaden their skills and knowledge of materials and technologies. The faculty is committed to the recognition of individuality and unique accomplishment. Professors work closely with each student to encourage personal direction and ideas.

Students in the BA art studio concentration take 45 units of major core courses. Emphases include ceramics, painting, photography, printmaking, sculpture and works on paper.

The Bachelor of Fine Arts (BFA) degree is often considered the degree of choice for students wishing to pursue graduate or professional studies. It enhances the artist's opportunity to perform at a higher level and fulfills the need for additional artistic growth in an intensive studio environment. The BFA program regularly brings together students and faculty from all areas for demanding critiques. The pursuit of the BFA degree affords time for concentrated work within a specific art emphasis: painting, photography, printmaking, or sculpture. In addition, students may emphasize ceramics or works on paper.

This more intensive degree program is open to students through competitive application, usually during the junior year. Please see your advisor for details regarding the application process.

To complete the BFA program, students are required to take 70 units of major core courses, which must include 45 upper division units (300 or higher) and 21 units in a single area of specialized emphasis.

Courses for the majors cannot be taken for Cr/NC. A maximum of three courses may be challenged for credit toward the major: two lower-division and one upper-division. Most studio courses require payment of lab fees at time of class registration. In addition a $10 cleaning fee is charged each semester students are enrolled in any studio courses.

It is the departmental philosophy that a grasp of the history and theory of art is indispensable for the studio major and that creative activity is invaluable to the student of art history.

Art History, B.A.

The Art History program teaches students to think critically about art and visual culture. In addition to preparing them for careers in the museum and gallery world as well as graduate work in Art History or related fields in humanities, the program offers training in research, writing and critical thinking that will serve them in many professions. Students are given an introduction to western and non-western art before taking more specialized courses that focus on the art and culture of particular regions, periods or themes. Students will gain familiarity with critical theory, historical methodology and research using print, online, and electronic sources. Professors work closely with students to hone their writing, critical thinking and research skills and enable them to cultivate and express their own ideas about art and visual culture.

Many of the courses required for the degree have prerequisites. Consult course descriptions for details.

Note: Reading comprehension of at least one foreign language is essential for Art History majors. Students are advised to develop competence in French, German, Italian, and/or Spanish; however, the prospect of eventual specialization may make other languages advisable in particular instances.

Program Learning Outcomes

- Students will develop a global knowledge of art history across time periods and places. They will be able to utilize appropriate vocabulary, concepts, and theories while discussing major artists, movements, and objects.
- Students will gain understanding of diverse cultural and historical contexts from various ideological perspectives.
- Students will develop skills in critical thinking, analysis, and visual literacy in order to articulate cultural, historical, and political meanings of art and visual culture.

- Students will understand the relationship of art and visual culture to historical and cultural power structures including class, gender, race, politics, and sexuality.

Art: Studio Concentration, B.F.A.

The B.F.A. is comprised of a group of core courses representing minimum requirements for all areas of emphasis, plus course requirements in studio arts, art history, a B.F.A. seminar, and a B.F.A. professional practices course. Students accepted into the program decide on an area of emphasis from the following choices: painting, photography, printmaking, and sculpture.

1. Throughout the B.F.A. program, candidates must maintain a 3.00 GPA in art and a high level of performance and will be subject to review at all times. Advisors will direct students in their specific course of study based on regular critiques.

2. To complete the program, candidates will meet all course work for the degree and participate in the B.F.A. art exhibition, which will be reviewed by the art faculty to determine the candidate's professional competence in a chosen area of emphasis.
3. In order to receive the B.F.A. Degree, students must complete 24 upper-division units in art in residence. (May be included within the University's unit residency requirement.)

Applied Arts, Minor

The minor in applied arts consists of 18 units. At least 6 of these units must be upper division. To fulfill the minor, students are expected to complete 9 units of activity courses (3 units in each of three fields selected from art, English, music, and theatre arts), as well as a concentration consisting of 9 additional units in one of three fields.

Students embarking on the applied arts minor are expected to develop and file a contract indicating the courses they wish to take to fulfill the minor. Certain course substitutions to the below-stated requirements may be allowed with sufficient justification and approval of the student's advisor and department chair, both of whom will be members of the department of the student's concentration.

Activity Courses

Select three fields from the following four (art, English, music, and theatre arts) and complete 3 units in each field selected.

Museum and Gallery Methods, Career Minor

The career minor in museum and gallery methods provides students of the visual arts with education, training, and hands-on experience in the theory and practice of non-profit museums and galleries. Art History and Art Studio majors completing this career minor will be in much stronger positions to find work and prepare for graduate study in fields closely related to their majors. The career minor in museum and gallery methods may also be combined with any other major.

Internships are available in the University Art Gallery and at regional galleries, museums, and other related nonprofit organizations.

The CALS Major

The Department of Chicano and Latino Studies (CALS) offers students an interdisciplinary curriculum that centers on the experiences of Chicanos and Latinos in many areas of contemporary American society, including politics, education, literature, the arts, and religion. The focus is on gaining greater insight into the relationship between historical, social, political, and ideological circumstances and Latina/o cultures and identities. The major considers the historical and contemporary experiences of Chicanos and Latinos in the United States. Students are free to choose, based on their interests and future career plans, a particular area of emphasis in which to complete their major electives. The flexibility of major requirements makes the CALS major ideally suited for students interested in pursuing a double major.

The overall curriculum provides majors with a solid basis in theoretical and applied analysis covering qualitative and critical methods of study. Students develop the necessary skills to understand the key role Chicanos will increasingly play in the future, given the rapidly changing demographics of the nation.

The department also offers a teacher preparation track designed to prepare students for courses and state exams that are part of the teaching credential certification process for elementary school teachers.

Future Careers

Students in the major embark on a variety of career paths after graduation. CALS graduates are optimally prepared for work in both the public and private sectors. They are broadly trained, culturally astute professionals who are able to work with diverse populations and who can take on the challenges of many different careers. Students are encouraged to consider their future careers while still in the program and to choose electives in accordance with their plans. Students in the teacher-preparation track have been optimally prepared to pursue the coursework and testing necessary to obtain a multiple subjects teaching credential in California. Majors in the interdisciplinary studies track who focus on the study of language and culture often pursue careers in teaching, migrant and bilingual education, publishing, cultural centers or graduate study in art, literature, cultural studies, or ethnic studies. Students who choose a social studies emphasis will acquire a solid basis of knowledge for work in human resources, community development, public service or advocacy work, as well as further study in health services, social welfare, psychology, sociology and political sciences.

How to pursue interest in the major

Freshman Students

Enroll in CALS 219 - The Latino Experience, or in the CALS Learning Community.

Transfer or Junior-level Students

Students who are considering the major are encouraged to enroll in CALS 339, CALS 432 or CALS 451 during their first semester at SSU. These courses offer an excellent introduction to the major and its interdisciplinary approach while fulfilling the upper-division and ethnic studies GE requirement.

Program Offered

Bachelor of Arts in Communication Studies

The Communication and Media Studies major is an innovative, interdisciplinary program that prepares students for careers in the media or for advanced graduate study.

Communication and Media Studies coordinates three distinct approaches to the media: practical application, historical study, and critical analysis. Practical application combines basic training in equipment operation, communication skills, production design, organizational skills, and a professional internship. Historical study focuses on the evolution of the mass media and the relationship of the mass media to society. Critical analysis explores media ethics and the analysis and evaluation of specific mediated texts using qualitative and quantitative methods.

Students are encouraged to develop a specific advisory plan with the assistance of a faculty advisor. Advisory plans, based on the student's specific interests, may focus on:

- General areas such as journalism, media criticism, or public relations;
- Media such as radio, television, online, and newspapers;
- Career roles such as television producer, sports announcer, or reporter; and/or
- Preparation for graduate school.

Students are required to take an internship. The department emphasizes internships that provide students with real-world insights into the media. The department has developed professional media internships with community organizations, radio and television stations, newspapers, magazines, public relations firms, and other media groups.

All on-campus media operate in conjunction with Communication and Media Studies classes. On-campus media offer a variety of opportunities for students. They include the Star, the student newspaper; KSUN, an Internet radio station; Studio Blue, the campus television station that provides news, information, and entertainment; and Primitivo PR, the campus public relations firm.

Students are also required to take Senior Seminar, in which they complete a senior project. This project combines their academic training in the major with a real world application.

Careers in Communication and Media Studies

Graduates from the department find employment in the mass media and in the ever-growing field of communication. Some graduates find work by using their technical skills in radio, video, and computers. Others rely on their training and experience to find jobs in the broad field of public relations. They write for and edit newspapers and newsletters, and design brochures and flyers. They are photographers and are even employed by candidates running for public office. In addition, graduates design websites, edit films, produce documentaries, videotape weddings, record music, and serve as disc jockeys.

Past graduates have become lawyers and teachers, run employment agencies, are hired as fundraisers, private investigators, and work in law enforcement. Communication and Media Studies graduates work in corporate or non-profit organizations doing sales, publicity, or marketing. Wherever communication takes place and whenever media are used, Communication and Media Studies graduates can be found.

Communication Studies, B.A.

Communication and Media Studies is a high-demand major. On-campus change of majors are limited by the number of students who can be served by the faculty and facilities of the program.

- Major Core: All students complete 24 units of required coursework.
- Major Skill: All students complete 4 units of skill coursework.
- Major Outlet: All students complete 8 units of media outlet coursework.
- Major Electives: All students complete 8 units of COMS elective coursework.

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the program, students should be able to:

1. Improve written, oral, and multimedia communication skills
2. Practice collaborative learning and leadership skills
3. Critically analyze media messages and understand media theory, research, law, and ethics
4. Demonstrate a practical skill related to a media industry
5. Integrate and apply academic skills in experiential learning

Sample Four-Year Plan for Bachelor of Arts in Communication Studies

The Four year Plan is a sample study plan. The sequence and specific courses given are suggestive; please see an advisor each semester to plan your personal program and track your progress using the Academic Requirements Report (ARR) in MYSSU.

Courses may be interchanged fall and spring semester depending on course offering each semester.

General Education Notes:

- GE Areas A2 and B4 should be completed by the end of the first year. Some students may take year-long courses for GE A2 and/or B4.
- GE Area A1 and A3 should be completed by the end of the second year
- Students should enroll in Upper Division GE courses after completion of Areas A1, A2, A3, and B4 with a C- or better, lower division GE in that area, and 45 units total.
- Not all First-Year Learning Communities (FLC's) meet the same GE areas.
- GE Area D must be taken in two different subject areas across the nine total required units in lower division (LD) and upper division (UD).
- Students must take American Institution requirements in U.S. History and U.S. Constitution/California State and Local Government. These requirements may be met in GE.

Film Studies, Minor

The Film Studies minor is an interdisciplinary and interdepartmental program that analyzes the theory, history, practice and cultural significance of film. Students will study a broad range of film texts and learn to appreciate a variety of aesthetic and filmmaking practices. Through a critical examination of film, students will also learn to appreciate the moral and aesthetic values of various cultures, ethnicities, races and nationalities. While exploring film's connection with several cultures students will learn to approach film and the cinema in a critical and analytic manner. The film studies minor offers students a flexible curriculum that complements several existing major degree programs in the humanities and social sciences. The minor also constitutes excellent supplementary preparation for graduate study and media or film-related careers. In consultation with their advisor, students can design a minor with an emphasis relevant to their academic and career objectives.

The minor consists of a minimum of 18 semester units distributed among a core (7 units) and a choice of electives (11 or more units).

Minor Core Requirements

(2 courses, 7 units)

- LIBS 320C - Elective Seminar Core C Unit(s): 3

Multicultural Representations in Film

(Students choose one of the following courses):

- AMCS 392 - Ethnic Images in Film and Media Unit(s): 4

- LIBS 204 - Minorities in American Cinema Unit(s): 4
- NAMS 338 - Native Americans and The Cinema Unit(s): 4

Minor Electives

(a minimum of 11 units)

Students may complete the film studies minor by choosing additional course work that incorporates film analysis, history, imagery, or cultural representation as a critical component of the course pedagogy. Note that any course taken in the core may not be repeated for elective credit. The following is a list of approved electives. However, this list of electives may not be exhaustive, as course offerings may change each semester. Students are advised to work closely with one of the faculty advisors listed above in order to ensure progress in the minor.

Note: Some of these courses are offered in departments that are impacted, and may not be open to all students.

 Note: This class may count as an elective if it has not been used to satisfy the core requirements.*

Note: Students may not enroll in AMCS 390 during the same semester.*

English remains one of the most various, comprehensive, and liberalizing of the liberal arts. It familiarizes us with the written documents that define the past and give meaning and purpose to the present; it investigates the sources and structure of language; it enriches our awareness of language in written and oral forms; it stirs the creative and recreative impulses; and it provides us with multiple ways to envision our world and ourselves through the study of fiction, poetry, drama, and both expository and creative non-fiction.

The English Department is one of the University's largest departments. In addition to its majors, the department serves many other students who take English courses to improve their writing, to develop a minor or double major field, or to pursue interests in some aspect of literature, language, or creative writing. English is the field most frequently chosen by students combining fields of study in an interdisciplinary major—for example, literature and sociology; literature and history; literature and art; and linguistics and psychology.

Students who wish to major in English may choose one of three concentrations in the major, each of which provides a coherent program with a particular emphasis. After a core of required courses, students will follow programs leading to a major in English and American Literature, creative writing, or secondary teaching, which prepares students to enter postbaccalaureate teacher credentialing programs.

Learning Outcomes

While specific learning objectives are developed in accord with the department's specific fields of study (the three major concentrations, the California Cultural Studies program, the two tracks of the department's graduate studies program), the department concurs upon a generalized cluster of learning goals it sees as fundamental for undergraduate and graduate students alike. These department-wide learning goals include the following:

Skills

- The ability to read texts closely and to articulate the value of close reading in the study of literature and rhetoric.
- The ability to explicate texts written in a wide variety of forms, styles, structures, and modes.

- The ability to recognize and appreciate the importance of major literary genres, subgenres, and periods.
- The ability to respond imaginatively to the content and style of texts.
- The ability to write clearly, effectively, and imaginatively, and to accommodate writing style to the content and nature of the subject.
- The ability to develop and carry out research projects and to articulate them within appropriate conceptual and methodological frameworks.

Knowledge

- An understanding of the historical development of the English language and of literature written in English from Old English to the present.
- An understanding of the relations between culture, history, and texts.
- An understanding of the twofold nature of textual analysis:
 1. objective study from varied analytical perspectives
 2. subjective experience of the text's aesthetic.
- Familiarity with a wide range of British and American literary works, as well as with selected authors and works of other literatures, including folk and popular forms.
- Familiarity with a wide range of literary terms and categories within literary history, theory, and criticism.
- Familiarity with the nature of literary canons and of canon-formation.
- Familiarity with basic practices of literary research and documentation, including electronic forms of information retrieval and communication.

Experiences

- The exchange of ideas with faculty and students in classroom settings and office visits.
- The ability to complete cooperative projects with other students in discussion groups, writing activities, and study sessions.
- Involvement in the cultural life of the University.

Values

- A sustained interest in language and literature.
- An awareness of the literary past.
- An enriched understanding of the complexities and nuances of the human experience across time and culture.
- Interest and involvement in intellectual, aesthetic, cultural, and sociopolitical issues.
- Increased critical awareness and intellectual independence.

The English Department also serves students in the applied arts minor, which may be of special interest to those seeking the Multiple Subject (elementary level) Teaching Credential and the University's pre-law and pre-health professions programs.

The English Department publishes the following professional and student publications: Zaum and Volt, A Magazine of the Arts. Students wishing to participate in the production of these publications should contact the English Department office.

To be admitted to the English major, students must receive a grade of at least B- in ENGL 101 and ENGL 214 or their equivalents. A student with a grade lower than B- in either ENGL 101 or ENGL 214 may petition for a review by the department. The review will be based on the contents of an appeal folder, containing three essays from the class being reviewed, and a one-to-two-paragraph explanation of the basis of appeal.

Career Opportunities

Students who have majored in English work in journalism, publishing, business, public relations and advertising, broadcasting, law and government service, as well as in elementary, secondary, and college teaching. All of these fields require an understanding of human motivation and of the conflicts and dilemmas that people face. Our graduates enter those fields able to express themselves clearly, logically, and with passion. They understand the relationship between language and community.

Creative Writing

Creative writing is offered in the English Department through both undergraduate and graduate degrees. A master of arts in English with a creative thesis option is available as a 34-unit program, and the bachelor of arts in English with a creative writing emphasis is a 48-unit program. Sequences of courses are available in fiction writing, poetry writing, screen and script writing, and nonfiction writing.

Creative writing faculty includes poet Gillian Conoley, winner of several Pushcart Prizes for poetry, a National Endowment for the Arts award, a Fund for Poetry Award, the Jerome Shestack Award from The American Poetry Review, and a nominee for the National Book Critics' Circle Award. She is the author of The Plot Genie, Profane Halo, Lovers in the Used World, Beckon, Tall Stranger, and Some Gangster Pain. Her work has been anthologized in over 20 national and international anthologies, including the Norton Anthology American Hybrid, several Best American Poetry collections, The Pushcart Prize Anthology, and Lyric Postmodernisms. Gillian Conoley has taught at the Iowa Writers' Workshop, Tulane University, Vermont College MFA Program, and the University of Denver.

Stefan Kiesbye is the author of five books of fiction. He studied drama and worked in radio in Berlin, Germany, before receiving an MFA in creative writing from the University of Michigan. His stories, poems and essays have appeared in numerous magazines and anthologies. His first book, Next Door Lived a Girl, won the Low Fidelity Press Novella Award; the novella has also been translated into German, Dutch, Spanish and Japanese. Kiesbye's second novel, Your House Is on Fire, Your Children All Gone, was published by Penguin in 2012. It was a Top Ten pick of Oprah Magazine, made Entertainment Weekly's Must List, and Slate editor Dan Kois named it one of the best books of the year. It was translated into German and Spanish and is forthcoming from East Press, Japan. In Spring 2014, the literary thriller Messer, Gabel, Schere, Licht (Knife, Fork, Scissors, Flames) was published by Tropen Verlag/Klett-Cotta, Germany. Die Welt wrote that "Stefan Kiesbye...is the inventor of the modern German Gothic novel." His LA Noir Fluchtpunkt Los Angeles (Vanishing Point) was released in January 2015, and his most recent novel, The Staked Plains, in November 2015.

Noelle Oxenhandler is the author of three non-fiction books: A Grief Out of Season, The Eros of Parenthood, and The Wishing Year, (Random House 2008). Her essays, which have been frequently anthologized, have appeared in many national and literary magazines, including The New Yorker, The New York Times Magazine, Vogue, "O" Magazine, Tricycle, and Parabola. Her work has been listed in The Best Essays of the Year collection and included in both The Best Spiritual Essays of the Year and The Best Buddhist Essays of the Year collections. She has been a regular guest teacher in the Graduate Writing Program at Sarah Lawrence College.

Greg Sarris, author, screenwriter, and scholar, holds the Endowed Chair in Native American Studies within the School of Arts and Humanities. Sarris has published several books of fiction and nonfiction, including the widely anthologized collection of essays, Keeping Slug Woman Alive: A Holistic Approach to American Indian Texts, Watermelon Nights, Mabel McKay: Weaving the Dream, The Woman Who Loved a Snake, and Grand Avenue, which was made into an HBO miniseries Sarris wrote and co-produced with Robert Redford. Sarris holds a Ph.D. from Stanford University and has previously taught at Loyola Marymount University in Los Angeles and UCLA. He currently serves as chairman of his tribe, the Federated Indians of Graton Rancheria.

Through the Writers at Sonoma Series, internationally and nationally prominent writers, publishers, and agents are invited each year to read and conduct seminars and workshops for students in the program. Visitors to the campus and the program have included Rae Armantrout, Yusef Komunyakaa, Lawrence Weschler, David Halberstam, Ishmael Reed, Clark Coolidge, D.A. Powell, C.S. Giscombe, Jessica Mitford, Allen Ginsberg, Lawrence Ferlinghetti, Charles Bernstein, Lyn Hejinian, Tom Wolfe, Czeslaw Milosz, Edward Albee, Kurt Vonnegut Jr., Michael Palmer, Donald Revell, Jane Miller, James Ellroy, Wanda Coleman, Lynn Freed, and Yiyun Li. Writers at Sonoma Series is funded by Instructionally Related Activities and the Nadenia Newkirk Fund for writers.

The well-regarded student literary magazine ZAUM is published through the Small Press Editing course offered by the English Department every semester. Students can learn every aspect of literary editing and publishing, including layout, design, and copy editing through this course. A paid position for a student as senior editor is available each year.

VOLT is the highly acclaimed national award-winning magazine which publishes nationally and internationally known authors. Winner of three Pushcart prizes and numerous grants, VOLT is committed to innovative writing. Students can work on the magazine by arrangement with instructor and through the Small Press Editing course. VOLT is edited by poet Gillian Conoley.

The SSU creative writing program is a member of the Associated Writing Programs. For program details, please refer to the English Department section in this catalog.

Advising Clarifications for all Concentrations

1. At least 24 units of the courses listed above must be upper-division.
2. There are several ways in which major coursework may include GE units from areas A, C, or D. Students should consult with faculty about the relationship between their GE and Major coursework.
3. The 48 units listed above will be used in computing the major GPA in accordance with University policy; no courses taken Cr/NC may be counted toward the major unless they are offered with that option only.
4. Additional units in English, beyond the 48 units listed above, will be counted as general college electives and should not be listed on the Major/Minor Requirements form.

In accordance with University policy, courses in Independent Study (ENGL 495, ENGL 595) shall not duplicate regularly offered courses listed in our catalog.

English Education Concentration (Secondary Teaching Prep)

Teaching Credential Preparation The English Education concentration is a program of study that satisfies the subject matter preparation requirement for entry into an English teaching credential program and exempts the student from taking the CSET (California Subject Examination for Teachers) in English. English majors interested in seeking a general elementary credential may demonstrate subject matter competence by passing the CSET Multiple Subjects Assessment. For more information, contact the English Department Office at (707) 664-2140.

 All single subject concentration courses must be passed with a grade of C or better in order to qualify as meeting the waiver requirements. In addition, students must achieve a minimum GPA of 3.00 (in single subject program courses) to qualify for waiver approval.*

Literature Concentration

English Majors concentrating in English and American Literature will focus on literary analysis and literary criticism, becoming familiar with traditional and emerging texts from a variety of literatures. Students in the Literature concentration become sharp readers and perceptive interpreters of complicated ideas in preparation for a wide variety of future paths. The Literature concentration emphasizes rigorous analysis and interpretation, wide-ranging reading, and enjoyable encounters with a variety of challenging novels, plays, essays, and poems, as well as film and other media. The Literature concentration builds skills of argumentation, communication, and research and familiarizes students with important texts, influential ideas, and a range of historical and cultural information.

First-Year Advising Guide

First-Year Advising Guide

English, M.A.

The graduate program in English at Sonoma State University consists of 34 units of graded work. Literary Criticism, Creative Writing, and Rhetoric/English Education are emphases within the degree available to the student.

Admission to the Program

The English Department M.A. program accepts applicants only for the fall semester of each year and requires at least a 3.00 GPA in the last 60 academic units taken. Program applicants must file the University application form via Cal State Apply (<https://www2.calstate.edu/apply>) and have all their academic transcripts sent to the University Admissions and Records Office by the admission deadline set by the department for that year, typically March.

At the same time, applicants must also upload the following: three letters of recommendation; a brief cover letter indicating the applicant's interest in the program and anticipated field of study (creative writing, literary criticism, or rhetoric/composition); a sample of persuasive prose of between 10 and 20 pages in length; and, for those applying in creative writing, a sample of creative work. These policies and procedures are described in the "MA in English Handbook," which is available online at: <http://www.sonoma.edu/english/programs/ma-program.html>.

The English Department Graduate Committee reviews all complete application files that meet campus and departmental admission standards and admits the most qualified of these applicants to the program. Applicants may enter the program with conditional or classified status. Classified status is usually granted to admitted applicants with undergraduate majors in English; conditionally classified status, which requires the completion of 4 to 24 additional units in English, is usually granted to admitted applicants with an undergraduate major in another field. Please see the catalog section on Graduate Degrees for more information.

Advancement to Candidacy

Students are advanced to candidacy when they have 1) completed 28 units of coursework (except for 6 completion units), and 2) passed either the department's qualifying written exam or the Literature GRE (minimum score at the 65th percentile). Advancement to candidacy is formalized by the filing of a GS01 form with Graduate Studies.

Program Requirements

The M.A. in English requires 34 units. Students complete 28 units through coursework; the remaining 6 will be taken either as thesis units (599) or, for the creative writing track, as directed writing units (535). No more than 4 units of directed writing units (535) may be counted toward the degree prior to the culminating option. Both options require candidates to take English 500 and two 500-level literature seminars. Two courses in English may be taken at the 400 level for degree credit.

Research assistantship units (460) do not count toward the 34-unit total; nor, except at the discretion of the graduate coordinator, do independent study units (595).

Those choosing the creative writing option are required to write a creative thesis, together with an introduction, and to give a public presentation of their work. Students in literary criticism and Rhetoric/English Education are required to write a thesis and to defend this project after it has been completed.

Program Learning Outcomes

Demonstrate advanced critical and analytical reading skills.

- Utilize sound methodologies (including textual analysis, application of critical theory, academic research, and/or qualitative methods) for investigating questions in English studies.

Articulate a critical understanding of language and its relationship to power.

- In reading, writing, and/or analysis of texts, demonstrate recognition of centuries of injustice based on intersecting categories of race or ethnicity, gender identity, sexual orientation, age, dis/ability, home language, religious beliefs, and/or immigration status.
- Write effectively, considering audience, context, and purpose, as well as the relevant protocols for compiling and disseminating one's scholarly or creative work.
- Develop a distinctive voice and perspective, writing with attention to the rhythms and nuances of language, whether as a scholar or a creative writer.

English, Minor

Any three upper-division creative writing courses, including at least two genres, and ENGL 342 if not taken previously.

Students majoring in other fields may develop, in consultation with an English Department advisor, a 20-unit English minor. Required: ENGL 201 - Literary Analysis: Seminar, a survey course (to be selected from ENGL 235, ENGL 236, or equivalent), and an upper-division writing course (to be selected from ENGL 307, ENGL 318, ENGL 352, ENGL 375, ENGL 430, ENGL 475, or other at the recommendation of your advisor). A minimum of one 400 level literature course must be taken. All courses must be taken for a grade to count toward the minor. At least nine units must be taken in residence at SSU.

Requirements

Any three upper-division creative writing courses, including at least two genres, and ENGL 342 if not taken previously.

Film Studies

Film Studies is an interdisciplinary area of inquiry that analyzes the theory, history, practice, and cultural significance of film. Students will study a broad range of film texts and learn to appreciate a variety of aesthetic and filmmaking practices. Through a critical examination of film, students will also learn to appreciate the moral and aesthetic values of various cultures, ethnicities, races, and nationalities. While exploring film's connection with culture, students will learn to approach film and the cinema in a critical and analytical manner.

Film Studies Learning Objectives

Film Studies students will have well developed skills in:

- Understanding the social, cultural, historical, and political perspectives of film
- Analyzing film and media texts rapidly changing the world
- Interpreting and expressing concise arguments in oral and written communications
- Applying the knowledge of film and history to their chosen areas of interest
- Developing the critical and analytical skills to evaluate emerging new media forms

Careers in Film Studies

Film studies students can apply their skills to a wide variety of professions. Those specifically dealing with television, media, and film include press agent, content developer, media administration, production editorial assistant, film librarian, screen writing and editing, and social relations.

Film Studies, M.A.

Admission to Film Studies, M.A. has been suspended as of Fall 2020. For continuing students, please see the following description.

The Master of Arts in Film Studies program is a unique interdisciplinary degree designed to develop students' knowledge of film as an aesthetic medium and as an agent of social change. The program is dedicated to enhancing student understanding of film as a mode of communication and as a distinct art form as well as developing skills in using film and digital media as tools for advocacy.

This interdisciplinary program is a partnership between the School of Arts and Humanities, and the School of Extended and International Education (SEIE.) As a self-supported program, unique separate fees are charged on a per-unit basis for all courses required for this program. These fees are set annually by the SSU President. Information about fees, admission requirements, and student support services are available through SEIE. Academic criteria for the program are determined in accordance with all applicable SSU and CSU policies. Degrees are awarded by the School of Arts and Humanities.

Additional Master's Learning Objectives and Career Skills

Students completing the MA in Film Studies will have skills in

- Integrating knowledge from multiple interrelated fields to develop interdisciplinary projects
- Collaborating with filmmakers on larger projects including documentary features
- Formulating new areas of media research and designing independent media projects

They will be

- Engaged media professionals committed to enacting and documenting social change
- Prepared to be independent film and media scholars and practitioners
- Educated to be leaders in their professions

Requirements for Admission

1. A Bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university;
2. A minimum of 3.00 GPA for the last 60 Units of academic work. Students with a lower GPA may be considered on a space-available basis;
3. Two letters of recommendation, completion of program application;
4. A brief narrative describing past and present experience with film and film studies, including any film-related coursework or creative projects completed.

For more information, please refer to Graduate Degrees in the Degree Requirements section of this catalog.

Requirements for the M.A.

1. Advancement to candidacy form (GSO1) fully signed and submitted to the Graduate Studies office;
2. Grade point average of 3.00 or better for all work attempted in graduate status and in all work approved as a part of the specific pattern of study. With the approval of the faculty coordinator, a maximum of 9 units of upper-division or graduate-level academic coursework at an accredited institution may be included as a part of the student's specific pattern of study. All courses are to be taken for a letter grade;
3. Passage of the Written English Proficiency Test (WEPT) or equivalent demonstration of writing competency;
4. Completion of Requirements form (GSO2) must be fully signed and submitted to the Graduate Studies Office;
5. All requirements for the M.A. degree in Film Studies, including written proficiency, and conditional requirements stipulated at the time of admission and candidacy, must be satisfactorily completed within seven years from the time the student completes the first course in the program; and
6. With the approval of the Faculty Advisor, the satisfactory completion of one of the following two options:

Overview

A nationally recognized leader in the movement for reform in higher education, the Hutchins School has maintained its commitment to innovative pedagogy and interdisciplinary inquiry into vital issues of modern concern since its inception in 1969. The program is designed to encourage students to take themselves seriously as readers, writers, and thinkers capable of continuing their own educational process throughout their lives.

The Hutchins School is an interdisciplinary school within Sonoma State University offering a B.A. degree in Liberal Studies. We offer major concentrations in interdisciplinary studies, multiple subject teacher preparation for pre-credential students, and a blended program leading to a B.A. and multiple subject teaching credential in four years. A minor in integrative studies is offered as well. We also offer General Education learning community courses that integrate material from the humanities, the social sciences, and the natural sciences.

The Hutchins School has several distinctive features:

- An emphasis on active participation in one's own education, on self-motivation, and on learning to learn
- Seminar classes
- Close cooperation and a feeling of community among students and professors
- A diverse faculty, each member trained in more than one field of study, to help students learn how to approach a problem from several points of view
- Courses organized around themes or questions, rather than according to the traditional division of subject matter into disciplines
- Encouragement to engage in independent study and study abroad programs
- Internships to bridge academic studies with career placements

Careers in Liberal Studies

Hutchins School graduates do especially well in teaching, counseling, social services, law, media, journalism, and many types of business career paths. They have entered graduate programs in fields as diverse as American Studies, Anthropology, Business, Counseling, Cultural Studies, Education, English, History, Law, Library Science, Management, Medieval Studies, Physics, Religion, Sociology, Student Services, Theatre Arts, and Women and Gender Studies.

Students who intend to obtain a teaching credential in elementary education can enroll in the Track II: Subject Matter Preparation for the Multiple Subject Teaching Credential. If students prefer an accelerated track, they can enroll in the Track III: Blended Program, which allows them to complete their B.A. degree and complete all requirements for the Multiple Subject Teaching Credential. Students may transfer to another SSU program at the end of any semester without loss of credit completed in the Hutchins program.

Whatever their particular interests, all Hutchins students are challenged to read perceptively; to think both critically and imaginatively; to express their thoughts and feelings in writing, speech, and other media; and to make productive use of dialogue and discussion. By developing these skills, students will be ready to take a position in a democratic society as thoughtful, active citizens conversant in a broad range of disciplinary perspectives. Through seminar discussions, essays, research, and other assignments, students will be prepared for a wide variety of careers in which creative, independent thinking and effective written and oral communication are the prime requisites.

Admission

When applying to the University, all students seeking admission to the Hutchins School should list Liberal Studies Hutchins as their major.

Current Sonoma State students who wish to enroll in Hutchins courses must declare the Hutchins program. Students can begin this process by contacting the Hutchins Main Office. Students seeking admission to Track II or Track III as junior transfers must complete all lower-division general education requirements, with specific requirements in the multiple subject teacher preparation subject matter areas listed below. AA-T Elementary Teacher Education is recommended for transfers into the Track III Blended Program. Track II students may take these teacher preparation courses while enrolled in the major:

- BIOL 110 Biological Inquiry (or equivalent)
- Chemistry, physics, or astronomy course
- Geology or physical geography
- MATH 150 Modern Geometry (General Education math may fulfill this requirement for off-campus transfers)
- A course in the history of the visual arts, focused on drawing, painting, or sculpture
- A survey or history course in the performing arts: dance, music, or theatre

Liberal Studies (Hutchins) B.A.

Options for the bachelor's degree include:

Track I, the General Liberal Studies Major plan;

Track II, the Subject Matter Preparation (pre-credential) plan; and Track III, the Blended Program/B.A. plus Multiple Subject Credential.

The general core pattern for the major in all three tracks is outlined in the table below. During their first semester in the upper division, all new transfer students are required to take LIBS 302.

In this course, students work on the skills required in the major, develop their own learning plans, and begin the portfolio, a document the student expands throughout the upper-division culminating in LIBS 402 - Senior Synthesis. LIBS 302 is a prerequisite for all upper-division Hutchins core seminar courses. Students continuing from the Hutchins lower-division General Education Program are exempt from LIBS 302 if they earn a grade of C- or CR in LIBS 202. A grade of C- or higher in LIBS 302 is required in order to continue in the Hutchins program. Grade of C- or better required for all other major courses.

Program Learning Outcomes

1) Interdisciplinarity: Identify and Draw on Multiple Disciplines

Analysis of multiple disciplines is purposeful, nuanced, and respectful. Integrates different disciplinary and epistemological ways of knowing.

2) Seminar Skills: Participation and Facilitation

Provides substantial evidence of participation or facilitation within seminars. Provided evidence shows consistent participation within seminars and expertise with facilitating discussion with multiple peers.

3) Equity and Social Justice: Understanding of Systemic Inequality

Integrates numerous perspectives on systemic inequality both in the United States and worldwide. Discusses solutions to address equity and social justice and makes the connections to broader concepts, processes, and theories.

4) Critical Thinking, Metacognition, and Analysis: Addressing Multiple Viewpoints

Addresses and analyzes multiple conflicting ideas. Analysis of conflicting viewpoints is thoughtful, accurate, and precise. Acknowledges and reflects on the different knowledge systems and epistemologies in society.

Degree Requirements

See the "Degree Requirements" in the University Catalog for complete details on general degree requirements.

General Education Requirements (48 units)

See the "General Education Program" requirements in the University Catalog for information on General Education requirements. Some major requirements may double count for GE requirements.

Interdisciplinary General Education Program Lower-Division

The CSU approved and articulated Hutchins Lower-Division Interdisciplinary G.E. Program fulfills all of the Sonoma State University lower-division general education requirements, with the exception of Area B4 Math. Upon completion of the lower-division General Education course sequence, students may elect to continue in the program as a liberal studies major, or they may transfer into another major. The program consists of four interdisciplinary courses of 9 units each that cover 3 General Education Areas, taken in successive semesters as follows:

LIBS 101: The Human Enigma (Fall): covers GE Area A1, A2, C1

LIBS 102: In Search of Self (Spring): covers GE Area C2, D1, E, and the US History graduation requirement

LIBS 201: Exploring the Unknown (Fall): covers GE Area A3, B1, C2

LIBS 202: Challenge and Response in the Modern World (Spring): covers GE Area B2+B3, D1, the US Constitution, CA State and Local Government, and Critical Race Studies graduation requirements.

Students in LIBS 101 and LIBS 102 are co-enrolled in LIBS 103: Introduction to Hutchins. LIBS 101 students may also choose to enroll in a writing support course, LIBS 100: The Craft of Writing, on the English Directed Self-Placement survey.

Seminars meet twice weekly in a group of 15 students and a professor. Learning proceeds by a process of reading, writing, and discussion, in which all students are urged to take an active part. There are generally four to six sections of each seminar offered simultaneously, so that each seminar is part of a larger learning community cohort that meets together in a weekly symposium for lectures, field trips, labs, and other group activities and projects. The course curriculum is developed collaboratively by the faculty, drawing on a wide range of disciplinary expertise.

The emphasis throughout is on critically examining contemporary problems in their historical contexts. Each student is expected to arrive at conclusions that result from personal reflection and exploration of the ideas of major thinkers in diverse fields. Through this process of active learning, students acquire excellent critical thinking, written and oral communication skills.

At mid-semester, students meet individually with the professor to discuss their progress. LIBS 101 is graded credit/no credit. At the end of the semester, students are given a written evaluation of their work, which is placed in the student's Hutchins file. In LIBS 102, 201 and 202, students may choose a letter grade or the credit/no credit option. SSU policy states that a mark of Credit is equivalent to at least a letter grade of C-; therefore, in LIBS 101, 102, 201, and 202, a mark of Credit is the equivalent of at least the letter grade of C-. Unofficial grades can, at the student's request, be made available if they choose the credit/no credit option.

Core A Society and Self

Core B The Individual and the Material World

Core C The Arts and Human Experience

Core D Consciousness and Reality

The core seminars are a key element of the curriculum in the Hutchins Major. Core areas are designed to ensure that the intensive learning experience provided in the small seminar format is spread across the disciplinary spectrum, although all core courses offer an interdisciplinary perspective on a particular theme.

Concentrations

Track I: Interdisciplinary Studies

Students who would prefer a broad interdisciplinary major as a foundation for their career choice (e.g. the arts, the law, public service, etc.), or who are motivated by intellectual curiosity and wish to pursue an individualized study plan, often choose interdisciplinary studies. Flexible Track I major requirements may be tailored to fit individual goals. Track I may include the following:

- Up to 9 upper division units from other majors or minors organized into an area of emphasis which reflects career plans and/or intellectual interests
- 12 units from CSU approved study abroad programs as part of the emphasis in the Hutchins major
- 3-5 units of internship experience to help students relate their education pathway to specific career choices
- The ability to choose from a wide variety of LIBS courses which include elective seminars, independent and directed studies, internships, and field study opportunities.

Track 1 Additional Major Requirements

- LIBS 410 - Independent Study Unit(s): 1-4
- LIBS 499 - Internship Unit(s): 1-5

Choose one of the following:

- LIBS 308 - The Practice of Culture Unit(s): 3
- LIBS 208 - Practices of Culture Unit(s): 4
- LIBS 209 - Bollywood and Globalization Unit(s): 4

LIBS/M.B.A. Advising Pathway

The flexibility of the Track I program in liberal studies lends itself to a broad variety learning experiences and careers. For example, by completing a minor in Business Administration, a Track I liberal studies major may complete the requirements to enter a Master of Business Administration program upon graduation.

Track II: Multiple Subject Preparation Program (Pre-credential elementary teaching)

The Hutchins School offers a California Commission on Teacher Credentialing approved subject matter preparation program for students intending to enter a California elementary teaching credential program for either Multiple Subjects or Education Specialist, after completion of the B.A. The B.A. pre-credential option ensures:

- Interdisciplinary subject matter proficiency
- Possession of the high-level analytic, synthetic, creative, and expressive academic skills required of future educators
- Carefully planned coursework to meet state-mandated content standards for prospective elementary teachers
- Excellent content preparation for the CSET: Multiple Subjects exam as well as for admission to a professional teacher training program

Students may join Track II as first year students in the Hutchins major, or transfer in. Track II students complete specified courses in the sciences, visual art history, performing arts, and kinesiology per CCTC criteria. Track II also includes a 12 unit pathway in an area of concentration content area for teacher preparation such as Human Development, Mathematics, Science, Reading, Language & Literature, History & Social Science, or Visual & Performing Arts. Track II students interested in adding Bilingual Authorization (Spanish) to their credential may prepare by electing either the Added Bilingual (Spanish) Authorization Pathway or Spanish Bilingual Authorization Preparation Pathway. The area of concentration pathway may include General Education courses, elective courses, and Hutchins major requirements. A minor in another department may waive the area of concentration. See forms section of Hutchins website for details.

Track II Additional Major Requirements:

Track III: Blended Program (accelerated plan B.A. Plus Multiple Subject Credential)

The Blended Program incorporates the lower-division Hutchins General Education program or Associates Degree for Transfer (AAT) in Elementary Teacher Education, and the basic course work for Track II with courses from the School of Education beginning in the junior year. Blended students complete a B.A. in Liberal Studies and a Multiple Subject Teaching Credential in a 135 unit plan. Students in Blended commit to a unit intensive, course prescriptive, accelerated plan. There are two pathways available in the Blended Program. First semester Hutchins freshman are eligible for Blended Track III four year plan. See sample four year plan for Bachelor Arts in Liberal Studies with teaching credential. Upper division California Community College transfer students with complete Associate Degree for Transfer (AAT) in Elementary Teacher Education may enter Blended at the junior level and complete a 2 1/2 year (5 semester) plan. See sample 2 1/2 year plan for Bachelor of Arts in Liberal Studies with teaching credential, Track III with AAT in Elementary Teacher Education. Visit <https://adegreewithaguarantee.com/en-us/> for more information about the Associate Degree for Transfer.

Blended Track III students are held to the same credential program requirements as traditional credential candidates. These include maintaining a 3.00 GPA, passing CBEST spring of freshman year for first year pathway or fall of junior year for upper division AAT Elementary Teacher Education pathway, and passing CSET: Multiple Subjects or obtaining a CSET waiver spring of junior year before student teaching senior year. Students in good standing with Hutchins who do not continue in Blended have the option to enroll in our Track II: Pre-Credential Elementary Teaching Preparation pathway. Track II students may start a credential program after completion of the Bachelor's Degree. For Multiple Subjects credential requirements, please refer to School of Education catalog information.

Liberal Studies (Saturday Degree Completion), B.A.

Program Website

web.sonoma.edu/exed/lib

The Saturday Hybrid BA Degree Completion Program is designed for those who have completed junior transfer requirements. It offers an alternative route to a Bachelor of Arts degree for working adults or others whose schedules do not permit them to attend regular campus classes. Instruction is organized around one on-campus meeting for a full Saturday each month, combined with weekly online discussions and ongoing reading and writing assignments.

Coursework in the program is designed to investigate current issues and to allow students to explore their own interests. Students stay with their cohort throughout the program as different professors guide the seminars each semester.

This Special Sessions program is a partnership between the School of Arts and Humanities and the School of Extended & International Education (SEIE). As a self-support program, unique, separate fees are charged on a per-unit basis for all courses required for this program. These fees are set annually by the SSU President. Information about fees, admission requirements, and student support services is available through SEIE. Academic criteria for the program are determined in accordance with all applicable SSU and CSU policies. Degrees are awarded by the School of Arts and Humanities.

Learning Objectives

Liberal studies graduates will have well-developed skills in:

1. Oral and written communication
2. Synthesizing information from many sources
3. Collaborative learning
4. Research and documentation
5. Project planning and execution
6. Understanding the global context of current issues

Requirements for the Major

The Saturday Hybrid BA is a degree completion program; applicants must meet minimum SSU transfer requirements, see Upper-Division Transfer Requirements in the Admissions section of this catalog. Individual pre-admissions counseling is available from the Program Advisor for qualified applicants. Notes on requirements: The first course in the program, LIBS 380, must be completed with a C or better. A student who does not work well within the program framework may receive credit for the course with a terminal C but not be allowed to continue in the program. Continuing students must earn a C average for all courses in the major; no course with a grade lower than C- will be accepted. Up to 9 units of the upper-division general education requirement (see the Degree Requirements section of this catalog) will be waived upon completing all four required major courses.

- LIBS 380 - Identity and Society Unit(s): 10

- LIBS 381 - Technology and the Environment Unit(s): 10
- LIBS 382 - Work and the Global Future Unit(s): 10

Integrative Studies, Minor

The Hutchins minor is designed for students majoring in a discipline to explore their field of study using the tools of interdisciplinary inquiry and seminar pedagogy. The minor consists of 20 units, taken in the Hutchins School, and is distributed as follows:

Students must complete LIBS 302 before they will be allowed to take a seminar (LIBS 320). Students who completed LIBS 202 with a grade of C or higher will receive credit for LIBS 302. In consultation with an advisor, students select interdisciplinary core seminars and other courses offered in the major, and then complete LIBS 402 during their final semester, examining the student's major field of study in relation to other disciplinary perspectives.

Minor Requirements

- LIBS 302 - Introduction to Liberal Studies Unit(s): 3 Students completing LIBS 202 with a C- or CR receive credit for 302 and instead take an additional 3 elective LIBS units.
- LIBS 402 - Senior Synthesis Unit(s): 4 OR
- LIBS 403 - Senior Synthesis-Study Away Unit(s): 4

Interdisciplinary General Education Program Lower-Division

The lower-division General Education program of the Hutchins School consists of First and Second Year Learning Community courses of 6-9 units each covering 2-3 GE categories per semester. The entire course sequences fulfills, with the exception of mathematics, all of the Sonoma State University lower-division General Education requirements. Courses are open to all SSU students and not restricted to Liberal Studies majors.

The program courses are as follows:

- LIBS 101 - The Human Enigma (Fall)
- LIBS 102 - In Search of Self (Spring)
- LIBS 201 - Exploring the Unknown (Fall)
- LIBS 202 - Challenge and Response in the Modern World (Spring)

Each of these seminars is made up of a maximum of 15 students and a professor. Learning proceeds by a process of reading, writing, and discussion, in which all students are urged to take an active part. Each seminar is part of a larger learning community that meets together once a week for lectures, field trips, labs, and other group projects. The curriculum for these seminars is developed collaboratively by the faculty facilitating each seminar section, thus drawing on a wide range of disciplinary expertise.

Strongly emphasizing excellence in written communication, the program includes extensive writing projects and regular tutorials. The emphasis throughout is on the critical examination of contemporary problems in their historical contexts. Each student is expected to arrive at conclusions that result from personal reflection and exploration of the ideas of major thinkers in diverse fields.

At mid-semester, students meet individually with the professor to discuss their progress. At this point, they have an opportunity to reflect on and assess their own learning, a key ingredient in developing the skill of lifelong learning. Students may choose a letter grade or the credit/no credit option. A student taking the course credit/no credit is also given a copy of a detailed evaluation of his or her work, which is placed in the student's Hutchins file. This evaluation assesses the student's cognitive skills, seminar participation, understanding of the course content, writing skills, independent project, and special course assignments. A written commentary addresses each student's particular strengths and indicates the way in which the student should improve in order to become an effective, lifelong learner. Thus, the evaluation conveys a great deal more information than does a single letter grade. Unofficial grades can, at the student's request, be made available to other schools, agencies, or prospective employers who need a quantitative measure of performance if students choose to take the courses credit/no credit. Students choosing the graded option will have their letter grade included as part of their Sonoma State G.P.A.

History and About

Religion has always been one of the world's most powerful forces. It has served to bring communities together, and it has also served to divide them. It has been the reason why people have come together in the name of peace, and has been the reason why people have gone to war. It has been at the forefront of some of the world's most triumphant moments, and it has also been responsible for some of its darkest ones.

Education is at the core of the movement to use religion to foster positive change, interfaith understanding, and cultural diversity. As many Jewish communities around the United States are experiencing a revitalized interest in Judaism and creating new forms of cultural expression, they have observed the need to face up to the polarization of people along religious lines while still maintaining a pride and respect for their own traditions.

Students of all kinds have expressed a desire to understand how ethnicity and religion function on both the local and world stages. Approximately 10 percent of Sonoma State University students are Jewish, and many of them want to learn more about their heritage. Non-Jewish students have also flocked to the program, and we have responded to their participation by opening up the curriculum. While it remains focused on Jewish Studies, it also explores religion at large in an effort to understand how faith has affected the lives of all people worldwide, not just Jews. As a result of our efforts, almost half of our students are non-Jews.

The Jewish Studies Program is intended to serve the entire community. It introduces Judaism, Jewish history, and Jewish culture to a wide range of people in order to provide a forum for discussion and activism in response to crucial contemporary issues. It promotes understanding of how faith has affected the lives of all people in an attempt to bring them together.

Please join us in supporting our efforts.

Objectives

- To provide a forum for people of all backgrounds to discuss the political, social, and economic impact of religion on the world
- To provide Jewish students with the opportunity to learn about their heritage
- To provide people with the tools necessary to promote interfaith understanding and cultural diversity through the study of religion
- To provide Sonoma State University students with the opportunity to receive a minor degree in Jewish Studies

Jewish Studies, Minor

The Minor in Jewish Studies offers students from any major on the SSU campus a cross-disciplinary concentration in the study of Jewish religion, culture, and people. Jewish Studies is by its very nature an interdisciplinary field of study, blending courses from a wide range of academic disciplines and perspectives. For a minor in Jewish studies, students must take three core courses and eight additional elective units of courses from at least two different areas of study.

Minor Core Requirements

- JWST 200 - Introduction to Jewish Studies Unit(s): 4
- JWST 255 - Evolution of Anti-Semitism: through history, literature, religion and art Unit(s): 4
- JWST 355 - Modern European Jewish History Unit(s): 4

Units

Total units in the minor core: 9

Elective units in the minor: 6

Total units in the minor: 15

Minor Electives

In addition to the core, choose any two courses of electives from other Jewish Studies courses from the list below. All SSU majors may select the minor in Jewish Studies. Additional courses may be counted toward the minor with approval of the Jewish Studies program coordinator. Cross-listed courses listed below without the JWST designation will count for the Jewish Studies minor pending approval of the Jewish Studies program coordinator.

Linguistics

Program Office

Nichols 362

(707) 664-2504

english.sonoma.edu/academic-programs/linguistics-minor-english-department

The fundamental concern of linguistics is with description and explanation of the interrelatedness of thinking and using language. This concern takes many forms: among others, inquiry into the nature of language as speech or signing, as knowledge, and as communication; inquiry into the history of languages and how languages change; inquiry into how language is acquired, and into the nature of language learning and teaching.

The linguistics minor offers grounding in general linguistic principles, together with the widest possible selection of elective courses. Through this study plan, students are able to develop interests in particular areas of linguistics as strong complements to majors in related disciplines.

As of Fall 2010, the Teaching English as a Second Language program will be offered by the SSU School of Education. Students interested in TESL training should contact Prof. Karen Grady in the School of Education about the M.A. in TESOL.

It is possible to develop an interdisciplinary major with a strong emphasis in linguistics (please see the Interdisciplinary Studies section in this catalog). Interested persons should contact both the interdisciplinary studies program coordinator and the linguistics program coordinator.

Also, through the special emphasis in the anthropology major (please see the Anthropology section in this catalog), a student may create a course of study in linguistic anthropology that incorporates a number of the linguistics program courses.

Linguistics, Minor

Students majoring in English or other fields may develop, in consultation with one of the linguistics program advisors, a 20-unit linguistics minor.

Required: one introductory linguistics course (to be selected from ENGL 203, ENGL 341, or SPAN 304), and one methodological course (to be selected from ENGL 489, ENGL 588, ANTH 480, SPAN 400, or SPAN 490). All courses must be taken for a grade to count toward the minor. At least nine units must be taken in residence at SSU.

For a minor in linguistics, students must complete 20 units as follows:

Minor Core Requirements

One of the following introductory courses:

- ANTH 200 - Introduction to Linguistic Anthropology Unit(s): 3
- ENGL 203 - Introduction to Linguistic Studies Unit(s): 4
- ENGL 341 - Explorations in Language Unit(s): 4
- SPAN 304 - Introduction to Spanish Linguistics Unit(s): 4

One of the following courses in linguistic methods:

* Course counts toward linguistics methodology requirement if course topic is methodological.

- ANTH 480 - Studies of Language Use Unit(s): 4
- ENGL 489 - Topics in Linguistics Unit(s): 4 ***
- ENGL 588 - Seminar: Study of Language Unit(s): 4 ***
- SPAN 400 - Special Topics in Linguistics Unit(s): 4 ***
- SPAN 490 - Seminar in Linguistics Unit(s): 4 ***

Minor Electives

Students pursuing a linguistics minor need to take an additional 8-9 elective units in courses with linguistic components selected in consultation with a program advisor, for a total of 20 units.

These elective course include (but are not limited to):

- All courses offered by the linguistics program;
- All courses mentioned above as satisfying linguistics minor requirements; and
- Pre-approved elective courses:
 - AMCS 355 - Language and Ethnicity Unit(s): 4
 - ANTH 380 - Language, Culture, and Society Unit(s): 4
 - ANTH 382 - Language Change Unit(s): 4
 - ANTH 383 - Language in Sociopolitical Context Unit(s): 4
 - ANTH 386 - Sign Languages and Signing Communities Unit(s): 4
 - ENGL 379 - Structure of English: Pedagogical Grammar Unit(s): 4

Modern Languages and Literatures

Department Office
Carson Hall 18
(707) 664-2351

Department Chair

Administrative Coordinator
Rocio Garnica Lopez

For faculty information, please see Faculty or the Modern Languages faculty web page.

The programs and courses of the Department of Modern Languages and Literatures make accessible to students the languages, literatures, and cultures of France and the Francophone world, Germany and the German-speaking countries, and Spain and Latin America. We recognize students' need for linguistic competency and cultural sensitivity in the multilingual, multicultural world in which they will live and work. Thus, language is taught as an integral part of its cultural context. Programs and courses are designed to complement academic work in many other fields. For further information please consult the department's website.

The Department of Modern Languages and Literatures offers major and minor programs in French and Spanish, a minor program in German, and a Master of Arts program in Spanish. In addition, the department offers courses in World Literatures in English, participates in First- and Second-Year Experience through the Freshman Humanities Learning Community (HLC) and Second Year Research and Creative Experience (SYRCE), and provides an advising pathway for the Interdisciplinary Studies Special Major in German Cultural Studies and for the French Language certificate for Wine Business. Modern language courses are taught in the target language; functional control of all language skills (reading, writing, listening comprehension, and speaking) is a primary goal.

It is highly advisable that students combine a major or minor in modern languages with a major or minor in another discipline. Coursework, minors, and majors in modern languages complement specialized knowledge and expertise in other academic areas. The structure of the modern languages major programs facilitates the planning of double majors and minors. In addition to majors and minors offered by other departments, interdisciplinary and career minor programs of special interest to Modern Languages students include the Global Studies minor and the minor in linguistics.

Careers in Modern Languages and Literatures

The importance of early and frequent consultation with departmental advisors cannot be overstressed. It is the key to meaningful access to academic and career opportunities, including internships both at home and abroad. Through careful academic planning, the study of modern languages and literatures can open a wide range of career options in such fields as international business, wine business, government service, domestic and international human services, travel, librarianship, translating and interpreting, and journalism. Many department alumni have pursued work in the Peace Corps and various other nonprofit entities; others have earned teaching credentials or advanced degrees in their discipline and teach at the elementary, secondary, or post-secondary levels. A degree in a second language is also an excellent preparation for a career teaching English to speakers of other languages (TESOL). The Department of Modern Languages and Literatures successfully prepares students for graduate programs in a wide variety of fields, most of which recommend or require second language proficiency.

International Programs

Through the International Programs of the California State University, Sonoma State University students may spend an academic year in residence at a university abroad. Courses taken abroad through the International Programs count as residence units in all University programs and can be integrated into an overall academic plan. For further information, contact the Center for International Education, (707) 664-2582, located in the International Hall.

Placement in Modern Language Courses

The faculty of the Department of Modern Languages and Literatures will assist students in selecting the appropriate course level.

Students with this many years in high school language courses should enroll in courses in this level:

0 Years Placement in 101

1 Year Placement in 102

2 Years Placement in 102

3 Years Placement in 200/201

4 Years Placement in 200/201

Students who have taken an Advanced Placement (AP) exam and scored 3, 4, or 5 should contact an advisor in that language for specific information regarding placement and credit.

Please note that placement can be very individual, particularly for heritage speakers of a language. Any students who have reason to believe that their language skills are more advanced than this table would imply should consult with the instructor of the course in which they think they would benefit most.

Transfer students with college credit in a modern language may not receive credit for SSU courses in the same language that duplicates previous work. Exceptions may be made by the chair of the department when the following conditions are met:

1. The courses involved are lower-division; and
2. The original study was accomplished three or more years prior to enrollment in the equivalent course at Sonoma State University.

Four-year graduation plans for students pursuing the bachelor of arts in French or Spanish are detailed below. Please see an advisor for details.

Course Challenges

Students may challenge courses, as provided in University procedures (please see more information in the Admissions section of this catalog). It is essential that students interested in this possibility consult instructors of the courses they wish to challenge at the start of the semester.

Grade Requirements

Undergraduate Progression and Retention in Modern Languages Programs:

Students must maintain a minimum grade of C- in each course required for the major in French or Spanish; otherwise, the student will not be permitted to graduate in the programs. The student may repeat the course if she/he does not earn the minimum grade. The student must receive a grade of C- or better when the course is repeated. This policy also applies to courses taken at other institutions, abroad or in the United States.

Bachelor of Arts in the Special Major: German Cultural Studies

For information about the Bachelor of Arts in the Special Major: German Cultural Studies, see Interdisciplinary Studies . You may also contact the coordinator Michaela Grobbel (grobbel@sonoma.edu; (707) 664-2673).

French, B.A.

The purpose of the French major is to enable students to attain an advanced level of competency in speaking, listening, reading, and writing, and to provide them with a comprehensive knowledge of the historic and contemporary culture and institutions of France and the Francophone world. The French language is studied not as an end in itself, but as a vehicle for students' broader and more informed participation in their chosen fields. Students who study French at SSU also have the option of completing a portion of the course work in France (Paris or Aix-en-Provence) or in Canada, and should visit the International Programs Office for details.

Note: Students should note the prerequisites for upper-division courses.

Program Learning Outcomes

1. Ability to understand spoken French, read a wide variety of texts written in French, and communicate effectively in French orally and in writing;
2. Appreciation and knowledge of the French culture;
3. Appreciation and knowledge of French literature;
4. Appreciation and knowledge of the francophone world, cultures and literatures (including an understanding of norms, values and beliefs of areas where the target language is used, as well as recognition of key social and cultural traditions);
5. Ability to respond in culturally appropriate ways in a variety of common situations in the target language;
6. Ability to use state-of-the-art technology to access realia, that is, authentic documents in the target culture;
7. Knowledge of phonology, morphology, syntax and semantics of the French language.

Variations are easily accommodated in the sequencing of GE requirements, but should be made in consultation with an advisor. Note that courses designated as "elective or minor" total 38 units and could easily accommodate a second major (depending on the selected double major, which might require one or two additional courses). Careful planning and early identification of a second major make this feasible. A variation would be to complete the junior or senior year in the CSU International Program, meeting some upper-division French requirements in a single year, and completing the second major in the other upper-division year at SSU.

Spanish, B.A.

The culture and literary traditions of Spain, the growing interest in the politics, culture, and commerce of Latin America, the proximity of Mexico, and the presence of a large Spanish-speaking population in California and the University's service area all contribute to the shaping of the curriculum of the Spanish program and provide excellent reasons for the study of Spanish. The Spanish program offers a full range of courses in language, literature, and culture, as well as interdisciplinary concentrations. Courses taken abroad in the CSU International Programs, may be counted toward the major or minor, with the exception of SPAN 490 and SPAN 491 (at least one of which must be taken in residence at SSU).

Spanish Placement Evaluation

Students are encouraged to have a placement evaluation. Please see a program advisor for proper course placement.

Program Learning Outcomes

Specific Learning Objectives include the following:

1. Receptive Skills: Listening and Reading Comprehension
Students shall demonstrate listening and reading comprehension at a level sufficient to understand authentic speech and written texts in a variety of situations and contexts at a level equivalent to the advanced level in the ACTFL Proficiency Guidelines.
2. Productive Skills: Speaking and Writing
Students shall speak and write on a variety of topics in diverse situations and contexts, academic and non-academic, at a level equivalent to the advanced level in the ACTFL Proficiency Guidelines.
3. Knowledge of Culture
Students shall study the art, geography, history, and social structures of the Spanish-speaking world, including within the United States.
4. Cultural Competence
Students shall be able to function effectively and in a manner considered culturally appropriate within the target culture.
5. Attitudes Toward Culture
Students learn to respect and understand the customs, traditions, and cultures of the Spanish-speaking world within and outside of the U.S.
6. Understanding of Literature
Students shall learn to distinguish specific characteristics of literary genres, movements, and styles in the literary productions of the Spanish-speaking world.
7. Analysis of Literature
Students shall learn to analyze and interpret literary works as well as to be able to conduct basic research (within the discipline as well as inter-disciplinarily).
8. Nature of Language
Students shall understand linguistic characteristics of language, its acquisition, and its use, either as heritage language learners or as second language learners.
9. Analysis of the Target Language
Students shall learn to analyze Spanish using a linguistic approach in order to be able to conduct basic research (within the discipline as well as inter-disciplinarily).
10. Pragmatic Competence
Students shall be able to use target language effectively and in a manner considered appropriate to social registers and discourse levels for both heritage and non-heritage learners.

11. Information Competence

Students shall be proficient in the use, analysis, and evaluation of recorded information, including both print and digital materials.

Spanish, M.A.

The core coursework for the Master of Arts in Spanish is offered in three summer intensives. During the academic year, students engage in elective coursework, a teaching practicum, or internship, which results in a light schedule that allows students flexibility in maintaining employment or simultaneously completing a single-subject teaching credential. Distance learners can also benefit from this unique arrangement; upon approval by the graduate coordinator, up to 9 units of upper-division or graduate-level electives may be taken at another accredited college. Program faculty include both SSU Spanish faculty and visiting faculty from other colleges teaching in their area of specialization.

This Special Sessions program is a partnership between the School of Arts and Humanities, and the School of Extended & International Education (SEIE). As a self-support program, unique, separate fees are charged on a per-unit basis for all courses required for this program. These fees are set annually by the SSU President. Information about fees, admission requirements, and student support services is available through SEIE. Academic criteria for the program are determined in accordance with all applicable SSU and CSU policies. Degrees are awarded by the School of Arts and Humanities.

Requirements For Admission

1. Completion of a Bachelor's degree at an accredited institution by the end of the Fall semester (or Winter quarter) preceding enrollment. As this is a summer start program, Spring graduates will not have evidence of completing their degrees in time to matriculate. One official sealed transcript no later than two years old showing the most recent 60 semester (90 quarter) units you have attempted, including award of the Bachelor's degree and any other work you have completed since.
2. A grade point average (GPA) of at least 3.0 (A=4.00) over the last 60 semester units completed. Students with a lower GPA may be considered on a space-available basis.
3. Passage of the Written English Proficiency Test (WEPT) or equivalent demonstration of writing competency.
4. A written Statement of Purpose, in Spanish, regarding your professional experience and academic interests as related to the Spanish M.A. Program (maximum 500 words).
5. A sound file of an oral description of your experience as a learner/speaker of Spanish spoken by you in Spanish (maximum of four minutes).

For more information, please refer to Graduate Degrees in the Degree Requirements section of this catalog.

Requirements for the M.A.

1. Advancement to candidacy form (GSO1) fully signed and submitted to the Graduate Studies Office;
2. Grade point average of 3.0 or better for all work attempted in graduate status and in all work approved as a part of the specific pattern of study. With the approval of the graduate coordinator, a maximum of 9 units of upper-division or graduate-level academic coursework at an accredited institution may be included as part of the student's specific pattern of study. All courses are to be taken for a letter grade;

3. Passage of the Written English Proficiency Test (WEPT) or equivalent demonstration of writing competency;
4. Completion of Requirements form (GSO2) must be fully signed and submitted to the Graduate Studies Office.
5. All requirements for the M.A. degree in Spanish, including written proficiency, language competency, and conditional requirements stipulated at the time of admission to candidacy, must be satisfactorily completed within seven years from the time the student completes the first course in the program; and
6. Satisfactory performance on the culminating comprehensive exam.

Program Learning Outcomes

1. Be prepared (both in curricular and pedagogical terms) to teach any course in Spanish language, literature, or culture in secondary schools, community colleges, or among lower-division university courses.
2. Submit a competitive application to regionally or nationally recognized Ph.D. programs in such areas as Hispanic literatures, linguistics, or pedagogy.
3. Conduct original research on topics of applied or theoretical linguistic interest in Spanish.
4. Conduct original research on topics related to Hispanic literature with a solid grounding in the literary canon.
5. Express themselves with a high level of accuracy and fluency in written and spoken Spanish in a variety of professional settings.

German, Minor

The German minor program enriches students' academic and career opportunities by providing them with skills that complement many majors at SSU. German helps students understand themselves as participants in their own culture. It also helps them understand U.S. history and culture, since German-Americans represent the largest single heritage population. Moreover, German is the most widely spoken language in Europe. Knowing German also opens up opportunities to connect with more than 120 million native speakers worldwide. Additionally, the study of German prepares students to be competitive for graduate school, since many graduate programs require or recommend German. German minors may also have a distinct advantage entering a professional career, in fields such as international business, economics, science, history, global studies, music, or teaching. The SSU German program offers a variety of courses that provide students with linguistic skills and cultural knowledge of the German-speaking world. Students are encouraged to participate in the CSU International Programs and take courses in Germany, which may be counted toward the minor. Students wishing to study abroad are strongly encouraged to consult with their German advisor to ensure that courses taken abroad can be applied to the German minor. A minimum of 8 of the 21 required units must be taken at SSU.

Requirements for the Minor

The German minor program consists of a minimum of 21 units of college coursework in German, of which 8 units must be taken at SSU: 4 units at the 200 level (GER 200 or GER 210) and 4 units consisting of GER 300. Additionally, German minor students must attain the "Goethe-Zertifikat B1" (Zertifikat Deutsch), the internationally recognized proficiency certificate offered annually at SSU under the auspices of the Goethe Institute. Students who have successfully completed the SSU German Program may be confident of passing the certification examination, offered at Sonoma State University at the end of every spring semester.

All German courses, except for GER 101, count toward the German minor. Note that GER 300 must be taken in residence at SSU. The German minor presupposes 4 units or the equivalent of GER 101 (4 units). Students who wish to minor in German are required to take the following 6 courses:

 Prerequisite for German minor students: GER 101 or consent of instructor.*

Course may be repeated for credit if topic changes.

 Prerequisites: GER 200 and GER 210, or consent of instructor.*

Course may be repeated for credit if topic changes.

A commitment to active involvement stands at the heart of the music curriculum. Students are involved in many ways—as listeners, performers, composers, critics, or historians. Intelligent and lively participation informs every facet of the department's various degree programs.

The core curriculum for music majors provides a thorough foundation in such essential skills as keyboard facility, theoretical understanding, aural perception, and analysis of a wide range of music literature. All majors gain experience with both the intuitive and the intellectual processes of the art. The curriculum is designed to place the specialized study of music to provide a foundation for a multitude of careers in music.

The Music Department has been a fully accredited member of the National Association of Schools of Music since 1972.

Entrance Auditions

Entrance into the major is by audition. In order to be accepted as a music major, one must be admitted to the University and must also successfully complete a Music Department audition.

The Department of Music requires all prospective music majors to complete an audition on their major instrument/voice. Prospective students are encouraged to complete a live audition on campus. Alternative audition modes are accepted, via Zoom and by prerecorded audition (e.g., YouTube link or Google Drive). Audition information, requirements and procedures are located in the "Prospectives Students" tab on the Music Department homepage. To schedule an audition, applicants should submit an Audition Application Form, found on the department website.

Classical instrumentalists and vocalists are required to perform two pieces in contrasting styles that demonstrate accurate rhythms, pitch control, and interpretive awareness. In addition, instrumentalists should prepare two major scales and one minor scale in all three forms: natural, harmonic, and melodic. Accompaniment is optional. Time limit is 10 minutes.

Applicants to jazz programs are required to perform two tunes in contrasting style with an Aebersold-type play-along accompaniment track. Jazz Drummers must demonstrate various styles, including medium and up-tempo swing, Jazz, waltz and 3 or 4 different Latin and/or contemporary rhythms. Jazz drummers may also submit a tape of a band in which they are featured.

Applicants to the B.M. Music Education (Pre-Certification) program should submit a one-page statement communicating why they wish to teach.

Applicants to the B.M. Composition program must complete an audition on the major instrument/voice and submit two notated scores and recordings of their original work.

Applicants with a music theatre background are encouraged to submit a video recording of themselves performing (singing and acting) in a musical (YouTube link or Google Drive).

Applicants may audition on more than one instrument/voice or musical style.

Recorded auditions may be uploaded as a link within the Audition request Form, or mailed as a DVD to the Department. Send recorded auditions, along with a cover letter to:

Music Department (Audition Materials)
Sonoma State University
1801 E. Cotati Ave.
Rohnert Park, CA 94928

Scholarships

All auditionees are automatically considered for a variety of Music Department Scholarships. Scholarship audition information is available on the department website.

Music Use Fee

A nonrefundable fee of $25 per semester is charged for use of Music Department facilities and equipment. University-owned instruments are available free of charge to students in need.

Advising

All students will be assigned a faculty advisor upon admittance, and are expected to consult with their advisor prior to registering each semester.

Lower-Division Program

The core of the lower-division program for music majors is a sequence of courses in musicianship, theory, and music literature. This sequence is a comprehensive approach to musicianship in its broadest sense. It includes sight-singing, dictation, counterpoint, harmony, and historic and stylistic considerations as they relate to the development of aural and written skills. Materials and sol-fa techniques from a variety of musical styles are used.

A minimum grade of C- is required in the following lower-division music courses:

- MUS 106 Theory Fundamentals
- MUS 109 Intensive Keyboard I
- MUS 209 Intensive Keyboard II
- MUS 110 Theory I
- MUS 210 Theory II
- MUS 120 Musicianship I
- MUS 220 Musicianship II
- MUS 212 Jazz Harmony I
- MUS 351 Hist of Western Music 1750-present (WIC course)
- MUS 160 A/B
- MUS 292 Jazz Piano
- MUS 309A Keyboard Proficiency
- MUS 133-143 Private Instruction
- MUS 147 Private Instruction

Freshman music majors are required to enroll in MUS 160A /MUS 160B First-Year Learning Community, a yearlong sequential course in music that satisfies GE Areas A3 and C2.

Lower-division students are allowed to enroll in 300-level music ensembles.

Upper-Division Program

The upper-division program is designed to integrate studies of theory, musicianship, keyboard and aural skills, music history and analysis. Students who wish to specialize in music education, performance or jazz studies take required courses that develop skills specific to these areas.

MUS 310 - Theory III: Form and Analysis and MUS 410 - Theory IV: 20th Century Techniques must be taken in residence.

Proficiency Expectations

Basic performance skills and the ability to read standard music notation are prerequisites for the music major. First-year and transfer students will be given a placement examination in music theory during the audition process to determine eligibility for the core theory and musicianship courses. The Department offers preparatory courses in music theory and basic piano keyboard skills for students who need fundamental development. These courses do not count toward the major.

- MUS 106 - Fundamentals of Music Theory
- MUS 109 - Intensive Keyboard Lab I
- MUS 209 - Intensive Keyboard Lab II

Students in all degree programs must demonstrate basic keyboard proficiency, either through performance or by successfully completing one of the following course sequences:

- MUS 309A /MUS 309B - Keyboard Proficiency

- MUS 292/MUS 392 - Jazz Piano I & II (required for jazz degree programs)

Basic keyboard proficiency is a prerequisite for enrollment in MUS - 110 Theory I: Diatonicism.

MUS - 320 Musicianship III is a requirement for many upper-division courses.

B.M. Jazz Studies majors, whether continuing or transfer students, must complete the following courses in residence:

- MUS 312 - Jazz Harmony and Arranging II
- MUS 412 - Jazz Composition
- MUS 389 - Jazz Improvisation III
- MUS 489 - Jazz Improvisation IV
- MUS 392 - Jazz Piano II
- MUS 420 - Musicianship IV

In addition, Jazz Studies majors must participate in at least one semester of Jazz Orchestra.

Ensemble Requirement

The Music Department regards continuous experience in active music-making to be an essential part of college music study. The Department offers a variety of large ensembles and chamber ensembles in vocal and instrumental music. Students in the BM and BA degree programs must:

- declare a major instrument or voice upon entering their program of study.
- enroll in at least one major ensemble specific to their degree program, each semester in residence. Students may participate in additional ensembles each semester.

Depending on the degree program, each concentration has its own unique ensemble requirements. The following information specifies the ensembles necessary to fulfill the ensemble requirement for each degree program, by concentration.

B.A. Liberal Arts Music

The B.A. Liberal Arts Music degree program requires 7 semesters of ensembles. For transfers, each semester in residence. Students may choose between a variety of major ensembles and chamber/minor ensembles.

B.M. Composition

The B.M. Composition degree program requires a minimum of 8 units in major performing ensembles on their declared instrument or voice. For transfers, each semester in residence.

B.M. Jazz Studies

The B.M. Jazz Studies degree program requires a minimum of 8 units of a major jazz ensemble. For transfers, each semester in residence. Ensemble placements are determined through audition, at the discretion of the Director of Jazz Studies. The major performing ensembles for the B.M. Jazz Studies degree program are:

- MUS 379 - Latin Jazz Band
- MUS 390 - Jazz Orchestra
- MUS 391 - Concert Jazz Ensemble

B.M. Jazz Studies majors must participate in a minimum of one (1) semester of MUS 390 Jazz Orchestra. In addition to Jazz Studies majors must complete one (1) semester in an instrumental ensemble and one (1) semester in a choral ensemble.

Ensemble Requirements for B.M. Music Education (Pre-Certification) Choral Track

B.M. Music Education (Pre-Certification) Choral Track degree program requires a minimum of 8 units of a major choral ensemble. For transfers, each semester in residence.

The major performing ensembles for B.M. Music Education (Pre-Certification) Choral Track degree program are:

- MUS 323 - Concert Choir
- MUS 325 - Symphonic Chorus

In addition to the major ensemble requirement, B.M. Music Education (Pre-Certification) Choral Track majors must complete a minimum of one (1) semester in an instrumental ensemble and one (1) semester in a music theater ensemble.

Ensemble Requirements for B.M. Music Education (Pre-Certification) Instrumental Track

The B.M. Music Education (Pre-Certification) Instrumental Track degree program requires a minimum of 8 units of a major instrumental ensemble. For transfers, each semester in residence.

The major performing ensembles for B.M. Music Education (Pre-Certification) Instrumental Track program are:

- MUS 227 - Concert Band (Woodwinds, Brass, Percussion)
- MUS 326 - Guitar Ensemble (required for Guitar majors)
- MUS 327 - Symphonic Wind Ensemble (Woodwinds, Brass, Percussion)
- MUS 328 - Symphony Orchestra (required for Strings)

In addition to the major ensemble requirement, B.M. Music Education (Pre-Certification) Instrumental Track majors must complete a minimum of one (1) semester in a choral ensemble and one (1) semester in a jazz ensemble.

Ensemble Requirements for B.M. Music Education (Pre-Certification) Jazz Track

The B.M. Music Education (Pre-Certification) Jazz Track degree program requires four (4) major jazz ensembles and four (4) major instrumental ensembles. For transfers, two (2) semesters of each.

The major jazz ensembles for B.M. Music Education (Pre-Certification) Jazz Track are:

- MUS 379 - Latin Jazz Band
- MUS 390 - Jazz Orchestra
- MUS 391 - Concert Jazz Ensemble

The major instrumental ensembles for B.M. Music Education (Pre-Certification) Jazz Track are:

- MUS 227 - Concert Band
- MUS 326 - Guitar Ensemble (Guitar majors only)
- MUS 327 - Symphonic Wind Ensemble
- MUS 328 - Symphony Orchestra

In addition to the major ensemble requirement, BM Music Education (Pre-Certification) Jazz Track majors must complete one (1) semester in a choral ensemble.

Ensemble Requirements for B.M. Performance (Instrumental)

The B.M. Instrumental Performance degree program requires 12 units of a major ensemble and 4 units of chamber music or minor ensembles. The major performing ensembles for B.M. Instrumental Performance programs are:

- MUS 227 - Concert Band (Woodwinds, Brass, Percussion)
- MUS 326 - Guitar Ensemble (required for Guitar majors)
- MUS 327 - Symphonic Wind Ensemble (Woodwinds, Brass, Percussion)
- MUS 328 - Symphony Orchestra (required for Strings)

The minor performing ensembles for the B.M. Instrumental Performance degree program are:

- MUS 329 - Chamber Music Ensemble
- MUS 377 - Brass Ensemble
- MUS 378 - Percussion Ensemble

The major ensembles for Pianists will be determined in consultation with the department chair and the area coordinator and must include at least four semesters of MUS - 329 Chamber Music Ensemble.

In addition to the major ensemble requirement, B.M. Instrumental Performance majors must complete a minimum of one (1) semester in a choral ensemble.

Ensemble Requirements for B.M. Performance (Vocal)

B.M. Vocal Performance majors are required to be in a major choral and music theater ensemble, each semester in residence. The major performing ensembles for BM Vocal Performance degree program are:

- MUS 323 - Concert Choir
- MUS 325 - Symphonic Chorus
- MUS 330 - Musical Theatre Production
- MUS 340 - Musical Theatre Scenes Workshop

In addition to the major ensemble requirement, B.M. Vocal Performance majors must complete a minimum of one (1) semester in an instrumental ensemble.

Private Instruction

The department provides 60-minute private lessons for students in B.M. programs and 45-minute lessons for students in B.A. programs.

The B.M. Performance, B.M. Music Education (Pre-Certification, all tracks) and B.M. Jazz Studies degree programs require eight (8) semesters of the appropriate private instruction course on a declared instrument or voice. For transfers, private instruction is taken each semester in residence.

The B.M. Composition degree program requires six (6) semesters of private instruction course on a declared instrument or voice and six (6) semesters of private instruction in Composition. For transfers, private instruction is taken each semester in residence.

Private instruction is optional in the B.A. Liberal Arts, Music program. Students may take private instruction up to eight (8) semesters, which are counted as elective units.

Repertory Classes and Forums

The B.M. Performance and B.M. Jazz Studies degree programs require students to enroll in eight (8) semesters of the appropriate Repertory Class (Instrumental/Vocal) or Jazz Forum. For transfers, each semester in residence.

The B.M. Music Education (Pre-Certification, all tracks) degree program requires students to enroll in four (4) semesters of the appropriate Repertory Class or Jazz Forum. For transfers, each semester in residence. Students may enroll in additional semesters of Repertory Class or Jazz Forum.

The B.M. Composition degree program requires students to enroll in six (6) semesters of the appropriate Repertory Class or Jazz Forum, and one (1) semester of MUS 425 Composition Seminar.

- MUS 151/MUS 451 - Instrumental Repertory Class (Instrumentalists)
- MUS 151/MUS 451 - Vocal Repertory Class (Vocalists)
- MUS 426 - Jazz Forum (Jazz musicians)

Juries

Music majors enrolled in Private Instruction courses are required to pass a juried performance that is adjudicated by the Music Department faculty. The jury is intended to monitor the student's applied progress, and to determine continuation in the program. Repertoire for the jury is selected by the student in consultation with Applied Faculty and Program Director.

Adjudicators assess the performer's musicality, technique, interpretation, and professionalism. Expectations are based on each student's level in the program. The minimum passing score for students in any Bachelor of Music degree program is 75%. The minimum passing score for students in the Bachelor of Arts degree program is 65%. The jury grade constitutes 25% of the student's private lesson grade.

Probation

Students who fall below jury performance level expectations (below 75% for B.M.; below 65% for B.A.) are placed on probationary status the following semester. At the end of the probationary semester, the student must register for two jury slots: one to successfully remediate all deficient material assigned from the previous semester, and another to pass assigned material for the current semester. At the discretion of the faculty, a student on probation may be ineligible for state-supported lessons, and may be required to remediate deficiencies at their own expense.

Continuation Jury

If at the end of the sophomore year a student has failed two or more consecutive juries the student can be dismissed or reassigned from the music major degree program. Bachelor of Music students can become Bachelor of Arts students. Bachelor of Arts students can become Music Minors.

Sophomore Assessment

Sophomore music majors in all degree programs are required to submit a Sophomore Self-Assessment Form during the second semester of the sophomore year, in which they articulate their progress during the first two years in the program. The assessment form, grades, jury scores and overall degree progress are reviewed by the Music Department faculty as a means of determining continuation in the program.

Capstone Experience

Students enrolled in the B.M. Performance (Instrumental and Vocal concentrations) degree must complete a Junior Recital and a Senior Recital (MUS 491, 3 units). The Junior Recital comprises approximately 30 minutes of music. The Senior Recital comprises approximately 55 minutes of music. Information about Recitals is located under the "Current Students" tab on the Department website.

Students enrolled in the B.M. Music Education (Pre-Certification) degree program must complete a Senior Recital (MUS 491, 1 unit), comprised of approximately 35 minutes of music.

Students enrolled in the B.M. Jazz Studies must complete a Junior Recital and a Senior Project (MUS 490, 2 units), which is a recital performance unless otherwise determined by the Director of Jazz Studies.

Students enrolled in the B.M. Composition degree program are required to complete a Senior Project (MUS 490, 2 units). The main component of the Senior Project in Composition is the creation of original music, its format is determined by the student's particular compositional interests and in consultation with the student's composition instructor.

Students enrolled in the B.A. Liberal Arts, Music degree program are required to complete a Senior Project (MUS 490, 2 units). The project may take the form of directed research leading to a lecture-demonstration, a recital, an extended composition, a student-instructed course, the preparation of a performing edition, or another project of substantial effort.

Music, B.A.

The B.A. Liberal Arts Music degree program provides a broad basis from which a student may pursue graduate studies or a variety of careers. The concentration is a combination of work in theory, musicianship, music performance, general education courses and elective options. It is ideal for the student who is considering graduate work in music or for one who simply wants a strong foundation in the materials of music. The Bachelor of Arts in Music, Liberal Arts Concentration allows true breadth in the degree and the opportunity to pursue a minor or second major.

Preparatory Courses

Preparatory courses in music theory and piano keyboard skills are offered to students as an option to meet the minimum requirements for the theory and musicianship curriculum. These courses count as elective units toward the degree, but are challengeable by exam. Students who do not take these courses replace the units with additional university elective units.

Performing Ensembles, Private Instruction, Juries, Repertory Class, Options

Students in the B.A. Liberal Arts Music degree program are required to enroll in performing ensembles on their major instrument/voice every semester for a minimum of seven (7) semesters. A variety of major and minor ensembles are encouraged. Students may participate in additional ensembles, which are counted as elective units.

Students can opt to take up to eight (8) semesters of private instruction, which may be counted as elective units. Students taking lessons are required to pass a juried performance demonstration at the end of each semester with a minimum score of 65%.

Students may opt to take a Repertory Class (Vocal, Instrumental, Jazz) in conjunction with their private lessons.

Music Elective Options

Students are required to take six (6) units of music electives that are not performance-oriented courses. There are a variety of options to choose from.

In addition to the required electives, students may take an additional 8 to 10 units in music, including private lessons, additional ensembles, and repertory classes, as part of the general elective units. Preparatory courses in theory and keyboard skills may be counted as general elective units.

Capstone Experience

Students enrolled in the B.A. Liberal Arts Music degree program must complete a Senior Project (MUS 490, 2 units). The range of possible projects is fairly broad. Individual or group projects involving research, performance, analysis, theory, and other possibilities that bring together unique skills and proficiencies developed by the student may be considered. Because of the unique nature of each project, your Program Director and/or Advisor will communicate the appropriate procedure for evaluation.

Concentration

Music, Liberal Arts Concentration, B.A.

The Liberal Arts Concentration provides a broad basis from which a student may pursue graduate studies or a variety of careers. The concentration is a combination of work in theory, musicianship, music performance, general education courses and elective options. It is ideal for the student who is considering graduate work in music or for one who simply wants a strong foundation in the materials of music. The Bachelor of Arts in Music, Liberal Arts Concentration allows true breadth in the degree and the opportunity to pursue a minor or second major.

Requirements for the Concentration (22 Units)

The courses listed below constitute the liberal arts concentration in music. A student satisfactorily completing these courses, along with other University requirements, will earn a B.A. with a major in music. All students are encouraged to consult an advisor about arranging individually tailored programs of study.

Music, B.M.

The Bachelor of Music (B.M.) is a professional degree focusing on intensive music study in various specialized fields. In accordance with guidelines set forth by the National Association of Schools of Music, 65% of the total coursework in each concentration is in music. This degree is intended for students wishing to pursue a career in music, and provides a strong foundation for graduate study.

Program Learning Outcomes

Students completing degrees in Music will be able to:

1. Demonstrate the ability to hear, identify, and work conceptually with the elements of music through sight-reading, keyboard proficiency, and musical analysis.
2. Perform standard repertoire appropriate to their areas as individuals, as members of ensembles, and as conductors.
3. Demonstrate a working knowledge of music history within their areas of specialization and an acquaintance with the history, cultural background, and repertoires beyond their areas, including a wide selection of Western and non-Western music literature.
4. Demonstrate the communication skills, musical knowledge, and facility necessary to advocate for music performance and education in their communities.
5. Pursue graduate work in their areas of specialization.

Music, Composition Concentration, B.M.

This program is not accepting admissions.

The B.M. Composition degree program is intended for music majors whose primary focus is creating original music. In conjunction with core music courses in theory, musicianship, history, literature, applied skills, ensembles, and instrumental/vocal private instruction and related repertory classes, student composers will study privately with composition faculty and undertake additional coursework related specifically to music creation including music technology courses. Upon graduation, the successful B.M. Composition graduate will have produced a unique and diverse portfolio of works for various instrumental, vocal, and electronic media. The degree prepares students for a career involving music creation and/or graduate work in composition.

Private Instruction, Repertory Class, Juries and Ensemble Requirements

Students in the B.M. Composition degree program are required to enroll in private instruction on their major instrument or voice for six (6) semesters, and in composition for six (6) semesters. Students must pass a juried performance demonstration at the end of each semester with a minimum score of 75%.

Students in the program must take six (s) semesters of a Repertory Class (Vocal, Instrumental, Jazz) in conjunction with their private lessons. In addition, B.M. Composition majors must take at least one (1) semester of MUS 425 Composers Forum.

Students in the B.M. Composition program must pass a juried performance, with a minimum score of 75% each semester they take private instruction and composition lessons. Refer to the "Juries" clause for more specific information related to instrument and vocal juries. For the composition jury, students are required to submit notated scores of any compositions finished during the semester under the guidance of their instructor in PDF format. Each score should be accompanied by a written description of the composition highlighting both the inspiration and construction of the piece. While not required, students are also encouraged to submit a midi mock-up of their composition(s) as well.

Students in the program are required to enroll in a minimum of one (1) major ensemble on their major instrument/voice every semester in residence for a total of eight (8) semesters. For more specific requirements regarding ensembles, refer to the "Ensemble Requirement" clause.

Capstone Experience

Students enrolled in the B.M. Composition degree program must complete MUS 490 Senior Project. Senior projects are determined in consultation with the Composition Program Director.

Music, Jazz Studies Concentration, B.M.

Requirements for the Concentration

The B.M. Jazz Studies degree program is designed to furnish the training and background needed for students seeking to work as jazz performers, arrangers, composers, or teachers.

Private Instruction, Juries and Ensemble Requirement

Students in the B.M. Jazz Studies degree program are required to enroll in private instruction on their major instrument or voice every semester in residence. Students must pass a juried performance at the end of each semester with a minimum score of 75%. Students are required to enroll in a minimum of one (1) semester of the appropriate jazz ensemble, each semester in residence. Students must enroll in at least one semester of MUS 490 Jazz Orchestra. In addition, instrumentalists must take one (1) semester of a vocal ensemble; and vocalists must take a minimum of one (1) semester of an instrumental ensemble.

Capstone Experience

Students enrolled in the B.M. Jazz Studies degree programs must complete a Junior Recital and a Senior Project (MUS 490, 2 units). The Junior Recital comprises approximately 30 minutes of music. The Senior Project is a recital performance unless otherwise determined by the Director of Jazz Studies. Information about Recitals is located under the "Current Students" tab on the Department website.

First-Year Advising Guide

Sample Four-Year Program

The Four year Plan is a sample study plan. The sequence and specific courses given are suggestive; please see an advisor each semester to plan your personal program and track your progress using the Academic Requirements Report (ARR) in MYSSU.

Courses may be interchanged fall and spring semester depending on course offering each semester.

General Education Notes:

- GE Areas A2 and B4 should be completed by the end of the first year. Some students may take year-long courses for GE A2 and/or B4.
- GE Area A1 and A3 should be completed by the end of the second year
- Students should enroll in Upper Division GE courses after completion of Areas A1, A2, A3, and B4 with a C- or better, lower division GE in that area, and 45 units total.
- Not all First-Year Learning Communities (FLC's) meet the same GE areas.
- GE Area D must be taken in two different subject areas across the nine total required units in lower division (LD) and upper division (UD).

- Students must take American Institution requirements in U. S. History and U. S. Constitution/California State and Local Government. These requirements may be met in GE.

Music, Music Education Concentration, B.M.

Requirements for the Degree

The B.M. Music Education (Pre-Certification) concentration is a program that provides the training necessary for teaching music in K-12 public or private schools in California, and is recommended for anyone planning a teaching career in music. The program consists of a core of basic music major requirements, plus specialized courses for prospective teachers of vocal, instrumental, jazz, and general music in elementary, junior high, and senior high schools.

To obtain a California teaching credential, students completing the degree must complete the single subject credential program offered by the School of Education, a post-baccalaureate program that typically takes one year to complete. The music education curriculum has been designated as an Approved Subject Matter Program by the California Commission for Teacher Credentialing (CCTC). Graduates of the program are deemed "subject matter competent," allowing candidates for the credential program to obtain automatic access to any credential program in the state.

There are three (3) distinct tracks in the B.M. Music Education (Pre-Certification) program. The three tracks encompass a common core curriculum, and have additional specialized training courses.

Choral Track: a professional music degree focused on vocal performance and pedagogy, providing students with the comprehensive course of study necessary for teaching music K-12.

Instrumental Track: a professional music degree focused on instrumental performance and pedagogy, providing students with the comprehensive course of study necessary for teaching music K-12.

Instrumental Jazz Track: a professional music degree focused on instrumental jazz performance and pedagogy, providing students with the comprehensive course of study necessary for teaching music K-12.

Private Instruction, Juries and Ensemble Requirement

Students in the B.M. Music Education (Pre-Certification) degree program are required to enroll in private instruction on their major instrument or voice every semester in residence. Students must pass a juried performance at the end of each semester with a minimum score of 75%.

Students are required to enroll in a minimum of one (1) major ensemble every semester in residence. In addition:

- Choral Track majors must complete one (1) semester of an instrumental ensemble and one (1) semester of a musical theater ensemble.
- Instrumental Track majors must complete one (1) semester in a jazz ensemble and one (1) semester in a choral ensemble.
- Instrumental Jazz Track majors must complete one (1) semester of choral ensemble.

Refer to the "Ensemble Requirement" clause for a listing of appropriate ensembles for each degree track.

Capstone Experience

Students enrolled in the B.M. Music Education (Pre-Certification) degree program must complete a Senior Recital (MUS 491, 1 unit). The Senior Recital in this degree program comprises approximately 30 minutes of music. Information about Recitals is located under the "Current Students" tab on the Department website.

First-Year Advising Guide

First-Year Advising Guide

Music, Performance Concentration, B.M.

The B.M. Performance degree is intended for students who exhibit exceptional talent and musical aptitude, and is designed to prepare them for careers as performers or for continued graduate-level study. Lower-division students are admitted to the performance concentration on the basis of audition. Admission to the upper-division is by a jury. These take place at the end of the sophomore year (or, for transfer students, prior to entering the junior year).

Private Instruction, Juries and Ensemble Requirement

Students in the B.M. Performance degree program are required to enroll in private instruction on their major instrument or voice every semester in residence. Students must pass a juried performance at the end of each semester with a minimum score of 75%.

Students are required to enroll in a minimum of one (1) major ensemble every semester in residence, and for a total of sixteen (16) ensembles: 12 major ensembles and 4 chamber or minor ensembles. In addition, to the requirements above, instrumentalists must register for one (1) semester of choral ensemble and vocalists must register for one (1) of instrumental ensemble. For more specific requirements regarding ensembles for the B.M. Voice and Instrumental concentrations, refer to the "Ensemble Requirement" clause.

Capstone Experience

Students enrolled in the B.M. Performance degree program must complete a Junior Recital and a Senior Recital (MUS 491, 3 units). The Junior Recital comprises approximately 30 minutes of music. The Senior Recital comprises approximately 55 minutes of music. Information about Recitals is located under the "Current Students" tab on the Department website.

The Native American Studies program is designed to provide a minor with a multidisciplinary approach to Native Americans through ethnography, history, sociology, and the humanities. By approaching the multiplicity of Indian cultures from a variety of academic perspectives, a deeper understanding of native societies, past and present, will emerge. The program is designed to present a variety of American Indian experiences and issues within the wider context of human history and evolution. The program is especially interested in providing teachers, community service personnel, tribal administrators, and other interested persons with useful skills in dealing with indigenous/native communities. Special emphasis will be placed on assisting educators with practical and theoretical approaches to Indian education. Students in the NAMS minor are also encouraged to apply for internships to gain direct experience in working with tribal organizations and communities.

Students may develop a special major in Native American studies; those interested should review the guidelines for special majors and consult the program coordinator.

The Philosophical Life

The overall aim of the SSU Philosophy Department is to train and inspire students to become effective ethical agents in the world. The research focus of our faculty covers a range of topics in practical philosophy: environmental ethics; robo-ethics and artificial intelligence; compassion, pro-social emotions and moral psychology; moral theory; philosophy of law; philosophy of race; philosophy of gender; social justice; the good life; and global interdependence. Although students will specialize in one of the four concentrations, they will have ample opportunity to take classes from all the concentrations. Students will graduate with a well-rounded background and training in practical philosophy.

Faculty and Curriculum

At the heart of the philosophy program is the faculty: dedicated teachers and scholars who represent key approaches to philosophy, and who are actively engaged in ongoing research. We have designed the curriculum to provide the major with a contemporary understanding of philosophy.

Career Options

Philosophy majors have multiple career options, which include but are not limited to: law, public policy, medicine and medical ethics, ethical analyst for technology research and design, education (primary, secondary, and post-secondary), international relations, government, and business. Philosophy was recently determined to result in the highest mid-career salary of any major outside of the STEM fields. It is regularly cited by business and industry leaders as a desired major to hire from, as philosophy is excellent training for critical thinking and effective communication.

Advising

Advising begins with an initial advising interview with the department chair. During the following semester the student will choose a regular faculty advisor. See department Administrative Coordinator at department office for details.

Philosophy, B.A.

All philosophy majors complete five core courses. These courses serve two purposes: to provide a foundation in practical philosophy, and to provide students with a capstone research seminar at the end of their course of study. In addition to these five core courses, students select four additional courses from within their concentration, some of which are electives.

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the program, students should be able to:

- Analyze and evaluate arguments
- Develop ability to argue persuasively for a thesis based on scholarly research
- Apply philosophical theory and methods to daily life
- Articulate and argue for core values (moral and non moral)

Degree Requirements

See the "Degree Requirements" in the University Catalog for complete details on general degree requirements.

Vision

We believe in a world where the artist is transformative, essential and engaged.

Mission

The Department of Theatre Arts and Dance offers students a home where they can seek their potential and develop their voices as artists, through the study and collaborative making of live performance.

Core Values

Student centered

We believe first and foremost in creating experiences that serve our students' needs and passions.

Rigor

We believe that performance training can inspire us to the highest standards of professionalism and personal achievement.

Full Engagement

We believe in making work that has value beyond the dance and theatre world and directly engages our campus and local community.

Theatre Arts and Dance majors and minors gain professional training for a career in the arts; a deep impression of ensemble and individual creativity; key academic and critical thinking skills; and a lasting sense of community. We feature a rich set of courses; a wide range of performance styles and opportunities; personal contact with faculty and guest artists, with particular connections to the contemporary Bay Area scene; focused and comprehensive individual advising; and a supportive and caring staff.

Students of theatre and dance develop artistic skill and kinesthetic intelligence while growing in human understanding and empathy. They learn to embody and project their own beliefs and to explore the cultures and beliefs of people who are different from them. Our theatre and dance faculty cultivate innovative approaches to theatre and dance, while respecting and learning from the past.

The department offers numerous performance opportunities and actively encourages and supports the development of new work by both students and faculty. The Department of Theatre Arts & Dance program is closely associated with SSU's Department of Music in the area of voice and musical theatre. Together, the Department of Theatre Arts & Dance and the Department of Music form the Center of Performing Arts which offers over 200 student performances of theatre, dance, and music each year.

Dance, B.A.

The Dance B.A. offers dance and movement studies rooted in anti-racist practices and pedagogical approaches with an emphasis on dance as a universal human experience and cultural activity. Courses include choreography, performance, and somatic approaches to dancing, with supporting courses in dance and theatre history, teaching methodologies, anatomy for dancers, global perspectives in dance, technical theatre, and special topics. The Dance Program is committed to equitable, accessible and inclusive learning environments where all are welcome.

- GE Areas A2 and B4 should be completed by the end of the first year. Some students may take year-long courses for GE A2 and/or B4.
- GE Area A1 and A3 should be completed by the end of the second year
- Students should enroll in Upper Division GE courses after completion of Areas A1, A2, A3, and B4 with a C- or better, lower division GE in that area, and 45 units total.
- Not all First-Year Learning Communities (FLC's) meet the same GE areas.
- GE Area D must be taken in two different subject areas across the nine total required units in lower division (LD) and upper division (UD).
- Students must take American Institution requirements in U.S. History and U.S. Constitution/California State and Local Government. These requirements may be met in GE.

Theatre Arts with Concentration in Theatre Studies, B.A.

The Theatre Studies concentration in the Theatre Arts & Dance program provides equal parts professional theatre training and liberal arts education. Students prepare to pursue theatre careers in directing, playwriting, criticism, teaching, scholarship, arts management, dramaturgy, and other careers that may not have performance or theatre technology at their centers. Regardless of eventual profession, the concentration provides the intellectual rigor and imaginative excitement necessary to any liberal arts degree. Students learn to make theatre as a fundamentally collaborative story told among artists and community. We believe that this kind of training prepares the student to become the ideal global good citizen, engaged with theatre as a means of ritual and democratic conversation focused on full inclusion of all cultures and identities.

Theatre Arts, Minor

The minor in theatre arts consists of 24 units of theatre arts courses. The minor provides a way for students who are not pursuing a major in the department to meaningfully study Theatre Arts and Dance and become significantly involved with the life of the department and with production work. Students may choose to focus on acting, dance, technical theatre, or theatre studies. Six of the elective units must be upper division. Students contemplating a minor in theatre arts should consult the department's full-time faculty at the earliest possible date for approval and advising. Students particularly interested in musical theater may choose to pursue a Performance major in Voice in the Department of Music.

Minor Core Requirements

- THAR 203 - Introduction to the History of Drama and Dance: 1800 to Present Unit(s): 4
- THAR 300 - Theatre in Action Unit(s): 3
- THAR 302 - Drama Ensemble Workshop Unit(s): 1-3 OR

sbe.sonoma.edu

The mission of the School of Business and Economics is to grow leaders who are courageous, curious, and kind, and who change the world through data insight, entrepreneurship, and purpose-driven business.

The School has a robust network of support from the regional business community that creates opportunities for our students to meet local leaders, learn with professional mentors, gain experience with internships, and apply their learning through community case studies, projects, conferences, and competitions.

The School of Business and Economics offers coursework and degree programs that prepare students for careers of positive professional and community impact. Students are exposed to alternative viewpoints concerning the analysis of organizational, social, and economic problems, including both quantitative and qualitative approaches. Emphasis is placed upon the roles and responsibilities of decision makers within a complex and ever-changing environment, and emphasizes the consideration of ethical and globalization issues.

The School of Business and Economics includes the Departments of Business Administration, whose programs are accredited by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB), and Economics. Business Administration majors benefit from the General Education requirements of the University and then are provided with a broad program of study that involves an integrative set of required core courses plus a field of concentration which enables targeted learning in a specific subdiscipline of business. Concentrations include accounting, finance, financial management, management, marketing, and wine business strategies. Economics majors receive a firm foundation of undergraduate study in a liberal arts tradition that serves as preparation for graduate school as well as professional careers in economics.

Our small class sizes, qualified professors, and desirable location make us an excellent option for those looking to secure a strong foundation in business and economics before entering the working world. Our local network creates opportunities for students to work and learn in the field at all stages of their studies.

Graduate-level programs in the School of Business and Economics help professionals and executives develop insights into advanced business theories and practice that can be immediately applied in the workplace. The Sonoma MBA for Professionals, our evening Masters in Business Administration program, is organized around a 4-3-2-1 model - four core courses, three theme areas, two electives, and one capstone course – that balances the need to build a strong foundation of core skills for all students with the curriculum flexibility to take courses that serve students' unique academic interests and career paths. Also, the Sonoma MBA in Wine Business is the only one of its kind in the United States and offers deep connections to the local industry.

The Sonoma Executive MBA program is an alternative-format MBA program designed for those seeking an environment for entrepreneurial and strategic thinking, along with greater depth in leadership and global business education. Designed for seasoned professionals with at least eight years of work experience, the Sonoma EMBA honors family and career with classes scheduled two days a week on alternating weekends. The Sonoma Executive MBA in Wine Business focuses our EMBA curriculum on global wine operations, strategic brand management, and other industry-relevant skill areas.

Within the School of Business and Economics, several organizations and initiatives exist to promote our students and support North Bay communities and communities everywhere:

- The Wine Business Institute is an education and research institute that provides business solutions for the wine industry and is a globally respected resource for knowledge, education, and research within the wine industry. It supports the wine industry by providing relevant and practical research, professional development seminars, and, through the Department of Business Administration, both undergraduate and graduate degree programs.
- The School of Business and Economics Center for Professional Engagement offers dedicated career development and professional preparation opportunities to all of our majors. We have vibrant mentor and internship programs, a professional skills training program, and multiple events that connect numerous local hiring companies with our students.
- The School of Business and Economics provides a hub of entrepreneurship education and resources for the North Bay. Our entrepreneurship resource website, entrepreneur in residence, and connections to the local entrepreneurial community are central components of our new hub.
- The North Bay Economic Outlook Conference is a partnership of representatives from organizations in both the public and private sectors. Each year, the school supports this regional conference which examines and analyzes contemporary, critical issues in support of our local community's economic development.

Department Mission

The Department of Business Administration at Sonoma State University offers high-quality, relevant education in business to aspiring and practicing professionals, managers, and entrepreneurs in the private and public sectors. It does this in a liberal arts and sciences environment in which faculty emphasize the development and continuous improvement of the skills of critical thinking, effective communication, ethical reasoning, maintaining a global perspective, and applying disciplinary tools.

Careers in Business Administration

The Department of Business Administration offers a wide selection of specialized courses designed to meet a variety of career objectives. These career objectives include, but are not limited to, management-level positions in business, non-profit or government; accounting; financial analysis, management or planning; investment banking, and insurance; general management, personnel, labor relations, public relations, wage and salary administration, training, and international business; data analytics, marketing research, advertising and promotion, product development, and sales management; and business management positions in the wine industry.

Business Administration with a Concentration in Management, B.S. (College of Marin)

Sonoma State University, via the Schools of Business and Economics and Extended & International Education, provide a pathway for students to earn a B.S. in Business Administration with a concentration in Management at the College of Marin.

Courses are taught by SSU faculty, scheduled evenings and Saturdays on either the Kentfield or Indian Valley campuses of the College of Marin. The program is accredited by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB) and is designed specifically for students with work, family or other commitments who are not able to join traditional Business degree programs on the main SSU campus in Rohnert Park.

The total program to be offered at the College of Marin Kentfield Campus consists of 57 units: 48 in the major plus 9 units of upper-division general education. Time to completion depends on many factors; advising will be available before and during the program to develop individual completion plans.

- Remaining lower-division general education
- Remaining electives

- How many units can comfortably be taken in a semester, depending on individual work and family commitments
- Whether a student is able to take Summer or Winter Intersession courses at Sonoma State

The program is designed to be completed in two years at 12 units per semester if a student has 60 units at transfer, has completed all lower-division GE and is able to take Summer/Winter Intersession. We estimate that part-time students taking 8 units per semester will take about three years to finish their requirements.

Please note that this program is being offered 100% online through the 2022-2023 academic year due to pandemic-related constraints.*

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the program, students should be able to:

1. Demonstrate general business problem-solving skills
2. Employ ethical reasoning
3. Apply global perspectives
4. Interpret quantitative applications
5. Demonstrate written communication skills
6. Show oral communication skills

Upper Division Business Administration Core Courses

All Business Administration students must complete the following seven upper-division core courses:

- BUS 316 - Operations and Supply Chain Management Unit(s): 4
- BUS 319 - Introduction to MIS Unit(s): 4
- BUS 320 - Business Data Analysis and Interpretation Unit(s): 4
- BUS 360 - Introduction to Marketing Unit(s): 4
- BUS 370 - Introduction to Managerial Finance Unit(s): 4
- BUS 344 - Organizational Behavior Unit(s): 4
- BUS 491 - Seminar in Management Strategy and Policy Unit(s): 4

Management Concentration Coursework

Management Concentration Core Classes

In addition to the general Business Administration Core classes above, students must complete the following coursework in the Management concentration. The core Management classes are:

- BUS 340 - Survey of Human Resource Management Unit(s): 4
- BUS 350 - Management Unit(s): 4
- BUS 452 - Leadership Unit(s): 4

Management Concentration Elective Classes

Program faculty will select two additional courses from the following list to complete the Concentration:

- BUS 391 - Cross-cultural Communication and Negotiation Unit(s): 4
- BUS 393 - Introduction to International Business Unit(s): 4
- BUS 451 - Entrepreneurship / Small Business Management Unit(s): 4
- BUS 453 - Small Business Analysis Unit(s): 4

Internships

After students have completed two Management Concentration courses, students may substitute an Internship (BUS 499MG) for one of the Concentration Elective courses. See the School of Business & Economics Internship website for details.

- Internships must be paid.
- Internships must be completed in the semester of registration. No retroactive Internships will be approved.
- Each Internship should represent about 180 hours of hands-on experience (12 hours/week).
- Existing jobs do not qualify; you must work in a different department or a different organization.
- To locate internship opportunities, you may search the School of Business and Economics Internship Program site above, or you can visit the SSU Career Services site.
- Students cannot register for BUS 499MG online; they require prior approval from the SBE Internship Director, Dr. Kyuho Lee.
- Your approved Internship Agreement form must be submitted to SEIE along with a paper registration form, no later than the deadline specified for Special Studies each semester.

Upper Division General Education

Students who have reached upper-division standing (60 or more CSU-transferable semester units) are required to take 9 units of upper-division general education coursework across two categories of the Sonoma State GE pattern, as described in the Sonoma State catalog. Courses fulfilling this requirement will either be included as part of the class selection available in Fall and Spring semesters, or students will be pointed to convenient opportunities, such as online courses offered in Summer or Winter Intersession.

Graduation Writing Assessment Requirement (GWAR)

The Graduation Writing Assessment Requirement is intended to ensure that all students graduating from a California State University have acquired the writing skills necessary for competent written communication. At Sonoma State University, there are two ways students may complete the GWAR: either by passing a Writing Intensive Course (WIC), or by passing the Written English Proficiency Test (WEPT). When possible, Writing Intensive Courses will be chosen for upper-division general education course offerings in the program. Alternatively, the College of Marin Assessment & Testing Center may proctor the WEPT.

Business Administration with a Concentration in Management, B.S., (Mendocino College/Lake County)

Sonoma State University partners with both Mendocino Community College and Yuba Community College Districts, via the Schools of Business and Economics and Extended & International Education, to provide a pathway for students to earn a B.S. in Business Administration with a concentration in Management.

Courses are taught by SSU faculty, scheduled evenings, online and Saturdays at Mendocino College. The program is accredited by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB) and is designed specifically for students with work, family or other commitments who are not able to join traditional Business degree programs on the main SSU campus in Rohnert Park.

Careers in Business Administration

The Department of Business Administration offers a wide selection of specialized courses designed to meet a variety of career objectives. These career objectives include, but are not limited to, management-level positions in business, non-profit or government; accounting; financial analysis, management or planning; investment banking, and insurance; general management, personnel, labor relations, public relations, wage and salary administration, training, and international business; data analytics, marketing research, advertising and promotion, product development, and sales management; and business management positions in the wine industry

Bachelor of Science in Business Administration

The bachelor's degree in Business Administration includes a pre-business program, a core of course requirements, and a broad range of fields of concentration. All students in the major take preparatory courses and lower-division core requirements and then select concentrations based on individual interest and career plans. The fields of concentration include: accounting, finance, financial management, management, marketing, wine business strategies, and a special concentration designed by the student with the approval of the department chair. A Bachelor of Science in Business Administration prepares students for careers in an increasingly globalized world and trains them to be responsible citizens and effective leaders.

A minimum of 120 semester units is required to graduate with a bachelor of science degree in business administration. A total of 55 units with a minimum 2.00 GPA is required for the major; 20-21 additional units are needed in preparatory courses, many of which might apply toward general education requirements. In addition to general education and the major, some students need to take other coursework to fulfill unit requirements for the degree. Such courses may be selected from the entire University curriculum and may be used to explore other disciplines, complete a minor, or take more classes in the major.

Advising

The Department of Business Administration believes that advising is essential for students' success. Students are encouraged to meet regularly with their advisor and are required to seek advising at certain critical junctures. These junctures occur when creating a 4-year plan, when changing status from Pre-Business to Business and planning a concentration, when applying for graduation, and when experiencing academic difficulties.

The department maintains an active advising function in a two-tier system. Business administration employs a full-time academic advisor with whom each Pre-Business student should consult on matters regarding general education, University requirements, the Pre-Business program, and routine major issues. When students move from Pre-Business to the Business Administration major, they are assigned a faculty advisor. Every full-time faculty member actively advises students, especially on matters relating to the major and careers.

Pre-Business Administration Program

All students enter the Business Administration program as Pre-Business majors. Pre-Business students must meet the computer competency requirement and complete all pre-major coursework prior to being granted Business Administration major status. Business major status is required to take upper-division business courses.

Computer Competency

Prior to being admitted to Business Administration status all Pre-Business majors must demonstrate computer competency. Students may demonstrate competency by passing an approved Microsoft Excel competency examination. Students should plan carefully and consult with the school website for test and registration information. Students may also demonstrate competency by earning a grade of C or better in an approved course that covers Microsoft Excel at an intermediate level.

Degree Requirements

See the "Degree Requirements" in the University Catalog for complete details on general degree requirements.

General Education Requirements (48 units)

See the "General Education Program" requirements in the University Catalog for information on General Education requirements. Some major requirements may double count for GE requirements.

Pre-Major Courses

Pre-major coursework consists of both preparatory courses and the lower-division portion of the Pre-Business major. Preparatory courses and lower-division core courses together constitute the Pre-Business major. A letter grade of C or better is required in each Pre-Business major course. In addition to demonstrating computer competency, all the following coursework must be completed as part of the Pre-Business program.

When the pre-major courses listed below are completed with a C or better, students have to file a Change of Status form along with all corresponding unofficial transcripts in order to change their major to Business Administration. Then the student will be able to register for upper-division Business major classes.

Preparatory Courses for Pre-Business Major

(units that are necessary but do not count toward the major)

- ECON 204 - Introduction to Macroeconomics Unit(s): 4
- ECON 205 - Introduction to Microeconomics Unit(s): 4
- MATH 131 - Introduction to Finite Mathematics Unit(s): 3
OR
- MATH 161 - Differential and Integral Calculus I Unit(s): 4
- BUS 211 - Business Statistics Unit(s): 4
OR
- MATH 165 - Elementary Applied Statistics Unit(s): 4
OR
- ECON 217 - Statistics for Economics and Business Unit(s): 4

Lower-Division Pre-Business Core

(units count in the major)

- BUS 225 - Legal Environment of Business Unit(s): 4
- BUS 230A - Financial Accounting Unit(s): 4
- BUS 230B - Managerial Accounting Unit(s): 4

Major in Business Administration

Transfer students may complete the Business Administration course requirements (10-course core and 5-course concentration) with fewer than 55 units; however, additional business electives must be taken to complete the 55-unit major requirement. Such students may elect to take additional coursework from their own or another area of concentration as long as they meet the prerequisites for such courses. It is recommended that students familiarize themselves with course requirements and consult with a faculty advisor prior to choosing elective courses intended to meet the major requirements. At least one-half of the courses, including a minimum of 3 courses in the concentration, must be completed at SSU.

Upper-Division Business Core

All business students must complete the following seven core requirements. (Note that coursework in the selected area of concentration usually may be taken concurrently with the core courses.)

- BUS 316 - Operations and Supply Chain Management Unit(s): 4
- BUS 319 - Introduction to MIS Unit(s): 4
- BUS 320 - Business Data Analysis and Interpretation Unit(s): 4
- BUS 344 - Organizational Behavior Unit(s): 4

- BUS 360 - Introduction to Marketing Unit(s): 4
- BUS 370 - Introduction to Managerial Finance Unit(s): 4
- BUS 491 - Seminar in Management Strategy and Policy Unit(s): 4

Concentrations for Business Administration Majors

Every business student must complete an area of concentration within the major. Each concentration consists of five courses. Each of these courses will be of 3 or more units. Students should plan carefully and consult their faculty advisor regularly and before enrolling in concentration courses. Those wishing to complete a double concentration must take at least eight concentration courses beyond the core. Many concentration courses can be taken while completing core requirements. Most courses in the concentrations have prerequisites. At times, appropriate courses from other majors, such as psychology, sociology, public administration, economics and environmental studies, may be substituted in a concentration with the approval of the concentration advisor and the department chair. Except for the special concentration, at least 3 of the concentration courses must be taken at SSU.

At least one-half of the courses of the major, including three of the courses in the concentration, must be completed at Sonoma State University.

Change of Major

The catalog year for a student declaring a major in Business Administration will be the catalog in effect at the time of such declaration.

Change of Status from Pre-Business to Business Administration Major

Pre-Business students must file a Change of Status form in the department to request change of status to the Business Administration major. This request should be submitted as soon as the student has completed, with a C or better, all required courses in the pre-major program and demonstrated computer competency. A faculty advisor will be assigned to assist the student with matters related to the major program. The change to Business Administration status will not become effective until completion of Pre-Business major requirements (with minimum "C" grades) has been verified.

B.S. in Business Administration at College of Marin

The School of Business and Economics is offering a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration degree completion program in partnership with the SSU School of Extended & International Education and the College of Marin. The degree completion program provides a pathway for students in the greater San Francisco North Bay area to earn a B.S. in Business Administration with a concentration in Management. Courses are taught by SSU faculty, scheduled evenings and Saturdays on the Kentfield campus of the College of Marin. The program is accredited by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB) and is designed specifically for students with work, family, or other commitments who are not able to join traditional Business degree programs on the main SSU campus in Rohnert Park.

Program Roadmaps

Sample Four-Year Program

Bachelor of Science in Business Administration

Total required semester units are 120 and the Four Year Plan is a sample study plan. The sequence and specific courses given are suggestive; please see an advisor each semester to plan your personal program and track your progress using the Academic Requirements Report (ARR) in MySSU.

Some major and GE courses may be interchanged fall and spring semester depending on course offering each semester.

General Education Notes:

- GE Areas A2 and B4 should be completed by the end of the first year. Some students may take year-long courses for GE A2 and/or B4.
- GE Area A1 and A3 should be completed by the end of the second year
- Students should enroll in Upper Division GE courses after completion of Areas A1, A2, A3, and B4 with a C- or better, lower division GE in that area, and 45 units total.
- Not all First-Year Learning Communities (FLC's) meet the same GE areas.
- GE Area D must be taken in two different subject areas across the nine total required units in lower division (LD) and upper division (UD).
- Students must take American Institution requirements in U.S. History and U.S. Constitution/California State and Local Government. These requirements may be met in GE.

Transfer Students: The Junior and Senior year, in most cases, are representative of a two-year plan for transfer students. Please see the department advisor or department chair to be advised. The department will assign you a faculty advisor, based on your chosen concentration, who will help you to plan your concentration courses and set career goals.

Special Concentration

Advisor: Zachary Wong

The Special concentration is intended for those in either of the following categories:

First, the Special concentration is for those who wish to have a general B.S. degree in Business Administration. To complete this concentration a student must, with the approval of the special concentration advisor and department chair, select five business courses from at least two areas of concentration. At least two of the five courses would normally be chosen from among those listed as required within the various concentrations.

Second, it is for those students who wish, with the approval of the special concentration advisor and the department chair, to design a concentration in an area not covered sufficiently within the department, using courses outside of the department. To complete this concentration, five upper-division courses of at least three-units each should be selected with approval from the chair.

Business Administration, MBA

The Master of Business Administration degree (MBA) for professionals is intended to prepare graduates for positions of management and leadership in organizational settings in both the private and public sectors. This evening program is designed primarily to meet the needs of the working student. MBA students have the option to choose the Wine Business concentration. Information on all MBA programs can be found at <https://sbe.sonoma.edu/mba>.

Program Learning Outcomes

- Analyze accounting and financial data
- Evaluate and apply business research data
- Recognize and apply techniques for managing and motivating employees
- Apply leadership theories and practices to promote ethical, sustainable, and innovative approaches to organizational issues

MBA Admissions

The MBA program launches each year in the fall. The application period is October 1 to April 30. All documentation required for admission must be received by the University and department no later than the last day of the relevant application period.

Information on how to apply can be found at <https://sbe.sonoma.edu/mba-programs-admissions>. The first step in the application process is to submit an online application through Cal State Apply. After this preliminary application is submitted, applicants will be advised as to the next steps in the admission process. Applicants are encouraged to apply early! To be admitted to the MBA program, a candidate must meet the requirements of both the University and the Department of Business Administration. In addition, all candidates for the Sonoma MBA in Wine Business will be expected to complete the Foundation and Intermediate levels of the online Wine Business Management Certificate program before being admissible to the Sonoma MBA program in Wine

Business. This requirement may be waived by completion of 20 units of wine-related coursework, 24 months of wine industry work experience, or any combination thereof.

University Requirements

The requirements for admission to graduate study (work beyond the bachelor's degree) at Sonoma State University are in accordance with Title 5, California Administrative Code. For admission, students must:

- Hold an acceptable baccalaureate degree from an institution accredited by a regional accrediting association or have completed academic preparation as determined by an appropriate campus authority;
- Have attained a grade point average of at least 2.50 (A =4.00) in the last 60 semester (90 quarter) units attempted;
- Have been in good standing at the last college attended; and
- Have earned a minimum score of 550 on the paper version or 80 on the computerized version of the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) for those applicants who have not spent at least three years of school at the secondary level (or beyond) where English is the principal language of instruction.

International students must meet the admissions criteria set forth by the graduate department. Students in the MBA programs are required to gain practical experience by (a) completing an internship course, (b) working for eight or more months during their MBA program, or (c) combining an internship course and work for a total of eight or more months during their MBA program. International students may be authorized for Curricular Practical Training (CPT) to be eligible for off-campus work or internships in a position directly related to their field of study.

Department of Business Administration Requirements

An individual may apply for admission to the MBA program with or without an academic background in business administration. Applicants will not be considered without a current Graduate Management Admissions Test (GMAT) score or Graduate Record Exam (GRE) score (either one must be less than 5 years old). The department requires a GMAT score of at least 450 overall (or equivalent GRE score) and a GPA of at least 2.50 in the last 60 semester units (90 quarter units) attempted. Applicants are expected to have two years of full time work experience prior to starting the program. The department considers the candidate's application, academic background, work experience, and performance on the GMAT or GRE in evaluating high promise of success in the program.

A candidate who is not accepted may appeal to the Graduate Programs Committee for admission reconsideration. Such appeals are not routinely granted.

Documentation Needed to Apply

After applicants have been advised by the MBA Admissions Manager to apply, the following documentation is required for consideration of acceptance into the MBA Program. All documentation required for admission must be received by the University and department no later than the last day of the relevant application period.

1. An online Cal State Apply Application must be submitted. International students must also submit a copy of the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) score with a minimum of 550 on the paper version or 80 on the computerized version. For more information on applying, contact the Graduate Business Programs office at mba@sonoma.edu or call (707) 664-3501.

2. Official transcripts should be ordered from each college attended. A copy of each transcript should be sent to the Office of Admissions and Records at:

Sonoma State University
1801 East Cotati Avenue
Rohnert Park, CA 94928-3609

All community college and university transcripts that provide evidence of completion of MBA foundation courses must be included.

3. A current resume should be sent to the MBA Admissions Manager, School of Business and Economics, at the address above.
4. An official GMAT or GRE score report should be sent to California State University - Sonoma. Information regarding ordering GMAT score reports, locating a GMAT testing site, and GMAT preparation materials can be obtained on mba.com. All information regarding the GRE can be found on the ETS GRE web page.

Graduate Student Status

A candidate admitted into the Sonoma MBA program will be admitted in one of two categories:

- Conditionally Classified Graduate Status. A student admitted to the MBA program as a Conditionally Classified Graduate Student can take only foundation courses. This student may not take MBA required or elective courses without permission of the Director of MBA Programs. A student who begins as a Conditionally Classified Graduate Student will be eligible for advancement to Classified Graduate Status upon successful completion of the foundation courses.
- Classified Graduate Status. A student admitted to the MBA program as a Classified Graduate Student will have completed the foundation courses at the time of admission. This student should take the MBA core courses to begin the program.

Admissions Process

The Office of Admissions and Records performs the initial evaluation of the application and transcripts and determines eligibility for admission to the University. If the candidate is not eligible for admission to the University, the candidate is notified and the process stops.

If the candidate is eligible for admission to the University, the application is forwarded to the Director of MBA Programs for the department recommendation. When the GMAT or GRE score and resume are received, eligibility for admission to the MBA program is determined and a recommendation for status of admission is returned to the Office of Admissions and Records, which will notify the candidate of the results.

Students who have not taken the GMAT or GRE will not be accepted for entrance into the program.

Transfer Credits

Up to 6 units of approved graduate level work from accredited universities may be transferred to meet part of the 31 units for the MBA. However, these requests are not routinely granted. Graduate courses equivalent to our foundation courses will not be accepted to meet elective or required MBA courses. Transfer courses must be approved by the Director of MBA Programs. Students are advised to get approval prior to taking any transfer courses.

Eligibility for MBA Courses

Courses offered in the Sonoma MBA program have restricted enrollment.

- For MBA foundation courses, a student must be at least a Conditionally Classified MBA student or obtain written permission from the Director of MBA Programs.
- For MBA required or elective courses, a student must be a Classified MBA student or obtain written permission from the Director of MBA Programs.

Readmission

Continuing students (those who have completed courses in the MBA Program) may take a leave of absence from the program for one or two semesters by completing a 'Leave of Absence' form and filing it with the Office of Admissions and Records. Students who take more than two semesters off and/or do not complete a 'Leave of Absence' form must reapply and meet current admission standards as presented above. In addition, the GMAT or GRE used to determine that admission can not be more than 5 years old. Students readmitted may have to recertify courses. Recertification is necessary for any course that will be more than 7 years old in the semester the degree is granted.

MBA Program Curriculum

The MBA program has been adapted to meet the ever-changing needs of today's business world. It will equip students with business tools and strategies to deliver results in today's transformational economy. It will teach students not just how to read financial statements, but how to apply that information to make decisions and shape strategy. It will help students learn not just the principles of marketing, but how to develop a brand, deliver transformational customer experiences, and integrate marketing communication across numerous outlets. Students will gain knowledge not just in business strategies, but in innovation, entrepreneurship, and data analytics.

The MBA program is organized around a 4-3-2-1 model: four core courses, three theme areas, two electives, and one capstone course. Three theme areas - International Business and Global Issues, Leadership and Ethics, and Contemporary Business Issues - allow students to choose their career emphasis.

Inside and outside of the classroom, students gain access to the deep knowledge of our regional business partners and to career support services.

Evening classes are designed to easily fit into busy schedules, small class sizes allow students to make personal connections with classmates, and academic and professional instructors are committed to helping students reach their future business goals.

Analytical Writing Requirement

All candidates entering SSU as MBA students who do not score at least 4.00 on the analytical writing portion of the GMAT or a 3.5 on the GRE's analytical writing section must pass the CSU Written English Proficiency Test (WEPT) either during their first semester or before completing the foundation courses.

Grades

All courses applied to the program must be completed with an overall GPA of 3.00, and no course for which a final grade below C is assigned may be used to satisfy this requirement. Graduate programs must be completed in no more than 7 years, which is computed as 14 semesters.

The Sonoma MBA for Professionals program (31 units) consists of the following course sequence:

- eMBArk Weekend
- 4 Core Courses
- 3 Theme Area Courses
- 2 Elective Courses
- 1 Capstone Experience

If students do not have an undergraduate business degree, there may be an additional foundation step of the program that needs to be completed (see MBA Foundation Courses below). Contact our office for a transcript review and/or assistance at (707) 664-3501.

eMBArk Weekend (1 Unit)

The Sonoma MBA experience begins with an experiential immersion weekend day that combines academic planning, teamwork development, and case analysis practice.

4 Core Courses (12 Units)

The MBA core courses are a cluster of graduate business courses that provide a base knowledge upon which other courses and theme areas build. In the first year, students complete the four core courses as a cohort, a group study model that builds relationships and mirrors a team workforce environment. Two courses are completed in the Fall Semester and two courses are completed in the Spring Semester. The four core courses, which are prerequisites for all other courses are:

- BUS 535 - Cost Analysis and Control Unit(s): 3
- BUS 540 - Managing and Motivating Employees Unit(s): 3
- BUS 570 - Seminar in Managerial Finance Unit(s): 3
- BUS 580 - Business Intelligence Unit(s): 3

3 Theme Areas (9 Units)

Breadth of exposure and relevance to today's workplace are ensured by requiring students to take one course in each of three thematic areas: Leadership and Ethics, International Business and Global Issues, and Contemporary Business Issues. A sample of possible courses in each theme area includes:

Leadership and Ethics

- BUS 552 - Leadership and Innovation Unit(s): 3

International Business and Global Issues

- BUS 516 - Operations Management Unit(s): 3
- BUS 593 - Seminar in International Business Unit(s): 3

Contemporary Business Issues

- BUS 519 - Management Information Systems Unit(s): 3
- BUS 560 - Seminar in Marketing Management Unit(s): 3

2 Elective Courses (6 Units)

Students gain depth in the areas of their interest by choosing two electives taken from any thematic area, or by setting up a special study experience, or an internship project.

1 Capstone (3 Units)

Students put it all together in a final business strategy course (BUS 591) that requires them to develop a comprehensive case research project with an existing organization. To enroll in the capstone course, it must be the student's last semester in the program and the student must have completed the 4 core and 3 theme area courses. Exceptions require the approval of the Director of MBA Programs.

MBA Foundation Courses (32 semester units)

The MBA Foundation Courses provide the fundamental knowledge of business principles to prepare students for the study of business at the graduate level. This set of courses is taken either at the undergraduate level or as MBA preparation courses. Foundation courses may be waived for competencies demonstrated by the undergraduate courses or their equivalents listed below or by examination. All courses listed at the 200 level may be taken at a junior college. All courses listed at the 300 level must be taken at a four year institution at the upper division level. Assuming all other admissions requirements are met, a student needing one or more foundation courses will be admitted as a Conditionally Classified Graduate Student. The MBA Foundation Courses include the following (or their equivalents):

- BUS 211 - Business Statistics Unit(s): 4

- BUS 230A - Financial Accounting Unit(s): 4
AND
- BUS 230B - Managerial Accounting Unit(s): 4
OR

Executive Master of Business Administration, MBA

The Executive MBA, designed for professionals with significant work and management experience, consists of fourteen courses in a cohort-style, modular curriculum. The curriculum is focused around two related emphases: leadership development and strategic decision-making. The transformational leadership emphasis includes courses like Leadership Intelligence, Talent Management, and Leading Change in Organizations, as well as a leadership self-development project that spans the entire 17 months of the program. The strategic decision-making emphasis includes courses like Financial Statement Analysis, Strategic Marketing, and Operations and Supply Chain Strategies, and culminates in an integrative, applied-learning capstone project. Incorporating experiential and project-based learning, the Executive MBA includes a multiple day intensive off-site experience which guides students in exploring team and leadership dynamics and a 10-day international learning journey that includes in-country consulting projects and business visits with executives and government officials.

The Executive Wine MBA offers our EMBA curriculum to wine industry professionals, featuring projects and assignments focused on wine businesses, and faculty with backgrounds in wine industry research and practice.

Admissions Information

The Executive MBA is a self-support program that is run in conjunction with the School of Extended and International Education. Some special admissions requirements and application procedures apply.

For detailed information and applications, please visit the EMBA web page. The Executive MBA programs (EMBA, Wine EMBA, hybrid version of the Wine EMBA) launch annually (either in the fall or spring).

Information on how to apply can be found on the MBA Admissions web page. The first step in the application process is to submit a resume to the MBA Admissions Manager at mba@sonoma.edu. Information will then be provided on how to complete the application process. Applicants are encouraged to apply early!

To be admitted to the EMBA program, a candidate must meet the requirements of both the University and the Department of Business Administration. In addition, all candidates for the Wine EMBA will be expected to have completed 20 units of wine-related coursework, 24 months of wine industry work experience, or any combination thereof, before being admissible to the Wine EMBA program. This requirement may be met by completing the first two levels of our online

Wine Business Management Certificate offered through the Wine Business Institute's Professional Development programs.

University Requirements

The requirements for admission to graduate study (work beyond the bachelor's degree) at Sonoma State University are in accordance with Title 5, California Administrative Code. For admission, students must:

Department of Business Administration Requirements

An individual may apply for admission to the EMBA program with or without an academic background in business administration, but must have achieved a 2.50 GPA in the prior 60 semester units (90 quarter units) attempted. Applicants are expected to have a minimum of eight years of professional work experience, including significant management experience, prior to starting the program. Military service can be counted toward professional work experience. Applicants with strong career growth and 5-8 years of professional experience may be requested to take the GMAT or GRE. The department considers the candidate's application, academic background, work experience, interview, and performance on the GMAT or GRE (for those with less than eight years of professional experience) in evaluating high promise of success in the program.

A candidate who is not accepted may appeal to the Graduate Programs Committee for admission reconsideration. Such appeals are not routinely granted.

Business Administration, Minor

The Minor in Business Administration has the following features and requirements:

The Business Minor consists of 5 courses. There are 4 required courses and one elective. The elective course may be any upper-division Business course. A student must meet the prerequisites to be eligible to take the chosen upper-division Business course. The 5 courses are:

1. BUS 230A - Financial Accounting
 2. BUS 344 - Organizational Behavior
 3. BUS 360 - Introduction to Marketing
 4. BUS 370 - Introduction to Managerial Finance
 5. Upper-division Business elective
- The Business Minor must consist of a minimum of 20 units in Business Administration and must be approved by the chair of the Business Administration department.
 - The student must have a minimum GPA of 2.50 in order to apply for the Business Minor.
 - Students must complete a Business Minor Declaration Form and submit it to the Business Administration department office.
 - Students must take BUS 230A in their first semester of business courses and earn a grade of C or better.
 - BUS 344, BUS 360, BUS 370, and the upper-division Business elective must be completed at Sonoma State University.
 - Business Minor students will usually take only one of the above courses per semester. However, students are allowed to take two business courses in one semester subject to seat availability.
 - Students who are eligible to take BUS 344, BUS 360, and BUS 370 , or the elective course must submit a Request to Take an Upper-Division Business Administration Course form to the School of Business and Economics Office. The student will then be given a permission number in order to be allowed to register for the course.
 - Contract courses such as BUS 399, BUS 495 and BUS 499 may not be taken as the Minor elective.

French Language Certificate for Wine Business

The French Language Certificate for Wine Business is an interdisciplinary certificate program designed to enhance the global perspective of undergraduate students in the Wine Business Strategies concentration. The program combines rigorous studies in wine business with proficiency in the French language and familiarity with French culture. The program consists of 26 - 28 total units with 18 - 20 units of Wine Business courses and 8 units of beginning, intermediate, or advanced French language courses. Students must have a concentration in Wine Business Strategies in the Business Administration major in order to pursue this certificate.

Some of the Wine Business courses have prerequisites, so be sure to check the course descriptions in the SSU catalog. Students will meet individually with French faculty for placement in the appropriate level of French language courses. Additional information and the application for the certificate are available on the French Program's website. Students who enroll in the program will choose the level of proficiency they plan to attain, completing at least one year of college-level French at Sonoma State University. For more information about the French Language Certificate for Wine Business please visit: www.sonoma.edu/modlang/french/winebizfrench or contact suzanne.toczyski@sonoma.edu

Required Courses (18-20):

- BUS 305W - Introduction to Wine Business Unit(s): 4

- BUS 367 - Consumer Behavior Unit(s): 4
- BUS 499MK - Internship in Marketing Unit(s): 3-4

Studying Away and Business

Sonoma State University students are encouraged to study away as a part of their academic experience!

Studying away is where a student takes academic courses in another location, either in another state or territory in the United States through the National Student Exchange program, or abroad through various SSU study abroad programs, including CSU International Programs. SSU students can choose from a variety of semester and yearlong study away programs across the globe while taking classes toward graduation and using their financial aid. For more information on programs and locations available, and for information on the application process to study away, students should contact the SSU Global Engagement Office.

Pre-business or other students wishing to declare Business as a major can study away their sophomore year to take Business major pre-requisite courses. Students who have already declared their Business major can take upper-division business courses their junior year. Business majors can study away the Fall semester of their senior year as well, but should keep in mind that they must complete their Business Senior Capstone Course at SSU. Below are two example four-year plans for pre-business/non-declared and business major students to study away while staying on track for graduating in four years.

Freshman Year: 33-34 Units

Avoid Upper-Division GE until junior year. Computer Competency Requirement should be met by the end of the first semester in the sophomore year, and is encouraged to be met in Freshman year for students intending to study away sophomore year. Select a lab with one GE Area B course; select an Ethnic Studies/Critical Race Studies course in GE Areas C, D, or E. Students interested in foreign language immersion study away programs or language minors/double majors should begin taking language courses as soon as possible, and a Freshman Learning Community (FLC) is encouraged. Students should also aim to take the American Institutions (GE Area D) and CA Government (POLS 200 - GE Area D) Overlay Graduation Requirements in their Freshman year.

Fall Semester (16-17 Units)

- ENGL 101 - Expository Writing and Analytical Reading Unit(s): 3
- MATH 131 - Introduction to Finite Mathematics Unit(s): 3
- MATH 161 - Differential and Integral Calculus I Unit(s): 4
- FLC GE Area C2: Arts
- GE Area B1/B2 + B3: Life Science + Laboratory Activity
- GE Area D: Social Sciences Credits

Spring Semester (17 Units)

- ECON 205 - Introduction to Microeconomics Unit(s): 4
- BUS 225 - Legal Environment of Business Unit(s): 4
- FLC GE Area A3: Critical Thinking

- GE Area A1: Oral Communication
- GE Area B (B1 or B2)

Sophomore Year (Studying Away): 33 Units

Computer Competency Requirement should be met by the end of the first semester in the sophomore year. While studying away, students will often have the option to take language and cultural courses. These classes often count as GE courses, particularly Area C2.

Fall Semester (17 Units)

- ECON 204 - Introduction to Macroeconomics Unit(s): 4
- BUS 211 - Business Statistics Unit(s): 4
- MATH 165 - Elementary Applied Statistics Unit(s): 4

Department Chair
Chong-Uk Kim

For faculty information, please see Faculty or the School of Business faculty webpage.

Economics is a social science that focuses on the organization of economic systems for the production of goods and services and the distribution of wealth and income. The SSU Economics

Department is committed to excellence in providing students an education to meet the challenges of the future in a wide variety of careers.

The B.A. degree program has three basic objectives: to provide a sound grasp of the tools of economic analysis and measurement; to provide an understanding of institutional development and the interrelation of economic and social factors; and to develop the student's ability to apply systematic analysis and understanding to decisionmaking in both the private and the public sectors.

Many courses deal with the structure and performance of a particular institution or policy area within the economy. Students can follow their career and intellectual interests by taking these types of courses.

Many faculty have served as practicing economists with public agencies or private firms, bringing a rich background of practical experience analyzing policy issues and problems to their teaching.

Careers in Economics

The curriculum and teaching program of the department are designed for students who seek employment in the public or private sector upon graduation and those who wish to pursue graduate studies in economics, business, public administration, law, and other fields.

Many of the department's graduates have started their careers with major financial institutions, corporate businesses, government, and nonprofit organizations. They find employer preferences for well-trained economics majors as budget analysts, management trainees, marketing specialists, program planners, teachers, and a wide variety of entry-level jobs in which employers expect a person to be able to apply systematic thinking and analysis.

Learning Objectives

Objectives Specific to Economics

Students are required to:

- Articulate an understanding of economic terms, concepts, and theories;
- Identify subjective and objective aspects of economic policy;
- Use both qualitative and quantitative reasoning to analyze social and economic issues; and
- Demonstrate an awareness of current and historic economic issues and perspectives.

General Skills

In the course of meeting the objectives specific to economics, students are expected to acquire and demonstrate:

- Critical-thinking abilities;
- Communication skills; and
- Quantitative and information-based skills.

Relating Knowledge to Values

Students are expected to acquire and demonstrate:

- An awareness of global, historical, and institutional economic issues; and
- Understanding of choices and values behind economic policy formation.

Economics, B.A.

Each of our economic faculty members bring to their teaching a rich background of practical experience analyzing policy issues and problems. This faculty experience, combined with small classes and close relationships to the North Bay economic community, create a unique learning environment for students.

Program Learning Objectives

- Articulate an understanding of economic terms, concepts, and theories.
- Identify subjective and objective aspects of economic policy.
- Use both qualitative and quantitative reasoning to analyze social and economic issues.
- Demonstrate an awareness of current and historic economic issues and perspectives.

Career Possibilities

Economics: Consulting; Research: Local, State and Federal Government Agencies

Banking and Finance: Financial Analysis, Commercial Banking, Credit Analysis, Operations Securities

Insurance: Claims, Underwriting, Risk Management

Sales Management: Person-to-Person and Business-to-Business sales management in all industries

Management: Business and industry

Education: Teaching, Research

(See below for a sample four-year program.)

Degree Requirements

See the "Degree Requirements" in the University Catalog for complete details on general degree requirements.

General Education Requirements (48 units)

See the "General Education Program" requirements in the University Catalog for information on General Education requirements. Some major requirements may double count for GE requirements.

Major Core Requirements

- ECON 204 - Introduction to Macroeconomics Unit(s): 4
- ECON 205 - Introduction to Microeconomics Unit(s): 4
- ECON 217 - Statistics for Economics and Business Unit(s): 4
- ECON 304 - Intermediate Macroeconomic Theory Unit(s): 4
- ECON 305 - Intermediate Microeconomic Theory Unit(s): 4
- ECON 317 - Introduction to Econometrics Unit(s): 4

Units

Total units in the major core: 30-32

Additional Major Courses: 15-16 (Includes upper division major courses, but excludes ECON 496, ECON 497, ECON 499)

Total units in the major: 45-48

Double Majors

Students with majors in disciplines such as business, environmental studies and political science will find that adding an economics major provides them with a breadth of background that is viewed favorably by graduate professional programs and employers. Students interested in any double major with economics should consult with their Economics Department advisor.

Graduate Work in Economics and Related Fields

Economics majors planning graduate work in economics, business, or public administration should take one or more courses of calculus and linear algebra, probability theory, ECON 404, ECON 405 and ECON 417. Consult with an advisor to plan accordingly.

First-Year Advising Guide

Sample Four-Year Program

Total required semester units are 120 and the Four Year Plan is a sample study plan. The sequence and specific courses given are suggestive; please see an advisor each semester to plan your personal program and track your progress using the Academic Requirements Report (ARR) in MySSU.

Some major and GE courses may be interchanged fall and spring semester depending on course offering each semester.

General Education Notes:

- GE Areas A2 and B4 should be completed by the end of the first year. Some students may take year-long courses for GE A2 and/or B4.
- GE Area A1 and A3 should be completed by the end of the second year
- Students should enroll in Upper Division GE courses after completion of Areas A1, A2, A3, and B4 with a C- or better, lower division GE in that area, and 45 units total.
- Not all First-Year Learning Communities (FLC's) meet the same GE areas.
- GE Area D must be taken in two different subject areas across the nine total required units in lower division (LD) and upper division (UD).
- Students must take American Institution requirements in U.S. History and U.S. Constitution/California State and Local Government. These requirements may be met in GE.

Transfer Students: The Junior and Senior year are representative of a two-year plan for transfer students. Please see the department chair to be advised. The chair assigns you an Economics advisor who will help you to plan your personal program.

The mission of the School of Education at Sonoma State University is to advance excellence in the education profession through the professional preparation of teachers and educational leaders. Central to this mission is the offering of exemplary professional education programs based on sound theory and practice, current research, sensitivity to the needs of P-12 education, appreciation for diversity, and respect for all learners. It also includes the School's active role in the social and educational growth of the communities we serve through various partnerships, projects, and initiatives.

The School of Education provides programs for students seeking a B.A. degree, preliminary credentials, certificates and specialist credentials, and graduate degrees.

Undergraduate students can pursue a major or a minor in Early Childhood Studies. These programs prepare students to pursue careers or graduate study in professions that involve work with young children, as well as qualifying them for the California Child Development Permit.

The School of Education offers preliminary teaching credentials in multiple subject (elementary), single subject (middle school/secondary), and special education (Education Specialist: mild/moderate or moderate/severe). Other offerings include Reading and Language added authorization, Early Childhood Special Education added authorization, Bilingual authorization (Spanish), and Administrative Services credential. All credential programs are accredited by the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing.

The School of Education offers an M.A. degree in Education with concentrations in curriculum, teaching, and learning; early childhood education; educational administration; reading; and special education. While School of Education programs are designed primarily for positions in public schools, graduates are prepared to work in non-teaching positions in education or related human service fields in both public and private sectors.

University coursework and field experiences provide rich learning opportunities for our students. In line with our mission of excellence in education, our vision of our graduates is that they:

- Are agents of individual growth and social change as well as models and advocates of the broader intellectual and social values of a democratic society;
- Are knowledgeable and thoughtful about the content and pedagogy in their fields of emphasis;
- Promote social, emotional, and moral growth and learning in their classrooms, schools, and communities;
- Design and engage in inclusive educational practices that respects human differences; and
- Continuously inquire, observe, study and reflect to improve as educators.

Coursework and field experiences in the School of Education emphasize the complex interaction of learning and teaching in the context of the diversity of California schools. Current educational theory and research provide the foundation for course and program offerings, with implications for practice drawn from theory/research and the realities of life in classrooms and schools. All programs provide substantive time for students to student teach, intern teach, or serve as administrative interns in schools. The School of Education works closely with area schools and school districts in a variety of partnerships. School of Education faculty collaborate with faculty in other departments and schools across the University in subject matter preparation, pedagogy, and field experiences. Admissions requirements are informed and regulated by the CSU as well as State and National Accrediting agencies. Prospective students should review the School of Education website regularly for current admissions requirements.

Education, M.A.

Description of M.A. in Education Programs

Sonoma State University's School of Education offers two advanced credential programs and five concentrations within the Master of Arts in Education degree. Each of these programs reflects the philosophy, purpose, and goals of the School of Education. In our M.A. programs, students critically examine educational theories and research through a variety of empirical, theoretical, and cultural lenses to develop an informed educational vision and innovative pedagogy in a variety of educational settings. Students have the opportunity to collaborate with faculty and colleagues to examine and influence current educational practice through research, project development, and advocacy. We expect graduates to emerge from their work at Sonoma State University as leaders in their field and agents of change.

The five M.A. in Education areas of concentration offered at Sonoma State University are:

- Curriculum, Teaching, and Learning (see Department of Curriculum Studies and Secondary Education);
- Early Childhood Education (see Department of Early Childhood Studies);
- Educational Leadership (see Department of Educational Leadership and Special Education);
- Reading and Language (see Department of Literacy Studies and Elementary Education);
- Special Education (see Department of Educational Leadership and Special Education); and Throughout their years in an M.A. program, students are required each semester to meet with the graduate advisor in their area of concentration to plan collaboratively their progress in the M.A. program. Students may also confer with other graduate program faculty and the Director of Graduate Studies for advice and guidance in their coursework and professional development. Students must maintain a 3.00 grade point average in all coursework in the approved M.A. program as well as in all coursework taken subsequent to admission in conditionally classified standing.

For more information about the M.A. in education, read our M.A. handbook.

Prerequisites for the M.A. in Education Program

- A bachelor's degree from an accredited institution;
- A cumulative upper-division and graduate grade point average of at least 3.00 and a grade point average of at least 3.00 for previous work in education; and
- A valid basic teaching credential (except in Curriculum, Teaching, and Learning, Early Childhood Education,

Procedures for Applying to the M.A. in Education Program

1. Apply to the University as a graduate student;
2. Apply to the School of Education; and
3. Submit the following:
 1. A professional goals statement;
 2. One set of official transcripts (note: official transcripts are also needed for the university application);
 3. One photocopy of a valid teaching credential, when required; and
 4. Two current (within 12 months) letters of reference attesting to academic potential and professional promise (except where otherwise noted).

Program Learning Outcomes

1. Students can articulate how the MA coursework has contributed to their personal, intellectual, and professional growth in relationship to the social justice framework of the School of Education.
2. Students demonstrate how their breadth and depth of knowledge about advancing social justice in schools and communities has changed in regard to reading and applying educational research.
3. Students demonstrate their ability to critically analyze multiple historical, philosophical and theoretical perspectives in relationship to issues of educational and social inequities.
4. Students can explain how the MA program has contributed to their understanding of equity and access for all learners.
5. Students can explain how the MA program has contributed to their ability to be an advocate for social justice in education.
6. Students demonstrate the ability to write at a graduate level.
7. Students complete a culminating activity in which they cogently demonstrate:
 - their ability to draw from appropriate and adequate peer-reviewed research
 - connections between their project and their work as an educator
 - the significance of the project to the local educational context

M.A. Core Courses

- EDUC 570 - The Reflective Educator Unit(s): 3
- EDUC 571 - Research Paradigms in Education Unit(s): 3

Pathways to Program Completion

The M.A. program of study requires 30-36 semester units of course work, depending on the M.A. pathway a student selects. There are three pathways to program completion: the thesis/project, cognate, or individualized examination. We encourage students to become knowledgeable about each of the pathways in order to pursue a program of study that meets their professional goals within their preferred style of learning. In all three pathways, graduate students take 18 units in the program area of concentration and at least 6 units (EDUC 570 - The Reflective Educator and EDUC 571 - Research Paradigms in Education) of M.A. core courses. All M.A. students work with a three-member committee, most closely with the committee chair, to complete a culminating activity, which is presented to the committee in a public forum. In addition to these points in common, there are distinct differences among the three pathways to program completion. The graduate advisor and committee chairs work with students individually to help them choose between the thesis, cognate, or individualized exam. PLEASE NOTE: None of the M.A. core courses may be taken through Extended Education.

The Program Portfolio

In order to advance to candidacy, all students must complete a satisfactory program portfolio and present it to their committee. In most cases, this presentation occurs at the same meeting where the student presents a proposal for the culminating activity.

The program portfolio contains artifacts (papers, projects, etc.) produced by the student throughout the M.A. program which demonstrate the student's proficiency and growth in the areas listed below. The portfolio should be reflective in nature and should show personal, professional, and intellectual growth. It should also demonstrate how the student's M.A. program has prepared the student to undertake the culminating activity (thesis/project, cognate project, or individual examination).

In the program portfolio, students are expected to demonstrate:

- Personal, intellectual, and professional growth over the course of the M.A. program;
- Written language proficiency; Breadth and depth of knowledge in educational research;
- Breadth and depth of knowledge in the program area of concentration;
- Critical analysis of multiple historical, philosophical, and theoretical perspectives in education;
- and Evidence of planning toward the completion of the culminating activity (thesis/project, cognate project, or individualized examination).

Requirements for Advancement to Candidacy:

- Completion of M.A. core courses EDUC 570 and EDUC 571, and of M.A. area of concentration courses;

- Presentation and approval of program portfolio;
- Presentation of culminating activity proposal;
- and Filing of Advancement to Candidacy form (GSO 1) with School of Education Director of Graduate Studies.

Requirements for the M.A. Degree in Education M.A. students must complete all requirements as established by the School of Education, the SSU Graduate Studies Council, and the University, to include:

- Completion of an approved program consisting of a minimum of 30 units of upper-division and 500-level courses, as follows:
 - a maximum of 12 units of upper-division courses not more than 9 semester units of transfer and/or extension credit
 - Filing of an Advancement to Candidacy form that verifies approval of the program portfolio, verifies writing proficiency, and describes the culminating project;
 - and Completion and final approval of culminating activity (thesis/project, cognate project, or individualized examination).

All requirements listed above must be completed within seven years (14 semesters) of the initiation of graduate study. Students have three semesters after taking their final course (EDUC 599 or EDUC 572 or EDUC 573) to complete the culminating activity.

Concentrations and Emphasis

Education with a Concentration in Curriculum, Teaching, and Learning (CTL), M.A.

Education with a Concentration in Special Education, M.A.

Education with a Concentration in Early Childhood Education, M.A.

Education with an Emphasis in Reading and Language, M.A.

Pathway in Cognate, M.A.

The cognate pathway is a 36-unit course of study, including 18 units in student's program area of concentration, 9 units of core courses (EDUC 570, EDUC 571, and EDUC 572), and a 9-unit cognate course of study. The cognate course of study is a group of courses which students choose in consultation with a faculty advisor and/or committee chair, which allows students to examine areas of interest related to their M.A. concentration. In order to work with their three-member committee on the cognate project, students must take EDUC 572 (Supervised Study for the Cognate Project) as their final course in the M.A. program.

The cognate project (e.g., professional article, video, website, or field-based product) is a significant undertaking through which students connect their cognate course of study with the M.A. core courses, program concentration, and/or work in the field. The project displays understandings, practices, and theoretical perspectives on the candidate's program area of concentration and cognate course of study. Projects should arise out of candidate's goals and professional interests and may take virtually any form. The project may address, for example, implications of the cognate course of study for the classroom, reflections on new teaching practices, response to scholarly research, or educational theory. A written reflection that includes the theoretical context for the project must be included. Students must present the completed project to their three-member committee in a public forum.

Major Requirements

For students pursuing the cognate pathway, one additional core course is required:

- EDUC 572 - Supervised Study for Cognate Project Unit(s): 3

Pathway in Individualized Examination, M.A.

The individualized examination pathway is a 33-unit course of study, including 18 units in the student's program area of concentration, 9 units of core courses (EDUC 570, EDUC 571, and EDUC 573), and 6 units of elective courses. For the electives, students, in consultation with their faculty advisor and/or committee chair, choose courses which allow them to examine areas of interest related to the M.A. concentration and to focus on the examination area(s) of study that they have chosen. In order to work with their three-member committee as they prepare for the examination, students must take EDUC 573 (Supervised Study for the Individualized Examination) as their final course in the M.A. program.

The individualized examination addresses areas of study identified by the student in consultation with the student's examination committee. The exam is written by the student's committee (a chair plus two other members) and consists of three questions related to the student's area(s) of study, including one question submitted in advance to the committee by the student. When the student is ready to take the examination, he/she receives the questions from the chair and has 72 hours to complete the written examination and return it to the chair. Within two weeks of completing the examination, the student must meet with the committee for an oral examination in which the committee asks follow-up questions for clarification and elaboration.

Major Requirements

For students pursuing the individualized exam pathway, one additional core course is required:

- EDUC 573 - Supervised Study: Individual Exam Unit(s): 3

Pathway in Thesis/Project

The thesis/project pathway is a 30-unit course of study, including 18 units in the student's program area of concentration and 12 units of core courses (EDUC 570, EDUC 571, EDUC 598, and EDUC 599). In order to prepare for the thesis/project, students must take EDUC 598 (Developing a Thesis/Project) and EDUC 599 (Supervised Study for the Thesis/Project) as their final two courses in the M.A. program.

The thesis is a written product of a systematic study of a significant question, problem, or issue in education. The project is a written document describing the development of a significant undertaking appropriate to education. The thesis/project option requires an extensive write-up, including an in-depth literature review. Students must also present their thesis/project to their three-member committee in a public forum. Examples of a thesis investigation include process/product research, co-relational study, action research, ethnographic study, historical study, or theoretical study. Examples of a project include curriculum design, professional development for educators, program design, a performance piece, or a creative project.

Major Requirements

For students pursuing the thesis/project pathway, two additional core courses are required:

- EDUC 598 - Developing a Thesis/Project Unit(s): 3
- EDUC 599 - Supervised Research for Thesis/Project Unit(s): 3

For faculty information, please see Faculty or the Curriculum Studies faculty web page.

The Department of Curriculum Studies and Secondary Education is dedicated to the advancement of excellence in education. CSSE offers an exemplary single subject teacher education preparation program based on sound educational practice, extensive research knowledge, and commitment to the needs of diverse populations. Our faculty is comprised of internationally recognized scholars from a wide variety of subject area disciplines who study and produce current research in teacher education and curriculum studies, and who are familiar with the best practices of teachers. CSSE provides many opportunities for students to be part of a high-quality teaching and learning community.

While most of the programs in CSSE are designed for positions in public schools, students can also receive preparation in our master of arts in Curriculum Teaching and Learning, applicable to a wide variety of non-teaching positions in education, government, the corporate sector, and leadership-based initiatives and programs. The Master of Arts in Curriculum, Teaching, and Learning allows students to design their own program of study (area of emphasis), or select an area of emphasis in educational technology, specifically designed for students interested in technology applications in the public or private sector.

Note: Program requirements change periodically, and current information may not be available in this catalog. For more detailed information on credentials and other education programs, please see the University's special bulletins and the School of Education's current program brochures and policy statements, or visit the Education website.

Education with a Concentration in Curriculum, Teaching, and Learning (CTL), M.A.

The Master of Arts in Education degree program in Curriculum, Teaching, and Learning offers courses of graduate study to prepare candidates for specialized teaching and for curriculum and instructional leadership responsibilities in schools, government agencies, or corporate settings. The program, a minimum of 30 units, provides for areas of concentration in curriculum, teaching, and learning. Students must maintain a 3.00 grade point average in all coursework in the approved master's degree program.

The Curriculum, Teaching, and Learning concentration provides flexibility in program development for a wide range of professional educators, government officials, and private sector employees. Candidates need not possess a teaching credential.

Required Curriculum

The required Curriculum, Teaching, and Learning area concentration courses are:

- EDCT 585 - Curriculum Development: Theory, Practice, and Evaluation Unit(s): 3
- EDCT 586 - Teaching and Learning: Research and Application-Classroom Unit(s): 3

Potential Areas of Emphasis (AREM)

The remaining units are taken in an approved area of emphasis (AREM). The area of emphasis is comprised of 12-16 units that the students must complete as part of the Curriculum, Teaching, and Learning Master of Arts program. The AREM is designed by the student and a Curriculum, Teaching, and Learning faculty advisor. Students may select courses from other education M.A. concentrations or courses in other University schools and departments. A field component may comprise part of the area of emphasis. The AREM must be approved by a faculty advisor before any AREM courses are taken.

Education Technology
Reading and Language
English as a Second Language
Psychology
Kinesiology
History
Critical Theory
Community Education
Leadership

The total number of units in the Curriculum, Teaching, and Learning Master of Arts Program is 30-36 units. All candidates must complete the required master's degree core courses, and all AREM and program courses.

Curriculum, Teaching and Learning Recommended Course Advising Pathway

By following the advising pathway below, students are assured that they will complete the required Curriculum, Teaching, and Learning (CT&L) coursework and take the courses in the sequence required by the program. This pathway assumes that students will take TWO classes per semester. For changes to this pathway, students must see the CT&L advisor. Students may not take an AREM course without an approved AREM.

*Candidates MUST have the thesis/project committee identified and advancement to candidacy approved (i.e. portfolio approved by your thesis/project committee) before enrolling in EDUC 598/EDUC 599, EDUC 572 or EDUC 573. (See the M.A. Graduate Student Handbook for a discussion of the thesis, cognate, and individualized examination pathway options for completing your program)

Single Subject (Secondary Schools) Teaching Credential

The Single Subject credential authorizes the holder to teach a specific subject in a school organized by academic disciplines, kindergarten through grade 12. Since most elementary schools are not departmentalized, this credential, in general, is appropriate for the middle/junior high school and high school (art, music, and physical education candidates may teach K-12). The program aims toward two primary goals: (1) to develop the skills and knowledge needed to be an effective beginning teacher, and (2) to establish the professional understandings and attitudes for growth and development throughout a teaching career.

Coursework combined with the field experience in the program will prepare candidates to be:

- Competent in basic classroom skills.
- Knowledgeable and enthusiastic about students, learning, and teaching.
- Respectful of and knowledgeable about cultural, linguistic, and learning diversity, and informed about practices for teaching all students.
- Continue their development as professional educators. After completion of the Single Subject Credential Program, candidates will be recommended for the Preliminary California Single Subject Teaching Credential in a subject area. Successful completion of the program prepares candidates to teach in California's culturally and linguistically diverse classrooms.

Students may satisfy subject matter requirements by passing the appropriate state approved examinations (CSET), OR by completing California approved Subject Matter program.

The Single Subject Credential Program is a two-semester program that begins in the fall semester only. Credentials are offered in the following areas:

Art

English

Mathematics Music

Physical Education Science

Social Science World Language

The Single Subject Credential Program

Students admitted for the fall semester, who successfully complete all coursework and their final student teaching, will be eligible for the credential in June. Students who wish to take longer than two semesters to complete the credential program may extend their program to four semesters. More information regarding the extended program may be obtained from the Single Subject program advisor at (707) 664-3176.

Single Subject program courses required for each phase are listed below. Prerequisite courses and all Phase I courses must be satisfactorily completed prior to beginning Phase II.

Program Prerequisite Courses

- EDUC 417 - School and Society Unit(s): 3
- EDSS 418 - Development in Adolescence and Emerging Adulthood Unit(s): 3

Teaching Performance Assessment

A teaching performance assessment (TPA) is required for all those seeking a single subject teaching credential in California. EdTPA is the teaching performance assessment used by the SSU Single Subject Program. This assessment is comprised of a teaching event that is an extended documentation of a segment of student teaching. It is the capstone performance assessment that integrates learning throughout the teacher education program. It includes samples of teaching that are videotaped and analyzed by the student. It is structured in sections corresponding to developing a context for learners, planning, teaching, assessing, academic language, and reflecting on teaching. A subject matter expert scores the teaching event. The teaching event takes place in Phase II (student teaching) of the program. All students must pass the EdTPA to receive a teaching credential.

Single Subject Intern Program

Verification of employment. To be Awarded a Teaching Credential, all Interns Must: Pass the EdTPA to receive a teaching credential. Successfully complete the Single Subject Intern Program.

The Department of Early Childhood Studies offers a major in Early Childhood Studies, a minor in Early Childhood Studies and a Master of Arts in education with concentration in Early Childhood Education. Students may also use early childhood education courses to satisfy requirements for the Child Development Permit for teachers of California state-funded preschool and after-school programs.

Child Development Permit

The California Child Development Permit is issued by the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing (CCTC). The following SSU courses can be applied to the Permit. Please speak with an Early Childhood Studies advisor for more information about how to apply for the Child Development Permit.

Permit Course Work

Applicants for the Child Development Permit must complete 15 units of coursework from the following categories. Please see an Early Childhood advisor for more information.

Child Growth and Development

- EDEC 110 - Understanding Development: Birth through Adolescence Unit(s): 3
- EDEC 532 - Social and Emotional Development Unit(s): 3
- EDEC 538 - Children's Thinking and STEM Experiences Unit(s): 3
- PSY 302 - Life Span Development Unit(s): 3
- PSY 410 - Child Development Unit(s): 3-4

Child, Family, and Community

- EDEC 270 - Families and Children in Diverse Societies Unit(s): 4
- EDEC 450 - Empowerment and Equity for Children and Families Unit(s): 3
- PSY 418 - The Psychology of Family Unit(s): 3-4
- SOCI 345 - Sociology of Families Unit(s): 4

- PSY 411 - Child Psychopathology Unit(s): 4
- PSY 448 - Cognitive Development Unit(s): 4

Supervised Field Experience

Each of the courses in this category is a 4-unit course that includes three units of content and one unit of supervised fieldwork. All three courses must be completed in order to meet the 3-unit supervised fieldwork requirement for the permit.

- EDEC 220 - Child Observation with Field Experience Unit(s): 4
- EDEC 237 - Early Childhood Curriculum with Field Experience Unit(s): 4
- EDEC 437 - Integrated Curriculum with Field Experience Unit(s): 4

Early Childhood Development Concentration

Program Learning Outcomes

1. Students apply their understanding of child development theories and research to effectively promote child growth, health, and learning in ways that are equitable and socially just.
2. Students analyze and reflect on components for building just and reciprocal family and community relationships in their work with young children.
3. Students practice ethical assessment that is developmentally appropriate, culturally sustaining, and linguistically responsive to support the positive growth and development of children; they communicate these findings effectively and professionally.
4. Students analyze and reflect on developmentally appropriate, culturally and linguistically sustaining, and socially just practices that promote and protect the development and health of children and their families. These practices align with professional standards in fields such as social work, mental health, child life, and early care and education.
5. Students exhibit the following knowledge, skills, and dispositions: understanding and upholding ethical, equitable, and professional standards; engaging in continuous, collaborative learning to inform practice; accessing professional resources; integrating informed and critical perspectives into their work with young children; and engaging in informed advocacy to promote anti-racist and just practices in programs that serve young children and their families.
6. Students observe and practice their developing skills in different kinds of programs that support children and families.

Sample Four-Year Program

Early Childhood Development, B.A.

The Four year Plan is a sample study plan. The sequence and specific courses given are suggestive; please track your progress using the Academic Requirements Report (ARR) in your MySSU Account, and see an advisor each semester to plan your personal program.

Courses may be interchanged fall and spring semester depending on course offering each semester.

We strongly recommend that you take a second-year experience course. Some meet a GE area, or they can count as a university elective. ECS students especially like EDEC 160, which is a university elective.

* We strongly recommend that you take EDEC 160A and EDEC 160B, the First-Year Learning Community (FLC) for Early Childhood Studies. Other FLCs may be taken; please check your ARR and work with an advisor to determine how another FLC changes your progress in the General Education program.

†Lower Division GE Courses may be taken in any order. However, the following two conditions must be met: GE Areas A2 and B4 must be completed in the first year, and GE Areas A1 and A3 must be completed by the end of the second year.

‡Upper division GE courses may be taken in any order after you attain 45 units towards the degree.

§Upper division courses in the major may be taken in any order, except that EDEC 478 should be taken in the same semester that you graduate.

Transfer Students:

Work with an advisor to understand how your courses transfer into the major. If you are missing lower division requirements in the major, make those a priority before enrolling in upper division major requirements.

Early Childhood Education Certificate

This program is on hiatus and will not be offered in the 2021-22 academic year.

Designed for working professionals, the ECE Certificate is a 12-unit, one-year fully online program created to provide essential professional development for early childhood education providers and program directors, transitional kindergarten teachers, and early elementary teachers. The Certificate qualifies students for the Site Supervisor California Child Development Permit (and all levels below), as well as meets the new ECE requirements for transitional kindergarten teachers. (Please note: the Certificate does not qualify holders to teach in special education classrooms.)

This Summer-start, Special Sessions program is a partnership between the School of Education and the School of Extended & International Education (SEIE). As a self-support program, unique, separate fees are charged on a per-unit basis for all courses required for this program. These fees are set annually by the SSU President. Information about fees, admission requirements, and student support services is available through SEIE. Academic criteria for the program are determined in accordance with all applicable SSU and CSU policies. Certificates are awarded by the School of Education.

Learning Outcomes

Students use advanced theory and research to develop teaching strategies and curriculum for existing work settings or in approved field sites. Students will

- Extend their understanding of children's characteristics and needs and the multiple interacting influences on children's development and learning
- Create environments that are healthy, respectful, supportive, and challenging for each child
- Recognize the importance of and complex characteristics of children's families and communities; foster respectful, reciprocal relationships that support and empower families and engage them in their children's development and learning
- Understand the goals, benefits, and uses of assessment; use effective assessment strategies in partnership with families and other professionals to positively influence the development of every child
- Design, implement, and evaluate a meaningful, challenging curriculum that promotes comprehensive developmental and learning outcomes for every young child.

Requirements for Admission

Prospective students must have the following:

- A Bachelor's degree in any subject, completed no later than the Fall semester previous to admission;
- A GPA of at least 2.75 (B-) over the last 60 units;
- At least one 3-unit course on child development theory and milestones at a 3.0 (B) or better; and
- Regular access to high-speed internet service and webcam capability
- Ability to work in an online environment

Requirements for Certificate

All certificate courses must be completed with a C or better. Students who complete the ECE Certificate and who subsequently accepted into the SSU program leading to a Master's degree in Early Childhood Education may apply the Certificate courses EDEC 531, EDEC 532, and EDEC 538 towards partial fulfillment of the requirements for that program. To be accepted for this purpose, these classes must be completed with a grade of B or better. Please note there is a seven-year limit on coursework that can be counted for a Master's degree, so plan accordingly.

Students wishing to use these units toward other Master's programs should consult with their target institution.

4. Students observe, analyze, design, and reflect on developmentally appropriate and socially and environmentally just curricula and environments. These culturally and linguistically sustaining curricula and environments align with state early learning standards for children in programs serving infants, toddlers, preschoolers, and TK-3 students.
5. Students exhibit the following knowledge, skills, and dispositions: understanding and upholding ethical, equitable, and professional standards; engaging in continuous, collaborative learning to inform practice; accessing professional resources; integrating informed and critical perspectives into their work with young children; and engaging in informed advocacy to promote anti-racist and just practices in programs that serve young children and their families.

Early Childhood Education, M.A.

The Master of Arts in Early Childhood Education is designed to prepare leaders for programs serving all children between infancy and eight years of age. The purpose of this 36-credit online program is to provide candidates with a conceptual framework and the skills, knowledge, and attitudes that will enable them to be visionary and reflective leaders and agents of change for the field. They work effectively in their roles as program leaders, administrators, and advocates focused on advancing social justice, educational equity and access for all.

While the focus is on the development of leadership skills, the program also includes coursework in advanced child development and learning, curriculum and pedagogy, and culturally responsive practices with young children and their families. The culminating activity is a research-based project or product of practical use in their own settings.

Students collaborate with faculty and colleagues to examine and influence current educational practice through research, project development, and advocacy. Students need not possess a teaching credential or child development permit; they may prepare for leadership and advocacy positions in a variety of settings.

Students must maintain a 3.00 grade point average or better in all coursework while in the approved M.A. program as well as in all coursework taken subsequent to admission in conditionally classified standing. The total number of units required for the program is 36, not including a prerequisite three-credit course in child development (ages birth-to-eight or birth-to-twelve).

For more information about the M.A. in Early Childhood Education, contact the Early Childhood Education Program Advisor, Dr. Charles Elster at charles.elster@sonoma.edu.

Admission Requirements

The general requirements for admission to graduate and post-baccalaureate studies at a California State University campus are in accordance with university regulations as well as the California Code of Regulations. Specifically, a student shall:

- have completed a four-year college course of study and hold an acceptable baccalaureate degree from an institution accredited by a regional accrediting association, or shall have completed equivalent academic preparation as determined by appropriate campus authorities;

- be in good academic standing at the last college or university attended;
- have attained a grade point average of ≥ 2.50 (A=4.00) in the last 60 semester (90 quarter) units attempted; and
- satisfactorily meet the professional, personal, scholastic, and other standards for graduate study, including qualifying examinations, as appropriate campus authorities may prescribe.

In unusual circumstances, exceptions may be made to these criteria.

Applicants who completed undergraduate degree requirements and graduated the preceding term are also required to complete and submit an application and a $55 nonrefundable application fee. Further, to be considered for admissions, students must have completed and been awarded their undergraduate degree by the end of the spring term for fall applicants and by the end of the fall term for spring applicants.

Applicants must also meet program-specific requirements. Criteria include:

- B.A. or B.S., preferably in early childhood or related field;
- One official transcript from each college or university attended;
- GPA of ≥ 3.0 cumulative upper division/graduate coursework;
- One 3-unit college-level course in child development (Birth-to-age 8 or age 12)
- At least 45 verifiable hours of teaching/volunteering in an early childhood setting
- Two (2) letters of recommendation (not more than a year old)
- A completed MA-ECE Application Form;
- A narrative statement of approximately 750 words, in which you answer the questions listed in the application;
- Documentation of Admission or Application to Sonoma State University;

After the application has been received, an in-person or video conference interview may be required before the admission decision is made.

Please note that applicants to the MA-ECE program is dependent on acceptance to Sonoma State University. Please complete the graduate application for admission to Sonoma State University at CALSTATE APPLY.

Application Period. Applications are for the Fall Semester only and are accepted Oct 1st – Jan 31st, unless otherwise noted. For more information and the Early Childhood Education Masters application, visit the Early Childhood Studies How to Apply page.

Program Learning Outcomes

Program Learning Outcomes describe what graduates should be able to do after completing the program. These measures highlight the knowledge, skills, and dispositions all students are expected to have upon graduating from a specific program.

PLO 1: Child Development and Learning. Graduates use knowledge of development and learning as a foundation by which to effectively meet the needs of children, families, children, programs, and communities. (Blooms Cognitive "Applying" domain)

PLO 2: Families, Culture and Inclusivity. Graduates create partnerships designed to foster high quality, culturally responsive, inclusive, and just programs for young children and their families. (Blooms Cognitive "Creating" domain)

PLO 3: Curriculum and Pedagogy. Curriculum and Pedagogy. Graduates evaluate program and practitioner use of developmentally and culturally appropriate practices to ensure that curriculum, pedagogical practices, and program policies reflect current family and community change over time, and positively influence the development and learning of each and every child. (Blooms Cognitive "Evaluating" domain). (Blooms Cognitive "Evaluating" domain)

PLO 4: Visionary Leadership for Social Justice. Graduates demonstrate through their work and actions their commitment to ethical and professional practices and socially just policies and programs for young children and their families. Blooms Affective "Internalizing Values" Domain)

PLO 5: Program Administration and Supervision. Graduates identify as critically reflective and caring early childhood program administrators and supervisors who advance social justice and educational equity and access. (Blooms Affective "Organization" Domain)

PLO 6: Policy and Advocacy. Graduates design and implement advocacy strategies and policies for young children, their families and communities. (Blooms Cognitive "Creating" Domain)

PLO 7: Research Paradigms. Graduates summarize current research to inform and guide practices and projects designed to meet community need. (Blooms Cognitive "Analyzing" domain)

Early Childhood Studies Integrated Teacher Education Program- Special Education

There is a critical need for special education teachers in California and across the nation. With the Early Childhood Studies Integrated Teacher Education program in Special Education (ECS ITEP-SE), you have the opportunity to complete a bachelor's degree in Early Childhood Studies and a credential in Special Education in one, intensive four-year program.

The ECS ITEP-SE program is offered by the Department of Early Childhood Studies and the Department of Educational Leadership and Special Education in the School of Education. The mission of the Early Childhood Studies department is to prepare knowledgeable and caring professionals who are committed to contributing to a just society through high-quality education and social services for all children and families. The mission of the Education Specialist credential programs is the advancement of excellence within the special education profession. Combined, these two departments offer you a strong foundation in developmental principles and the specific skills you need to support students with disabilities in achieving their goals.

Candidates in the ECS ITEP-SE concentration take all general education requirements and core courses in the ECS core curriculum. Students transferring from a community college with an AAT in Child Development will also be able to complete the degree and credential within four years. Students who change majors or transfer with a different major may still declare ECS ITEP-SE, but the program will take longer to complete.

During the Sophomore year, students interested in the ECS ITEP-SE must apply for admission to and meet all pre-requisites for the Preliminary Education Specialist Program. Credential courses are taken beginning in the Junior year.

Program Learning Outcomes

PLOs are from the California Standards for the Teaching Profession (CSTPs) and the Teacher Performance Expectations (TPEs) that all teacher preparation programs are expected to meet. "Student" refers to children grades PK-age 22.

TPE 1: Engaging and Supporting All Students in Learning

TPE 2: Creating and Maintaining Effective Environments for Student Learning

TPE 3: Understanding and Organizing Subject Matter for Student Learning

TPE 4: Planning Instruction and Designing Learning Experiences for All Students

TPE 5: Assessing Student Learning

TPE 6: Developing as a Professional Educator

Program Road Maps

Sample Four-Year Plan for Bachelor of Arts in Integrated Teacher Education Program in Special Education Concentration

Notes for ITEP-Education Specialist Concentration:

The Four year Plan is a sample study plan. The sequence and specific courses given are suggestive; please track your progress using the Academic Requirements Report (ARR) in your MySSU Account, and see an advisor each semester to plan your personal program.

We strongly recommend that you take a second-year experience course. Some meet a GE area, or they can count as a university elective. ECS students especially like EDEC 260, which is a university elective.

* We strongly recommend that you take EDEC 160A and EDEC 160B, the First-Year Learning Community (FLC) for Early Childhood Studies. Other FLCs may be taken; please check your ARR and work with an advisor to determine how another FLC changes your progress in the General Education program.

†Lower Division GE Courses may be taken in any order. However, the following two conditions must be met: GE Areas A2 and B4 must be completed in the first year, and GE Areas A1 and A3 must be completed by the end of the second year.

‡Upper division GE courses may be taken in any order after you attain 45 units towards the degree.

Transfer Students:

Work with an advisor to understand how your courses transfer into the major. If you are missing lower division requirements in the major, make those a priority before enrolling in upper division major requirements.

Meet with the ITEP advisor during orientation so that you can apply to the Education Specialist credential program.

Early Childhood Studies, B.A.

The Bachelor of Arts Degree in Early Childhood Studies is designed to provide graduates with the knowledge, skills, and dispositions needed to work effectively with children in early childhood (birth to age 8). Students study multi-disciplinary theories, research, and best practices, with an emphasis on socio-cultural factors that affect learning and development. They learn how to use theories and research from anthropology, child development, education, health, psychology, sociology, and multicultural studies to promote the cognitive, social, emotional, and physical development of diverse young children. Students study the science of assessing children's growth and development, and they acquire skills in effectively communicating these findings to families and community partners. The program also prepares professionals to be leaders and advocates on behalf of all children and families.

Concentrations

When students declare a major in Early Childhood Studies, they must choose a concentration. Concentration options include:

- Early Childhood Education Concentration
- Early Childhood Development Concentration
- Early Childhood Studies Integrated Teacher Education Program-Special Education (mild/moderate)
- Early Childhood Studies Integrated Teacher Education Program-Special Education (moderate/severe)

Students who are interested in the ITEP Education Specialist concentrations should see the program description for the Early Childhood Studies Integrated Teacher Education Program-Special Education.

Early Childhood Education

The Early Childhood Education concentration prepares students for a career in an early education setting, including:

- Infant, toddler, and preschool teacher
- Administrator of an early education program
- Support services in agencies that serve young children and families
- Elementary teacher (requires completion of a post-baccalaureate Multiple Subject credential program)
- Special Education teacher (requires completion of a post-baccalaureate Special Education credential program)

Early Childhood Development

The Early Childhood Development concentration prepares students for a career working with young children and families in non-education settings. Students work with an advisor to prepare for a career in entry-level positions in social services or for graduate school in counseling, social work, child life specialist, etc.

Admission Requirements

For admissions to the major, students must have a GPA of 2.5.

Goals of the Early Childhood Studies Major

The goals of the Early Childhood Studies major are aligned with the mission of the SSU School of Education and the mission of the Department of Early Childhood Studies. The Early Childhood program seeks to prepare graduates who:

1. Are agents of individual growth and social change as well as models and advocates of the broader intellectual and social values of a democratic society.
2. Are knowledgeable and thoughtful about the field of early childhood studies.
3. Promote physical, cognitive, linguistic, social, emotional, and moral growth and learning in their professional work with young children, as well as respecting and encouraging the contributions of families and caregivers in the care and education of children and youth.
4. Design and carry out inclusive practices that respect human differences and aim to include all children and families.
5. Continually use inquiry, observation, study, and reflection to improve their professional practices.

Degree Requirements

See the "Degree Requirements" in the University Catalog for complete details on general degree requirements.

General Education Requirements (48 units)

See the "General Education Program" requirements in the University Catalog for information on General Education requirements. Some major requirements may double count for GE requirements.

Early Childhood Studies, Minor

The minor in Early Childhood Studies gives students from any major at Sonoma State University a concentration in the study of early childhood development and learning. This minor is useful for students interested in pursuing careers involving work with young children from birth through age eight in fields such as Education, Counseling, Social Work, Nursing, and others. For a minor in Early Childhood Studies, students must take five upper-division core courses in Early Childhood Education (18 units) and an additional six units of elective courses, for a total of 24 units. Complete information about the requirements for the minor and application packets may be found online at www.sonoma.edu/education/ecs/index.html

Program Course Work

The Early Childhood Studies Minor requires 24 units of coursework: 18 units of core courses and 6 units of electives. Please work with the Early Childhood Studies minor advisor to choose electives that will best meet your career plans.

Core Courses

- EDEC 110 - Understanding Development: Birth through Adolescence Unit(s): 3

Education with a Concentration in Early Childhood Education, M.A.

The Early Childhood Education concentration of the Master of Arts in Education degree is designed to prepare teachers to work in school and community-based programs that serve children from infancy through third grade (ages birth to age eight), and to take leadership roles in the field of early childhood education.

Required coursework focuses on advanced study of development in cognition, language, physical ability, morality, and social and emotional skills; work with diverse families and young children; and improvement of classroom curriculum and assessment from infancy through the primary grades. A basic course in child development and 45 hours of experience working with children in educational settings are prerequisites for admission to the program. Complete information about the program is available online at www.sonoma.edu/education/ecs/index.html.

Note: Pending approval, this program will be replaced with a new, online program in January 2023. At that time, students in this program will have the option to finish this program or switch to the new program.

Department Overview

The Department of Educational Leadership and Special Education exists to provide state-of-the-art professional preparation for educators in the fields of educational administration and special education. The core values of the department center upon a dedication to educational excellence as a pivotal contributor to social progress. Indices of this notion of excellence include a view of schools as a crucible for an effective democracy, societal inclusivity, respect for differences in students, and an unflinching concentration on educational efficacy.

The faculty is comprised of teachers, administrators, scholars, researchers, and program developers who possess wide and varied experience. The faculty, having won wide recognition and numerous educational awards and honors, are dedicated to preparing educators with the knowledge, skills, and ethical commitment to improve society through powerful and effective schools.

The credential and M.A. programs, described below, offer a full complement of courses and fieldwork for students to achieve a Preliminary and Clear Education Specialist in Special Education and the Preliminary Administrative Services Credentials. Masters of Arts degrees are also offered in conjunction with these programs. Both traditional and intern programs exist. Courses are scheduled in the late afternoon, evenings, on Saturdays, and some are partially delivered online, in order to accommodate practicing educators.

Students in the Department of Educational Leadership and Special Education may expect to encounter programs that present cutting-edge information and skills, delivered by an expert, committed faculty, and scheduled for maximum access. Moreover, students can expect to be afforded respect, dignity, and professionally courteous treatment and be asked to provide similar regard to faculty and to one another.

Note: Since some specific program requirements change periodically, both via mandates of the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing and University-based modifications, prospective students are advised to consult the School of Education's Credential Office for updates on program details and policy statements and to visit the education website.

The Education Specialist (special education) credentials are offered in the area of mild/moderate and moderate/severe disabilities and authorize the holder to provide services in K-22 inclusion programs, resource specialist program classes (RSP), special day classes (SDC), or other related fields, including work with adults with disabilities. At the completion of the educational specialist credential programs, candidates will have met the requirements to teach students who have autism or are English learners. The Clear credential may be earned at SSU in place of a Beginning Teacher Support and Assessment (BTSA) program.

The Credential Preliminary Administrative Service prepares graduates for positions of leadership in P-12 educational institutions. M.A. in education programs are designed with both full-time and part-time students in mind. Some master's degree programs may be taken concurrently with advanced credential programs. Note: Program requirements change periodically, and current information may not be available in this catalog. For more detailed information on credentials and other education programs, please see the University's special bulletins and the School of Education's current program brochures and policy statements or visit the education website.

Administrative Service Credentials

The Administrative Services Credential program was designed collaboratively with school districts to prepare graduates for positions of leadership in P-12 educational settings. The Credential authorizes the holder to serve as a vice principal, principal, coordinator, program director, superintendent, or in other district or county level positions. The Intern Credential authorizes individuals to serve in administrative positions while completing the approved Preliminary program of study. Areas of competence addressed in each program are developmental and expand upon prior learning and experiences included in each level of preparation. Throughout all programs, participants progress from concrete applications of what is being studied to more advanced applications of theory into practice that call for the critique and redefinition of one's knowledge base. Likewise, throughout the programs, multiple learning opportunities including field experiences are provided that emphasize the acquisition of personal awareness and personal reflection about leadership.

Preliminary Administrative Services Credential

The Preliminary Administrative Services Credential program focuses on entry-level skills for effective administration with particular emphasis on the responsibilities of school site administrators. The program is 30 semester units and can be completed in one year of intensive study. The classes are offered on a cohort basis in a face-to-face, hybrid, online model.

Requirements for Admission for Preliminary Administrative Services Credential

1. General admission requirements for advanced credential programs (application, transcripts, etc.)
2. Verify five years of appropriate full-time experience on school or district letterhead (noting inclusive dates, level, and responsibilities) authorized by a teaching or services credential;
3. Secure favorable recommendations from two school administrators or other school leaders indicating possession of administrative and leadership potential;
4. Submit a Personal Statement of Interest (see application for criteria);
5. Submit evidence of successful passage of CBEST before or within the first semester of program course work;
6. Attend a program admissions interview and/or submit an application, including a statement of professional goals; and
7. Two copies of valid clear teaching or service credential.

Internship Program In Educational Administration

Candidates to be employed immediately may enter the program as an administrative intern at any point in the calendar year as long as there is a supporting educational agency request.

Candidates enrolled as interns complete the same coursework as Preliminary Administrative Services Credential candidates; however, the fieldwork is modified to suit the needs of an intern.

PASC I/Intern Program Course of Study

The program is usually completed in two semesters; however, candidates can extend the time needed for program completion by meeting with an advisor and customizing the program to meet individual needs. Typically candidates who do not have an M.A. go on to complete the M.A. in education with emphasis in education leadership.

Clear Education Specialist Credential

After a candidate has completed a Preliminary Education Specialist Credential, which permits employment as a special education teacher, he or she must complete a Professional Credential Program (Induction) within five years of the date of issuance of the Preliminary Credential. A single induction program will clear all preliminary education specialist credentials at one time (mild-moderate, moderate-severe.). Candidates may choose to complete Clear Induction through BTSA or a university based program.

A valid Preliminary Education Specialist Credential is a prerequisite to this program. However, holding a teaching position is not a requirement for entering an Induction program, nor for clearing a preliminary credential. Candidates will need field experience with students with disabilities to be able to complete induction requirements.

Candidates will be able to apply for the Clear Education Specialist Credential through the Credentials Office at the end of a one-year, 12 unit program.

The SSU Clear Induction program aligns with our Master's Degree in Education with an emphasis in Special Education.

Please note that our Clear Induction program admits candidates during the Fall term only.

Coursework for Clear Induction

Total units for Clear Education Specialist Credential: 12

Electives

Each candidate will also take 6 units of coursework that reflect his or her own interests for professional development. A menu of options is offered to candidates to advance expertise and to become a more knowledgeable, reflective and effective special education teacher. These courses may not have been taken as part of a previous credential program. Additional options may be considered on an individual basis (e.g., independent study about transition programs). The Education Specialist Clear Credential Coordinator will advise and evaluate the menu of options in consultation with the beginning teacher and district support provider.

Candidates may also choose to complete a Non University Based Activity (NUBA) to complete a portion of the Induction Program (see description below).

Non-University Activities

As part of our CCTC approved course of study, Clear Induction candidates may choose to waive specific course elements via approved Non University Based Activities.

Early Childhood Special Education Added Authorization

Authorized by the Commission on Teacher Credentialing, the Early Childhood Special Education Added Authorization (ECSE_AA) may be appended to a preliminary or Clear Education Specialist (Mild-Moderate or Moderate-Severe Specialization) Credential. The ECSE_AA prepares teachers to deliver high quality school or in-home services to young children with disabilities (birth-5) and to their families. The added authorization is designed to meet California requirements for teaching special education in early childhood settings.

Prerequisites

Candidate must be eligible for or hold a Preliminary or Clear Education Specialist (Mild-Moderate or Moderate-Severe specialization) Credential. A 3.0 GPA during the credential program is also required.

Required Courses (12 units total)

- EDSP 522A - Family Partnerships in Early Childhood Special Education Unit(s): 3
- EDSP 522B - Early Intervention Program Fieldwork Unit(s): 1
- EDSP 523A - Assessment and Instruction in Early Childhood Special Education Unit(s): 1
- EDSP 523B - Preschool Students with Disabilities Program Fieldwork Unit(s): 1

Education Specialist Intern Program

The Education Specialist Intern Program at Sonoma State University is a partnership with the North Coast School of Education's (NCSOE) Intern Support and Supervision program, a state approved university-based program. This program allows the intern to complete the requirements for a Preliminary Education Specialist (ES) credential concurrent with their first year or two in a paid special education teaching position. The program includes coursework at the university, university supervision in the K-age 22 classroom, a district support provider, and special support seminars provided by Intern Support and Supervision Program. Completion of an internship program results in the same credential as is earned through the traditional teacher preparation program.

To qualify for an internship program, an individual must:

- Be formally admitted to the university and the ES program;
- Possess a bachelor's degree;

- Satisfy the U.S. Constitution requirement;
- Have a job offer as a special education teacher;
- Successfully complete the Intern Application Evaluation which includes approval from the Special Education Program faculty and the School of Education Credential Analyst; and
- Meet Pre-Service Requirements.

The Intern Application Evaluation form verifies that these requirements have been met and is available online at www.sonoma.edu/education/else/preliminary-education/es-internship.html or in the School of Education.

Interns are bound by the same program requirements, policies and procedures as all ES candidates except for the student teaching requirement. Instead of student teaching in the final semester of the program, which is typical in the ES credential program, interns are provided with university supervision in their K- age 22 classrooms throughout their internship, typically ranging between two and three semesters. Supervision includes candidates attending the intern or PIP/STP seminar (EDSP 480 or EDSP 481) where they meet with their supervisor and other interns to discuss their classrooms while bridging theory and practice, gathering suggestions and support, and discussing topics that are applicable to their current teaching situations. (Note that EDSP 480, support for candidates on PIP or STP teaching permits are NOT intern teachers. Becoming an intern requires meeting additional requirements).

Because of the increased responsibilities that an internship demands, interns are not allowed to take more than 12 units each semester. This sometimes alters an ES candidate's original program plan, delaying completion of the credential program by one or two semesters. The intern credential is valid for up to two years, provided the intern continues to be enrolled in university classes and employed as a special education teacher. It is important that the intern completes both the university course work and all statutory requirements before the intern credential expires. Interns who do not hold a previous multiple or single subject credential must also pass the Reading Instruction Competence Assessment (RICA) as part of their statutory requirements.

Employment Verification

Employment must be verified by a letter of employment, on official letterhead from the employing school or district, verifying the date employment began, the type of assignment and location, and whether it is a full time or part time position (if it is part time the letter needs to specify the percentage of time you will be working).

Intern Application Interview

The Intern Coordinator conducts the intern application interview. The interview evaluates the candidate's academic achievement, progress, professional dispositions and responsibilities.

Please note: eligibility and admissions requirements to the Intern Program are subject to change. Please contact the Intern Advisor for current eligibility and admissions requirements.

Education with a Concentration in Educational Leadership, M.A.

The objective of the M.A. degree program with concentration in educational leadership is to provide a strong academic foundation for competent administrative practice. The program is 30-36 semester units inclusive of course requirements for the Preliminary or Clear program.

The M.A. degree with an emphasis in educational leadership is built upon the M.A. core curriculum of the School of Education. Candidates may refer to the previous section on requirements for the M.A. Degree in education for a complete description of the Master of Arts program.

Education with a Concentration in Special Education, M.A.

The Master of Arts in Education (M.A.) with a concentration in Special Education provides advanced academic study for persons working with or on behalf of individuals with disabilities. Candidates who possess a valid teaching credential may pursue this degree. Candidates from related disciplines may pursue this advanced degree with consent from the Department of Educational Leadership and Special Education.

Candidates must apply and be admitted both to the University and to the M.A. in Education-Special Education Concentration program in order to pursue this degree. The course of study (described below) includes the M.A. core curriculum (12-19 units) and relevant elective course work (units vary). Candidates will select one of the following pathway options for completing their M.A. course of study:

Thesis/Project option (30 units)

Cognate option (36 units)

Individualized Examination option (33 units)

Special Education Concentration with Induction (12 units)

- EDSP 513 - Current and Emerging Research and Practice in Special Education Unit(s): 3

Special Education Concentration (12 units)

- EDSP 502 - Advanced Pedagogy in SPED Unit(s): 3
- EDSP 513 - Current and Emerging Research and Practice in Special Education Unit(s): 3
- EDSP 515 - Advanced Legal Issues in Special Education Unit(s): 3
- EDSP 590 - Critical Issues in Special Education Unit(s): 3

Electives

Candidates have the opportunity to seek breadth or depth in a related area of study through completion of elective courses. The number of elective units needed to complete the M.A. requirements varies depending upon the culminating option selected. Elective coursework may be drawn from other graduate programs in the School of Education or other departments at Sonoma State University, such as psychology, counseling, kinesiology, or others. These courses are selected with the advice and approval of the M.A. special education advisors.

Advising

All M.A. candidates within the special education concentration will be assigned to a special education faculty advisor for the purpose of developing an individualized program of study. Electives will be determined in consideration with the advisor, in an effort to provide a broader program of study that responds to varying student interests.

Preliminary Education Specialist Credential in Mild/Moderate Support Needs (MMSN) or Extensive Support Needs (ESN)

The mission of the Education Specialist Program is the advancement of excellence within the special education profession. Central to this mission is the crafting of special education preparation programs that reflect evidence-based practice, empirical support, as well as values founded in respect for the dignity, educational progress and improved lives of learners with disabilities. The core values of our program center upon educational and social success as dynamic contributors to quality lives for students with disabilities.

A Preliminary Education Specialist Credential Program is offered in the areas of mild-moderate support needs (MMSN) and extensive support needs (ESN), authorizing the provision of services to individuals in grades K- age 22 in inclusion programs, resource specialist program (RSP) settings, special day classes (SDC), and working with adults. Each credential authorizes the teaching of individuals with many federally defined disabilities, including autism, as well as the teaching of students who are English learners. The emphasis on the level of support an individual needs to be self-determined is what differentiates the MMSN from the ESN. Teachers with an MMSN credential may expect to teach individuals with a range of abilities in academic, social, behavioral, and functional skills. The ESN credential prepares teachers to work with students whose disabilities require more intensive support and assistance to live independently.

Each semester of the Preliminary Education Specialist Credential Program includes a fieldwork component in a local K-22 school setting. School-based practice is a vital part of learning to be an effective special educator.

Successful completion of and recommendation for the Preliminary Education Specialist authorizes the candidate to seek employment as a special educator. The Preliminary Education Specialist Credential holder must clear the credential through a Clear Induction program.

Programs Offered

California Multiple Subject Teaching Credential (Basic generalist teaching authorization typical for elementary teachers, though also appropriate for middle and high school teachers working in self-contained classrooms, teaching most or all subjects)

California Reading and Literacy Added Authorization (RLAA)- (Tier 1 advanced authorization for teachers pursuing roles working with students who experience difficulties with reading, supporting classroom teachers, and assessing and monitoring student progress)

California Added Bilingual Authorization (BILA) in Spanish (Added Authorization for teachers who are proficient in English and Spanish and who want to work in bilingual/ dual-language/dual-immersion settings, tk-12. This is an added authorization that can be pursued concurrently with a multiple subject, single subject, or special education credential. It can also be pursued after the preliminary credential has been obtained.)

Master of Arts in Education with an Emphasis in Reading and Language Education (Graduate degree for tk-12 grade teachers who seek advanced understanding in literacy & language education, biliteracy, assessment and teaching, and curriculum development. Many teachers in the reading and language emphasis within the MA program become reading intervention teachers, curriculum specialists, literacy coaches, etc.)

The Department of Literacy Studies and Elementary Education is committed to meeting the needs of California students in Transitional Kindergarten through upper elementary and beyond through its work with prospective and in-service teachers. Our Multiple Subject Teaching Credential Program offers a robust professional preparation for initial licensure. Our RLAA and Reading concentration within the MA (Education) Program, grounded in both theory and practice, are designed to meet the needs of teachers at all levels interested in advanced studies in literacy education. Our added bilingual authorization (BILA) program focuses upon the research, theory, and practice related to working with emergent bilinguals and dual-language learners in both English and Spanish. Upon completing our practice-based programs, our teacher candidates and teachers will have both breadth and depth of knowledge about teaching and learning and will be capable of making informed decisions in diverse settings.

The University and school districts within our service area view teacher education as a shared responsibility. The diversity of California's school population including culture, social class, gender, language, and race is a significant focus of our coursework and field experiences. Through coursework, the University provides opportunities to study and investigate sound, research-based approaches to teaching, learning, assessment, and curriculum while our school partners provide the classrooms for field experiences including student teaching. Collaboration between University-based teacher educators and school district teachers provides a strong foundation for the programmatic goal of excellence in the service of California's students.

Note: Program requirements change periodically, and current information may not be available in this catalog. For more detailed information on credentials and other education programs please see the University's special bulletins and the School of Education's current program brochures and policy statements, or visit the Education website.

The Department of Literacy Studies and Elementary Education offers two graduate programs to support in-depth exploration of language development, literacy learning, and teaching. The programs feature hands-on experiences that are immediately applicable in the classroom. Some of our students earn an added state license and go on to pursue a master's degree either immediately or shortly thereafter. The MA degree and the RLAA may be pursued concurrently.

The Reading and Language Added Authorization is dedicated to excellence in the preparation of teachers and the on-going professional development of practicing teachers in the areas of bilingual/dual-language education, and reading and language arts education. Our programs are based on sound educational practice, current research knowledge, sensitivity to the needs of TK-12 education, appreciation for diversity, and respect for all learners.

M.A. in Education programs are designed with both full-time and part-time students in mind. Our master's degree programs may be taken concurrently with the RLAA.

Bilingual Authorization (Spanish)

This is an added bilingual authorization program in Spanish accredited by California Commission on Teacher Credentialing (CTC). The added bilingual authorization can be added onto any California teaching credential (multiple subjects, single subjects, education specialist). At Sonoma State, there are two pathways to add the bilingual authorization:

(1) Undergraduate/Integrated: This pathway is suggested for students who are CALS/SPAN majors/minors as many of the required courses for the authorization overlap with major/minor requirements

(2) Post-baccalaureate/Accelerated: This pathway is recommended for undergraduate students who are not CALS/SPAN majors/minors or for post-baccalaureate credential students who are pursuing the authorization concurrently with a preliminary credential.

Regardless of pathway, all students take a series of courses in Spanish, Chicano & Latino Studies, and Education in order to meet the language, culture, and bilingual methods standards required by CTC.

Undergraduate/Integrated Program Pathway

- CALS 219 - The Latino Experience Unit(s): 3
- CALS 445 - Chicano/Latino History Unit(s): 4
- EDMS 465 - Introduction to Dual-Language Education: Policies, Methods, and Inquiry for Teachers Unit(s): 3
- SPAN 300 - Advanced Spanish Language Unit(s): 4
- SPAN 300H - Advanced Spanish Language for Native/Heritage Speakers Unit(s): 4
- SPAN 301 - Advanced Composition and Conversation Unit(s): 4
- SPAN 304 - Introduction to Spanish Linguistics Unit(s): 4
- SPAN 427 - Spanish Teaching Methodologies Unit(s): 4

Accelerated/ Post-baccalaureate Program Pathway

- CALS 456 - Sociology of Education/Latinos and Education Unit(s): 4
- EDMS 465 - Introduction to Dual-Language Education: Policies, Methods, and Inquiry for Teachers Unit(s): 3

Total Units Required

California Multiple Subject Teaching Credential

- California Multiple Subject Teaching Credential (Basic generalist teaching authorization typical for elementary teachers, though also appropriate for middle and high school teachers working in self-contained classrooms, teaching most or all subjects)

This credential authorizes the holder to teach in a self-contained classroom, TK through grade 12 plus adults. It is most frequently used for teaching in elementary classrooms and early childhood settings. The Multiple Subject Credential Program is a two or three semester program with additional prerequisites required.

The Multiple Subject Program is based on the belief that learning to teach requires building a professional knowledge base honed by practice in varied classroom settings. Thus, our curriculum integrates course work with field study in order to develop practical theory and to promote collaboration between the University and the public schools.

The Multiple Subject emphasis prepares candidates to teach in self-contained classrooms with significant populations of students who are emergent bilinguals (i.e. "English learners") in grades TK-12. This program prepares candidates to provide instruction for language development and subject matter content in English. Because self-contained classes are located primarily in elementary schools, professional course work and field experiences focus on elementary classrooms.

Multiple Subject Program Courses

The Department of Literacy Studies and Elementary Education, provides professional preparation for aspiring teachers in California public schools. The design of Sonoma State University's Multiple Subject Professional Teacher Preparation Program is based on models of learning, human development, and interaction supported by current policy, research, and practice. The program is developmental and sequential.

Prerequisites and Corequisite

The prerequisites are offered every semester and must be taken prior to admissions unless student is in a preapproved SSU undergraduate program.

- EDUC 417 - School and Society Unit(s): 3
- EDMS 419 - Identity and Agency for Socially Just Classrooms and Communities Unit(s): 3

Phase I

All Phase 1 courses require admission to the Multiple Subject Program or Special Education Program, or special permission for pursuit of MA or additional teaching credential *Note EDMS 463, EDMS 474, and EDMS 475 are variable unit courses to accommodate candidates in other credential programs. Multiple Subject credential candidates (only) in blended or integrated program may register for EDMS 475 for 3 units according to their program requirements. All Multiple Subject Candidates must register for EDMS 463 and EDMS 474 for 4 units.

- EDMS 476S - Multiple Subject Credential Phase 1 Seminar Unit(s): 2
- EDMS 474 - Teaching Mathematics in the Elementary School Unit(s): 3-4
- EDMS 475 - Teaching Science and Visual and Performing Arts in the Elementary School Unit(s): 3-4
- EDSP 430 - Introduction to Special Education Unit(s): 3

- EDMS 464 - Teaching Language and Literacy in the Elementary School Grades 3-6 Unit(s): 4
- EDMS 482P - Part-Time Student Teaching Unit(s): 3

Phase II

*Note: EDMS 463 is a variable unit course to accommodate candidates in other credential programs. All Multiple Subject Candidates must register for EDMS 463 for 4 units.

- EDMS 463 - Teaching Language and Literacy in the Elementary School Grades TK-2 Unit(s): 3-4
- EDMS 464 - Teaching Language and Literacy in the Elementary School Grades 3-6 Unit(s): 4
- EDMS 471 - Teaching Social Studies in the Elementary School Unit(s): 4
- EDMS 482F - Full-Time Student Teaching Unit(s): 10
- EDMS 482S - Student Teaching Seminar Unit(s): 2

Field Experiences in the Multiple Subject Program

The primary goal of the Multiple Subject Program is to prepare candidates to teach successfully in California's public schools. This requires both a theoretical basis for teaching and learning and a practical understanding of children, classrooms, curriculum, schools, and the society in which they all operate. For this reason, all of the curriculum courses have been designed to include significant field experiences in schools. In each phase, field experiences are coordinated with one or more academic courses to help establish the relationships between the theories and practices learned at the University and the realities of classroom life. Involvement in the schools culminates in full-time student teaching during the last phase of the credential program.

Collaboration for Renewal of Education (CORE): Professional Development Through Teacher Preparation

Our model of teacher preparation, Collaboration for the Renewal of Education (CORE), goes beyond that of a traditional student teaching placement. CORE has grown out of a rich history with roots in the clinical observation, peer coaching, and team models of professional development. CORE draws from this background and incorporates the best characteristics from these models. CORE is purposely structured to give equal voice to all participants, to honor all participants as lifelong learners, and to view all stake holders as co-teachers. The model attempts to breakdown the stereotypes of the ivory tower and to bridge the gap between public school and university educators. Simply stated, everyone is an expert in areas of strength and everyone has something to learn. The Multiple Subject Program has developed a flexible organization for teacher preparation that acknowledges the contribution made to candidates' teacher preparation by public school teachers and administrators. The program purposefully builds in time to meet with mentors at the CORE site, to hear what they are thinking, to implement their ideas into the program, and to learn together. Note, It is not typical for university faculty to commit to spending one day a week in a public school for the purpose of supervising student teachers. That the LSEE faculty eagerly participates in this experience is evidence of the value placed on this aspect of the Multiple Subject Program.

CORE School Sites

The LSEE department has developed a variety of CORE sites in the SSU service area. CORE sites are established in Sonoma County (e.g., Cotati/Rohnert Park, Petaluma, Santa Rosa, Penngrove, Sebastopol, Sonoma), and Marin County (Novato).

Overview of Field Experiences

There are two components of supervised fieldwork in Sonoma State University's Multiple Subject Credential Program, occurring in the first and second phases. These field experiences take place in a school that has been selected as a University/Public School CORE Collaboration Site. During these field experiences, the credential candidates are supervised by both a University faculty member and a mentor teacher who has met specific criteria for selection and who meets with University faculty regularly each semester. Those who opt to complete the program in more than two semesters, the FLEX students, will complete these supervised classroom experiences during their last two semesters. During the two semesters that candidates are placed at a CORE site, they are expected to experience the full range of teaching that one is likely to meet as a salaried teacher: candidates are expected to teach connected reading and language arts lessons, connected hands-on math and science lessons, and culturally relevant multicultural social studies lessons. Candidates are expected to have experience working with individual students, small groups, and whole class instruction. Candidates are expected to prepare curriculum plans that reflect an understanding of first and second language learners' needs and demonstrate sound methodologies and strategies. Candidates are expected to design and carry out curriculum for all learners including those with special needs such as special education students and the students who are gifted, or those who are progressing at a higher rate than is typical. Candidates are expected to use the methodologies, curriculum, and strategies that introduce thematic teaching to help students make connections across subject areas. Candidates are expected to contribute to the building of community in the classroom and their curriculum should reflect sound multicultural principles.

Teaching Performance Assessment

A teaching performance assessment (CalTPA) is required for all those seeking a multiple subject teaching credential. This assessment is comprised of a teaching event that is an extended documentation of a segment of student teaching. It is the capstone performance assessment that integrates learning throughout the teacher education program. It includes lessons that are video-recorded and analyzed by the student teacher. It is structured in sections that focus on contexts for learning, students as learners, planning, teaching, assessing, academic language, and reflecting on teaching. A subject matter expert scores the two cycles. The submissions are supported in Phase 2 of the program. All students must pass their CalTPA to be recommended for a teaching credential.

Education with an Emphasis in Reading and Language, M.A.

Master of Arts in Education with an emphasis in Reading and Language Education
The Reading and Language concentration is designed to prepare teachers for specialized teaching of reading and language arts and for curriculum and instructional leadership in the field of language and literacy. Required course work focuses on the nature of literacy development and the improvement of classroom curriculum, and methods that emphasize the relationship of reading to other language and concept learning. Teachers, administrators, and curriculum specialists in all areas are encouraged to take elective courses in the graduate program to increase their knowledge of literacy.

The mission of the School of Extended and International Education (SEIE) is to support and complement the overarching institutional goals of Sonoma State University. The rapidly-changing educational needs of lifelong learners have focused the mission of Extended Education on these critical elements of SSU's future: the development of sustainable infrastructure and an inventory of relevant programs that serve and support the needs of the diverse SSU student population; the enhancement of collaborative relationships with local communities, the surrounding region and around the world to foster educational, social, cultural, and economic development; expanding SSU's participation in the international sphere; and the generation of revenue sources to support the academic partners of (SEIE) and help mitigate the impacts of reduced state funding for higher education.

EXCEL: a unique summer enrichment program for young people in grades 4-9, offering a variety of academic, technical, and creative classes to augment traditional offerings during the school year.

Osher Lifelong Learning Institute (OLLI): a program of intellectually stimulating courses taught by distinguished emeritus faculty and regional experts for people ages 50 or older.

Sonoma State American Language Institute (SSALI): an intensive English Language program that prepares international students and foreign residents for successful academic study and careers.

Semester at Sonoma: a program that allows international students to study at SSU for one or two semesters using an F-1 visa. Students may take undergraduate or graduate courses and earn credits to transfer towards their home university degree.

Wine Business Institute: a series of professional development short courses pertaining to the wine industry under the auspices of the Wine Business Program in the School of Business and Economics.

Contract Credit: contract credit may be earned for professional development programs; and conferences offered by an organization that meet specific university guidelines.

Online Career Training Certificates and Courses: online self-paced, non-credit courses to enhance professional, technical, or personal development.

Degree Programs

Liberal Studies (Saturday Degree Completion), B.A. : A hybrid seminar-style degree completion program designed for working adults based at the Sonoma State University campus.

Liberal Studies (Napa, Solano) B.A. : A degree completion program for the adult re-entry student based at the Napa Valley College Main Campus and the Vallejo Center of Solano Community College.

Liberal Studies (Marin) B.A. : A degree completion program for the adult re-entry student based at College of Marin.

Business Administration (Marin) B.S. : A degree program with a concentration in Management designed for working adults based at College of Marin.

Business Administration (Solano) B.S. : A degree program with a concentration in Management designed for working adults based at the Vallejo Center of Solano Community College.

Business Administration (Lake) B.S. : A degree program with a concentration in Management designed for working adults based at both the Lake Center of Mendocino College and the Lake County Campus of Woodland Community College.

Organization Development, M.A. : A graduate degree for working professionals to create more effective human systems and organizational structures to successfully lead business and community.

Spanish, M.A. : A graduate program in Spanish language, literatures, and cultures offered over three summers based at Sonoma State University.

Computer and Engineering Science, M.S. : A Professional Science Master's program built on a strong foundation of advanced coursework in Physics, Mathematics, Computer Science, and Electrical Engineering.

Executive Master of Business Administration, MBA : An internationally accredited cohort-style executive program focused on developing strategic decision-making and communication skills designed for the seasoned business leader.

Family Nurse Practitioner, Post-Master's Certificate : A two-year intensive program features hybrid classes and a clinical practicum that meet all criteria for national certification as a Family Nurse Practitioner.

Coursework is offered each semester that fulfills continuing education requirements for counselors, social workers, nurses, and attorneys.

Summer Session

Summer Session offers University credit coursework that counts toward graduation.

Winter Intersession

Intensive courses during the break between semesters that count towards graduation.

Open University

Through Open University, students may enroll without formal admission in state-support courses offered at the University. Students are encouraged whenever possible to apply for acceptance into the state support program, but Open University may be available to those for whom such enrollment is not possible or appropriate, such as:

- High school juniors and seniors;
- Professionals seeking to upgrade skills, maintain licenses, or make career changes;
- Those with personal interest in a particular subject who have no degree objective; and
- Those interested in exploring college coursework before committing themselves to a degree program.

Per-unit registration fees are the same for in-state and out-of-state residents. Up to 24 units of academic credit taken through Open University may be applied toward a bachelor's degree, and up to 9 units may be applied toward a master's degree at the discretion of the program.

See Open University for registration information.

Nursing Transition into Practice

School of Extended and International Education

Business Administration with a Concentration in Management, B.S., (SRJC, Petaluma)

Admissions to this program have been suspended for the 2021-2022 academic year.

Sonoma State University partners with Santa Rosa Junior College (SRJC), Petaluma, via the Schools of Business and Economics and Extended & International Education, to provide a pathway for students to earn a B.S. in Business Administration with a concentration in Management.

The program is accredited by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB) and is designed specifically for students with work, family or other commitments who are not able to join traditional Business degree programs on the main SSU campus in Rohnert Park.

The total program to be offered at the SRJC, Petaluma campus, consists of 57 units: 48 in the major plus 9 units of upper-division general education. Time to completion depends on many factors; advising will be available before and during the program to develop individual completion plans.

- remaining lower-division general education
- remaining electives
- how many units can comfortably be taken in a semester, depending on individual work and family commitments
- whether a student is able to take Summer or Winter Intersession courses at Sonoma State

The program is designed to be completed in two years at 12 units per semester if a student has 60 units at transfer, has completed all lower-division GE and is able to take Summer/Winter Intersession. We estimate that part-time students taking 8 units per semester will take about three years to finish their requirements.

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the program, students should be able to:

1. Demonstrate general business problem-solving skills
2. Employ ethical reasoning
3. Apply global perspectives
4. Interpret quantitative applications
5. Demonstrate written communication skills
6. Show oral communication skills

Upper Division Business Administration Core Courses

All Business Administration students must complete the following seven upper-division core courses:

- BUS 316 - Operations and Supply Chain Management Unit(s): 4
- BUS 319 - Introduction to MIS Unit(s): 4
- BUS 320 - Business Data Analysis and Interpretation Unit(s): 4
- BUS 344 - Organizational Behavior Unit(s): 4
- BUS 360 - Introduction to Marketing Unit(s): 4
- BUS 370 - Introduction to Managerial Finance Unit(s): 4
- BUS 391 - Cross-cultural Communication and Negotiation Unit(s): 4

Management Concentration Coursework

Management Concentration Core Classes

- BUS 340 - Survey of Human Resource Management Unit(s): 4
- BUS 350 - Management Unit(s): 4
- BUS 452 - Leadership Unit(s): 4

Management Concentration Elective Classes

Program faculty will select two additional courses from the following list to complete the Concentration:

- BUS 391 - Cross-cultural Communication and Negotiation Unit(s): 4
- BUS 393 - Introduction to International Business Unit(s): 4
- BUS 451 - Entrepreneurship / Small Business Management Unit(s): 4
- BUS 453 - Small Business Analysis Unit(s): 4

Internships

After students have completed two Management Concentration courses, students may substitute an Internship (BUS 499MG) for one of the Concentration Elective courses. See the School of Business & Economics Internship website for details.

- Internships must be paid.
- Internships must be completed in the semester of registration. No retroactive Internships will be approved.
- Each Internship should represent about 180 hours of hands-on experience (12 hours/week).
- Existing jobs do not qualify; you must work in a different department or a different organization.
- To locate internship opportunities, you may search the School of Business and Economics Internship Program site above, or you can visit the SSU Career Services site.
- Students cannot register for BUS 499MG online; they require prior approval from the SBE Internship Director, Dr. Kyuho Lee.
- Your approved Internship Agreement form must be submitted to SEIE along with a paper registration form, no later than the deadline specified for Special Studies each semester.

Upper Division General Education

Students who have reached upper-division standing (60 or more CSU-transferable semester units) are required to take 9 units of upper-division general education coursework across two categories of the Sonoma State GE pattern, as described in the Sonoma State catalog. Courses fulfilling this requirement will either be included as part of the class selection available in Fall and Spring semesters, or students will be pointed to convenient opportunities, such as online courses offered in Summer or Winter Intersession.

Graduation Writing Assessment Requirement (GWAR)

The Graduation Writing Assessment Requirement is intended to ensure that all students graduating from a California State University have acquired the writing skills necessary for competent written communication. At Sonoma State University, there are two ways students may complete the GWAR: either by passing a Writing Intensive Course (WIC), or by passing the Written English Proficiency Test (WEPT). When possible, Writing Intensive Courses will be chosen for upper-division general education course offerings in the program.

Family Nurse Practitioner, Post-Master's Certificate

The certificate option is a 36-unit course of study designed for registered nurses who hold a master's degree in nursing who wish to become family nurse practitioners. The application process for the program is through Cal State Apply.

Curriculum Plan

Family Nurse Practitioner Post Master's Certificate

Year 1: 21 Units

Maker Educator Certificate

Organization Development, M.A.

Applications are not being accepted for this program at this time.

Program Overview

The M.A. in Organization Development (MAOD) prepares students to create more effective human systems, and to gain the practical skills, conceptual knowledge, and field-tested experience to successfully lead business and community improvement efforts.

This program is designed to accommodate the working professional: mid-career individuals preparing to become leaders and specialists in organizational change, process improvement, and human systems redesign. It is appropriate both for senior leaders seeking to become more effective in their work, and anyone who would benefit from greater personal and professional effectiveness in their life and work.

Program Learning Outcomes

The MA Program in Organization Development provides professional preparation for mid-career individuals interested in understanding and developing more effective and sane organizations. In four semesters, participants explore concepts of leadership and self-development, group dynamics, organizational culture, systemic change. Practical skills, conceptual knowledge, and field-tested experiences successfully leading to organization improvement efforts are at the heart of the program.

The program focus and format are based on the awareness that our increasingly turbulent business, technology, and socio-economic environments are creating serious challenges for most organizations. To respond appropriately to these challenges, organizations must become more cost-effective, innovative, resourceful, and adaptive. This calls for leaders and specialists who have a new set of skills.

Units

Total Units in Major: 40

Requirements for the Major

The MAOD is a cohort-based program consisting of 40 units taken over two academic years. Classes are held on Monday and Wednesday evenings and some Saturdays. Students will participate in seminar discussions, skill-building activities, and extensive field projects under the guidance and supervision of experienced faculty. Completion of a practicum and the development and completion of a Master's Culminating Project are also required.

Students are required to complete their first and second semesters in immediate succession with a GPA of 3.0.

Career Opportunities

MAOD graduates work as internal OD and HR professionals, or as external OD consultants. Graduates are enabled to lead their organizations as more effective change agents.

Application to Program

The criteria for acceptance into the MA Organization Development program are:

- A four-year B.A. or B.S. degree from a regionally-accredited institution, awarded no later than the Spring semester or quarter before enrollment.
- A grade point average of at least 3.0 (B) over the most recent 60 semester (90 quarter) units of coursework.

- Experience in organizations: Foundational knowledge of issues and concepts encountered in business and human behavior, as learned from first-hand experience.
- Academic grounding in both business and psychology, as demonstrated by successfully completed graduate or undergraduate coursework and/or degrees previously awarded. On a case-by-case basis, this requirement may be fulfilled by a directed reading assignment during the summer, enrollment in pre-requisite coursework, or in other ways. Applicants are encouraged to consult with the MAOD directors about what might be appropriate for them.
- An acceptable level of competence in oral and written communication. This will be demonstrated by: (a) A written statement about the student's background, relevant work experience, and specific goals to be achieved from the program; (b) Individual and group interviews during the admissions process; and (c) A recent example of the applicant's academic or professional writing.

School of Science and Technology

The curriculum offered in the School of Science and Technology meets the professional needs of students planning a career in natural or physical sciences, mathematics and statistics, nursing, kinesiology, electrical engineering and computer science. The school's dedicated faculty and staff of professional scientists, mathematicians and health professionals are proud of the education they provide and of the accomplishments of their students. The school values faculty-student interaction, much of which is cultivated in small majors courses and a rich hands-on curriculum.

Graduates of the School of Science and Technology have established excellent records; some have earned national awards, many have earned advanced degrees, and all are poised to meet the workforce needs of our state in science, technology, healthcare, education, engineering, and many other high-demand fields. Students interested in the health professions may enroll in any of the science departments to complete their undergraduate work. Sonoma State pre-health students' success rates in entering medical schools are well above national averages. The school, in collaboration with the School of Education, provides an excellent preparation for future mathematics and science teachers at the elementary and secondary level.

The School of Science and Technology also serves the needs of students in the schools of Arts and Humanities, Social Sciences, Business and Economics, and Education. Students with career goals in fields such as business, management, law, and urban planning may find courses in mathematics, statistics, or computing essential to their future. In addition, the School of Science and Technology offers a rich selection of studies that can enhance a student's entire life. Courses in kinesiology, astronomy, biology, geology, electrical engineering and computer science can provide a basis for lifelong pursuits and enrichment.

The three master's programs in biology, computer and engineering science, and nursing provide graduate students with a wide variety of opportunities ranging from research to clinical studies. Many of the nursing graduate courses are delivered by distance learning methods and a significant number of scientists and engineers from our local high tech industry participate in exciting graduate and undergraduate research activities in the school.

The School of Science and Technology is home to several respected programs and organizations including the Center for Environmental inquiry, the Education and Public Outreach group, the Summer High School Internship Program, the Mathematics, Engineering, Science Achievement (MESA) program and the Lewis Stokes Alliance for Minority Participation program. Millions of dollars have been invested in the school's laboratories and undergraduate and graduate students use these facilities including the Keck Microanalysis Lab, the SSU Makerspace, over 4,000 acres of nature preserves and other technological instrumentation to carry out their own experiments on their way to fulfilling their educational goals.

The Department of Biology offers a dynamic learning environment, exciting research and training opportunities, and intensive mentoring of students at all levels. Our faculty members are dedicated educators and active scholars who engage in primary research to address diverse topics in the biological sciences. The overall mission of our undergraduate and graduate programs is to educate the next generation of scholars, professionals, and citizens so that they are prepared to meet the biological, environmental, and technological challenges of the future.

Students in the Department of Biology may select from two broadly based Bachelor's degree programs or a Master of Science degree. Within the Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science program, students can select a more focused concentration.

The educational and research activities in the department explore the full range of biology, including molecular and cell biology, physiology, marine biology, microbiology, genetics, ecology, conservation biology, evolutionary biology, and zoology.

Laboratory instruction includes use of modern facilities to provide students with valuable hands-on experience in the latest techniques and research methods. Excellent laboratory and greenhouse facilities exist for maintaining live material for education and research. Resources include microscopy and core genetics facilities.

Field courses draw upon the unparalleled diversity of habitats in the North Bay region. They also capitalize on two spectacular nature preserves: Fairfield Osborn Preserve and Galbreath Wildlands Preserve, administered by Sonoma State University. In addition, the department maintains museum collections of local plants, (North Coast Herbarium of California), vertebrates (Jack Arnold Vertebrate Collection) insects, and other invertebrates.

The Master's program is comprised of an active cohort of graduate students engaged in primary research with faculty members. External funding sources often support graduate student research. Graduate student support includes teaching associate positions that involve close mentoring relationships with instructional faculty.

Careers in Biology

The biology curriculum, supported by physical sciences and mathematics, is designed to provide students with a strong background in the principles of biology and their application to current research questions and biological resource management challenges. This combination of breadth and in-depth instruction allows students to develop the intellectual foundations, skills and flexibility needed to deal with the specific biological concerns of today and future needs of the profession.

Biology graduates enter careers in many areas including health care, biological and biotechnology research, education, agency positions in parks, recreation, conservation and restoration. Graduates from the department have an outstanding record of acceptance in graduate programs.

Biology Degree Plans

The B.A. and B.S. plans share a common lower- and upper-division core, which allows beginning students to select an optional degree plan after the first or second year. Students seeking B.A. may select the Zoology concentration, while those seeking a B.S. may select one of the four concentrations. Students should contact the department and their assigned advisor for additional advice concerning how to complete the requirements for various concentrations.

Program Learning Outcomes

Students that graduate with a BA in Biology from Sonoma State University will:

- Demonstrate proficiency in quantitative and analytical tools.
- Demonstrate an understanding of the critical role of evidence-based hypotheses testing.
- Have a deep awareness of structure-function relationships and emergent properties at various scales.
- Demonstrate an understanding of the integrative nature of biology.

Degree Requirements

See the "Degree Requirements" in the University Catalog for complete details on general degree requirements.

General Education Requirements (48 units)

See the "General Education Program" requirements in the University Catalog for information on General Education requirements. Some major requirements may double count for GE requirements.

Sample Four-Year Programs

The Four year Plan is a sample study plan. The sequence and specific courses given are suggestive; please see an advisor each semester to plan your personal program and track your progress using the Academic Requirements Report (ARR) in MYSSU.

Courses may be interchanged fall and spring semester depending on course offering each semester.

General Education Notes:

- GE Areas A2 and B4 should be completed by the end of the first year. Some students may take year-long courses for GE A2 and/or B4.
- GE Area A1 and A3 should be completed by the end of the second year
- Students should enroll in Upper Division GE courses after completion of Areas A1, A2, A3, and B4 with a C- or better, lower division GE in that area, and 45 units total.
- Not all First-Year Learning Communities (FLC's) meet the same GE areas.
- GE Area D must be taken in two different subject areas across the nine total required units in lower division (LD) and upper division (UD).
- Students must take American Institution requirements in U.S. History and U.S. Constitution/California State and Local Government. These requirements may be met in GE.

Program Learning Outcomes

Students that graduate with a BS in Biology from Sonoma State University will:

- Demonstrate proficiency in quantitative and analytical tools
- Demonstrate an understanding of the critical role of evidence-based hypotheses testing
- Have a deep awareness of structure-function relationships and emergent properties at various scales
- Demonstrate an understanding of the integrative nature of biology

Preparation for Applying to Health Professions Programs

Students majoring in biology and intending to pursue careers in the health care professions may follow the guidelines for a B.S. degree or a B.A. degree. For additional information see a Health Professions Advisor for the Health Professions Advisory Program in this catalog.

Degree Requirements

See the "Degree Requirements" in the University Catalog for complete details on general degree requirements.

General Education Requirements (48 units)

See the "General Education Program" requirements in the University Catalog for information on General Education requirements. Some major requirements may double count for GE requirements.

Restrictions

1. A maximum of 4 units taken in the Cr/NC grading mode may be applied to the major from the following courses: BIOL 390, BIOL 498, BIOL 499. All other courses in the Biology major must be taken in the traditional grading mode (A-F).
2. A maximum of 7 units from the following list of courses may be applied to the major:
 - BIOL 494 - Independent Research Unit(s): 1-3
 - BIOL 495 - Special Studies Unit(s): 1-4
 - BIOL 496A - Honors Thesis I Unit(s): 1-2
 - BIOL 496B - Honors Thesis II Unit(s): 2-3
 - BIOL 498 - Biology Practicum Unit(s): 1-4
 - BIOL 499 - Internship in Biology Unit(s): 1-4

- BIOL 390 - Biology Colloquium Unit(s): 1
- BIOL 393 - Independent Study in Biology Unit(s): 1-3

- BIOL 496B - Honors Thesis II Unit(s): 2-3

Major Electives

Choose 24 units of upper division biology electives in consultation with department advisor.

Upper-Division Biology Electives

Major electives are used to meet the total upper-division unit requirement for the B.A. or B.S. Major electives are chosen from the following:

1. Additional upper division courses in a concentration.
2. Any Biology course numbered greater than 321 (except BIOL 398). This list is subject to revision following this catalog edition. Students should check with their academic advisor for updates. Seniors may also take graduate courses (500 level) with permission of the instructor.

3. Supervisory courses in biology. These courses are: BIOL 393, BIOL 494, BIOL 495, BIOL 496A, BIOL 496B, BIOL 498, and BIOL 499 (see Restrictions below for unit limits for these courses).
4. Biology colloquium, BIOL 390, may be taken twice (2 units total) for major credit.
5. One course from the approved list of courses related to biology from other departments. To apply the course to the major, students must obtain written permission from their advisor and the Biology Department chair by completing an academic requirements report- update form (available from the department office). List of approved courses in this category from other departments are:
 - ANTH 412 - Human Osteology Unit(s): 4
 - ANTH 414 - Observing Primate Behavior Unit(s): 4
 - ANTH 301 - Human Fossils and Evolution Unit(s): 4
 - ANTH 302 - The Evolution of Males and Females Unit(s): 4
 - CHEM 445 - Structural Biochemistry Unit(s): 3
 - CHEM 446 - Metabolic Biochemistry Unit(s): 3
 - GEP 340 - Applied Ecology Unit(s): 3
 - GEP 343 - Biogeography Unit(s): 4
 - GEOL 313 - Paleontology Unit(s): 4

Biology, M.S.

The Master of Science degree in the Department of Biology is a thesis based program. Students complete 30 units of course work, which may include classroom courses in addition to mentor-supervised research units, to master the concepts and techniques in their chosen area. They also conduct original research under the direction of a member of the graduate faculty and write up their findings as a Master's Thesis.

Graduate students in the Department of Biology are supported through a variety of sources. The Department has a limited number of paid teaching associate positions available each semester. The University offers a limited number of tuition fee waivers for qualified teaching associates. In addition, students may receive research associate positions through their faculty mentor's research grants. Students can also obtain academic scholarships and financial aid.

Faculty in the Biology Graduate Program are actively involved in research in a wide range of disciplines, including ecology and restoration ecology, evolutionary biology, molecular and cell biology, biochemistry, physiology, microbiology, functional morphology, marine biology, and primatology.

Graduates find themselves with an enhanced understanding of biology and first-hand experience in the practice of science. Many M.S. students go on to doctoral programs; others pursue careers in teaching, research, environmental consulting, resource management, industry and health care professions.

Admission to the Program

Complete application instructions are available on the Biology Department website.

Admission to the program requires:

- I. Meeting California State University admission requirements.
- II. Acceptance by a biology graduate faculty member to serve as a faculty advisor. Students should contact their potential faculty advisor prior to completing an application and refer to this communication in the Statement of Purpose.
- III. Approval of the Graduate Committee. Applications will be reviewed for evidence that the prospective student is capable of initiating and performing original research. Applicants deficient in undergraduate course preparation will be expected to demonstrate competency before being advanced to candidacy. As a general guideline, the Department of Biology uses the following criteria to determine this potential:
 - IV. An undergraduate degree in biology or related field. The following course guidelines will also be used to determine admission, including:
 - A. One course in calculus or statistics;
 - B. One year of general chemistry and one semester of organic chemistry;
 - C. At least one other course in physical sciences;
 - D. Upper-division coursework demonstrating competence in three of four core areas (organismal biology; physiology; molecular or cellular biology; ecology or evolutionary biology);
 - E. GPA of 3.00 or higher in the last 60 units;
 - F. Evidence in letters of recommendation of potential for conducting independent and original research in biology.

Admission requirements, policies, and other information related to the Master's degree program in Biology

Program Learning Outcomes

Students that graduate with a MS in Biology from Sonoma State University will:

- Demonstrate a strong knowledge base in their sub-discipline of biology
- Display critical thinking
- Demonstrate a mastery of research approaches
- Have effective written and oral communication skills

Biology, Minor

The minor consists of a minimum of 20 units in the Department of Biology. The purpose of the minor is to provide a student with a rigorous background in biology that supplements the student's major. Students must develop a program in consultation with a faculty advisor in the Biology Department. Requirements of the Biology Minor are:

Two lower-division courses: 8 units

- BIOL 130 - Introductory Cell Biology and Genetics Unit(s): 4
- BIOL 131 - Biological Diversity and Ecology Unit(s): 4

Upper division courses in Biology: 12 units

At least eight of the upper division units must be courses for majors in the Department of Biology at SSU, with at least one of these a 4-unit course with a laboratory. One unit of Biology Colloquium (BIOL 390) may also be applied. All courses applied to the minor must be taken for a letter grade, except BIOL 390.

Chemistry is the study of matter, its properties, and how it changes. An understanding of chemical principles is required to fully understand most scientific disciplines such as biology, medicine, physics, environmental science, geology, materials science, pharmaceuticals, agriculture, forensic science, most branches of engineering, and even studio art. Chemists not only study molecules that nature provides but also synthesize new molecules to be used in many of these fields.

The department offers both bachelor of arts and bachelor of science degrees. Both degrees provide students with a solid chemical foundation to prepare them for graduate school, professional school, or the workforce. The B.S. degree requires more science coursework, while the B.A. allows more flexibility for other academic interests. The B.S. in biochemistry is designed for students with an interest in the biological aspects of chemistry and the pre-health professions.

Careers in Chemistry

Sonoma State University is fortunate to be situated within the greater Bay Area, which is rapidly becoming a leading area for research in disciplines such as biotechnology, pharmaceuticals, materials science, and proteomics. Sonoma State graduates have a high success rate for acceptance into advanced degree programs in chemistry and biochemistry; medical, dental, and veterinary schools; cell and molecular biology; and materials science. They have also entered the job market in a variety of careers, including government agencies (FBI, forensics), technical writing, chemical and biochemical research, cosmetics and perfumes, space chemistry, teaching at all levels, medical technology, pharmaceuticals, patent law, materials research, consulting, and applications of chemistry in business.

Students seeking teaching credentials may elect chemistry as their major within the teaching credential program in science.

The Chemistry Department

The small size and educational philosophy of the department encourages students to develop close relationships with other students, faculty, and staff. Coursework and individual research projects place an emphasis on laboratory experiences in which students are expected to become familiar with a variety of techniques and instruments. In their freshman year, students participate in a learning community with other chemistry and biochemistry majors and in their senior year participate in a capstone experience to further prepare themselves for entry into industry or graduate education. Novel undergraduate research experiences are an integral part of our program. In 2006, the department returned to the newly remodeled Darwin Hall, equipped with new lower-division teaching laboratories and facilities for advanced laboratory courses and undergraduate research. Our laboratories are equipped with many modern, computerized instruments that include ultraviolet, visible, infrared, atomic absorption, and fluorescence spectrophotometers; a high field resonance spectrometer; high-pressure liquid, gas, and ion exchange chromatographs; and gas chromatographs with mass spectrometer detectors, and an LCMS with time of flight detector.

Repeat Policy

Any student wishing to repeat a chemistry course must first fill out a course repeat form and have it approved by the chemistry department chair before they will be allowed a seat in the class. Students repeating a class will be given last priority at registration. Students that register for the class without following this policy will be administratively dropped from the course. Course repeat forms are available in the department office.

Chemistry and Biochemistry majors may only repeat a total of three chemistry courses, any combination, in order to graduate with a chemistry or biochemistry degree. Students can petition the department for reinstatement on a case-by-case basis.

Biochemistry, B.S.

(Certified by the American Chemical Society)

The B.S. degree in biochemistry is appropriate for students interested in the medical fields, graduate study in chemistry or biochemistry, or employment in the biochemical, pharmaceutical or biotechnology industries. All courses in the major core, major electives and supporting courses must be taken in the traditional grading mode (A-F). Undergraduate research is required for the B.S. degree in biochemistry. Transcripts will be noted as approved by the American Chemical Society.

Program Learning Outcomes

By the completion of our degree programs, students will demonstrate the ability to:

1. Apply both the concepts and mathematics of basic thermodynamic properties and the three laws thermodynamics. This includes enthalpy, entropy and free energy ($\Delta G = \Delta H - T\Delta S$)
2. Differentiate between thermodynamics and kinetics as it pertains to the fate of a reaction.
3. Identify the components of solutions and utilize their knowledge prepare and dilute solutions.
4. Describe and the concepts of acids and bases, neutralization and buffers and apply those concepts to chemistry problems.
5. Utilize stoichiometry, write appropriate chemical equations to describe chemical processes, to categorize chemical reactions, and gain a fundamental understanding of chemical reactivity.
6. Appropriately manipulate and interpret data.

7. Work safely and ethically in lab including maintaining a good lab notebook, performing basic lab skills, designing and troubleshooting experiments, and reporting conclusions.
8. Effectively utilize instrumentation and computer.
9. Describe and utilize basic chemical bonding theory including drawing Lewis dot structures, recognizing hybrid orbitals, and molecular orbital theory.
10. Read and interpret chemical literature and communicate science effectively in both oral and written formats
11. Implement career planning

Learning Outcomes Specific for BS Biochemistry

12. Implement advanced lab techniques and skills.
13. Implement experiments for a novel research problem and demonstrate scientific independence.
14. Describe and apply the relationship between structure and function for biological molecules and how these relationships dictate chemical reactivities in metabolism and life.

Program Roadmaps

First Year Advising Guide

Sample Four-Year Program

The Four year Plan is a sample study plan. The sequence and specific courses given are suggestive; please see an advisor each semester to plan your personal program and track your progress using the Academic Requirements Report (ARR) in MYSSU.

Courses may be interchanged fall and spring semester depending on course offering each semester.

General Education Notes:

- GE Areas A2 and B4 should be completed by the end of the first year. Some students may take year-long courses for GE A2 and/or B4.
- GE Area A1 and A3 should be completed by the end of the second year
- Students should enroll in Upper Division GE courses after completion of Areas A1, A2, A3, and B4 with a C- or better, lower division GE in that area, and 45 units total.
- Not all First-Year Learning Communities (FLC's) meet the same GE areas.
- GE Area D must be taken in two different subject areas across the nine total required units in lower division (LD) and upper division (UD).
- Students must take American Institution requirements in U.S. History and U.S. Constitution/California State and Local Government. These requirements may be met in GE.

Chemistry, B.A.

The B.A. degree provides a solid foundation in chemistry so students have the same career options as those with the B.S. degree, while allowing students the flexibility to pursue other academic interests. All courses in the major core, major electives, and supporting courses must be taken in the traditional grading mode (A-F). It is highly recommended that students perform undergraduate research with a faculty member.

Please see the current approved curriculum on the SSU official catalog web page.

Program Learning Outcomes

1. Read and interpret chemical literature and communicate science effectively in both oral and written formats
2. Understand properties and reactivity of atoms and molecules.
3. Proficient at experimental design with documentation and generation of useful data. Including the proficiency of data manipulation, interpretation and the forming of conclusions based on data.
4. Use chemicals, standard glassware, and instrumentation safely and effectively.

5. Work towards ethical behavior and developing awareness of bias in experimental expectations and social interactions.

Total Units in Major Core: 42 (6 units also count for GE)

Total Units in Support Courses: 16 (3 units also count for GE)

Total Units in Electives: 23

Total Units Required for Graduation: 120

Secondary Education Teaching Preparation

Chemistry students must demonstrate competence in the natural sciences by passing the subject matter examination required by the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing. One part of the examination will test breadth of knowledge in biology, chemistry, physics, astronomy, and geology. Another part of the examination will test depth of knowledge in a particular area, such as chemistry. The B.A. or B.S. degree in chemistry is recommended to prepare for the part of the examination that tests depth of knowledge in chemistry. For more information, please contact the Chemistry Department office, Darwin Hall 300, (707)664-2119.

First-Year Advising Guide

Sample Four-Year Program

The Four year Plan is a sample study plan. The sequence and specific courses given are suggestive; please see an advisor each semester to plan your personal program and track your progress using the Academic Requirements Report (ARR) in MYSSU.

Courses may be interchanged fall and spring semester depending on course offering each semester.

General Education Notes:

- GE Areas A2 and B4 should be completed by the end of the first year. Some students may take year-long courses for GE A2 and/or B4.
- GE Area A1 and A3 should be completed by the end of the second year
- Students should enroll in Upper Division GE courses after completion of Areas A1, A2, A3, and B4 with a C- or better, lower division GE in that area, and 45 units total.
- Not all First-Year Learning Communities (FLC's) meet the same GE areas.
- GE Area D must be taken in two different subject areas across the nine total required units in lower division (LD) and upper division (UD).
- Students must take American Institution requirements in U.S. History and U.S. Constitution/California State and Local Government. These requirements may be met in GE.

Chemistry, B.S.

(Certified by the American Chemical Society)

The B.S. degree provides thorough preparation for students who wish to pursue advanced degrees in the chemical sciences, go to professional school, or work as chemists in industry. All courses in the major core, major electives, and supporting courses must be taken in the traditional grading mode (A-F). Transcripts will be noted as approved by the American Chemical Society.

Please see the current approved curriculum on the SSU official catalog web page.

Program Learning Outcomes

1. Read and interpret chemical literature and communicate science effectively in both oral and written formats

2. Understand properties and reactivity of atoms and molecules.
3. Proficient at experimental design with documentation and generation of useful data. Including the proficiency of data manipulation, interpretation and the forming of conclusions based on data.
4. Use chemicals, standard glassware, and instrumentation safely and effectively.
5. Work towards ethical behavior and developing awareness of bias in experimental expectations and social interactions.

Additional Learning Outcomes for BS Chemistry

1. Apply a deep mathematical foundation for application to chemical problems.
2. Implement experiments for a novel research problem and demonstrate scientific independence.

Degree Requirements

See the "Degree Requirements" in the University Catalog for complete details on general degree requirements.

General Education Requirements (48 units)

See the "General Education Program" requirements in the University Catalog for information on General Education requirements. Some major requirements may double count for GE requirements.

Major Core Requirements

 Quantitative Analysis (CHEM 255) is required for majors who took CHEM 115A/CHEM 115B . Students should replace these four units by completing the challenge by exam form upon completion of the series.*

Computer Science is the scientific study of computing devices, the software that drives them, and the computational tasks they are capable of performing. Computer scientists study both hardware and software; in both theoretical and applied contexts. Computing theory shares knowledge and techniques with the fields of mathematics, physics, engineering, philosophy, psychology, and linguistics. Its applications span the range of human endeavors: the physical life and social sciences; the literary, visual, and performing arts; law; government; recreation; and virtually every sector of the commercial world. Thus, computer science is by its very nature an interdisciplinary subject that offers both a solid unifying foundation for a liberal arts and sciences education, and valuable career skills.

The curriculum consists of a rigorous course of study in computer science and mathematics and provides the student with a thorough grounding in programming, fundamentals of computer organization, data structures, and algorithm design. It is designed to prepare students for careers in the computing industry and graduate work in computer science.

All courses submitted toward either major or minor requirements in the Computer Science Department must be taken for a letter grade (A-F) when possible. This includes electives in CS and all other courses taken to satisfy the major. This does not apply to courses that are challenged. Only those classes for which the student has received a C- or better may be used to satisfy prerequisite requirements. An instructor may require the student to provide evidence of having met prerequisite requirements.

Computer Science, B.S.

Program Learning Outcomes

Graduates of the Sonoma State University Bachelor of Science in Computer Science will demonstrate the ability to:

1. apply the algorithmic basics and logical approach to computational problem solving.
2. apply software design and development principles to solve small- to large-scale computing problems, individually and collaboratively.
3. develop proficiency to select appropriate tools and techniques for a given computing task.

4. communicate effectively, work in a team, and take on leadership roles as needed.
5. use the breadth of knowledge in theory, systems and applications to meet the needs of computing technology in diverse fields.

Degree Requirements

See the "Degree Requirements" in the University Catalog for complete details on general degree requirements.

General Education Requirements (48 units)

See the "General Education Program" requirements in the University Catalog for information on General Education requirements. Some major requirements may double count for GE requirements.

Major Core Requirements (49 units)

- CS 115 - Programming I Unit(s): 4
- CS 210 - Introduction to Unix Unit(s): 1
- CS 215 - Programming II Unit(s): 4
- CS 242 - Discrete Structures for Computer Science Unit(s): 4
- CS 252 - Introduction to Computer Organization Unit(s): 4
- CS 315 - Data Structures Unit(s): 4
- CS 351 - Computer Architecture Unit(s): 4
- CS 355 - Database Management Systems Design Unit(s): 4

Computer Science, Minor

Students electing this minor will be prepared for careers in business application programming, scientific application programming, computer equipment sales, as field engineers, and as data processing managers among the myriad job opportunities associated with the computer field. Approval of the minor curriculum should be obtained by the junior year at the latest so that the minor may be properly planned.

- CS 210 - Introduction to Unix Unit(s): 1
- CS 215 - Programming II Unit(s): 4

Minor Electives

Choose 11 units of CS major courses (listed under Major Core Requirements and Computer Science Electives in the Computer Science, B.S. program), of which 6 units must be upper-division. No more than 2 units in any combination of CS 349, CS 390, CS 495, and CS 497 can be applied toward the minor.

As defined in Webster's Unabridged Dictionary, "Engineering is the science by which the properties of matter and the sources of energy in nature are made useful to [humankind]." The study of Electrical Engineering, with a focus in Electronics and Communications, involves learning about analog and digital electronics, microelectronic systems, microcontrollers, mobile communication systems, signal processing, and the Internet.

The Bachelor of Science in Electrical Engineering (BSEE) program has been designed to prepare students for an exciting career in designing and manufacturing electronic systems, communications systems and networks, microprocessors and computers, digital design, VLSI, FPGA, microwave, RF, and lightwave communications, and integrated circuits. The graduates of the program will be well-grounded in the rigorous scientific and theoretical foundations of the discipline. This will prepare them not only to have a successful career in the industry in the region and beyond, but also to enter and be successful in any advanced level graduate program of their choosing. The technical and liberal arts components of the curriculum provide students with the opportunity for gaining self-development, technical competence, and awareness of economic and ethical responsibilities.

The MS-ECE curriculum, recognized as a Professional Science Masters (PSM) program by the Council of Graduate Schools (CGS), is designed to further the working skills and practical knowledge of engineers, computer scientists, and similar professionals and prepares them to be successful in the real world, exposing students to management training and providing practical real-world experience through internships and graduate seminars. The firm base in mathematics, computer science, and physics is augmented with a selection of engineering course options, which prepares the students for tackling real-world problems.

Electrical Engineering, B.S.

Consistent with the mission of the University, the mission of the BSEE Program is to prepare students to be learned men and women who are capable of pursuing fulfilling careers in a changing world, and to fulfill the undergraduate technical education needs of the community, business, and industry of the North Bay region. A broader mission is to enable graduating engineers to acquire knowledge and experiences to prepare them to pursue lifelong learning, advanced study, and leadership roles in business and community.

The Electrical Engineering (EE) Program at Sonoma State University is an innovative program in which the curriculum has been designed to provide students with education in electrical engineering in electronics and communications.

The curriculum includes 48 units of General Education courses (9 units overlap with the required Physics, and Mathematics courses and 4 units of ES 210, GE A3); a 20-unit core in mathematics, computer science, and basic sciences; a 44-unit core in Electrical Engineering which includes electrical, computer, electronics, and communications engineering subjects such as circuits, analog/digital electronics, electromagnetic fields, microprocessors, analog and digital communications, and networking; and 6 units of Electrical Engineering electives which provides senior-level choices for more depth in students' areas of interest. Theoretical and practical learning experiences are an important part of all course work. The senior year also gives students the opportunity to consolidate their educational experiences with a capstone design project. The curriculum develops students' abilities to formulate problems, analyze alternatives, make decisions, and solve problems. Internship and co-op experiences will be encouraged to provide the students a real-world experience and to enhance students' communication and interpersonal skills.

BSEE Program Educational Objectives

The program produces BSEE graduates who

- 1- Design creative solutions to electrical engineering problems.
2. Demonstrate professional ethics.
3. Connect to their community and contribute to society.
4. Value lifelong learning and selfimprovement as demonstrated by taking part in professional development opportunities.
5. Lead and build teams.

Career Paths and Opportunities

The BSEE Program has been designed to prepare students for an exciting career in industries or to pursue graduate degrees. The graduates will find opportunities in industry in areas such as:

1. Electronic systems;
2. Communications systems;
3. Networking;
4. Computer engineering;
5. Telecommunications;
6. Optical fiber communications;
7. Integrated circuits;
8. Research and development in the areas above; and/or
9. Sales, marketing, and management in the areas above.

Some examples of the corresponding job titles are electronics engineer, computer engineer, hardware designer, systems engineer, communications engineer, communications analyst, telecommunications engineer, network engineer, network analyst, sales engineer, applications engineer, and field engineer.

Graduate degrees can be pursued in any one of the many fields such as electronics, communications, networking, computer engineering, and computer science.

Degree Requirements

See the "Degree Requirements" in the University Catalog for complete details on general degree requirements.

Electrical and Computer Engineering, M.S.

The Master of Science degree in Electrical and Computer Engineering at Sonoma State University is a graduate program focused on the interconnection between electrical engineering hardware and computer science software. The 32-unit curriculum blends relevant academic coursework with practical engineering experience, thereby addressing the evolving demands upon engineering in our progressively technology-driven world. The program is recognized as a Professional Science Masters (PSM) program by the Council of Graduate Schools.

The Master of Science degree in Electrical and Computer Engineering program emphasizes the application of Physics, Mathematics, Computer Science and/or Electrical Sciences fields to the design, analysis and synthesis of engineering problem solutions, exposes the student to management training and provides practical real-world experience through internships and graduate seminars. The Electrical and Computer Engineering faculty is composed of professors from Sonoma State University, whose interests traverse the fields of science and engineering, as well as professionals from the local community who have cutting-edge expertise in the various engineering disciplines of interest and are qualified to be adjunct faculty at SSU. A linkage with local industry in the form of an Industry Advisory Board (IAB) is an integral part of the program. Such an advisory board is critical to ensure the Program meets local community needs. The IAB provides the program with valuable input regarding the new scientific and technological developments and educational needs of the industry. It also facilitates internship opportunities for students, joint student research/project development and supervision, faculty-scientists/engineers joint project opportunities, equipment and financial support from the industries. Through this linkage of academic learning and practical application, students obtain a solid education indispensable for working in a professional environment. The Electrical and Computer Engineering, M.S. is a self-supported program that is underwritten by local industry as well as student tuition revenue.

Program Educational Objectives

- Educate and prepare students to be independent investigators;
- Educate students to be leaders in their professions; and
- Educate students to be socially responsible engineers, committed to community service.

Program Outcomes

The students of this program will acquire:

- Knowledge of the theory of high-performance computing, communications and/or networking (and bioengineering in case of Bioengineering Track);
- Critical thinking ability and analytical and simulation tools to do system performance evaluation;
- Ability to model and analyze scientific and engineering problems.
- Ability to apply theory to design and to implement efficient computing and/or communications systems.
- Ability to integrate knowledge from multiple interrelated disciplines to formulate, design, and/or implement interdisciplinary projects;
- Ability to investigate and formulate research problems and/or design projects independently; and
- Ability to demonstrate effective written and oral communication skills.

Admission to the Program

For admission, the applicant must have:

1. A baccalaureate degree in a scientific or technical discipline from an U.S. institution accredited by an appropriate accreditation body, or an equivalent baccalaureate degree from a foreign institution of high reputation;
2. Attained grade point average of at least 2.6 (A=4.00) in the last 60 semester (90 quarter) units attempted;

3. TOEFL (Test of English as a Foreign Language) with a minimum paper-based score of 550, minimum computer-based score of 213 or minimum internet based score of 79. Sonoma State's ETS code is 4723. (This requirement does not apply to those applicants who have studied in the U.S for at least three consecutive years.)
4. Demonstrated competency in writing by one of the Written English Proficiency Test criteria for students given below. If this requirement is to be met by writing an essay, it should be submitted with the application for admission; and
5. Completed the following SSU courses or equivalent at the undergraduate level with a GPA of 2.6 or higher:
 - 4 semesters of Calculus (MATH 161, MATH 211, MATH 241, MATH 261 and one semester of EE 345 - Probability and Statistics for Engineers;
 - 1 semester of each of the following subjects: EE 220 - Electric Circuits, EE 221 - Electric Circuits Laboratory, EE 230 - Electronics I, EE 231 - Electronics I Laboratory, and ES 210 - Digital Circuits and Logic Design ;
 - 1 semester of Programming in an approved high level Procedural Language, modeling and simulation (CS 115); and
 - EE 310 - Microprocessors and System Design
 - EE 310L - Microprocessors & System Design Lab

Whenever possible, the department offers highly intense and compressed courses such as ECE 490 which cover the material necessary to satisfy the prerequisite requirements in an expeditious manner. Please contact the department office for more information regarding such offerings.

Conditional Admission

The applicants whose GPA is less than 2.6 but greater than 2.5, or who lack not more than 18 units of prerequisite work (generally, 6 courses), may be accepted conditionally and must complete a program of study specified by the graduate coordinator at the time of admission before being given full admission.

Written English Proficiency Test Requirement

All students are required to demonstrate competency in written English. A student can satisfy the Written English Proficiency Test (WEPT) requirement by meeting any one of the following five criteria:

1. A student who has obtained his/her bachelor's degree from a CSU institution will be deemed to have satisfied the WEPT requirement.
2. A student who has obtained a bachelor's degree and a master's degree from an accredited institution(s) with English as the medium of instruction for both the degree programs will be deemed to have satisfied the WEPT requirement.
3. A student who scores at least 3.5 in the analytical writing portion of the GRE test will be deemed to have satisfied the WEPT requirement.
4. A student who takes and passes the campus WEPT test.
5. A student may write and submit an article of at least 500 words in length to demonstrate his/her writing proficiency in English. It will be evaluated by the curriculum committee for (i) competent analysis of complex ideas, (ii) development and support of main points with the relevant reasons and/or examples, (iii) organization of ideas, (iv) ease in conveying meaning with reasonable clarity, and, (v) demonstration of satisfactory control of sentence structure and language (including spelling, punctuation, and proper use of grammar). If accepted by the curriculum committee, the student will be deemed to have satisfied the WEPT requirement.

Concurrent MBA and MS in Electrical and Computer Engineering Degree Programs

The MBA and Electrical and Computer Engineering, M.S. programs can be taken concurrently, and completed in as little as 2.5 years. By achieving these two master's degrees, students prepare themselves for careers in technology management. Students must meet all admission and graduation requirements for both programs. Some cross-listed courses may apply to the degree requirements of both programs. Please contact the department office for more information.

Degree Requirements

The program requires completion of a total of 32 semester hours.

The Culminating Experience requirement can be completed in one of two different ways, referred to as Plan A (thesis), or Plan B (design project). In addition, a student must also demonstrate that he/she has acquired proficiency in written English.

Duration of Program Completion

The entire Program requires 32 (Plan A and B) semester hours to complete. A full-time student taking 9 semester hours of average load per semester can complete the 32-unit Program in four semesters, and a working professional taking 6 semester hours of average load per semester is likely to complete this program in 6 semesters.

Student Mentoring Plan

Each student in a program is assigned a faculty advisor who helps the student develop a plan of study based on his/her interest. The faculty advisor monitors the student's progress and addresses any difficulties that the student may be having in making satisfactory progress in the program. At an appropriate time, generally midway through the completion of the coursework, the student is advised to choose a master's project guide, who then takes over as the student's mentor. The role of the two mentors is to guide and prepare the student to succeed in the real world and be a leader in his/her field of work.

Culminating Experience through Thesis/Design Project/Lab and Technical Report Experience

All students are required to complete a culminating experience which may take one of the following forms:

- Research and Thesis (Plan A)
- Design Project (Plan B)

A supervisory committee is appointed for the students who choose Plan A or Plan B. A supervisory committee consists of three faculty members. One of the three members can be an adjunct faculty. A student interested in choosing Plan A or B chooses a faculty member to be his/her thesis/project supervisor. Subsequently, the faculty supervisor becomes chairman of the student's supervisory committee. In consultation with the faculty supervisor, two other members of the committee are selected.

Under Plan A, a student chooses to do thesis research and write a thesis under the guidance of the faculty supervisor and members of the supervisory committee.

Under Plan B, a student chooses to prepare a design project focused on the design of devices, instruments, or systems. As in the case of Plan A, the project is mentored by the student's faculty supervisor and members of the supervisory committee.

Upon approval by the student's supervisory committee, the thesis research or design project may be carried out at the student's place of employment under the supervision of an approved senior scientist/engineer of the company. However, an SSU faculty supervisor must oversee the research/project and regularly examine the student's progress. It is expected but not required, that the results of the research/project will be presented in an appropriate technical conference and/or published in a relevant professional journal.

Internship Requirement

As a part of the culminating experience, each Electrical and Computer Engineering, M.S. student is required to do an internship in an industry, university, laboratory, utility company, government organization, etc. The objectives of the internship must be to gain hands-on training in dealing with and solving real-world engineering problems within the scope of the student's plan of study, develop teamwork and presentation skills and develop an understanding of the differences in ideal and real world situations. The internship must be completed within one semester. The number of hours worked as an intern should be at least 45, preferably much more. The supervisory committee's and graduate coordinator's approval must be obtained before starting the internship. After completion of the internship, a report of the performed work and achievements certified by the intern's supervisor must be submitted to the supervisory committee and department for its acceptance.

Students with industrial experience can petition for a waiver of the internship requirement. However, the petition may be considered by the student's supervisory committee and the graduate coordinator of the Electrical and Computer Engineering, M.S. program only if the student can support the petition with proper supporting evidence that he/she fulfills this requirement based on his/her past industrial experience.

GPA Requirements

All Electrical and Computer Engineering, M.S. courses must be completed with a B- or better.

Laboratories

The program has the following eight state-of-the-art laboratories in various areas of interest located in the Cerent Engineering Sciences Complex in Salazar Hall.

- AFC Access Technologies Laboratory
- Agilent Technologies Communications Laboratory
- Rolf Illsley Photonics Laboratory
- William Keck Microanalysis Laboratory
- Networking Laboratory
- Human-Computer Interaction and Systems Laboratory
- Software Engineering Laboratory
- Electronics Laboratory

These labs provide excellent facilities to our students and faculty for hands-on experience, research, project development, implementation, and testing. Many of these labs are sponsored by the high-tech industries in the North Bay region of the San Francisco area.

Program of Study

A student's program of study consists of the following four components: a common core, a track core, culminating experience, and technical electives. Details of these components are as follows.

Common Core Curriculum

(11 units)

- ECE 440 - Introduction to Networking and Network Management Unit(s): 3
- ECE 506 - Operations Management Unit(s): 3
- ECE 591 - Internship Unit(s): 1
- ECE 597 - Graduate Seminar Unit(s): 1

Culminating Experience

Research and Thesis (Plan A): 6 units of Culminating Experience

Design Project (Plan B): 3 units of Culminating Experience

Approved Technical Electives

(Plan A: 15 units; Plan B: 18 units)

Choose from the following list of courses, depending on their offering:

- ECE 430 - Photonics Unit(s): 3
- ECE 432 - Physics of Semiconductor Devices Unit(s): 3
- ECE 500 - Queuing and Transform Theory Unit(s): 3
- ECE 510 - Intelligent Systems Design Unit(s): 3
- ECE 512 - Theory of Software Systems Unit(s): 3
- ECE 514 - Data Mining Unit(s): 3
- ECE 516 - High-Performance Computing Unit(s): 3
- ECE 520 - Embedded Systems Unit(s): 3
- ECE 522 - VLSI Design Unit(s): 3
- ECE 524 - Advanced Computer Architecture Unit(s): 3
- ECE 530 - Analog and Digital Microelectronics Unit(s): 3
- ECE 532 - Advanced Photonics Devices Unit(s): 3
- ECE 540 - Digital Data Transmission Unit(s): 3
- ECE 542 - Digital Signal Processing Unit(s): 3
- ECE 543 - Optical Fiber Communications Unit(s): 3
- ECE 544 - Wireless Communication Unit(s): 3
- ECE 547 - Digital Switching: Techniques and Architectures Unit(s): 3
- ECE 552 - Network Architecture and Protocols Unit(s): 3

Electrical Engineering, Minor

The Department offers a minor program in EE to provide an opportunity to any non-EE major student interested in gaining ability and training in the field of Electrical Engineering. Students interested in receiving a minor in Electrical Engineering require 10 units to 40 units depending upon the student's major field of study and the units available as free electives in the major that can be used by the EE minor program. The EE minor requirements are as follows.

Course Requirements

To minor in Electrical Engineering, students must complete 23 units of Electrical Engineering courses: 14 units of core courses and 9 units of electives and 17 units of support courses in Mathematics, Physics as follows:

Core Courses (14 Units):

- EE 110 - Introduction to Engineering and Laboratory Experience Unit(s): 1
- EE 112 - Fundamentals of Digital Logic Design Unit(s): 1
- EE 220 - Electric Circuits Unit(s): 3
- EE 221 - Electric Circuits Laboratory Unit(s): 1
- EE 230 - Electronics I Unit(s): 3
- EE 231 - Electronics I Laboratory Unit(s): 1

Electives From The Following List (9 units):

- EE 310 - Microprocessors and System Design Unit(s): 3
- EE 310L - Microprocessors & System Design Lab Unit(s): 1
- EE 314 - Advanced Programming, Modeling, and Simulation Unit(s): 4
- EE 330 - Electronics II Unit(s): 2
- EE 400 - Linear Systems Theory Unit(s): 3
- EE 430 - Electromagnetic Theory and Applications Unit(s): 3
- EE 432 - Physical Electronics Unit(s): 3
- EE 442 - Analog and Digital Communications Unit(s): 3
- EE 442L - Analog and Digital Communications Lab Unit(s): 1
- EE 445 - Photonics Unit(s): 3
- EE 465 - Introduction to Networking and Network Management Unit(s): 2
- EE 465L - Intro. to Networking and Network Management Lab Unit(s): 1

Support Courses

Additional support courses may be needed depending upon the electives chosen. For example, EE 400 - Linear Systems Theory requires a prerequisite of MATH 241 - Linear Algebra with Applications in Differential Equations and EE 314 requires a prerequisite of CS 115.

- PHYS 114 - Introduction to Physics I Unit(s): 4
- PHYS 214 - Introduction to Physics II Unit(s): 4

- PHYS 116 - Introductory Laboratory Experience Unit(s): 1
- MATH 161 - Differential and Integral Calculus I Unit(s): 4
- MATH 211 - Differential and Integral Calculus II Unit(s): 4

Units

Total units without support courses: 23

Total units including support courses: 40

Grade Requirement

The student must complete each course applied towards minor or major in Electrical Engineering with a grade of C or higher.

Pathway Examples

Examples of the pathways to minor in EE by the students majoring in Chemistry, Computer Science, Mathematics, and Physics disciplines are posted on the department website at the url www.sonoma.edu/engineering/bsee/ee_minor.html. The interested students should contact ES Department for advising and developing a plan of study.

Geology is the study of the materials, structures, processes, and history of the earth. Philosophically, it allows us to realize our place in the physical universe within the enormity of geologic time. Practically, it leads to understanding of Earth processes, the formation of rocks and minerals, and the energy supplies and materials that support our civilization.

The evolution of modern geologic thought is based on field studies and empiricism. A solid foundation in quantitative field and laboratory analysis provides a firm background in the principles of geology. Students take a fundamental curriculum that concentrates on the analysis of rocks and minerals, geologic mapping, and report writing. Required courses in physics, chemistry, and mathematics support understanding of geologic principles.

Careers in Geology and Earth Science

Within the general field of geology, students may choose from major programs that lead to either a B.S. in Geology or a B.A. in Earth Science. The B.S. in Geology provides an excellent background for graduate school and for work in geology in such fields as engineering geology, environmental geology, hydrology, and mineral exploration. Many of our geology graduates work for consulting firms with specialties in one or more of these areas. The B.A. in Earth Science provides our students with the background to become teachers, environmental consultants, to work in the energy industry or in governmental positions. Because of the selectivity involved in choosing a program that meets their own particular interests and goals, students must consult with a departmental advisor about their plan of study and their course load each semester.

Earth Science, B.A.

The Earth Science B.A. is designed to provide students with a firm foundation in the geological sciences. A diversity of elective courses allow students interested in related fields to build a supplementary minor. It provides a clear path to graduation and is ideal for students pursuing careers in earth science education, state agencies, environmental geology, and hydrogeology.

Program Learning Outcomes

Students who complete the Bachelor of Arts in Earth Science degree are required to demonstrate:

1. The understanding of geologic terms, concepts, and theories,
2. The ability to collect geologic data through laboratory and field studies, and to formulate logical interpretations and conclusions from those data,
3. The ability to compare, contrast and demonstrate appreciation of competing views within geology, involving both historical and current controversies,
4. A solid understanding of geologic conditions specific to California and the unique global geological context of California, and
5. The ability to identify common rocks and minerals found in any country located anywhere on Earth.

Additionally, students are also expected to acquire the following general skills:

6. Competence in scientific inquiry,
7. Critical thinking abilities,
8. Written and oral communication proficiency, and
9. Quantitative reasoning skills.

Degree Requirements

See the "Degree Requirements" in the University Catalog for complete details on general degree requirements.

General Education Requirements (48 units)

See the "General Education Program" requirements in the University Catalog for information on General Education requirements. Some major requirements may double count for GE requirements.

Required Major Core Courses

Choose one 100-level Geology course:

- GEOL 102 - Our Dynamic Earth: Introduction to Geology Unit(s): 3
- GEOL 105 - The Age of Dinosaurs Unit(s): 3
- GEOL 107 - Introduction to Earth Science Unit(s): 3
- GEOL 110 - Natural Disasters Unit(s): 3
- GEOL 120 - Regional Field Geology Unit(s): 3

Both of the following:

- GEOL 303 - Advanced Principles of Geology Unit(s): 4
- GEOL 304 - Geologic Mapping and Report Writing Unit(s): 1

Choose two of the following 300-level courses:

- GEOL 307 - Igneous and Metamorphic Petrology Unit(s): 4
AND
- GEOL 308 - Igneous and Metamorphic Petrology Field Course Unit(s): 1

- GEOL 311 - Sedimentary Geology Unit(s): 4
AND
- GEOL 312 - Sedimentary Geology Field Course Unit(s): 1

- GEOL 313 - Paleontology Unit(s): 4
AND
- GEOL 314 - Paleontology Field Course Unit(s): 1

- GEOL 317 - Structural Geology Unit(s): 4
AND
- GEOL 318 - Structural Geology Field Unit(s): 1

Major Electives

Choose 33 additional units of Earth Science-related courses in consultation with a major advisor. See list of suggested courses on the following page. Major Elective courses must be approved by a major advisor. At least 20 units must be 200-level or above, and at least 15 units must be Geology courses.

Required Supporting Courses

- MATH 160 - Precalculus Mathematics Unit(s): 4 OR
- MATH 161 - Differential and Integral Calculus I Unit(s): 4 OR
- MATH 165 - Elementary Applied Statistics Unit(s): 4

- CHEM 102 - Chemistry and Society Unit(s): 3 OR
- CHEM 110 - Introductory General Chemistry Unit(s): 3 OR
- CHEM 115A - General Chemistry Unit(s): 5

Secondary Education Teaching Preparation

Geology and Earth Science students must demonstrate competence in the natural sciences by passing the subject matter examination required by the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing (CCTC). One part of the examination will test breadth of knowledge in biology, chemistry, physics, astronomy, and geology. Another part of the examination will test depth of knowledge in a particular area, such as geology. The B.S. in Geology or the B.A. in Earth Science degrees are recommended to prepare for the part of the examination that tests depth of knowledge in geology. For recommended course selection to help prepare for the part of the examination that tests breadth of scientific knowledge, please see the Teaching Credential section of the SSU catalog. GEOL 107, Introduction to Earth Science, is specifically designed for students who are preparing to take the CCTC single-subject exam. For more information, please contact the Department of Geology, (707) 664-2334.

First-Year Advising Guide

First-Year Advising Guide

Geology, B.S.

This plan is intended to give the student basic professional competence in geology. A calculus-based series of support courses is highly recommended for students intending to pursue a more quantitative geoscience career. It provides an excellent foundation for graduate school or a professional career in the geosciences such as a Professional Geologist, Hydrologist, or Geophysicist registered with the State of California.

Program Learning Outcomes

Students who complete the Bachelor of Science in Geology degree are required to demonstrate:

- The understanding of geologic terms, concepts, and theories,
- The ability to collect geologic data through laboratory and field studies, and to formulate logical interpretations and conclusions from those data,
- The ability to compare, contrast and demonstrate appreciation of competing views within geology, involving both historical and current controversies,
- A solid understanding of geologic conditions specific to California and the unique global geological context of California, and
- The ability to identify common rocks and minerals found in any country located anywhere on Earth.

Additionally, students are also expected to acquire the following general skills:

Paleontology, Minor

The Minor in Paleontology offers students from any major on the SSU campus a cross-disciplinary concentration in the study of ancient life on Earth. Paleontology is by its very nature an inter-disciplinary field of study, blending both laboratory and field studies of modern organisms and extinct organisms. Some paleontologists approach the field from a geological perspective, and others approach it from a biological perspective. For a Minor in Paleontology, students must complete 20 units as described below.

Program Learning Outcomes

Students who complete the Paleontology Minor are required to demonstrate:

- The understanding of paleontological terms, concepts, and theories,
- The ability to collect paleontological data through laboratory and field studies, and to formulate logical interpretations and conclusions from those data,
- The ability to compare, contrast and demonstrate appreciation of competing views within paleontology, involving both historical and current controversies,
- The ability to identify common fossils found in anywhere on Earth.

Minor Core Requirements

- GEOL 102 - Our Dynamic Earth: Introduction to Geology Unit(s): 3
- GEOL 313 - Paleontology Unit(s): 4

Minor Electives

In addition to the Minor Core, choose 13 units of electives from other paleontology courses and/or courses with an emphasis on interpreting the history of life on Earth, and at least 1 unit that is a field course (marked by asterisk below). All SSU majors may select the Minor in Paleontology, and if you are majoring in either Biology or Geology, at least 3 upper division elective units must be from outside your home department. Additional courses may be counted toward the minor with approval of one of the minor advisors above. The 9 elective units must include at least one 4-unit upper division course with a laboratory from the following list:

* Field courses – one course is required for the minor

 4-unit laboratory course– one course is required for the minor Some of these elective courses above might have additional prerequisites not listed here. Refer to the University catalog for additional information.

For faculty information, please see Faculty or the Kinesiology faculty web page.

Kinesiology studies human movement from multiple perspectives – biological, behavioral, and socio-cultural – to prepare students to lead and participate in a modern, complex society. Our graduates acquire the knowledge and experiences

- to prepare for pre-professional training for physical therapy, occupational therapy, medicine, and other allied health fields
- to pursue graduate study in exercise science, physical education, adapted physical education, sport management, and public health
- to work in fitness and sport industries, teaching and coaching, and various allied-health settings

The Kinesiology Department at Sonoma State provides students with a well-structured set of curricular and co-curricular experiences, academic advising, and mentorship. Our current and past students credit our small classes, teaching-focused faculty, proactive advising, opportunities to engage in research, and meaningful field experiences for their positive experience in Kinesiology.

The Kinesiology Major leads to the B.S. degree. Each student must select a Concentration in the major: Exercise Science, Pre-Occupational Therapy or Lifetime Physical Activity. In all concentrations, support courses from other disciplines and a core of Kinesiology courses are required. Beyond the core, the chosen concentration has courses with specific focus on different healthcare careers. Theoretical and practical learning experiences are an important part of all courses and concentrations.

Prior to beginning upper-division studies in kinesiology, students should have acquired the knowledge and skills necessary for success. Courses with specific application to the kinesiology degree are included as support courses for the major. All students entering the upper-division kinesiology degree should:

Be able to utilize computing technology in support of inquiry;

- Demonstrate knowledge of a broad range of concepts, issues, facts, and theories derived from the biological, physical, behavioral, social sciences, and from the humanities;
- Demonstrate critical thinking, writing, reading, oral communication, quantitative and qualitative analysis, and information management skill; and
- Document experience in a variety of movement forms and fitness activities.

At the completion of the undergraduate degree all graduates should:

- Have knowledge of the history and broad content within the disciplines of kinesiology and can demonstrate the ability to synthesize concepts across disciplines.
- Demonstrate proficiency in the Core Competencies across the subareas of kinesiology through their academic work and practical application. (WSCUC Core Competencies: written communication, oral communication, critical thinking, quantitative reasoning, and information literacy)
- Apply concepts, theories, and methods in kinesiology in professional and scholarly activities.
- Apply evidence-based practices to the practice of kinesiology.
- Demonstrate professional responsibility and ethical decision-making when applying knowledge of kinesiology.

Students Planning to Apply to a Graduate Program in Physical Therapy

Completing the Kinesiology degree with the Exercise Science concentration will satisfy many of the course requirements (or recommendations) which are prerequisites for admission to a physical therapy program. While there are similarities across physical therapy programs, there are also differences from one graduate program to another. Students are urged to contact personally any graduate school they may wish to consider and request admission requirements. Information can be obtained from the Physical Therapy Centralized Application Service, <http://www.ptcas.org/home.aspx>

No single list of prerequisites can be totally complete and accurate. The list summarizes current requirements for some programs in California, and the requirements are similar to other programs. It is suggested that you use the attached list as general guidelines until a specific school or schools are selected.

- Plan on a minimum of three years beyond the bachelor's degree to complete a physical therapy program. Actual time varies by program.
- Find out if the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) is required and what minimum score is accepted.
- Strengthen your oral and written communication skills.
- Apply to several programs.
- Usually a 3.0 GPA is required; however, many schools actually use a 3.3 or higher GPA.
- Get extensive field experience, have excellent letters of recommendation, prepare a strong portfolio, and be prepared for a good interview.
- Some programs may not take less than a "B" in a prerequisite courses; some will not accept a repeat grade if the original grade was a "C" or better.
- Many programs require that prerequisites be taken in the last 5-10 years; this varies from school to school.
- DO NOT take prerequisite courses for Cr/NC.
- Take elective courses in related fields, especially the biological sciences.
- Talk to physical therapists and other pre-physical therapy students, and be active in the pre-health professions clubs on campus.

Kinesiology, B.S.

All majors in the Kinesiology must complete the support courses and the major core courses. Each major selects a concentration in which to complete the major.

All courses fulfilling either major or minor requirements in kinesiology must be graded A-F, except for courses not available in the A-F mode or courses that are challenged.

Program Learning Outcomes

- Our graduates have knowledge of the history and broad content within the disciplines of kinesiology and can demonstrate the ability to synthesize concepts across disciplines.
- Our graduates demonstrate proficiency in the Core Competencies across the subareas of kinesiology through their academic work and practical application. (WSCUC Core Competencies: written communication, oral communication, critical thinking, quantitative reasoning, and information literacy)
- Our graduates can apply concepts, theories, and methods in kinesiology in professional and scholarly activities.
- Our graduates can apply evidence-based practices to the practice of kinesiology.
- Our graduates demonstrate professional responsibility and ethical decision-making when applying knowledge of kinesiology.

Major Concentrations

Several options are available to a student advancing toward a specific goal in the degree program. A student may select a pattern of courses in any one of the following concentrations.

Choose one of the required concentrations below to complete the major:

Exercise Science 27-28

Lifetime Physical Activity 23-28

Pre-Occupational Therapy 25-28

Total units in a concentration 22-28

Total units in major 48-53

- Exercise Science Concentration
- Lifetime Physical Activity Concentration
- Interdisciplinary Concentration

Exercise Science Concentration

Students who have an interest in biomechanics or pre-physical therapy may select this concentration. It contains lower-division and upper-division courses beyond the core required of all majors and a set of courses specific to the subspecialty within the concentration.

 Students planning to enter a master's degree or doctoral program in physical therapy may need to take additional units or courses to satisfy admission requirements to the programs. Check with the academic schools to which you plan to apply for specific requirements.*

KIN Major Core Courses

The kinesiology core courses provide students with a broad foundation that explores the social, developmental, physiological, biomechanical, psychological, historical, and philosophical aspects of human movement.

- KIN 301 - History and Philosophy of Human Movement Unit(s): 4
OR
- KIN 315 - Sociology of Sport Unit(s): 3
- KIN 305 - Psychological Bases of Human Movement Unit(s): 4
- KIN 317 - Nutrition for Physical Activity & Health Unit(s): 3
- KIN 350 - Biomechanics Unit(s): 4
- KIN 360 - Physiology of Exercise Unit(s): 4
- KIN 410 - Lifespan Motor Development Unit(s): 3

Roadmap Notes (for all Kinesiology concentrations)

The Four Year Plan is a sample study plan. The sequence and specific courses given are suggestive. Please see an advisor each semester to plan your academic program and track your progress using the Academic Requirements Report (ARR) in MYSSU.

Courses may be interchanged fall and spring semester depending on course offering each semester.

Transfer Students: To be eligible to transfer into kinesiology, complete BIOL 220 (Human Anatomy) or BIOL 224 (Human Physiology) and have the other course in progress at the time of application. We also recommend using assist.org to find and complete a course that articulates with KIN 201, Foundations of Kinesiology.

Interdisciplinary Concentration

In consultation with their advisors, students design a concentrated course of study or special emphasis track in preparation for a career goal. The concentration must be distinctly different from Kinesiology concentrations already offered. Areas of emphasis may include pre-Occupational Therapy and others.

Students, in consultation with their Kinesiology Interdisciplinary advisor, shall define and describe in writing the specific theme they would like their Interdisciplinary Concentration to be in and select a minimum of 24 units of coursework to fulfill program requirements. Courses in kinesiology and those offered by other departments are appropriate and may be applied to this track. A minimum of 3 units, and not more than 6 units, in Field Experience (KIN 430) and/or Special Studies (KIN 495) must be taken. The proposed study list must be signed by the student and advisor and submitted to the department chair for approval. A copy of the signed, approved study list is placed in the student's advising folder.

 Not required for the major, but a prerequisite for some OTD programs.

Lifetime Physical Activity Concentration

 Students planning to enter a master's degree in kinesiology, athletic training, nursing or other allied health fields may need to take additional units or courses to satisfy admission requirements to the programs. Check with the academic schools to which you plan to apply for specific requirements.*

Fitness and Wellness Emphasis

Prepares individuals for careers in the allied fields of fitness, health, and wellness. Those who work with exercise must have an understanding of intra- and interpersonal aspects of exercise adherence, as well as knowledge of the structure and function of the human body. They must know exercise physiology and the mechanics of human motion; and they must possess skills in planning and carrying out appropriate exercise programs and treatment regimes for the healthy individual who desires lifetime fitness goals, as well as for the individual with unique needs due to a developmental concern or musculoskeletal injury. This concentration incorporates coursework in philosophy, sociology, and psychology; exercise physiology and biomechanics of movement; adapted physical education and emergency / sports medicine; and health education, while providing opportunities for internships & field experiences.

Emphasis Requirements

- KIN 241 - Emergency Response Unit(s): 3
- KIN 242 - Principles of Musculoskeletal Injuries Unit(s): 3
- KIN 426 - Individualized Assessment and Program Design Unit(s): 4
- KIN 430E - Field Experience in Lifetime Fitness Unit(s): 1-3
- KIN 446 - Exercise Instruction Unit(s): 3

Electives

Choose a minimum of two courses:

- KIN 404C - Theory of Coaching Unit(s): 3
- KIN 427 - Individuals with Disabilities in Educational and Recreational Settings Unit(s): 3

- BUS 150 - Business and Society Unit(s): 3
- PSY 408 - Transitions in Adult Development Unit(s): 4
- SOCI 317 - Emotions and Social Life Unit(s): 4

Coach Education Emphasis

The Coach Education Emphasis serves students interested in coaching sports at the recreational, youth, high school and collegiate levels. As sports have become increasingly embedded in American culture (e.g. in education, family life), there is a need for reflective, informed coaches. This program provides opportunities for students to acquire the skills required to become an effective coach in recreational, youth, high school, and collegiate competitive sports.

Emphasis Requirements

- KIN 241 - Emergency Response Unit(s): 3
- KIN 242 - Principles of Musculoskeletal Injuries Unit(s): 3
- KIN 403 - Ethics, Inclusion, and Equity in Coaching Unit(s): 3
- KIN 404C - Theory of Coaching Unit(s): 3
- KIN 426 - Individualized Assessment and Program Design Unit(s): 4
- KIN 430E - Field Experience in Lifetime Fitness Unit(s): 1-3

Electives

Choose a minimum of one course from the following:

- KIN 316 - Women in Sport: Issues, Images, and Identities Unit(s): 3
- KIN 427 - Individuals with Disabilities in Educational and Recreational Settings Unit(s): 3
- KIN 446 - Exercise Instruction Unit(s): 3

About Mathematics

Mathematics is a rapidly growing discipline whose concepts and applications play an ever-increasing part in modern life. Mathematics has always been an essential tool in the physical sciences, and has more recently been applied extensively in such diverse areas as medical and biological research, environmental studies, economics, management science, behavioral and social sciences, statistics, and computer science.

Our basic curriculum is designed to give students the mathematical skills necessary for success in business, industry, government, and teaching, as well as to provide a sound background for continuation of study toward advanced degrees in mathematics, computer science, statistics, and related fields.

The B.A. in mathematics provides preparation for teaching, general application of mathematics, and graduate study in mathematics. The bi-disciplinary concentration allows a student to combine mathematics with another discipline.

The B.S. in mathematics has a concentration in applied mathematics. This program prepares students for graduate study in mathematics and for work in a variety of other fields: computer science, work in government and industry, biostatistics, actuarial work, and consultative problem-solving in modern industry.

About Statistics

Mathematics and statistics are rapidly growing disciplines whose concepts and applications play an ever-increasing part in modern life. Statistics has long been an essential tool in the physical sciences and has more recently been applied extensively in such diverse areas as medical and biological research, environmental studies, management science, behavioral and social sciences, and economics. Our basic curriculum is designed to give students the skills necessary for success in business, industry, government, and teaching. In addition, these degrees will provide a sound background for continuation of study toward advanced degrees in statistics, or a quantitative foundation for graduate school in disciplines such as business, economics, biology, or other fields.

The B.A. in applied statistics is intended for students pursuing a degree in another discipline such as economics, psychology, biology, or others. These students may be interested in taking more statistics classes to prepare themselves for jobs in industry or success in graduate school in another field. The B.A. allows upper-division units from another major to count as part of the "area of concentration," and is focused on developing practical skills such as regression analysis and ANOVA, and on gaining proficiency with statistical software packages commonly used in industry and research. Students are strongly encouraged to earn the B.A. as part of a double major in a complementary field.

The B.S. in statistics is a rigorous program for students who intend to pursue a career as a statistician or who wish to go to graduate school in statistics or mathematics. Students earning the B.S. will learn the same practical skills as those taking the B.A. Additionally, they will take theoretical courses in linear algebra, analysis, mathematical statistics, and stochastic processes. This program follows the guidelines proposed by the American Statistical Association in the Curriculum Guidelines for Undergraduate Programs in Statistical Science.

Both programs will prepare students for work in areas including government and industry, biostatistics, actuarial work, and consultative problem-solving in modern industry.

Careers in Statistics and Actuarial Sciences

According to the American Statistical Association the demand for statisticians in the workforce is dramatically increasing. Statisticians can find employment in a variety of fields. Biomedical, pharmaceutical, engineering and marketing companies, and government agencies seek employees with statistical skills to analyze large data sets. Many students find lucrative jobs as SAS programmers.

In addition, statistics students with an interest in finance or economics will be interested in pursuing a career as an actuary. The courses in both the B.A. and B.S. provide a solid preparation for the first actuarial exam and the Applied Statistical Methods educational experience credit. Actuaries have been ranked in the top 5 careers in the US for salary and job satisfaction since 1988.

Learning Objectives for the B.A. and B.S.

- Describe data sets using appropriate numerical and graphical techniques;
- Develop mathematical tools necessary to perform statistical calculations and to understand distributions and statistical theory;
- Design experiments and survey sampling methods that allow results to be statistically analyzed to test hypotheses;

- Determine which statistical analyses are suitable, perform the analyses using technology, and assess the validity of necessary assumptions and interpret the results;
- Construct and apply probability models for both discrete and continuous random variables; and
- Communicate with non-statisticians in written and oral formats to learn what a client is interested in ascertaining and to present the results from a statistical analysis.

Additionally, for the B.S. in statistics:

- Construct and verify mathematical proofs;
- Discuss properties of estimators and explain the rationale and assumptions behind statistical procedures; and
- Apply stochastic models to solve real-world problems.

Grading Policy in the Department of Mathematics and Statistics

Non-majors

All mathematics courses except MATH 103, MATH 104, MATH 105, MATH 111, MATH 131, MATH 141, MATH 150, MATH 160, MATH 161X, and MATH 165, MATH 165X are available in the Cr/NC grading mode to non-mathematics majors.

All Students

MATH 131A, MATH 150A, MATH 160W, MATH 161W, MATH 161A, MATH 165A, MATH 175, MATH 211W, MATH 295, MATH 330, MATH 390, MATH 395 , MATH 499 are available only as Cr/NC.

Mathematics and Statistics Majors and Minors

A mathematics and statistics major or minor must take all mathematics courses used to meet major requirements in the traditional grading mode, with the exceptions of courses offered only in the CR/NC modes and any course taken as credit by challenge examination (please see more information on this in the Admissions section of this catalog).

Applied Statistics, B.A.

Mathematics and statistics are rapidly growing disciplines whose concepts and applications play an ever-increasing part in modern life. Statistics has long been an essential tool in the physical sciences and has more recently been applied extensively in such diverse areas as medical and biological research, environmental studies, management science, behavioral and social sciences, and economics. Our basic curriculum is designed to give students the skills necessary for success in business, industry, government, and teaching. In addition, these degrees will provide a sound background for continuation of study toward advanced degrees in statistics, or a quantitative foundation for graduate school in disciplines such as business, economics, biology, or other fields.

Program Learning Outcomes

- Students should develop effective thinking and communication skills.
- Students should learn to link applications and theory.

- Students should learn to use technological tools.
 - Students should develop mathematical independence and experience open-ended inquiry.
- In addition, students should be able to:
- Describe data sets using appropriate numerical and graphical techniques
 - Develop mathematical tools necessary to perform statistical calculations and to understand distributions and statistical theory
 - Design experiments and survey sampling methods that allow results to be statistically analyzed to test hypotheses
 - Determine which statistical analyses are suitable, perform the analyses using technology, and assess the validity of necessary assumptions and interpret the results
 - Construct and apply probability models for both discrete and continuous random variables; and communicate with non-statisticians in written and oral formats to learn what a client is interested in ascertaining and to present the results from a statistical analysis

Sample Four-Year Program

The Four year Plan is a sample study plan. The sequence and specific courses given are suggestive; please see an advisor each semester to plan your personal program and track your progress using the Academic Requirements Report (ARR) in MYSSU.

Courses may be interchanged fall and spring semester depending on course offering each semester.

General Education Notes:

- GE Areas A2 and B4 should be completed by the end of the first year. Some students may take year-long courses for GE A2 and/or B4.
- GE Area A1 and A3 should be completed by the end of the second year
- Students should enroll in Upper Division GE courses after completion of Areas A1, A2, A3, and B4 with a C- or better, lower division GE in that area, and 45 units total.
- Not all First-Year Learning Communities (FLC's) meet the same GE areas.
- GE Area D must be taken in two different subject areas across the nine total required units in lower division (LD) and upper division (UD).
- Students must take American Institution requirements in U.S. History and U.S. Constitution/California State and Local Government. These requirements may be met in GE.

Applied Statistics, Minor

Twenty units are required. These must include MATH 165, MATH 265, MATH 367, MATH 381, MATH 467, and at least 6 units from statistically relevant courses in the department or elsewhere at Sonoma State University chosen in consultation with and approved by an advisor in the Department of Mathematics and Statistics.

Math for Teachers, Minor

This program provides the mathematical background to teach effectively at the elementary and middle school levels. Twenty-three units are required.

These must include

- MATH 300A - Elementary Number Systems Unit(s): 3
- MATH 103 - Ethnomathematics Unit(s): 3 OR
- MATH 150 - Modern Geometry Unit(s): 3
- MATH 142 - Discrete Structures I Unit(s): 3 OR
- MATH 200 - Discrete Mathematics Unit(s): 3 OR
- MATH 220 - Reasoning and Proof Unit(s): 4

- MATH 161 - Differential and Integral Calculus I Unit(s): 4
- MATH 250 - Probability and Statistics for Future Teachers Unit(s): 2 OR
- MATH 300B - Data, Chance, and Algebra Unit(s): 3

Two courses chosen from

- MATH 306 - Number Theory Unit(s): 4

- MATH 310 - History of Mathematics Unit(s): 4
- MATH 316 - Graph Theory and Combinatorics Unit(s): 4
- MATH 470 - Mathematical and Statistical Modeling Unit(s): 4
- Students pursuing this minor are also strongly advised to take MATH 390.

Mathematics, Minor

Twenty units of mathematics are required. These must include MATH 161 (or its equivalent) and at least 6 units of upper-division mathematics courses, not including MATH 300A, MATH 300B, MATH 390, MATH 395, MATH 399, or MATH 490. Approval of the mathematics and statistics department should be obtained by the junior year in order to plan the minor properly.

Not including

- MATH 300A - Elementary Number Systems Unit(s): 3
- MATH 300B - Data, Chance, and Algebra Unit(s): 3
- MATH 390 - Fieldwork and Seminar: Secondary Mathematics Teaching Unit(s): 2
- MATH 399 - Practicum in Mathematics Unit(s): 1-4
- MATH 490 - Capstone Seminar: Secondary Mathematics Teaching Unit(s): 1

Statistics, Minor

Twenty units of mathematics or statistics are required, at least 6 of which must be at the upper-division level, not including MATH 300A, MATH 300B, MATH 330, MATH 375, MATH 395, or MATH 399. Courses required for the minor are MATH 165, MATH 265, either MATH 367 or MATH 381, and either MATH 445 or MATH 465. Note that both MATH 445 and MATH 465 have multiple semesters of calculus as pre-requisites. Also note that students pursuing more than one minor offered by the Department of Mathematics and Statistics may not apply the units earned in a given course towards satisfying the requirements of more than one minor. Anyone who plans to pursue the Minor in Statistics should consult with an advisor no later than the end of the sophomore year in order to plan properly.

Department Chair
 Anna Valdez

Sonoma State University's mission is reflected in the Department of Nursing's commitment to providing a foundation for lifelong learning and graduate nurses who practice within a broad cultural perspective, affirm intellectual and aesthetic achievements as a part of the human experience, develop professional leadership, foster flexibility and resilience, and contribute to the health and well-being of the world at large. The Department of Nursing recognizes nursing as a nurturing response, based upon a blend of art and science, occurring within a subjective and objective environment with the aim of developing the well-being of both nurse and client (client as individuals, families, communities, and organizations). Consistent with the philosophy and objectives is the consideration of students as unique individuals with varied ethnic and cultural backgrounds, learning styles, and goals.

The Department of Nursing provides opportunities for learning using a variety of traditional and technology-mediated strategies. Courses may be taught using webstreaming, interactive and real-time electronic communications via computer for lecture, small group and seminar discussions, self-paced and self-directed independent study, and Internet tools that support lifelong intellectual and professional development.

The Department of Nursing enjoys a collaborative relationship with the health care delivery community within its service area and beyond. Consequently there are many clinical opportunities available. Students are placed in a variety of community-based hospitals and health care agencies. Graduates of both the baccalaureate and master's programs are well prepared for careers in a variety of health care settings and roles in the community.

Sonoma State University's nursing programs are approved by the California State Board of Registered Nursing and accredited by the Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education.

Nursing, B.S.

The undergraduate nursing program provides two program options to obtain a baccalaureate degree in nursing:

- A pre-licensure program option that prepares the student to become a licensed Registered Nurse (R.N.); and
- A post-licensure program option for the licensed R.N. with an associate degree or the equivalent.

All graduates of the baccalaureate program are prepared to plan and provide patient care; to teach patients, families, and staff; and to provide leadership in the delivery of health care services. The bachelor of science in nursing program offers students an opportunity to become a liberally educated professional, qualified for certification as a public health nurse, and completely prepared for graduate education in nursing. The pre-licensure program option also prepares the graduate for the R.N. licensure examination.

Eligible applicants should visit the Department of Nursing for further information.

L.V.N. 30-Unit Option

The L.V.N. 30-unit option includes only those nursing courses required for R.N. licensure and qualifies L.V.N.s to take the NCLEX-RN., but does not earn a B.S.N.. To be admitted to the L.V.N. 30-unit option an L.V.N. must have completed 4 units of physiology and 4 units of microbiology with a grade of B or better. Admission to this option is ONLY on a "as space available" basis. Contact the department for further details.

Traditional Post-Licensure Program, B.S.

Collaborative Nursing Education Continuum Model (CNECM)

Sonoma State University offers an early start baccalaureate program track that builds on the strong foundation of associate degree nursing (ADN) education and utilizes community college transfer credits from the ADN program to meet the BSN degree requirements. The curriculum enhances existing nursing knowledge and skills with study of complex professional perspectives, multifaceted health assessment, community/public health theory and clinical, and socio-political perspectives in the health care environment.

Students begin the BSN curriculum following successful completion of the first year of their ADN program. After completion of two consecutive summers of one course each, students enter in the following fall to complete the one-year program plan of curriculums matriculated students.

Admission to the CNECM

Applicants must meet the following minimum criteria. See SSU nursing website for details.

- Must be in good standing in the first semester of an ADN program in Santa Rosa Junior College, College of Marin, Napa Valley College, Solano Community College or Mendocino College and;
- Minimum of 60 semester units of college-transferrable credit with a minimum 2.7 overall GPA and;
- Minimum of 3 semester units of college-transferable credit in chemistry, statistics (B1), and critical thinking (A3) with a grade of C or better and;
- Preference for admission will be given to applicants with the fewest number of lower division SSU GE requirements outstanding.

Continued Progress in the CNECM as Matriculated Post-Licensure Student

- Current unrestricted, California RN license prior to registration of NURS 310, NURS 412 Lecture and Practicum
- Admission to the university

Undergraduate Nursing Progression and Retention

Should a student not attain a minimum grade of C (a C- is not acceptable) in a required nursing course, the student will not be permitted to continue in the nursing major. The student may petition the faculty to repeat the course. If approval is granted, the student must receive a grade of C or better in the course when repeated. If a minimum grade of C is not attained, the student will not be eligible to continue in, or graduate from, the B.S.N. program. Only two courses in the nursing major may be repeated once.

Post-licensure BSN Degree completion time limits are specific. Refer to curriculum pattern.

Program Learning Outcomes

The graduate of Sonoma State University Department of Nursing programs will:

- Develop inter-subjective nurturing relationships that support the fulfillment of potential of client and nurse. (Caring)

- BSN- Demonstrate the integration of respect for human diversity, social justice and self in the nursing role
 - MSN- Initiate policy and practices that demonstrate the integration of respect and social justice that considers the client, the profession and nurse
 - Make informed choices through critical analysis that promote nurse/client well being. (Critical Thinking)
 - BSN- Participate in initiatives that support health promotion and disease prevention.
 - MSN- Create and implement initiatives that support health promotion and disease prevention
 - Demonstrates humanizing interactions that are grounded in the integration of the art (subjective) and science (objective) of nursing. (Communication)
 - BSN- Communicate within a team framework to promote optimal client outcomes.
 - MSN- Create a collaborative milieu in dialogue with nurses and other health care professionals to promote team decision-making
 - Exemplify moral and ethical professional standards within a framework of equitable care. (Advocacy/social justice)
 - BSN- Delineate ethical principles on which to base practice decisions
 - MSN- Advocate for the nursing profession, the organization and the global community
 - Develop directed and deliberate actions for self and clients intended to result in learning. (Teaching/Learning)
 - BSN- Demonstrate the role of the nurse in specific client centered teaching
 - MSN- Implement curriculum for client and professional centered education, and present evidence based protocols for client and staff centered education
 - Continue the process of self-transformation in the profession of nursing and in the world community. (Professionalism)
 - BSN- Commit to lifelong learning and participation in the profession
 - MSN- Contribute to the development of organizations and the advancement of the profession
 - Actualize inter-subjective choices guided by vision and commitment to the wellbeing of the client. (Leadership)
 - BSN- Participate in changes to promote improvement in patient care
 - MSN- Effect improvement of patient care outcomes, systems and policy
- 10 Department of Nursing STUDENT HANDBOOK 2019-2020
- Acquire knowledge to support theory and evidence based-practice. (Research)
 - BSN- Demonstrate the use of theoretical foundations of nursing and engagement in scholarship to guide clinical practice
 - MSN- Integrate the science of nursing, advanced knowledge and practice excellence to actualize the professional roles associates within area of role focus
 - Promote cultural sensitivity and cultural competent care that respects each individual's rights to be understood as a unique individual. (Culturally Competent)
 - BSN- Demonstrate respect for the unique care of clients in all aspects of the nurse client relationship
 - MSN- Identify and initiate changes related to system health care inequities of client populations

CNECM (CPOST) Full-Time Academic Program Plan

Full-Time Enrollment (One year for completion)

Enrollment in required nursing coursework in the pattern below is expected. Enrollment in and completion of 6 units of UDGE is individually determined based on student's remaining degree requirements and according to UDGE requirements (see Upper Division GE Guidelines). UDGE coursework included in this plan is for example only.

Summer Term Between 1st and 2nd Year of ADN Program: 4 Units

Pre-Licensure B.S.N.

The pre-licensure program consists of two components: the pre-nursing curriculum in which the student enrolls in the prerequisite courses for the nursing program and required GE; and the prelicensure curriculum ("nursing program"), in which the student is admitted on a competitive basis to take the courses required for R.N. licensure and complete requirements for the bachelor of science in nursing degree (B.S.N.).

The prerequisite and lower division courses may be taken at either Sonoma State University or another university or community college. For admission to the pre-licensure option of the B.S.N. program, SSU students must submit a supplemental application to NursingCAS during the posted application period. Transfer students must submit an application to SSU and a supplemental application to NursingCAS.

Admission to Pre-Nursing Status

(for the prelicensure option)

Students applying directly from high school must meet the following criteria:

- Standard SSU admission criteria;
- High school chemistry and biology with a grade of B or better in all semesters;
- Overall high school GPA of 3.5 or better; and
- Eligibility Index (www.sonoma.edu/nursing)
- Students who do not meet the criteria listed above will automatically be listed as "undeclared" if a second major choice is not selected.

Admission to the Pre-Licensure Program / Nursing Major

(final two years of degree program)

Nursing is an impacted program and therefore requires a supplemental application to NursingCAS in addition to the application to Sonoma State University. Students applying for admission to the prelicensure program must upload to NursingCAS:

- Transcript verification of completion of GE categories A (Written and Oral Analysis, Fundamentals of Communication, and Critical Thinking) and B (Natural Sciences and Mathematics [Statistics required for Nursing]);
- Overall GPA of 3.00 or higher;
- Grade of "B" or better in all the following prerequisite courses at SSU or equivalent:

Course	SSU Offering
Anatomy	BIOL 220
Critical Thinking	Category A3
Integrated Chemistry	CHEM 105
English Composition	Category A2
Oral Communication	Category A1
Physiology	BIOL 224
Microbiology	BIOL 240
Statistics	MATH 165

- Results of the Test of Essential Academic Skills (TEAS); and
- Essay (criteria are included in the application packet).

Requirements for the Pre-Licensure B.S.N. Units

General education	*48
Major requirements	59

Community college transfer students must meet the following criteria:

- Standard SSU transfer criteria;
 - B or better in all nursing prerequisite science courses; and
 - Overall college GPA of 3.00 or higher
 - SSU only accepts transfers into the nursing major
 - Preference is given to applicants in local service area of surrounding counties of Sonoma, Lake, Marin, Mendocino, Napa, and Solano, pre-nursing SSU students and veterans
- *Admission requirements, policies and other information related to the pre-licensure BSN program in Nursing can be found at: www.sonoma.edu/nursing/bsm-pre/index.html

Traditional Post-Licensure Program, B.S.

This program is currently not accepting applications.

Sonoma State University's baccalaureate program also offers an upper-division option designed to articulate with community college Associate Degree Nursing (A.D.N.) programs. The SSU program provides upper-division education for registered nurses fostering expanded, evidence-based practice and function with increased independence and leadership in a variety of settings.

R.N.s who have attended a hospital (diploma) program should contact a community college with an R.N. program to obtain equivalent credit for their diploma program (30 ungraded lower-division nursing units) and to complete the community college's general education requirements for an A.A./A.S. degree.

Admission to the Traditional Post-Licensure B.S.N. Program

Applicants must meet the following minimum criteria. Under impaction status additional criteria may apply. See SSU Nursing website for details.

- Current unrestricted California licensure as a Registered Nurse. (Recent A.D.N. graduates who have not yet received California R.N. licensure but who otherwise meet admission requirements will be accepted on a conditional basis pending National Council Licensing Examination (NCLEX) results. Failure to pass NCLEX disqualifies the student from the nursing major – but not from the University – until such time as a passing score is obtained.);
- Sixty semester units of college-transferable credit with an overall GPA of 2.7 or better: 30 units should meet California State University general education requirements, including areas A (English Composition, Speech, and Critical Thinking) and B4 (Statistics required); 30 units must be credit for lower-division nursing coursework;
- Minimum of 3 semester units of college-transferable credit in chemistry with a grade of C or better; and
- Human anatomy and physiology within the past 10 years or direct clinical nursing experience within the past two years.

Nursing- Family Nurse Practitioner, M.S.

The goal of the graduate curriculum is to provide advanced professional education to nurses with a B.S.N. or equivalent. The graduate degree in nursing is designed to respond to society's needs for professional nurses who influence the structure of emerging patterns of health care practice and delivery. Specialization in an area of nursing practice or function enables graduates to effectively address current and future societal health needs. Graduates support the development and refinement of nursing science by assuming advanced clinical and leadership roles within the profession and by participating in research and other scholarly activities.

SSU offers specialization as a family nurse practitioner (F.N.P.), with emphasis on advanced clinical primary care practice.

Application Procedures

The standard CSU application must be submitted for admission to SSU. In addition, applicants must:

- Meet the minimum admissions requirements;
- Submit a supplemental application form; to NursingCAS

Applicants who have received their B.S.N. from SSU also need to submit a standard CSU application and supplemental nursing application to apply for graduate standing at SSU.

Family Nurse Practitioner Program

The purpose of the family nurse practitioner specialty option is to prepare registered nurses with a bachelor's degree in nursing for advanced clinical practice with an emphasis on promoting individual and family wellness. The F.N.P. specialty focuses upon the theoretical and scientific bases for the assessment, diagnosis, and management of common illness as well as health teaching, counseling, and preventive services. Emphasis is placed upon advanced clinical skills that include history-taking, physical examination, health screening, management of common illnesses, and techniques of prevention and risk reduction. Graduates may work in clinics, health maintenance organizations, schools, and medical practices as primary health care providers.

Admission Requirements

- B.S.N. degree;
- GPA of 3.00 in the last two years (60 units) of undergraduate or postgraduate study;
- Current unrestricted California licensure as a registered nurse;
- Completion of a course in statistics in college career;
- Two years of full-time experience as an R.N. preferred.

Curriculum Features

Students and faculty share responsibility for finding an acceptable preceptor. Content includes health needs and risks of all family members, family theories, and legal and professional issues pertinent to nurse practitioners. Content taken concurrently with the clinical sequences includes advanced health assessment and health risk assessment of individuals and families, pathophysiological concepts in diagnosis and treatment of common illness, pharmacology, and practice issues pertinent to nurse practitioners.

Students complete a comprehensive exam for the culminating experience that serves as evidence of the successful integration of the diverse content areas in the curriculum.

The SSU family nurse practitioner specialty option meets criteria specified in Section 1484, Title 16, of the California Administrative Code and is approved by the California State Board of Registered Nursing.

The M.S.N. F.N.P. curriculum is 46 units, students progress from basic advanced practice skills to more complex skills. Each semester has a clinical skills component.

Graduate Nursing Progression and Retention

Should a graduate nursing student not attain a minimum grade of B- (a C+ is not acceptable) in a required graduate nursing course, the student will not be permitted to continue in the program. The student may petition the faculty to repeat the course. If approval is granted, the student must receive a grade of B- or better in the course when repeated. If a minimum grade of B- is not attained, the student will not be eligible to continue in, or graduate from, the M.S.N. program. Please see the MSN web page for information regarding admission requirements, policies, and other information

Program Learning Outcomes

The graduate of Sonoma State University Department of Nursing programs will:

- Develop inter-subjective nurturing relationships that support the fulfillment of potential of client and nurse. (Caring)
- BSN- Demonstrate the integration of respect for human diversity, social justice and self in the nursing role
- MSN- Initiate policy and practices that demonstrate the integration of respect and social justice that considers the client, the profession and nurse
- Make informed choices through critical analysis that promote nurse/client well being. (Critical Thinking)
- BSN- Participate in initiatives that support health promotion and disease prevention.
- MSN- Create and implement initiatives that support health promotion and disease prevention
- Demonstrates humanizing interactions that are grounded in the integration of the art (subjective) and science (objective) of nursing. (Communication)
- BSN- Communicate within a team framework to promote optimal client outcomes.
- MSN- Create a collaborative milieu in dialogue with nurses and other health care professionals to promote team decision-making
- Exemplify moral and ethical professional standards within a framework of equitable care. (Advocacy/social justice)
- BSN- Delineate ethical principles on which to base practice decisions
- MSN- Advocate for the nursing profession, the organization and the global community
- Develop directed and deliberate actions for self and clients intended to result in learning. (Teaching/Learning)
- BSN- Demonstrate the role of the nurse in specific client centered teaching
- MSN- Implement curriculum for client and professional centered education, and present evidence based protocols for client and staff centered education
- Continue the process of self-transformation in the profession of nursing and in the world community. (Professionalism)
- BSN- Commit to lifelong learning and participation in the professio

- MSN- Contribute to the development of organizations and the advancement of the profession
- Actualize inter-subjective choices guided by vision and commitment to the wellbeing of the client. (Leadership)
- BSN- Participate in changes to promote improvement in patient care
- MSN- Effect improvement of patient care outcomes, systems and policy 10 Department of Nursing STUDENT HANDBOOK 2019-2020
- Acquire knowledge to support theory and evidence based-practice. (Research)
- BSN- Demonstrate the use of theoretical foundations of nursing and engagement in scholarship to guide clinical practice
- MSN- Integrate the science of nursing, advanced knowledge and practice excellence to actualize the professional roles associates within area of role focus
- Promote cultural sensitivity and cultural competent care that respects each individual's rights to be understood as a unique individual. (Culturally Competent)
- BSN- Demonstrate respect for the unique care of clients in all aspects of the nurse client relationship
- MSN- Identify and initiate changes related to system health care inequities of client populations

Full-time Curriculum Plan

Master of Science in Nursing - Family Nurse Practitioner

The sequence below is for full-time students. A part-time sequence that can be completed in six semesters follows below.

Year 1: 21 Units

Fall Semester (11 Units)

- NURS 501 - Health Promotion: Righting Disparities Unit(s): 4
- NURS 509 - Advanced Health Assessment Unit(s): 4
- NURS 549 - Health Promotion Practice in Primary Care Unit(s): 3

Spring Semester (10 Units)

- NURS 540A - Pathophysiological Concepts in Primary Care I Unit(s): 3
- NURS 550A - Clinical Practice in Primary Care I Unit(s): 4
- NURS 552 - Pharmacology in Primary Care Unit(s): 3

Year 2: 25 Units

Fall Semester (11 Units)

- NURS 540B - Pathophysiologic Concepts in Primary Care II Unit(s): 3
- NURS 550B - Clinical Practice in Primary Care II Unit(s): 4
- NURS 560 - Research and Theory Applied to Primary Care Unit(s): 4

Spring Semester (14 Units)

- NURS 550C - Clinical Practice in Primary Care III Unit(s): 4
- NURS 562 - Advanced Practice in Primary Care Systems Unit(s): 4
- NURS 564 - Health Policy and Advocacy in Primary Care Unit(s): 4
- NURS 566 - Culminating Experience Unit(s): 2

About Physics

Physics is the most fundamental of all the scientific disciplines. Ranging from the applied to the abstract, from the infinitesimal to the infinite, and from quarks to the cosmos, the study of physics seeks to explain all the complicated phenomena in the natural world by providing a description of these phenomena in terms of a few basic principles and laws.

Physicists also use their knowledge of fundamental principles to solve concrete problems. Problems in understanding and utilizing the properties of semiconductors and other materials; in designing and building lasers, photonics, and telecommunications devices; and in designing and using instrumentation such as adaptive optics for astrophysics, are typically solved using the techniques of physics. Such applied physics problems often have a significant overlap with topics and techniques in engineering and computational physics. Indeed, many of the department's graduates are currently employed in engineering or computationally oriented positions.

In their most abstract work, physicists seek a unified mathematical description of the four known forces of nature (gravitation, electricity and magnetism, and the weak and strong nuclear forces). This quest for the "Theory of Everything" eluded Einstein and is continued today by many physicists, including those who study superstring theory. The ultimate goal is to correctly predict the fundamental forces and the masses and interactions of the elementary particles from which all matter is formed.

The department offers a traditional, mathematically rigorous program leading to a B.S. in physics; a B.S. in physics with a concentration in astrophysics; and a flexible B.A. program with two advisory plans (algebra and trigonometry or calculus). All programs stress fundamental concepts and techniques, offer an unusually rich laboratory experience and intensive use of computers, and require a capstone course as a culminating experience. Capstone projects may include experimental design, instructional design, or undergraduate research—personalized and unique opportunities to demonstrate the skills and knowledge acquired in the major.

The department is housed in Darwin Hall, which is well equipped with lower-division teaching laboratories and facilities for intermediate and advanced laboratory courses, undergraduate research, special studies and capstone projects. The Darwin facilities include thin film fabrication systems such as thermal evaporation and electrodeposition, a Hall measurement system, an adaptive optics and astronomical instrumentation development laboratory, a 3D-printer, and laboratories for building and testing small satellites (CubeSats). Physics majors also use the multidisciplinary Keck Microanalysis Laboratory in Salazar Hall which includes a scanning electron microscope, atomic force microscopes, an x-ray diffractometer, and a confocal microscope. A new campus makerspace is also available for student use.

A substantial program in undergraduate astronomy includes many courses, listed in this catalog under Astronomy, which may be included in the B.A. or B.S. degree programs in physics. The department operates a teaching observatory on the SSU campus and a NASA-funded remotely operated research observatory at a darker site in northern Sonoma County. Students and faculty also have access to time on an adaptive optics-equipped 1-m telescope in Southern California. Students are strongly encouraged to use all of the above facilities for special studies, undergraduate research and capstone projects.

About Astronomy

Astronomy, offered as a minor in the Department of Physics and Astronomy, is the study of the planets, stars, and galaxies in the universe beyond the earth's atmosphere. The fields of astronomy and astrophysics, the application of physics principles to astronomical observations, today deal with essential questions, such as the origin and nature of the "Big Bang;" the subsequent creation of matter and the chemical elements; the eventual formation and evolution of structure in the universe; and the life cycles of stars, including the tremendous explosions which are often their death knells and can lead to the formation of black holes. Modern astronomy leans heavily on the concepts and techniques of physics and mathematics. Astronomers use ground and space-based instruments that detect photons spanning the electromagnetic spectrum, as well as particles such as cosmic rays or neutrinos. An emerging branch of astronomy seeks to correct the effect of the Earth's turbulent atmosphere using adaptive optics, thus providing "sharper" views of the universe. As a result of astronomy's cosmic scope and dependence on physics, degrees in astronomy are generally granted at the graduate level. The minor in astronomy, with a B.S. in physics, is an excellent preparation for graduate study in astronomy or astrophysics.

Careers in Astronomy

Career fields for which an astronomy minor would be beneficial include aerospace, astronomy, atmospheric science, education, planetary geology, and geophysics.

A variety of courses are available within the minor, including intermediate and advanced laboratory work that utilizes the department's two observatories, and a number of descriptive courses for students whose major interests lie in other fields.

The SSU Campus Observatory reopened in a new building in the fall of 2017. It houses two telescopes: a 14-inch Schmidt-Cassegrain and a 10-inch Newtonian. Both are computer controlled, and can be equipped with auxiliary instrumentation for CCD imaging and spectroscopy. A NASA-funded research observatory, located in the darker skies of northern Sonoma County includes a remote controlled and operated 14-inch telescope, equipped with a high-efficiency CCD detector and a filter wheel. Equipment available for observational work in astronomy by SSU students is ideally suited for studying objects that vary in time and space. This includes pulsating, eclipsing and cataclysmic star systems, the variable nuclei of active galaxies (such as quasars and blazars), gamma-ray bursts, and extrasolar planetary systems that exhibit planetary transits. Our equipment is also well-suited for follow-up observations of Near Earth Objects, which may threaten life on Earth.

The department houses a laboratory for experimental astrophysics research, where students can test and build cameras, spectrometers and other equipment for SSU's telescopes. The laboratory includes an Adaptive Optics testbed, which uses advanced technology to measure and sharpen images. The department partnered with Pomona College to construct KAPAO, a remotely operable adaptive optics system for a 1-meter telescope at Table Mountain Observatory in Southern California. Access to optical and near-infrared diffraction-limited imaging brings additional research opportunities to our students.

In November 2013, the Department launched its first CubeSat, T-LogoQube. This student-designed and built small satellite is the first in a series of planned space missions being built by SSU students.

The on-campus observatory is used by students in laboratory and lecture courses, and all the astronomical facilities described above are available for faculty and student research projects.

All students are strongly encouraged to participate in the ongoing research programs of the department, and/or to propose student-initiated research programs.

Physical Science, B.A.

The discipline of Physical Science is concerned with the study of the physical world around us. It primarily concerns non-living systems and includes the fields of Physics, Astronomy, Chemistry, and Geology. The Bachelor of Arts in Physical Science is a flexible STEM degree with a strong Liberal Arts basis. All students in the major take not only several courses in algebra and trigonometry-based physics, but also an array of courses in other fields of Physical Science and related Natural Science. The general program is very flexible, allowing students to choose Physical Science electives most relevant to their individual career goals. Alternatively, there are two optional concentrations: Teaching and Foundational Health. The Teaching concentration is intended for students working to teach Foundational General Science. Students will only be admitted to the Foundational Health concentration if they have already completed BIOL 115 or BIOL 110, BIOL 220, and BIOL 224. This concentration is intended for students interested in blending their Health background with a broad Physical Science education.

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the program, students should be able to:

- Display a broad range of knowledge of the physical sciences: physics, astronomy, chemistry, and geology.
- Utilize a variety of experimental methods, both in acquiring data and analyzing it.
- Effectively communicate science, both in written and oral format.
- Employ critical reasoning in analyzing and making conclusions about a physical system.
- Understand and follow best practices for the responsible conduct of scientific research.

Degree Requirements

See the "Degree Requirements" in the University Catalog for complete details on general degree requirements.

General Education Requirements (48 units)

See the "General Education Program" requirements in the University Catalog for information on General Education requirements. Some major requirements may double count for GE requirements.

Career Opportunities

The B.A. in Physical Science is designed to produce STEM qualified graduates, prepared to enter a profession in the technical workforce (e.g. entrepreneur, technical engineer, environmental health and safety inspector, quality assurance professional, technical assistant). Its interdisciplinary liberal arts basis also allows graduates to enter related fields, such as Programmer/Analyst, Science/Technical Writer, Consultant, Marketing Professional, Manager, etc. The concentration in Teaching is designed to prepare students to continue to a credential program and ultimately teach Foundational Science. The concentration in Foundational Health is intended for students to leverage their interest in health combined with physical science to further their pursuit of careers within the broader health and related fields (e.g. Physician Assistant, Medical Dosimetrist, Medical Laboratory Technician, etc.).

Program Elective Requirements

The major must include a minimum of 12 upper-division units in physics and astronomy; with an advisor, choose 6-8 units in additional upper-division physics and astronomy courses.

BA in Physical Science (without listed concentration)

The general B.A. Physical Science degree provides flexibility to select additional courses. In addition to the Physical Science Core Requirements, with the help of an advisor, choose at least 30 units in the Physical Sciences and related Natural Science (see approved list). It is required that this include at least 3-units in CHEM and 3-units in GEOL.

Concentrations

Physical Science with Concentration in Teaching, B.A.

Physical Science with Concentration in Foundational Health, B.A.

Physics, B.A.

The B.A. program allows considerable flexibility for the student who wishes to study physics as part of a liberal arts education. Two advisory plans are offered:

Program Learning Outcomes

Students are required to demonstrate:

- Knowledge, understanding and use of the principles of physics and/or astronomy
- Ability to use reasoning and logic to define a problem in terms of principles of physics
- Ability to use mathematics and computer applications to solve physics and/or astronomy problems
- Ability to design and/or conduct experiments and/or observations using principles of physics and/or astronomy and physics or astronomical instrumentation
- Ability to properly analyze and interpret data and experimental uncertainty in order to make meaningful comparisons between experimental measurements or observation and theory
- Effectiveness in communication of science, including reading with understanding, and both written and oral communication

Degree Requirements

See the "Degree Requirements" in the University Catalog for complete details on general degree requirements.

General Education Requirements (48 units)

See the "General Education Program" requirements in the University Catalog for information on General Education requirements. Some major requirements may double count for GE requirements.

Bachelor of Arts in Physics with Advisory Plan C

This plan uses calculus. Students who choose this, the more popular B.A. advisory plan, have the prerequisites to take nearly all of the courses in the department. They find employment in scientific and engineering fields. Some go on to graduate school in interdisciplinary sciences. This degree program is appropriate for those who wish to earn a California Science Teaching Credential with a concentration in Physics.

Major Core Requirements

The major must include a minimum of 24 upper-division units in physics and astronomy; with an advisor, choose 13-15 units in additional upper-division physics and astronomy courses. PHYS 100 may be used to substitute for an advanced Physics elective course.

- PHYS 114 - Introduction to Physics I Unit(s): 4 (may be applied to GE)
- PHYS 116 - Introductory Laboratory Experience Unit(s): 1 (may be applied to GE)
- PHYS 214 - Introduction to Physics II Unit(s): 4
- PHYS 216 - Introductory Laboratory Unit(s): 1
- PHYS 314 - Introduction to Physics III Unit(s): 4
- PHYS 340 - Light and Student Optionics Unit(s): 3

Choose one of the following two programming courses:

- PHYS 381 - Computer Applications for Scientists Unit(s): 2
- CS 115 - Programming I Unit(s): 4

Capstone course; One of the following:

- ASTR 492 - Instructional Design Project Unit(s): 2
- ASTR 497 - Undergraduate Research in Astronomy Unit(s): 2
- PHYS 492 - Instructional Design Project Unit(s): 2
- PHYS 493 - Senior Design Project Unit(s): 2
- PHYS 497 - Undergraduate Research in Physics Unit(s): 2

Required Area of Concentration

Courses in one other field, chosen in consultation with an advisor.

Supporting Courses

- MATH 161 - Differential and Integral Calculus I Unit(s): 4 (3 units may be applied in GE)

- MATH 211 - Differential and Integral Calculus II Unit(s): 4
- MATH 261 - Multivariable Calculus Unit(s): 4

Units

Total units in the major core: 34-38

Total units in area of concentration: 12

Total units in supporting courses: 12

Total units in the major and supporting courses (up to 9 may be applied in GE): 58 - 62

Physics, B.S.

The B.S. program is a thorough introduction to the principles of physics, providing a strong foundation for graduate study or industrial research. It is also intended for those students who wish to prepare for interdisciplinary studies on the graduate level in fields such as astronomy, atmospheric science, biophysics, environmental science, geophysics, materials science, and physical oceanography

Program Learning Outcomes

Students are required to demonstrate:

- Knowledge, understanding and use of the principles of physics and/or astronomy
- Ability to use reasoning and logic to define a problem in terms of principles of physics
- Ability to use mathematics and computer applications to solve physics and/or astronomy problems

- Ability to design and/or conduct experiments and/or observations using principles of physics and/or astronomy and physics or astronomical instrumentation

Astrophysics Concentration

Return to Physics, B.S. .

Students may earn a B.S. in physics with a concentration in astrophysics. This program is intended for those students who desire an emphasis on studying the physical processes of astronomical objects in the Universe. It provides a rigorous background in physics with a combination of theoretical and observational studies of planets, stars and galaxies. It is a good choice for students who wish to continue their studies in graduate astronomy programs, or who wish to work in positions at observatories, laboratories and governmental agencies. It is also an appropriate degree for science educators, and science journalists.

See Physics, B.S. . for the core requirements of the degree, below are requirements unique to the Astrophysics concentration.

Astrophysics Concentration Requirements: 8 Units

- ASTR 100 - Descriptive Astronomy Unit(s): 3 OR
- ASTR 150 - Astronomy for Scientists Unit(s): 3

- ASTR 331 - Astronomical Imaging Unit(s): 2
- ASTR 380 - Astrophysics: Stars Unit(s): 3

Astronomy, Minor

Completion of a minimum of 20 units in astronomy and physical or life science courses, at least 12 of which must be in astronomy, constitutes a minor in astronomy. Courses that are used to meet core requirements in a student's major may not be used toward the minor in astronomy. Required supporting courses for the major may be used. Interested students should consult with an advisor in the Department of Physics and Astronomy.

Physics, Minor

Completion of a minimum of 20 units in physics courses, including not more than one first course or more than one second course, constitutes a minor in physics. (First courses are PHYS 100, PHYS 210A, and PHYS 114, and their equivalents taught elsewhere. Second courses are PHYS 210B, PHYS 214, and their equivalents.) Interested students should consult with the advisor in the Department of Physics and Astronomy.

School of Social Sciences

Troi Carlton, Dean
Stevenson Hall 2078
(707) 664-3107

The social sciences are united by the study of human behavior, society and social relationships. To comprehend adequately the state of the human condition, the interaction of people with their social and physical environments – past, present, and future – must be examined. Social scientists use their knowledge to contribute to the advancement of human and environmental welfare.

The School of Social Sciences at Sonoma State prepares students for living and working in an increasingly complex, globalized world. Our students (a) become familiar with the drivers and effects of globalization across time and in specific places, (b) examine cultural, economic, political, and environmental inter-relationships and behaviors, (c) learn how different cultures at different times organize themselves to deal with social groups beyond themselves, (d) develop skills in working with others, complex problem solving, critical thinking, and communication, and (e) explore the inter-relationships between individuals and their wider world, both social and environmental, and how each shapes and informs the other across lifespans and generations. Our School and its departments provide students with many opportunities to apply this knowledge in real-world settings.

Our School encompasses a particularly interesting combination of departments and programs. A student can choose from a variety of opportunities, ranging from the core of "traditional" social science fields with an emphasis on understanding human behavior and applying this knowledge (anthropology, history, political science, psychology, and sociology), to various cross-disciplinary programs (geography, environment and planning, women's and gender studies, and human development), to programs with a professional emphasis (counseling, criminology and criminal justice studies, and public administration).

The school oversees several respected centers and institutes, including the Anthropological Studies Center, the Center for Holocaust and Genocide Studies, the Northwest Information Center, the Center for Interdisciplinary Geospatial Analysis, the Institute for Community Planning Assistance, and the Center for Sustainable Communities. These centers and institutes generate a number of contracts and grants that come to the University and provide paid student internships on a large variety of applied projects.

Students in the social sciences have opportunities to work with faculty engaged in scholarship across varied domains including primatology, archaeology, human services, demography, cross-cultural and multicultural competence, globalization, development, social justice, and energy studies.

The School of Social Sciences is dedicated to achieving the University's strategic priorities of student success, academic excellence, leadership cultivation, and transformative impact. Our programs embody the University's core values of (a) diversity and social justice, (b) sustainability and environmental inquiry, (c) connectivity and community engagement, and (d) adaptivity and responsiveness.

Anthropology

Department of Anthropology
Schulz Information Center, 2050 North

Department Chair
Richard J. Senghas, Ph.D.

For faculty information, please see Faculty or the Anthropology faculty web page.

Anthropology as a discipline studies the foundations and forms of human social and cultural diversity, past and present, via biology and behavior, language and material culture. Anthropology as a practice seeks to apply this knowledge to the solution of human problems. Anthropologists study how human beings have come to be as they are, a physically distinct species, communicating through language, adapted to every habitat on earth, and living an amazing variety of lives. As anthropologists have become increasingly engaged with the contemporary world, they have led in the development of new global and local perspectives on how culturally different peoples interact in contexts of power and inequality, and how humans continuously transform their ways of life in response to environmental and social change.

For the members of Sonoma State University anthropology faculty, research and teaching are inseparable. The Anthropology department encourages both graduate and undergraduate students to meet professional standards of achievement in their work and research. The faculty assists students in developing and executing individual research projects. Students often present the results of their work in professional meetings, juried research publications and public documents.

Through training in anthropology, students learn about many different cultures throughout the world, how they developed, the significance of their differences, and how they change over time. Students develop a set of skills for applying broad, integrative perspective to both themselves and others.

Anthropology integrates this broad, holistic human science across four major subfields:

- Biological Anthropology deals with the evolution of the human body, mind, and behavior as inferred through study of fossils and human remains and comparisons with behavior and anatomy of other primate species.
- Archaeology examines our past ways of life through the interpretation of material remains, written records, and oral traditions.
- Cultural Anthropology explores the diversity of existing human ways of life, how they work, how they change, and how they interrelate in the modern world.
- Linguistic Anthropology examines the structure and diversity of language and related human communication systems, how these forms of communication interrelate with other sociocultural phenomena, and how these forms change over time.

Students of anthropology acquire skill in the formation of both theoretical and practical questions regarding human life, in collecting and organizing data on many levels of human biology and behavior, and in constructing appropriate interpretations and generalizations based on well thought out procedures. The combination of knowledge about human ways of life and training in analytical skills affords experiences that are crucial to any field dealing with human society and culture. This perspective is invaluable in preparing students for careers either in research professions or in a wide range of professional fields, including cultural resources management, environmental planning, nursing, teaching, public health administration, business, public relations, law, community development, and international service.

The bachelor of arts in anthropology provides a balanced grounding in the theoretical approaches and the body of knowledge central to the discipline of anthropology. The anthropology program also combines well with majors and minors in other departments and programs. The minor in anthropology recognizes basic training in anthropology as a complement to a major in other subjects. Faculty advisors in the department can help students plan a course of study to take advantage of this multidisciplinary strategy.

Careers in Anthropology

As stated on the American Anthropological Association website: "Anthropological study provides training particularly well suited to the 21st century. The economy will be increasingly international; work forces and markets, increasingly diverse; participatory management and decision making, increasingly important; communication skills, increasingly in demand. Anthropology is the only contemporary discipline that approaches human questions from historical, biological, linguistic, and cultural perspectives." Professional anthropologists are employed in government, in the business world, in education, and in a wide range of nonprofit organizations and institutions

For example:

- Cultural anthropologists are employed in a wide range of settings including government agencies from the local to national levels, international organizations such as the World Bank, non-governmental agencies, private industry, academia, and others. They work on issues including economic development, natural resource management, tourism, environmental preservation, globalization, and many others.
- Archaeologists are employed by a host of federal and state agencies charged with locating and preserving sites that contain information about our own prehistoric and historic past. They work with a variety of descendant communities in a wide range of settings, from inner cities to wilderness areas.
- Biological anthropologists work in a variety of settings, including medical schools (as anatomists), medical research facilities (as medical geneticists and physiologists), in cultural resources management (as bioarchaeologists), in crime laboratories (as forensic anthropologists), and in zoos (as designers of captive habitats) and nature conservancies (as conservationists studying critically endangered primate species).
- Linguistic anthropologists are active and helpful in the design, evaluation, and implementation of curricula for teaching languages, whether to linguistic minorities who do not speak dominant languages or to those whose linguistic capacities differ. Linguistic anthropologists have addressed issues of language death and language revitalization, and the roles of language in sociocultural identities.

You can explore careers in anthropology further on the American Anthropological Association's careers website.

The department also offers a master of arts degree in Cultural Resources Management (CRM). This is a professional field that involves the identification, evaluation, and preservation of cultural resources within legal and planning contexts. The primary objective of the master's program is to produce professionals competent in research design and data collection and analysis, as well as the legal mandates of North American CRM. Program graduates work as historic preservation specialists, environmental planners, and archaeologists for government agencies and as private consultants.

Anthropology Department Resources

Anthropological Studies Center

The department's Anthropological Studies Center (ASC) provides students with the opportunity to participate in prehistoric and historical archaeology, geoarchaeology, the conservation and analysis of archaeological materials, local history, and public outreach in the context of grant and contract-aided research projects. The Center has more than 5,000 square feet of archaeological laboratory and curation facilities and is supported by a professional staff. Internships are offered every semester.

David Fredrickson Anthropology Laboratory

The department's anthropology laboratory has a computer configured for linguistic applications, including the analysis and transcription of audio and video data. In addition, the department's human skeletal material and fossil cast collections (which include cranial and post-cranial material) are also housed in the anthropology lab and are regularly used in biological anthropology courses. This lab is often used for methods courses.

Other resources include an active Anthropology Club, an Anthropology Lounge and Library, and computer services.

The Anthropology Lounge and Library, and the David Fredrickson Anthropology Laboratory are not available during the Stevenson Hall renovations. However, the collections and equipment have been temporarily relocated and continue to be used for teaching and research during the interim.

Anthropology Scholarships

The Conni Miller Memorial Scholarship is available to all Anthropology majors. Students conducting primate behavior research can apply for a Marcia K. Brown memorial primatology scholarship. Contact the Scholarship Office for information.

Anthropology, B.A.

The Anthropology major at Sonoma State University teaches students about humans and their societies throughout the world, how they developed, the significance of their differences, and how they change over time. By taking courses in all four subfields (archaeology, biological anthropology, cultural anthropology, and linguistic anthropology), students learn to formulate theoretical and practical questions, and collect, organize, and interpret data. The combination of knowledge about human ways of life and training in analytical skills are crucial to any field dealing with human biology, society, and culture. This perspective is invaluable in preparing students for careers in a wide range of professional fields, including cultural resources management, environmental planning, education, public health, business, law, community development, and international service.

Note: A maximum of 12 transfer units in lower-division courses can be used to complete the 40-unit anthropology major options and advisory plans.

 Students must earn a C- or better in any course applied to the major.*

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the program, students should have:

- An appreciation for the comparative perspective that uniquely allows anthropologists to explore the forms and foundations of human social, cultural, biological, and linguistic diversity, past and present.
- An ability to integrate the four major subfields of anthropology – sociocultural, biological, archaeology and linguistic – via holistic and contextualized interpretations of evidence.
- An understanding of how anthropological perspectives, methods, and theories came to be, and how their application can contribute to solving the issues and controversies of our time.
- Competence in the qualitative and quantitative methods of at least one anthropological subfield, and the ability to apply these methods to real-world scenarios.
- An awareness of the ethical issues involved in anthropological inquiry, scholarship, professional practice, and public citizenship, at the level of local communities and our increasingly globalized world.
- An ability to critically locate, understand, evaluate, and synthesize anthropological scholarly materials, and to communicate resulting interpretations orally and in writing, individually and collaboratively.

Degree Requirements

See the "Degree Requirements" in the University Catalog for complete details on general degree requirements.

General Education Requirements (48 units)

See the "General Education Program" requirements in the University Catalog for information on General Education requirements. Some major requirements may double count for GE requirements.

Major Core Requirements

Complete the following four introductory courses.

The introductory course should be completed prior to enrolling in the respective upper division subfield course.

- ANTH 200 - Introduction to Linguistic Anthropology Unit(s): 3
- ANTH 201 - Introduction to Biological Anthropology Unit(s): 3
- ANTH 202 - Introduction to Archaeology Unit(s): 3
- ANTH 203 - Introduction to Cultural Anthropology Unit(s): 3

Complete the following synthesis course during the first year of upper-division instruction:

- ANTH 300 - Nature, Culture, and Theory: The Growth of Anthropology Unit(s): 4

Complete one course from each of the four subfields of anthropology and a methods course as listed below.

The respective introductory course listed above should be completed prior to enrolling in an upper division course.

Complete one of the following courses in Biological Anthropology:

* At least one such course offered each semester.

- ANTH 301 - Human Fossils and Evolution Unit(s): 4
- ANTH 302 - The Evolution of Males and Females Unit(s): 4
- ANTH 303 - Human Behavioral Ecology Unit(s): 4
- ANTH 305 - Topics in Biological Anthropology Unit(s): 4
- ANTH 313 - Primate Behavioral Ecology Unit(s): 4
- ANTH 315 - Forensic Anthropology Theory and Practice Unit(s): 4

Complete one of the following courses in Archaeology:

* At least one such course offered each semester.

- ANTH 321 - Archaeology of Contact and Colonization Unit(s): 4.00
- ANTH 322 - Historical Archaeology Unit(s): 4
- ANTH 324 - Archaeology and the Bible Unit(s): 4
- ANTH 326 - Topics in Archaeology Unit(s): 4
- ANTH 327 - Archaeology of North America Unit(s): 4
- ANTH 328 - New Technologies in Archaeology and Cultural Heritage Unit(s): 4.00
- ANTH 329 - Bioarchaeology Unit(s): 4
- ANTH 392 - Research in California Prehistory Unit(s): 4

Complete one of the following courses in Cultural Anthropology:

* At least one such course offered each semester.

- ANTH 345 - Nature and Society: Topics in Anthropology and the Environment Unit(s): 4

- ANTH 352 - Global Issues Unit(s): 4
- ANTH 358 - Topics in Sociocultural Anthropology Unit(s): 4

Complete one of the following courses in Linguistic Anthropology:

* At least one such course offered each semester.

- ANTH 380 - Language, Culture, and Society Unit(s): 4
- ANTH 382 - Language Change Unit(s): 4
- ANTH 383 - Language in Sociopolitical Context Unit(s): 4
- ANTH 384 - Topics in Linguistic Anthropology Unit(s): 3-4
- ANTH 386 - Sign Languages and Signing Communities Unit(s): 4

Complete one course from the list of methods courses below:

* At least one such course offered each semester.

- ANTH 412 - Human Osteology Unit(s): 4
- ANTH 414 - Observing Primate Behavior Unit(s): 4
- ANTH 415 - Forensic Anthropology Methods Unit(s): 4
- ANTH 451 - Applied Ethnographic Methods Unit(s): 4
- ANTH 454 - Ethnographic Field School Unit(s): 4
- ANTH 480 - Studies of Language Use Unit(s): 4

Complete the following course the fall semester prior to graduation:

- ANTH 491 - Senior Seminar Unit(s): 1

Major Electives

To complete the 40-unit requirement for the major, students must choose the remaining units from other anthropology courses, including courses listed above or ANTH 240, ANTH 318, ANTH 341, or SSCI 299. Anthropology units in internship, special studies, and the community involvement program may be included.

First Year Advising Guide

Sample Four-Year Program

The Four year Plan is a sample study plan. The sequence and specific courses given are suggestive; please see an advisor each semester to plan your personal program and track your progress using the Academic Requirements Report (ARR) in MYSSU.

Courses may be interchanged fall and spring semester depending on course offering each semester.

General Education Notes:

- GE Areas A2 and B4 should be completed by the end of the first year. Some students may take year-long courses for GE A2 and/or B4.
- GE Area A1 and A3 should be completed by the end of the second year
- Students should enroll in Upper Division GE courses after completion of Areas A1, A2, A3, and B4 with a C- or better, lower division GE in that area, and 45 units total.
- Not all First-Year Learning Communities (FLC's) meet the same GE areas.
- GE Area D must be taken in two different subject areas across the nine total required units in lower division (LD) and upper division (UD).
- Students must take American Institution requirements in U.S. History and U.S. Constitution/California State and Local Government. These requirements may be met in GE.

Cultural Resources Management, M.A.

The master of arts in Cultural Resources Management (CRM) involves the identification, evaluation, and preservation of cultural resources, as mandated by cultural resources legislation and guided by scientific standards within the planning process. A key goal of the master's program in CRM is to produce graduates who excel in the methods and techniques employed by heritage professionals, and who have the theoretical background necessary for research design, data collection, analysis, and interpretation.

Persons with an M.A. in CRM will be qualified to hold management and supervisory positions within all sectors of the heritage industry. Graduates meet the qualifications for professional certification in the United States, but are also well grounded in international heritage legislation and practice.

The CRM program emphasizes:

- Experience in all aspects of regulatory CRM, from project development to execution, consultation, and community engagement.
- Experience in conducting identification and analyses of archaeological, historical, osteological, geoarchaeological, linguistic, and sociocultural data to implement environmental protection and historic preservation legislation in both the public and private sectors.
- Training in the professional traditions of inquiry within anthropology, history, geography, and environmental planning to identify heritage resources, assess their research and preservation significance, and determine appropriate courses of action.
- Experience with the techniques, regulations, and guidelines for field and laboratory data collection, analysis, reporting, and management.
- Experience with archival preparation, data and artifact storage, curation facilities, and public interpretation.

Students in the program, under the supervision of a primary faculty advisor, develop a plan of study and thesis project that reflects their particular interest in CRM. In addition, students are encouraged to present the results of their work and research in professional meetings, research publications, and public documents.

Facilities and Faculty

CRM faculty teach, advise and serve as thesis committee members and chairs in the CRM program. Our core faculty are professors in the departments of Anthropology and Geography, Environment, and Planning. Their expertise is in heritage legislation and policy, prehistoric and historical archeology, material culture, environmental and landscape history, geoarchaeology, bioarchaeology and forensic anthropology, ethnography, oral history, spatial analysis, remote sensing and other digital technologies, and paleogeography. Affiliated CRM faculty, serving in other departments on campus, regularly teach supporting courses, and can also serve as thesis committee members.

The Anthropological Studies Center (ASC), an affiliated CRM organization within SSU, provides students with the opportunity to gain real world experience in contract and grant-based prehistoric and historical archaeology, geoarchaeology, tribal consultation, community engagement, oral history, and collections management. The ASC has more than 5,000 square feet of office, laboratory, and curation facilities and is supported by a full-time professional staff, many of whom are past graduates of the M.A. in CRM program. Internships for graduate and undergraduate students at the ASC are offered regularly.

The Northwest Information Center (NWIC), an adjunct of the State Office of Historic Preservation, manages historical records, resources, reports, and maps; supplies historical resources information to the private and public sectors; and compiles and provides a referral list of qualified historical resources consultants. Internships for graduate and undergraduate students at the NWIC are also offered regularly.

Requirements for the Degree

All students in the cohort-based program complete a set of courses totaling 30 academic units, including a required core of 24 units, and an additional 6 units of supporting coursework. Each student, under the supervision of a primary faculty advisor, develops a plan of study and thesis project that reflects their interests or desired areas of specialization. The program is typically completed in six to seven semesters, although faster completion is possible. Ideally, coursework proceeds in conjunction with a student's developing interests and expertise, so that by the time they are ready to write a thesis prospectus, the completed courses help focus the upcoming research project.

Admission to the Program

Applications must be submitted separately by January 31 to the Graduate Coordinator and to the Office of Admissions and Records (via Cal State Apply) for possible acceptance into the program the following academic year. Consult with the program's Graduate Coordinator and website for departmental requirements and submissions. While archaeology is a focus, the program emphasizes CRM as an interdisciplinary profession. Students with degrees in history, geography, and planning, as well as anthropology, are frequently accepted.

Program Learning Outcomes

The CRM Program sets the following learning objectives for its graduate students:

- Writing and Speaking Proficiency: To achieve and demonstrate proficiency in speech and in writing in the various venues appropriate to scholarship, cultural resources management, and relevant applications in the field.
- Competence in Relevant Data Analysis: Competence in conducting analyses of relevant cultural resources data for purposes of assisting public and private sectors in the implementation of environmental protection and historic preservation legislation.
- Capability in Field and Lab Techniques: Training, experience, and capability in utilizing techniques in field and laboratory analysis, in collection, archive or museum preparations, in osteological methods, in ethnographic and oral historical methodologies, and in geographical information systems, as are appropriate to an individual student's thesis research, applications, and future career objectives.

- Mastering the Regulatory Context and its Application to Cultural Resources: Ability to keep abreast of the laws, regulations, and values mandating the proper management of cultural resources and to apply them correctly.
- Identifying and Assessing the Significance of Cultural Resources: Training in the identification and assessment of cultural resources in the context of current and on-going research, scholarship, and heritage preservation and interpretation developments.
- Competence in Resource and Data Management: Ability to design and ethically implement projects and programs in cultural resources management, and to insure responsible preservation of and public access to resulting data.
- Internalizing the Scholarly Canons for Professional Work: Learning the professional canons, ethics, and copyright laws for conducting scholarly research utilizing up-to-date information technologies in bibliographic research, archiving, protection and dissemination of information, etc.
- Gaining the Technical Skills, Knowledge and Ethics Requisite for Thesis Research: Training in the bodies of substantive knowledge, theory, and investigative technology appropriate to the chosen thesis topic and long term career objectives, as well as exposure to the principles of ethical professional practice.
- Proficiency in Research Design and Theory: Gaining proficiency in the traditions of inquiry and research appropriate to designing a Master's level thesis project.
- Demonstrating of Scholarly and Professional Competence: Demonstrating through the design, research, writing, presentation and defense of CRM projects, conference presentations, reports, articles, and ultimately through the completion of a thesis that one has achieved competence and commitment as a CRM professional.
- Demonstrating Commitment to Stewardship of Cultural Resources: Developing an attitude of stewardship and conservation ethics toward cultural resources as components of our national heritage.

Requirements for the Degree

The coursework required for the CRM M.A. totals 30 academic units and is typically completed in six to seven semesters. This design presumes that students are enrolled full-time and not working more than part-time. Students are admitted to the program with Conditionally Classified graduate status. They must fulfill certain requirements before being fully accepted into the program and able to enroll in Thesis Prospectus units. These requirements include successful completion of ANTH 500, maintenance of a minimum 3.6 GPA, and timely resolution of any incomplete grades. Departmental policy stipulates that no more than 10 units of the 30 unit program may be revalidated beyond the 7-year limit defined by the CSU.

* Internships are decided upon by discussion between the student and his or her advisor. Students will normally take both on-campus and off-campus internships. On-campus internships are available at the Cultural Resources Facility, the Interpretive and Outreach Services Office, the Northwest Information Center, and the Archaeological Collections Facility. Off-campus agencies include the State Office of Historic Preservation, the National Park Service, the Museums of Sonoma County, and many others.

The 60-unit graduate program in counseling offers two professional training options: Option I prepares students for Clinical Mental Health Counseling (CMHC) and eventual licensure as a Marriage and Family Therapist (MFT) and/or as a Licensed Professional Clinical Counselor (LPCC); Option II prepares students for the School Counseling and the Pupil Personnel Services Credential (SC/PPSC). The program relies heavily on interpersonal skill training and field experience, beginning during the first semester and culminating with an intensive supervised traineeship/field experience in some aspect of counseling, permitting the integration of theory, research, and practical application. The Department is prepared to assist students in obtaining field placements relevant to their projected professional goals. These placements include, but are not limited to: marriage and family counseling agencies, mental health clinics, counseling centers and public schools. For the school counseling program, field placements are at a minimum of two of the three K-12 levels: elementary school, middle school, and high school.

Special characteristics of the program include the following:

- Early observation of and involvement in actual counseling settings;
- Development of a core of knowledge and experience in both individual and group counseling theory and practice;
- Encouragement in the development and maintenance of individual counseling styles;
- Commitment to self-exploration and personal growth through participation in peer counseling, individual counseling, and group experiences. These academic and non-academic competencies are seen as crucial to the development of adequate counseling skills and are given special consideration by the faculty as part of its evaluation of student readiness to undertake fieldwork responsibilities; and
- Strong emphasis on acknowledging and appreciating diversity.

In sum, the training emphasis in the program is to integrate theory, practical experience, and personal learning rather than exposing students to a piecemeal professional preparation. To varying degrees, students will find that in most of their course work the faculty expects students to be able to articulate their unique and personal histories, including their relationships with family, peers, and significant others, for it is our belief that self-understanding is crucial in effective counseling.

The effort is to establish a sound foundation in the student for a lifetime of continued professional growth — a foundation which permits confident movement into an entry-level counseling position. This is a 60 unit program.

The faculty is committed to the idea that counselors of the future should take an active role in helping to shape the social/environmental milieu in which they will work. While the faculty recognizes how difficult this task may be in specific instances and areas, it sees the counselor as one who actively participates in the life of an organization, and as a sensitive and perceptive voice representing individual freedom and human values. Leadership skills, and the skills necessary to facilitate change, are stressed in this program.

The master's program may be completed within two academic years; however, some students with jobs and/or family responsibilities may wish to move more slowly. Resources permitting, efforts will be made to accommodate individual patterns. For most students, 8 units per semester will be considered a minimal number. It should be stressed that individual program paths should be planned very carefully since many courses will not be offered every semester.

The School Counseling program is accredited by the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing (CCTC). The Clinical Mental Health Counseling program is approved by the Board of Behavioral Science for all necessary educational components required for licensure as a Marriage and Family Therapist in California as well as a Professional Clinical Counselor in California.

Counseling, M.A.

Admission Requirements

- Have a B.A. degree, preferably in psychology or other related behavioral sciences. School Counseling students should have some first hand knowledge of the K-12 school system.
- For both options, a course in personality theory is required; in addition, a course in abnormal psychology is required for the CMHC option. A course in child development is required for the PPS option. Effective for fall 2018 admission, all PPS applicants must have passed the CBEST in order to apply to the program.
- Applicants are encouraged to have acquired an undergraduate-level of understanding of human development, family/educational systems, cognitive-behavioral applications, and client-centered therapy. This introductory knowledge base may be acquired by enrolling in relevant coursework or by undertaking thoughtful reading on these topics.
- A 3.00 (B) grade point average. Applicants with an undergraduate GPA below 3.0 should include an explanation of any extenuating circumstances.
- Completion of counseling department application forms, in addition to those required by the University.
- A personal interview and group interview is required for applicants considered for final review. In these interviews, questions may involve personal disclosure deemed relevant by the faculty for determining the applicant's readiness for beginning training for a career in counseling. All disclosures are held in strict confidence, within the department.

The Departmental Admissions Committee has found the following criteria meaningful for applicants:

- The ability to handle academic work of graduate-level rigor, generally as evidenced by previous academic performance;
- Counseling-relevant work experience (paid or volunteer); and
- Global personality assessment—suitability for a career in a helping profession, as evidenced by quality of interview, personal data, autobiography, and letters of recommendation.

For more information, please see Graduate Degrees in the Degree Requirements section of this catalog.

Application Procedures

Interested persons can obtain the standard statewide graduate application form from the Admissions Office of Sonoma State University or download an application from the Sonoma State web page. Students are accepted to the counseling program only once a year. All applicants to the program must also apply for admission to the University and follow the University timelines for admission procedures. For specific instructions, dates, and procedures, contact the Counseling Department and/or the Office of Admissions and Records.

General Information Meetings

Students planning to apply for admission or students wishing to enroll in any of the counseling department's courses are urged to attend one of the informational meetings specifically planned for prospective students. Selection criteria, admission procedures, and registration and advisement procedures will be explained. For informational meeting dates, visit the department web page.

Option I - Clinical Mental Health Counseling (MFT & LPCC), M.A.

Completion of the CMHC option, in addition to the major core requirements above, satisfies all academic requirements for the MFT & LPCC licenses. If the Board of Behavioral Sciences (BBS) mandates changes in curriculum for trainees in either license path, the Department of Counseling will revise courses accordingly so the curriculum remains in compliance with BBS standards. The course descriptions in this catalog edition may not be the most current versions if such curricular revisions are undertaken after the catalog is published.

Program Learning Outcomes

- Establish a professional identity as a mental health counselor who utilizes the human relationship in an effort to heal, empower and promote the well-being and development of others.
- Acquire knowledge and demonstrate ethical and legal behaviors consistent w/ the counseling profession.
- Gain knowledge of the developmental, interpersonal, intrapersonal, and systemic theories of human behavior and clinical intervention.
- Gain foundational knowledge of psychopharmacology and the neurobiological foundations of human behavior.
- Gain foundational knowledge of theories of substance use and co-occurring disorders and culturally-appropriate, evidence-based interventions.
- Develop a socially engaged and multiculturally competent orientation in working with diverse individuals, couples, and families.
- Demonstrate effective clinical skills in individual, couple, family, and group counseling for clients across the lifespan.
- Demonstrate knowledge of career counseling, career development, and the role of work across the lifespan.
- Develop the ability to understand and make good use of supervision and consultation feedback to support clinical outcomes and reflective professional practice.
- Gain the ability to critically consume and make use of research relevant to their clinical practice, including counseling outcome and process research and program evaluation.
- Acquire knowledge in psychopathology and diagnostic classifications.
- Develop knowledge of culturally-appropriate methods of formal and informal assessment and their use in clinical practice.
- Develop the ability to utilize counseling knowledge, attitudes, and skills to become socially-engaged mental health professionals who serve the community in clinical, administrative, advocacy, and leadership roles.

Requirements

Option II - School Counseling/Pupil Personnel Services Credential, M.A.

Completion of the School Counseling/Pupil Personnel Services (PPS) option, in addition to the major core requirements above, satisfies the academic requirements in order to be eligible for the Pupil Personnel Services credential in school counseling. While it is possible to complete all the courses required for the credential in a two-year period, such a program requires careful planning. The department intends to offer each PPS course at least once a year, but students need to plan the sequence with their advisor to ensure it matches the availability of courses.

Program Learning Outcomes

- Establish a professional identity as a school counselor who works to advance the academic, career and social-emotional development of K-12 students, and to foster an inclusive and positive school climate that promotes positive development for students and other members of the school community.
- Acquire knowledge of and continually demonstrate ethical and legal behaviors, and professional values consistent with the school counseling profession.
- Demonstrate knowledge of clinical, developmental, and systemic theories of human behavior, human development, and human relating.
- Acquire knowledge of neuroscientific and biological foundations of human development including its influence on development and mental well-being.
- Develop a socially engaged and multiculturally competent orientation in working with the diverse individuals, groups and communities comprising a school community.
- Demonstrate effective skills in individual and group counseling, including specialized knowledge of counseling theory and current, research-based prevention, intervention and consultation protocols.
- Use preventive, developmental, and remedial interventions that effectively deliver a comprehensive school counseling program that facilitates their students' academic, personal/social, and career development.
- Demonstrate knowledge of career counseling, career development, and the role of work across the lifespan.
- Develop the ability to understand and make good use of supervision and consultation feedback to support clinical outcomes and reflexive professional practice.
- Gain the ability to critically consume, make use of, and contribute to research relevant to their counseling practice, including counseling outcome and process research and program evaluation.
- Acquire specialized knowledge in psychopathology, diagnostic classifications, and psychopharmacology, and how these issues impact student development and academic outcomes.

- Develop knowledge of culturally-appropriate assessment and measurement including selection, administration, interpretation, and application in school settings, with appropriate caution to prevent misuse.
- Develop the ability to utilize counseling knowledge, attitudes, and skills to become socially-engaged school counselors who serve the school community in counseling, consultative, administrative, advocacy, and leadership roles.
- Design, implement, and evaluate comprehensive school counseling programs.
- Consult and collaborate effectively with parents, teachers, administrators, community professionals, and others to advocate for the well-being of all students.

Department Chair
 Napoleon C. Reyes

For faculty information, please see Faculty or the CCJS faculty web page.

The Criminology and Criminal Justice Studies major offers a liberal arts curriculum concerned with the changing nature and content of law; the shifting public expectations of criminal justice agencies; the implications of diversity along the lines of race, gender, and class; and the reactions of those agencies to social perceptions and political pressures.

The student is offered an interdisciplinary, multi-methodological, academic approach to the understanding of the mechanisms of social control, resolutions of criminal justice problems, and a knowledge of accepted procedures and alternatives.

This general but all-important background serves as a base for the areas of emphasis that are of interest to the individual student. Fields of interest — such as adult and juvenile probation, law enforcement, judicial administration, public advocacy, prevention and diversion, and correctional services — are studied in detail from several perspectives. Criminology and Criminal Justice Studies majors are prepared to pursue graduate education in justice studies, law, criminology, and other graduate fields.

Criminology and Criminal Justice Studies, B.A.

Please note that transferable units from other institutions may be applied to the category "Criminal Justice and/or Social Science electives." Coursework taken at this university to complete the major requirements must be selected in consultation with your department advisor.

Upper division GE in Social Sciences may count toward the 12 units of "Criminal Justice and/or Social Science electives."

Students must consult with a faculty advisor before beginning core courses. CCJS students (majors and minors) must receive a C-or better in the core and elective courses.

Program Learning Objectives

The key CCJS program learning objectives are to help students develop these skills:

- critical thinking and analysis skills
- communication skills
- an ability to relate theory to practice
- an understanding of the importance of research methods
- an appreciation of the ethical dimension of criminal justice

Degree Requirements

See the "Degree Requirements" in the University Catalog for complete details on general degree requirements.

General Education Requirements (48 units)

See the "General Education Program" requirements in the University Catalog for information on General Education requirements. Some major requirements may double count for GE requirements.

- CCJS 499 - Internship Unit(s): 4

Spring Semester (16 Units)

- * CCJS 490 - Senior Seminar in Criminology and Criminal Justice Studies Unit(s): 4
- CJ and/or Social Science Elective
- CJ and/or Social Science Elective
- CJ and/or Social Science Elective

*May be taken as a WIC course to meet GWAR requirement; reserved for students who have filed Graduation Application.

Must be chosen under advisement.

Total Units: 120

Criminology and Criminal Justice Studies, Minor

The minor consists of a 20-unit pattern of Criminology and Criminal Justice Studies courses at SSU chosen in consultation with assigned department faculty advisor. A maximum of 4 units of special studies or internship credit may be applied to the minor.

Minor courses must be taken in residence and for a letter grade, except for the internship which is offered Cr/NC only.

Global Studies

Department Office
Geography, Environment, and Planning
Stevenson Hall 3016

Program Coordinator
Rheyna Laney (707) 664-2183

The Bachelor of Arts in Global Studies is an interdisciplinary program that prepares students for international or intercultural service through the study of other cultures, world history, political and economic systems, world geography and environment, cross-cultural communication and conflict resolution, and a modern language. Recognizing the increasing interdependence of the world and the global nature of contemporary issues, the major is designed to increase awareness and understanding of other cultures and systems as well as global issues, while developing the skills needed to work effectively in a global or multicultural context.

The Approved concentrations are Development, and Area Studies through Study Abroad.

Intermediate-level (or higher) proficiency in a modern language other than English is required of all global studies majors. Students may demonstrate this proficiency either by passing an intermediate-level proficiency exam or by completing a fourth-semester standard language course (202 [plus lab] or equivalent) with a grade of C or better.

All global studies majors are expected to participate in an intensive cross-cultural experience of at least 135 hours of duration, during which they speak primarily a language other than their mother tongue. Students normally will meet this expectation by studying or working abroad. When travel abroad is impossible, students may arrange an extended cross-cultural experience closer to home, e.g., living and working for a summer in an immigrant community. (Students who have spent extended time in other than mainstream-U.S.-American circumstances, speaking a language other than English, may already have met this expectation.)

Careers in Global Studies

Most global studies majors intend to pursue international careers. Positions most readily available to new graduates without specialized training are with non-profits such as the federal government (Peace Corps, Foreign Service), international service agencies (CARE, UNICEF, or Direct Relief International), and English-language teaching jobs.

Many overseas careers require an advanced degree (e.g., law, business, and international affairs) and/or working your way up within an organization and positioning yourself for an international assignment.

Development Concentration

Take at least 3 courses in Group II and no more than 2 courses in Group III. Group III courses must align with a student's language expertise and/or career aspirations.

Group I

- POLS 304 - Theory and Analysis of International Relations Unit(s): 4
- POLS 345 - Model United Nations (MUN) Unit(s): 4
- POLS 447 - Nonviolent Strategies in International Relations Unit(s): 4
- POLS 448 - Political Violence, Terrorism, and Law Unit(s): 4

Group II – Globalization, Development and Society

- ANTH 352 - Global Issues Unit(s): 4
- BUS 393 - Introduction to International Business Unit(s): 4

Global Studies, B.A.

The Bachelor of Arts in Global Studies is an interdisciplinary program that prepares students for international or intercultural service through the study of global social issues from a holistic and interdisciplinary perspective. GLBL majors study world history, political and economic systems, world geography, environmental issues, and a modern language. The major is designed to increase awareness and understanding of global social challenges, while developing the skills needed to work effectively in a global or multicultural context.

Program Learning Outcomes

- Demonstrate awareness of diverse social, economic, political, cultural, environmental and demographic conditions found around the world
- Demonstrate understanding of the global political, economic and social system, and how world regions contribute to that system
- Develop an awareness of human aspirations across the globe and conditions inhibiting them
- Understand the complex nature of contemporary social issues (for example poverty, health and education, immigration and refugees, political nationalism, environmental justice, human rights, etc), and different theoretical or ideological approaches to addressing them
- Acquire the communication skills needed to work effectively in a global or multicultural context
- Engage as active citizens in your community, country, global society

Core Courses (34-40 units)

Language Skill Requirement

(1 course or verified proficiency:)

Intermediate level proficiency in a modern language other than English is required, which is typically met by completing a fourthsemester standard language course with a grade of C or better. With department approval, the requirement may be waived if proficiency in a language has been met through prior language study, study abroad, or test credit.

Cultural Perspectives

- ANTH 203 - Introduction to Cultural Anthropology Unit(s): 3
- GEP 203 - Human Geography Unit(s): 3

Environmental Perspectives

- GEP 201 - Global Environmental Systems Unit(s): 3
- GEP 206 - Society, Environment, and Sustainable Development Unit(s): 3

Historical Perspectives

- HIST 202 - Development of the Modern World Unit(s): 3
- HIST 380 - Twentieth and Twenty-First Century World Unit(s): 3

Political Perspectives

- POLS 303 - Comparative Political Analysis Unit(s): 4
- POLS 304 - Theory and Analysis of International Relations Unit(s): 4

Religious and Ethical Perspectives

- PHIL 302 - Ethics and Value Theory Unit(s): 4
- SOCI 431 - Sociology of Religion Unit(s): 4
- POLS 307 - Perspectives on the Holocaust and Genocide Unit(s): 4
- ENGL 304 - War and Peace Lecture Series Unit(s): 4

World Regions Overview

- GEP 305 - World Regions in Global Context Unit(s): 4

Professional Development

- GLBL 310 - Professional Development Unit(s): 2

Concentration (24 units)

- Development Concentration
- Area Studies Through Study Abroad

Capstone (13 units)

Cross Cultural Experience

- GLBL 497 - Cross-Cultural Community Service Internship Unit(s): 3

Program Road Maps

Sample Four-Year Program

The Four year Plan is a sample study plan. The sequence and specific courses given are suggestive; please see an advisor each semester to plan your personal program and track your progress using the Academic Requirements Report (ARR) in MYSSU.

Courses may be interchanged fall and spring semester depending on course offering each semester.

General Education Notes:

- GE Areas A2 and B4 should be completed by the end of the first year. Some students may take year-long courses for GE A2 and/or B4.
- GE Area A1 and A3 should be completed by the end of the second year
- Students should enroll in Upper Division GE courses after completion of Areas A1, A2, A3, and B4 with a C- or better, lower division GE in that area, and 45 units total.
- Not all First-Year Learning Communities (FLC's) meet the same GE areas.
- GE Area D must be taken in two different subject areas across the nine total required units in lower division (LD) and upper division (UD).
- Students must take American Institution requirements in U.S. History and U.S. Constitution/California State and Local Government. These requirements may be met in GE.

Area Studies Through Study Abroad

Students examine contemporary global social issues within the specific context of the region in which they are studying.

Units

Total units in the concentration: 24 Units Two courses (or 8 units) may be from the Arts and Humanities. The rest must be from the Social Sciences Study abroad is expected. An unlimited number of SSU courses may be applied, but cannot be relied upon to graduate.

Group I-International Relations & Global Development

Take 1 course Courses available at SSU:

- POLS 304 - Theory and Analysis of International Relations Unit(s): 4
- POLS 345 - Model United Nations (MUN) Unit(s): 4
- POLS 447 - Nonviolent Strategies in International Relations Unit(s): 4

- GEP 325 - Global Food Systems: Scarcity and Sustainability Unit(s): 4
- GEP 370 - Globalization and the City Unit(s): 4
- GEP 373 - Energy, Technology, and Society Unit(s): 4
- WGS 385 - Transnational Feminisms Unit(s): 3-4

Group II-Regional

Take at least 2 courses covering a broad region that aligns with your language skills, career goals and study-abroad destination. Courses available at SSU:

Europe

- HIST 412 - Europe Since 1914 Unit(s): 4
- POLS 350 - European Parliamentary Democracies Unit(s): 4

- HIST 418 - Fall of European Communism Unit(s): 4

Latin America

- GEP 327 - Latin America and the Caribbean Unit(s): 4
- HIST 342 - Modern Latin America Unit(s): 4
- HIST 449 - Gender and Sexuality in Latin America Unit(s): 4

- SPAN 402 - Latin American Literature Unit(s): 4
- SPAN 491 - Seminar in Literature Unit(s): 4

Asia

- POLS 450 - Politics of Asia Unit(s): 4

Africa

- GEP 328 - Africa South of the Sahara Unit(s): 4

Group III- Sub Regional

Take courses covering your study-abroad destination. Courses available at SSU:

Spain

- SPAN 306 - Cultures of Spain Unit(s): 4
- SPAN 401 - Authors of Spain Unit(s): 4
- SPAN 491 - Seminar in Literature Unit(s): 4

France

FREN 320 - France Yesterday Unit(s): 4 FREN 321 - France Today Unit(s): 4 FREN 411 - French Literature Unit(s): 4 FREN 415 - Special Topics in French Culture Unit(s): 4

Germany

- GER 300 - Advanced German Studies Unit(s): 4
- GER 314 - Love and Desire in German Literature Unit(s): 4
- GER 315 - German Language and Literature Unit(s): 1

Britain

- HIST 428 - Modern Britain, 1714-Present Unit(s): 4

East Europe

- HIST 416 - Eastern Europe, 1918-1989 Unit(s): 4
- HIST 417 - Russian Empire Unit(s): 4
- HIST 419 - Soviet Union Unit(s): 4
- POLS 351 - Politics of Russia Unit(s): 4
- POLS 352 - Politics of Eastern Europe Unit(s): 4

Latin America

- HIST 433 - History of Mexico Unit(s): 4

Asia

- HIST 438 - Modern Japan Unit(s): 4
- HIST 435 - History of Modern China Unit(s): 4

Other

- HIST 384 - Empires and Colonies Unit(s): 4

Global Studies, Minor

This minor is intended to serve students who are studying abroad. Students take courses focused on the region in which they are studying. This minor does not apply to Spanish-, French- or German-speaking countries. In those cases, students should choose a Language or the Latin American Studies Minor.

SSU courses may apply, but cannot be relied upon to fulfill the minor's 20 unit minimum. Two courses may be from the Arts and Humanities. The rest must be from the Social Sciences.

Group I- Language Skills

Intermediate-low level proficiency (2 college semesters) in a modern language other than English, with the expectation that students will take language courses while studying abroad.

Group II- Regional

(at least 2 courses)

Courses encompassing the broader region in which the host country lies. Courses available at SSU:

Europe

- HIST 412 - Europe Since 1914 Unit(s): 4
- HIST 416 - Eastern Europe, 1918-1989 Unit(s): 4
- HIST 418 - Fall of European Communism Unit(s): 4
- POLS 350 - European Parliamentary Democracies Unit(s): 4

- POLS 352 - Politics of Eastern Europe Unit(s): 4

Asia

- POLS 450 - Politics of Asia Unit(s): 4
- HIST 346 - Class and Gender in Modern East Asia Unit(s): 4

Africa

- GEP 328 - Africa South of the Sahara Unit(s): 4

Group III – Sub-Regional

Courses focused on the study-abroad host country. Courses available at SSU:

Europe

- HIST 417 - Russian Empire Unit(s): 4
- HIST 419 - Soviet Union Unit(s): 4
- POLS 351 - Politics of Russia Unit(s): 4

Asia

- HIST 438 - Modern Japan Unit(s): 4
- HIST 435 - History of Modern China Unit(s): 4

Geography, Environment and Planning

Department Chair
Daniel Soto

For faculty information, please see Faculty or the GEP faculty web page.

The Geography, Environment, and Planning (GEP) Department offers a dynamic learning environment that integrates curricula from across social and natural science disciplines to address environmental and social issues facing humanity. This unique blend of interdisciplinary material provides students with the skills needed to tackle complex issues, applying a range of techniques and quantitative and qualitative analytical frameworks. Our faculty members are dedicated educators and active scholars who undertake primary research addressing diverse subjects in environmental systems, environmental policy and management, and geospatial and data science. GEP majors are afforded exciting training and research opportunities.

The GEP mission is to educate the next generation of scholars, professionals and citizens so that they are prepared to meet the environmental and social-justice challenges of an evolving world.

The department offers the following degrees:

- B.A. in Environmental Studies, Geography, and Planning
- B.S. Environmental Science, Geography, and Management
- Minor in Geography and Environment

These degree options prepare students for careers in environmental, geospatial and planning professions, with an emphasis in:

- Understanding societal conflict and collaboration around human-environment issues
- Building societal resilience in relation to changing environmental systems
- Applying geospatial and quantitative analyses to solve complex environmental and societal problems
- Planning rural and urban spaces to support sustainable and socially-just communities

The curriculum is designed to strengthen students' writing, critical thinking, and oral presentation skills, which are important for any successful career. The degrees also encourage students to take on internships and engage in other practical experiences that help prepare for the working world.

Careers in Geography, Environment, and Planning

Each area of focus within the Geography, Environment, and Planning curriculum provides students with strong interdisciplinary backgrounds in the social and natural sciences, planning, and energy management. This combination of breadth and in-depth instruction allows students to develop the intellectual foundations, skills, and flexibility needed to deal with the specific environmental and social issues of today and the future. Through the interdisciplinary nature of the degree programs and their focal areas, GEP graduates become prepared for careers in both the public and private sectors that include environmental management and restoration, city and regional planning, education and environmental outreach, and residential and commercial energy fields. Graduates from the department often pursue advanced degree programs in a variety of fields, such as geography, resource management, conservation and restoration science, planning, environmental law, geospatial analysis, and education.

Admission Requirements

When applying to Sonoma State University and declaring a major, a student may declare a B.A. in Environmental Studies, Geography and Planning or a B.S. in Environmental Science, Geography, and Management.

Financial Aid and Scholarships

Students seeking financial aid to assist them in their studies should contact the financial aid office. Several scholarships are provided specifically for GEP students through the University scholarship program. Please refer to the Scholarships section of this catalog.

Department Resources

Geospatial Technology Instructional Laboratory (GIS Lab)

The Geography, Environment, and Planning Department has a well-equipped computer laboratory that supports advanced instruction in geographic information systems (GIS), image processing, digital cartography, and data analysis in laboratory and field courses. The GIS Lab includes 24 workstations, ArcGIS Desktop, ERDAS Imagine, Adobe Illustrator, and open-source software.

The Center for Interdisciplinary Geospatial Analysis (CIGA)

The mission of the Center for Interdisciplinary Geospatial Analysis (CIGA) is to enable and promote the application of geospatial technology to social and environmental problems through research, education, and community service. The Center seeks interdisciplinary collaboration among campus and external researchers, students, and other organizations in projects that involve geographic information and spatial analysis at local to global scales. To accomplish these goals, the Center provides computer software and data resources; Geographic Information System (GIS) and remote sensing expertise and consulting services; educational courses; and community outreach. Courses in the Department of Geography, Environment and Planning provide a solid foundation in geospatial science and technology. Students are given a unique opportunity to broaden and refine their education by working on real-world problems in geospatial research projects and service contracts.

The Center has a well-equipped research computer lab for GIS analysis, image processing, and web-based map applications. Example projects conducted by CIGA include: modeling bird species diversity with soundscape analysis and satellite data; mapping California natural vegetation and land use with airborne hyperspectral images; forest biomass and fire fuels estimation with lidar sensors and unmanned aerial systems (drones); and, analyzing the impact of the global economy on natural and human systems at multiple spatial scales in Latin America and the Caribbean.

The Climate Research Center (CRC)

The Climate Research Center conducts research on climate science phenomena (e.g. hurricanes, droughts, wildfires and floods) with a special focus on their connections with climate variability, climate change and human activities. The CRC promotes the application of statistical methods and geographic information systems (GIS) to address climate science problems. The CRC aims to collaborate in multidisciplinary climate research with members of the SSU community, organizations or individuals in the Sonoma area and with researchers globally. The CRC houses state-of-the-art computers and cutting-edge software. Students working in the CRC can experience climate science in action and will gain essential data analysis skills.

The Center for Sustainable Communities (CSC)

The Center for Sustainable Communities (CSC) is a research and community service center sponsored by the Sonoma State's Department of Geography, Environment, and Planning.

The CSC's predecessor institution, the Institute for Community Planning Assistance, was established in 1984 to meet the needs of public agencies seeking planning studies, community surveys, public outreach efforts, and other projects suited to the skills and interests of students and faculty. ICPA also offered training programs to local governments on a variety of planning topics.

In 2009, the Center for Sustainable Communities (CSC) emerged as a program of ICPA, utilizing faculty, students, and CSC staff to support a range of state, regional, and local sustainability efforts.

In 2013, ICPA was officially renamed the Center for Sustainable Communities. Its activities are focused on an array of sustainability topics, such as:

- Local and regional government approaches to reducing green house gas emissions and adapting to climate change.
- Land use planning and public health, including general plan documents.
- Integrating water resources and land use planning

The CSC works with a mix of government agencies to develop sustainability policy documents, implementation programs, and provides training on sustainability topics for local governments and other organizations.

Sonoma Quaternary Laboratory (SQUAL)

The Sonoma Quaternary Laboratory specializes in reconstructing ecological, climate and landscape change caused by environmental and climate forces as well as human impacts over the past several thousand years. These paleoenvironmental reconstructions provide an important context for evaluating current and future environmental and climate change. The SQUAL houses state-of-the-art equipment for dendroecology, micro- and macro-botanical analysis, as well as other sedimentary analyses. Students working in SQUAL have the opportunity to gain unique field and laboratory research skills.

The Environmental Technology Center (ETC)

A model for sustainable building techniques and technologies, this center includes energy and water-efficient landscaping, "smart building" control technologies, environmentally-sensitive materials, passive solar heating and cooling, and more. It serves as a training facility for building professionals and teachers and as an educational and research site.

The Classroom Garden

The garden adjacent to the Environmental Technology Center teaches SSU students and members of the public about sustainable landscape practices and how these contribute to biodiversity and environmental health. Through internships, volunteering, and classroom experiences, students gain a sense of place, community, purpose, and an enriched academic experience.

The SSU Botanical and Kenneth M. Stocking Native Plant Garden

A showcase of diverse California plant communities and a quiet place for education and relaxation. Located near the campus lakes, the garden includes a guided trail through woodland, marsh, and riparian ecosystems.

SSU Preserves

Managed by the Center for Environmental Inquiry (CEI), SSU features three valuable off-campus learning environments. The GEP Dept. visits these preserves for fieldtrips as well as for student research opportunities. The Fairfield Osborn Preserve is 450-acre field station atop Sonoma Mountain that provides environmental education programs and opportunities for scientific research. The Preserve is a fifteen-minute drive from campus. The 40-acre Los Guillicos Preserve is 1.6 miles south of Mount Hood in the foothills of the Mayacamas below Sugarloaf Ridge, and 2.5 miles from Kenwood California. Galbreath Wildlands Preserve is a 3,670 acre preserve nestled in the Coast Range of northern California. The mission of the preserves is to promote environmental education and research, as well as the effective stewardship of this diverse landscape.

Environmental Studies, Geography, and Planning, B.A.

The BA in Environmental Studies, Geography, and Planning focuses on bridging the natural and social sciences in order to produce more holistic and systemic analysis of environmental and societal issues. Students complete a common core of Foundational, Breadth, and Professional Preparation and Experience courses. Students further specialize their studies through GEP electives in one of five focal areas: Society, Environment and Development, Environmental Systems, Urban Studies and Planning, Energy Management & Design, or Geospatial Analysis. All students are required to take a minimum of one 400-level capstone course. All courses in the curriculum strengthen students' writing, critical thinking and presentation skills, which are critical for any successful career.

Program Learning Outcomes

PLO1 (Knowledge) Articulate and explain major social and environmental processes, and their interactions, in both the natural and built environment

PLO2 (Analysis) Analyze quantitative, qualitative and/or spatial evidence through at least one analytical framework to draw conclusions, solve problems, or optimize a plan

PLO3 (Communication) Demonstrate effective writing and presentation skills.

PLO4 (Professional Preparation) Apply academic knowledge and skills to a real-world experience and prepare for a professional career

Degree Requirements

See the "Degree Requirements" in the University Catalog for complete details on general degree requirements.

General Education Requirements (48 units)

See the "General Education Program" requirements in the University Catalog for information on General Education requirements. Some major requirements may double count for GE requirements.

Major Requirements (55 units)

This degree focuses on bridging the natural and social sciences in order to produce more holistic and systemic analysis of environmental and societal issues.

Note: Courses required for the major must be taken for a traditional letter grade, except for courses that are offered CR/NC only. Students must earn a C- or better in any course applied to the major. Breadth courses not double-counted in GEP electives.

Core Courses + Practical Experiences (31 units)

Foundation Courses (11 units)

Environmental Systems

- GEP 201 - Global Environmental Systems Unit(s): 3
Society, Environment, and Development (choose one)
- GEP 203 - Human Geography Unit(s): 3
- GEP 206 - Society, Environment, and Sustainable Development Unit(s): 3
- GEP 305 - World Regions in Global Context Unit(s): 4
- GEP 306 - World Regions in Global Context: Asia Unit(s): 3
Environmental Inquiry and Analysis (take both)
- GEP 211 - GEP Forum Unit(s): 1
- GEP 280 - Foundations in Environmental Data Analysis Unit(s): 4

Breadth Courses (15 units)

Choose one from each category:

Society, Environment, and Development

- GEP 324 - Climate Change and Society Unit(s): 4
- GEP 325 - Global Food Systems: Scarcity and Sustainability Unit(s): 4
- GEP 330 - Environmental History Unit(s): 4

Environmental Systems

- GEP 340 - Applied Ecology Unit(s): 3
- GEP 351 - Natural Hazards Unit(s): 3
- GEP 355 - Weather and Climate Unit(s): 3
Sustainable Communities
- GEP 360 - Introduction to Urban and Regional Planning Unit(s): 4
- GEP 370 - Globalization and the City Unit(s): 4
- GEP 373 - Energy, Technology, and Society Unit(s): 4
Geospatial Analysis
- GEP 387 - Introduction to Geographic Information Systems Unit(s): 4

Professional Preparation and Experiences (5 units)

GEP 310 and 311 are required. GEP 311 is repeatable, but only 1 unit may count in this category.

- GEP 201B - Global Environmental Systems Lab Unit(s): 1
- GEP 310 - Professional Development Unit(s): 2
- GEP 311 - Research Colloquium Unit(s): 1
- GEP 312 - Professional Conferences Unit(s): 1-2
- GEP 313 - Field Experience Unit(s): 1-2
- GEP 316 - Research Assistant in GEP Unit(s): 1-4
- GEP 317 - Internship Unit(s): 1-4
- GEP 318 - Agroecology in Practice Unit(s): 2
- GEP 319 - Native Plants in Restoration Unit(s): 2

GEP Electives (21 units)

Take 3 courses in one focus area. Take additional electives within any focus area to reach 21 units. Must take at least one 400-level capstone course during junior/senior year (72+ units). Breadth courses do not double count as electives.

Focus 1: Society, Environment, and Development

- GEP 320 - Geopolitics Unit(s): 4
- GEP 323 - Resource Management & Development in Global Perspective Unit(s): 4
- GEP 324 - Climate Change and Society Unit(s): 4
- GEP 325 - Global Food Systems: Scarcity and Sustainability Unit(s): 4
- GEP 330 - Environmental History Unit(s): 4
- GEP 333 - Natural Resource Planning Unit(s): 4
- GEP 335 - U.S. Environmental Policy Unit(s): 4
- GEP 336 - U.S. Environmental Law Unit(s): 3
- GEP 337 - Landscape History of the American West Unit(s): 3
- GEP 422 - Globalization and Environments Unit(s): 4
- GEP 431 - Restoration and Society Unit(s): 4
- GEP 490 - Capstone Project Methods Unit(s): 3
- GEP 491 - Capstone Project Unit(s): 3

Focus 2: Environmental Systems

- GEP 340 - Applied Ecology Unit(s): 3
- GEP 343 - Biogeography Unit(s): 4

- GEP 344 - Field Methods Unit(s): 2
- GEP 345 - Lab Methods Unit(s): 2
- GEP 347 - Conservation Biology Unit(s): 3-4
- GEP 350 - Geomorphology Unit(s): 4
- GEP 351 - Natural Hazards Unit(s): 3
- GEP 352 - Soil Science Unit(s): 3-4
- GEP 354 - Watershed Hydrology and Management Unit(s): 4
- GEP 355 - Weather and Climate Unit(s): 3
- GEP 446 - Restoration Ecology Unit(s): 4
- GEP 456 - Global Climate Change: Past, Present, and Future Unit(s): 4

Focus 3: Urban Studies and Planning

- GEP 360 - Introduction to Urban and Regional Planning Unit(s): 4
- GEP 362 - Environmental Impact Assessment Unit(s): 3-4
- GEP 367 - Transportation Policy and Technology Unit(s): 3-4
- GEP 368 - Urban Design Unit(s): 3-4
- GEP 370 - Globalization and the City Unit(s): 4
- GEP 371 - Social Geography of the American City Unit(s): 3
- GEP 461 - Planning Practice and Methodology Unit(s): 4

Focus 4: Energy Management and Design

- GEP 373 - Energy, Technology, and Society Unit(s): 4
- GEP 374A - Strategies for Carbon and Energy Reductions Unit(s): 3
- GEP 374B - Laboratory Methods for Energy Efficiency Unit(s): 1
- GEP 375 - Renewable and Resilient Energy Sources Unit(s): 4
- GEP 476 - Energy Services and Efficiency Unit(s): 4

Focus 5: Geospatial Analysis

- GEP 380 - Environmental Remote Sensing Unit(s): 4
- GEP 385 - Cartographic Visualization Unit(s): 3-4
- GEP 388 - Environmental Geographic Information Systems Unit(s): 3-4
- GEP 486 - Environmental Data Analysis Unit(s): 4
- GEP 489 - Advanced Geographic Information Systems Unit(s): 3-4

No Focus

- GEP 396 - Selected Topics Unit(s): 1-4
- GEP 397 - Special Topics: Lab Unit(s): 2-4
- GEP 400 - Special Topics Capstone Unit(s): 3-4
- GEP 405 - Special Topics Capstone With Lab Unit(s): 3-4

Supporting Courses outside GEP (3 units)

Society, Environment, and Development Theme

- ANTH 345 - Nature and Society: Topics in Anthropology and the Environment Unit(s): 4
- ANTH 352 - Global Issues Unit(s): 4
- ANTH 358 - Topics in Sociocultural Anthropology Unit(s): 4
- CALS 480 - Latin American Migration to the United States Unit(s): 4
- CALS 432 - Latinas/os and Globalization Unit(s): 4
- GEOL 306 - Environmental Geology Unit(s): 3
- HIST 471 - California and the West Unit(s): 4

- NAMS 346 - Philosophic Systems and Sacred Movements in Native North America Unit(s): 4
- POLS 352 - Politics of Eastern Europe Unit(s): 4
- POLS 314 - Environmental Political Theory Unit(s): 4
- SOCI 482 - Environmental Justice and Policy Unit(s): 4
- SOCI 384 - Sociology of Consumption Unit(s): 4
- SOCI 425 - Urban Sociology Unit(s): 4
- SOCI 382 - Social Movements and Collective Behavior Unit(s): 4

Environmental Systems Theme

- BIOL 131 - Biological Diversity and Ecology Unit(s): 4
- BIOL 312 - Biological Oceanography Unit(s): 3
- GEOL 323 - Hydrology Unit(s): 3
- GEOL 310 - Geophysics Unit(s): 4
- GEOL 303 - Advanced Principles of Geology Unit(s): 4

Technology and Data Analysis Theme

- ANTH 328 - New Technologies in Archaeology and Cultural Heritage Unit(s): 4.00
- CS 115 - Programming I Unit(s): 4

First-Year Advising Guide

First-Year Advising Guide

Sample Four-year Program

The Four year Plan is a sample study plan. The sequence and specific courses given are suggestive; please see an advisor each semester to plan your personal program and track your progress using the Academic Requirements Report (ARR) in MYSSU.

Courses may be interchanged fall and spring semester depending on course offering each semester.

General Education Notes:

- GE Areas A2 and B4 should be completed by the end of the first year. Some students may take year-long courses for GE A2 and/or B4.
- GE Area A1 and A3 should be completed by the end of the second year
- Students should enroll in Upper Division GE courses after completion of Areas A1, A2, A3, and B4 with a C- or better, lower division GE in that area, and 45 units total.
- Not all First-Year Learning Communities (FLC's) meet the same GE areas.
- GE Area D must be taken in two different subject areas across the nine total required units in lower division (LD) and upper division (UD).
- Students must take American Institution requirements in U.S. History and U.S. Constitution/California State and Local Government. These requirements may be met in GE.

Environmental Studies, Geography, and Planning, B.A.

Freshman Year: 31-32 Units

Fall Semester (15-16 Units)

- Lower Division GE Area A1: Oral Communication GEP 110 - Communication of Environmental Issues Unit(s): 3
- Lower Division GE Area A2: Written Communication
- Foundation Course: Lower Division GE Area B1: Physical Science GEP 201 - Global Environmental Systems Unit(s): 3
Lower Division GE Area B4: Mathematics/Quantitative Reasoning
- MATH 161 - Differential and Integral Calculus I Unit(s): 4 OR
- ECON 217 - Statistics for Economics and Business Unit(s): 4
- Lower Division GE Area C1: Arts

Spring Semester (16 Units)

- Foundation Course: GEP 203 - Human Geography Unit(s): 3 OR GE Area E: Lifelong Learning and Self-Development
- GEP 206 - Society, Environment, and Sustainable Development Unit(s): 3
- Lower Division GE Area A3: Critical Thinking
- Lower Division GE Area C2: Humanities
- GE American Institutions American History
- Lower Division GE Area B2: Life Science + B3: Lab BIOL 131 - Biological Diversity and Ecology Unit(s): 4

Sophomore Year: 29 Units

Fall Semester (14 Units)

- Foundation Course:
• GEP 211 - GEP Forum Unit(s): 1
- Foundation Course:
• GEP 280 - Foundations in Environmental Data Analysis Unit(s): 4
- Lower Division GE Area C1: Arts OR Lower Division GE Area C2: Humanities
- GE Area F: Ethnic Studies
- Lower Division GE Area D: Social Science POLS 200 - American Political System Unit(s): 3

Spring Semester (15 Units)

- Breadth: ES
- GEP 340 - Applied Ecology Unit(s): 3
Note: GEP 351 and 355 fulfill GE area UD B.

Environmental Science, Geography, and Management, B.S.

The B.S. degree in Environmental Science, Geography, and Management is designed to establish a strong grounding in the natural (biological, physical) and data sciences, and applying that understanding to a holistic and systemic analysis of environmental and social issues. Students complete a common core of Foundational, Breadth, and Professional Preparation and Experience courses. Students further specialize their studies through GEP electives in one of four focal areas: Environmental Management and Policy, Environmental Systems, Energy Management & Design, or Geospatial Science. All students are required to take a 400-level capstone course. All courses in the curriculum strengthen students' writing, critical thinking and presentation skills, which are critical for any successful career.

Program Learning Outcomes

PLO1: (Knowledge): Articulate and explain major social and environmental processes, and their interactions, in both the natural and built environment, integrating additional natural and/or data science disciplines

PLO2: (Analysis): Analyze quantitative, qualitative and spatial evidence through multiple analytical frameworks (integrating additional natural and/or data science disciplines) to draw conclusions, solve problems, or optimize a plan

PLO3: (Communication): Demonstrate effective writing and presentation skills.

PLO4: (Professional Preparation): Apply academic knowledge and skills to a real-world experience and prepare for a professional career

Degree Requirements

See the "Degree Requirements" in the University Catalog for complete details on general degree requirements.

General Education Requirements (48 units)

See the "General Education Program" requirements in the University Catalog for information on General Education requirements. Some major requirements may double count for GE requirements.

Major Requirements (68 units)

This degree is designed to establish a strong grounding in the physical, natural and data sciences, and apply that understanding to a holistic and systemic analysis of environmental and social issues.

Note: Courses required for the major must be taken for a traditional letter grade, except for courses that are offered CR/NC only. Students must earn a C- or better in any course applied to the major. Breadth courses do not double-counted in GEP Electives.

Core Courses (40 units)

Foundation Courses (11 units)

Environmental Systems

- GEP 201 - Global Environmental Systems Unit(s): 3
Society, Environment and Development Theme (choose one)
- GEP 203 - Human Geography Unit(s): 3
- GEP 206 - Society, Environment, and Sustainable Development Unit(s): 3
- GEP 305 - World Regions in Global Context Unit(s): 4
- GEP 306 - World Regions in Global Context: Asia Unit(s): 3
Environmental Inquiry and Analysis (take both)
- GEP 211 - GEP Forum Unit(s): 1
- GEP 280 - Foundations in Environmental Data Analysis Unit(s): 4

Lower Division Natural and Data Science Foundation Outside GEP (10 units)

Choose three courses from at least two categories

Biological Science Theme

- BIOL 130 - Introductory Cell Biology and Genetics Unit(s): 4
- BIOL 131 - Biological Diversity and Ecology Unit(s): 4
- CHEM 110 - Introductory General Chemistry Unit(s): 3 OR

Physical Science Theme

- CHEM 115A - General Chemistry Unit(s): 5
- CHEM 115B - General Chemistry Unit(s): 5
- PHYS 114 - Introduction to Physics I Unit(s): 4 OR
- PHYS 210A - General Physics Unit(s): 3
- PHYS 214 - Introduction to Physics II Unit(s): 4 OR
- PHYS 210B - General Physics Unit(s): 3

Geospatial Data Science Theme

- CS 115 - Programming I Unit(s): 4

Breadth Courses (15 units)

Choose one from each category

Society, Environment, and Development

- GEP 324 - Climate Change and Society Unit(s): 4

- GEP 325 - Global Food Systems: Scarcity and Sustainability Unit(s): 4
- GEP 330 - Environmental History Unit(s): 4

Environmental Systems

- GEP 340 - Applied Ecology Unit(s): 3
- GEP 351 - Natural Hazards Unit(s): 3
- GEP 355 - Weather and Climate Unit(s): 3

Sustainable Communities

- GEP 360 - Introduction to Urban and Regional Planning Unit(s): 4
- GEP 370 - Globalization and the City Unit(s): 4
- GEP 373 - Energy, Technology, and Society Unit(s): 4

Geospatial Analysis

- GEP 387 - Introduction to Geographic Information Systems Unit(s): 4

Professional Preparation and Experiences (5 units)

GEP 310 and 311 are required. GEP 311 is repeatable, but only 1 unit may count in this category.

- GEP 311 - Research Colloquium Unit(s): 1
- GEP 312 - Professional Conferences Unit(s): 1-2
- GEP 313 - Field Experience Unit(s): 1-2
- GEP 316 - Research Assistant in GEP Unit(s): 1-4
- GEP 317 - Internship Unit(s): 1-4
- GEP 318 - Agroecology in Practice Unit(s): 2
- GEP 319 - Native Plants in Restoration Unit(s): 2
- GEP 201B - Global Environmental Systems Lab Unit(s): 1
- GEP 310 - Professional Development Unit(s): 2

GEP Electives (21 units)

Take 3 courses in one focus area. Take additional electives within any focus area to reach 21 units. Must take at least one 400-level capstone course during junior/senior year (72+ units). Breadth courses do not double count as electives.

Focus 1: Environmental Management and Policy

- GEP 323 - Resource Management & Development in Global Perspective Unit(s): 4
- GEP 324 - Climate Change and Society Unit(s): 4
- GEP 325 - Global Food Systems: Scarcity and Sustainability Unit(s): 4
- GEP 330 - Environmental History Unit(s): 4
- GEP 333 - Natural Resource Planning Unit(s): 4
- GEP 335 - U.S. Environmental Policy Unit(s): 4
- GEP 336 - U.S. Environmental Law Unit(s): 3
- GEP 337 - Landscape History of the American West Unit(s): 3
- GEP 360 - Introduction to Urban and Regional Planning Unit(s): 4
- GEP 362 - Environmental Impact Assessment Unit(s): 3-4
- GEP 367 - Transportation Policy and Technology Unit(s): 3-4
- GEP 368 - Urban Design Unit(s): 3-4
- GEP 431 - Restoration and Society Unit(s): 4

- GEP 422 - Globalization and Environments Unit(s): 4
Focus 2: Environmental Systems
- GEP 340 - Applied Ecology Unit(s): 3
- GEP 343 - Biogeography Unit(s): 4
- GEP 344 - Field Methods Unit(s): 2
- GEP 345 - Lab Methods Unit(s): 2

Program Road Maps

Sample Four-Year Program

The Four year Plan is a sample study plan. The sequence and specific courses given are suggestive; please see an advisor each semester to plan your personal program and track your progress using the Academic Requirements Report (ARR) in MYSSU.

Courses may be interchanged fall and spring semester depending on course offering each semester.

General Education Notes

- GE Areas A2 and B4 should be completed by the end of the first year. Some students may take year-long courses for GE A2 and/or B4.
- GE Area A1 and A3 should be completed by the end of the second year
- Students should enroll in Upper Division GE courses after completion of Areas A1, A2, A3, and B4 with a C- or better, lower division GE in that area, and 45 units total.
- Not all First-Year Learning Communities (FLC's) meet the same GE areas.
- GE Area D must be taken in two different subject areas across the nine total required units in lower division (LD) and upper division (UD).
- Students must take American Institution requirements in U.S. History and U.S. Constitution/California State and Local Government. These requirements may be met in GE.

Freshman Year: 32 Units

Fall Semester (16 Units)

- Lower Division GE Area A1: Oral Communication Credits / Units: 3 GEP 110 - Communication of Environmental Issues Unit(s): 3
- GEP 201 - Global Environmental Systems Unit(s): 3

The study of history involves the study of all human thought and action, ranging from the economic and the political to the psychological and the artistic. Combining the perspectives and methods of the social sciences and the humanities, it seeks to comprehend the problems and challenges faced by individuals and societies in the distant and recent past, nearby and far away. This understanding of the human experience provides the necessary historical perspective to explain the present.

In the process of making sense of our collective and individual past, the student of history develops research, analytical, and communication skills which can be drawn upon in a variety of careers.

The history major is designed both to provide the basis for a solid liberal arts education and to meet the needs of individual students. Within the specific requirements of the major, students receive basic instruction in the history of the United States as well as that of other countries. They are also introduced to methods of historical inquiry, techniques of historical writing and differing philosophies of history and historiography, past and present. Beyond these basic requirements, students may arrange course work to fit their needs and interests. Upper division classes are generally small and offer ample individual attention, guidance, and interaction between students and faculty.

Careers in History

A history major's skills in historical analysis, writing, and research are highly useful in a variety of careers and professions. The history major provides an excellent background for advanced study in many fields. History majors from Sonoma State have developed careers in journalism, academia, K-12 education, law, business, public consulting and research, social media, museum and records management, genealogy, library science, and government service. Public history is a growing field, with careers in government, museums, and historic parks.

Students who plan to pursue graduate work or a teaching career should seek advising early regarding their plan of study. Prospective K-12 teachers should prepare for the credential program by taking the relevant prerequisites in education, working with young people of the appropriate grade level, and preparing early for the state teacher and content exams. Through the history department internship program, students may earn credit for history-related internships in a wide variety of areas, such as local museums, historical societies, businesses, and schools.

History Department Learning Objectives

The History Department at Sonoma State prepares its students to analyze primary and secondary sources and understand the subjectivities inherent in such texts. During their final year, students must take HIST 498 - Senior Seminar, where they write and orally present twenty- to forty-page research papers, which are based on primary and secondary sources, and which identify key historiography.

Objectives

- Analyze and use primary and secondary sources.

Students learn to differentiate between primary and secondary sources and to evaluate the reliability of such sources.

- Understand historical debate and controversies.

Students learn to understand diverse interpretations and to examine different sides of historical debates.

- Gain an understanding of historiography in given region and time period.

Students learn to understand the ways historians in given regions and time periods have approached history and how the field has changed as new evidence is uncovered and re-examined.

- Understand how to use evidence in writing research papers.

Students learn to use leading historical journals, texts, and primary sources to examine the ways historians build arguments from evidence. Students in the history program also learn to use proper citations.

- Productive skills: writing and oral expression.

Students hone their writing and speaking skills and learn to articulate an argument regarding key historical events.

History, B.A.

The B.A. in history is a 40-unit program that students plan in consultation with a departmental advisor. Courses graded Cr/NC are not applicable to the history major, except in the cases of HIST 497 - Internship in History and HIST 496 - History Journal, where 4 units of Cr/NC are accepted.

Program Learning Outcomes

Degree Requirements

See the "Degree Requirements" in the University Catalog for complete details on general degree requirement General Education Requirements (48 units)

See the "General Education Program" requirements in the University Catalog for information on General Education requirements. Some major requirements may double count for GE requirements.

Major Core Requirements

- HIST 201 - Foundations of World Civilization Unit(s): 3
- HIST 202 - Development of the Modern World Unit(s): 3
- HIST 251 - History of the United States to 1877 Unit(s): 3
- HIST 252 - History of the United States Since 1865 Unit(s): 3
- HIST 498 - Senior Seminar Unit(s): 4

Major Electives

To finish the major, students must complete additional units in history to total 40 units. These units must include upper-division courses in 3 of 4 breadth areas:

- European history;
- United States history;
- World Regional (Asian, Latin American, African, or Middle-Eastern history);
- Comparative/Thematic/Global history.

Among their major electives, students must take at least one upper-division course in the period before 1800 and at least one upper-division course that covers the period after 1800. An upper-division substitute for HIST 201/202 may not also count as a breadth or chronology requirement. Three (3) units of electives may be lower-division; the remaining 20-21 units must be upper-division.

History Teaching Credential Preparation

History majors—or majors in other programs—interested in seeking a general elementary credential or secondary school credential for social sciences may demonstrate subject matter competency by passing the CSET Multiple Subjects Exams or the CSET Single Subject Exam in Social Science. For further information and guidance, contact Steve Estes, Department of History, (707) 664-2424.

Public History Certificate

The Public History Certificate is a 22-unit interdisciplinary program designed to give students concrete research, writing, and interviewing skills that are applicable in a number of professions including museums, libraries, city/county governments, historic preservation organizations, and corporations. Students take core courses in history and elective courses in at least two other disciplines. For further information and a list of qualifying courses, please consult the department website or contact the Department of History.

The Dual Language Historical Research Certificate

The DLHRC is a minimum 14 unit program that combines advanced language training with historical study and research, allowing students to broaden their topics of study by making use of primary and secondary sources in other languages. Students are required to demonstrate language proficiency, take a historical research methodology course, and two-4 unit history electives, a portion of which includes reading and research in non-English language sources. For further information and a list of qualifying courses, please consult the department website or contact the Department of History.

History, M.A.

Requirements for Admission

- B.A. degree from an accredited institution. Students with undergraduate majors in fields other than history will be required to complete prerequisites before entering the program;
- Grade point average of 3.00 or better in the undergraduate history major (and in previous graduate courses attempted) as evidenced by the transcripts furnished. Grade point average of 3.20 or better in history for non-majors;

- Completion of the general test Graduate Record Examination with scores acceptable to the departmental Graduate Studies Committee;
- Three letters of recommendation, completion of program application and personal statement, and a writing sample;
- Completion and acceptance of separate application for admission to the University (Office of Admissions and Records). GRE test scores required; and
- Favorable recommendation for admission by the departmental Graduate Studies Committee after review of the complete file. This confers advancement to classified standing as a graduate student.

For more information, please refer to Graduate Degrees in the Degree Requirements section of this catalog.

Requirements for the M.A.

- Advancement to candidacy form (M.A. in history) signed and submitted to Graduate Office;
- Grade point average of 3.00 or better for all work attempted in graduate status and in all work approved as a part of the specific pattern of study. With the approval of the student's committee chair and the graduate advisor, a maximum of 9 units of post-graduate transfer or extension credit (or any combination of the two) may be included as part of the student's specific pattern of study. All courses are to be taken for letter grade;
- All requirements for the M.A. degree in history, including language and conditional requirements stipulated at the time of admission to candidacy, must be satisfactorily completed within seven years from the time the first course is completed. Completion of Requirements form must be signed and submitted to the graduate office; and
- With the approval of the student's committee chair and the departmental graduate advisor, the satisfactory completion of one of the following two options:

Master's Thesis Option

(Chosen in consultation with committee chair):

Courses at the 300 or 400 level

Graduate courses at the 500 level (including two seminars)

- HIST 599 - Masters Degree Thesis Research Unit(s): 6

Comprehensive Examination Option

(Chosen in consultation with committee chair):

Courses at the 300 or 400 level

Graduate courses at the 500 level (including HIST 500 and 510)

- HIST 598 - Comprehensive Examination Reading and Research Unit(s): 3-6 (6 Unit(s) Required)

History, Minor

Students contemplating a minor in history should consult the History Department for advising early in their academic careers. Courses graded Cr/NC are not applicable to the history minor.

Minor Core Requirements

One Lower-Division Course in World History

(Completion of either HIST 201 or HIST 202 also satisfies GE area D2.)

- HIST 201 - Foundations of World Civilization Unit(s): 3 OR
- HIST 202 - Development of the Modern World Unit(s): 3

One Lower-Division Course in United States History

(Completion of either HIST 251 or HIST 252 also satisfies GE area D3.)

- HIST 251 - History of the United States to 1877 Unit(s): 3 OR
- HIST 252 - History of the United States Since 1865 Unit(s): 3

Units

Total units in the minor core: 6

Minor Electives

To finish the General History Minor, students must complete 16 units of upper-division work in history, usually 4 courses. Students may not count additional lower division units toward the minor.

Program Offered

The Bachelor of Arts in Human Development is a multidisciplinary liberal arts program that focuses on growth and development across the human life course, the underlying processes and structures that support that growth, and the relationship between the individual and the complex familial, social, and cultural environments in which growth is situated.

The Human Development major is designed to provide students with a comprehensive grounding in complementary theoretical approaches to human development across the life course. Students gain expertise in how the life course varies across species, cultures, and social positions such as gender, sexuality, class, and race. Students must earn a C or better in all courses applied to the major.

Careers in Human Development

A Bachelor of Arts in Human Development will help prepare students for professional, managerial, service, and educational careers in human development and human services serving infants, children, adolescents, families, and elders. This degree will complement students' preparation for graduate studies in traditional fields such as psychology, sociology, anthropology, social work, counseling and human development. The Human Development faculty are committed to providing accurate and useful information to our majors. Please see the Career Outlook page for more information on career and graduate school opportunities for Human Development graduates.

Human Development, B.A.

The Human Development (HD) Program offers an interdisciplinary Bachelor of Arts degree that focuses on human growth and development across the life course, the underlying processes and structures that support that development, and the relationships between the individual and the complex familial, social, and cultural environments in which development is situated.

The Human Development Program has two components. Pre-Human Development is not impacted and is not a degree-granting program. Pre-Human Development is open to all SSU undergraduates. Students must be in Pre-Human Development and complete the Pre-Human Development curriculum before they can apply to Human Development, which is an impacted major. Being Pre-Human Development does not guarantee admission into the Human Development major. Pre-Human Development students who complete the curriculum will be ranked by GPA when they apply to the major. Students who are interested in the Human Development major should declare Pre-Human Development as early as possible and use the sample four-year plan as a guide for completing the Pre-Human Development curriculum and the Human Development major.

Program Learning Outcomes

Human Development Majors will master the following learning outcomes by the time they graduate:

- Recognize the way in which the life course comes to be culturally shaped as well as inflected by social positions such as gender, race, sexuality and class.
- Evaluate the variety of concepts and theories that shape scholarship and practice in human development, including from biological, social, cultural and psychological perspectives.

- Experience designing, undertaking, and presenting research that is empirically rigorous as well as ethically and methodologically sound.
 - Identify the way that human development knowledge informs practices in applied settings focused on issues such as learning and education, health and wellness, social justice and community advocacy, and the social contexts of disability.
 - Critically reflect on how human development knowledge can be used to facilitate positive change in the life course, especially in contexts of inequality and structural violence.
- Learn more about the Human Development Program

Pre-Human Development

Students must declare Pre-Human Development and complete the following requirements before being accepted into the Human Development major:

- 2.5 overall and SSU GPA.
- Completion of 30 units of GE coursework including:
Complete the following with a C- or better:
 - A1 (3 units)
 - A2 (3 units)
 - A3 (3 units)
- Complete the following with a C or better:
 - B2 (3-4 units)
 - B4 with MATH 165 Elementary Statistics or equivalent from another institution (4 units)
 - A Social Sciences Foundation class: ANTH 203 Introduction to Cultural Anthropology or PSY 250 Introduction to Psychology or SOCI 201 Introduction to Sociology or equivalent from another institution (3 units)
 - A Language Foundation class: ANTH 200 Introduction to Linguistic Anthropology (3 units) or equivalent from another institution (recommended). Students may complete this requirement with ENGL 203 Introduction to Linguistic Studies (4 units), but ENGL 203 fulfills the D1 GE area. Students who wish to complete the most GE areas while completing the Pre-Human Development curriculum should take ANTH 200.
 - Additional lower division GE coursework (e.g., B1, D3, D4, science lab) with a passing grade to reach 30 units. Pre-Human Development majors looking for a GE area E course are encouraged to consider HD 200 (Introduction to Human Aging; GE-E), which also fulfills the Adulthood and Lifespan Topical Area for the Human Development major.

Degree Requirements

See the "Degree Requirements" in the University Catalog for complete details on general degree requirements.

General Education Requirements (48 units)

See the "General Education Program" requirements in the University Catalog for information on General Education requirements. Some major requirements may double count for GE requirements.

Major Core Requirements

Applicants to the Human Development major should expect it to take three (3) semesters to complete the Major Core Requirements.

- ANTH 318 - Human Development in Evolutionary Perspective Unit(s): 3
- HD 320 - Culture and the Life Course Unit(s): 4
- HD 321 - Human Development Core Concepts Unit(s): 4
- HD 322 - Applied Human Development Unit(s): 4
- HD 450 - Qualitative Research Design Unit(s): 4
- HD 490 - Senior Project Unit(s): 1

Topical Areas

Four courses, one from each topical area, taken from at least three different departments. EDXX count as one department and crosslisted courses count as the same department.

Childhood and Adolescence

(at least 1 course)

- EDEC 220 - Child Observation with Field Experience Unit(s): 4
- EDEC 435 - Leadership on Behalf of Children and Families Unit(s): 4

Program Roadmaps

Sample Four-Year Program

The Four year Plan is a sample study plan. The sequence and specific courses given are suggestive; please see an advisor each semester to plan your personal program and track your progress using the Academic Requirements Report (ARR) in MYSSU.

Courses may be interchanged fall and spring semester depending on course offering each semester.

General Education Notes:

- GE Areas A2 and B4 should be completed by the end of the first year. Some students may take year-long courses for GE A2 and/or B4.

- GE Area A1 and A3 should be completed by the end of the second year
- Students should enroll in Upper Division GE courses after completion of Areas A1, A2, A3, and B4 with a C- or better, lower division GE in that area, and 45 units total.
- Not all First-Year Learning Communities (FLC's) meet the same GE areas.
- GE Area D must be taken in two different subject areas across the nine total required units in lower division (LD) and upper division (UD).
- Students must take American Institution requirements in U.S. History and U.S. Constitution/California State and Local Government. These requirements may be met in GE.

Human Development, B.A.

Freshman Year: Minimum of 30 Units

Fall Semester (15-16 Units)

- Lower Division GE Area A1: Oral Communication Units: 3
- Lower Division GE Area B1: Physical Sciences Units: 3-4
- Lower Division GE Area B2: Life Sciences Units: 3-4
- Lower Division GE Area D: Social Sciences Units: 3-4
- University Elective Units: 1-2

Spring Semester (15 Units)

Take just one of ANTH 203, PSY 250 or SOCI 201, in addition to ANTH 200. Additional courses must be taken to reach 15 units.

- ANTH 203 - Introduction to Cultural Anthropology Unit(s): 3
- PSY 250 - Introduction to Psychology Unit(s): 3
- SOCI 201 - Introduction to Sociology Unit(s): 3
- ANTH 200 - Introduction to Linguistic Anthropology Unit(s): 3

Sophomore Year: Minimum of 30 Units

Fall Semester (15 Units)

Additional courses must be taken to reach 15 units.

- MATH 165 - Elementary Applied Statistics Unit(s): 4

Spring Semester (15 Units)

- Lower Division GE B3 Units: 3-4
- Lower Division GE Area C2: Humanities Units: 4
- Lower Division GE Area D: Social Sciences Units: 3-4
- University Elective (3-4)

Junior Year: Minimum of 30 Units

Fall Semester (15 Units)

Additional courses must be taken to reach 15 units.

- ANTH 318 - Human Development in Evolutionary Perspective Unit(s): 3
- HD 320 - Culture and the Life Course Unit(s): 4

Spring Semester (15-16 Units)

Additional courses must be taken to reach 15 units.

- HD 450 - Qualitative Research Design Unit(s): 4
- HD 321 - Human Development Core Concepts Unit(s): 4

Senior Year: Minimum of 30 Units

Fall Semester (15-16 Units)

Additional courses must be taken to reach 15 units.

- HD 450 - Qualitative Research Design Unit(s): 4

Spring Semester (15 Units)

Additional courses must be taken to reach 15 units.

- HD 490 - Senior Project Unit(s): 1
- HD 322 - Applied Human Development Unit(s): 4

Total Units: 120

* Pre-HD requirement. Must be completed with required grade, along with 30 units of lower division GE before the student can apply to the HD major. In this 4-year plan, the student is on track to complete the Pre-HD curriculum by the end of the Fall semester of sophomore year.

 If needed to reach 15 units. HD CA/AL/GS/SCL Course refers to courses that make up the Topical Area Requirements for the major: CA=Childhood and Adolescence; AL=Adulthood and Lifespan; GS=Gender and Sexual-ity; SCL=Society, Culture and Language

*At least two courses must be upper division GE and one must be outside GE area E. Upper division GE courses must be taken after the student achieves junior standing (60 units completed).

Faculty Early Retirement Program*

The Political Science program at Sonoma State University offers excellent opportunities for the study of government, politics, and the exercise of political power. More than 40 courses cover all the major aspects of the discipline. Students develop an understanding of broad, philosophical questions as they relate to politics. Students learn to discuss and analyze critically U.S. political institutions and the many public policy issues facing the United States and the world. Students are taught how to analyze and understand world affairs and international relations. They are taught how to evaluate and compare political phenomena across different countries. Students are trained in appropriate research techniques for the study of political actors, institutions and processes in a complex, interdependent and diverse world.

The Political Science major allows students to choose from a wide range of courses and subjects within the political science discipline. A common core of courses provides students with the foundational knowledge and research skills needed to pursue more advanced work at the upper division level. In core courses students study the relationship among values, ideology, and politics (POLS 201); fundamental issues in American politics (POLS 202); the logic of research in political science (POLS 302); comparative political analysis (POLS 303); theory and analysis of international politics (POLS 304); and a senior research seminar (POLS 498). Beyond this common core, as part of the additional 20 units required for the major, each student must complete at least one upper-division course in each of the four major fields of political science: political theory, international relations, comparative government, and American government and politics. Since politics and economics are so closely tied together, the department recommends each student complete a basic course in economics. The Department also strongly recommends that students take SSCI 299 - Sophomore Seminar: How to Think Like a Social Scientist (fulfills GE Area E). In addition, the Department encourages international study for Political Science students and will arrange for appropriate credits for courses of study at international universities.

A 20-unit minor in Political Science also is available. Although the minor most often is used in conjunction with such majors as communications, history, economics, and sociology, it can be paired with almost any major offered at the University.

Internships

The Department offers several programs through which students may gain practical experience while earning academic credit. A Political Science internship involves working in the office of a public official, on an election campaign, or for an advocacy group or nonprofit organization. Interns have served with State Assembly Members, State Senators, Members of Congress, and in a number of campaigns for local, state, and national office. Students have also worked with advocacy groups and nonprofit organizations to effect change at the local, state, national and international levels. The graduate program in Public Administration places students in positions, often paid, with local government offices and agencies where they may be involved with city planning and zoning issues, public relations efforts, special research topics, budget preparation, to mention several possibilities. In addition, the Department regularly sends selected students to the state capitol to participate in the Sacramento Semester Program where they work with members of the Legislature, officers of the executive branch, or lobbyists to gain a fuller understanding of the political process firsthand. Finally, special arrangements also may be made for some students to serve as interns to members of Congress in Washington, D.C., for a semester.

Academic Advising

Each student is assigned a faculty advisor to help plan and carry out an individualized academic program. The advisors are assigned by the last name of each student. The Department expects students to seek faculty advice every semester, especially prior to registering for their next semester's courses.

Preparation

Students are encouraged to take English composition and social science courses, including civics, economics, and history. Experience in journalism and debating activities can also be helpful. A foreign language is highly recommended but not required for the degree. Students who plan further study at the graduate level are strongly encouraged to take courses in an appropriate foreign language, since proficiency in two foreign languages is often required in doctoral programs.

Community college transfer students should contact their advising office, the Sonoma State University Political Science Department or consult the ASSIST.org website to identify appropriate lower-division major/minor preparatory courses. Typically, these would include a basic course in American political institutions, which would fulfill the state code requirements for U.S. Constitution and California state and local government and meet the department core requirement in American Political Systems. Other lower-division courses introducing students to the discipline of political science, the study of international relations, and the study of comparative politics also are highly recommended. The POLS 200/POLS 202 requirement can be met by a combination of AP American Government credit and POLS 151. The POLS 201 - Ideas and Institutions core requirement can be met if students take both Introduction to Political Theory and Introduction to Comparative Government at a community college.

Teaching Credential Preparation

Political Science majors interested in seeking a general elementary credential may demonstrate subject matter competency by passing the CSET Multiple Subject Assessment for Teachers.* For further information, contact the department office, or School of Social Sciences, (707) 664-2409.

 Or the CSET Single-Subject Assessment for Teachers*

Careers in Political Science

Law and Paralegal Careers

A bachelor's degree in Political Science offers excellent preparation for a wide range of careers in the public, private and non profit sectors. In particular, Political Science majors acquire the broad based knowledge and research, analytical and communications skills desirable to twenty-first century employers. A major in Political Science prepares students for the study and practice of law. The Department offers a number of specialized courses in the field of constitutional law and civil liberties. The degree also provides a foundation for public service careers at the national, state and local levels, including teaching, research, administration, planning, policy analysis and public office holder. Political Science is also an appropriate major for students interested in positions in the overseas agencies of the U.S. government or in international organizations. The major can lead to opportunities in campaign management, speech writing, polling, public relations, lobbying, and voting analysis. Political Science students have also entered journalism careers in television, and social and print media. A Political Science degree also offers excellent preparation for a degree in the private sector, such as labor relations, information analyst, governmental relations or budget analyst.

Master's in Public Administration, M.P.A.

www.sonoma.edu/polisci/masters/

Offered primarily as an evening program, the Master's degree in Public Administration (MPA) is a professional degree providing a rigorous 40-unit curriculum that emphasizes the education required to effectively analyze, formulate, and implement public policy in local, state, and national government, and to achieve similar goals in nonprofit agencies. The program recognizes the need for a strong combination of theoretical and practical learning. Students choose from two concentrations: Public Management (PM) or Non-Profit Agency Management (NP).

Each student is required to complete a 20-unit analytic core, a 16-unit concentration, and 4 units of graduate-level electives. Courses are based upon the professional curriculum established for public administration programs by the National Association of Schools of Public Affairs and Administration (NASPAA). Concentrations include specialized courses oriented toward the operation and management of public and nonprofit agencies and typically include fiscal management, personnel administration, legal issues, public policy, labor relations, marketing and resource development for nonprofits, and grants and contract management. Electives cover a wide range of important topics, including ethics, leadership, organizational computer usage, internships, and special studies.

Up to 9 units of comparable graduate course work may be transferred into this program per CSU policy.

If at any time it is determined that the candidate has an English deficiency, extra courses in English will be required in addition to the regular course of study.

Admission Requirements

Students apply to both the University and to the M.P.A. program.

- A bachelor's degree with a major from an accredited college or university with a grade point average of at least 3.00 for the last 60 units of college-level work attempted;
- Prerequisites: To ensure adequate background, a candidate for admission should have experience or course preparation in the following areas:
 - State and local government,
 - Federalism and Inter-Governmental Relations (IGR),
 - Influences on domestic policy making.
- Recommended: One year experience working in a nonprofit organization or a course in introduction to nonprofit organizations (example: through Sonoma County Volunteer Center).

Candidates without such experience or course preparation can be admitted to the program but must make up deficiencies during the first three semesters of study.

Prerequisites do not count toward the 40-unit degree. Acceptability of experience or previous coursework as prerequisites will be determined in consultation with the program's graduate coordinator;

- Completion of both University and departmental applications. Included in the departmental application are three letters of recommendation. Only three letters will be considered; and
- Recommendation of the program by the graduate coordinator for entrance to the program.

Graduation Requirements for the Master's Degree

- A grade point average of at least 3.00;
- Satisfactory completion of required coursework, including elective units. No courses for which a grade less than B is earned will be acceptable in meeting the 40-unit M.P.A. requirement. Students earning a B- or lower in a course will be required to repeat the course with a grade of B or better;
- Completion of a master's thesis and oral defense, two comprehensive written examinations or a capstone project.
- Recommendation of the program graduate coordinator; and
- Successful completion of the WEPT (or its equivalent), or waiver by the University of this requirement. This waiver is granted by the program graduate coordinator.

Course Work

Common Core Requirements - 20 Units

- POLS 502 - Organizational Theory and Analysis Unit(s): 4
- POLS 503 - Budget and Fiscal Administration Unit(s): 2

- POLS 597 - Graduate Internship Unit(s): 1-4 (4 Unit(s) Required)
- POLS 598 - Capstone Project Unit(s): 1-4 (4 Unit(s) Required)
- POLS 599 - Master's Thesis Unit(s): 2-4 (4 Unit(s) Required)

Culminating Experience

All students in the M.P.A. program are required to complete either a thesis, a comprehensive examination, or a capstone project prior to award of the degree. Those opting for a thesis as their culminating experience are required to complete 40 units of coursework, exclusive of prerequisites, and can include 4 units of POLS 599 (Thesis Prep) as an elective. Students electing to take the comprehensive exam must complete 40 units of total coursework exclusive of prerequisites and POLS 596 (exam preparation). Students choosing a capstone project must complete 40 units of coursework, exclusive of prerequisites, and can include 4 units POLS 598 (Capstone Project) as an elective.

Political Science, Minor

To earn a Political Science (POLS) minor, students must take a total of 20 units of POLS coursework. Passage of POLS 200 or 202 and POLS 201 for the Political Science minor requires a grade of C or better.

POLS 200 American Political System (3) or
POLS 202 Issues in Modern American Politics (4)
POLS 201 Ideas and Institutions

Upper-division courses in Political Science

Total units in the minor: 20 units

NOTE: Passage of POLS 200 or POLS 202, AND POLS 201 for the minor requires a grade of 'C' or better.

Minor Requirements

- POLS 200 - American Political System Unit(s): 3 OR
- POLS 202 - Issues in Modern American Politics Unit(s): 4

- POLS 201 - Ideas and Institutions Unit(s): 4
- Upper-division courses in political science Unit(s): 12-13

Units

Total units in the minor: 20

Code Requirements

POLS 200 - American Political System or POLS 202 - Issues in Modern American Politics fulfills state code requirements in U.S. Constitution and California state and local government. Upper-division courses may also be used to satisfy certain of these code requirements upon approval by the department chair.

What is Psychology?

Psychology is the study of mind, behavior and experience. From this foundation, psychologists have developed sub-disciplines that address many diverse aspects of human experience. Psychology is a field that requires one to apply focused knowledge, abilities, and skills in order to solve human problems. It is an extremely diverse field that attracts people with a wide variety of backgrounds, interests, and skills.

The Psychology Department

From its founding in 1960, the department was allied with the humanistic and existential traditions in psychology. The department offered the first graduate program in humanistic psychology and also helped to pioneer that field, with four faculty having served as president of the Association for Humanistic Psychology. The department has been distinctive for its pioneering work in such areas as somatics, client-centered therapy, expressive arts, biofeedback, health psychology, organization development, ecopsychology, Jungian and archetypal psychology, transpersonal psychology, interdisciplinary learning, student-directed learning, experiential learning, and learning-community approaches. This distinctiveness has led to widespread recognition.

We currently offer a diverse array of traditional and contemporary approaches to studying human experience. Faculty teach, conduct research, author books and articles, pioneer community projects, and consult with organizations and groups. Current faculty interests include social justice, multicultural psychology, health psychology, depth psychology, clinical practice and mental health counseling, spirituality and mindfulness, community service, ecopsychology, creativity, and child development. Our goal is to empower students with psychological knowledge and practical skills that will enable them to be effective agents of change in the world.

The department's five Breadth areas address central subfields in the discipline of psychology. These subfields are: holistic, clinical/counseling, developmental, social/personality, and cognitive/physiological.

Holistic: focuses on the essential wholeness of persons by developing knowledge and skills integral to health and growth, such as self-reflection, self-awareness and creativity.

Clinical / Counseling: develops knowledge and skills in understanding and helping others, and in health-promoting behaviors.

Developmental: investigates changes in persons over the life span, and explores how this knowledge may be used in applied settings such as in parenting, education, and community life.

Social / Personality: focuses on how individual differences among people and the social context in which they live shape their emotions, thoughts and behavior.

Cognitive / Physiological: explores the physiological foundations of human experience, as well as the mental processes involved in learning, memory, perception, and problem solving.

The department strongly recommends that students take courses in psychology and other disciplines to gain competence in diversity areas of culture, race and ethnicity, gender, sexual orientation, disability, age, religion, and social class. While all psychology faculty are committed to including diversity in their courses, specific courses focus on diversity issues and students' development of multicultural competence. These courses are identified in the course descriptions and the semester course schedule.

The department offers a master of arts in psychology with an emphasis in depth psychology. Depth psychology cultivates specific methods and skills designed to explore the inner life, give form to it, understand it, and apply it to persons, groups, art forms, and cultures. Therapists, counselors, psychologists, teachers—anyone who works closely with people—may apply the knowledge of depth psychology to their work.

Department Learning Goals and Objectives

The Psychology Department curriculum is designed to develop the following skills in each student by graduation time. The courses are devised to enable each student to:

- Understand the major concepts, theories, and perspectives in psychology;
- Apply psychological theories, concepts, and principles to individual experience as well as to social issues and social systems;
- Reflect on personal experience in light of psychological knowledge;
- Recognize and understand the complexity of cultural diversity, in light of psychological knowledge;
- Understand and apply basic research methods in psychology and the social sciences; and
- Demonstrate skills that promote behavioral change at the individual, organizational, and community levels.

Careers in Psychology

A career in psychology gives opportunities to break new ground in science, to better understand yourself and others, to help people live richer and more productive lives, and to establish ongoing personal and intellectual growth in school and throughout your career.

Many people with psychology training find it rewarding to work directly with people—for example, helping them to overcome depression, or to stop smoking, training people on health behaviors, parenting, skills, etc. Others are excited by research questions on topics such as health and well being, decision-making, eating disorders, brain functioning, parenting skills, forensic work, and child development.

Careers: Bachelor's Degree in Psychology

A bachelor's degree in psychology means that you graduate with a strong liberal arts education and adequate preparation for entry-level employment in one of many career paths, including:

- Administration and management
- Aging, human services, and advocacy
- Behavior change consulting
- Behavioral Specialist
- Childhood Education
- Counseling
- Health services
- Marketing and public relations
- Human Resources
- Research Assistant
- Not-for-Profit Organizations
- Organizational consulting
- Probation and parole
- Psychiatric assistant
- Social service casework and advocacy
- Teaching

Careers: Graduate Work and Further Training

Students are encouraged to search graduate programs in their fields of interest to identify graduate prerequisites. Students should consult the psychology department website which has some career information and web links to graduate schools and programs.

Most master's and doctoral programs and employers prefer applicants who, in addition to their academic background, have some kind of applied internship or research assistantship that provides hands-on experience in their field.

Traditionally, with a master's or doctoral degree, people are employed in different settings such as education, government, private industry, non-profit organizations, research institutes, hospitals, and clinics. They work as professors teaching within their discipline at universities, community colleges, or high schools. Licensed psychologists provide individual or group therapy in private clinics, hospitals, the military, or schools. School counselors/psychologists work with students and their families to support healthy social, cognitive, and emotional development. People with advanced degrees are often hired as consultants to work on a variety of tasks related to their specific area of expertise-e.g., Designing marketing surveys, providing training to executives and other professionals, etc.

Internships

The Psychology Department strongly recommends community internship experience, particularly for the student going on to counseling or clinical psychology master's and doctoral degrees.

Each semester students may participate in field placements and internship work experiences in organizations and agencies throughout the University's six-county service area. These internships involve on-the-job training by the agency as well as academic work under the supervision of a faculty member. This experience forms an important base for academic credit and helps students to obtain a range of learning experiences not otherwise found in the department. Applications for internship should be made near the end of the semester preceding the internship semester. Students planning on graduate work in clinical or counseling psychology are encouraged to gain internship experience well before applying to graduate school. A maximum of 8 units of Credit/No Credit classes may be applied to the major, including internship units.

Some Psychology Department instructors offer teaching internships to advanced students who have taken and excelled in a course. Duties include working with the classroom instructor in class preparation and classroom tasks, and facilitating small group work. Teaching Assistants register for PSY 482 - Teaching Internship, (C/NC). A maximum of 8 credit/no credit units may count toward the psychology major.

Research Assistantships

The Psychology Department strongly recommends research assistantships for those students going on to graduate work in psychology at the master's or doctoral levels. Many university graduate programs require students to have experience in conducting psychological research, as well as in analyzing data and writing up the results. In order to find out more about these research opportunities, students should consult with individual faculty members who are mentoring students in faculty research projects. Please see the psychology department website to identify the departments academic advisors, their hours and office hours.

Special Studies

Students who wish to carry out independent study and research are encouraged to contact an individual faculty member of their choice.

Psychology, B.A.

Admission to the Psychology Major

First-Time Freshman

- Cumulative high school college prep (A-G) 10th-12th grade GPA 3.0

Transfer Students

- Cumulative CSU transferable GPA 3.0
- Completion of 60 CSU transferable units
- Out of the 60 CSU transferable units, 30 units completed must be General Education (GE) Units
- Area A1 Oral Communication (Speech), A3 Critical Thinking and B4 General Education Math completed with a C or better
- Completion of Area A2 Written Communication (English Composition) with a letter grade of "C-" or better (English 101)
- Completion of PSY 250 (Introduction of Psychology) or equivalent with a grade of "C" or better
- Recommend completion of Sonoma State equivalent MATH 165 (Statistics) with a letter grade of "C" or better, it can be completed at SSU. BUS 211 or ECON 217 can fill this requirement as well.
- Recommend completion of PSY 280 (Research Methods) or equivalent with "C" better. It can be completed at SSU, as well as other campuses.

In-House Transfer Students

- Cumulative GPA 3.0
- Completion of PSY 250 (Introduction to Psychology) or equivalent with a grade of "C" or better
- Completion of at least 45 units at a time of application.

Note: that PSY 270, PSYCH of self-discovery must be taken at Sonoma State.

Program Learning Outcomes

- Understand the major concepts, theories, and perspectives in psychology;
- Apply psychological theories, concepts, and principles to individual experience as well as to broader social issues and social systems;
- Reflect on personal experience in light of psychological knowledge;
- Recognize and understand the complexity of cultural diversity in light of psychological knowledge;
- Understand and apply basic research methods in psychology and the social sciences; and
- Demonstrate skills that promote behavioral change at the individual, organizational, and community levels.

Degree Requirements

See the "Degree Requirements" in the University Catalog for complete details on general degree requirements.

General Education Requirements (48 units)

See the "General Education Program" requirements in the University Catalog for information on General Education requirements. Some major requirements may double count for GE requirements.

Major Requirements

The Psychology major consists of 40 units in the major, plus a 4-unit course in statistics. Many psychology majors take more than 40 major units, and add a second major or a minor in another discipline. Students are encouraged to work in community internships and to expand their knowledge of diversity issues with coursework within the department and the university.

In addition to statistics, no more than 11 units in the major may be lower-division psychology units. At least 29 units must be upper-division psychology (SSU courses numbered 300 or higher). All courses for the major must be taken for a grade if this is offered, and must be passed with a grade of C or better. A maximum of 8 units may be taken credit / no credit in the major—this includes internships and special studies courses. Psychology GE courses count for the major as well as for GE. (PSY 250, PSY 302, and PSY 325.)

Lower Division Courses

- PSY 250 - Introduction to Psychology Unit(s): 3 (or equivalent)
- MATH 165 - Elementary Applied Statistics Unit(s): 4 (or equivalent)
- PSY 270 - Psychology of Self-Discovery Unit(s): 4
- PSY 280 - Research Methods in Psychology Unit(s): 4 (or equivalent)

Upper Division Courses:

- Complete one course from 4 out of 5 Breadth Areas
- Electives drawn from Breadth Areas or Electives

Units

Total: 44

Required Courses for the Major

PSY 250 - Introduction to Psychology, gives students a broad overview of the diverse theories and methods that psychologists use to investigate questions about human behavior and experience. An equivalent course may be taken at other colleges and universities. An AP exam score of 3 or a pass in the CLEP test of introductory psychology meets this course requirement.

MATH 165 - Elementary Applied Statistics, provides the foundation to understand how psychologists and social scientists evaluate the evidence obtained in empirical studies. An equivalent course in Math or Psychology may be taken at other colleges or universities, or ECON 217, BUS 211, or MATH 165X, may be used to fill the statistics requirement. Most students use this course to meet the GE Area B4 requirement.

PSY 270 - Psychology of Self-Discovery, develops skills characteristic of healthy, engaged, growth-oriented persons in areas such as mindfulness, emotional intelligence, interpersonal relationships, dreamwork, and self-reflection.

PSY 280 - Research Methods in Psychology, provides foundational knowledge and skills in psychological research methods, data collection and data interpretation. An equivalent course may be taken at other colleges and universities.

Upper-Division Breadth Areas

Students must complete one upper-division course from 4 out of 5 Breadth areas: Holistic, Clinical / Counseling, Developmental, Social / Personality, and Cognitive / Physiological. Courses marked with (Diversity) represent courses that focus on Diversity issues.

Holistic

- PSY 307 - Humanistic, Existential, and Transpersonal Psychology Unit(s): 4
- PSY 322 - Myth, Dream, and Symbol Unit(s): 3-4
- PSY 335 - Memoir and Autobiography Unit(s): 3-4
- PSY 338 - Psychology of Creativity Unit(s): 4
- PSY 342 - The Psychology of Meditation Unit(s): 4
- PSY 352 - Psychology of Yoga Unit(s): 3-4
- PSY 358 - Health Psychology Unit(s): 3-4
- PSY 360 - Peak Performance Psychology Unit(s): 4
- PSY 466 - Jungian Psychology Unit(s): 4
- PSY 470 - Psychology of Film Unit(s): 4
- PSY 471 - Psychology of Religion Unit(s): 4
- PSY 485 - Ecopsychology Unit(s): 4
- PSY 490 - Psychology Seminar Unit(s): 1-4

Clinical / Counseling

- PSY 411 - Child Psychopathology Unit(s): 4
- PSY 425 - Psychopathology Unit(s): 4
- PSY 428 - Introduction to Counseling Unit(s): 4
- PSY 430 - Depth Oriented Psychotherapies Unit(s): 4
- PSY 431 - Introduction To Art Therapy Unit(s): 4
- PSY 490 - Psychology Seminar Unit(s): 1-4

Developmental

- PSY 302 - Life Span Development Unit(s): 3
- PSY 408 - Transitions in Adult Development Unit(s): 4
- PSY 409 - Social and Emotional Development Unit(s): 4
- PSY 410 - Child Development Unit(s): 3-4
- PSY 412 - Adolescent Psychology Unit(s): 3-4

- PSY 413 - Adolescent Development through Film Unit(s): 4
- PSY 414 - Infant Development Unit(s): 4
- PSY 418 - The Psychology of Family Unit(s): 3-4
- PSY 448 - Cognitive Development Unit(s): 4
- PSY 490 - Psychology Seminar Unit(s): 1-4

Social / Personality

- PSY 325 - Social Psychology Unit(s): 4
- PSY 327 - Psychology in Organizations Unit(s): 4
- PSY 328 - Multicultural Psychology Unit(s): 4
- PSY 405 - The Psychology of Gender Unit(s): 4
- PSY 438 - Psychological Aspects of Disability Unit(s): 3-4
- PSY 461 - Personality Unit(s): 3-4
- PSY 490 - Psychology Seminar Unit(s): 1-4

Cognitive / Physiological

- PSY 362 - Human Sexuality Unit(s): 4
- PSY 415 - Sensation & Perception Unit(s): 4
- PSY 446 - Cognitive Psychology Unit(s): 4
- PSY 447 - Learning and Behavior Unit(s): 3-4
- PSY 450 - Physiological Psychology Unit(s): 4
- PSY 454 - Biofeedback, Somatics, and Stress Management Unit(s): 4
- PSY 490 - Psychology Seminar Unit(s): 1-4

Upper-Division Additional Courses

Students must complete a total of 40 units in psychology (11 lower division and 29 upper division). After taking the required 11 lower division units AND one upper division course from 4 out of the 5 Breadth areas (15 to 16 units), students complete the remaining units (13 to 14 units) by taking ANY other upper division psychology courses. A maximum of 8 Credit/No Credit (C/NC) units may count toward the major.)

- PSY 306 - History of Modern Psychology Unit(s): 4
- PSY 311 - Psychology Dialogue Series Unit(s): 1-2
- PSY 313 - Careers in Psychology Unit(s): 2-4
- PSY 399 - Graduate Student-Instructed Course Unit(s): 1-3
- PSY 445 - Advanced Research Design and Analysis Unit(s): 4
- PSY 481 - Research Internship Unit(s): 1-8
- PSY 482 - Teaching Internship Unit(s): 1-8
- PSY 499 - Internship Unit(s): 1-4
- PSY 490 - Psychology Seminar Unit(s): 1-4

Advising

Starting Fall 2018, all psychology students have assigned academic advisors by the students' last names, in alphabetical order. The name of the psychology student's assigned advisor is listed under People Soft/Student Center. Students can come for drop-in advising during their assigned advisor's office hours and attend group-advising sessions before graduation and registration deadlines. For further information, students may consult the SSU advising policy at <https://www.sonoma.edu/policies/instructional-faculty-office-hours-and-availability>. To make the most of their education, students are encouraged to consult the psychology department website, which has extensive career information and web links to graduate schools and programs. Students are encouraged to do their own research on graduate programs and course prerequisites.

GE Advising:

The school of Social Science GE academic advisor provides information on GE lower-division course selection. Check office hours for the GE advisor at: <http://web.sonoma.edu/socsci/>.

Freshman Advising:

During the first two years at SSU, students take the lower division major requirements: Psy 250, Psy 270, Psy 280 and lower division GE courses. Students should meet with their assigned psychology academic advisor no later than the second semester of their sophomore year. Please see the Psychology Department website (www.sonoma.edu/psychology) to identify the department's academic advisors and their office hours and locations.

Transfer Advising:

Transfer students must attend summer transfer orientation, group advising, and meet with their psychology advisor during their first semester. Please note that Psy 270, Psychology of Self-Discovery is the only required class that must be taken at SSU. We strongly advise students to complete Psy 270 their first semester and no later than their junior year.

Internships

All internships are credit/ no credit. A minimum of 8 credit/ no credit units may count toward the 40 psychology-major units (psych 499).

The Psychology Department strongly recommends community internship experience, particularly for the student going on to counseling clinical/psychology master's and doctoral degrees.

Each semester students may participate in field placements and internship work experiences in organizations and agencies. These internships involve on-the-job training by the agency as well as academic work under the supervision of the psychology Internship coordinator, Dr. Mary Schinder. This experience forms an important base for academic credit and helps students to obtain a range of learning experiences not otherwise found in the department. Students must begin the internship process the semester prior to starting their actual internship. This includes: attending an internship informational meeting, obtaining a PSY 499 syllabus, setting up internship placement, completing an internship agreement form and providing the agency supervisor with our supervision information letter. See internships updates on our Internships webpage <http://web.sonoma.edu/psychology/internships/>. Students planning on graduate work in clinical or counseling psychology are encouraged to gain internship experience well before applying to graduate school.

Check the psychology department for updates on Teaching Assistantships.

Research and Teaching Internships

The Psychology Department strongly recommends research assistant for those students going on to graduate work in psychology at the master's or doctoral levels. Many university graduate programs require students to have experience in conducting psychological research, as well as in analyzing data and writing up the results. In order to find out more about these research opportunities, students should consult with individual faculty members who are mentoring students in faculty research projects.

Some Psychology Department instructors offer teaching internships to advanced students who have taken and excelled in a course. Duties include working with the classroom instructor in class preparation and classroom tasks, and facilitating small group work. Teaching Assistants register for Psy 482, Teaching Internship (C/NC).

Check the psychology department for updates on Teaching Assistantships.

Psychology, Depth Psychology Emphasis, M.A.

This program is going on hiatus for 2020-21, and will not be accepting admissions. For continuing students, please see the following description.

The Psychology Department, working in conjunction with the School of Extended and International Education, offers a Masters of Arts in Psychology with a depth psychology emphasis. This Special Sessions program is a partnership between the School of Social Sciences and the School of Extended & International Education (SEIE). Academic criteria for the program are set by the department and are determined in accordance with all applicable SSU and CSU policies. As a tuition, self-supported program, unique and separate fees are charged on a per-unit basis for all courses required for this program. These fees are set annually by the SSU President. Information about fees, financial aid and scholarships are available through SEIE. Degrees are awarded by the School of Social Sciences.

Curriculum in Depth Psychology

The curriculum offers a strong, supportive small-group learning environment within a structured 36-unit two-year curriculum. In the first year, the 12-15 students take four foundational courses.

The Theories course explores the basic concepts of Jungian psychology, which is an in-depth language for understanding psychological development and creative expression. The Methods and Applications course teaches the techniques of depth inquiry, which are methods for accessing, exploring and understanding the hidden parts of the self. This is accomplished through intensive work with different symbolic forms, such as dreams, art, active imagination, sandplay, movement, myth, nature, and the body. The Cross-Cultural Mythology and Symbolism course focuses on common archetypal motifs across cultures as expressed in image, myth, fairy tale, ritual, rites of passage, and indigenous practices. The Research Methods course explores depth inquiry methodologies and develops skills in reviewing the literature, conducting a study, and interpreting the findings.

In the second year, students develop a research proposal for their culminating Master's requirement and begin implementing their study in the fall Culminating Paper Tutorial. In the spring students complete their study and prepare for the public presentation of their work in the Article Evening in May. Students have a choice of completing an article of publishable quality or a master's thesis focused on an area of passionate interest. Students choose seminars in depth psychology oriented around student interests. Past seminars have explored individuation; earth-based rites of passage; expressive arts; trauma; transformational teaching; neuropsychology; typology; and object relations.

The second year internship offers students community work experience in their field of interest, such as teaching, the arts, mental health, ecopsychology, and rights rites of passage. Students may apply to teach an undergraduate course in their field of expertise in the SSU Psychology Department as an internship. Past student-taught courses include cross-cultural rites of passage; myth and narrative; and indigenous wisdom. The Program coordinator assists students in developing curriculum and supervises the teaching internship.

Students also have the option, at additional expense, of enrolling in University courses that meet their specific learning needs. After completion of coursework, university policy requires students in master's programs to maintain continuous enrolment until completion of the M.A. program. A maximum of 10 academic units may be taken post-coursework. Students may sign up for 3 semesters of PSY 578, Project Continuation, and then renew thesis units with 3 units of PSY 599, Masters Thesis, at the current tuition rate. There is a 7-year limit on coursework for the M.A.

The Master's program sponsors a monthly Saturday lecture series open to the public that invites noted authors, therapists, and practitioners to come and discuss their work. Past presentations have included discussions of emotion and the archetypal imagination; spirituality; archetypal masculine and feminine; sandplay case studies; images of enlightenment; and psychological initiation.

Program of Study

 Students have the option to register for 1-3 semesters of Project Continuation following their two years of coursework in order to complete their article or master's thesis.*

Year One

- PSY 511A - Theories of Depth Psychology Unit(s): 2-4 (3 Unit(s) Required)
- PSY 511B - Theories of Depth Psychology Unit(s): 2-4 (3 Unit(s) Required)
- PSY 542A - Methods and Applications of Depth Psychology Unit(s): 3-4 (3 Unit(s) Required)
- PSY 542B - Methods and Applications of Depth Psychology Unit(s): 3-4 (3 Unit(s) Required)
- PSY 543A - Cross-Cultural Mythology and Symbolism Unit(s): 1-4 (3 Unit(s) Required)
- PSY 575 - Research Seminar Unit(s): 1-4 (3 Unit(s) Required)

Year Two

- PSY 543B - Cross-Cultural Mythology and Symbolism Unit(s): 1-4 (3 Unit(s) Required)
- PSY 575 - Research Seminar Unit(s): 1-4 (3 Unit(s) Required)
- PSY 576 - Seminar in Depth Psychology Unit(s): 1-5 (9 Unit(s) Required) (topics vary)
- PSY 581 - Internship Unit(s): 1-6 (3 Unit(s) Required)
- PSY 597 - Culminating Paper Tutorial Unit(s): 1-4 (3 Unit(s) Required)

Year Three and Post-Coursework (optional)*

- PSY 515 - Psychological Writing Unit(s): 1-4 (1 Unit(s) Required)
- PSY 551 - Directed Reading Unit(s): 1-4
- PSY 578 - Project Continuation Unit(s): 1-3 (3 semester limit)
- PSY 595 - Special Studies Unit(s): 1-4
- PSY 599 - Master's Thesis Unit(s): 1-3 (3 Unit(s) Required) (following 3 semesters of PSY 578)

Prerequisites for Admission

Course prerequisites are required for admission and are designed to give students a foundation in the field of psychology and in symbolic exploration. The criteria for application and acceptance into the program are the following:

- B.A. or B.S. from an accredited institution;
- Minimum GPA of 3.0 in the last 60 units of coursework;

- Competency in written and oral expression, as demonstrated by the coherence of the personal statement and oral interview;
- Emotional maturity, as demonstrated in the personal written statement, life experiences, and oral interview;
- Four area prerequisites: child, adult or lifespan development; abnormal/psychopathology; personality; and research methods. A maximum of 9 units may be lower division courses completed at a Community College;
- Readiness for graduate work, as evidenced through three (3) letters of recommendation; and
- Self-Reflectiveness, as evidenced in the discussion of symbolic work.

Fees and Financial Aid

Fees are set by the president in consultation with the School of Extended and International Education. Because of the self-support nature of the program, students are eligible for University and federal financial aid in the shape of scholarships, grants and loans, but are not eligible for state-funded financial awards.

Sociological research attempts to improve the human condition within the context of a strong tradition of social justice and human equality. Society shapes attitudes, goals, hopes and aspirations, and personal preferences. Society affects individuals, groups, and entire nations. Yet at the same time that society is shaping the individual, the individual is shaping society. In order to understand oneself and others, the world, and the future, one has to understand society. Sociology is the discipline that studies groups and societies—what they are, how they got that way, and what impact they have.

Sociology is a field with diverse areas of study. These range from the behavior of the individual as a social actor to the structure of entire societies. Key topics include social psychology, socialization, deviant behavior, group behavior, organizations and institutions, power, inequality, and social change. Major social institutions, including the family, education, religion, social welfare, medicine, work, politics, and the media, are also explored in detail. To develop skills for studying society, students are introduced to valuable techniques such as survey research, sampling, observational methods, content analysis, experimentation, interviewing, and computer applications in research.

Because sociology is a core subject for any liberal arts education, the department offers a variety of courses of interest to non-majors. These concern such current social issues as the problems of aging, drugs and society, social inequities, media, education, globalization, and the information revolution.

The major has been designed to allow each student, in consultation with an advisor, to develop an individualized program of study. The required courses ensure a solid grounding in sociological concepts, theories, and research methods.

By the time students graduate, they will:

- Create clear, succinct analysis in writing and speaking;
- Understand the structure and logic of the full range of the discipline;
- Formulate critical and analytic questions about society and be able to investigate them through original research;
- Demonstrate competence in handling databases and in using appropriate technical tools; and
- Apply theory and methods in sustained independent inquiry.

Careers in Sociology

Sociology provides an excellent preparation for a wide range of careers. A bachelor's degree in sociology qualifies one for opportunities in national, state, and local government, including research, public administration, personnel, and planning. The major can lead to positions in human services and social advocacy, including alcohol and drug rehabilitation, health agency administration, counseling, recreation, senior services, social welfare, vocational, and rehabilitation counseling. Applications of sociology in business include organizational management, human relations, union organization, industrial relations, communication consulting, public relations, and marketing. Sociology constitutes valuable coursework in preparation for graduate study in law, business, and a variety of human services professions, as well as doctoral programs in sociology and related academic fields. Before graduation, sociology majors can establish internships that lead to valuable professional contacts and provide practical experience in pursuing these and additional career paths.

The department has a chapter of the national sociology honor society Alpha Kappa Delta, and it awards a C. Wright Mills Award for Sociological Imagination on an annual basis for the best original research paper produced by a student in the department.

Every year the Joseph J. Byrne Memorial Scholarship is awarded to an outstanding student majoring in sociology.

The Robert Holzapfel Scholarship is awarded to a student majoring in sociology or counseling.

Sociology, B.A.

Program Learning Outcomes

- After completing the Sociology BA, students will be able to:
- Apply sociological theories to understand social phenomena
- Critically evaluate explanations of human behavior and social phenomena
- Apply scientific principles to understand the social world
- Evaluate the quality of social scientific methods and data
- Rigorously analyze social scientific data
- Use sociological knowledge to engage with the world in which they live and work.

Major Requirements

In order to petition to declare the major, students must have a minimum overall GPA of 2.5 and have completed a sociology course with a minimum grade of C-. Students must complete SOCI 201 with minimum grade of C- before taking SOCI 300. Students must complete SOCI 201, SOCI 300, SOCI 375, and MATH 165/SOCI 301 (each with a minimum grade of C-), and 12 additional sociology units applicable toward the major requirements before taking SOCI 498. This is a minimum of 31 of the 43 units required for the major. Also, to be eligible to take SOCI 498, students must have filed to graduate in the semester in which they wish to take the course. Students must earn a minimum grade of C- or better in each of the six required core courses. See a faculty advisor in the department for details on these minimum grade requirements.

Required Core Courses

- SOCI 201 - Introduction to Sociology Unit(s): 3
- SOCI 300 - Statistics and Society Unit(s): 4
- SOCI 375 - Sociological Theory Unit(s): 4
- MATH 165 - Elementary Applied Statistics Unit(s): 4
- SOCI 301 - Statistics for Sociologists Unit(s): 4
- SOCI 498 - Senior Seminar Unit(s): 4

Units

Total core units: 21-24 SOCI Electives to reach minimum 43 units: 19-22 Total units in the Major: 43

Statistics Requirement

The statistics course requirement provides an opportunity for students to strengthen their quantitative data analysis abilities and to enhance related job skills. Majors must take one of the following courses or another course designated by a sociology advisor as meeting the statistics requirement.

- MATH 165 - Elementary Applied Statistics Unit(s): 4
- SOCI 301 - Statistics for Sociologists Unit(s): 4

Sociological Experience Requirement

The sociological experience requirement provides students with curricular opportunities to develop awareness of social issues, use sociological perspectives and methods to address social problems, engage with the community outside of the university, develop experiences that provide job skills, and enhance their knowledge about careers. Majors must take one of the following courses or another course designated as meeting the sociological experience requirement.

- SOCI 306 - Career Planning for Sociology Majors Unit(s): 4
- SOCI 336 - Investigative Sociology Unit(s): 4
- SOCI 460 - Social Work in the Social World Unit(s): 4
- SOCI 482 - Environmental Justice and Policy Unit(s): 4
- SOCI 388 - Selected Topics in Service Learning Unit(s): 4
- SOCI 496 - Internship Practicum Unit(s): 1

Lower and Upper Division Units

Majors may apply up to 8 units of lower division coursework towards the requirements. Of these 8 units, no more than 4 units may be non-SSU transfer credit. Any lower division units used to meet the major's statistics requirement will not be included in either of these limits.

Major in Women's and Gender Studies

A major in Women's and Gender Studies (WGS) enables students to explore the social, political, and cultural dimensions of gender and inequity. WGS is the study of how gender structures everything from our innermost sense of self to transnational circuits of society and economy. WGS uses an intersectional perspective, which means that we understand gender to be co-constituted with race, ethnicity, sexuality, nation, ability, and other forms of social power. We use an interdisciplinary approach that examines social structures, institutions, and ideologies of gender through social, historical, political, legal, and cultural lenses.

Emphasizing the connections between theory and practice, Women's and Gender Studies encourages applied learning through internships, service learning, cultural production, and research. The WGS Department's general education courses and lecture series produce campus-wide transformative consciousness, while our major courses further depth and engagement. WGS classes are places where students can strengthen critical awareness and build community. A major in WGS empowers students to understand and engage in building a more equitable world. An intersectional feminist analysis facilitates critical exploration of power, difference, and the production of knowledge. It also compels us to envision more just alternatives and commit to transformative action.

Careers in Women's and Gender Studies

Women's and Gender Studies graduates hold tools – knowledge of gender issues, critical thinking skills, and breadth of perspective—that public service organizations, private industry, government, and graduate schools want and need. The Women's and Gender Studies major or minor provides excellent preparation for students going into social work, counseling, teaching, public relations, public policy and management, advocacy work, human resources, and other fields. WGS graduates also pursue advanced degrees in social work, counseling, law, public policy, psychology, public health, education, history, sociology, WGS and other areas.

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the program, students should be able to do the following:

Basic Themes and Categories of Analysis in WGS

- Critically examine how gender structures people's identities, interactions, and experiences in relation to race, ethnicity, class, sexuality, ability, nation, and other intersecting forms of difference.
- Understand masculinity and femininity as historically and culturally specific social constructions situated within fields of power.
- Appreciate how and why gender is embedded in and influences culture and major social institutions (i.e., family, health care, law, education, religion, the workplace, and the media).

Learning Objectives Specific to WGS

- Demonstrate understanding of basic themes and categories of analysis in Women's and Gender Studies.
- Describe, compare, and evaluate the major writings and trends in feminist theory.
- Use and critically assess qualitative feminist methods used in social science research, including advanced development of skills in library research and in-depth interviewing.
- Apply concepts and theory acquired in WGS courses to internships.
- Engagement in feminist praxis that joins theory and research to specific plans for individual and social change.

Learning Objectives Related to General Education/General Skills

- Demonstrate critical thinking abilities (e.g., the ability to ask critical questions about the theory and methodology contained in required readings and to then make connections between theory, research, and experience).
 - Demonstrate oral communication skills (e.g., the ability to make an oral presentation to the class and to work with others in groups).
 - Demonstrate written communication skills (e.g., the ability of students to develop their writing abilities, communicate effectively, and write for different audiences).
- Learning Objectives Relating Theory with Practice

- Apply the principles of feminist pedagogy to student learning. Feminist pedagogy requires that students become active participants in their own learning.
- Apply the principles of feminist pedagogy to students' own lives in order to become active participants in the process of social, personal, and political change.

Degree Requirements

See the "Degree Requirements" in the University Catalog for complete details on general degree requirements.

General Education Requirements (48 units)

See the "General Education Program" requirements in the University Catalog for information on General Education requirements. Some major requirements may double count for GE requirements.

Core Requirements

- WGS 200 - Introduction to Women's and Gender Studies Unit(s): 3
- WGS 201 - Feminist Lecture Series Unit(s): 1-4
- WGS 302 - Queer Studies Lecture Series Unit(s): 1
- WGS 375 - Gender, Race, and Class Unit(s): 3
- WGS 385 - Transnational Feminisms Unit(s): 3-4
- WGS 398 - Careers in Women's and Gender Studies Unit(s): 1
- WGS 425 - Feminist Research Methodology Unit(s): 3-4
- WGS 474 - Foundations of Feminist Thought Unit(s): 4
- WGS 475 - Contemporary Feminist Theory Unit(s): 4
- WGS 485 - Senior Seminar Unit(s): 4
- WGS 499 - Internship Unit(s): 1-4

Pathways

WGS students will choose to specialize in one of the following two pathways: 1) Community/Clinical or, 2) Cultural/Critical

1) Community/Clinical: Students interested in community organizing, social work, health care, education, and/or counseling will consider this pathway. Courses emphasize community and identity development, social transformation and justice movements, institutions and organizations, bodies and health, and service learning.

2) Cultural/Critical: Students interested in the arts and art activism, cultural work and activism, education, and/or advanced degrees in humanities, critical social sciences, or law will consider this pathway. Courses emphasize critical theories, pedagogies, ideologies and structures, and cultural production, representation, and activism.

The listed courses are eligible toward each pathway. Students are encouraged to consult with their faculty advisor and the department chair to request approval for unlisted courses to count towards their pathway. Many courses without WGS course designation have home department prerequisites and restrictions. WGS majors seeking to register in such courses must meet these requirements. If WGS majors wish to fulfill their pathway largely with another department's courses, they are encouraged to double major or minor.

- Community/ Clinical Pathway
- Cultural/Critical Pathway

Elective(s)

Additional WGS courses or recognized courses in other departments.

Queer Studies, Minor

The minor in Queer Studies gives students competency within a dynamic field of interdisciplinary scholarship related to lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender lives as well as gender and sexual structures and identities. It provides coursework in queer theory, politics, history, sociology, psychology, cultural criticism, and methodology. The queer studies minor will augment students' pursuit of graduate and professional degrees. In a public- and private-sector job market with increasing demand for nuance in issues of diversity and critical flexibility, the minor will position graduates on the leading edge in many fields, including social work, counseling, education, healthcare, social service, media, policy, nonprofit advocacy, and social marketing.

Students will complete 18 units to fulfill the requirements for the Queer Studies Minor.

Minor Core Requirements (11-12 units)

- WGS 255 - Introduction to Queer Studies Unit(s): 3
- WGS 302 - Queer Studies Lecture Series Unit(s): 1
- WGS 305 - Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, and Queer U.S. History Unit(s): 3
- WGS 455 - Queer & Trans Theory & Lives Unit(s): 4

Minor Electives

Two (or more) course related to LGBTQ and/or sexuality studies, in consultation with Queer Studies minor advisor. Below is a list of all SSU courses that students can consider for their 6-unit Queer Studies minor electives. Many of the courses without WGS course designation will have prerequisites and restrictions (such as "Psychology majors only" or "junior/senior standing") from home departments. Minors seeking such courses must meet these requirements unless otherwise noted.

University Studies

University Studies is designed to provide students with academic and transitional support. Through University Studies courses, new members of the Sonoma State community are welcomed to campus with introductions to campus resources, mentoring opportunities, and tools for academic success. Students develop their personal, academic, and career goals and cultivate a sense of responsibility to themselves and the world around them. Together with co-curricular activities these learning experiences lay a strong foundation for lifelong personal and intellectual growth.

Liberal Studies, B.A. - Napa/Solano, Marin

The Liberal Studies Degree Completion Program offers a flexible route to a Bachelor of Arts degree for those who have completed junior transfer requirements and cannot attend regularly scheduled classes on the Sonoma State's main campus in Rohnert Park, CA. Students take a variety of courses in the social sciences, humanities, and natural sciences that are taught by SSU faculty and scheduled evenings, weekends, and online for the working student.

The Liberal Studies Program offers face-to-face meetings at Napa Valley College, Vallejo Center of Solano Community College. For students in other regions, Sonoma State offers similar programs in Ukiah and Marin.

Program Learning Outcomes

Liberal Studies graduates will have well-developed skills in:

- Critical Thinking
- Oral Communication
- College Writing
- Cultural Awareness and Diversity

Requirements for the Major

The major consists of 50 units of coursework in a variety of disciplines, organized into five areas.

- Arts/Humanities: 15 units
- Social Sciences: 15 units
- Natural Sciences: 6 units
- Culminating Portfolio: 4 units
- Electives: 10 units

Special Studies (SSCI 495) and a maximum of 6 units of internship (SSCI 499) can be included as electives.

Students must earn a C- or better in all courses applied to the Liberal Studies major.

- SSCI 300 - Introduction to Portfolio Development and Special Project Unit(s): 1
- SSCI 400 - Portfolio Evaluation Unit(s): 3

Application & Admissions

Applications for the Liberal Studies Program are accepted for both Fall and Spring semesters from applicants who meet Sonoma State University application deadlines and the admissions requirements for the program. Applicants can submit their materials through Cal State Apply.

To be accepted, applicants must have completed admission requirements for upper division transfers.

Liberal Studies, B.A. - Ukiah

To be accepted, applicants must

- Be residents of Mendocino or Lake County.
- Have completed admission requirements for upper division transfers.

Interdisciplinary Studies

Interdisciplinary Studies Programs provide students degree opportunities to explore current issues or topics of interest by combining coursework and experiences across disciplines in a manner not served by traditional degree programs. The purpose of each special major and graduate major varies according to the combination of disciplines, perspectives, and skills selected to meet students' needs to prepare for the rapidly changing expectations in today's world.

Undergraduate students interested in an interdisciplinary program can pursue a bachelor's degree in a faculty designed special major or special minor. Interested students should read more about the special major that interests them on the pages that follow, and contact the coordinator listed for that program with any questions. Qualified students interested in a graduate major in interdisciplinary studies must contact a graduate coordinator in a graduate program that fits within your area of interest to begin the development of a proposed course of study.

Requirements for each special major are listed under that section in the following pages along with the contact information for the coordinator. The prerequisite for all special majors is a 2.0 cumulative grade point average.

An ITDS Special Major consists of a minimum of 40 units, with a minimum of 18 units in the special major in upper division courses.

A complete change of major form, signed by the special major coordinator, is submitted to the ITDS programs office for review and final approval.

Bachelor of Arts in the Special Major: German Cultural Studies

Coordinator

Michaela Grobbel

email: grobbel@sonoma.edu

The special major in German Cultural Studies offers students an interdisciplinary B.A. that incorporates language courses required for the German minor plus courses in other disciplines. It enriches students' academic and career opportunities by providing them with important skills to find employment in our increasingly interconnected world. The special major prepares students for international or cross-cultural careers in the USA or abroad that require a basic knowledge of the German language, history and culture as well as skills in cross-cultural communication. Recognizing the increasing interconnections in our global world, and Germany as one of the key players within the EU and in the international arena, the B.A. program prepares students for graduate school and careers in a field of their interest. Please review the Sample Four-Year-Plans that suggest two different pathways: "Track A" offers a pathway for students who study abroad for one year, and "Track B" suggests a pathway for students who do not study abroad.

Requirements for the Special Major

As part of the major core requirements, students must complete an internship in the U.S. or abroad, and a senior project. Additionally, students must pass the "Goethe-Zertifikat B1"-Proficiency Examination, the internationally recognized language certificate offered annually at SSU under the auspices of the Goethe Institute.

Degree Requirements

See the "Degree Requirements" in the University Catalog for complete details on general degree requirements.

Interdisciplinary Studies, M.A./M.S.

Requirements for the M.A. or M.S. in Interdisciplinary Studies

Interdisciplinary Studies provides students degree opportunities on current, relevant topics by combining coursework and experiences across disciplines in a manner not served by traditional degree programs. The purpose varies according to the combination of disciplines, perspectives, and skills they provide to meet students needs to prepare for the rapidly changing expectations in today's world.

Students should read more about the disciplines and coursework that interests them on the pages that follow. Qualified students interested in a graduate degree in interdisciplinary studies should contact the Graduate Studies Office (graduate.studies@sonoma.edu) for assistance in identifying an appropriate combination of programs that fits within the area of interest and to begin identification of appropriate Advisory Committee Members for the development of a proposed course of study.

Prerequisites to Application

- A grade point average of at least 3.00 for the last 60 units of college work attempted; and

- Submission of completed Application to Interdisciplinary Studies (ITDS) (available from Graduate Studies Office.)
Prerequisite to Acceptance
- Acceptance by the Graduate Studies Subcommittee of Application to Interdisciplinary Studies (ITDS), complete with signatures of your ITDS graduate advisory committee.
- Admission to the University in classified graduate status through the CSU Cal State Apply system; and
- The candidate for this degree must comply with the normal regulations governing graduate study at Sonoma State as described in this catalog.

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of an Interdisciplinary Studies M.A. students should be able to:

Demonstrate structural knowledge grounded in theoretical perspectives from multiple distinct disciplines including cultural and ethical aspects of the field

Integrate knowledge, modes of thinking, and viewpoints from multiple distinct disciplines

Apply appropriate creative, analytical, and critical thinking methodologies appropriate for the interdisciplinary nature of study plan

Engage with practical, professional, and/or technical aspects of multiple disciplines through research, projects, or professional experiences.

Effectively communicate the rationale, approach, significance, and conclusions regarding a complex problem or intellectual question across disciplinary boundaries in oral and/or written formats

Upon completion of an Interdisciplinary Studies M.S. that includes a field related to science, engineering, or technology, students should be able to:

Demonstrate structural knowledge grounded in theoretical perspectives from multiple distinct disciplines including cultural and ethical aspects of each field

Integrate knowledge, modes of thinking, and viewpoints from multiple distinct disciplines

Apply appropriate technological, analytical, and critical thinking methodologies appropriate for the interdisciplinary nature of study plan

Engage with practical, professional, and/or technical aspects of multiple disciplines through research, projects, or professional experiences.

Course Requirements

- The master's in interdisciplinary studies consists of a minimum of 30 units in two or more disciplines.
- At least 20 units must be graded (A-F); the remainder (up to one-third of the total number of units of the major) may be taken in a nontraditional grading mode. (In order to receive a Credit (Cr) grade in a graduate level class, the student must earn the equivalent of B- or better.)

- At least 21 semester units shall be completed in residence.
- At least 60% of the units shall be in graduate (500-level) courses. The remaining units may be in 300- or 400-level courses.

For guidelines and application forms for the ITDS MA/MS degree, please contact the SSU Graduate Studies Office.

ITDS Courses

- ITDS 498 - Internship Unit(s): 1-4
- ITDS 499 - Internship Unit(s): 1-6

Unit(s): 4 Subjects will vary by semester, but this course will concentrate on topics and periods in African American History. Students will be required to do a research project in this course. Students will also be asked to review primary documents in African American history. Topics subject to change.

Typically Offered Not Recently Offered

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

AMCS 480 - Research and Methodology

Unit(s): 4 Survey of research and methodological tools used in the study of American ethnic groups. Special attention is given to the problems of objectivity and bias and the political and moral implications of quantitative and field research. Students engage in semester-long research projects. Students can substitute CALS 458 - CALS Research and Methodology for this course.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

AMCS 481 - Special Topics

Unit(s): 1-4 Please refer to the current Schedule of Classes.

ANTH 200 - Introduction to Linguistic Anthropology

Unit(s): 3 This introduction to the anthropological study of language surveys core topics in linguistics (e.g., phonetics, morphology, syntax, semantics, and pragmatics) and the relationship of language to social, cultural, and psychological factors. Nonverbal communication, evolution of language abilities, and historical linguistics are included, with linkages to the other subfields of anthropology.

GE Category: Satisfies GE Area D5.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Student Option

ANTH 201 - Introduction to Biological Anthropology

Unit(s): 3 This course is an introduction to the evolutionary biology of human and nonhuman primates. The course focuses on evolutionary perspectives on form and function, behavior, population, and social structure to reconstruct human evolution and explain human adaptations.

GE Category: B2 - Life Science

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Student Option

ANTH 202 - Introduction to Archaeology

Unit(s): 3 An introduction to archaeology as a method of inquiry, the course seeks to answer the question "How do archaeologists know what they know?" Topics include history of archaeology, field and laboratory methods, relationship between method and theory, and "scientific" and humanistic approaches to the interpretation of data.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ANTH 203 - Introduction to Cultural Anthropology

Unit(s): 3 Examination of the anthropological approach to the study of human behavior. Exploration of human dependence on learned, socially transmitted behavior through consideration of ways of life in a broad range of societies.

GE Category: Satisfies GE, Area D1 (Individual and Society).

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Student Option

ANTH 240 - Living in our Globalized World

Unit(s): 3 This course explores trajectories of human experience through the lens of cultural anthropology, a cross-cultural view of the individual within society. It promotes global awareness as a learning outcome, learning to perceive how cultural differences influence the dynamics of human interactions upon the individual through psychological and social changes throughout a human lifespan. Focus is upon the integration of anthropological knowledge across the holistic four subdisciplines, and integration of student personal experience with interdisciplinary knowledge, academic trajectories, and topical interests. Students will develop an appreciation of the duties and rights of a global citizen, and skills necessary to live in and comprehend our pluralistic world.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

ANTH 300 - Nature, Culture, and Theory: The Growth of Anthropology

Unit(s): 4 The nature of science, disciplinary inquiry, and the changing intellectual, institutional, and material context of the development of anthropology and its four major subfields in the contemporary world. Identification of significant issues, schools of thought, and historic persons. Training in the analysis of primary sources, scholarly procedure, library research, bibliography, and professional format and style.

Prerequisite(s): Completion of ANTH 200 or ANTH 201 or ANTH 202 or ANTH 203 and is restricted to Anthropology Junior, Senior and Graduate students only.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ANTH 301 - Human Fossils and Evolution

Unit(s): 4 This course reviews the fossil evidence for human evolution in Africa, Asia, and Europe during the Pliocene-Pleistocene epochs. The fossil evidence is treated in temporal, geological, and geographic contexts. The primary focus is on the evolutionary implications of the fossil evidence for understanding the evolution of human morphology and behavior. Implications for the emergence of modern human races are also considered.

Prerequisite(s): Completion of GE area B2 and upper-division or graduate standing, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ANTH 302 - The Evolution of Males and Females

Unit(s): 4 The reproductive and survival dilemmas faced by our ancestors have shaped our morphology and behavior in complex ways. This course examines the current theoretical frameworks for exploring human sexuality in evolutionary perspective.

Prerequisite(s): Completion of GE area B2 and upper-division or graduate standing, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ANTH 303 - Human Behavioral Ecology

Unit(s): 4 This course is an introduction to human behavioral ecology, the application of evolutionary and biological models to the study of human behavioral variation. Topics of discussion will include optimal foraging theory, kin selection, resource transfer, mate choice, and parental investment.

Prerequisite(s): Completion of GE area B2 and upper-division or graduate standing, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ANTH 305 - Topics in Biological Anthropology

Unit(s): 4 In-depth examination of a specific topic within biological anthropology. Topics vary with each offering. May be repeated for credit if topic differs.

Prerequisite(s): Completion of GE area B2 and upper-division or graduate standing, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit if topic differs.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ANTH 309 - Health and Disease in the Past

Unit(s): 4 This course focuses on human health and disease in the past, from hominin ancestors to the mid-20th century. The primary lens for this inquiry is bioarchaeology, the study of human remains from archaeological and historical settings. Evidence for health and disease processes in the past can be derived from human remains, material culture, ethnography, epidemiology, written texts, and iconography. This course integrates bioarchaeological approaches with those from medical anthropology, public health, and history. It also emphasizes themes of structural violence, social justice, and modern relevance. The goal is to understand how human health and disease are shaped by intertwined cultural traditions, social organization, and biological traits, both in the past and the present.

Prerequisite(s): Completion of GE Area B2 and upper division standing, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Student Option

ANTH 313 - Primate Behavioral Ecology

Unit(s): 4 This course will familiarize students with our closest living relatives, the primates. Topics include taxonomy, diets, dietary adaptations, ranging behavior, cooperation, competition, community ecology, and conservation. This course is strongly recommended in preparation for ANTH 414.

Prerequisite(s): Completion of GE area B2 and upper-division or graduate standing, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ANTH 315 - Forensic Anthropology Theory and Practice

Unit(s): 4 This course explores the theories underlying forensic anthropology and how they are put into practice. Topics include a history of the discipline; professional responsibilities in the autopsy suite and courtroom; taphonomy and the estimation of time since death; techniques and contexts for positive identification; and depictions of forensic anthropologists in popular culture. Examination of case studies at local, national, and international scales.

Prerequisite(s): Completion of GE area B2 and upper-division or graduate standing, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ANTH 318 - Human Development in Evolutionary Perspective

Unit(s): 3 This class explores human development using natural selection, sexual selection, parental investment and related theories. We will examine topics such as pregnancy, childbirth, infancy, childhood, mate choice, marriage, and aging using multiple levels of explanation to understand who we are and where we come from.

Prerequisite(s): Completion of GE Golden Four (A1, A2, A3, B4) with a C- or better and completion of B1, B2 and B3 and at least 45 units.

GE Category: Fulfills the upper division area B (Scientific Inquiry) GE requirement.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Student Option

ANTH 321 - Archaeology of Contact and Colonization

Unit(s): 4.00 This course focuses on the interface between cultures and regions. It emphasizes how we identify, examine, and interpret them archaeologically. The objective is to provide an overview of migration, exchange, conflict, innovation, and other patterns of human interaction throughout the world, and over the long course of time.

Prerequisite(s): Class open to Juniors, Seniors, and Graduate Students only.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

ANTH 322 - Historical Archaeology

Unit(s): 4 Introduction to the history, methods, and issues of the field of historical archaeology. Extensive readings provide examples of archaeology from post-1300s contexts in North America, Africa, Australia, and Latin America. Topics covered range from archaeological approaches to ethnic, gender and class diversity to the study of large-scale processes of colonialism, industrialism and global expansion. Broader issues discussed include the relationships between history and anthropology, the cross-cultural impact of European expansion, and the development of contemporary industrial societies.

Prerequisite(s): Class open to Juniors, Seniors, and Graduate Students only.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ANTH 324 - Archaeology and the Bible

Unit(s): 4 An exploration of the archaeology and history of the ancient Near East, from the earliest human settlements through the Persian empire (ca. 10,500-332 BCE). Societies described in the Hebrew Bible are emphasized, with topics ranging from the rise of the state and international trade, to the identities and everyday lives of men, women, and children. The history and socio-political impacts of "Biblical Archaeology" are also examined.

Prerequisite(s): Class open to Juniors, Seniors, and Graduate Students only. Crosslisted: Cross-listed with HIST 324 & JWST 324.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ANTH 326 - Topics in Archaeology

Unit(s): 4 Topics vary with each offering; may be repeated for credit with permission of chair. Possible topics might include: environmental adaptation in foraging groups, Holocene transition studies, early food production, emergent cultural complexity, technological innovation and change, regional studies, materials analysis, and geoarchaeology.

Prerequisite(s): Class open to Juniors, Seniors, and Graduate Students only.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit with permission of chair.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ANTH 327 - Archaeology of North America

Unit(s): 4 This course is a broad survey of the regions, periods, and issues relevant to the study of the North American archaeological record. Topics range from the human settlement of the hemisphere, and the many diverse cultural histories of the continent, through the development of key cultural components such as trade and exchange networks, food production systems, and urban societies, to the increasing impact of cultural resource legislation and the views and interests of modern indigenous populations on contemporary archaeological practice.

Prerequisite(s): Class open to Juniors, Seniors, and Graduate Students only.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ANTH 328 - New Technologies in Archaeology and Cultural Heritage

Unit(s): 4.00 This course is an introduction to recent and evolving technological methods in archaeology and cultural heritage management. The objective is to provide an overview and evaluation of these techniques with an emphasis on their application for the public education and community engagement, not an in-depth immersion into programming or modeling.

Prerequisite(s): Class open to Juniors, Seniors, and Graduate Students only.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

ANTH 329 - Bioarchaeology

Unit(s): 4 Bioarchaeologists use human remains obtained from archaeological settings to reconstruct past lifeways. Key concepts include recovery and analysis of human remains, human skeletal anatomy, disciplinary ethics, bodily expressions of disease and behavior, social complexity and population affinity, and embodied identity. Use of case studies reveals how bioarchaeological methods and theories are implemented around the world.

Prerequisite(s): Class open to Juniors, Seniors, and Graduate Students only.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ANTH 341 - Archaeology of Complex Societies

Unit(s): 3 This course presents the concepts, methods, and evidence that archaeologists use to reconstruct the emergence of complex human societies, including cities, states, and empires. A comparative perspective is employed to discuss prehistoric societies from around the globe, including Africa, Asia, Europe, North America, and South America. Cultural traditions and social practices related to social complexity are explored, such as social hierarchies based on kinship, gender, class; writing and record-keeping; art and technology; belief systems; trade and exchange; and colonialism. Not applicable to the upper-division Archaeology requirement for the Anthropology major.

Prerequisite(s): Completion of GE Golden Four (A1, A2, A3, B4) with a C- or better (A1 can be taken concurrently), completion of lower division GE D coursework and at least 45 units.

GE Category: Upper Division D

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Student Option

ANTH 345 - Nature and Society: Topics in Anthropology and the Environment

Unit(s): 4 Using the methods of anthropology, this course focuses on the study of environmental issues. The course covers the history of anthropological approaches to the environment. Selected topics such as human ecology, historical ecology, natural resource management, environmental justice, and environmentalism will be announced in the semester schedule.

Prerequisite(s): Class open to Juniors, Seniors, and Graduate Students only.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ANTH 348 - Foundations in Critical Medical Anthropology

Unit(s): 4 The overall aims of this course are to have students (a) examine the ways in which socially-constructed categories of difference such as race, class, gender, sexual orientation, religion and ability shape the experiences of group health outcomes and ability to access health care; (b) explore the relationships of these groups to social, economic, and institutional power and the role society plays in these relationships; and (c) develop a more nuanced understanding of how society, social categories, and power impact the health of an individual and communities.

Prerequisite(s): ANTH 203 or approval by instructor; upper-level standing

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Student Option

ANTH 352 - Global Issues

Unit(s): 4 This course explores anthropological perspectives on global issues. The course includes a brief introduction to the theoretical frameworks developed in the discipline for studying issues that impact humanity on a global scale. Possible topics may include: globalization, global capitalism, global climate change, international development, population movements such as international migration and diasporas, and global impacts of diseases such as HIV/AIDS and SARS. Topics vary with each offering; may be repeated for credit with consent of instructor.

Prerequisite(s): Class open to Juniors, Seniors, and Graduate Students only.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit with consent of instructor.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ANTH 358 - Topics in Sociocultural Anthropology

Unit(s): 4 In-depth examination of a specific topic within sociocultural anthropology. Topics vary with each offering and might include: medical anthropology; economic anthropology; political anthropology; or issues such as homelessness, social capital, or community.

Prerequisite(s): Class open to Juniors, Seniors, and Graduate Students only.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit if topics vary.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ANTH 380 - Language, Culture, and Society

Unit(s): 4 A survey of basic issues concerning language as a part of human behavior, the symbolic nature of human communication, language as an interpretive model for culture, the social nature of language, the psychobiological bases of language and its acquisition, human and nonhuman communicative behavior, and verbal and nonverbal communication.

Prerequisite(s): ANTH 200 or ANTH 203 or ENGL 203 and upper division standing, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ANTH 382 - Language Change

Unit(s): 4 Survey of the distribution of the world's languages and language families, with discussion of language evolution and areal, genetic, and typological classifications of languages. Study of the languages in contact and the processes of language change, with attention given to the history of writing systems and to writing as a source of evidence for the reconstruction of linguistic change.

Prerequisite(s): ANTH 200 or ANTH 203 or ENGL 203 and upper division standing, or consent or instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ANTH 383 - Language in Sociopolitical Context

Unit(s): 4 Focus on such topics as language attitudes, political power and linguistic equality, language and sociopolitical institutions, and language planning. Practical introduction to the insights offered by discourse analysis to the study of language varieties reflected in particular geographical regions, and by members of particular social classes/groups.

Prerequisite(s): ANTH 200 or ANTH 203 or ANTH 203 and upper division standing, or consent or instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ANTH 384 - Topics in Linguistic Anthropology

Unit(s): 3-4 Topics may include: language acquisition, ideology, policy, revitalization, evolution, creolization and language contact, semantics and pragmatics, and sociolinguistics. Topics vary with each offering.

Prerequisite(s): ANTH 200 or ANTH 203 or ENGL 203 and upper division standing, or consent or instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ANTH 386 - Sign Languages and Signing Communities

Unit(s): 4 Focus is on sign languages used in Deaf communities around the world, with an emphasis on three themes: (a) language as a system, (b) language in cultural and social context, and (c) language relationships in space and time. No previous knowledge of sign language is required.

Prerequisite(s): ANTH 200 or ANTH 203 or ENGL 203 and upper division standing, or consent or instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ANTH 392 - Research in California Prehistory

Unit(s): 4 A seminar offering an introduction and review of a specific topic in California prehistory, emphasizing method and theory. Specific topics -- such as regional culture history, subsistence and settlement, trade and exchange, prehistoric technology and osteology -- will be announced in the semester schedule.

Prerequisite(s): Class open to Juniors, Seniors, and Graduate Students only.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ANTH 396 - Topics in Anthropology

Unit(s): 1-4 In-depth examination of a topic within anthropology. Topics vary with each offering.

Prerequisite(s): Class open to Juniors, Seniors, and Graduate Students only.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated Maybe repeated for credit if topic differs.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Student Option

ANTH 400 - Anthropology Teaching Praxis

Unit(s): 1-3 Supervision and assessment of curriculum development, course assessment as applicable to students in instructional or faculty-adjunct roles.

Prerequisite(s): consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit. Instructor consent required.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ANTH 401 - Conference Preparation and Organization

Unit(s): 3 Planning, organizing, and implementing undergraduate research forum. Students learn about all aspects of conference organization and proceedings publication. Students will participate in event production, abstract solicitation and selection, publicity, and budgeting for a specific campus research conference. They will also gain valuable skills in journal editing, layout, and publication.

Prerequisite(s): Upper division standing, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ANTH 412 - Human Osteology

Unit(s): 4 Combined lecture/laboratory course on the anatomy and biology of the human skeleton. Students learn to identify the bones and teeth of the human skeleton; the landmarks used for osteological analyses; and how morphological and metric analyses of bones and teeth can reconstruct personal biographies and population histories.

Prerequisite(s): Completion of GE area B2 and upper-division or graduate standing, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ANTH 414 - Observing Primate Behavior

Unit(s): 4 In this research methods course, students will learn how to describe and analyze primate behavior through direct observations of local fauna and captive primates at Bay Area zoos.

Prerequisite(s): Completion of GE area B2 and upper-division or graduate standing, or consent of instructor. Completion of ANTH 313 is strongly recommended.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ANTH 415 - Forensic Anthropology Methods

Unit(s): 4 Combined lecture/laboratory course for students interested in the methods used by forensic anthropologists. Topics include learning the anatomy of the human skeleton; creating a biological profile by estimating age, sex, stature, and ancestry; identifying the effects of trauma and pathology on bone to discover cause and manner of death; and understanding forensic anthropologists' role in crime scene investigation.

Prerequisite(s): Completion of GE area B2 and upper-division or graduate standing, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ANTH 451 - Applied Ethnographic Methods

Unit(s): 4 This is an applied research course designed to link theory, field research, data collection, and service learning in the local community. This will include research design, data collection and analysis, and final report preparation and presentation. Other topics covered include historic overview of the development of applied anthropology, the uses and roles of anthropology outside academia, survey of professional practice including ethical considerations, state of the job market, techniques for career preparation, and issues of generalization versus specialization.

Prerequisite(s): ANTH 200 or 203 and Juniors, Seniors and Grad students or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ANTH 454 - Ethnographic Field School

Unit(s): 4 A field school designed to help students develop their ethnographic field work skills, especially rapid appraisal techniques in an applied setting. Students will learn how to design and carry out a research project utilizing such skills as participant observation, interviewing, and data analysis. Students will be required to write a report based on their research and experiences. Contact department for more information.

Prerequisite(s): Class open to Juniors, Seniors, and Graduate Students only.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ANTH 480 - Studies of Language Use

Unit(s): 4 Application of methods and procedures used in the investigation of communication in natural contexts. Topics include research ethics, problem formation, research design, basic data gathering techniques and strategies (with an emphasis on linguistic approaches), quantitative and qualitative data analysis and report writing.

Prerequisite(s): ANTH 200 or ENGL 203 and upper division standing, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ANTH 491 - Senior Seminar

Unit(s): 1 The focus of the seminar may vary, but the class will comprehensively address the four goals of the anthropology major -- comparative perspective, four-field coverage, integration of the four field approach, and ethical awareness -- through discussion of areas of special interest to the department faculty. Project and activities will be designed that will require students to demonstrate their mastery of curricular goals as outlined in the department's assessment program. Majors must enroll during their final fall semester prior to graduation.

Prerequisite(s): Anthropology Majors with Senior Standing

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ANTH 495 - Special Studies

Unit(s): 1-4 During the first week of the semester, students interested in special studies in anthropology must submit a written proposal and an outline of projected work to a faculty sponsor for approval. Each unit of credit requires a minimum of 45 hours of work per semester (3 hours per unit per week), including regular consultation with an evaluation by the faculty member in charge.

Prerequisite(s): Upper-division or graduate standing and consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit up to 8 units.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

ANTH 496 - Agency Internships

Unit(s): 1-3 Students in the internship program have an opportunity to apply anthropological theory and methods to a variety of situations in public and private agencies. Internships require faculty approval and a minimum of 45 hours of work per unit per semester, including regular consultation with the faculty sponsor. This internship is usually overseen by supervisors in off-campus agencies who report to faculty supervisors.

Prerequisite(s): Upper-division or graduate standing and consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

ANTH 496A - Internship in Archaeology

Unit(s): 2-3 Students will team with staff of SSU's Anthropological Studies Center to perform, for example, pre-field research, recognize and record archaeological sites, use GPS equipment, make computer-generated maps, and complete state record forms. Activities will vary depending on available projects. Internships require a minimum of 45 hours of work per semester/unit, including regular consultation with faculty sponsor.

Prerequisite(s): Upper-division or graduate standing and consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall Only

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

ANTH 497 - Anthropology Internships

Unit(s): 1-3 Students in the internship program have an opportunity to apply anthropological theory and methods to a variety of situations in public and private agencies. Internships require faculty approval, a minimum of 45 hours of work per unit per semester, including regular consultation with and evaluation by the faculty sponsor.

Prerequisite(s): Class open to Juniors, Seniors, and Graduate Students only.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ANTH 500 - Proseminar

Unit(s): 4 Introduction to research methodology in the social sciences; research design and implementation, use of library and archival materials, editorial review of writing, and guide to preparation of professional anthropological papers.

Prerequisite(s): Course open to Cultural Resources Management graduate students only.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ANTH 502 - Archaeology: History and Theory

Unit(s): 3 The rise of theoretical archaeology, with emphasis on the range of theoretical approaches taken by archaeologists and the nature of archaeological problem solving in theory and practice.

Prerequisite(s): Class open to Graduate Students only

Typically Offered Spring Even Years
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ANTH 503 - Seminar: Cultural Resources Management

Unit(s): 3 Who owns the past and who has the right to manage it? Review of federal, state, and local legislation pertinent to the inventory, evaluation, and treatment of archaeological sites, historic buildings, and places that are important to Native Americans and others. Emphasis is placed on process of evaluation according to legal guidelines including, CEQA, the Section 106 Process, and the National Register of Historic Places.

Prerequisite(s): Class open to Graduate Students only
Typically Offered Fall Odd Years
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ANTH 554 - Field School in Cultural Heritage Management

Unit(s): 4 A field school designed to introduce graduate students to fieldwork in cultural heritage management. Students will learn how to design and carry out a research project utilizing skills appropriate to the specific focus of their project. Students will be required to write a report based on their research and experiences. Contact department for more information.

Prerequisite(s): Class open to Graduate Students only
Typically Offered Variable Intermittently
May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit.
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

ANTH 578 - Project Continuation

Unit(s): 1-3 Designed for students working on their thesis or master's project but who have otherwise completed all graduate coursework toward their degree.

Prerequisite(s): Class open to Graduate students only. Graduate Coordinator consent required.
Typically Offered Fall & Spring
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ANTH 590 - Advanced Seminars in Anthropology

Unit(s): 1-3 In-depth consideration of specific anthropological, applied anthropology or anthropologically related topics. Topics will vary from semester to semester.

Prerequisite(s): Class open to Graduate Students only
Typically Offered Variable Intermittently
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ANTH 592 - Practicum in National Register of Historic Places

Unit(s): 2 This hands-on course will introduce students to the process by which historic buildings are recorded and evaluated for eligibility to the NRHP. Classes will cover basic wood-frame construction techniques, basic architectural description, and how to undertake focused historical research in official records. Students will learn to identify and describe a historic building, document it using photographs, plans, and detailed drawings, and reconstruct its history.

Prerequisite(s): Class open to Graduate Students only

Typically Offered Fall Even Years

ANTH 595 - Special Studies

Unit(s): 1-4 During the first week of the semester students interested in special studies in anthropology must submit a written proposal and an outline of projected work to a faculty sponsor for approval. Each unit of credit requires a minimum of 45 hours of work per semester, which includes regular consultation with and evaluation by the faculty member in charge.

Prerequisite(s): Graduate Standing and Consent of Instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

ANTH 596 - Agency Internships

Unit(s): 1-3 Students will have an opportunity to apply anthropological theory and methods and/or cultural resources management procedures as interns with public and private agencies. Internships require faculty approval and a minimum of 45 hours of work per unit per semester, including regular consultation with the faculty sponsor. This internship is usually overseen by supervisors in off-campus agencies who report to faculty supervisors.

Prerequisite(s): Graduate Standing and Consent of Instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

ANTH 596A - Internship in Archaeology

Unit(s): 3 Students will team with staff of SSU's Anthropological Studies Center to perform, for example, pre-field research, recognize and record archaeological sites, use GPS equipment, make computer-generated maps, and complete state record forms. Activities will vary depending on available projects. Internships require a minimum of 45 hours of work per semester/unit, including regular consultation with faculty sponsor.

Prerequisite(s): Graduate Standing and Consent of Instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated Yes

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

ANTH 596B - Internship in Cultural Resources Management

Unit(s): 2-3 Students will team with staff of SSU's Anthropological Studies Center to get intensive, hands-on experience in carrying out CRM projects, including: responding to requests for proposals, assessing the legal context of their work, budgeting, field logistics, cultural resources inventory, mapping, and report writing. Internships require a minimum of 45 hours of work per semester/unit, including regular consultation with faculty sponsor.

Prerequisite(s): Graduate Standing and Consent of Instructor.

ARTH 160A - Humanities Learning Community

Unit(s): 4 ARTH 160 A/B is a year long course, which features weekly lectures and small seminars. It constitutes a Humanities Learning Community (HLC) for any first-year student. It is open to all majors. Students taking this course can not get credit for ARTH 210 and ARTH 211. Why do humans make art? What does art reveal to us about cultures both historical and contemporary? This learning community introduces students to art and architecture from societies throughout the world while also building important college and life skills. Over the course of the year, we move from the earliest prehistoric cave paintings to modern experiments in the twenty-first century. Throughout, we will keep in mind that art is a fundamental component of human culture. We will study art that supports political power or undermines it, art active in ritual and religion, objects that express cultural aspirations and anxieties, and more. We consider gender, hierarchy, religion, death, and the power of representation over two semesters progressing roughly chronologically. All First Year Learning Community courses address building academic skills, a sense of community, the transition to college, and developing personal, social, and academic independence. ARTH160A/B offers substantial GE credit with a grade of C- or better both semesters.

Prerequisite(s): This course is restricted to first-time first-year students.

ARTS 305 - Special Topics in Photography

Unit(s): 3 This is a rotating special topics in Photography studio art course. Course content may include alternative processes, interdisciplinary practices, moving image, sound recording, handmade artist books and other experimental approaches to image making. Lab fee payable at time of registration.

Prerequisite(s): ARTS 212 or consent of Photography Director or Department Chair.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated Yes

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ARTS 310 - Intermediate Digital Photography

Unit(s): 3 In this studio course intermediate theory, techniques and processes of digital photography will be explored with an emphasis on quality output. Students gain familiarity with a variety of input and output options and multiple image editing applications with emphasis placed on the creative use of new technology. Lab fee payable at time of registration.

Prerequisite(s): ARTS 210 or consent of Photography Director or Department Chair

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated Yes

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ARTS 312 - Studio Lighting

Unit(s): 3 A studio course that introduces concepts and techniques of studio lighting; medium and large format analog camera operation and advanced darkroom printing techniques. Lab fee payable at time of registration.

Prerequisite(s): ARTS 212 or consent of Photography Director or Department Chair.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated Yes

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ARTS 320 - Intermediate Painting

Unit(s): 3 Intermediate-level studio course in painting. Directed and individual problems. Group and individual criticism. May only be repeated by majors.

Prerequisite(s): ARTS 220 Laboratory fee payable at time of registration.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated Yes

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ARTS 329 - Intermediate Ceramics

Unit(s): 3 A studio course concentrating on wheel and hand building techniques to explore formal/functional issues in clay. Emphasis is placed on design issues, content, and developing a personal visual vocabulary through individual and group critiques. Laboratory exercises to develop color/texture in glazes and firing techniques are also covered. Lab fee payable at time of registration.

Prerequisite(s): ARTS 229

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated Yes

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ARTS 336 - Intermediate Sculpture

Unit(s): 3 A studio course with directed projects. Emphasis on content and developing a personal sculptural vocabulary through experimentation with traditional and non-traditional materials and processes. Group critiques, field trips, short writing assignments. Textbook required. Laboratory fee due at time of registration.

Prerequisite(s): ARTS 236

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated Yes

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ARTS 340 - Intermediate Etching and Woodcut

Unit(s): 3 A studio course on the intermediate level in various printmaking aspects, including woodcut, engraving, photo-engraving, monotype, and etching. Laboratory fee payable at time of registration.

Prerequisite(s): ARTS 245

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated Yes

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ARTS 342 - Intermediate Lithography

Unit(s): 3 Continued studio work at the intermediate level in lithographic methods, including color technology and conceptual development. Lecture, demonstration, and studio work. Laboratory fee payable at time of registration.

Prerequisite(s): ARTS 245

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ARTS 382 - Intermediate Monoprint

Unit(s): 3 An intermediate studio course emphasizing single and multiple images derived from a variety of original sources, including painting, hand-painted prints, collagraphs, chine colle, and multiple manipulated prints. A maximum of 3 upper-division units may be applied toward a printmaking or a painting emphasis. Laboratory fee payable at time of registration.

Prerequisite(s): ARTS 245

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ARTS 395 - Community Involvement Program

Unit(s): 1-4 Student-directed creative activities in behalf of nearby off-campus community agencies. One to 4 units of credit, based on 30 hours of contributed effort per unit per semester. Art education assistance and selected private enterprises. Six CIP units may be applied toward a degree.

Prerequisite(s): prearranged program with community host-sponsor and consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

ARTS 402 - Advanced Drawing

Unit(s): 3 Independent work from imagination or nature for the advanced student. Can be arranged as correlative drawing problems done in conjunction with advanced studio projects in area of emphasis.

Prerequisite(s): at least 4 units of ARTS 202 or ARTS 204, and 3 units of 300-series drawing courses, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated Yes How many times? 3 Maximum units for credit

12

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ARTS 404 - Advanced Life Drawing

Unit(s): 3 An advanced studio life drawing class with directed special problems related to drawing the live model and to drawing from nature.

Prerequisite(s): ARTS 304

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated Yes How many times? 3 Maximum units for credit

12

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ARTS 420 - Advanced Painting

Unit(s): 3 Continued studio work in painting in oils and/or acrylics. Laboratory fee payable at time of registration.

Prerequisite(s): ARTS 320

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated May be repeated by art majors only for credit up to a maximum of 9 units, more for B.F.A. students.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ARTS 429 - Advanced Ceramics

Unit(s): 3 A studio course addressing advanced throwing and hand building, glazing, and firing techniques. Emphasis is placed on content and development of a personal voice in ceramics. Students are encouraged to create individual project plans and work large scale. Lab fee payable at time of registration.

Prerequisite(s): ARTS 329 or ARTS 330 required.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated Yes

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ARTS 430 - Large Scale Clay and Installation of Ceramic Sculpture

Unit(s): 3 Course concentrates on large scale ceramics sculpture/installation. Hand building and wheel throwing techniques utilized. Emphasis placed on project planning, content, and developing a personal visual vocabulary through individual/group critiques. Lab fee payable at registration. Can replace one semester of Advanced Ceramics.

Prerequisite(s): ARTS 330

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ARTS 435 - Bronze Foundry

Unit(s): 3 In-depth instruction of processes involved in producing bronze sculpture. Students explore all aspects of realizing sculpture in bronze, from clay or plaster molds to wax: various methods of wax working/mold making, including ceramic shell, sand, and investment; casting; and patination. Group critiques, field trips. Laboratory fee due at time of registration. Textbook required.

Prerequisite(s): ARTS 236 , or consent of instructor.
Typically Offered Variable Intermittently
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ARTS 436 - Advanced Sculpture

Unit(s): 3 Studio and field work that emphasizes the development of individual style. Group critiques, field trips, and short writing assignments. Text book required. Laboratory fee payable at time of registration.

Prerequisite(s): 6 units of ARTS 336 or consent of instructor.
Typically Offered Fall & Spring
May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit up to a maximum of 15 units, more for B.F.A.
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ARTS 437 - COMMENCE: Sculpture Projects

Unit(s): 3 In this intensive studio course, students learn the practical steps of creating public art projects including proposal writing, model building, oral presentations and fabrication. The large-scale sculptures are displayed throughout campus during the final weeks of the spring semester, including commencement. Critiques, field trips and writing assignments. Text book required. Laboratory fee due at time of registration.

Prerequisite(s): ARTS 436, or consent of instructor.
Typically Offered Spring Only
May Be Repeated Yes
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ARTS 440 - Advanced Etching and Woodcut

Unit(s): 3 Advanced studio problems in relief and intaglio printmaking methods, including relief, engraving, photo-engraving, monotype, and etching. Laboratory fee payable at registration.

Prerequisite(s): ARTS 340
Typically Offered Fall & Spring
May Be Repeated Yes How many times? 3 Maximum units for credit

12

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ARTS 442 - Advanced Lithography

Unit(s): 3 Advanced studio work in the lithography medium. Work with images on stone or metal plates involving black and white and some color processes, printing of limited editions and single proofs. Lecture, demonstration, and laboratory work. Laboratory fee payable at time of registration.

Prerequisite(s): ARTS 342

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated Yes How many times? 3 Maximum units for credit

12

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ARTS 457 - Advanced Photography

Unit(s): 3 Advanced Photography focuses on the development and resolution of a cohesive body of work for use in online and print portfolios. Lab fee payable at time of registration.

Prerequisite(s): ARTS 310 or consent of Photography Director or Department chair

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated Yes

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ARTS 458 - Advanced Media Arts

Unit(s): 3 Advanced Media Arts is a studio course that introduces concepts and techniques of contemporary extended media practice, including basic video, installation and experimental art techniques as well as cross-disciplinary possibilities and contextual issues in the presentation of art works. Lab fee payable at time of registration.

Prerequisite(s): ARTS 310 or consent of Photography Director or Department Chair

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated Yes

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ARTS 465 - B.F.A. Seminar

Unit(s): 1-4 A studio seminar class designed specifically for B.F.A. students. Advanced topics in art and aesthetics will be examined through selected readings, writing, and discussion. In-depth critiques of each student's work will be held. B.F.A. students only.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ARTS 466 - B.F.A. Portfolio Artists' Practices

Unit(s): 3 Professional issues will be addressed in the preparation and presentation of a B.F.A. exhibition that will be reviewed and critiqued by the studio faculty. Students will be expected to give an oral defense of their work, prepare a statement, a curriculum vitae, and document their work in preparation for graduation. B.F.A. students only.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ARTS 470 - Art: Theory and Practice

Unit(s): 2-4 Advanced seminar course combining lecture/activity. Emphasis placed on development of proposals for works of art, in response to slide lectures and assigned readings, and exploration of new methods and materials outside student's usual medium. Participation in group critiques is an essential element of course. Lab fee.

Prerequisite(s): instructor(s) consent

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ARTS 482 - Advanced Monotype

Unit(s): 3 An advanced studio course emphasizing single and multiple images derived from a variety of original sources, including painting, hand-painted prints, chine colle, and multiple manipulated prints. Up to 3 upper-division units may be applied toward a printmaking or painting emphasis. Laboratory fee payable at registration.

Prerequisite(s): ARTS 382

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ARTS 491 - Visiting Artists' Lecture Series

Unit(s): 1 The Visiting Artist Lecture Series is a Credit / No Credit course, which brings prominent contemporary artists to Sonoma State University to present their creative and scholarly work on a weekly basis. Class discussions will occur on weeks a speaker is not scheduled. Attendance to all lectures is mandatory and a paper is required at the end of the semester to receive course credit.

GE Category: C1 - Arts

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated This course may be repeated for credit but only 1 unit of C1 credit will be awarded.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

ARTS 495 - Special Studies

Unit(s): 1-4 For upper-division Art majors only. Consult department faculty in your area of emphasis. The University contract form with required signatures of student, instructor, faculty advisor, and department chair must be completed before registering for special studies units.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit up to 8 units.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ARTS 496 - Directed Field Research Experience

Unit(s): 1 Travel to galleries and museums in various North American cities. Individual and group participation required. Destinations vary; consult semester schedule for specifics. Fee required at time of registration.

Prerequisite(s): major status and advanced standing or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated May be repeated and may be applicable to requirements in the major.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

ARTS 497 - Directed Field Research Experience

Unit(s): 1-4 Travel to various destinations, which vary depending on type of field research being offered; consult semester schedule for specifics. Students will be responsible for a field research project(s), based on the trip. Fee required at time of registration.

Prerequisite(s): major status and advanced standing or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ARTS 498 - Selected Topics in Art Studio

Unit(s): 1-4 A studio course dealing with intensive study of a particular art topic, which may vary by semester.

Prerequisite(s): major status, advanced standing, and instructor consent.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated May be repeated and applicable to requirements for a major in Art. Consult advisor and department chair.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ARTS 499 - Internship

Unit(s): 1-4 Students in the internship program will have an opportunity to gain practical skills by working in a variety of gallery and museum situations in the private and public sectors. Credit will be given for completion of 3 hours of work per week, per unit, by prior arrangement with department coordinator.

Prerequisite(s): consent of instructor. A-F or Cr/NC.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated Yes

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ASTR 100 - Descriptive Astronomy

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

A survey designed primarily for non-science majors, including an introduction to historic astronomy, Newton's Laws, gravitation, atomic structure, light, and telescopes. Take a tour of the solar system, learn about space flight, stars and stellar evolution, galaxies, and the structure of the universe.

GE Category: B1 - Physical science

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ASTR 121 - How to Influence the World

Unit(s): 3 This three-hour discussion class prepares students for effective oral communication via modern and traditional modalities, with a focus on influence through argument, debate, and demonstrated competence. Assignments include individual oral presentations, group debates, streaming video presentations, preparing for the unexpected, and a discussion on the principles of free speech.

GE Category: A1 - Oral Communication

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Student Option

ASTR 150 - Astronomy for Scientists

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

A survey of astronomy designed primarily for science majors, this course presents the physics and mathematics underlying modern astronomy. The course covers the composition and nature of the universe - from our own solar system, to stars and stellar evolution, interstellar matter, galaxies, and clusters of galaxies.

Prerequisite(s): Pre or Co-requisite: MATH 160, 161, 161B, or 161; or consent of instructor.

GE Category: B1 - Physical science

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ASTR 231 - Introduction to Observational Astronomy

Unit(s): 2 Lecture: 1 hour Laboratory: 3 hours

Principles of astronomical measurement techniques with field and laboratory studies of astronomical objects. Identification of constellations; astronomical coordinates; use of the telescope; and techniques in imaging, photometry, and spectroscopy.

Prerequisite(s): previous or concurrent enrollment in ASTR 100.

GE Category: B3 - Laboratory Activity

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ASTR 303 - Life in the Universe

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

An appraisal of possibilities and prospects for life in the Universe. Topics covered: nature of life, habitability of Earth and other Solar System worlds, detection of exoplanets, the search for life beyond Earth, space travel. Emphasis on the scientific method, especially the development of theories founded in observations and evidence.

Prerequisite(s): Completion of GE Golden Four (A1, A2, A3, B4) with a C- or better and completion of B1, B2 and at least 45 units.

GE Category: Upper Division B

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ASTR 305 - Frontiers in Astronomy

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

A survey of recent breakthroughs in astronomy and how they are made: the discovery of planets orbiting other stars; the explosive deaths of stars creating neutron stars and black holes; and the origin and fate of the Universe, including the search to understand dark matter and dark energy.

Prerequisite(s): ASTR 100 or ASTR 150, and completion of GE Golden Four (A1, A2, A3, B4) with a C- or better and completion of B1, B2 and at least 45 units.

GE Category: Upper Division B

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ASTR 331 - Astronomical Imaging

Unit(s): 2 Lecture: 1 hour Laboratory: 3 hours

An introduction to the methods and techniques of astronomical imaging. The course will offer a practical approach to using charged-coupled device (CCD) detectors and computer-controlled telescopes to obtain images of the moon, planets, stars, and nebulae. Topics include telescope control, planning observing programs, identifying astronomical objects, determining image sizes and exposure times, and image processing techniques.

Prerequisite(s): ASTR 100 and either ASTR 231 or PHYS 114. Or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ASTR 350 - Cosmology

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

A survey of what we know about the Universe and how scientists have learned it. Topics include the Big Bang, cosmic inflation, surveys of galaxies, the origin and evolution of structure in the Universe, dark matter, and dark energy.

Prerequisite(s): ASTR 100 or ASTR 150, and completion of GE Golden Four (A1, A2, A3, B4) with a C- or better and completion of B1, B2 and at least 45 units.

GE Category: Upper Division B

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Student Option

ASTR 380 - Astrophysics: Stars

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

A quantitative study of the structure and evolution of stars, including stellar interiors and atmospheres, nucleosynthesis and late stages of stellar evolution.

Prerequisite(s): PHYS 314 and MATH 211.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ASTR 390 - Astrophysics: Galaxies and Cosmology

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

A quantitative study of: the nature of galaxies, their formation and evolution; the extragalactic distance scale; the structure of the Universe; active galaxies; cosmology and the early Universe.

Prerequisite(s): PHYS 314 and MATH 211.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ASTR 396 - Selected Topics in Astronomy

Unit(s): 1-3 Lecture: 1-3 hours

A course of lectures on a single topic or set of related topics not ordinarily covered in the Astronomy curriculum.

Prerequisite(s): consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Not Recently Offered

May Be Repeated The course may be repeated for credit with a different topic.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ASTR 482 - Advanced Observational Astronomy

Unit(s): 2 Lecture: 1 hour Laboratory: 3 hours

A study of advanced observing techniques including imaging and spectroscopy. Emphasis on the use of telescopes, instrumentation, and data processing including photometry and astrometry. Discussion of techniques across the electromagnetic spectrum. Statistical treatment of data and error analysis.

Prerequisite(s): ASTR 231, or PHYS 214 or PHYS 210B, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ASTR 492 - Instructional Design Project

Unit(s): 2 A directed project to develop at least one laboratory experiment and/or classroom activity that teaches basic concepts in undergraduate Astronomy. Both written and oral presentations (including a demonstration of the experiment or activity) will be required.

Prerequisite(s): PHYS 214 and PHYS 216 or PHYS 210B and PHYS 209B; ASTR 231

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ASTR 495 - Special Studies

Unit(s): 1-4 The Department of Physics and Astronomy encourages independent study and considers it to be an educational undertaking. Students wishing to enroll for special studies are required to submit to their supervising faculty members proposals which outline their projects and exhibit specific plans for their successful completion.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit up to 8 units.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ASTR 497 - Undergraduate Research in Astronomy

Unit(s): 2 Supervised research in an area of astronomy that is currently under investigation by one or more members of the Physics and Astronomy Department's faculty.

Prerequisite(s): junior-standing and consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 110 - Biological Inquiry

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

A factual and conceptual exploration of the living world through presentation, student inquiry, and laboratory exercises. Topics include the bases of life; organization of living systems, from molecules to ecosystems, and their interactions; and genetics, evolution, and ecology.

Prerequisite(s): Students not in Biology major.

GE Category: B2 - Life Science, B3 - Laboratory Activity

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

BIOL 115 - Introduction to Biology

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

The unifying concepts of biology. Topics include the chemical and physical basis of life; cellular structure and function; molecular and Mendelian genetics; reproduction, development, structure, and function of representative plants and animals; and evolution and ecology.

Prerequisite(s): Students not in Biology major.

GE Category: B2 - Life Science

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face & Online Grading: Graded

BIOL 130 - Introductory Cell Biology and Genetics

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

One of two courses in the lower-division series required of biology majors. Provides an introduction to structure, molecular processes and physiology of cells, as well as mechanisms of inheritance and evolution.

GE Category: B2 - Life Science, B3 - Laboratory Activity

Typically Offered Fall Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 130S - Exploring Biology

Unit(s): 1 Exploring Biology (Biol 130S) is a freshmen seminar course designed to introduce you to a wide variety of ideas, concepts, and ways of thinking about biology. The course will explore diverse array of learning opportunities inside and outside the classroom offered at Sonoma State University, learn about a variety of careers in biology and engage in activities that will prepare students for success in college and beyond.

Co-requisite(s): BIOL 130

Typically Offered Fall Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 131 - Biological Diversity and Ecology

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

One of two courses in the lower-division series required for biology majors. Introduces the extraordinary diversity of life, evolutionary relationships between groups of organisms, and principles of ecology.

GE Category: B2 - Life Science, B3 - Laboratory Activity

Typically Offered Spring Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 131S - Exploring Research in Biology

Unit(s): 1 Exploring Research in Biology (Biology 131S) is a freshmen seminar course designed to introduce you to a wide variety of ideas, concepts, and ways of thinking about research in biology. We will explore core concepts in biology across multiple scales (molecules to ecosystems), learn about and participate in research opportunities inside and outside the classroom offered at Sonoma State University, and engage in learning activities related to research that will prepare you for success in the Biology major.

Prerequisite(s): Biol 130S Co-requisite(s): Biol 131

Typically Offered Spring Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 218 - Biology of Aging

Unit(s): 3 The course examines the changes associated with the aging process in each organ system of humans. Topics include: longevity, theories of aging, structure and function of organ systems, common changes, and diseases. Current research and preventive measures will be discussed.

GE Category: E - Life Long learning & Self Development

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face & Hybrid Grading: Student Option

BIOL 220 - Human Anatomy

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

Survey of the body systems. Designed for pursuing careers in the allied health professions.

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 110 or BIOL 115 or BIOL 130 and BIOL 131

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

BIOL 224 - Human Physiology

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

An integrated examination of the human body as an efficient system maintained by a complex of interacting, homeostatic mechanisms. Includes fundamental principles of function of major organ systems. Designed for those pursuing careers in the allied health professions.

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 110 or BIOL 115 or BIOL 130 and BIOL 131 and CHEM 115A, CHEM 115B or CHEM 110 or CHEM 105

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

BIOL 240 - Medical Microbiology

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

This course is an introduction to the fundamentals of microbiology with a focus on bacteria, fungi, viruses, and protozoa that cause human disease, and the body's response. Includes current topics in health and disease and emerging threats to public and global health. The laboratory provides basic diagnostic and clinical and microbiological skills.

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 110 or BIOL 115 or BIOL 130 and BIOL 131, and CHEM 115A, CHEM 115B or CHEM 105

Typically Offered Spring Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

BIOL 308 - Environmental Toxicology

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

Information needed to formulate a philosophy of chemical use: the nature of the interaction of toxicants and living organisms; categories of toxicological activity; toxicological evaluation and environmental monitoring; and governmental regulations and procedures.

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 110 - Biological Inquiry Completion of GE Golden Four (A1, A2, A3, B4) with a C- or better and completion of B1, B2 and at least 45 units.

GE Category: Upper Division B

Typically Offered Fall Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

BIOL 309 - Biology of Cancer

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

Biological, clinical, environmental, and psychosocial aspects of cancer explored through the perspectives of medical researchers, physicians, patients, and health educators. This lecture series is intended for students of all majors, for those in the health professions, and for the general public. It is designed so that everyone (regardless of scientific background) will benefit.

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 110 or BIOL 115, or BIOL 130 and BIOL 131

GE Category: Satisfies GE Area B3.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Student Option

BIOL 311 - Sexually Transmitted Diseases

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

Biological, environmental, societal, and psychosocial aspects of sexually transmitted diseases.

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 110 or BIOL 115, or BIOL 130 and BIOL 131

GE Category: Satisfies GE Area B3.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Student Option

BIOL 312 - Biological Oceanography

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

An introduction to the world's oceans with emphasis on the way in which their physical properties support life.

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 110 or BIOL 115, or BIOL 130 and BIOL 131

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

BIOL 314 - Field Biology

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Fieldwork: 3 hours

A course emphasizing plant and animal communities of Northern California.

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 110 or BIOL 115, or BIOL 130 and BIOL 131

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

BIOL 315 - Plants and Society

Unit(s): 3 Lecture, 3 hours. Global exploration of the impact of aquatic and terrestrial plants on human culture and well-being with both historic and modern examples. Students will examine the critical importance of plants to human societies using examples related to agriculture, medicine, energy production and economically important species from a variety of habitats.

Prerequisite(s): Completion of GE Golden Four (A1, A2, A3, B4) with a C- or better and completion of B1, B2 and at least 45 units.

GE Category: Upper Division B

Typically Offered Fall Odd Years

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 320 - Ecology and Evolution - An Integrated Approach

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Discussion: 1 hour

An integrated overview of ecological and evolutionary processes focusing on the origins and functioning of biodiversity from genes to ecosystems. Discussions complement lectures with quantitative and written exercises to strengthen knowledge and understanding. One of a two-semester sequence satisfying the upper division core in the Biology major.

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 130 and BIOL 131

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 321 - Molecular Biology, Cell Biology & Physiology

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Discussion: 1 hour

An integrated overview of the key principles of molecular biology, cell biology and organismal physiology with an emphasis on regulatory mechanisms. Discussions complement lectures with quantitative and written exercises to strengthen knowledge and understanding. One of a two-semester sequence satisfying the upper division core in the Biology major.

Prerequisite(s): All majors except BIOCHEM: BIOL 130 and BIOL 131, MATH 161 or MATH 165, CHEM 115A. BIOCHEM majors: BIOL 130, MATH 161 or MATH 165, CHEM 115A. For both, completion of GE Golden Four (A1, A2, A3, B4) with a C- or better and completion of B1, B2 and at least 45 units.

GE Category: Upper Division B

Typically Offered Spring Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 322 - Invertebrate Biology

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Fieldwork: 3 hours

Exploration of the systematics, functional morphology, behavior, and ecology of invertebrates.

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 130 and BIOL 131 required.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 323 - Entomology

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Fieldwork: 3 hours

A comprehensive foundation in the biology of insects, with emphasis on ecology, behavior, evolution, and classification. Includes field experiences, service learning and development of an insect collection.

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 130 and BIOL 131

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 324 - Biology of Marine Mammals

Unit(s): 3 Introduction to the biology of marine mammals, emphasizing evolutionary history, physiology, behavior, ecology, and conservation, with a focus on various factors that influence foraging and reproductive strategies, as well as on the evolution of social systems.

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 130 and BIOL 131

Typically Offered Spring Even Years
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 325 - Molecular and Cellular Lab Techniques

Unit(s): 1 Laboratory: 3 hours

The course focuses on fundamental hands-on skills used in a molecular and cellular laboratory. In addition emphasis is placed on quantitative aspects of laboratory work as well as data interpretation and scientific writing.

Prerequisite(s): Completion or concurrent enrollment in BIOL 321 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 326 - Dinosaurs and Mesozoic Vertebrates

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

The course will examine the rise and fall of the dinosaurs, arguably the most successful terrestrial vertebrates in the history of Earth. We will discuss their evolutionary history and place among the vertebrates, as well as look at the other animals and plants that they shared the Mesozoic world with.

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 130 and BIOL 131

Typically Offered Fall Odd Years

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 327 - Vertebrate Biology

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Fieldwork: 3 hours

Exploration of the systematics, behavioral ecology, biogeography, evolution, and conservation biology of fish, amphibia, reptiles, birds, and mammals. At least one weekend field trip.

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 130 and BIOL 131; requires consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 328 - Vertebrate Evolutionary Morphology

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

Trends in the evolution of structure and function in the vertebrates. This course focuses on morphological adaptations at the organ system level that have enabled vertebrates to diversify and succeed in a wide range of habitats and environments.

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 320

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 329 - Plant Biology

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

An overview of plant biology, with focus on structure, function, reproduction, and evolution. Emphasis is on flowering plants, but a survey of all plant and plant-like organisms, both modern and extinct, is included.

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 130 and BIOL 131

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 330 - Plant Taxonomy

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Fieldwork: 3 hours

An introduction to the principles and practices of plant taxonomy, including approaches to classification, data analysis, and a survey of vascular plant families in the California flora. A minimum of two Saturday field trips is required.

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 130 and BIOL 131

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 332 - Marine Biology

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

The biology of marine life is examined from an integrated and functional perspective. Near shore, open ocean, and deep sea environments will be covered. Topics include factors that affect marine ecosystems, the relationship between physical processes and biological communities, and the physiology and behavior of marine organisms.

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 130 and BIOL 131

Typically Offered Fall Odd Years

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 333 - Ecology

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Fieldwork: 3 hours

A current overview of this field, with in-depth coverage of ecology at the population, community, and ecosystem level. Emphasis on diverse taxa and habitats, hypothesis testing, and data collection and analysis.

Prerequisite(s): BIOL majors: BIOL 332 and MATH 165; GEP Majors: GEP 447 and MATH 165, GEP 202, or ECON 217

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 334 - Biology of Fishes

Unit(s): 4 The study of fishes, also referred to as ichthyology, includes a wide range of topics such as taxonomy, systematics, biogeography, anatomy, physiology, behavior and ecology. This course will focus on form and function, behavior, physiology, life history, and ecology of freshwater and marine fishes. The associated lab includes taxonomic identification, experimental design and data analysis. At least two 5-hour field trips outside of scheduled class time.

Prerequisite(s): Biol 320

Typically Offered Fall Odd Years

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 335 - Marine Ecology

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Fieldwork: 3 hours

An overview of current topics in marine ecology and conservation with emphasis on ecology of coastal ecosystems. Extensive focus on field and laboratory research projects. Includes experimental design, data analysis, and presentation. At least three 5-hour field trips outside of scheduled class time.

Prerequisite(s): BIOL majors: BIOL 320 and MATH 165; GEP Majors: GEP 447 and MATH 165, GEP 202, or ECON 217

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 337 - Behavioral Ecology

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours Fieldwork: 3 hours

Examines the evolution and function of the behavior of animals. Explores topics such as social behavior, mating systems, reproductive strategies, foraging, and communication with emphasis on techniques for formulating and testing hypotheses.

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 130, BIOL 131 and BIOL 320 or GEP 447

Typically Offered Spring Odd Years

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 338 - Environmental Microbiology

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

An integrated lecture and laboratory course that examines microbial diversity and ecological interactions of microbes, with a focus on the Eukarya, in soil and aquatic environments. Laboratory exercises teach skills for isolating, enumerating, observing and measuring the activities of environmental microorganisms.

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 130 and BIOL 131 and CHEM 115A / CHEM 115B or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Spring Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 340 - General Bacteriology

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

An introduction to the Bacteria and Archaea covering cell structure, metabolic diversity, interactions with other organisms, and pivotal roles in biogeochemical cycling. Laboratory projects develop skills essential for studies of bacteria.

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 321, BIOL 325 and CHEM 335A

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 341 - Evolution

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Fieldwork: 3 hours

A broad examination of the patterns and processes involved in the evolution of life on earth. Includes inquiry into the origin of life, microevolutionary processes, systematics, and large-scale evolutionary history.

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 320

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 342 - Molecular Genetics

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

Gene structure and function at the level of DNA, RNA, and protein interactions. Emphasis on molecular analytical techniques used for genetic analysis in a diversity of prokaryotic and eukaryotic organisms.

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 321, BIOL 325 and CHEM 335A

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 343 - Stem Cell Biology

Unit(s): 3 Biol 343 - Stem Cell Biology. An integrated examination of the fundamental principles of stem cell biology. This course will explore the basic biology of stem cells to better understand how they are currently being used in novel therapies to treat human disease. Designed for those pursuing careers in the life sciences. Satisfies upper division biology elective course requirement.

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 321

Typically Offered Spring Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 344 - Cell Biology

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

An introduction to structural and molecular organization of eukaryotic cells and tissues. Specific topics will represent the central core of cell biology and are concerned mainly with those properties that are common to most eukaryotic cells.

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 321, BIOL 325 and CHEM 335A

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 347 - Environmental Physiology

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

Course examines the adaptations and physiological responses that allow animals to live under widely different environmental conditions. Laboratory and field exercises will utilize modern techniques of physiological measurement to examine adaptive strategies among and between species in different environmental conditions.

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 320 and BIOL 321

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 348 - Plant Physiology

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

Concepts and principles of plant function. The following areas are investigated in detail: photosynthesis, water relations, mineral nutrition, and plant growth regulation.

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 320 and BIOL 321

Typically Offered Not Recently Offered

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 349 - Animal Physiology

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

Principles and concepts of animal function, with emphasis on cellular and biochemical/molecular bases of physiological activities in tissues and organ systems, environmental adaptations, and comparative homeostatic mechanisms.

Prerequisite(s): All majors except BIOCHEM: BIOL 320 and BIOL 321 . BIOCHEM majors: BIOL 321

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 350 - Plant Physiological Ecology

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

Investigation of the physiological processes of plants that contribute to understanding their ecological distribution and evolutionary success. Examination of environmental effects on survival within the context of climate change, conservation biology, etc.

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 130 and BIOL 131, and completion or concurrent enrollment in BIOL 321

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 351 - Climate Change Biology

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours; laboratory 3 hours. Exploration of nature's response to climate change. Since the biology of climate change is becoming increasingly well understood, from present observations to models of future change, this course examines biological changes in response to climate and emerging conservation strategies. Topics include species' range shifts, phenology, ecosystem ecology, modeling, and management.

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 130 and BIOL 131, BIOL 320 Co-requisite(s): BIOL 320

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 380 - Genetic Basis of Human Diseases

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours. This course examines how mutations or epigenetic changes in the genome lead to various disease states. Particular emphasis will be placed on genetic inheritance, polymorphisms within populations, mechanisms leading to disease, treatment approaches, and ethical considerations.

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 321

Typically Offered Fall Odd Years

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 383 - Virology

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

The study of viruses: their characteristics, classification, genetics, and host-parasite interactions. Emphasis will be placed on the molecular mechanisms viruses use to replicate and how this can affect the host.

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 321, BIOL 325 and CHEM 335A

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 385 - Contemporary Issues in Biology

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

Selected topics related to the quality of life and the search for perspectives on the future.

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 110, BIOL 115, or BIOL 130 and BIOL 131

Typically Offered Not Recently Offered

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

BIOL 390 - Biology Colloquium

Unit(s): 1 Lecture: 1 hour

Presentations by visiting scholars, departmental faculty, and master's degree candidates on current research and contemporary issues in biology.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit. All majors are encouraged to enroll each semester, although no more than 2 units are applicable to the Biology major.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

BIOL 393 - Independent Study in Biology

Unit(s): 1-3 Opportunity for independent research or special projects under the supervision of a Biology faculty member, for developing competency in biological research methods.

Prerequisite(s): approved petition to enroll.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated May be repeated for up to a total of 4 units.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 398 - Non-Majors Teaching Practicum

Unit(s): 1-3 Application of prior knowledge towards supervised instructional experience in biology courses. Intended for professional growth and lifelong learning for non-major undergraduates in biology.

Prerequisite(s): prior completion of the course for which instructional assistance is to be provided, with a grade of B or better, consent of the instructor, and an approved petition to enroll.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated May be repeated for up to a total of 4 units.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

BIOL 463 - Herpetology

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Fieldwork: 3 hours

Classification, functional and evolutionary morphology, environmental physiology, and ecology of reptiles and amphibians. Includes at least one weekend field trip.

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 327 or BIOL 328

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 472 - Developmental Biology

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

Patterns of animal development. This course is designed to provide students with a comprehensive appreciation of the developmental process, presenting detailed descriptions of developmental mechanisms along with a conceptual framework for understanding how development occurs.

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 321 & CHEM 335A
Typically Offered Fall Only
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 480 - Immunology

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Laboratory: 3 hours
The cellular and molecular basis of the immune response; topics include innate and adaptive immunity, hypersensitivity, autoimmunity, and cancer immunology.

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 342 or BIOL 344 or BIOL 383 or BIOL 472 and CHEM 335A
Typically Offered Fall Only
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 484 - Applied Bioinformatics

Unit(s): 4.00 3 hours lecture and 3 hours lab. An introduction to web based and command line tools developed for the analysis of DNA, RNA and protein sequences. Emphasis is placed on the application of computational tools and approaches for the analyses of biological datasets that are available from a variety of open source databases. Students will gain hands-on experience performing data analyses such as multiple sequence alignments, genome browsing, visualization of phylogenetic relationships, and modeling of protein structure.

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 321
Typically Offered Fall Only
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 485 - Biometry

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Laboratory: 3 hours
Introduces students to quantitative analysis of biological data. The nature of biological data, principles of experimental design, and essential statistical tools used by biologists to analyze their results. Examples used in the course will be drawn from physiology, ecology, evolution, and medicine. Laboratory sections will involve computer exercises, discussions, and student presentations.

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 320 or BIOL 130 / BIOL 131 and MATH 165 or MATH 165B
Typically Offered Fall Only
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 490 - Research Experience in Biology

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 1 hour Fieldwork: 6 hours
An intensive course designed to provide students training and experience in biological research on topics within faculty area of expertise. Throughout the semester, students will address research questions and generate new knowledge through scientific literature review, hypothesis development, experimental design, data generation and analysis, and presentation of results in scientific format.

Prerequisite(s): Upper division standing in biology and consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 494 - Independent Research

Unit(s): 1-3 Directed study, under the guidance of a Biology faculty member, to design and conduct a research project in biology, including readings in the primary literature and application of information from relevant upper-division course work. Results must be given in a written report or presented in a public forum.

Prerequisite(s): upper division standing in the major and approved petition to enroll.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated May be repeated for up to a total of 4 units.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 495 - Special Studies

Unit(s): 1-4 Investigations to meet an advanced specialized study need beyond the department curriculum. The project should be planned and described in written form with consent of the faculty sponsor.

Prerequisite(s): majors or minors in Biology, upper-division standing with a cumulative GPA of 3.0, and approved petition to enroll.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit up to 8 units.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

BIOL 496A - Honors Thesis I

Unit(s): 1-2 Experimental or observational research for the B.S. degree conducted under the supervision of one or more of the biology faculty members.

Prerequisite(s): senior-standing in the major with a minimum GPA of 3.0 and an approved application.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 496B - Honors Thesis II

Unit(s): 2-3 Completion of research for the B.S. degree conducted under the supervision of one or more biology faculty members. A research paper summarizing the results is required.

Prerequisite(s): senior-standing in the major and completion of BIOL 496A

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 497 - Selected Topics

Unit(s): 1-4 Intensive study of biological topics, which will vary from semester to semester.

Prerequisite(s): BIOL 130 and BIOL 131 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit and may be applicable to the requirements for a major in Biology.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

BIOL 498 - Biology Practicum

Unit(s): 1-4 Application of previously studied theory through supervised instructional work experience in biology courses. Intended for professional growth and lifelong growth for undergraduates. Enrollees are required to write an evaluation of their course experience.

Prerequisite(s): upper division standing in Biology, consent of the instructor in whose course the student will be working, and an approved petition to enroll.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated May be repeated for up to a total of 4 units.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

BIOL 499 - Internship in Biology

Unit(s): 1-4 Work that provides training in the use of biological skills in the community. Requires written agreement by students, faculty sponsor, on-the-job supervisor, and field experience coordinators; please see department office for details.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated May be repeated for up to 7 units of credit; 3 hours per week for each unit. Cr/NC grading only.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

BIOL 500S - Graduate Seminar

Unit(s): 1-2 Advanced seminars exploring diverse topics in biological sciences. Topics vary from semester to semester, depending on faculty interest and expertise.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated Course may be repeated for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

BIOL 501 - Instructional Skills in Biology

Unit(s): 2.00 Seminar. This course will explore pedagogical and classroom management techniques associated with teaching lower division biology to undergraduates. Participants will discuss strategies for addressing a variety of topics in laboratory or discussion section settings in biology.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 578 - Project Continuation

Unit(s): 1-3 Designed for students working on their thesis or master's project but who have otherwise completed all graduate coursework toward their degree. This course cannot be applied toward the minimum number of units needed for completion of the master's degree.

Prerequisite(s): permission of the graduate coordinator. Cr/NC grading only.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

BIOL 590 - Biology Colloquium

Unit(s): 1 Lecture: 1 hour

A series of lectures by faculty, master's degree candidates, and invited guests on current research and contemporary issues in biology. All graduate students are encouraged to enroll each semester, although no more than 2 units are applicable to the M.S. degree.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

BIOL 595 - Special Studies in Biology

Unit(s): 1-3 Investigations to meet highly specialized needs and to explore possible thesis topics. Project should be planned and described in writing with consent of faculty sponsor.

Prerequisite(s): approved petition to enroll.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

BIOL 597 - Thesis Preparation in Biology

Unit(s): 1-3 Individual Study, 3 hours per unit; This is a variable unit course that allows graduate students who have not advanced to candidacy to explore the scientific literature, learn research and analysis techniques associated with their discipline and prepare a thesis proposal. Participants will work closely with their Thesis Advisor to develop a plan for Thesis preparation activities.

Prerequisite(s): Graduate Standing, prior to Advancement to Candidacy

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated Yes Maximum units for credit

9

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BIOL 598 - Graduate Practicum

Unit(s): 1-4 Application of previously studied theory to development and delivery of new instructional materials. Intended to provide professional growth for graduate students. Enrollees are required to write an evaluation of their course experience.

Prerequisite(s): graduate standing in Biology, consent of the instructor in whose course the student will be working, and an approved petition to enroll.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

BIOL 599 - M.S. Thesis

Unit(s): 1-3 Original investigation based on laboratory or field research that meets the department and University standards.

Prerequisite(s): admission to classified standing and advancement to candidacy.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

BUS 150 - Business and Society

Unit(s): 3 A survey of the major fields of management, designed to introduce students to the range of perspectives available in the discipline. Topics will include: accounting, finance, general management, health care management, human resources management, industrial relations, marketing, multinational management, organizational behavior, and systems analysis.

Typically Offered Not Recently Offered

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BUS 211 - Business Statistics

Unit(s): 4 BUS 211 is an introduction to business statistics in practice. The course focuses on application of statistical methods, interpretation of statistical data, making statistical inferences, and how to use statistical data to aid in decision making or problem solving. Upon successful completion of the course, students would have gained an understanding of a statistician's role and skills in formulating coherent questions, gathering data pertinent to those questions, and addressing those questions using statistical procedures.

Prerequisite(s): Students need to be GE Math ready to register for this course. Course restricted to Pre-Business Majors for the first two weeks of registration.

GE Category: B4 - Mathematics/Quantitative Reasoning

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

BUS 225 - Legal Environment of Business

Unit(s): 4 A study of the legal and ethical framework within which management decisions are made. The course emphasizes the sources, functions, and processes of law. It surveys a number of areas, including negligence, contracts, product liability, and constitutional law, and reviews government regulations in the areas of consumer protection, antitrust, labor, and employment law.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Pre-Business Majors for the first two weeks of registration.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BUS 230A - Financial Accounting

Unit(s): 4 A foundation course designed to provide a basic understanding of the theory and practice of accounting, with emphasis upon basic principles, concepts, and controls in relation to external reporting.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Pre-Business Majors for the first two weeks of registration.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

BUS 230B - Managerial Accounting

Unit(s): 4 A foundation course designed to provide a basic understanding of the theory and practice of accounting, with emphasis upon basic principles, concepts, and controls in relation to internal reporting.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Pre-Business Majors for the first two weeks of registration.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

BUS 270 - Personal Financial Planning

Unit(s): 3 This course provides comprehensive coverage of personal financial planning in the areas of money management, career planning, taxes, consumer credit, housing and other consumer decisions, legal protection, insurance, investments, retirements, retirement planning, and estate planning. This course may not be used in the business major.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Pre-Business Majors for the first two weeks of registration.

Typically Offered Not Recently Offered

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

BUS 290 - Sponsored Corporate Training

Unit(s): 2 BUS 290 is designed for a situation in which a corporation will accept a volunteer into their unpaid "internship" program only if the student is enrolled at a university in conjunction with the corporate experience. Programs so offered do not meet department standards for internships, and do not qualify for 499 credit. BUS 290 may be used as free elective units only.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

BUS 296 - Instructor-Initiated Research Project

Unit(s): 1-4 This course is designed to provide students the opportunity to participate in faculty sponsored research or study projects. It permits the student to pursue an area of interest that s/he would like to develop in close consultation with a faculty member.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit up to 7 times for a total of 16 units.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

BUS 299 - Work Experience

Unit(s): 2-4 Developed for students seeking an internship like experience but lacking the requisite academic experience for BUS 499, Internship.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

BUS 305W - Introduction to Wine Business

Unit(s): 4 An introduction to wine business principles and strategies applicable to the growing of grapes and the making, distribution, and marketing of wine. Additional topics include organizational, human resource, family business and financial management, government regulation, and social responsibility. For students not familiar with wine industry terminology, BUS 305W is recommended prior to enrollment in wine concentration or wine focus classes.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Business Administration Majors only.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

BUS 316 - Operations and Supply Chain Management

Unit(s): 4 Operations and Supply Chain Management is the study of the processes, principles, and procedures required for the manufacturing of goods as well as the provision of goods and services. This includes total quality management concepts such as statistical process control; forecasting methods to determine sales and production needs; inventory management techniques such as economic order quantity, material requirements planning, and just-in-time; supply chain management; logistics; business processes; and project management. This course is a prerequisite for the Capstone Course, BUS 491.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Business Administration majors or in RPRE student group, or are in the student group granted through Department requests.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

BUS 319 - Introduction to MIS

Unit(s): 4 Study of characteristics of computer-based information systems in organizations. Topics include MIS theory, concepts and issues; systems analysis and design; database design using the relational database model; data communications and networks; and information systems deployed in various functional areas to support workgroup and organizational goals. This course is a prerequisite for the Capstone Course, BUS 491.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Business Administration majors or in RPRE student group, or are in the student group granted through Department requests.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

BUS 320 - Business Data Analysis and Interpretation

Unit(s): 4 This course builds upon knowledge acquired from lower-division Statistics coursework. It exposes students to the research and data analysis practices executed in the business world. Students will learn methods of research design, conduct research, and critically analyze data for making informed business decisions. Application of computer software packages is required. This course is a prerequisite for the Capstone Course, BUS 491. Prerequisites: completion of all Pre-Business requirements.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Business Administration majors or in RPRE student group, or are in the student group granted through Department requests.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

BUS 330A - Intermediate Accounting

Unit(s): 4 The course covers financial accounting topics related to the income statement, balance sheet, and statement of cash flows. Topics include accounting for recognition, measurement and disclosure of cash, receivables, inventories, property, plant, equipment, intangible assets and investments.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Business Administration Majors or Student Group RPRE.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

BUS 330B - Intermediate Accounting

Unit(s): 4 The course covers financial accounting topics related to the income statement, balance sheet, and statement of cash flows. Topics include accounting for recognition, measurement and disclosure of liabilities, pensions, accounting changes, leases, income taxes and stockholders' equity accounts.

Prerequisite(s): BUS 330A.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

BUS 334 - Accounting Information Systems

Unit(s): 4 This course will present a thorough introduction to basic information systems theory, provide a working knowledge of systems analysis and design techniques, and introduce several fundamental accounting information flow patterns. In addition, it will examine the need for adequate systems controls, risks inherent in the controls, and refined systems output to support management decision-making processes.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Business Administration Majors or Student Group RPRE.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

BUS 335 - Ethical Reasoning in Accounting

Unit(s): 4 This course introduces students to ethical theory and its relevancy to accounting. Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

A non-mathematical course designed to introduce students to a range of topics in physics and chemistry that are required by the California Science Standards for grades K-8, including the laws of motion, energy, the structure of matter, the states of matter, electricity and magnetism, and light and optics. Lectures include many demonstrations to illustrate physical science principles and students will be asked to think about how they would demonstrate or explain various concepts.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

CHEM 110 - Introductory General Chemistry

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

Develop fundamental knowledge and necessary skills in General Chemistry for students who plan to major in science or pre-health programs. Also develop a sense of chemistry and science for non-science majors as a GE course.

GE Category: B1 - Physical science

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Student Option

CHEM 115A - General Chemistry

Unit(s): 5 Lecture: 3 hours Discussion: 1 hour Laboratory: 3 hours

Principles of chemistry for students in science, pre-health, and related areas of study. This course will introduce students to science and scientific thought by using problem-solving strategies in both a conceptual and mathematical manner. First semester topics include atomic and molecular structure, states of matter, chemical reactions, stoichiometry, and thermodynamics. Second semester topics include kinetics, equilibrium, buffers, and electrochemistry.

Prerequisite(s): GE math placement into M1 or M2.

GE Category: B1 - Physical science, B3 - Laboratory Activity

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

CHEM 115B - General Chemistry

Unit(s): 5 Lecture: 3 hours Discussion: 1 hour Laboratory: 3 hours

Continuation of CHEM 115A.

Prerequisite(s): CHEM 115A

GE Category: B3 - Laboratory Activity

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

CHEM 120A - Thinking Like a Scientist

Unit(s): 3 First course of a two-course series. Topics include logic, critical thinking, the scientific method, data analysis, statistics, ethics, science and society, problem solving, and college transition elements.

Prerequisite(s): Freshman status Co-requisite(s): UNIV 102

GE Category: Upon completion of CHEM 120B in the spring with a C or better, the course will satisfy the category A1& A3 GE requirement.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

CHEM 120B - Thinking Like a Scientist

Unit(s): 3 Second course of a two course series. Topics include logic, critical thinking, the scientific method, data analysis, statistics, ethics, science and society, problem solving, and college transition elements.

Prerequisite(s): CHEM 120A Co-requisite(s): UNIV 102

GE Category: Upon completion of CHEM 120B in the spring with a C or better, the course will satisfy the category A1& A3 GE requirement.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

CHEM 255 - Quantitative Analysis

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 2 hours Laboratory: 6 hours

Theory and practice of methods of analysis, including volumetric, gravimetric, and selected instrumental techniques.

Prerequisite(s): CHEM 115B.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

CHEM 300 - Chemistry in Sustainability

Unit(s): 3 Lecture, 3 hours. An upper division GE course covering the role of Chemistry in sustainability. This course will focus on our environment, and the central role chemistry plays. In order to understand the chemistry of the environment one must understand atoms and molecules and their chemical reactions. This course will focus on environment issues including: air quality, water quality, acid rain, climate change (global warming), the ozone hole, and the role of thermodynamics in our environment.

Prerequisite(s): Completion of GE Golden Four (A1, A2, A3, B4) with a C- or better and completion of lower division B coursework and at least 45 units.

GE Category: Upper Division B

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Student Option

CHEM 301 - Racism, Sexism and Bias in Science

Unit(s): 3 This course will examine structural racism and sexism in science and medicine in America through readings, Ted-Talks, podcasts and case studies. Students will look at data concerning trends of representation in science and data on how science is accessed by various groups in the US. The data will form the basis for discussions about how current practices and structure that are in place in the US create inequitable access to careers in science and medicine and how this creates disparities for women and people of color in terms of health, wealth and access. Student teams will generate ideas to suggest sustainable change that could create an inclusive and equitable scientific community, technological and medical culture that are inclusive. These conclusions will be grounded in data communicated via a final assignment.

Prerequisite(s): Completion of GE Golden Four (A1, A2, A3, B4) with a C- or better and completion of B1, B2 and at least 45 units.

GE Category: Upper Division B

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face & Hybrid Grading: Graded

CHEM 310A - Fundamentals of Physical Chemistry

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

Development and applications of the concepts of thermodynamics, equilibrium, and kinetics.

Prerequisite(s): CHEM 115B and MATH 211; PHYS 210B or PHYS 214 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

CHEM 310B - Fundamentals of Physical Chemistry

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

Introduction to the concepts of quantum mechanics and its application to chemical bonding and spectroscopy.

Prerequisite(s): CHEM 115B and MATH 211, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

CHEM 315 - Introduction to Research Methods in Chemistry

Unit(s): 1 Chemistry 315 is designed for Chemistry majors but may be taken by others. Students will learn about research in Chemistry at SSU and then will choose a research project with a faculty mentor. This course will focus on preparation of a proposal to be performed in the subsequent semester. Topics such as scientific ethics, literature, and writing will also be covered.

Prerequisite(s): CHEM 335B

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

CHEM 316 - Research Methods in Chemistry

Unit(s): 2 Chemistry 316 is the second part of a year-long course designed for Chemistry majors. Students will execute the research proposal developed in CHEM 315. Research will be done under the mentorship of faculty. Students will meet weekly to discuss research progress. Students will conclude the semester with a research manuscript.

Prerequisite(s): CHEM 315

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

CHEM 325 - Inorganic Chemistry

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

Atomic structure, symmetry, and group theory of small molecules and the relationship of these concepts to bonding theory and molecular spectroscopy. Applications of symmetry and group theory to coordination chemistry of transition metal complexes in organometallic, environmental, bioinorganic, and materials chemistry. Other topics include kinetics and reaction mechanisms of inorganic and organometallic compounds including electron transfer.

Prerequisite(s): CHEM 310B and CHEM 401 Co-requisite(s): CHEM 310B

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

CHEM 335A - Organic Chemistry

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

A study of the fundamental principles of organic chemistry including bonding, electrophilicity, nucleophilicity, and molecular shapes and geometry for organic compounds. Applies these concepts to the study of the properties, syntheses, and reactions of major classes of organic compounds. A special emphasis is given to reaction mechanisms.

Prerequisite(s): CHEM 115B

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

CHEM 335B - Organic Chemistry

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

Continuation of CHEM 335A.

Prerequisite(s): CHEM 335A

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

CHEM 336A - Organic Chemistry Lab I

Unit(s): 2 Lecture: 1 hour Laboratory: 3 hours

Fundamental techniques in organic chemistry, emphasizing separation techniques, modern instrumental methods, and qualitative organic analysis. Designed to complement CHEM 335A.

Prerequisite(s): CHEM 335A Co-requisite(s): CHEM 335A.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

CHEM 336B - Organic Chemistry Lab II

Unit(s): 2 Lecture: 1 hour Laboratory: 3 hours

Fundamental techniques of organic chemistry, emphasizing synthetic organic chemistry, modern instrumental methods, and qualitative organic analysis. Designed to complement CHEM 335B.

Prerequisite(s): CHEM 336A and 335B. Co-requisite(s): CHEM 335B.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

CHEM 397 - Chemistry Practicum

Unit(s): 1-6 Supervised chemistry work experiences that involve practical application of previously studied theory. Intended for professional growth and/or collection of data for future theoretical interpretation.

Prerequisite(s): consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated May be repeated for up to a total of 6 units. Two hours of work per week for each unit of credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

CHEM 401 - Senior Integrated Lab

Unit(s): 3 Discussion: 1 unit Laboratory: 2 units

This course focuses on making connections between the sub-disciplines of chemistry by performing experiments that cross over between these sub-disciplines in this capstone course. Students will perform experiments independently. Students will learn to properly write up their results in a format similar to published papers. This course is for graduating seniors and is the capstone for B.A. Chemistry majors.

Prerequisite(s): CHEM 255. CHEM 475 (which may also be taken concurrently), senior standing. Completion of GE Areas A1, A2, A3 and B4 with a C- or better. Completion of GE Areas B1 and B2.

GE Category: Satisfies GE Area Upper Division B (Science/Quantitative Reasoning).

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

CHEM 402 - Advanced Synthesis and Instrumental Analysis

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 1 hour Laboratory: 6 hours

Project-based synthesis, purification, and characterization of inorganic, organic, and organometallic molecules. Capstone course for the B.S. chemistry degree. Topics will include air-sensitive syntheses, standard Schlenk line techniques, characterization through IR, optical and NMR spectroscopy, mass spectrometry, and electrochemistry. This course is for graduating seniors and is the capstone for BS Chemistry majors.

Prerequisite(s): CHEM 401

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

CHEM 441 - Biochemical Methods

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 1 hour Laboratory: 6 hours

Project based course involving characterization of proteins from natural sources utilizing biochemical methods and experimental design techniques common in biotechnology and research. This course is for graduating seniors and is the capstone for B.S. Biochemistry majors.

Prerequisite(s): CHEM 445 or CHEM 446 (may be concurrent), CHEM 401, and a foundation in spectroscopy; kinetics strongly recommended.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

CHEM 445 - Structural Biochemistry

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

A study of the structure-function relationships of amino acids, proteins, enzymes, carbohydrates, lipids, and nucleic acids. Also includes topics such as enzyme kinetics, membrane transport, and signaling.

Prerequisite(s): CHEM 335B and a foundation in kinetics and thermodynamics, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

CHEM 446 - Metabolic Biochemistry

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

A study of bioenergetics and the metabolism of biological molecules including carbohydrates, lipids, nucleic acids, and proteins.

Prerequisite(s): CHEM 335B; CHEM 445 or BIOL 130; and a foundation in kinetics and thermodynamics, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

CHEM 475 - Instrumental Analysis

Unit(s): 3 This course focuses on the theory behind commonly used chemistry instruments. Lecture will focus on analysis of spectroscopic data (molecular transitions), an overview of instrumental hardware, and principles of chromatography. Topics include basic electronics, statistics, optics, signal to noise detectors, IR, optical, NMR and fluorescence spectroscopy, mass spectrometry, atomic absorption, and chromatography.

Prerequisite(s): CHEM 335B, CHEM 255 Co-requisite(s): CHEM 401

Typically Offered Fall Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

CHEM 492 - Chemistry Seminar Series

Unit(s): 1 Invited speakers from universities and industry will present on current topics in the chemical and biochemical fields.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated May be repeated; does not count towards the major.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

CHEM 494 - Undergraduate Research

Unit(s): 1-6 Under supervision by the Chemistry faculty, students will participate in individual investigations of student- or faculty-initiated chemical problems. May be taken only by petition to the Chemistry Department.

Prerequisite(s): consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated May be repeated.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

CHEM 495 - Special Studies

Unit(s): 1-3 Investigation of existing information on a specific or general topic of interest to the student.

Prerequisite(s): consent of instructor; upper-division standing in chemistry or closely related science.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit up to 8 units.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

CHEM 496 - Selected Topics

Unit(s): 1-4 A study of an advanced topic in chemistry. May be repeated for credit with new subject matter.

Prerequisite(s): CHEM 335B

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated Yes Maximum units for credit

8

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

CHEM 497 - Research Seminar

Unit(s): 1 Laboratory: 3 hours

Capstone course for B.A. and B.S. degrees. The course will focus on techniques involved in the preparation and delivery of technical seminars. This final project will be a formal oral presentation to the Chemistry department on a research paper from the chemical literature or the student's undergraduate research project. Instruction includes the appropriate coverage of the selected topic, use of the chemical literature, and the preparation and use of PowerPoint, graphic, and web-based applications to create an informative talk.

Prerequisite(s): CHEM 401 Co-requisite(s): CHEM 401

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

CHEM 499 - Internship

Unit(s): 1-4 Chemistry field experience in industrial, hospital, or similar laboratory settings. Enrollment by prior arrangement with supervising faculty member and community sponsor. Please see department advisor for details. Internship assignments may be paid.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated May be repeated.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

COMS 125 - Oral Presentation & Media

Unit(s): 3 Discussion: 3

This course is designed to enhance your ability to construct and deliver speeches in a public forum or front of a camera. The method for improving your public speaking will be a combination of theory, critical analysis and practice. By the end of the semester, students should be able to construct and deliver three different types of speeches in front of an audience and be able to critically analyze other speeches.

GE Category: A1 - Oral Communication

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

COMS 160A - Humanities Learning Community

Unit(s): 4 COMS 160A/COMS 160B is a year long course, which features weekly lectures and small seminars. It constitutes a Humanities Learning Community (HLC) for any first-year student.

GE Category: The learning objectives of the HLC will satisfy A3 (Critical Thinking) and C3 (Comparative Perspectives and/or Foreign Languages) GE Areas. C- or better required in the second semester for A3 credit.

Typically Offered Fall Odd Years

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

COMS 160B - Humanities Learning Community

Unit(s): 4 COMS 160A/B is a year long course, which features weekly lectures and small seminars. It constitutes a Humanities Learning Community (HLC) for any first-year student.

Prerequisite(s): COMS 160A

GE Category: The learning objectives of the HLC will satisfy A3 (Critical Thinking) and C3 (Comparative Perspectives and/or Foreign Languages) GE Areas. C- or better required in the second semester for A3 credit.

Typically Offered Spring Even Years

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

COMS 162A - Humanities Learning Community Media Literacy

Unit(s): 4 COMS 162A/COMS 162B is a year long course, which, features weekly lectures and small seminars. It constitutes a Humanities Learning Community (HLC) for any first-year student.

Typically Offered Fall Even Years

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

COMS 162B - Humanities Learning Community Media Literacy

Unit(s): 4 COMS 162A/B is a year long course, which, features weekly lectures and small seminars. It constitutes a Humanities Learning Community (HLC) for any first-year student.

Prerequisite(s): COMS 162A

Typically Offered Spring Odd Years

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

COMS 200 - Principles of Media Communication

Unit(s): 4 An introduction to the history of mass communication, the mechanics of the mass communication industries, and theories of mass communication as a social, cultural, and political phenomenon.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Communication Studies Majors.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

COMS 201 - Video Production

Unit(s): 4 A course for beginning video students. Assignments include: creation of skits and music videos; and conducting interviews using DV camcorders. Students also do a final creative project of their own.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Communication Studies Majors.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

COMS 202 - Methods of Media Criticism

Unit(s): 4 A survey of ways to analyze mediated texts, with a focus on film, television, magazines, music, news, and advertising. Methods and concepts include semiotics, structuralism, ideology, psychoanalysis, feminism, and postmodernism.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Communication Studies Majors.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

COMS 210 - Web and Print Journalism

Unit(s): 4 Introduction to a wide range of writing styles and formats, from hard news to features. Students learn to write for newspapers, magazines, television, radio, and the internet.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Communication Studies Majors.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

COMS 215 - Digital Media Design and Content Delivery

Unit(s): 4.00 A hands-on exploration of digital design and communication fundamentals, including how multimedia content is presented and delivered to audiences; best practices for website and mobile UX and UI; trends in audio, video, text, photo, and graphic usage via mobile, social, and digital media; and other emerging interactive media trends.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

COMS 240 - Public Relations

Unit(s): 4 An overview of the history, structure, and organization of public relations. Students also learn the basic public relations tactics of writing, presentation, event organization, and web communication.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Communication Studies Majors.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

COMS 265 - Radio and Audio Production

Unit(s): 4 History of broadcasting; evolution of broadcast technology; introduction to basic theories and techniques of radio broadcasting. Overview of radio station organization, programming, and operation. Experience in radio program development and production techniques.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Communication Studies Majors.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

COMS 273 - SYRCE: Topics in COMS

Unit(s): 4 This course examines seminal moments in history that shaped the future of media by identifying key tropes in the encoding and decoding of content. The course critiques traditional values, ethics and philosophies in order to portray the truth of the times as viewed through the lens of mediated communications.

Prerequisite(s): completion of GE Category A2 (ENGL 101 or ENGL 100B) required.

GE Category: C2 - Humanities

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

COMS 275 - 21st Century Television As Art

Unit(s): 4 This course explores the "New Golden Age" of TV that arguably began with The Sopranos and which may, perhaps, be considered "art." Students will weigh relevant social and technological changes, study debates over subjectivity, taste, and cultural hierarchies, and assess what might distinguish these new shows from TV of old. Non-Majors Need Dept, Approval.

GE Category: C1 - Arts

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face & Online Grading: Student Option

COMS 301 - Media Theory and Research

Unit(s): 4 Intermediate-level study of the key research events that contributed to the development of communication theories, government policy, and the emergence of communication as an academic discipline.

Prerequisite(s): Communication Studies Juniors, Seniors; Either completion of COMS 200 and COMS 202 or completion of COMS 200 and concurrent enrollment of COMS 202 or completion of COMS 202 and concurrent enrollment of COMS 200.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face & Online Grading: Graded

COMS 302 - Media Ethics and Law

Unit(s): 4 The course will examine controversial ethical issues related to the media including sensationalism, bias, and deception. It will also cover how the media is regulated, as well as legal issues related to the First Amendment, libel, privacy, copyright, confidentiality, obscenity, the right to a fair trial, advertising law the Freedom of Information and Open Meetings Acts.

Prerequisite(s): Prerequisite: Communication Studies Juniors, Seniors; Either completion of COMS 200 and COMS 202 or completion of COMS 200 and concurrent enrollment of COMS 202 or completion of COMS 202 and concurrent enrollment of COMS 200.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face & Online Grading: Graded

COMS 320 - Selected Topics in COMS

Unit(s): 4 Intensive study of various topics and trends in the mass media, including advertising, propaganda and persuasion; children and the media; technical and scriptwriting; environmental and international communication; and film.

Prerequisite(s): Class open to Communication Studies majors only

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated May be repeated for additional credit with new subject matter.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face & Online Grading: Graded

COMS 321 - International Communication

Unit(s): 4 Course develops a basic understanding of current issues related to the field of international communication. Surveys readings and videos on global media (MTV, CNN, ESPN, theme parks, video games, advertising, media campaigns for social change, computer hackers, Sesame Street, etc.). Overseas job and volunteer opportunities discussed.

Prerequisite(s): Class open to Communication Studies majors only

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

COMS 322 - Broadcast Journalism

Unit(s): 4 Introductory class on the art and craft of Journalism, print, video, and radio, by career professionals. Designed to give students a taste of real world media experience.

Prerequisite(s): Class open to Communication Studies majors only

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

COMS 323 - Health Science and Environmental Journalism

Unit(s): 4 Course will focus on research, reporting skills to produce magazine articles, or video/radio documentaries on health, science, and the environment. Other assignments include press releases, profiles, and memos. Lecture, videos, and field trips help to critique news, public relations, advertisements, PSAs, campaigns, film, television, music, and the internet on related issues.

Prerequisite(s): Class open to Communication Studies majors only

Typically Offered Not Recently Offered

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

COMS 324 - Scriptwriting for TV

Unit(s): 4 Course focuses on fundamentals of writing professional-level scripts for video, television, and film productions. Assignments include lab work and homework producing scripts and storyboards for Public Service Announcements (PSAs), commercials, news packages, documentaries, corporate and educational training programs, and dramatic screenplays.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

COMS 325 - New Media

Unit(s): 4 This course introduces students to new communication technology, its influence on society, and how to write for the new media environment. This course will focus on examining new communication technologies including the different ways in which these technologies are used, the theoretical models that are relevant to new communication technology as well as the practical applications and implications of new communication technology on communication.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

COMS 326 - Advanced Presentation Techniques

Unit(s): 4 Course involves intensive self-evaluation of both verbal and non-verbal elements of presentation. Interviews, group communications, and presenting with multimedia are covered. Theories of communication are discussed as they relate to presentation styles.

Prerequisite(s): Junior-level standing required.
Typically Offered Variable Intermittently
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

COMS 328 - America at the Movies

Unit(s): 4 An examination of the sociopolitical meanings and significance of American film from the silent era to the present. To better understand how films can potentially reflect and affect society, students read about American history and analyze dozens of films in their particular historical contexts.

Prerequisite(s): Class open to Communication Studies Juniors, Seniors and Graduates.
Typically Offered Variable Intermittently
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

COMS 329 - "Reality" TV and Film

Unit(s): 4 How is "reality" mediated in film and television? In this course students examine the truthfulness, ethics, and sociopolitical implications of such forms and genres as the documentary, neorealism, Dogme 95, tabloid talk shows, voyeurism/confession shows, crime shows, freak shows, and contest/game shows.

Prerequisite(s): Class open to Communication Studies majors only
Typically Offered Not Recently Offered
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

COMS 340 - Public Relations Firm Lab (Primitivo)

Unit(s): 4 This is a hands-on class for students who are planning to work in the field of public relations. The class is run as a public relations firm with students working as consultants with clients to develop plans and projects for public relations campaigns.

Prerequisite(s): Completion of COMS 240 Open to Juniors, Seniors and Graduates only. Non major needs Dept. approval
Typically Offered Fall & Spring
May Be Repeated Yes
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

COMS 368 - Newspaper Writing/Editing Lab (STAR)

Unit(s): 4 The faculty advisor offers a comprehensive evaluation -- oral and written -- of the most recent edition of the campus newspaper, the STAR. Instruction is provided on a wide variety of journalism topics, from editing and reporting to ethics and law. Students are required to read the STAR and the written evaluation by the advisor.

Prerequisite(s): Completion of COMS 210

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

COMS 369 - Video Production Lab (Studio Blue)

Unit(s): 4 This is an essential class for students who will work in the Broadcasting Industry. Students will learn about the history, structure, and operations of local broadcasting. Students will be expected to work in a specific department of Studio Blue during the semester.

Prerequisite(s): Completion of COMS 201 or consent of instructor. Course restricted to COMS majors.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

COMS 385 - Media Lab: Radio (KSUN)

Unit(s): 4 A media lab to develop a range of skills in the production of radio programs. Work focuses on the production of live and prerecorded pieces for KSUN, SSU's internet radio station (www.sonoma.edu/ksun). The lab also serves as the staff meeting of the radio station.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated Yes How many times? 2 Maximum units for credit

12

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

COMS 402 - Senior Seminar

Unit(s): 4 Students will share at least one critical analysis of a specific media message and complete a senior-level project/portfolio/study, which is the culmination of their major experience.

Prerequisite(s): Communication Studies Seniors or Graduates and completion of COMS 301 and COMS 302 required.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated Cannot be repeated for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

COMS 435 - Seminar in Mass Media

Unit(s): 4 Seminar provides an opportunity to gain new insights into social problems through an intensive analysis of the role and impact of mass communication in contemporary society. Emphasis is on exploring, through a major research project, social issues that should be, but are not, fully covered by the mass media.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Communication Studies Majors. Crosslisted: SOCI 435
Typically Offered Variable Intermittently
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

COMS 460 - Teaching Assistant in Communication Studies

Unit(s): 1-4 Intended to give students experience assisting instructors. Teaching Assistants help teach, do research, and tutor students in classes. Consent of instructor and department contract required.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Communication Studies Majors.
Typically Offered Fall & Spring
May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit.
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

COMS 470 - Research Assistant in Communication Studies

Unit(s): 1-4 Intended to give selected students experience in the construction and implementation of a professor's research project. Consent of instructor and department contract required.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Communication Studies Majors.
Typically Offered Fall & Spring
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

COMS 495 - Special Studies

Unit(s): 1-4 Supervised study of a particular problem or area of interest in the media selected by the student in consultation with a sponsoring faculty member. Meetings will be arranged for discussions and progress evaluations.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently
May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit up to 8 units. Consent of instructor and Special Study 495 contract required.
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

COMS 499 - Media Internship

Unit(s): 1-4 This class provides students with an opportunity to discover how to make an effective transition from the classroom to the workplace. For a semester, individuals work in a media firm, business, newspaper, radio, or TV station. On the job, students learn networking and negotiating skills. Assignments for class include: a resume, workplace lingo, self-evaluation, profile of supervisor, and album with photos and text that describe the experience. There is also an interview for a job. Seniors only. Consent of instructor, internship agreement form, and department contracts required. Can be taken for up to 12 units only.

Prerequisite(s): Class open to Communication Studies Seniors and Graduate Students only.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

COUN 494 - Counseling Experience

Unit(s): 1 Participation in personal counseling conducted by a graduate student in the counseling M.A. program under the direct supervision of a counseling department faculty member. Students generate a written evaluation of the counseling experience. Students compile a weekly journal and write a summary essay.

Prerequisite(s): instructor consent.

Typically Offered Spring Only

May Be Repeated May be repeated once.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

COUN 496 - Migrant-Education Advisor Program

Unit(s): 1-4 School-based counseling experience supervised by Counseling department faculty. Under the guidance of the instructor, undergraduate students advise, counsel, and mentor K-12 students with a migrant background.

Prerequisite(s): participation in the Migrant Education Advisor Program (MEAP) and consent of the instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

COUN 501 - Counseling Theories and Professional Orientation

Unit(s): 4 An orientation to professional counseling focusing on standards of practice, major counseling theories, and essential concepts in the practice of counseling including attention to concepts of resilience and recovery-based models. Advocacy, systems of care, services, support for the severely mentally ill, and collaborative treatment are addressed in both counseling and case management. Mental health principles, the history and philosophy of counseling, consultation, self-care, cultural competence, roles of professional organizations and governing bodies, and ethical standards of the discipline are presented. This course also includes focus on 1 unit of special topics toward the CA LPCC license.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Counseling MA Students only.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

COUN 502 - Whole Lifespan Development

Unit(s): 4 This course offers a developmental perspective on counseling interventions appropriately undertaken with children, adolescents, and adults. Objectives include: 1) providing students with an introduction to basic intervention strategies for counseling children and adolescents, taking into account cultural and socio-economic influences; 2) familiarizing students with special topics, e.g., impact of divorce on children, child maltreatment, and effects of domestic violence; 3) consideration of family, peer, school, and community contexts in treatment planning (i.e., integrative case formulation) with children and adolescents; 4) identifying basic intervention strategies that facilitate adaptive change in adults' lives, particularly in the context of significant transitions and life events; 5) addressing long term care and elder abuse; 6) consideration of gender, sexual orientation, and ethnicity issues; and (7) examination of changes in career, interpersonal relationships, family structure and dynamics with an emphasis on their interdependence. This course also incorporates focus on 1 unit of special topics toward the CA LPCC license. Course restricted to Counseling M.A. students only.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Counseling MA Students only.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

COUN 503 - Clinical Diagnosis and Treatment Planning

Unit(s): 4 A course designed to cover psychopathology and sociopolitical-related issues of diagnosis and treatment. Attention is given to: 1) understanding the variability of psychopathology in community counseling settings; 2) the application of evaluation methods and diagnostic classification systems of the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental and Emotional Disorders (DSM); 3) development of appropriate treatment plans; 4) the relationship of class, gender, and ethnic background to diagnosis and treatment; 5) mental health recovery-oriented care; 6) principles of collaborative treatment; and 7) the impact of co-occurring disorders. This course also includes a focus on 1 unit of special topics toward the CA LPCC license. Course restricted to Counseling M.A. students only.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Counseling M.A. students only.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

COUN 510A - Applied Counseling Techniques and Assessment

Unit(s): 4 This course helps students to develop necessary basic multiculturally competent assessment and counseling skills to prepare them for field based training experiences in a wide variety of settings. Students will learn interview and assessment methodologies including intake interviewing, crisis assessment, and suicide assessment. Training is done through the use of videotape feedback and in-class practice demonstrations involving personal disclosure, role-play, and group and instructor feedback. This course is normally taken in the first semester by new students. This course also includes focus on 2 units of special topics toward the California LPCC license. Course restricted to Counseling M.A. students only.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Counseling MA Students only.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

COUN 510B - Applied Counseling Practicum and Advanced Techniques

Unit(s): 4 This course provides students with an opportunity to continue the development of multicultural-competent counseling skills necessary for advanced field training during the COUN 514A/COUN 514B Supervised Field Experience sequence. There are different sections for CMHC (MFT & LPCC) and School Counseling (PPS) students: CMHC students see clients in a structured fashion on campus and School Counseling students work in school settings under the instructor's supervision. This course also expands on principles of counseling clients in crisis and clients who have experienced trauma.

Prerequisite(s): COUN 510A.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

COUN 511F - Career Counseling: Foundations, Measurement and Assessment, and Issues Throughout the Lifespan

Unit(s): 3 Counseling 511F focuses on academic and career awareness and support for individuals and families throughout the lifespan, including the following objectives: (1) coverage of learning and career development theory, system support, K-12 academic and career guidance, and career information resources; 2) overview of major theoretical career models and practice guidelines; 3) study of the impact of diversity issues and counselor personal needs/values on ultimate career and educational choices; 4) exploration of interrelationships among and between work, family, and other life roles and factors; 5) development of hands-on career assessment and interviewing skills including skills for group and individual clients; 6) skills with print and computer-based career counseling materials; 7) familiarizing students with available information resources; and 8) coverage of career issues of adult development, including job maintenance, advancement, retirement, job-loss, avocation and leisure, and secondary career status.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to COUN MA students only.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

COUN 511G - Academic and Career Planning and Counseling Issues of K-12 Populations

Unit(s): 1 COUN 511G is an introductory course in K-12 academic counseling and career development. Course content includes the foundations of learning theory, cradle to career development and academic guidance models, and print/internet based academic/career counseling materials. The course explores the impact of personal needs, values, cultural variables, aptitudes, abilities, and interests on academic progress and career/vocational choices.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to COUN MA students only.

Typically Offered Spring Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

COUN 512 - Theory and Practice of Group Counseling

Unit(s): 4 This didactic and experiential course provides students with an introduction to the concepts and practices of group counseling, supplemented by lectures and readings. The dynamics and procedures involved in working with groups will be examined with students functioning as both group participants as well as group leaders. The course also examines basic group counseling skills, stages of group formation, confidentiality, trust issues, co-counseling in groups, group dynamics and structure, groupwork with families, and groupwork from a systemic perspective. Cultural factors related to group work are identified didactically and experientially. Practical approaches to group counseling include psycho-educational groups, interpersonal problem-solving groups, and task/work groups, among others. This course also includes focus on 1 unit of special topics toward the CA LPCC license.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Counseling MA Students only.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

COUN 513 - Research, Evaluation, and Assessment in Counseling

Unit(s): 4 A survey of the principles of research design, program evaluation, and assessment as applied to counseling in school and community settings, with a focus on using these skills to improve individual and programmatic counseling efficacy. Students will develop an understanding of key issues in assessment, including test development, administration and scoring, test reporting and interpretation, and test evaluation and selection. In addition, students will develop an understanding of research design and how it can be utilized for data-based counseling program planning and evaluation. The course will increase students' awareness of the ethical and cultural dilemmas that are inherent in assessment, research, and evaluation.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Counseling MA Students only.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

COUN 514A - School Counseling Supervised Field Experience I

Unit(s): 4 This seminar provides a group discussion and supervision format in conjunction with advanced field based training, in school settings. The class meetings are designed to supplement the individual and group supervision provided by site supervisors, and the goal of the seminar is to help students develop a model of professional functioning through the integration of theory, pragmatic strategies, and personal development. Aspects of cultural diversity that influence counseling practice in school settings will be addressed. Integral to this experience is the exchange of feedback and support among seminar participants. This course also addresses techniques for working with clients and situations involving crisis/trauma.

Prerequisite(s): COUN 510A, 510B and 520. Course restricted to COUN MA students only.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

COUN 514B - School Counseling Supervised Field Experience II

Unit(s): 4 This seminar provides opportunities to build upon and consolidate the field based training skills addressed in COUN 514A. A group discussion and supervision format continues to provide supplemental support relative to counseling field work in school settings. The class meetings are designed to supplement the individual and group supervision received from site supervisors, and the goal of the seminar is to help students develop a model of professional functioning through the integration of theory, pragmatic strategies, and personal development. Aspects of cultural diversity that influence counseling practice in school settings will be addressed, along with working with clients in crisis, experiencing trauma, and how to respond as part of a crisis team. Students will complete a culminating case study project, with both oral and written components.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to COUN MA students only.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

COUN 515A - Clinical Mental Health Counseling/Field Experience I

Unit(s): 4 This seminar provides a group discussion and supervision format in conjunction with advanced field based training, which may be in community counseling settings (CMHC students). The class meetings are designed to supplement the individual and group supervision provided by site supervisors, and the goal of the seminar is to help students develop a model of professional functioning through the integration of theory, pragmatic strategies, and personal development. Aspects of cultural diversity that influence counseling practice in community and school settings will be addressed didactically and experientially. Integral to this experience is the exchange of feedback and support among seminar participants. This course also addresses techniques for working with clients and situations involving crisis/trauma. Students will initiate a culminating case study project, with both oral and written components.

Prerequisite(s): Prerequisites: 510A, 510B, and additional coursework in the MA program.

Course restricted to Counseling MA Students only.

Typically Offered Fall Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

COUN 515B - Clinical Mental Health Counseling/Field Experience II

Unit(s): 4 This seminar provides opportunities to build upon and consolidate the field based training skills addressed in COUN 515A. A group discussion and supervision format continues to provide supplemental support relative to counseling field work in community counseling settings (CMHC – MFT & LPCC). The class meetings are designed to supplement the individual and group supervision received from site supervisors, and the goal of the seminar is to help students develop a model of professional functioning through the integration of theory, pragmatic strategies, and personal development. Aspects of cultural diversity that influence counseling practice in community and school settings will be addressed didactically and experientially. Integral to this experience is the exchange of feedback and support among seminar participants. Significant attention is paid to working with clients and systems in crisis and experiencing trauma. Students will complete a culminating case study project, with both oral and written components.

Prerequisite(s): Prerequisites: 510A, 510B, 515A, and additional courses in the MA program. Course restricted to Counseling

Typically Offered Spring Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

COUN 520 - Introduction to School Counseling

Unit(s): 4 This course provides a conceptual overview and orientation to the practice of school counseling. Emphasis will be placed on school counseling programs as critical components of the education enterprise, the ASCA national model of school counseling, and the expanding and changing role of the school counselor with respect to school climate, student and family issues.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Counseling MA Students only.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

COUN 521 - Seminar: Pupil Personnel Services - Concepts and Organization

Unit(s): 4 A seminar in organizing, supervising, and administering comprehensive service-based and data-driven Pupil Personnel Programs in elementary and secondary schools; legal and financial aspects, as well as laws affecting children and child welfare are covered. Students learn how to create a developmental school counseling program that is an integral part of the entire educational program in a school.

Prerequisite(s): COUN 520 and restricted to Counseling MA Students only.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

COUN 523 - Working with Families in School Setting

Unit(s): 4 This course has as its focus a study of family systems and how they impact and interact with all the systems that involve the child including educational and cultural systems. Basic to this is the study of the pre-service school counselor's own family of origin and its impact on their development as a student. Attention is devoted to important issues impacting families including family structures and lifecycle; domestic violence; poverty; and the roles of families and systems in substance abuse and dependence. Each student is required to take a leadership role in a field based parent involvement activity in a school setting as part of this course.

Prerequisite(s): COUN 510A and restricted to Counseling MA students only.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

COUN 524 - Counseling Children and Adolescents

Unit(s): 4 This course provides an overview of the theories and techniques of child and adolescent counseling with a focus on youth development in a socio-cultural context. Counseling interventions used in schools and common concerns of school-aged students are emphasized (including substance abuse). Methods for establishing rapport, goal setting, and case formulation are highlighted. Special emphasis will be placed on applying theory to practice in a developmentally appropriate manner.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Counseling MA Students only.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

COUN 526 - Group Counseling in the Schools

Unit(s): 4 This didactic and experimental course examines the concepts and practices unique to group counseling in the schools. Psycho-educational strategies in the school settings are emphasized. Particular attention is given to processes and challenges involved in the implementation of these strategies; cultural context, effectiveness, and evaluation issues will be explored. The dynamics and procedures involved in working with small and large groups will be studied with members as participants and as leaders.

Prerequisite(s): COUN 510A (Pre-practicum) and COUN 520 and restricted to Counseling MA students only.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

COUN 527 - Law and Ethics for School Counselors

Unit(s): 4 This course examines the legal and ethical responsibilities of the school counselor. Course topics include: educational counseling, child abuse reporting, confidentiality, record keeping, and attendance and truancy laws. This course also provides an overview of special education law, including: the different federal categories of disability, Individualized Educational Program (IEP) procedures, suspension and expulsion of students with disabilities, and Section 504 Accommodation Plans.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Counseling MA Students only.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

COUN 528A - Consultation

Unit(s): 3 This course provides a general framework for understanding and practicing culturally and contextually sensitive consultation, collaborative problem solving, and systems level intervention in educational settings. An exploration of the stages of consultation and the major models of consultation are covered. Students will gain experience in the delivery of consultation services.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Counseling MA Students only.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

COUN 528B - Crisis Intervention

Unit(s): 1 This course focuses on prevention, response, and recovery during a crisis, and the counselor's role as part of a school-based crisis intervention team. Crises include school violence, accidents, and the death or suicide of a student or faculty member. Maintaining the safety and security of the school community emphasized.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Counseling MA Students only.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

COUN 540 - Counseling Diverse Couples and Families

Unit(s): 4 This course offers theoretical, principle, and methodological foundations for understanding diverse couple and family relationships by providing an overview of historical and contemporary models of conceptualization, assessment, and intervention. Attention is devoted to important legal, ethical, and clinical considerations unique to working with families and couples, including partner abuse assessment, intervention, and dynamics; child abuse reporting; and roles of families and systems in substance abuse and dependence. Throughout, cultural factors such as the role of poverty, sexual identity, blended families/step-parenting, and multiracial families are addressed. This course also includes focus on 3 units of special topics toward the CA LPCC license.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Counseling MA Students only.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

COUN 545 - Counseling Orientation, Law and Ethics, and Case Management Practices

Unit(s): 4 This course is designed to clarify the legal and ethical responsibilities of the Clinical Mental Health Counselor (CMHC). Legal standards related to counseling practice will be surveyed, including issues related to dissolution; child care, custody, and abuse; confidentiality; involuntary hospitalization; mandatory reporting requirements; detection, assessment, and treatment of domestic violence; and other issues related to the relationship between law and counseling. Ethical standards, which often overlap with legal standards, will be surveyed. This course also addresses case management practices commonly employed by clinicians. Cultural considerations will be examined as they impact counseling and case management practices. This course satisfies the educational requirements for licensure as a Marriage and Family Therapist and as a Licensed Professional Clinical Counselor in California. It also includes focus on 1 unit of special topics toward the CA LPCC license.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Counseling MA Students only.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

COUN 570 - Seminar Multicultural Counseling

Unit(s): 4 This course is designed to provide students with an understanding of how different forms of diversity (ethnicity, culture, sexual orientation, socioeconomic status, age, disability, religion, and gender) can affect counseling processes. Students will identify and explore their own unique ethnic and cultural worldview and see how it affects their counseling approaches in both community and school counseling settings. Students will explore theories of multicultural counseling and development. Students will also become knowledgeable about various minority groups in California and in the United States and how majority culture influences the minority individuals' daily lives and their responses to counseling. The seminar will address multicultural aspects of counseling children, youth, and adults including advocacy and use of culturally appropriate counseling modalities. This course includes focus on 4 units of special topics toward the CA LPCC license.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Counseling MA Students only.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

COUN 580 - Couples and Sexuality Counseling

Unit(s): 4 This course provides students with theoretically-based knowledge about and skills in conducting counseling for couples, including addressing sexuality issues. Assessment and counseling interventions covered will reflect the pluralistic needs of couples who are embedded in complex social systems (e.g., legal, health). Issues such as intimate partner violence, infertility, gender roles, and sexual function/dysfunction will be addressed, and cross-cultural considerations will be incorporated throughout all topics. Students will also have opportunities to explore their own world-views as they relate to coupling and sexuality, to increase their effectiveness with a diversity of clients. This course also includes 4 units of special topics and populations toward the California LPCC license.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to COUN MA students only.

Typically Offered Spring Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

COUN 582 - Psychopharmacology for Counselors

Unit(s): 3 This didactic course explores basic principles and applications of psychopharmacology in the mental health field. Emphasis is paid to neurotransmitter systems in the nervous system, principles of drug action, and clinical pharmacology (the use of medications to treat behavioral, psychological, and psychiatric conditions such as eating disorders, depressive disorders, hyperactivity, anxiety disorders, psychotic disorders, and dementia). Attention will be paid to the community counselor's role in the effective, multiculturally-competent, and ethical use of psychoactive medications (e.g., referral, consultation, monitoring) when psychopharmacological interventions are part of treatment as well as to the historical and sociopolitical contextual issues surrounding the prescription of psychiatric medication.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Counseling MA Students only.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

COUN 583 - Substance Abuse and Dependence

Unit(s): 2 A didactic course designed to provide a broad conceptual base regarding major dimensions of alcohol and drug abuse and dependence disorders. The course explores theories of addiction; co-occurring disorders; and medical aspects, effects, and approaches to prevention, assessment, and treatment of alcohol and drug abuse/dependence disorders. The contextual role of the family and larger systems, including the legal system, are addressed. Risk factors, community resources, referral, and prevention information is discussed from developmental and cross-cultural perspectives.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to COUN MA students only.

Typically Offered Spring Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

COUN 595 - Special Studies

Unit(s): 1-4 Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

COUN 596 - Clinical Consultation Seminar

Unit(s): 1-2 This seminar will provide a group discussion and supervision format in conjunction with the pre-M.A. Field Experience/Traineeship. This seminar's weekly small group meetings (max of 8 students) are designed to provide campus-based consultation surrounding the Pre-M.A. clinical Traineeship, using case presentation and group discussion. A key aim of the seminar is the development of a model of professional functioning through the integration of theoretical, practice and personal material. Integral to this experience is the exchange of feedback and support among group members. The course is designed to provide an opportunity for continuing evaluation of student growth and counseling efficacy. This component will include evaluation from faculty and site-supervisors, as well as students ongoing self-assessment. This course is designed to meet California Board of Behavioral Science requirements that allow Pre-M.A. Trainees to earn hours toward MFT licensure.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Counseling MA Students only.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

CS 101 - Computing Technology and You

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 2 hours Laboratory: 2 hours

Introduction to the concepts, techniques, uses, applications, and terminology of computers, computing, programming, artificial intelligence, and networking. Emphasis is on the possibilities and limitations of computers and computing in a wide range of personal, commercial, and societal activities. Recommended for all students.

GE Category: E - Life Long learning & Self Development

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

CS 115 - Programming I

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

This course gives an overview of computer organization; arithmetic and logical expressions, decision and iteration, simple I/O; subprograms; principles of good programming style, readability, documentation, structured programming concepts; top-down design and refinements; techniques of debugging and testing. Use of the above concepts will be implemented in a standard high-level programming language.

Prerequisite(s): Math and English eligibility, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

CS 115W - Programming I Workshop

Unit(s): 1 A workshop designed to be taken with CS 115. Exploration of programming concepts through problem solving in a group setting.

Co-requisite(s): CS 115.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

CS 210 - Introduction to Unix

Unit(s): 1 Laboratory: 3 hours

This course is an introduction to the use of Linux/Unix as a programming environment. Communicating with a Linux host, shells and shell commands, files and directories, Gnome desktop, jobs and processes, scripting, programming utilities (compiler, linker, debugger, make, hex dump, etc.).

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in CS 115 and previous or concurrent enrollment in CS 215, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

CS 215 - Programming II

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

This course is the sequel to CS 115. Topics include: pointers and dynamic allocation of storage, linked lists, an introduction to the object oriented programming (OOP) paradigm, classes and objects, encapsulation, member variables and member functions, inheritance and polymorphism, scoping, templates, iterators, and error handling techniques.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in CS 115 and previous or concurrent enrollment in CS 210, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

CS 242 - Discrete Structures for Computer Science

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 4 hours

This course covers fundamental mathematical concepts blended with their applications in Computer Science. Topics include: sets, functions and relations, Boolean algebra, normal forms., Karnaugh map and other minimization techniques, predicate logic, formal and informal proof techniques, relational algebra, basic counting techniques, recurrence relations, and an introduction to graph theory.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in CS 115 and MATH 161, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

CS 252 - Introduction to Computer Organization

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

This course looks at the interface between computer hardware and software by introducing computer architecture and low-level programming. Topics to be covered include: data representations, digital logic, combinational and sequential circuits, computer system organization from the machine language point of view, and assembly language implementation of high-level constructs.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in CS 215 and CS 242, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

CS 285 - Selected Topics in Computer Science

Unit(s): 1-4 This lower-division course may be repeated with different subject matter. Content will be indicated by the specific topic.

Prerequisite(s): As indicated in the specific topic description or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated Course may be repeated with different subject matter. Content will be indicated by the specific topic.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

CS 315 - Data Structures

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

This course introduces the concept of the organization of data into different structures to support the efficient implementation of computer algorithms. The emphasis of the course is on the internal representation of the elementary and intermediate data structures such as stacks, queues, binary trees, heaps and hash tables, their time and space requirements, and their applications. A second component of the course is the study of more advanced features of object-oriented programming.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in CS 210, CS 215, and CS 242, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

CS 330 - Introduction to Game Programming

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 2 hours Laboratory: 2 hours

This course is an introduction to the theory and practice of video game design and programming. Video games combine, in real-time, concepts in computer graphics, human-computer interaction, networking, artificial intelligence, computer aided instruction, computer architecture, and databases. This course introduces students to a variety of game engines and frameworks and explores artificially intelligent agents. Students will work as part of a team to create a complete description document for a computer game and implement a prototype of the game.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in CS 315 or instructor consent.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

CS 340 - Computer Security and Malware

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 2 hours Laboratory: 2 hours

Current methods for increasing security, protecting privacy, and guaranteeing degrees of confidentiality of computer records; ensuring computer installation safety; protecting software products; preventing and dealing with crime; value systems, ethics, and human factors affecting use and misuse of computers. Discussion of recent technical, legal, and sociopolitical issues influencing computer security problems, with an emphasis on malware.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in CS 215 and CS 252, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

CS 349 - Problem Solving in a Team Environment

Unit(s): 1 Laboratory: 2 hours

This course focuses on problem solving and program development in a team programming environment. Topics include: techniques for problem analysis and algorithm design, rapid implementation and pair programming methods, use of standard container classes and library functions. Different types of problems will be selected each semester. Students taking this course participate in regional and national programming competitions.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in CS 315 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit. A maximum of 3 units can be applied to the Computer Science major.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

CS 351 - Computer Architecture

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 4 hours

This course is the sequel to CS 252 and includes the following topics: instruction set design; stages of instruction execution: data, and control path design; pipelining; memory hierarchy; cache models and design issues; virtual memory and secondary storage; I/O interfacing. Advanced topics to include some of the following: multiprocessor systems, GPU, multicores and cluster computers.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in CS 215 and CS 252, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

CS 355 - Database Management Systems Design

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 4 hours

This course focuses on the theoretical as well as the practical aspects of modern database systems. Topics include the study of the entity-relationship (E/R) model, relational algebra, data normalization, XML as a semi-structured data model, data integrity, and database administration. Current tools and technologies are used to create and manipulate sample databases.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in CS 215 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

CS 360 - Object-Oriented Programming

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 2 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

Principles of object-oriented programming, including encapsulation, inheritance, polymorphism, and design patterns. Specific applications are developed in one or more object-oriented programming languages and will cover the use of application frameworks and graphical user interfaces based on object-oriented principles.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in CS 315, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

CS 365 - Computer Networking and the Internet

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 2 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

This course introduces the theory and practice of computer networking, with coverage of key theories in data communication and how these theories relate to current practices and will drive future practices. Network hardware implementations of local area networks, wide area networks, telephone networks, and wireless networks are investigated. Network software implementations of switches and routers, peer-to-peer networking, and hosted applications are investigated with exercises in writing and debugging network protocols in the laboratory.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in CS 215 and CS 252, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

CS 370 - Software Design and Development

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 4 hours

Techniques of software design and development. Software lifecycle, requirements, formal specification, metrics, design, functional and structural testing, rapid prototyping, complexity, version control, and team management. Software metrics, tools for component-based software development. Team-based, agile, and scrum methodologies emphasized.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in CS 215 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

CS 375 - Computer Graphics

Unit(s): 3 An introduction to computer graphics. Survey of the fundamental algorithms and methodologies, including, but not limited to, polygon fill, line-drawing, antialiasing, geometric transformations, viewing and clipping, spline representation, occlusion and visible surface detection, illumination, texturing, color models, rendering, shaders, animation, and emerging techniques.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in CS 215 and MATH 161, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

CS 380 - ETS Major Field Test

Unit(s): 1 The focus of this course is preparation for the Major Field Test in Computer Science. Students will review material in the basic knowledge areas of computer science including: discrete structures, programming, algorithms and complexity, systems, software engineering, and information management. The course will culminate with students taking the Major Field Test in Computer Science administered through Educational Testing Services. This course is intended for students whom have completed the majority of required coursework in the CS major and are within one semester of graduation.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

CS 385 - Selected Topics in Computer Science

Unit(s): 1-4 This course may be repeated with different subject matter for credit in the CS major.

Prerequisite(s): As indicated in the specific topic description or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated Course may be repeated with different subject matter for credit in the CS major.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

CS 386 - Selected Topics in CS with Lab

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 2 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

This course may be repeated with different subject matter for credit in the CS major.

Prerequisite(s): As indicated in the specific topic description or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated Course may be repeated with different subject matter for credit in the CS major.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

CS 390 - Computer Science Colloquium

Unit(s): 1 Series of lectures on current developments in computer science.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit; a maximum of 3 units can be applied to the CS major; students will be required to attend all presentations, take notes, and research each of these presentations. Contact the department for specific information.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

CS 391 - Computing Professions

Unit(s): 1 This course will introduce students to careers in the computing field, covering different career possibilities; the software engineering job search and interview process; graduate education in computing; and aspects of professionalism including communication and ethics. Students in this course will develop job application materials and practice technical and nontechnical job interviews.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in CS 215, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

CS 415 - Algorithm Analysis

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 4 hours

This course provides a systematic approach to the design and analysis of algorithms with an emphasis on efficiency. Topics include algorithms for searching and sorting, hashing, exploring graphs, and integer and polynomial arithmetic. Foundations in recurrence relations, combinatorics, probability, and graph theory as used in algorithm analysis are covered. Standard design techniques such as divide-and-conquer, greedy method, dynamic programming, heuristics, and probabilistic algorithms along with NP-completeness and approximation algorithms are included.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in CS 315, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

CS 425 - Parallel Computing

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

Overview of parallel patterns, programming models, and hardware. Topics include parallel performance analysis; types of parallelism; parallel decomposition of tasks; shared vs. distributed memory; synchronization; hands-on experience with multiple parallel programming models; and architectural support for parallelism.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in CS 252 and CS 315, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

CS 450 - Operating Systems

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 4 hours

This course covers the fundamental concepts of operating system design and implementation; the study of problems, goals, and methods of concurrent programming; and the fundamentals of systems programming. Topics include resource-management, process and thread scheduling algorithms, inter-process communication, I/O subsystems and device-drivers, memory management including virtual memory, segmentation, and page-replacement policies. These topics will be covered in theory and in practice through the study of the source-code of a working operating system.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in CS 252 and CS 315, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

CS 452 - Compiler Design and Construction

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 2 hours Laboratory: 2 hours

Application of language and automata theory to the design and construction of compilers. Lexical scanning, top-down and bottom-up parsing; semantic analysis, code generation; optimization. Design and construction of parts of a simple compiler using compiler generation tools.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in CS 315 and CS 252, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

CS 454 - Theory of Computation

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 4 hours

Abstract mathematical models of computing devices and language specification systems with focus on regular and context-free languages and their applications in parsing, pattern matching, counting etc. Turing machines and computability, time and space complexity of languages, unsolvable problems and intractable problems.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in CS 315, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

CS 460 - Programming Languages

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 4 hours

This course provides a survey of the syntactic, semantic, and implementation features of functional, procedural, object-oriented, logic, and concurrent programming languages.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in CS 252 and CS 315, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

CS 465 - Data Communications

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 2 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

The ISO reference model, theoretical basis for data communications, data transmission theory and practice, telephone systems, protocols, networks, internetworks, with examples.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in CS 365, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

CS 470 - Advanced Software Design Project

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

This course is a project-based course designed to provide a "real world, team oriented" capstone experience for Computer Science majors. Coursework will be organized around large programming projects. The content of the projects may vary depending on the interests of the instructor and may include industry, government, nonprofit organization, or other affiliations.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in CS 315, CS 370, and senior-standing in the major; or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

CS 479 - Computer Vision Fundamentals

Unit(s): 3 Algorithms for face detection and face recognition are now widely employed for surveillance, security and entertainment applications. This course will delve into the study and implementation of such algorithms for detecting generic objects (pedestrians, animals, buildings, traffic signs, etc.). It will involve learning about (i) image filtering operations such as smoothing, thresholding and edge detection, (ii) interest point detection and representation methods such as SIFT and HOG, and (iii) machine learning classification techniques such as SVM and convolutional neural networks.

Prerequisite(s): CS 315 with C- or better

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

CS 480 - Artificial Intelligence

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

This course is a survey of techniques that simulate human intelligence. Topics may include: pattern recognition, general problem solving, search algorithms such as iterative deepening and A* search, adversarial game-tree search, decision-making, neural networks, various machine learning algorithms and applications.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in CS 315 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

CS 495 - Special Studies

Unit(s): 1-4 This course is intended for students who are doing advanced work in an area of computer science (e.g., a senior project).

Prerequisite(s): an upper-division CS course in the area of interest and consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

CS 496 - Senior Research Project

Unit(s): 3 Students, under the direction of one or more faculty members, undertake a substantial research project that is based on multiple upper-division CS courses. The result of the research is presented by the students in one of the Colloquium (CS 390) meetings.

Prerequisite(s): Senior standing and consent of instructor

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

CS 497 - Internship

Unit(s): 1-3 Student projects conceived and designed in conjunction with an off-campus organization or group. The internship is intended to provide on-the-job experience in an area of computer science in which the student has no prior on-the-job experience. Computer hardware or computer time Required for the internship, as well as regular supervision of the intern, must be provided by the off-campus organization.

Prerequisite(s): student must be within 30 units of completion of the CS major.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated Course may be repeated for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

DANC 115A - Dance Styles (Hip Hop)

Unit(s): 1 This course will focus on a particular dance style, e.g., hip hop, jazz, ballet or dances from the African Diaspora. Each specific dance style will focus on the fundamentals and foundations of its form. Material is presented by means of demonstration and description.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated Yes How many times? 5 Maximum units for credit

DANC 210 - Dance for Everybody

Unit(s): 3 The study, practice and performance of dance as universal human experience and cultural activity focused on developing one's awareness of their sociological, physiological and psychological potential.

GE Category: E - Life Long learning & Self Development

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated Yes How many times? 2

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

DANC 211 - Beginning Dance Forms

Unit(s): 2 Introduces specific contemporary dance forms and techniques, with the emphasis on expanding movement range and facility. alignment, strength, flexibility, and expressiveness are concerns of this course, which is intended for students with some experience in movement fundamentals.

Prerequisite(s): DANC 210

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated Yes How many times? 2 Maximum units for credit

4

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

DANC 240 - Choreography I

Unit(s): 2 Fundamentals of choreography through a problem-solving approach. Studies deal with aspects of time, space, dynamics and movement, with an emphasis on perceptions of meaning, that is, on "seeing" dancing as well as "making" dancing.

Prerequisite(s): DANC 210 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

DANC 271 - Global Perspectives in Dance

Unit(s): 3 This course is intended to give the student a broader perspective of how dance reflects and shapes cultural values. This course will look at differences and commonalities in dance forms across the globe and examine why people dance, who dances, where, when and how they dance, audience/performer relationships, movement forms, and roles of dance in their culture. This course includes an embodied approach to scholarship.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated Yes How many times? 2 Maximum units for credit

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

DANC 310A - Dance Forms - Intermediate

Unit(s): 2 An intermediate contemporary dance technique class exploring principles of body patterning in regard to helping the student develop full physical, creative and intellectual potential. Material is presented by means of demonstration and description.

Prerequisite(s): DANC 210, DANC 211 and consent of instructor

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated Yes How many times? 3 Maximum units for credit
8

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

DANC 310B - Dance Forms - Intermediate

Unit(s): 2 An intermediate contemporary dance technique class exploring principles of body patterning in regard to helping the student develop full physical, creative and intellectual potential. Material is presented by means of demonstration and description.

Prerequisite(s): DANC 210, DANC 211 and consent of instructor

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated Yes How many times? 3 Maximum units for credit

DANC 333 - Anatomy for Dance

Unit(s): 3 This Anatomy for Dance class will explore kinesiological principles of movement in an experience-based, dance-focused framework. Students will learn the concepts, structures and systems that comprise and organize the moveable body. With guided studies to activate the learning process, this anatomy course encourages the student to integrate information with experience. With an attention to dance technique this course will aid the student in understanding the elements of kinesiology that are most pertinent to dance.

Prerequisite(s): Junior/Senior dance major/minor and/or instructor permission

Typically Offered Fall Odd Years

May Be Repeated Yes How many times? 2 Maximum units for credit

6

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

DANC 334 - Teaching Methodologies

Unit(s): 3 Methods and skills for teaching a variety of dance forms including modern/contemporary, jazz, hip-hop, ballet, and more through research, theory and practice.

Prerequisite(s): Junior or senior level dance major/minor and/or instructor permission

Typically Offered Spring Even Years

May Be Repeated Yes How many times? 2 Maximum units for credit

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

DANC 340 - Choreography II

Unit(s): 2 Further development of choreographic skills and artistry. Includes problems in group choreography and relationship to fundamentals of rhythm.

Prerequisite(s): DANC 240

Typically Offered Spring Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

DANC 345 - Choreography III

Unit(s): 2 Further development of choreographic skills and artistry, including more extensive group choreography and relationship of movement to sound and music.

Prerequisite(s): DANC 340

Typically Offered Fall Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

DANC 371 - Contemporary Dance History

Unit(s): 3 This course is designed to introduce students to some of the choreographers and dance pioneers that have shaped 20th and 21st century dance. We will broadly explore social and political culture and its influence and significance in concert dance beginning with the turn of the century and ending at the present day. We will investigate race, gender, identity, equity and representation in performance. This course includes an embodied approach to scholarship.

Prerequisite(s): Junior or senior level dance major/minor or instructor permission.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ECON 204 - Introduction to Macroeconomics

Unit(s): 4 An examination of the basic characteristics of the American economy and the principles that determine its performance. Emphasis is given to those factors that determine the levels of production, employment, prices, interest rates, and inflation.

GE Category: Satisfies GE Area D5 (Contemporary International Perspectives).

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Student Option

ECON 205 - Introduction to Microeconomics

Unit(s): 4 An examination of the basic principles that determine the behavior of individual consumers and firms in the United States economy as they respond to changing economic conditions. Topics include demand, supply, pricing, production, cost, competition, and industrial structure. This course may be taken before ECON 204.

GE Category: Satisfies GE Area D1 (Individual and Society).

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Student Option

ECON 217 - Statistics for Economics and Business

Unit(s): 4 Microsoft Excel based statistics. Topics include the collection and presentation of data, discrete and continuous distributions, probability and sampling theory, statistical inference and hypothesis testing. Parametric and nonparametric statistical tests will be examined, including t-tests, Chi-square, and ANOVA. Additional topics include regression, time series analysis and applications in business forecasting.

Prerequisite(s): Students must be eligible for single semester GE math to register for this course.

GE Category: B4 - Mathematics/Quantitative Reasoning

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Student Option

ECON 303 - International Economics

Unit(s): 4 A study of issues, theories, and policies regarding international trade and finances, international movements of capital and labor, economic development, external debt, and foreign aid.

Prerequisite(s): ECON 204 and ECON 205 or in RBE1 group required

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ECON 304 - Intermediate Macroeconomic Theory

Unit(s): 4 A study of economic theories that explain the levels and fluctuations in production, employment, income, money, and prices in an economic system, with an emphasis on the macroeconomic framework of the U.S. economy. Topics include national income accounting, models of short-run equilibrium and long-run growth, macroeconomic aspects of international economics, labor markets, monetary policy, and fiscal policy.

Prerequisite(s): ECON 204 and ECON 205 or in RBE1 group, and MATH 165 or MATH 165B or BUS 211 or ECON 217 or equivalent required or in RBE2 group.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ECON 305 - Intermediate Microeconomic Theory

Unit(s): 4 A study of theories that explain consumer behavior and managerial decision-making in organizations and firms in the economy. Deals with theories of demand, pricing, production, cost analysis, and competition.

Prerequisite(s): ((ECON 204 and ECON 205 or in RBE1 group) and MATH 165 or BUS 211 or ECON 217) required or in RBE2 group.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ECON 311 - Public Economy

Unit(s): 4 A basic introduction to the economics of the public sector designed to give the student a broad overview of the economic roles of government in our society. Emphasis will be on understanding current public policy issues and the effects of government policies on resource allocation (efficiency) and income distribution (equity).

Prerequisite(s): ECON 205 and ECON 217 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ECON 313 - Economics of European Integration

Unit(s): 4 An introduction to the economics of Europe, and by implication, to the economic functions of the institutions of the European Union (EU). Students are introduced to economic policy issues which are currently of concern in the European Union, and the analysis of economic problems which are of particular relevance to European Union member states. These include (but are not limited to) the theory of customs unions, optimal currency area theory, the single market, competition policy, and the external trade and development policies of the EU.

Prerequisite(s): ECON 204 and ECON 205 or RBE1 group.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ECON 317 - Introduction to Econometrics

Unit(s): 4 Statistical techniques, based on linear regression, most frequently employed in economics. Topics include multiple regression, Gauss-Markov Theorem and its violations, cross-sectional techniques, time series analysis, simultaneous equation modeling, and forecasting. Applying widely-used computer programs to economic phenomena is emphasized.

Prerequisite(s): ((ECON 204 and ECON 205 or in RBE1 group)and MATH 165 or BUS 211 or ECON 217) required or in RBE2 group.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ECON 321 - Labor Economics

Unit(s): 4 A study of economic and social issues in U.S. labor markets. Topics will include U.S. labor history, market structure, labor laws, gender and race, education and training, and collective bargaining.

Prerequisite(s): ECON 205

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ECON 322 - Urban Economics

Unit(s): 4 An exploration of issues facing communities and regions in their attempts to manage growth and enhance the quality of life. Microeconomic tools are applied in a spatial context to solve problems associated with land use, firm location, transportation, housing, congestion, open space, and environmental protection.

Prerequisite(s): ECON 204 and ECON 205 or RBE1 group.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ECON 330 - Game Theory

Unit(s): 4 Analytical approach to studying rational behavior in interactive situations. This course develops basic theory, including Nash equilibrium, mixed strategies, credibility, coalitional games, and the core. Applications may include public goods, voting, auction design, bargaining, and the competitive market mechanism.

Prerequisite(s): ECON 204 and ECON 205 or in RBE1 group, and MATH 165 or MATH 165B or BUS 211 or ECON 217 or equivalent required or in RBE2 group.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ECON 375 - Money and Banking

Unit(s): 4 An examination of financial institutions, monetary theory, and the rapidly changing domestic and international banking system. Topics will include alternative theories of monetary policy, the determination of interest rates and price levels, and the influence of financial institutions on inflation, recession, and growth.

Prerequisite(s): ECON 204 and ECON 205 or in RBE1 group required.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ECON 381 - Natural Resource and Environmental Economics

Unit(s): 4 A study of public and private sector strategies for achieving the optimal use of natural resources and the control of pollution. Topics include: energy, water, minerals, forests, air pollution, climate change, and the valuation of environmental benefit and costs.

Prerequisite(s): ECON 204 and ECON 205 or in RBE1 group required.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ECON 403A - Seminar in International Economic Development

Unit(s): 4 Review of current issues and study of conceptual frameworks for thinking about economic development with a global perspective. Focuses on sources of economic growth, poverty alleviation, resource sustainability, and reform of economic institutions in Latin America, Africa, Asia, and ex-socialist economies.

Prerequisite(s): ECON 303, ECON 304, ECON 305 and ECON 317

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ECON 403B - Seminar in International Trade

Unit(s): 4 This course covers international trade, foreign direct investment, and immigration. Topics include international trade under imperfect competition and policies to regulate international trade. Vertical and horizontal foreign direct investment models and the relationships among direct foreign investment, immigration, and international trade will be examined.

Prerequisite(s): ECON 303, ECON 304, ECON 305 and ECON 317

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ECON 403C - Seminar in International Finance

Unit(s): 4 The goal of this course is to explain movements in the trade balance, exchange rates, national output, and inflation. The first portion of the course develops building blocks regarding these movements. The second part of the course develops a theoretical framework which we will use to analyze policy issues such as the sustainability of the U.S. trade deficit, the Asian currency crisis, the Argentine crisis, the European Monetary Union and the Euro, the debt crisis, the international monetary system, and capital market integration.

Prerequisite(s): ECON 303, ECON 304, ECON 305 and ECON 317

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ECON 404 - Seminar in Macroeconomic Theory

Unit(s): 4 A study of theories dealing with inflation, unemployment, macro-economic policies, equilibrium, and disequilibrium. Topics may include: investment, growth theory, monetary theory, international trade, aggregate demand and supply, comparative statics, post-Keynesian economics, and recent theoretical developments and policy issues.

Prerequisite(s): ECON 304, ECON 305, and ECON 317

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ECON 405 - Seminar in Microeconomic Theory

Unit(s): 4 This course is devoted to explorations of economic theory and policy issues and is designed to deepen student understanding of economic theory learned in ECON 305.

Prerequisite(s): ECON 304, ECON 305, and ECON 317

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ECON 411 - Seminar in Public Economics

Unit(s): 4 Applications of economic theory to public project analysis for students seeking careers in the public sector. Topics include: resource allocation, modeling and simulation, decision theory, fiscal impact analysis, benefit-cost analysis, government investment criteria, and project evaluation.

Prerequisite(s): ECON 304, ECON 305 and ECON 317

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ECON 417 - Seminar in Econometrics and Forecasting

Unit(s): 4 This course is devoted to explorations of statistical applications and theory used to analyze economic phenomena and is designed to deepen the student's understanding of econometric and forecasting techniques learned at a basic level in ECON 317.

Prerequisite(s): ECON 304, ECON 305 and ECON 317

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ECON 421 - Seminar in Labor Economics

Unit(s): 4 An analysis of the theory of labor supply and demand. Topics include: wage determination and the theory of human capital, labor force participation, antipoverty programs, the causes and consequences of wage inequality, theories of race and gender discrimination, the role and effects of labor unions, and the effects of the minimum wage on employment and income.

Prerequisite(s): ECON 304, ECON 305, ECON 317

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ECON 426 - Seminar in History of Economic Thought

Unit(s): 4 The interaction of economic thought, economic policy, and political ideology from mercantilism to the present day. The works of Smith, Malthus, Ricardo, Marx, Marshall, Keynes, and the post-Keynesians are discussed in the context of the economic problems of their times.

Prerequisite(s): ECON 204 and ECON 205 or in RBE1 group.

GE Category: Satisfies GE Area D5 (Contemporary International Perspectives).

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Student Option

ECON 440 - Seminar in Industrial Organization

Unit(s): 4 Economists understand firm behavior by applying a simple rule for profit maximization: Marginal Revenue equals Marginal Cost. Models of perfect competition and monopoly are the simplest applications of this rule, but fail to explain many of the things firms do in real markets. Industrial Organization (IO) is motivated by observed deviations from the classical models of perfect competition and monopoly. Topics include models of price discrimination, product differentiation, oligopoly, entry deterrence, collusion, etc. in order to understand how different market institutions lead to different restatements of the profit maximization rule.

Prerequisite(s): ECON 304, ECON 305 and ECON 317

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ECON 449 - Seminar in Program Evaluation

Unit(s): 4 This class aims to teach students to apply and interpret the counterfactual model and associated methods in answering policy-relevant questions. The primary focus will be on study design: identifying causal questions and variables of interest, how the question would be answered, necessary assumptions, and potential sources of bias.

Prerequisite(s): ECON 304, ECON 305 and ECON 317

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ECON 454 - Seminar in Behavioral and Experimental Economics

Unit(s): 4 Economics is the study of how people make choices in a world with constraints. In Neoclassical models, behavior is based on assumptions that may or may not be true. Behavioral economics, on the other hand, takes as its starting point actual behavior (observed either experimentally or in naturally occurring situations), using observations to incorporate more realistic psychological foundations. Typically this means enriching the theory rather than replacing it. Experimental methods are particularly useful in this kind of research.

Prerequisite(s): ECON 304, ECON 305 and ECON 317

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ECON 461 - Seminar in Quantitative Marketing: Limited Dependent Variables

Unit(s): 4 This course covers quantitative methods in marketing research. In the course we analyze data on topics relevant to marketing such as pricing, promotion, branding and purchasing behavior. The course will make extensive use of advanced econometrics methods beginning with the multiple regression model and covering binary dependent variable models, unordered and ordered multinomial dependent variable models, limited dependent variable models and duration dependent variable models.

Prerequisite(s): ECON 304, ECON 305 and ECON 317

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ECON 462 - Seminar in Quantitative Marketing: Time Series Econometrics

Unit(s): 4 This course covers quantitative methods in marketing analytics. The course will concentrate on theory and application of time series econometrics to marketing topics such as pricing, promotion, branding and marketing return on investment. The course will make extensive use of advanced time series econometrics methods beginning with the multiple regression model.

Prerequisite(s): ECON 304, ECON 305 and ECON 317

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ECON 494 - Special Topics in Economics

Unit(s): 1-4 Course of lectures on a single topic or set of related topics not ordinarily covered in the economics curriculum.

Prerequisite(s): consent of the instructor.
Typically Offered Variable Intermittently
May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit with a different topic.
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ECON 495 - Special Studies

Unit(s): 1-4 Open to economics majors only.

Prerequisite(s): consent of the instructor.
Typically Offered Variable Intermittently
May Be Repeated May be repeated once for credit.
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ECON 496 - Tutoring Economics

Unit(s): 2 Intended for advanced students working as tutors in Economics courses.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

ECON 497 - Seminar in Teaching Economics

Unit(s): 2 A faculty-directed seminar in teaching methods and concepts for students tutoring in economics.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring
May Be Repeated May be repeated up to 8 times for credit.
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

ECON 499 - Internship

Unit(s): 1-4 Prerequisite(s): Class open to Juniors, Seniors, and Graduate Students only.
Typically Offered Fall & Spring
May Be Repeated May be repeated twice for credit.
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

ECON 501 - Foundations of Economics

Unit(s): 2-3 This introductory course will focus on using economic models for business decisions. The course will cover the fundamental components of profit maximization as well as macroeconomic analysis and the underlying variables that determine the performance of the economy. Statistical methods

Prerequisite(s): Class open to Graduate Students only

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ECON 595 - Special Studies

Unit(s): 1-4 Independent study designed in consultation with instructor. Subject matter variable. Students must complete the standard SSU form.

Prerequisite(s): consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDUC 150 - Prospective Teachers

Unit(s): 3 Focuses on realities of the classroom from the teacher's point of view. Includes child development, teachers' roles and responsibilities, and the culture of schools in a changing society. Includes an apprenticeship with a teacher.

Prerequisite(s): consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDUC 250 - Teaching in a Changing World

Unit(s): 3 This course is designed to provide an introduction to the classroom from teachers' points of view. Areas of content include child and adolescent development, teachers' roles and responsibilities, the culture of schools in a changing society, as well as an apprenticeship with a practicing teacher. Particular emphasis will be on teacher decision-making. Institutional changes that could improve teacher and student performance will also be explored. Each student will spend 30 hours observing and participating in an assigned public school classroom.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDUC 295 - Community Involvement Program

Unit(s): 1-4 CIP involves students in the community, performing such tasks as tutoring. Students receive 1 to 4 units, depending on the specific tasks performed. A total of 6 units of CIP credit may be applied toward a degree. Forty five hours of fieldwork is mandatory per unit.

Prerequisite(s): Recommend to have EDUC 250 as prerequisite, but not required.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

EDUC 390 - Selected Topics in Education

Unit(s): 1-4 Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit under different topic.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

EDUC 417 - School and Society

Unit(s): 3 A critical examination of current issues in today's schools and future directions in education through the perspectives of history, philosophy, sociology, anthropology, and the politics of education. Content includes: trends, movements, and issues of the development of our present-day school systems and current educational practice; development of an individual philosophy of education through examination and evaluation of educational philosophies from early Greek through modern/post-modern thought; analysis of American society and its effect on the functioning of schools; the role of explicit and implicit cultural assumptions in educational contexts; and the influence of federal, state, and local governing agencies, the knowledge industry, and special-interest groups on education.

Prerequisite(s): Restricted to: juniors, seniors CRED, CREDC, CREDP, CRED2, plan of EDUC-MA and to credential student group (RUCR).

GE Category: Satisfies GE, Area D1 (Individual and Society).

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDUC 490 - Selected Topics in Education

Unit(s): 1-4 A course designed according to the interest of a particular faculty member, providing opportunities for diversification in content and reading.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit under different topic.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDUC 495 - Special Studies

Unit(s): 1-4 Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit up to 8 units.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDUC 501 - Teacher Induction and Support: Inquiry

Unit(s): 3 EDUC 501 is one of two courses in the Sonoma State Teacher Induction and Support Program. This course is intended to meet the needs of teacher candidates who hold a preliminary single subject, multiple subject or education specialist credential and need to clear this credential through an Induction program.

Prerequisite(s): Class open to CREDC or CRED2 or MA plus CREDC/CRED2 only.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated Course repeatable for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face & Online Grading: Graded

EDUC 504 - Teacher Induction and Support: Reflective Practice

Unit(s): 3 EDUC 504 is one of two courses in the Sonoma State Teacher Induction and Support Program. This course is intended to meet the needs of teacher candidates who hold a preliminary single subject, multiple subject or education specialist credential and need to clear this credential through an Induction program.

Prerequisite(s): Class open to CREDC or CRED2 or MA plus CREDC/CRED2 only.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated Course repeatable for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face & Online Grading: Graded

EDUC 570 - The Reflective Educator

Unit(s): 3 Students should take this course at the beginning of the M.A. program. The focus of this course is on philosophical, historical, social, and psychological perspectives in education. Students will examine these perspectives while being encouraged to examine and reflect upon their own professional practices in education. In this course, students will have assignments that can be part of a reflective portfolio that they will continue to modify throughout their M.A. program. The portfolio is intended to be cumulative throughout the graduate core courses.

Prerequisite(s): admission to M.A. in Education Program.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDUC 571 - Research Paradigms in Education

Unit(s): 3 This course is designed to be taken midway in the Master of Arts degree program. This course focuses on becoming a critical consumer of research and includes among its goals the development of skills in the analysis and critique of educational research. The course serves to acquaint students with basic principles and techniques of educational research. It also provides students with an opportunity to integrate knowledge of these principles through analyses of action research projects that may serve as the foundation for the culminating master of arts degree project.

Prerequisite(s): EDUC 570 or other MA courses.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDUC 572 - Supervised Study for Cognate Project

Unit(s): 3 Typically Offered Fall & Spring
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

EDUC 573 - Supervised Study: Individual Exam

Unit(s): 3 Typically Offered Fall & Spring
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

EDUC 578 - Project Continuation

Unit(s): 1-3 Designed for students working on their thesis or master's project but who have otherwise completed all graduate coursework toward their degree. This course cannot be applied toward the minimum number of units needed for completion of the master's degree.

Prerequisite(s): permission of the graduate coordinator.
Typically Offered Fall & Spring
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

EDUC 595 - Special Studies

Unit(s): 1-4 Independent study designed in consultation with an instructor.

Prerequisite(s): students must complete the standard SSU form and secure the required approvals during the first week of classes.
Typically Offered Fall & Spring
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDUC 598 - Developing a Thesis/Project

Unit(s): 3 This is the final course in the graduate core courses in Education. This course develops students' abilities to carry out a thesis or project and provides basic information for planning and implementing the master of arts degree proposal. The main goal is to provide students with knowledge to begin their thesis or project. Time is provided for students to assess progress in the program and to complete portfolio development.

Prerequisite(s): completion of all M.A. coursework or taken in final semester of M.A. coursework.
Typically Offered Fall & Spring
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDUC 599 - Supervised Research for Thesis/Project

Unit(s): 3 Supervised Research provides students with guidance in the completion of their research project. Under the direction of the committee chair, and in consultation with all committee members, students will complete the thesis or project that was developed in EDUC 598 Developing a Thesis/Project. Following completion of the research project, students will participate in a formal presentation of their work to faculty and colleagues.

Prerequisite(s): completion of EDUC 598. Advancement to candidacy approved.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

EDCT 552 - Educational Technology Praxis

Unit(s): 3 Educational Technology Praxis requires students to take a reflexive stance towards the initiation and integration of technological skills and knowledge in authentic instructional contexts and settings. The practical application of technology will be grounded within current perspectives and trends of new media technologies and take into account educational frameworks of learning, design, and pedagogical practice.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDCT 556 - Technology, Pedagogy, and Society

Unit(s): 3 This course relates pedagogical theories to technology integration strategies at various levels of education. The content is focused on how technology and learning are situated, how socio-cultural issues relate to and influence technological access and use, and power and privilege. Age, gender, race/ethnicity, social class, sexual orientation, language, and social capital and its intersections will also be analyzed.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDCT 557 - Project Management for Educational Technology

Unit(s): 3 This course considers how a small-scale Educational Technology research project can be conducted in an education environment. Case studies will be reviewed to offer practical tools and applied research strategies to students prior to conducting their own Educational Technology thesis or cognate project.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDCT 559 - Educational Media and Information Literacy

Unit(s): 3 This course focuses on critical media and information literacy and issues related to researching, creating, and evaluating media in the Internet and Information Age. The course also highlights the origins and threads of cultural studies, media education, and digital literacy in an effort to better map and analyze both the field of digital media and learning and the evolution of digital participation and citizenship.

Typically Offered Fall Only

EDCT 560 - Instructional Design and Technology

Unit(s): 3 Instructional Design and Technology is a practical course that offers participants training in advanced instructional design methods and relates these to learning theories and pedagogical practices introduced in other Educational Technology courses. Advanced techniques will concentrate on evaluating and using a range of interactive instructional design authoring tools.

Typically Offered Fall Only

EDCT 562 - Educational Technology Mentorship

Unit(s): 3 Students will apply educational technology theory and methods through mentorship experiences. Such experiences may include working in the School of Education, Faculty Center, University Library, as well as with public or private partners in an educational or training capacity that utilizes technology. Mentorships require faculty approval, and a minimum of 45 hours of work per unit per semester, including regular consultation with, and evaluation by, the faculty sponsor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

EDCT 585 - Curriculum Development: Theory, Practice, and Evaluation

Unit(s): 3 Analyses of sociopolitical, economic, and cultural influences on curriculum development, instructional processes, and learner achievement in a variety of instructional settings. Study of the structures of various disciplines, the roles of participants, and other variables in staff and curriculum development. Evaluation of alternative theoretical models for constructing and changing curricula.

Prerequisite(s): consent of instructor and approval of the School of Education.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDCT 586 - Teaching and Learning: Research and Application-Classroom

Unit(s): 3 An analysis of teaching and learning strategies and instructional variables as they relate to diverse groups of learners. Research will be analyzed in terms of the major paradigms of the field of education. Also included is a review of recent developments in the evaluation of classroom performance and achievement.

Prerequisite(s): consent of instructor and approval of the School of Education.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDCT 595 - Special Studies

EDEC 178 - Introduction to ECS Major and Digital Portfolio

Unit(s): 1 In this course students learn about the requirements and responsibilities of the Early Childhood Studies (ECS) major, and learn about ethical and legal requirements in field placements and professional life. They will understand the purpose of the senior portfolio in the ECS major, learn about different types of portfolios, and practice building a digital portfolio.

Prerequisite(s): Declared ECS major

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

EDEC 201 - Foundations of Early Care and Education

Unit(s): 4 This course provides an introduction to the theory and research that underlie professional work with young children. Topics include: historical views on childhood and play, influential theorists, historical and contemporary models of early childhood education, principles of developmentally and culturally appropriate practice, contemporary issues in early care and education, professional ethics, and professional career development.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDEC 220 - Child Observation with Field Experience

Unit(s): 4 Students will learn the major developmental milestones, research findings, and theories covering the social, emotional, physical, and cognitive development of children from conception through eight years old. Students will concurrently study observation techniques for documenting and assessing children's growth and development. Includes 24 hours of field work in an Early Childhood setting. Students must sign the School of Education Field Experience Agreement before starting at their field site.

Prerequisite(s): EDEC 178 and open to sophomores and above.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face & Hybrid Grading: Graded

EDEC 237 - Early Childhood Curriculum with Field Experience

Unit(s): 4 This course presents an overview of knowledge and skills related to planning and implementing developmentally and culturally appropriate curriculum and environments for young children from birth to eight years old. Students examine how to create and use the physical environment as the foundation for promoting activities that support learning and development, with an emphasis on language and literacy development and the essential role of play. Includes 24 hours of field work in an infant/toddler, preschool, transitional kindergarten, or kindergarten classroom that has been approved by the instructor. Students must sign the School of Education Field Experience Agreement before starting at their field site. Course open to sophomores and above.

Prerequisite(s): EDEC 220

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face & Hybrid Grading: Graded

EDEC 247 - Physical Development and Health in Childhood

Unit(s): 3 In this course, students will study the factors that promote optimal physical development and health in childhood. Students will consider practical applications of this knowledge in a variety of organizations that serve young children. Students will also study the basics of parent education, so that they can work effectively with parents to keep children safe and to see that children receive needed health services.

Prerequisite(s): Open to ECS majors only.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDEC 250 - Intro to Lifespan Development

Unit(s): 3 This course offers the fundamentals of human development from conception through death. Through discussion of developmental theories and cutting-edge research, students will learn the basic physical, cognitive, and social processes at work during each age period; biological and environmental influences; and the relationships among influences and different developmental areas in each life span. You will apply your knowledge of life span development to diverse fields, including nursing, criminal justice, and social work.

EDEC 260 - SYSSE: Conversations with Young Children

Unit(s): 4 This course is for second-year students interested in thinking deeply about conversations with children about race, socioeconomic class, gender, and disability. The course has three components: (1) students build their understanding of mentorship, campus and community involvement, and career opportunities (2) students practice critical reading and writing skills (3) students engage in conversations with children.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

EDEC 270 - Families and Children in Diverse Societies

Unit(s): 4 Class participants will study the dynamic interactions of race, culture, gender, socioeconomic status, and other factors as they relate to the care and education of children from diverse populations. Students will explore the diversity of family systems, sociocultural factors affecting the child's development, and the socializing influences of community. The coursework helps students become more informed and effective professionals and community members by promoting the development of the knowledge, dispositions, and skills needed to work effectively with families and children in a pluralistic society.

Prerequisite(s): Course open ECS majors and minors only.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDEC 347 - Field Experience in Community Service Agencies

Unit(s): 2 Students will complete a field placement (at least 45 hours) in an approved agency or organization that serves children in a non-education/non-child care setting. Students will perform tasks set by the placement agency, attend weekly class meetings, and complete readings and assignments related to working effectively with diverse children and families. Students must sign the School of Education Field Experience Agreement before starting at their field site.

Prerequisite(s): EDEC 220, declared ECS Major with a concentration in Early Childhood Development, junior or senior standing. This course can be taken one time only.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

EDEC 405 - iPlay: Child Development in the Digital Age

Unit(s): 3 Students will study theories and research in child development and early childhood education to answer questions about how adults should use technology with children, how to judge when technology use by children might be inappropriate or harmful, and how to find resources for supporting the use of technology with young children.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

EDEC 406 - Positive Guidance

Unit(s): 3 Students will study principles and strategies of positive guidance for children with and without special needs from birth to age eight. Topics include: development of pro-social skills, the art of encouragement, understanding and preventing challenging behaviors, bullying prevention, and family involvement.

Prerequisite(s): Class open to sophomores, juniors and seniors only.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

EDEC 407 - Multicultural Children's Literature

Unit(s): 3 This course surveys multicultural literature for children (infancy-middle childhood). It addresses the use of literature to promote children's cognitive, socio-emotional, language, and literacy development in a variety of early childhood settings. Special attention is given to diverse children, including dual language learners. Class open to sophomores, juniors and seniors only.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

EDEC 408 - Science, Literacy, and Play: Exploring the Natural World with Young Children

Unit(s): 3 Students will study content and pedagogical strategies for working with children in natural/outdoor environments through integrating the sciences, emergent and early literacy, and play. Course emphasis is on the inter-related nature of living systems and teaching the sciences using a play-based approach. Topics include: the role of the adult in teaching the natural sciences, issues and trends in exploring nature with children, and creating developmentally and culturally appropriate environmental science and literacy experiences for young children.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

EDEC 409 - Play in Early Childhood

Unit(s): 3 In this course, students will explore the variety and importance of play in early childhood development. Topics will include: defining play and types of play; play in different developmental stages (infants, toddlers, early and middle childhood); the benefits of play for physical, socio-emotional, cognitive and language development; traditional and digital toys and games; play in school; and play in relation to gender, culture, and special needs.

Prerequisite(s): Class open to sophomores, juniors and seniors only

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

EDEC 410 - Language Development

Unit(s): 3 This course explores language development from 0-8 years of age, covering the main language acquisition theories of how children construct meaning, build grammar(s), and use language as social practice. Course includes a focus on meeting the needs of Dual Language Learners with developmentally, culturally and linguistically appropriate practices.

Prerequisite(s): Class open to sophomores, juniors and seniors only

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

EDEC 411 - Infant and Toddler Development

Unit(s): 3 In this course you will learn about the unique ways in which infants and toddlers (0 to 3 year-olds) learn and interact with the world around them. You will examine theories that guide infant/toddler development, engage in critical analysis of systemic racism and bias in caring for infants and toddlers, explore culturally responsive approaches to working with infants, toddlers and their families, learn research methods used to study infants and toddlers, understand rapid changes in the brain during the first three years of life, study the role of the caregiver (parental and non-parental) in infant/toddler development and analyze early interventions and strategies that support the well-being of infants, toddlers and their families.

Prerequisite(s): Class open to sophomores, juniors and seniors only.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

EDEC 412 - Brain Development

Unit(s): 3 Students will learn theory and research on brain development and will consider the implications for early childhood professionals who work with young children. Course topics include brain architecture, gene-environment interaction, toxic stress, executive function, and self-regulation, resilience, and the importance of play for healthy brain development.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face & Hybrid Grading: Graded

EDEC 435 - Leadership on Behalf of Children and Families

Unit(s): 4 In this course, students will study and apply the principles and strategies that underlie effective administration of programs for young children and families and effective advocacy on behalf of young children and families. Students will build and use leadership skills in the areas of identifying priorities, organizational planning, guiding staff, communicating clearly, and working collaboratively with community partners. Present-day early childhood advocacy issues will be explored and students will engage in leadership efforts that engage their newly developed understandings and skills.

Prerequisite(s): Open to ECS and HD majors only.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

EDEC 437 - Integrated Curriculum with Field Experience

Unit(s): 4 In this course, students will learn to plan and implement developmentally and culturally appropriate curriculum for children in early elementary classrooms. Through study of professional resources and participation in an instructor-approved classroom, students will create learning and assessment opportunities that enable young children to construct knowledge through an integrated approach that includes all curriculum areas and that aligns with relevant state and professional standards. Includes 24 hours of fieldwork in an early elementary setting. Students must sign the School of Education Field Experience Agreement before starting at their field site.

Prerequisite(s): EDEC 237 and EDEC 220

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

EDEC 447 - Children's Emotional Development and Mental Health

Unit(s): 3 In this course, students will deepen their understanding of children's emotional development from birth through age eight, and learn about common mental health problems in early childhood. Topics include the role of sociocultural context, risk and protective factors, attachment and temperament, resilience, common mental health problems, and mental health observation and screening tools. Pre-requisite: Junior or senior standing in the Early Childhood Development concentration.

Prerequisite(s): Juniors and Seniors and ECS and HD Majors only.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

EDEC 450 - Empowerment and Equity for Children and Families

Unit(s): 3 Questions of social justice and equity are fundamental to our understanding, application, and critique of the ways children are raised. This class will explore strategies to support children within the context of their families, school, and community by critically applying theories and research of child development. There is an emphasis on (1) dual language learners and (2) local community resources available to support families, including those that address issues of poverty and violence and the effects of these on children and their families.

Prerequisite(s): ECS or Human Development major or minor; and completion of EDEC 110; and sophomore, junior, or senior only

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

EDEC 460 - Introduction to Research in Early Childhood Studies

Unit(s): 4 This course provides an overview of quantitative and qualitative research methods commonly used to study young children. Topics will include research methods, the role of context in research, common early childhood psychological measurement tools, observational techniques, research ethics, library research strategies, and evaluating research reports.

Prerequisite(s): Juniors and Seniors and ECS and HD Majors only.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

EDEC 478 - ECS Senior Portfolio

Unit(s): 1 In this seminar, students will compile and reflect upon their academic experiences at Sonoma State University and in the Early Childhood Studies major. Final portfolios will be presented to faculty and students in the Early Childhood Studies program. Students must be in their final semester in order to enroll.

Prerequisite(s): Senior in the Early Childhood Studies major.

EDEL 530 - Visionary Leadership

Unit(s): 4 As an introductory course in the PASC program, students will develop an understanding of their personal and philosophical leadership philosophy. This course embodies concepts and techniques of leadership, analysis of factors and practices and procedures of individual and group leadership as applied to educational environments. Students are introduced to the importance of vision and the process for developing, sustaining, and communicating that vision to achieve higher student achievement by actively and meaningfully including stakeholders.

Prerequisite(s): Admission to the Preliminary Administrative Services Credential (PASC) Program.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

EDEL 531 - School Improvement Leadership

Unit(s): 4 This course focuses on analyzing data to identify opportunities for school improvement. It develops the candidate's knowledge about appropriate and effective school improvement theories and strategies, including communication skills and leading others in improvement and monitoring of these efforts. At the conclusion of this course, students will be able to demonstrate how equity-driven school leaders take personal responsibility for empowering engaged, inspired and successful learners.

Prerequisite(s): Admission to the Preliminary Administrative Services Credential (PASC) Program.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

EDEL 532 - Professional Growth & Culturally Sustaining Leadership

Unit(s): 4 This course provides candidates with preparation for providing purpose and direction for individuals and groups, shaping school culture and value, facilitating the development of shared strategic vision for the school, formulating goals and planning change efforts with staff, and setting priorities for one's school in the context of community and district priorities for student and staff needs. Coursework focuses on the development of strategic capacity and vision by building culturally sustaining leadership skills and developing plans to implement the vision in a diverse setting.

Prerequisite(s): Admission to the Preliminary Administrative Services Credential (PASC) Program.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

EDEL 533 - Instructional Improvement Leadership

Unit(s): 4 This course is designed to have students integrate the competencies developed across the leadership program in a manner that allows them to improve instruction and evaluation. At the conclusion of this course, students will be able to demonstrate the application of principles and practices in assessment of teaching competency; improving instruction and evaluation, development of teaching profiles; and leadership skills in working with teachers to improve instructional strategies.

Prerequisite(s): Admission to the Preliminary Administrative Services Credential (PASC) Program.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

EDEL 534 - Systems and Organizational Leadership

Unit(s): 4 This course covers a broad range of topics leaders must know and be able to on a daily basis. This course will instruct students on the specifics of California school finance, sources of school law, school governance, functions of school boards, and unions. At the conclusion of this course, students will be able to demonstrate how equity-driven school leaders take personal responsibility for empowering engaged, inspired, and successful learners.

Prerequisite(s): Admission to the Preliminary Administrative Services Credential (PASC) Program.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

EDEL 535 - Community Leadership

Unit(s): 4 This course is centered around community engagement from a Culturally Sustaining School Leadership perspective. In this course, research will be introduced to delineate the ways in which culture informs educational leadership practice as well as community leadership development and mobilization. Furthermore, students will engage in educational research that shows positive relationships between family/community engagement and educational leaders with student engagement and academic success.

Prerequisite(s): Admission to the Preliminary Administrative Services Credential (PASC) Program.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

EDEL 587A - Beginning Field Experience in Administration

Unit(s): 3 Intensive field experience in school administration that extends learnings and competencies in program coursework.

Prerequisite(s): admission to the Preliminary Administrative Services Credential program and consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDEL 587B - Advanced Field Experience in Administration

Unit(s): 3 This course is the completion of the fieldwork requirement for the program. Candidates provide evidence that they have successfully met all six administrative standards in their fieldwork experiences. Each student completes field assignments and projects that apply learning to educational settings.

Prerequisite(s): admission to the Preliminary Administrative Services Credential Program and EDEL 587A

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDMS 100 - Explorations in Teaching

Unit(s): 2 This seminar is designed as a reflection space for students who are considering the teaching profession. They will observe and interact with children and teachers in elementary schools, as well as read about forces that shape teachers and issues they confront in our educational system. They will analyze what it means to be a teacher today in our elementary schools, facing the challenges of diversity, equity, and quality of education.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Liberal Studies BA students with a Hutchins School: Blended-Trk 3 Sub-Plan.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDMS 200 - Being a Teacher in Today's Schools

Unit(s): 2 This seminar continues the process of exploration, building on ED/LIBS 100, where students discussed what it means to be a teacher in our schools today. Here the focus is on the student in elementary education. From an educational perspective, students will consider what it means to be a student; what forces and circumstances shape their identity and their journey as students in elementary education. Students will elaborate their teaching philosophy throughout the semester, interweaving information from their own lives as students, from the readings, and from their field observations.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Liberal Studies BA students with a Hutchins School: Blended-Trk 3 Sub-Plan.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDMS 419 - Identity and Agency for Socially Just Classrooms and Communities

Unit(s): 3 Students examine ways in which culture, ethnicity, race, class, gender identity, language, physical/cognitive ability, religion, sexuality, and family structure intersect and impact students' identity and agency in classrooms and communities. Funds of knowledge, cultural bias, power, and perceptions provide lenses through which students examine social justice and equity. Students identify resources dedicated to these issues.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDMS 463 - Teaching Language and Literacy in the Elementary School Grades TK-2

Unit(s): 3-4 Philosophy, goals, and pedagogy for language and (bi)literacy development in Grades TK-2. Approaching language and (bi)literacy from the combined perspectives of theory, research, and practice, participants will study, apply, and develop instruction and assessment tools and strategies to build and support phonemic awareness, phonics skills, vocabulary knowledge, comprehension, and composition. Course content is aligned with California ELD/ELA Framework and state standards.

Prerequisite(s): Admission to a Preliminary credential program or permission of the program coordinator. Variable Credit.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDMS 464 - Teaching Language and Literacy in the Elementary School Grades 3-6

Unit(s): 4 Candidates develop, refine and extend their knowledge of language and literacy instruction for grades 3-6 based on theory, research, and practice. They take a comprehensive approach in supporting children's development of language, (bi) literacy skills, and academic language proficiency. Course content is aligned with California ELD/ELA Framework and state standards.

Prerequisite(s): Admission to Multiple Subject Credential Program.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDMS 465 - Introduction to Dual-Language Education: Policies, Methods, and Inquiry for Teachers

Unit(s): 3 This course is designed for current teachers and student teachers in dual-language/bilingual contexts in order to refine their practice as educators of dual-language students to: 1) Develop an understanding of the history of bilingual education in the United States; 2) Reinforce understandings of the background and models of bilingual/dual-language education; 3) Develop current research-based best practices for teaching dual-language learners in grades tk-12; 4) Introduce theories, issues, and methodologies related to multilingual language acquisition.

Prerequisite(s): Admission in a teaching credential program or MA program

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDMS 471 - Teaching Social Studies in the Elementary School

Unit(s): 4 Teacher candidates develop pedagogical content knowledge in social studies, exploring K-8 educational practices that promote civic responsibility and cultural understanding.

They gain experience with integrating literature, primary documents, secondary resources, technology, hands-on activities, and the arts into social studies curriculum using state/ national standards to inform curricular decisions.

Prerequisite(s): One successful semester in MS Program.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDMS 474 - Teaching Mathematics in the Elementary School

Unit(s): 3-4 Teacher candidates develop effective strategies and techniques for planning, teaching, assessing, and adapting TK-grade 6 mathematics instruction aligned with California's standards. They develop understandings of children's mathematical thinking, language and cognitive development, and diversity in order to teach all students effectively. Learner-centered pedagogy is modeled and analyzed throughout.

Prerequisite(s): Credential Program admission.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDMS 475 - Teaching Science and Visual and Performing Arts in the Elementary School

Unit(s): 3-4 Teacher candidates develop effective strategies and techniques for planning, teaching, assessing, and adapting instruction in all aspects of STEAM (science, technology, engineering, art, mathematics) based on the Next Generation Science Standards (NGSS) and visual and performing arts standards, as well as current research. Assessment in both content areas are explored.

Prerequisite(s): Credential Program admission.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDMS 476S - Multiple Subject Credential Phase 1 Seminar

Unit(s): 2 On-campus seminar. Components include lesson planning, peer observation, digital portfolio, physical education, and classroom management.

Prerequisite(s): Full Admission to the Multiple Subject Credential Program. All post-baccalaureate Multiple Subject candidates must take the course in their first semester in the program. Face-to-Face.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDMS 482F - Full-Time Student Teaching

Unit(s): 10 Fifteen week supervised student teaching (4.5 days per week) in a diverse elementary school setting. Candidates actively engage in planning, co-teaching, solo-teaching, and assessment in all subject areas, managing the school day for a 2-week take over and completing a state-approved Teacher Performance Assessment and program portfolio. Candidates collaborate with and are observed by mentor teacher, university supervisor and peers.

Prerequisite(s): EDMS 482P Co-requisite(s): EDMS 463 or EDMS 464

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

EDMS 482P - Part-Time Student Teaching

Unit(s): 3 Fifteen week supervised clinical practice (2 days per week) in a diverse elementary school setting. Candidates observe and participate in classroom routines, planning, co-teaching, solo teaching, and assessment in all subject areas in small and whole group setting. Candidates collaborate with and are observed by mentor teacher, university supervisor and peers, managing the school day for a 2-day take over and completing the program portfolio.

Prerequisite(s): Full admission to the Multiple Subject Teacher Credential Program including: Certificate of Clearance, negative TB, exams, and prerequisite courses.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

EDMS 482S - Student Teaching Seminar

Unit(s): 2 On-site student teaching seminar that covers all aspects of student teaching including the digital portfolio and becoming a reflective educator. Students meet with their supervisors every week on-site. Taken concurrently with EDMS 482F.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

EDRL 521A - Language Development in First and Second Languages

Unit(s): 3 Research and theory in oral and written language development in home and subsequent languages, and the relationship between literacy learning and teaching. Special attention is given to factors that promote concept development and confident, effective language use. Attention to the structure of the English language, including phonology, orthography, morphology, syntax, and semantics. Contributions from many fields, (e.g., psycholinguistics, sociolinguistics, anthropology, and developmental psychology) provide perspectives for analysis of language acquisition and learning, evaluation of current educational practice, and planning for effective classroom experiences. Transfer strategies from primary language reading skills into English language reading skills are presented based on the tenets of effective language acquisition.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDRL 522 - Assessment and Teaching in Reading and Language Arts

Unit(s): 3 Principles and procedures for literacy and content learning in English in classrooms with bilingual/bicultural students, as well as the design and selection of materials, methods, and contexts for literacy and content instruction at all ages. This course also focuses a variety of strategies for Specially Designed Academic Instruction in English (SDAIE) Field Studies. Applies to the concentration in Reading/Language.

Prerequisite(s): approval of the program.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDRL 524 - Literature and Literacy

Unit(s): 3 Study of children's and adolescents' literature, authors, and ways of using literature in the classroom.

Prerequisite(s): approval of the program.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDRL 527A - Clinical Field Experience in Reading and Language Arts

Unit(s): 3-6 Supervised practicum for Certificate candidates. In a Reading and Writing Workshop format, candidates work with K-12 students under the supervision of and in collaboration with clinical faculty and Reading and Language Arts Specialist Credential candidates. Certificate candidates are assigned to students based on the candidate's prior program coursework and professional background, in order to assure diversity of experience with readers and writers of varying ages and abilities. Certificate candidates conduct formal and informal assessments and plan instruction and intervention for students in the clinic. Based on assessment findings, candidates collaborate in the delivery of appropriate instruction and interventions that utilize learners' strengths in order to address their needs. Candidates participate in clinical conferences and write reports in which they summarize and critique assessment findings and the success of the instruction. Opportunities will be available for candidates to work with beginning readers, struggling readers at different levels, English language learners, and successful readers and writers.

EDSP 418 - Culturally Responsive Pedagogy- Special Educators

Unit(s): 3 Culturally and linguistically diverse students who qualify for special education services are a unique subset of learners who require instruction that accommodates both diversity and disability. This course will provide an overview of special education history and laws, educational policies related to historically underrepresented populations, overrepresentation of culturally diverse students in special education programs, culturally competent assessment and instruction, and the pedagogy of educating emergent bilinguals receiving special education services. This course will also provide students an opportunity to explore their own implicit/explicit bias, while learning about ablism and societal discrimination of individuals with disabilities

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face to Face & Hybrid Grading: Graded

EDSP 421 - Foundations of Special Education Pedagogy

Unit(s): 4 Study of theoretical orientations and instructional strategies to provide inclusive educational support for students with diverse learning needs including children with disabilities and English Language Learners. High leverage practices from special education and a variety of paradigms are developed into applied techniques of instruction through a series of readings, exercises, and assignments throughout the course

Prerequisite(s): Admission to the Education Specialist credential program or permission of the instructor.

Typically Offered Spring Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Hybrid Grading: Graded

EDSP 421B - Early Field Placement

Unit(s): 1 EDSP 421B is an Early Field Placement during which candidates spend approximately 60 hours observing and participating in three special education classrooms or placements. In conjunction with EDSP 421A and the introduction on specific topics, the candidate will observe the teacher and students in the observation classrooms/settings to understand how these topics are operationalized in special education settings. These observations will be discussed further during class and via online discussion forums. The guided exploration of the work of a special education teacher and the ecology of the classroom will enrich the candidate's understanding of the profession and help to build the foundational knowledge and skills needed to be an effective special education teacher.

Prerequisite(s): Admission to the Education Specialist credential program or permission of the instructor.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

EDSP 422 - Collaboration and Case Management in Special Education

Unit(s): 4 In this course, students will explore the communication and collaboration skills necessary for effective case management and transition planning for individuals with exceptional needs. Emphasis is placed on examining the skills and strategies for successful collaboration in the context of special education service delivery requirements and models. Additional emphasis is placed on developing a holistic understanding of the elements of successful collaboration, the importance of self-care in the teaching profession, the comprehensive case management system, as well as planning, implementing and evaluating transition services across the lifespan for all learners. A focused look at developing, monitoring and evaluating IFSP/IEP/ITP is provided. Class readings, course assignments and fieldwork activities are integrated within this class to establish the connection from theory to practice.

Prerequisite(s): Admission to preliminary education specialist credential program

Typically Offered Fall Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Hybrid Grading: Graded

EDSP 423 - Assessment of Students with Disabilities

Unit(s): 3 In EDSP 423, candidates explore the basic principles and strategies of assessment and the ways that assessment informs curricular and instructional decisions for individuals with diverse special education needs. Candidates learn to use a variety of formal and informal assessments, linking these with progress monitoring to analyze student performance and develop appropriate goals based on findings. Legal, ethical, and diversity issues related to assessment are explored. Eligibility criteria and characteristics of students with disabilities are also a focus of this course.

Prerequisite(s): Admission to Education Specialist Credential program or by permission of the instructor.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDSP 424 - Positive Behavior Supports for Students with Disabilities

Unit(s): 3 Functional assessment and analysis are used to develop positive behavior support plans for children with more significant behavior needs. The goal of this course is to help candidates learn to promote the social competence, self-management, and communication skills of students with special needs through behavior support.

Prerequisite(s): Admission to the Education Specialist Credential Program or by permission of the instructor.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDSP 425 - Developing Academic Performance-Mild/Moderate

Unit(s): 4 EDSP 425 is designed to provide candidates in the Education Specialist Mild to Moderate Disabilities Credential Program with a research-based perspective on developing academic performance for students with mild to moderate disabilities. The relationship among assessment, curriculum, and instruction is investigated through the examination and application of a variety of informal assessments, instructional strategies, and curricula within the context of access to the core curriculum and content standards. Curricular modifications and instructional strategies that support students with mild/moderate disabilities in inclusive settings are explored. Coursework follows a "theory into practice" format consisting of classroom simulations, visitations, guided activities, and student projects using field-based lessons.

Prerequisite(s): Admission to the Education Special Credential Program or permission of the instructor.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDSP 426 - Communication Development: Assessment and Instruction

Unit(s): 4 In this course, students are presented with an overview of typical and atypical communication development in special populations. Evaluation measures, evidence based practices and effective instructional strategies related to the implementation of special education services for students with communication disorders and their families are addressed. Foundational knowledge on intervention techniques, AAC, and second language development is provided. Additional emphasis is placed on the communication and collaboration skills useful in forming productive partnerships with families, school personnel and community service providers. Class readings and course assignments are integrated within this class to establish the connection from special education theory to practice culminating in the development of a communication report.

Prerequisite(s): Admission to the Education Special Credential Program or permission of the instructor.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDSP 428 - Education of Students with Moderate/Severe Disabilities

Unit(s): 4 EDSP 428 provides candidates in the Education Specialist Moderate to Severe Disabilities Credential Program with a research-based perspective on developing skills that are functionally tied to real world demands and that are required for successful inclusion in school, community, and workplace.

Prerequisite(s): admission to the Education Special Credential program or permission of the instructor.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDSP 429 - Supporting Students w/ Physical, Health, & Sensory Needs

Unit(s): 4 EDSP 429 provides candidates with the knowledge and skills to support the mobility, sensory, health, and education needs of students with extensive support needs. Course content includes considerations for medical and physical conditions that may affect educational outcomes. There is particular emphasis on collaborative approaches in developing individualized health care plans, optimizing access and learning, and supporting students in general education and specialized settings. EDSP 428 and EDSP 429 require a total of 150 hours of participation and observation in a setting supporting students with extensive support needs

Prerequisite(s): Admission to ESN education specialist credential

Typically Offered Fall Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Hybrid Grading: Graded

EDSP 430 - Introduction to Special Education

Unit(s): 3 Students with disabilities are members of school communities around the nation and must be educated to the extent possible with their peers. Special education theory, pedagogy, legislation, public policy, and advocacy related to the education and inclusion of students with special needs into the least restrictive environment are introduced. Eligibility categories in special education, characteristics of students with disabilities, and implications for teaching are discussed. Evidence-based practices, such as Universal Design for Learning, Multi-tiered systems of support, and assistive technology will be introduced. Thirty hours of required field experience. May be taught as hybrid. Students in credential programs only.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDSP 430B - Bridging General to Special Education Pedagogies

Unit(s): 1 This course is designed for credentialed multiple or single subject teachers pursuing an Educational Specialist Credential. High leverage and evidence-based practices from special education and a variety of paradigms are developed into applied techniques of instruction through a series of readings, exercises, and assignments throughout the course.

Prerequisite(s): general education credential

EDSP 432 - Young Children with Special Needs

Unit(s): 4 An introduction to theories, research, and practices related to providing appropriate services for young children with special needs (birth through 8). Topics include: early identification of exceptional needs; collaborative partnerships for inclusive education; the role of parents; strategies and resources for supporting the educational, social, behavioral, and/or medical needs of young children; and the requirements of special education laws.

Prerequisite(s): Junior or Senior standing.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

EDSP 433 - Teaching Adolescents with Special Education Needs

Unit(s): 3 Effective teaching practices for secondary-aged students with special needs and giftedness, with emphasis on academic and social needs, as well as teachers' responsibilities in the Individual Education Program (IEP) process. Candidates develop strategies for collaborating with families and other educators. Course includes field experiences and online activities.

Prerequisite(s): Concurrent enrollment in EDSS 458 or consent of the instructor.

Typically Offered Not Recently Offered

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDSP 460 - Teaching Event Seminar

Unit(s): 2 This seminar accompanying the student teaching experience (EDSP 465 or EDSP 467) is designed to support student teachers as they apply the skills and knowledge they've learned in coursework to the teaching of individuals with special needs. Through the seminar, they will also complete a teaching event demonstrating their competence as special educators as well as receive guidance and support aimed at a successful student teaching experience.

Prerequisite(s): Admission to the Education Specialist Mild/Moderate Disabilities Credential program Co-requisite(s): EDSP 465 or EDSP 467

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDSP 460B - Pre-Student Teaching in Special Education

Unit(s): 2 A pre-student teaching placement in which candidates spend approximately 90 hours over the course of 15 weeks observing and participating with a qualified mentor teacher where student teaching will be conducted. The guided exploration of the work of a highly qualified special education teacher and the ecology of the classroom enriches the candidate's understanding of the profession and enhances knowledge and skills needed to be an effective special education teacher. Twenty hours of videos of model classrooms (general education and other service models) may be used to supplement instructional hours. Candidates will complete Cycle I of the TPA while taking this course.

Co-requisite(s): EDSP 460

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

EDSP 462 - Student Teaching Support

Unit(s): 2 Seminar accompanying culminating clinical fieldwork (internship or student teaching) designed to support and coach candidates with previous general education credentials as they apply the skills and knowledge they've learned in coursework to the teaching of individuals with disabilities.

Co-requisite(s): EDSP 465

Typically Offered Fall & Spring
May Be Repeated No
Teaching Mode: Hybrid Grading: Graded

EDSP 465 - Practicum: Mild/Moderate Disabilities

Unit(s): 11 EDSP 465 represents the student teaching component of the Mild/Moderate Disabilities credential program. Credential candidates student teach for 12 or more weeks under the guidance and supervision of a master teacher in the schools as well as a University supervisor from SSU.

Prerequisite(s): Admission to the Education Specialist Mild/Moderate Disabilities Credential Program, completion of requirements described in handbook. Co-requisite(s): EDSP 460.

Typically Offered Spring Only
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

EDSP 466 - Practicum in Second Credential Area

Unit(s): 2 To fulfill CTC requirements of clinical fieldwork and supervision, candidates pursuing a second education specialist credential participate in 12 weeks of full-time, supervised student teaching. University supervisors observe, support, and coach candidates in their classrooms

Prerequisite(s): Admitted to CRED2
Typically Offered Fall & Spring
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

EDSP 480B - PIP/STP Supervision

Unit(s): 4 Intern and emergency permitted teachers are required by CTC to be supervised in their places of employment. The university supervisor will visit the classroom at least twice, with an additional video or virtual visit to observe and coach the intern.

Prerequisite(s): Employment as teacher under emergency permit Co-requisite(s): EDSP 481

Typically Offered Fall & Spring
May Be Repeated Yes How many times? 3 Maximum units for credit
12

EDSP 481 - Internship Practicum/Seminar

Unit(s): 4 Seminar and practicum connecting the California Standards for the Teaching Profession with university coursework and the candidate's special education teaching experience. Seminar involves learning from and supporting other teachers by sharing individual teaching experiences. Practicum provides support and guidance to candidates in their classrooms from university faculty who conference with teachers about their needs, observe and provide feedback on classroom practices.

Prerequisite(s): Restricted to students accepted to Education Specialist Preliminary Credential program.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated Yes

Teaching Mode: Hybrid Grading: Graded

EDSP 481B - Intern Supervision

Unit(s): 4 Intern and emergency permitted teachers are required by CTC to be supervised in their places of employment. The university supervisor will visit the classroom at least twice, with an additional video or virtual visit to observe and coach the intern.

Co-requisite(s): EDSP 481 OR 460 OR 461 Crosslisted: 480B

EDSP 502 - Advanced Pedagogy in SPED

Unit(s): 3 Candidates will deepen their understanding of pedagogies most effectively and equitably used to support the learning and behavioral needs of children with disabilities as well as children with disabilities who are also English language learners. Multiple assessment measures, including progress monitoring tools, will be linked to instructional planning to differentiate lessons according to student needs within the context of grade level standards and curriculum frameworks.

Typically Offered Spring Even Years

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDSP 513 - Current and Emerging Research and Practice in Special Education

Unit(s): 3 EDSP 513 is part of the Level II Education Specialist Credential Program. The course will critically examine emerging research on varied issues impacting special educational policy and practice. The value of empiricism as a philosophy, and data-based teaching practices will be explored. The issues surrounding quantitative and qualitative measurement along with varied conceptualizations of validity, reliability, and accountable practice will be explored via assigned readings and individual projects. These projects will require students to assess the research-based merits of selected special educational practices. Candidates will be required to triangulate various quantitative and qualitative measures of educational and policy effectiveness in order to render empirically informed conclusions about differential effects of various practices in the field of special education.

Prerequisite(s): admission into the Professional Level II Education Specialist Credential Program.

Typically Offered Fall Odd Years

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDSP 515 - Advanced Legal Issues in Special Education

Unit(s): 3 EDSP 515 is part of the Professional Level II Education Specialist Credential Program. Advanced legal issues faced by teachers, administrators, and parents in special education are addressed. Topics include entitlement to services, procedural due process, complaint resolution, least-restrictive environment, provision of related services, parent participation, shared decision-making, and other related legal issues. Candidates review federal legislation, case law, and statutory requirements within the context of understanding the legal framework underlying special education and providing services, which are legally, as well as programmatically, sound.

Prerequisite(s): admission into the Professional Level II Education Specialist Credential Program as well as EDUC-MA students.

Typically Offered Spring Odd Years

EDSP 522A - Family Partnerships in Early Childhood Special Education

Unit(s): 3 Build collaborative partnerships with the families of young children with disabilities. Develop the knowledge and skills to engage in culturally competent practices and be responsive to the needs, priorities and concerns of families. Collaborate with families to implement routines based interventions. Emphasis on family systems theory and family centered practice.

Prerequisite(s): Admission to Early Childhood Special Education Added Authorization (ECSE-AA) program OR MA program Co-requisite(s): Concurrent enrollment in EDSP 522B for students in ECSE-AA.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face & Hybrid Grading: Graded

EDSP 522B - Early Intervention Program Fieldwork

Unit(s): 1 Students will participate in an early intervention program for infants and toddlers. Practicum activities are linked to instruction and assignments in EDSP 522a: Family Partnerships in Early Childhood Special Education. Students are required to observe, implement assessments, design and deliver instruction, work closely with families and early childhood professionals and engage in reflection. Not for MA credit.

Prerequisite(s): Admission to ECSE-AA certificate Co-requisite(s): Concurrent enrollment in EDSP 522A.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face & Hybrid Grading: Credit/No-Credit

EDSP 523A - Assessment and Instruction in Early Childhood Special Education

Unit(s): 1 Overview of assessment and instructional practices utilized in early childhood special education. Conduct developmentally appropriate assessments. Acquire a repertoire of developmentally appropriate instructional strategies, assistive technologies, and other supports for young children in natural and inclusive environments. Design and implement interventions that address specific learning needs, are developmentally, culturally, and individually appropriate and reflect family concerns and priorities.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face & Hybrid Grading: Graded

EDSP 523B - Preschool Students with Disabilities Program Fieldwork

Unit(s): 1 Students will observe and work with preschool aged (ages 3-5) students with a disability in an early childhood classroom. Practicum activities are linked to instruction and assignments in EDSP 523a: Assessment and Instruction in Early Childhood Special Education. Students are required to observe, implement assessments, design and deliver instruction, work closely with families and early childhood professionals and engage in reflection.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face & Hybrid Grading: Credit/No-Credit

EDSP 590 - Critical Issues in Special Education

Unit(s): 3 Education 590 examines advanced issues surrounding current and critical issues in special education. Students will engage in self-directed inquiry exploring emerging theories and research in the field of special education. Further, the course will focus on the importance of understanding and respecting differing perspectives and positions related to special education theory and research.

Prerequisite(s): admissions to the Professional Level II program, M.A. program, or consent of the instructor.

Typically Offered Fall Even Years

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDSP 595 - Special Studies

Unit(s): 1-4 Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated Course may be repeated for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDSS 410 - Fieldwork and Seminar in Science Teaching and Learning

Unit(s): 3 45 hours of observation in middle/high school science classrooms, plus a weekly seminar. Students begin to view school science from the vantage point of a teacher. Intended primarily for students completing the Foundational Level General Science subject matter preparation program or considering a career in science teaching.

Typically Offered Fall Only

EDSS 418 - Development in Adolescence and Emerging Adulthood

Unit(s): 3 An analysis of adolescent development and contemporary adolescent experiences as it addresses the central question of how adolescents differ from adults and children in terms of development. Examination of specific dimensions of adolescent development include physical, cognitive, psychological, social, sexual, moral, and spiritual. Course content is appropriate for those planning to pursue careers in psychology, counseling, social work, and education.

Prerequisite(s): Restricted to: juniors, seniors CRED, CREDC, CREDP, CRED2, plan of EDUC-MA and to credential student group (RUCR).

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDSS 442 - Equity and Agency in Teaching and Learning

Unit(s): 3 Course explores theory, research and pedagogy related to teaching and learning in heterogeneous, secondary classroom settings. Concerns and experiences common to all teachers are addressed. The course focuses on issues of social justice and ways to implement equitable practices within teaching and the institution of education as a whole.

Prerequisite(s): admission to the Single Subject Credential Program, EDUC 417 and EDSS 418

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDSS 443A - Creating Effective Learning Communities: Field Settings

Unit(s): 4 Focused and systematic observation and structured participation, including co-teaching and limited solo teaching, in heterogeneous, secondary classroom settings leading to a supervised student teaching experience.

Prerequisite(s): admission to the Single Subject Credential Program, EDUC 417, EDSS 418. Must be taken concurrently with EDSS 443B.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

EDSS 443B - Creating Effective Learning Communities: Seminar

Unit(s): 3 Emphasizes positive approaches to discipline consistent with restorative justice and trauma-sensitive approaches. Guides students' observations with emphasis on classroom management and provides continuity between the Single Subject program and observation placements. Prepares students for successful student teaching via classroom management plans.

Prerequisite(s): EDUC 417, EDSS 418 Co-requisite(s): EDSS 443A

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDSS 444 - Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment

Unit(s): 1-4 Students learn to organize curriculum, plan instruction and engage in formative assessment using appropriate content and language/literacy standards. Practices that support diverse learners in secondary classrooms are experienced, analyzed and approximated.

Prerequisite(s): EDUC 417, EDSS 418, admission to the Single Subject Credential Program.

Typically Offered Fall Only

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDSS 446 - Language and Literacy Development in Secondary Classrooms

Unit(s): 4 Principles, methods, and materials for guiding disciplinary and digital literacy in secondary classroom settings. Includes development theory and current issues in reading/language pedagogy for first and second language learners.

Prerequisite(s): admission to the Single Subject or Education Specialist Credential Program, EDUC 417, EDSS 418, or permission of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDSS 458 - Student Teaching in Multicultural Settings

Unit(s): 12 A supervised teaching experience in a multicultural middle, junior high, or senior high school setting under the guidance of a resident teacher and a University supervisor. Assignment consists of three teaching periods and two preparation periods daily. Two periods entail full student teaching responsibility as outlined in the Single Subject Handbook. The third period consists of assisting the resident teacher and/or limited teaching responsibilities in a supplemental authorization subject area. Student teachers may team teach in some or all of the classes.

Prerequisite(s): successful completion of all Phase I courses and successful presentation of a program portfolio. Co-requisite(s): EDSS 459

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

EDSS 459 - Seminar for Secondary Student Teachers

Unit(s): 4 This seminar supports student teacher candidates during their student teaching semester. The course provides opportunities for candidates to exhibit and examine their teaching competence in regard to classroom management, curricular planning, instructional strategies for diverse learners, assessment, and professional development. Candidates assemble a teaching portfolio. In addition, the weekly seminar prepares candidates for the PACT Teaching Event, a summative performance assessment of the candidate's demonstrated ability to plan, implement, and assess a significant segment of teaching. Successful completion of the Teaching Event will be required to earn a California Preliminary Single Subject Credential.

Prerequisite(s): successful completion of all Phase I courses. Co-requisite(s): EDSS 458

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDSS 495 - Special Studies

EDTE 540 - Theories and Research in Second Language Acquisition

Unit(s): 3 This course provides an overview and critical examination of the theories and research in second language acquisition (SLA) and explores relationships between this work and second language teaching and learning. Major theories examined will include those from cognitive, psycholinguistic, sociolinguistic, and sociocultural perspectives.

Prerequisite(s): admission to the SOE M.A. Program.

Typically Offered Not Recently Offered

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDTE 541 - Advanced Pedagogical Grammar

Unit(s): 3 In this course you will gain an understanding of the grammar of English and how to use this understanding in teaching English as a second or foreign language. We will explore a variety of current perspectives and approaches to describing and teaching grammar.

Prerequisite(s): admission to SOE M.A. Program

Typically Offered Not Recently Offered

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EDTE 542 - Teaching Multilingual Writers

Unit(s): 3 This course investigates the theory and practice of learning to write in a second language from an applied linguistics perspective. Topics will include the theoretical developments in L1 and L2 composition, current research issues, and pedagogical concerns, among others.

Prerequisite(s): Admission to the SOE M.A. Program, EDTE 544.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EE 110 - Introduction to Engineering and Laboratory Experience

Unit(s): 1 Laboratory: 3 hours

This course is designed to introduce principles of engineering to the students and expose them to the electronics and computer lab environment. The students are given opportunity to design and build some simple analog and digital circuits and make measurements using various types of lab equipment.

Prerequisite(s): Must be eligible to enroll in MATH 45 or MATH 161. Instructor's consent

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

EE 112 - Fundamentals of Digital Logic Design

Unit(s): 1 Laboratory: 3 hours

Review of set theory and binary system, digital logic, Venn diagram, logic gates, minimization techniques, combinatorial logic and design of simple combinatorial logic circuits such as 1-bit adder; concept of coders, decoders, and integrated circuits

Prerequisite(s): EE 110 and Must be eligible to enroll in MATH 45 or MATH 161. Instructor's consent

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EE 210 - Digital Circuits and Logic Design

Unit(s): 4 Students learn how to analyze and evaluate scientific, inductive and deductive reasoning, through digital logic and its application to logic gates and digital electronic circuits. Laboratory work includes designing, building and testing of digital circuits and designs. Project assignments require students present their own design and the final product in public, making persuasive presentations with efficient verbal and non-verbal skills, and listening to peer's critiques for improvement.

Prerequisite(s): EE 112 with a C or better. Co-requisite(s): EE 230, EE 231, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Spring Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EE 220 - Electric Circuits

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

Review of Kirchhoff's laws, circuit design, node and mesh analysis, etc.; Thevenin's theorem, Norton's theorem, steady state and transient analysis, transfer function. AC power and three-phase circuits, Y-Delta equivalents. Multi-port networks, two-port networks with energy storage, ideal transformers. Amplifiers and frequency response, filters.

Prerequisite(s): EE 110 with a C or better, CS 115 and MATH 211 with a C- or better Co-requisite(s): EE 221 and PHYS 214; or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EE 221 - Electric Circuits Laboratory

Unit(s): 1 Laboratory: 3 hours

Laboratory work on material treated in EE 220 emphasizing elementary design principles.

Prerequisite(s): EE 110 with a C or better, CS 115 and MATH 211 with a C- or better Co-requisite(s): EE 220 and PHYS 214; or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EE 230 - Electronics I

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

Theory, characteristics, and operation of diodes, bipolar junction transistors, and MOSFET transistors; analog and digital electronic circuits; design and analysis of analog electronic circuits such as filters, operational amplifiers, and single and multistage amplifiers; modeling and simulation using spice/multisim software.

Prerequisite(s): EE 220 and EE 221 with a C or better, MATH 211 and PHYS 214 Co-requisite(s): EE 231

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EE 231 - Electronics I Laboratory

Unit(s): 1 Laboratory: 3 hours

Laboratory work to accompany EE 230. Computer-assisted design of electronic circuits involving devices such as diodes and transistors. Design, building, and testing of electronic circuits such as filters, oscillator, amplifiers, etc.

Prerequisite(s): EE 220 and EE 221 with a C or better, MATH 211 and PHYS 214 Co-requisite(s): EE 230

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EE 282 - Fundamentals of Engineering Modeling and Simulation Laboratory

Unit(s): 1 Fundamentals of Engineering Modeling and Simulation Laboratory (1 Unit). Laboratory: 3 hours. This laboratory course is designed to introduce engineering students to high-level programming and simulation environments in which they can model, measure, analyze, and visualize data.

Prerequisite(s): CS 115

Typically Offered Fall Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EE 310 - Microprocessors and System Design

Unit(s): 3 Hardware architecture of a general-purpose microprocessor and a micro-controller , memory hierarchy and supporting peripherals in micro controllers, comparison of various micro-controller architectures and capabilities, embedded system design using a micro-controller data transfer protocols supported by a micro-controller , process of code writing, compiling, and executing programs using an IDE and a simulator.

Prerequisite(s): ES 210, and EE 112 with a C or better. Co-requisite(s): EE 310L or consent of instructor

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EE 310L - Microprocessors & System Design Lab

Unit(s): 1 Laboratory work includes building and programming a microcontroller-based system and interfacing it to various external peripherals

Prerequisite(s): ES 210 and EE 112 with a C or better. Co-requisite(s): EE 310 or consent of instructor

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EE 314 - Advanced Programming, Modeling, and Simulation

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 4 hours

Pointers and dynamic allocation of storage, linked lists, an introduction to the object oriented programming (OOP) paradigm, classes and objects, encapsulation, member variables and member functions. Static arrays, dynamic arrays, stacks and queues, linked lists, trees, binary search trees, balanced trees (AVL, red-black, B-trees), heaps, hashing, and graphs. System modeling techniques and applications such as generation of noise (random numbers) and correlated signal with different pdfs, measurement of statistical parameters like moments, queuing systems, and system simulation.

Prerequisite(s): CS 115 with a C- or better and EE 220 with a C or better, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

EE 330 - Electronics II

Unit(s): 2 Lecture: 1 hour, Laboratory: 3 hours

Output stage design of the amplifiers, non-linear op-amp circuits, differential amplifiers, common mode and differential mode circuit analysis, half-circuit analysis, study of current mirrors and active load design, analysis of two stage active load CMOS op-amp, high frequency models of BJT and MOSFET, analysis of low and high frequency responses of amplifiers, open circuit time constant (OTC) and short circuit time constant (STC), study of tuned amplifier.

Prerequisite(s): EE 230 with a C or better and MATH 241 with a C- or better or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EE 333 - Control Systems

Unit(s): 3 An introduction to the field of control system engineering. Topics include open and closed-loop systems; mathematical modeling of electrical and mechanical systems; linearization; stability; block diagram reduction; signal flow graphs; transient analysis; stability analysis; root locus analysis; frequency analysis; and an introduction to compensator design.

Prerequisite(s): EE 220, EE 221, EE 282

Typically Offered Spring Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EE 334 - Microelectronic Circuits

Unit(s): 3 Integrated Circuit (IC) design philosophy, biasing IC amplifiers, current mirrors, current sources, gain cells, and cascode amplifiers. Differential and multistage IC amplifiers. Amplifier frequency response and frequency response analysis. Feedback and stability. Power amplifier classes, bipolar and CMOS realizations of IC power amplifiers. CMOS and bipolar operational amplifier design.

Prerequisite(s): EE 230, EE 231, MATH 241 or consent of instructor. Co-requisite(s): EE 334L

Typically Offered Fall Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EE 334L - Microelectronic Circuits Laboratory

Unit(s): 1 Laboratory work to accompany EE 334. Computer aided design of integrated circuit (IC) amplifiers. Design, building, and testing of current mirrors, current sources, gain cells, and cascode amplifiers. Design, building, and testing of differential and multistage IC amplifiers.

Prerequisite(s): EE 230, EE 231, MATH 241 or consent of instructor. Co-requisite(s): EE 334

Typically Offered Fall Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EE 345 - Probability and Statistics for Engineers

Unit(s): 3 Probability and its axioms, conditional probability, sequential experiments, independence, counting, discrete, continuous and mixed random variables and distributions, functions of random variables, expectations, multiple random variables and joint distributions, central limit theorem, weak law of large numbers, estimation of random variables, random processes and their characterization.

Prerequisite(s): MATH 261 with a C- or better, or consent of instructor. Completion of GE

Golden Four (A1, A2, A3, B4) with a C- or better and completion of B1, B2 and at least 45 units.

GE Category: Upper Division B

Typically Offered Fall Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EE 381 - Introduction to Instrumentation and Automation Laboratory

Unit(s): 1 Introduction to Instrumentation and Automation Laboratory (1 unit). Laboratory: 3 hours. In this laboratory based course students are introduced to computerized data acquisition systems and interfacing methods to laboratory instruments. Topics include building virtual instruments, understanding data acquisition methods, learning about communication busses, utilizing feedback control systems in automated testing, and performing signal processing and analysis.

Prerequisite(s): EE 330, CS 115 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Spring Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EE 400 - Linear Systems Theory

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

Analysis of linear time-invariant systems, correlation, convolution, impulse response, complex variables, Fourier series and transform, sampling, filtering, modulation, stability and causality, feedback and control systems, Laplace and Z-transform, and fast Fourier transforms

Prerequisite(s): MATH 241 and MATH 211 with a C- or better, or consent of instructor.

Crosslisted: MATH 430 and ECE 400

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EE 430 - Electromagnetic Theory and Applications

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

Electrostatics, magnetostatics, electric currents, electromagnetic induction, electric and magnetic fields in matter, Maxwell's equations, retarded potentials radiation reaction, light emission, simple scattering and antenna theory, properties of waveguides, relativistic formulation of electrodynamics, Fourier decomposition of fields.

Prerequisite(s): PHYS 214, MATH 241 and MATH 261 with a C- or better. Crosslisted: PHYS 430

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EE 432 - Physical Electronics

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

Semiconductor materials, crystal structure and growth; energy bands and charge carriers, conductivity, and mobility; metal-semiconductor and p-n junctions; p-n junction diodes, bipolar junction transistors, field-effect transistors, CCD's, photonic devices, and integrated circuits. Projects in photolithography; conductivity and contact resistance measurements; I-V and C-V characteristics of diodes and characterization of transistors may be assigned.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Electrical Engineering and MS-CES majors only, or consent of instructor. Crosslisted: PHYS 475 and ECE 432

Typically Offered Not Recently Offered

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EE 440 - Analog and Digital Communications I

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 2 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

Mathematical modeling of signals, time and frequency domain concepts, spectral density, components of a communications system, and analog signal transmission. AM, FM, and PM modulation and demodulation techniques; noise and bandwidth; link analysis. Laboratory work.

Prerequisite(s): EE 230 with a C or better and restricted to Electrical Engineering and MS-CES majors only.

Typically Offered Not Recently Offered

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EE 441 - Analog and Digital Communications II

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 2 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

Digital signals and their transmission, PCM, log-PCM, ADPCM and DM, and other low bit rate coders. Digital data transmission, data encoding, clock recovery and BER, data modulation techniques, ASK, FSK, PSK, and QAM. Link budgets for satellite, cellular, and cable systems; the effects of noise and bandwidth. Laboratory work.

Prerequisite(s): EE 230 and EE 440 with a C or better.

Typically Offered Not Recently Offered

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EE 442 - Analog and Digital Communications

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

Mathematical modeling of signals, time and frequency domain concepts, spectral density, components of a communications system, and analog signal transmission. Analog modulation and demodulation techniques, FDM, noise and bandwidth; Digital signals and their transmission, PCM and low bit rate coders, TDM, data encoding for efficient baseband digital transmission, digital data modulation and demodulation, bit errors.

Prerequisite(s): EE 230 and EE 400 with a C or better. Co-requisite(s): EE 442L.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EE 442L - Analog and Digital Communications Lab

Unit(s): 1 Laboratory work covers various analog and digital communication elements, and modulation, and demodulation techniques.

Prerequisite(s): EE 230 and EE 400 with a C or better; or consent of instructor. Co-requisite(s): EE 442 or consent of instructor

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EE 443 - Introduction Optical Fiber Communications

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

Principles of light wave propagation, and propagation in an optical fiber, fiber characteristics, O/E and E/O conversions, coupling, WDM, modulation techniques for efficient information transmission, and system design.

Prerequisite(s): EE 430 with a C or better, or consent of instructor. Co-requisite(s): EE 442 or consent of the instructor.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EE 444 - Introduction to RF Communications

Unit(s): 3 Principles of transmission line theory, scattering matrix methods, impedance matching, waveguides, microstrip, coplanar lines, couplers, detectors, antennas, RF filters, RF amplifiers, passive RF/ microwave devices (mixers, diplexers, etc.), RF/microwave communications link design, system noise and distortion, common wireless protocols.

Prerequisite(s): (EE 442 and EE 442L with a C or better) or EE 430 with a C or better, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EE 444L - RF Circuit Design Laboratory

Unit(s): 1 RF Circuit Design Laboratory (1 Unit). Laboratory: 3 hours. This laboratory course is designed to introduce engineering students to basics of RF circuit design and Wireless Communications. Topics include utilization of Spectrum and Vector Network Analyzers, characterization of RF circuit components such as power amplifier, filters, mixers, frequency synthesizers, and antennas, as well as performance measurement of end-to-end RF transceivers.

Prerequisite(s): EE 442 and EE 442L or EE 430 or consent of instructor. Co-requisite(s): EE 444

Typically Offered Spring Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EE 445 - Photonics

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

Gaussian beams; guided-wave optics; fiber optics; optical resonators; resonant cavities; laser oscillation and amplification; laser excitation; optical pumping; solid state, gas, dye, chemical, excimer, and free electron lasers; semiconductor lasers; laser spectroscopy; fiber optic communication; photomultiplier and semiconductor radiation detectors including photoconductors and junction photodiodes; p-i-n diodes and avalanche photodiodes; detector noise.

Prerequisite(s): EE 430 or EE 330 with a C or better. Crosslisted: PHYS 445 and ECE 430

Typically Offered Not Recently Offered

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EE 465 - Introduction to Networking and Network Management

Unit(s): 2 This course offers a working knowledge of IP addressing, TCP and UDP, the ISO reference model, MAC and Ethernet, LAN, MAN, WAN, routing protocols, application protocols, including, client-server model, web protocols, file transfer protocol, and email, and network elements such as repeaters, bridges, routers, and switches.

Prerequisite(s): EE 442 & EE 442L with a C or better, or consent of instructor Crosslisted: ECE 440

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EE 465L - Intro. to Networking and Network Management Lab

Unit(s): 1 This laboratory emphasizes on network concepts and protocols through configuring a network using networking elements and PCs, observing the actual behavior of the overall network, and analyzing and evaluating the results

Prerequisite(s): EE 442 and EE 442L with a C or better; Co-requisite(s): EE 465 Crosslisted: ECE 440

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EE 470 - Introduction to Internet-of-Things

Unit(s): 3 Lecture, 3 hours. This course introduces the design principles, components, infrastructure-related architectures, and networking protocols used to develop the Internet-of-Things (IoT). The course also introduces a wide range of IoT applications and provides hands-on experiences via a series of projects.

Prerequisite(s): EE 310, EE 330, EE 465 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EE 473 - Introduction to Robotics and Computer Vision

Unit(s): 3 Principles of robotics and computer vision, rigid motions and homogeneous transformations, forward and inverse kinematics, velocity kinematics, path and trajectory planning, sensors and actuators, closed-loop control, computer vision, and vision-based control.

Prerequisite(s): EE 314 or CS 215, MATH 241, EE 310 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Spring Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EE 480 - Artificial Intelligence

Unit(s): 3 A survey of techniques that simulate human intelligence. Topics may include: pattern recognition, general problem solving, adversarial game-tree search, decision-making, expert systems, neural networks, fuzzy logic, and genetic algorithms.

Prerequisite(s): EE 314 with a C or better, and restricted to EE and MS-CES majors only.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EE 485 - Selected Topics in Engineering Science

Unit(s): 1-3 A course on a single topic or set of related topics not ordinarily covered in the Engineering Science curriculum.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated The course may be repeated for credit as topics vary.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EE 486 - Selected Laboratory Topics in Electrical Engineering

Unit(s): 1 Laboratory: 3 hours

A laboratory-based course on a single or set of related topics not ordinarily covered in the engineering science curriculum. Topics include Lab- VIEW, FPGA, and RF Instruments.

Prerequisite(s): Class open to Juniors and Seniors only

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated The course may be repeated for credit as topics vary.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EE 492 - Senior Design Project Planning

Unit(s): 1 Senior Design Project Planning calls on the professional skills of the discipline; it draws on the core disciplines of the students' major field of study, as well as exploring necessary topics such as scheduling, organization, budgeting, prototyping, develop teamwork, customer liaison skills, employ creativity in proposing new solutions, and so forth. Hence, by the end of the capstone process students are expected to have a good understanding about various design phases, including analysis phase, a design phase, a validation phase and a production phase.

Prerequisite(s): EE 310 and EE 330 with a C or better, and Senior standing, or consent of the instructor.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EE 493 - Senior Design Project

Unit(s): 3 This is a capstone course. A major project designed to bring the knowledge gained from various courses together to analyze, design, and implement an electronic and/or communications system in an efficient and economic manner.

Prerequisite(s): Completion of GE Golden Four (A1, A2, A3, B4) with a C- or better and completion of lower division C coursework and at least 45 units.

GE Category: Upper Division C

Typically Offered Spring Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

EE 497 - Engineering Science Colloquium

Unit(s): 1 Lecture: 1 hour

Series of lectures on topics of interest in the relevant fields of engineering. A maximum of 1 unit can be applied to the ES major. The students may not miss more than two presentations. A brief summary of each presentation must be submitted after the presentation. The course grade is decided on evaluation of these reports.

Prerequisite(s): Class open to Seniors only

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

EE 498 - Engineering Practicum

Unit(s): 1-4 Under the faculty instructor's supervision, engineering juniors and seniors take this service learning training to further their practical engineering experience. A specific assignment is given by the instructor to each student for assisting the class to learn either in class or labs. Regular meetings with the instructor necessary keep track of progress of the assignment and evaluate the student's learning.

Prerequisite(s): Class open to Juniors or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

ECE 430 - Photonics

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

Lasers, diode lasers and LED's, fiber optics, and optical radiation detectors.

Prerequisite(s): a course in modern Physics (such as PHYS 314) and electromagnetism (such as PHYS 430). Crosslisted: PHYS 445 and ES 445

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ECE 432 - Physics of Semiconductor Devices

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

Semiconductor materials, crystal structure and growth, energy bands and charge carriers, conductivity and mobility, metal semiconductor and p-n junctions, p-n junction diodes, bipolar junction transistors, field effect transistors, CCD's, and photonic devices and integrated circuits. Projects in photolithography, conductivity and contact resistance measurements, I-V and C-V characteristics of diodes, characterization of transistors may be assigned.

Prerequisite(s): ES 230 or PHYS 314 or consent of instructor. Crosslisted: PHYS 475 and ES 432

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ECE 440 - Introduction to Networking and Network Management

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 2 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

The ISO reference model, theoretical basis for data communications, data transmission theory and practice, telephone systems, protocols, networks, internetworks, with examples.

Prerequisite(s): ES 440 or consent of instructor. Crosslisted: ES 465

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ECE 490 - Selected Topics in CES

Unit(s): 1-3 Special topics to introduce new emerging fields, provide foundation for advanced graduate level courses, or augment other courses in computer and engineering science.

Prerequisite(s): consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ECE 494 - Directed Readings

Unit(s): 1-3 Independent study under a faculty member. The proposal must be approved by the graduate advisor if the course is to apply towards degree requirements.

Prerequisite(s): consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ECE 500 - Queuing and Transform Theory

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

Review of probability theory, fundamentals of transform theory, Fourier and Z-transforms. Markovian and discrete time queuing systems, single and multi server queuing networks, and their applications. The course may require significant lab and/or project activity.

Prerequisite(s): ES 314 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ECE 506 - Operations Management

Unit(s): 3 Production/operations management of manufacturing and service operations. Topics include forecasting and scheduling, material requirements planning, and quality assurance. Additional tools include inventory control, project management, and product development. Modern techniques such as Supply Chain Management, e-business, Just-in-Time, and Total Quality Management are illuminated.

Crosslisted: BUS 516

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ECE 510 - Intelligent Systems Design

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

Introduction to adaptive systems: neural networks, genetic algorithms (GAs), fuzzy logic, simulated annealing, tabu search, etc. Specific topics include perceptions, backpropagation, Hopfield nets, neural network theory, simple GAs, parallel GAs, cellular GAs, schema theory, mathematical models of simple GAs, and using GAs to evolve neural networks.

Prerequisite(s): ECE 400 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ECE 512 - Theory of Software Systems

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

Review of data structures and basic algorithms for sorting, searching, and string processing. Basics of logic, formal systems, grammars, and automata. Applications to some of the following areas: design of language processing tools (editor, translator etc.), software specification, testing and verification, and non-numerical problem solving. The course may require significant lab and/or project activity.

Prerequisite(s): consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ECE 514 - Data Mining

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

Introduction to data models, data warehousing, association-rule mining, searching the Web, and Web Mining: Clustering. AI techniques (neural networks, decision trees), applications, and case studies. The course may require significant lab and/or project activity.

Prerequisite(s): consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ECE 516 - High-Performance Computing

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

Algorithmic tools and techniques for problems hard to solve on a standard uniprocessor model such as problems involving large data sets or real-time constraints; development of computational models to analyze the requirements and solutions and special hardware based solutions; case studies to illustrate the developed models, tools, and techniques. The course may require significant lab and/or project activity.

Prerequisite(s): consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ECE 520 - Embedded Systems

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

Three major topics covered in this course are: controlling specialized I/O devices with particular attention to bit patterns and priority interrupts; waveshapes and measurement tools, both hardware and software; and real time operating systems.

Prerequisite(s): consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ECE 522 - VLSI Design

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

IC technology review, hardware description languages and describing hardware using one of the languages, modern VLSI design flow, circuit partitioning, clustering. Floor planning, placement, global routing, area efficient design, area-time trade-offs. The course may require significant lab and/or project activity.

Prerequisite(s): ECE 530 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ECE 524 - Advanced Computer Architecture

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

Concept of advanced computing architectures, pipelining, multiprocessing, and multiprogramming. Single- and multi-stage interconnection networks, applications/algorithms for parallel computers, local and system bus architectures, CPU and computer system performance analysis. The course may require significant lab and/or project activity.

Prerequisite(s): consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ECE 530 - Analog and Digital Microelectronics

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

Introduction to analog/digital integrated circuits, bipolar and MOS transistor models, analysis and design of monolithic operational amplifiers, frequency response, non-linear circuits and CMOS, and Bipolar Logic Circuits. The course requires lab and/or project activity.

Prerequisite(s): ECE 432 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ECE 532 - Advanced Photonics Devices

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

Optical resonators, interaction of photons with materials, LEDs, laser diodes, optical amplifiers, optical noise, photoconductors, electrooptic modulators, photonic switches, nonlinear optical materials and devices. The course requires lab and/or project activity.

Prerequisite(s): ECE 430 or equivalent.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ECE 540 - Digital Data Transmission

Unit(s): 3 Characteristics of base-band and bandpass channels, optimum signaling sets, and receivers for digital communications; effect of noise and intersymbol interference on probability of error; channel capacity; introduction to phase-locked loop analysis for timing and carrier synchronization.

Prerequisite(s): ECE 400 and ECE 430 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ECE 542 - Digital Signal Processing

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

Time/frequency analysis of discrete-time signals and systems. Fast implementations of the DFT and its relatives. IIR and FIR digital filter design, implementation, and quantization error analysis.

Decimation, interpolation, and multirate processing.

Prerequisite(s): ECE 400 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ECE 543 - Optical Fiber Communications

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

Lightwave fundamentals, optical fiber as transmission media, losses and bandwidth, fiber cables. Optical sources, detectors. Optical components such as switches, access couplers, wavelength multiplexers and demultiplexers. Analog and digital transmission techniques, line coding techniques, optic heterodyne receivers, thermal and shot noise, bit error rates, optical transmission system design. Optical T-carrier systems and SONET, future directions. The course may require significant lab and/or project activity.

Prerequisite(s): PHYS 230, PHYS 231 and ECE 440 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ECE 544 - Wireless Communication

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

Introduction to mobile/wireless communication systems, cellular communication, data transmission and signaling, noise and intelligence, analog and digital techniques, multiple-access architecture. The course requires lab and/ or project activity.

Prerequisite(s): ECE 440 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ECE 547 - Digital Switching:Techniques and Architectures

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

Review of switching techniques, synchronous and asynchronous transfer modes (i.e., STM and ATM), and various switch architectures. Multirate and multipoint-to-multipoint switching, ATM switching, signaling and call set-up, ATM switch-architectures and their performance evaluation, and multicasting techniques. VLSI implementation considerations, future directions. The course may require significant lab and/or project activity.

Prerequisite(s): MATH 345, ES 230, ES 231, and ECE 440, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ECE 552 - Network Architecture and Protocols

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

ISO model, review of the physical and data link layers, network layer and routing including for internet, multicast routing, TCP and UDP protocols and their characteristics, performance and limitations, TCP/IP stack, applications such as FTP, e-mail and DNS, voice over IP. The course may require significant lab and/or project activity.

Prerequisite(s): ECE 440 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ECE 561 - Computational Techniques for Biomolecules

Unit(s): 3 .

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ECE 562 - Biomedical Instrumentation

Unit(s): 3 .

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ECE 563 - Biophotonics

Unit(s): 3 .

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ECE 564 - Medical Image Processing

Unit(s): 3 .

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ECE 590 - Selected Topics in Communications and Photonics

Unit(s): 3 Special topics to augment regularly scheduled graduate courses in communications and photonics will be presented.

Prerequisite(s): Prerequisites depend on subject material.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ECE 591 - Internship

Unit(s): 1 Internship will be done at an industry, R&D laboratory, government organization, or a laboratory or center at an academic institution to gain professional training, teamwork experience, communication skills, and project opportunities that will prepare students for a successful career in the real world.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

ECE 592 - Selected Topics in Hardware and Software Systems

Unit(s): 3 Special topics to augment regularly scheduled graduate courses in hardware and software systems will be presented.

Prerequisite(s): Prerequisites depend on subject material.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ECE 592B - Selected Topics in Bioengineering

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

Special topics to augment regularly scheduled graduate courses in bioengineering will be presented.

Prerequisite(s): consent of the instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ECE 593 - Laboratory and Technology Report Experience

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 1 hour Laboratory: 6 hours

In this course, students will learn to operate state-of-the art equipment in at least 6 laboratories, perform experiments, and write lab reports. In addition, students will write a technical report on a state-of-the art topic within the scope of the master's program of at least 3000 words excluding figures and tables. (The course cannot be taken to meet 30-unit requirement under thesis or project option unless approved by the Program Director.

Prerequisite(s): permission of student's advisor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ECE 594 - Directed Readings

Unit(s): 1-3 Independent study under a faculty member. The proposal must be approved by the graduate advisor if it is to apply towards degree requirements.

Prerequisite(s): consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ECE 595 - Design Project

Unit(s): 1-3 The project plan, timetable, necessary resources, and the expected outcome must be approved by a faculty project advisor and the program advisor at least one semester before taking the course.

Prerequisite(s): admission of candidacy for the Master's degree and approval of the faculty advisor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ECE 596 - Project Continuation

Unit(s): 1-3 Designed for students working on their thesis or design project but who have otherwise completed all graduate coursework toward their degree. This course cannot be applied toward the minimum number of units needed for completion of the master's degree.

Prerequisite(s): consent of faculty thesis/project advisor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ECE 597 - Graduate Seminar

Unit(s): 1 Series of lectures presented by experts from academia and industries.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ECE 598 - Comprehensive Examination

Unit(s): 1 In this four-hour examination, the student's overall understanding of important concepts of the core courses and the main subjects of each track will be tested.

Prerequisite(s): advancement to candidacy for the master's degree and approval of the graduate advisor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ECE 599 - Research and Thesis

Unit(s): 1-6 .

Prerequisite(s): admission of candidacy for the master's degree and approval of the thesis advisor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ENGL 099T - Basic Composition-Tutoring

Unit(s): 1 Individual tutoring to support writing in undergraduate courses, primarily First-Year English composition. Ideal for multilingual learners and those seeking extra writing support. May be repeated. Not applicable toward graduation.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated Yes

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: PNP

ENGL 100A - First-Year Composition

Unit(s): 3 Study and practice in the expression of facts and ideas and principles of investigation, of organization, and of effective writing style, with emphasis upon expository writing and upon developing analytical reading ability. Students must successfully complete both English 100A and ENGL 100B; ENGL 100B may not be taken alone. Three units each semester. English 100A is a prerequisite for ENGL 100B.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ENGL 100B - First-Year Composition

Unit(s): 3 Study and practice in the expression of facts and ideas and principles of investigation, of organization, and of effective writing style, with emphasis upon expository writing and upon developing analytical reading ability. Students must successfully complete both English 100A and English 100B to satisfy GE Area A2 Written Communication; English 100B may not be taken alone. Three units each semester.

Prerequisite(s): ENGL 100A

GE Category: A2 - Written Communication.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ENGL 101 - Expository Writing and Analytical Reading

Unit(s): 3 Study and practice in the expression of facts and ideas and principles of investigation, of organization, and of effective writing style, with emphasis upon expository writing and upon developing analytical reading ability. Practice in the oral analysis and expression of ideas. Individual sections may be designated as Freshman Interest Group (FIG) courses and course material linked with companion FIG courses in other departments.

GE Category: A2 - Written Communication.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ENGL 160A - Humanities Learning Community

Unit(s): 4 ENGL 160A/ENGL 160B is a year long course, which features weekly lectures and small seminars. It constitutes a Humanities Learning Community (HLC) for any first-year student.

Prerequisite(s): Reserved for first-time first-year students.

GE Category: C2 - Humanities

Typically Offered Fall Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ENGL 160B - Humanities Learning Community

Unit(s): 4 ENGL 160A/B is a year long course, which features weekly lectures and small seminars. It constitutes a Humanities Learning Community (HLC) for any first-year student.

Prerequisite(s): ENGL 160A

GE Category: A3 - Critical Thinking

Typically Offered Spring Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ENGL 199 - Student-Instructed Course

Unit(s): 1-3 A course taught by graduate students under the supervision of a department faculty member. The course content will not be one covered by the regular course offerings.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ENGL 200 - Teaching CA Histories of Schooling & Education

Unit(s): 3 Through popular and scholarly readings and media that tell histories of schooling and education in California, students will engage with topics including language and cultural revitalization and sustaining pedagogies, youth protest, abolitionist teaching, and counter storytelling. Student learning outcomes include oral communication, critical reading and listening skills; information literacies; diverse cultural competencies; and creative problem solving. This course considers teaching as oral performance, providing opportunity for final projects that showcase and/or develop classroom or community curriculum featuring testimonios and related genres including oral histories, counternarratives, storytelling, talk story, plática, and rap sessions. To be offered yearly each Fall and Spring semester. This is a zero-cost course.

GE Category: A1 - Oral Communication

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

ENGL 201 - Literary Analysis: Seminar

Unit(s): 4 The art of critical writing on each genre, and the application of traditional and modern criticism to the study of literature.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ENGL 203 - Introduction to Linguistic Studies

Unit(s): 4 The nature and structure of natural language; language variation; child first and second language acquisition; the role and function of language in the context of personal and group interactions and identities; language and other communication systems in culture and society; how language changes; introduction to techniques used in the scientific study of language.

GE Category: Satisfies GE Area D1 (Individual and Society).

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ENGL 207 - Introduction to Creative Writing

Unit(s): 4 An introduction to a variety of forms of creative writing, poetry and prose poems, the personal essay, vignettes, short stories, drama, and experimental fiction. Students will explore each form with in-class exercises and discussion.

GE Category: C1 - Arts

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ENGL 214 - Literature of the World

Unit(s): 4 An introduction to the study of literature. Literature drawn from a worldwide range of cultures and historical periods will provide the basis for oral discussion and written analysis. The course promotes global awareness or cross-cultural perspectives while developing basic analytical skills necessary for appreciating literary texts in diverse contexts and traditions. Emphasis will be placed on written analysis of literary form and meaning.

GE Category: C2 - Humanities

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ENGL 235 - Early British & American Literature

Unit(s): 4 Study of literary history and significant works in the British and American traditions from the Anglo Saxon through the end of the 18th century.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ENGL 236 - Later British & American Lit.

Unit(s): 4 Study of literary history and significant works in the British and American traditions in the 19th and 20th centuries.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ENGL 237 - Survey: Early American Literature

Unit(s): 4 Survey of American Literature from the 17th century through the middle decades of the 19th century, concluding with a study of Whitman and Dickinson. In addition to major authors, major themes of the periods will be explored, including a story of Puritanism, transcendentalism, and American romanticism.

Typically Offered Not Recently Offered

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ENGL 238 - Survey: Later American Literature

Unit(s): 4 Begins with Whitman and covers most major writers of the late 19th century and of the 20th century. Dickinson, Twain, H. James, Faulkner, Eliot, Kate Chopin, Baldwin. Realism, naturalism, and modernism.

Typically Offered Not Recently Offered

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ENGL 239 - Survey: Early British Literature

Unit(s): 4 Survey of British Literature from the Anglo-Saxon period to the end of the 18th century. Focus is on major authors in their cultural context.

Typically Offered Not Recently Offered

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ENGL 240 - Survey: Later British Literature

Unit(s): 4 Survey of British literature from the late 18th century to the present. Focus is on major authors in their cultural context.

Typically Offered Not Recently Offered

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ENGL 273 - Critical and Creative Readings of Literary Texts

Unit(s): 4 This course investigates the literary expressions of a particular era or theme. Through critical reading and research, students will develop the skills of synthesis, analysis, and creative representation of ideas.

Prerequisite(s): completion of GE Category A2 (ENGL 101 or ENGL 100B) required.

GE Category: C2 - Humanities

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ENGL 292 - Library and Information Research: Humanities

Unit(s): 4 An introduction to the use of Humanities resources in the Schulz Library. Students learn how to satisfy information needs, how to construct search strategies, how to find and retrieve information, and how to critically evaluate information sources. Includes lectures, demonstrations, and online research practice. Electronic and print sources are covered.

Typically Offered Not Recently Offered

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

ENGL 295 - Community Involvement Program

Unit(s): 1-4 CIP involves students in basic community problems, performing such tasks as tutoring and reading for the blind. Students receive 1 to 4 units, depending on the specific tasks performed. A total of 6 units of CIP credit may be applied toward a degree.

Typically Offered Not Recently Offered

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

ENGL 303 - Special Studies in Composition

Unit(s): 2-4 Expository writing, with a specific emphasis that varies from semester to semester; reports, grants, proposals, technical writing, and general business writing. Please see Schedule of Classes for current title.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated This course is repeatable for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

ENGL 304 - War and Peace Lecture Series

ES 345E - Engineering Applications of Probability Theory

Unit(s): 1 Lecture: 1 hour

This is a one-unit course introducing how to apply probability theory to model engineering problems, particularly in communications and networking areas. Topics covered include application of probability to measure of information and redundancy, moments to measure power, correlation to determine correlation function, power spectrum and linear prediction, and estimation of statistical parameters.

Co-requisite(s): math 345E or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

FILM 500 - Introduction to Film and Media Theory

Unit(s): 4 An overview of key concepts and theorists in the study of film and media. Advanced use of reference materials and library resources, as well as the techniques of critical and scholarly writing. The course should be taken during the first semester of matriculation.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to FILM MA students only.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

FILM 501 - Film and Narrative

Unit(s): 4 Intensive study of filmmaking practices of Hollywood, independent and foreign cinemas and their varying uses of narrative to address social issues. Course content varies from semester to semester.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to FILM MA students only.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

FILM 502 - Documentary Film and Social Advocacy

Unit(s): 4 Intensive study of a wide range of documentary filmmaking practices and the different approaches taken towards a broad range of social issues. Course content varies from semester to semester.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to FILM MA students only.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

FILM 503 - Film and Cultural Studies

Unit(s): 4 Intensive study of a particular theme and its interrelationships with film and media. Emphasis on specific historical and social contexts and ensuing representations in both popular and alternative forms of media. Course content varies from semester to semester.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to FILM MA students only.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated Courses may be taken more than once for credit under different themes.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

FILM 510 - Digital Storytelling I

Unit(s): 4 An introductory workshop explaining new media tools used by media makers to create content. The course also examines new delivery platforms and release strategies in a post-TV era as well as new methods of advocacy provided by these contemporary tools and platforms.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to FILM MA students only.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

FILM 515 - Digital Storytelling II

Unit(s): 4 An advanced workshop in how to use new media tools to make short films focused on social issues. Provides students with tools to create and distribute socially engaged films via new delivery platforms.

Prerequisite(s): completion of FILM 501

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

FILM 535 - Directed Film or Creative Project

Unit(s): 6 This completion course comprises individualized instruction in the development of an extended creative film/video project for the Film MA. This project must be approved by the creative project chair and second reader.

Prerequisite(s): FILM 500, classified status, and an authorized advancement to candidacy form.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

FILM 578 - Project Continuation

Unit(s): 1-3 Directed study designed for students working on their thesis or master's project who have otherwise completed all graduate coursework toward their degree. This course cannot be applied toward the minimum number of units needed for completion of the master's degree.

Prerequisite(s): permission of the graduate coordinator.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

FILM 595 - Special Studies

Unit(s): 1-4 Directed, individual study on a particular topic. May require completion of an upper-division undergraduate course in film or related discipline relevant to the student's program of study and will include additional readings, assignments, or projects as determined by the instructor.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to FILM MA students only.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated May be repeated once for credit when topics vary.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

FILM 599 - Thesis and Accompanying Directed Reading

Unit(s): 6 This course is to be taken by students writing a traditional thesis for the Film MA, in which they will develop an extended research topic approved and guided by the thesis chair and second reader.

Prerequisite(s): FILM 500, classified status, and an authorized advancement to candidacy form.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

FR 101 - First-Semester French

Unit(s): 4 Assumes no prior experience in French. Moves from simple, everyday greetings to basic vocabulary and phrases describing people, places, clothing, food, travel, studies, sports, and professions. Competency-based testing of listening, speaking, reading, writing, and cultural skills.

GE Category: Satisfies GE Area C3 (Comparative Perspectives and Foreign Languages).

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

FR 102 - Second-Semester French

Unit(s): 4 Students progress through increasingly complex sentence structures. Competency-based testing of listening, speaking, reading, writing, and cultural skills. Grammatical content includes past tenses, future, conditional, subjunctive, object pronouns, etc.

Prerequisite(s): FR 101 or by examination.

GE Category: Satisfies GE Area C3 (Comparative Perspectives and Foreign Languages).

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

FR 201 - Third-Semester French

Unit(s): 4 A thorough and detailed review of all French grammar, augmented by more sophisticated elements of syntax, presented within the context of French cinema and francophone cultural materials.

Prerequisite(s): FR 102 or by examination.

GE Category: Satisfies GE Area C3 (Comparative Perspectives and Foreign Languages).

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

FR 202 - Oral French

Unit(s): 4 Required of majors. Extensive use of oral group activities and discussion of global issues and events based on reading of up-to-date articles (online). Practical work in listening comprehension, phonetics, pronunciation and intonation. Speaking and listening competence at intermediate level.

Prerequisite(s): FR 201 or by examination.

GE Category: Satisfies GE Area C3 (Comparative Perspectives and Foreign Languages).

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

FR 300 - Introduction to Literary Analysis and Critical Writing

Unit(s): 4 Study of advanced aspects of French grammar and stylistics with a focus on introducing students to literary analysis, including poetry, theater, and narrative prose. Oral and written presentations.

Prerequisite(s): FR 201 or equivalent, and FR 202

GE Category: Satisfies GE Area C3 (Comparative Perspectives and Foreign Languages).

Typically Offered Fall Only

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit when course content is different. May be repeated for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

FR 314 - French Literature in English Translation

Unit(s): 4 Studies in French-speaking Caribbean, African, Near Eastern, Asian, and/or North American literatures in English translation. Topics may include non-Western cultural and religious values, colonialism versus emerging nationalisms, and the quest for identity, personal, cultural, and national. May qualify as a Writing Intensive Course (WIC).

Prerequisite(s): completion of GE Area A2.

GE Category: Satisfies GE Area C2 (Literature, Philosophies and Values).

Typically Offered Spring Only

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

FR 320 - France Yesterday

Unit(s): 4 French civilization -- history, social and political institutions, and the arts -- as revealed in written documents and visual media (architecture, painting, graphics, etc.), from the medieval period to the Revolution. Readings, discussion, and oral and written reports in French.

Prerequisite(s): FR 300 or equivalent (may be taken concurrently).

GE Category: Satisfies GE Area C3 (Comparative Perspectives and Foreign Languages).

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

FR 321 - France Today

Unit(s): 4 French civilization -- history, social and political institutions, and the arts -- as revealed in written documents and visual media (architecture, painting, graphics, etc.), from the Revolution to the present. Readings, discussion, and oral and written reports in French.

Prerequisite(s): FR 300 (may be taken concurrently).

GE Category: Satisfies GE Area C3 (Comparative Perspectives and Foreign Languages).

Typically Offered Fall Alternate Years

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

FR 410 - French Literature

Unit(s): 4 Readings in theatre, prose, and poetry representing major writers and movements from the Middle Ages, the Renaissance, Classical, and the pre-Romantic periods. May be organized around themes or genres or by aesthetic movements. Readings, discussion, and oral and written reports in French.

Prerequisite(s): FR 320

GE Category: Satisfies GE Area C3 (Comparative Perspectives and Foreign Languages).

Typically Offered Fall Alternate Years

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

FR 411 - French Literature

Unit(s): 4 Readings in theatre, prose, and poetry representing major writers and movements from the 19th and 20th centuries. May be organized around themes or genres or by aesthetic movements. Readings, discussion, and oral and written reports in French.

Prerequisite(s): FR 321

GE Category: Satisfies GE Area C3 (Comparative Perspectives and Foreign Languages).

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

FR 415 - Special Topics in French Culture

Unit(s): 4 Topics vary according to current interests and issues, e.g. the Francophone world, Paris, the French film, French feminism, French impressionism, Theatre and society, etc. Readings, discussions, and oral and written reports.

Prerequisite(s): FR 320 or FR 321 (may be taken concurrently).

GE Category: Satisfies GE Area C3 (Comparative Perspectives and Foreign Languages).

Typically Offered Spring Alternate Years

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit when topics change.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

FR 475 - Senior Seminar

Unit(s): 4 An advanced writing course, culminating in a research paper on a literary topic, or a substantial piece of creative writing. This course may only be taken at SSU. It may not be taken abroad or at another U.S. university.

Prerequisite(s): FR 321 or FR 411 (may be taken concurrently).

GE Category: Satisfies GE Area C3 (Comparative Perspectives and Foreign Languages).

Typically Offered Fall Alternate Years

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

FR 495 - Special Studies

Unit(s): 1-4 Directed individual study.

Prerequisite(s): consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated May be repeated once for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

FR 499 - Internship

Unit(s): 1-4 Students in the internship program apply skills and methods mastered in their course work in French in a variety of situations in public and private agencies. Credit is awarded for completion of 3 hours of work (weekly average) per unit, participation in a seminar or conferences, and a final report. Placement must be arranged in advance with department coordinator.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated May be repeated once for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEOL 102 - Our Dynamic Earth: Introduction to Geology

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 2 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

A study of the minerals, rocks, and landforms that make up our earth in the context of the dynamic forces that form them. Emphasis on local geology, including earthquakes and other environmental aspects. Laboratory study of minerals, rocks, and maps. Required one-day weekend field trip. Fee required.

GE Category: B1 - Physical science, B3 - Laboratory Activity

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEOL 105 - The Age of Dinosaurs

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

The life and death of dinosaurs as evidenced by the fossil record will be studied to show how geology and biology combine in the discipline of paleontology. The evolution of dinosaurs over a 150-million- year time span sets the stage to investigate several interesting and ongoing controversies surrounding dinosaurs, including: why dinosaurs became extinct, the metabolism of dinosaurs, and the relationship between birds and dinosaurs.

GE Category: B1 - Physical science

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEOL 107 - Introduction to Earth Science

Unit(s): 3 This course studies the operation of the Earth system and its solar system home. It introduces the fundamental aspects of 4 major areas: astronomy; geology, including plate tectonics, and the planetary history of the Earth and its moon; physical oceanography; and weather and climate. There is no lab. The course is designed to prepare students for the earth science and astronomy parts of the SET examination.

Prerequisite(s): The student must be enrolled in the AMCS, LIBS, CALS, or ENSP credential program.

Typically Offered Fall Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEOL 110 - Natural Disasters

Unit(s): 3 Geology 110 is a course examining the interaction between natural processes and human activities and the often costly and fatal results. Course emphasis will be on the principles underlying natural disasters such as earthquakes, volcanic eruptions, landslides, floods, severe weather, coastal processes, asteroid impacts, fires, great dyings, and population growth. Many examples will draw from the west coast and northern California in particular.

GE Category: B1 - Physical science

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEOL 120 - Regional Field Geology

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 1 hour

The heart of geology is in the field. The course is an examination of rocks, minerals, and landforms, and the processes that form them. This course includes a 10-day field trip taken during spring vacation, or multiple weekend field trips in the fall semester, where the natural world becomes our classroom.

GE Category: B1 - Physical science

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEOL 205 - Mineralogy

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

Principles of crystal chemistry, crystallography, and properties and origins of common rock-forming minerals. Laboratory sessions emphasize hand specimen and petrographic mineral identification characterization.

Prerequisite(s): Completion of or concurrent enrollment in GEOL 303 and CHEM 115A

Typically Offered Spring Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEOL 205A - Mineralogy, Optics

Unit(s): 2 Supplementary course to be held concurrently with GEOL 205. For students who already have taken a mineralogy course but have not gained sufficient experience in optical mineralogy. Consists of the lecture and laboratory portion of GEOL 205 relevant to optical mineralogy.

Prerequisite(s): GEOL 303 and CHEM 115A Co-requisite(s): GEOL 303 and CHEM 115A

Typically Offered Spring Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEOL 301 - Natural History of the Hawaiian Islands

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

The origin and evolution of the flora and fauna of the most isolated archipelago in the world: geologic history and context of volcanic oceanic islands; conservation biology efforts to save the rare and endangered species of Hawaii; human history and culture of the islands.

GE Category: Upper Division B

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEOL 302 - Climate Change

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

This course prepares students majoring in any discipline to understand the science behind climate change and the impacts of global warming on themselves and on society. They will also learn how to discern fact from fiction in the media, and how to communicate these facts to those around them.

Prerequisite(s): Completion of GE Golden Four (A1, A2, A3, B4) with a C- or better and completion of B1, B2 and at least 45 units.

GE Category: Upper Division B

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEOL 303 - Advanced Principles of Geology

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

A study of the minerals, rocks, and landforms that make up our earth in the context of the dynamic forces that form them. Emphasis on local geology, including earthquakes and other environmental aspects. Laboratory subjects include the study and interpretation of minerals, rocks, and maps.

Prerequisite(s): Completion of GE Golden Four (A1, A2, A3, B4) with a C- or better and completion of B1, B2 and at least 45 units. Completion of one: SCI120, GEOL 102, GEOL 105, GEOL 110, GEOL 107, GEOL 120, GEP 201, GEP 352, ANTH 202, or equivalent of these.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEOL 304 - Geologic Mapping and Report Writing

Unit(s): 1 Field studies and report preparation done in conjunction with GEOL 303. Required weekend field trips.

Co-requisite(s): GEOL 303. Students must be in good physical condition.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEOL 305 - Geology of America's National Parks

Unit(s): 3 This course will explore the geology of some of our most interesting National Parks and their significant geological features, as well as the societal implications of our use – and overuse – of them. Some relevant history and natural and cultural resources of the parks will be integrated into the course.

Prerequisite(s): Completion of GE Golden Four (A1, A2, A3, B4) with a C- or better and completion of B1, B2 and at least 45 units.

GE Category: Upper Division B

Typically Offered Fall Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEOL 306 - Environmental Geology

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

Study of geological principles and processes as they relate to our natural environment emphasizing interaction between human activities and the geological environment. Major topics include the nature and behavior of rocks and soils; earthquakes and their associated hazards; landslides, slope stability, and building construction; groundwater and pollution; stream processes and flooding; shoreline processes and coastal development; engineering geology and construction of highways and dams; and development of natural resources and conservation and ecology. Specific content varies year to year, depending on instructor.

Prerequisite(s): GEOL 102 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEOL 307 - Igneous and Metamorphic Petrology

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

A study of the origin, properties, classification, and occurrence of igneous and metamorphic rocks. Laboratory exercises in the classification and description of minerals, textures, and structures of the more common rock types. Laboratory work will emphasize both hand specimen analysis and microscopic petrography.

Prerequisite(s): GEOL 303 and GEOL 205

Typically Offered Fall Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEOL 308 - Igneous and Metamorphic Petrology Field Course

Unit(s): 1 Lecture: 1 hour

Field studies done in conjunction with GEOL 307. Required weekend field trips. Fee required.

Prerequisite(s): GEOL 307 Co-requisite(s): GEOL 307 Students must be in good physical condition.

Typically Offered Fall Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEOL 309 - Computer Applications in Geology

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

This course aims to provide our majors with some fundamental skills for manipulating and representing geological data using computer applications. Applications include using digitizing field maps and data into GIS format, creating figures in computer aided drawing programs, using basic functions computational software and generating histograms, and rose diagrams.

Prerequisite(s): GEOL 303 and GEOL 304 Co-requisite(s): GEOL 303 and GEOL 304

Typically Offered Fall Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEOL 310 - Geophysics

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

This course will cover the basic principles underlying various geophysical methods, field procedures, and data collection, and how to interpret geophysical data. Topics include seismic reflection and refraction, paleomagnetism, gravity and magnetic surveying, and how geophysical methods have augmented our overall understanding of the Earth's structure and Earth processes.

Prerequisite(s): GEOL 303
Typically Offered Spring Only
May Be Repeated No
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEOL 311 - Sedimentary Geology

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

This course is an exploration of topics associated with sedimentary geology. We will go into the field often to utilize the incredible geologic features of northern California. These field trips will help solidify your knowledge from lecture and hone your lab skills. Topics that will be covered in lectures and labs include: weathering and erosion, classification of siliciclastic and carbonate rocks, recognition and interpreting sedimentary structures and an emphasis on interpreting depositional environments and sedimentary facies, provenance analysis and basin analysis. Sedimentary geology field techniques that we will cover include: grain size measurements, measuring stratigraphy and creating stratigraphic columns, sediment sampling, determining paleocurrent direction, and geologic mapping. There will be an additional focus on the local fluvial system in Copeland Creek.

Prerequisite(s): GEOL 303 and GEOL 304
GE Category: Upper Division B
Typically Offered Spring Only
May Be Repeated No
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEOL 312 - Sedimentary Geology Field Course

Unit(s): 1 Lecture: 1 hour

Field studies done in conjunction with GEOL 311. The course includes a particular focus on local sedimentary geology and issues of environmental importance. Required weekend field trips.

Prerequisite(s): GEOL 303 and GEOL 311. Students must be in good physical condition. Co-requisite(s): GEOL 311
Typically Offered Spring Only
May Be Repeated No
Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEOL 313 - Paleontology

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

The study of fossils in their geological context. Topics include taxonomy, morphology, evolution, biogeography, extinction, and biostratigraphy of the main groups of invertebrate fossils. Laboratory work will include becoming familiar with stratigraphically important fossil groups and the use of fossils in solving both geological and biological problems.

Prerequisite(s): GEOL 303 for majors, GEOL 102 for non-majors, or instructor consent.
Typically Offered Fall Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEOL 314 - Paleontology Field Course

Unit(s): 1 Lecture: 1 hour

Field studies done in conjunction with GEOL 313. Required weekend field trips.

Prerequisite(s): GEOL 313

Typically Offered Fall Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEOL 317 - Structural Geology

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

An introduction to deformation processes within the Earth's crust and the geological structures that result from these processes. We will examine deformation running the gamut of scales (from atomic scale to tectonic scale)

Prerequisite(s): GEOL 303, GEOL 304

Typically Offered Fall Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEOL 318 - Structural Geology Field

Unit(s): 1 Lecture: 1 hour

Field studies done in conjunction with GEOL 317. Required weekend field trips.

Prerequisite(s): GEOL 317. Students must be in good physical condition. Co-requisite(s): GEOL 317

Typically Offered Fall Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEOL 320 - Basin Analysis

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

Origin and evolution of sedimentary basins; tectonic settings and significance; subsidence and thermal histories; basin-scale depositional systems; paleocurrent, provenance, and paleogeographic analysis; basin types; paleoclimatic influences; resources.

Prerequisite(s): GEOL 311, GEOL 312, GEOL 317, and GEOL 318

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEOL 321 - Burgess Shale Paleontology

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 2 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

Advanced examination of the Cambrian Burgess Shale fossil deposits in British Columbia, Canada. Field work supplements lecture sessions on campus.

Prerequisite(s): GEOL 313, GEOL 314, and consent of instructor

Typically Offered Fall Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEOL 323 - Hydrology

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

Water as a natural resource, the hydrologic cycle, distribution of water on the Earth. Atmospheric water, soil water, runoff, and groundwater as related to water supply and use. Applications to problems of flood control, water management, and water pollution, with special emphasis on California and Sonoma County.

Prerequisite(s): GEOL 102 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Spring Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEOL 326 - Stratigraphy and Earth History

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

The principles of stratigraphy and historical geology will be discussed, with special emphasis given to the application of these principles to the geologic development of North America. The geologic history of California will be treated in detail. The use of sedimentary rocks, fossils, and structural and tectonic principles will be discussed, especially as they relate to our understanding of historical geology. Laboratory work will include a study of sedimentary rocks and their properties, fossils and their occurrence and distribution, the construction and interpretation of various types of stratigraphic maps, and detailed studies of selected maps representative of the various geologic provinces of North America. Required field trip.

Prerequisite(s): GEOL 303 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEOL 390 - Geology Colloquium

Unit(s): 1.00 Presentation and discussion of current topics in geology by visiting lecturers, staff, and students. Students will prepare written summaries of the approximately bi-weekly presentations. During the non-presentation weeks, students will meet to discuss papers associated with upcoming speakers. May be repeated for credit; a maximum of 2 units can be applied to a Geology major or minor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated Yes

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

GEOL 395 - Community Involvement Program

Unit(s): 1-4 CIP involves students in community problems such as tutoring, aiding in school science classes, and advisement of county agencies. A total of 6 units of CIP credit may be applied toward a degree. May be taken by petition only.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated Yes

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

GEOL 396 - Internship in Geology

Unit(s): 1-4 Professional geologic work for a geologic firm or agency. Forty-five hours of work per unit.

Prerequisite(s): GEOL 303 and consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated Yes

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

GEOL 406 - X-ray Mineralogy

Unit(s): 2 Lecture: 1 hour Laboratory: 3 hours
Introduction to the use of x-ray diffraction techniques.

Prerequisite(s): CHEM 115A and GEOL 205 or concurrent enrollment, and consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Not Recently Offered

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEOL 420 - Integrative Field Experience

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 1 hour

This course is a synthesis of the Geology major core courses. This course aims to hone our students' abilities to make valid geologic field interpretations through detailed field mapping and report writing. Twelve days of fieldwork are required.

Prerequisite(s): GEOL 308, GEOL 309, GEOL 312, and GEOL 318 Students must be in good physical condition.

Typically Offered Spring Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEOL 422 - Geochemistry

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

Introductory cosmochemistry and origin of the elements; meteorites; the Earth as a chemical system, chemistry of processes at the surface of the Earth; mineral crystal chemistry; introduction to geochronology and stable isotope variations in nature; thermodynamics and its geological application; geochemical prospecting.

Prerequisite(s): GEOL 303, CHEM 115A, CHEM 115B, MATH 161, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEOL 425 - Economic Geology

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

Classification, origin, and alteration of metallic ore deposits. Laboratory sessions on hand sample identification of ore and alteration minerals and petrographic analysis of selected ore suites.

Prerequisite(s): GEOL 307 and CHEM 115B Co-requisite(s): GEOL 307 and CHEM 115B/116B.

Typically Offered Not Recently Offered

GEOL 426A - Senior Thesis I

Unit(s): 3 426A is the first semester of a senior thesis project. A senior thesis is an opportunity for students to engage in primary research. Students must write a proposal, defining the scope of their project. Thesis projects must be a two-semester project. Students will be required to present their projects at the Geology Colloquium.

Prerequisite(s): thesis advisor consent.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEOL 426B - Senior Thesis II

Unit(s): 3 426B is the second semester of a senior thesis project. A senior thesis is an opportunity for students to engage in primary research. Students must write a proposal, defining the scope of their project. Thesis projects must be a two-semester project. Students will be required to present their projects at the Geology Colloquium.

Prerequisite(s): thesis-advisor consent and GEOL 426A

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEOL 427 - Advanced Field Geology

Unit(s): 4 A minimum of five weeks of detailed mapping in igneous, metamorphic and sedimentary rocks, and the preparation of field reports and geological maps. Students may also complete this course at another university, but should do so only in consultation with the Geology Department. Students must demonstrate equivalence in terms of field hours and course content to GEOL 427.

Prerequisite(s): senior-level standing in Geology. GEOL 420 strongly recommended.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEOL 495 - Special Studies

Unit(s): 1-4 Individual study, under guidance of an advisor, of an advanced field, laboratory, or literature problem. The student must have demonstrated ability to work independently and do quality work. The student must have a faculty sponsor who is willing to advise the project and will set up a schedule of meetings for this purpose.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated Yes

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEOL 496 - Selected Topics in Geology

Unit(s): 1-3 An intensive study of an advanced topic in geology. Additional fee may be required.

Prerequisite(s): Adequate preparation for topic under consideration.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated May be repeated for additional credit with new subject matter.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEOL 498 - Geology Practicum

Unit(s): 1-4 Application of previously studied theory through supervised instructional work experience in geology, generally as a teaching assistant in geology laboratory classes. Intended for professional growth.

Prerequisite(s): upper-division standing in Geology and consent of instructor. Student needs to have passed the course that he/she will be a teaching assistant in with a grade of B or better. To be a teaching assistant in GEOL 102 laboratory student needs to have received a grade of B or better in GEOL 303.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated May be repeated for up to a total of 4 units.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

GEP 110 - Communication of Environmental Issues

Unit(s): 3 In this class students learn how to effectively communicate information about environmental issues through audio-visual presentation. The class will focus on researching, designing, and delivering presentations generally. Then, through the frame of four environmental injustice (such as climate change, deforestation, agribusiness, urban environments and environmental injustice), students will research and design positioned and more objective individual and group presentations.

GE Category: A1 - Oral Communication

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEP 201 - Global Environmental Systems

Unit(s): 3 This course presents a broad survey of how the earth works. It focuses on the processes within, and the relationships between, the four global sub-systems: the atmosphere, biosphere, hydrosphere, and lithosphere. The course examines how physical, chemical, and biological functions create local, regional, and global climate and landscape patterns. It also explores the links between human activities and changes in climate, vegetation patterns, and landform processes.

GE Category: B1 - Physical science

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEP 201B - Global Environmental Systems Lab

Unit(s): 1 Introduction to physical earth processes through laboratory and field exercises. Lab includes observations, hands-on experiments, data collection and practical exercises involving weather, climate, soils, running water, landforms, and vegetation. Includes map fundamentals and interpretation.

GE Category: B3 - Laboratory Activity

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEP 203 - Human Geography

Unit(s): 3 The course introduces students to a spatial perspective of cultural, economic, political, demographic, and environmental processes. We review the deep historical origins of many social processes and examine how they continue to influence our contemporary experience. We also study how these processes change as they move across geographic space and encounter other cultures and places.

GE Category: Satisfies GE Area D2 (World History and Civilization).

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEP 205 - World Regional Geography

Unit(s): 3 This course explores 4-5 world regions from a holistic perspective, examining their economic, political, demographic, cultural, and environmental landscapes with considerable historic depth. The course also considers how each region fits within a larger global political and economic system, and how their roles have changed, particularly with globalization.

GE Category: Satisfies GE Area D5 (Contemporary International Perspectives).

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEP 206 - Society, Environment, and Sustainable Development

Unit(s): 3 The course helps students understand the sustainability of several human-environment relationships, and each student's own role in perpetuating or changing those relationships. Following an introduction to Earth's environmental systems, the course critiques several modes of understanding specific environmental problems caused by development. Course concludes with extended study of one globally important human-environment-development nexus.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEP 211 - GEP Forum

Unit(s): 1 Regular weekly departmental lecture series. Outside professional speakers and GEP alumni and faculty report on topics and opportunities relating to careers in Geography, Environment, and Planning.

Typically Offered Fall Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEP 280 - Foundations in Environmental Data Analysis

Unit(s): 4 Lectures and workshop designed to enhance students' confidence in analytical problem solving. Essential techniques emphasizing environmental applications: translating knowledge into abstract and mathematical models, numerical estimates, basic geometry and trigonometry, dimensional analysis, unit conversions, interpreting statistical data, and graphic display of information. Conceptual introduction to calculus, differential equations, and complex numbers.

Prerequisite(s): Completion or concurrent enrollment in GE Area B4 (Math/Quantitative Reasoning).

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEP 305 - World Regions in Global Context

Unit(s): 4 Selected regions of the world form the basis of study. Economic development, political problems, man-land relationships, and global issues are covered. The course uses geographical methodologies and concepts and is interdisciplinary in its observations of world regions.

Prerequisite(s): Class open to Sophomores, Juniors, Seniors, and Graduate Students only

GE Category: Satisfies GE Area D5 (Contemporary International Perspectives).

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEP 306 - World Regions in Global Context: Asia

Unit(s): 3 Explores Southwest Asia, South Asia, East Asia and Southeast Asia from a holistic perspective. Considers many factors that can help shape a region, including economic development histories, political transformations, geopolitical challenges, social conditions (e.g. demography, urbanization, migration), resource endowments (e.g. oil and water) and environmental challenges (e.g. climate change).

Prerequisite(s): Completion of GE Golden Four (A1, A2, A3, B4) with a C- or better and completion of lower division D coursework and at least 45 units.

GE Category: Upper Division D

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face to Face & Hybrid Grading: Student Option

GEP 310 - Professional Development

Unit(s): 2 This seminar covers topics essential for professional preparation in the fields of geography, global, environmental studies. Topics include discussions with guest speakers on career options in governmental, private, and non-profit settings; writing highly effective resumes, CVs, and cover letters; and techniques for successful interviewing. The course will also cover preparation for future training in professional and academic fields.

Prerequisite(s): GEP majors, juniors or seniors. Crosslisted: GLBL 310

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

GEP 311 - Research Colloquium

Unit(s): 1 Lecture, 1 hour. Presentations by visiting researchers, departmental, and university faculty on current research and contemporary issues in Geography, Environmental Science, and Planning. May be repeated for credit. Graded.

Typically Offered Spring Only

May Be Repeated Yes How many times? 1 Maximum units for credit

2

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEP 312 - Professional Conferences

Unit(s): 1-2 Students learn about professional research, presentation, and discourse, and attend research presentations at a professional conference. Conference and travel may include professionally led field trips. The course requires an additional fee.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated Course may be repeated for credit. Up to 2 units of GEP 312 in total may be counted towards the major.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

GEP 313 - Field Experience

Unit(s): 1-2 Field experience is provided in a variety of topical areas. The course titles and contents will vary. A fee will be charged for this course. Up to 2 units of GEP 313 in total may be counted toward the major

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit. Please see the current Schedule of Classes for the particular topic offered.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

GEP 314 - Field Experience Abroad

Unit(s): 2-3 Field Experience outside the United States (2-3). Cultural and physical studies of people and places through travel, observation and interaction, and oral and written analysis. Destinations include Central and south American countries. Course contents and locations will vary. Check with instructor regarding destination and cost. Offered during Intersession or Summer Session.

Prerequisite(s): consent of the instructor.

Typically Offered Not Recently Offered

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

GEP 316 - Research Assistant in GEP

Unit(s): 1-4 Open only to advanced students who have been invited by a faculty member to serve as a research assistant in their lab. Students earn 1 unit of credit for every 45 hours of work

Prerequisite(s): consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated Yes How many times? 2 Maximum units for credit

4

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

GEP 317 - Internship

Unit(s): 1-4 Students in the internship program will be given the opportunity to gain practical experience in their area of study by working in a variety of county and city agencies and organizations in the Sonoma State University service area. Credit is given for three hours per unit work per week as arranged with the internship coordinator. Must have junior- or senior-level standing and a minimum GPA of 2.75, or permission from the Department Chair.

Prerequisite(s): Class open to Juniors and Seniors only

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated May be repeated once for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

GEP 318 - Agroecology in Practice

Unit(s): 2 This course provides a broad introduction to the design and management of agroecosystems. Students explore the theory and practice of agroecology and how its principles address social and environmental problems in the global food system. Students are introduced to agroecological production methods, including soil management, water systems, biodiversity development, integrated pest management, flower production and urban gardening methods, and applications of these methods in a student garden. Approximately half of this course is classroom-based instruction while the other half is hands-on garden-based work.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated Yes How many times? 1 Maximum units for credit

4

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

GEP 319 - Native Plants in Restoration

Unit(s): 2 This is a field course in applied aspects of propagation, placement and function of CA native plants in landscape and restoration settings. Topics include: native plant species, plant communities, techniques for selecting, collecting and replicating plants for production, restoration site preparation and maintenance. Additional topics may include: career opportunities utilizing native plants, restoration principals, botany, plant disease and sanitation, invasive plant removal, ethnobotany, guest speakers and fieldtrips.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated Yes How many times? 1 Maximum units for credit

4

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

GEP 320 - Geopolitics

Unit(s): 4 This course focuses upon the intersections of power, (in)security, and space. Informed by feminist and environmental perspectives, the class examines this intersection at embodied scales. It follows identity and (in)security across community and national scales. It also addresses structures of power and (in)security among nation-states at the global scale.

Prerequisite(s): Class open to Juniors, Seniors, and Graduate Students only.

Typically Offered Spring Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEP 323 - Resource Management & Development in Global Perspective

Unit(s): 4 This class explores the use and management of natural resources. Each year, it focuses on a different set of renewable and non-renewable resources, such as water, oil, diamonds, rangeland, and others. It addresses topics such as distribution, scarcity, substitution, access and use-rights, resource cartels, regulation, and sustainability. It also looks at how these issues are changing under globalization and the rise of transnational corporations.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEP 324 - Climate Change and Society

Unit(s): 4 This course briefly reviews climate change mechanisms and models. It then turns to its main topics: attempts and failures to mitigate greenhouse gas production, specific predicted challenges, and current and future attempts to adapt to the environmental and social impacts related to changing climates. The course compliments GEP 356.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEP 325 - Global Food Systems: Scarcity and Sustainability

Unit(s): 4 We examine the structure of the U.S. food system and the global food system more broadly. We investigate the entire food supply chain, from the farmer to the consumer, with attention to social justice issues and environmental sustainability. We explore approaches to addressing hunger and other inequities, including technological advancements, land reform, fair trade and agroecology.

Prerequisite(s): Class open to Sophomores, Juniors, Seniors, and Graduate Students only

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEP 327 - Latin America and the Caribbean

Unit(s): 4 From an environmental history perspective, the class begins with an investigation of pre-Columbian and post-contact social ecologies. This leads to analysis of more contemporary processes such as rural modernization, the rapid growth of cities and migration, the role of identity and women, and the dynamics of free-trade globalization and international relations.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEP 328 - Africa South of the Sahara

Unit(s): 4 Students explore various historical and contemporary processes that have created Africa's diverse and complex geography. The course begins with a historical survey of the continent, starting with its great civilizations and continuing through its experiences through colonialism, independence, the cold war, and globalization. This section of the class examines how these major events have played out throughout the different regions of Africa, south of the Sahara. The class then turns directly to thematic issues that are central to a human-geographic perspective of the continent: population, rural/urban dynamics, education and health issues, and human-environment interactions including agricultural systems and conservation issues. Finally, with a deeper understanding of the region, the course addresses present-day political hot spots of post-cold war Africa, and the critical development problems plaguing the continent.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEP 330 - Environmental History

Unit(s): 4 Environmental history offers an earth's-eye view of the past, by addressing the many ways in which humans have interacted with the natural environment over time. How has the environment shaped the course of human history, and how have human actions and attitudes shaped the environment? And how does studying past environments help us understand our present-day challenges? All too often, historians study the human past without considering nature; similarly, all too often, scientists study nature without considering human history. We will explore the value of integrating these different perspectives, and argue that a historical perspective is absolutely crucial if one hopes to understand contemporary environmental issues.

Prerequisite(s): Completion of GE Area A (Communication and Critical Thinking).

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEP 332 - Environmental Literature

Unit(s): 3 A survey of great American environmental books, including H. D. Thoreau's Walden, John Muir's Mountains of California, and works by other environmental authors. The course considers the natural, political, cultural, and historical environment of the writers.

Prerequisite(s): Junior- or senior-level standing.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEP 333 - Natural Resource Planning

Unit(s): 4 This course focuses on the relationship between land use planning and environmental and natural resources concerns, using property and landscape as our primary lenses. We will consider how ideas regarding resource management, open space, biodiversity, "sustainability", etc., are reflected in land use planning processes and practices. The course will examine broad planning and regulatory tools, such as Environmental Impact Statements, regional planning, and resource management planning, and more specific applications such as Habitat Conservation Plans and open space planning.

Prerequisite(s): Class open to Juniors, Seniors, and Graduate Students only.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEP 335 - U.S. Environmental Policy

Unit(s): 4 This class starts with the idea that institutions of government are not a fixed inheritance but choices that are constantly being revised. The goal of the course is to sort out that assertion while providing a basic introduction to both American political institutions and major environmental issues. We will look at choices shaping the structure of governance and tools of environmental policy. Where are we heading in terms of democratic decision-making, responsibility, and accountability? How does the realm of international policy dovetail with national-level governance?

Prerequisite(s): Completion of GE Area D

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEP 336 - U.S. Environmental Law

Unit(s): 3 Review of environmental law and regulation in the United States generally and California in particular. Overview of federal and California legal systems with emphasis on their role in environmental protection. Evolution of environmental law in the United States, including property rights and environmental justice.

Prerequisite(s): junior- or senior-level standing.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEP 337 - Landscape History of the American West

Unit(s): 3 Use of and interactions with natural resources have transformed the American West over time, and greatly affected the western environment as we know it today. This seminar takes a historical look at the settlement, development, and management of the western landscape, both in terms of natural resources (timber, water, grazing, parks etc.) but also in terms of cultural settlement and use - and considers landscape as a tool for understanding the cultural/social/political history of a place. Students can expect to do some serious reading, writing, and thinking about how and why the West has become such a distinctive natural and cultural landscape. Open to juniors, seniors, and graduate students only or consent of instructor.

Prerequisite(s): juniors, seniors, or graduate students. Crosslisted: HIST 467

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEP 340 - Applied Ecology

Unit(s): 3 This course explores major concepts of ecology and examines current environmental issues in light of these concepts. Topics include: relationship between organisms and the physical environment, community-level ecological processes, the structure and function of ecosystems and their distribution on the planet, evolutionary processes, and population ecology. Environmental issues include loss of biodiversity, global climate change, invasive species, and others. Field trip required.

Prerequisite(s): GEP 201 and GEP 280 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEP 343 - Biogeography

Unit(s): 4 Biogeography is the study of plant and animals distributions at local to global spatial scales, and seeks to understand the physical, biological and human processes that determine these patterns through time. This is a highly integrative field of inquiry, pulling on concepts, theories and data from general ecology, evolutionary biology, geology, physical and human geography, and geospatial science. With its perspective on broad spatial and temporal scales, Biogeography is particularly relevant for designing viable long-term strategies for nature conservation in the face of modern human-induced changes, such as global warming and habitat conversion. This course uses lectures, reading assignments and an individual student project to explore past and present biota at regional to global scales, and a field trip to understand our local northern California ecosystems.

Prerequisite(s): GEP 201 and GEP 280 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEP 344 - Field Methods

Unit(s): 2 This course provides hands-on experience with field sampling techniques commonly used in biophysical data collection and spatial inquiry. Course topics include sample design, field measurements, statistical data analysis, report writing, and the use of field equipment. Field work will be conducted mainly in the Fairfield Osborn Preserve and surrounding area. Data collected from vegetation sampling, soil descriptions, microclimate measurements, and geomorphologic observations will be used to interpret the natural and anthropogenic landscape. Throughout the course, students will work with Global Positioning System (GPS) units to accurately locate their field samples on the Earth, allowing for subsequent spatial analysis.

Prerequisite(s): GEP 201 and GEP 280 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEP 345 - Lab Methods

Unit(s): 2 This course provides hands-on experience with laboratory analysis techniques commonly used in physical geography. Topics include stratigraphic and laboratory analyses, report writing, and data presentation. Data collected from soil and sediment profiles and tree rings will be used to interpret environmental conditions. Students will follow laboratory methods, protocols, and use analytical equipment.

Prerequisite(s): GEP 201, GEP 280 and junior, senior or graduate standing. Or, consent of the instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEP 347 - Conservation Biology

Unit(s): 3-4 Conservation Biology is the interdisciplinary scientific study of the loss, maintenance and restoration of biological diversity in the face of profound environmental change. This course will cover principles of ecology, population biology and genetics, biogeography, ethics, and economics as applied to biodiversity conservation. Topics covered include climate change, species invasions, prioritization of protected areas, ecosystem restoration, and assessing economic and ethical tradeoffs. At least one field trip may be required.

Prerequisite(s): GEP 340 or BIOL 131 and Junior/Senior standing. Co-requisite(s): GEP 340 or BIOL 131

Typically Offered Spring Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEP 350 - Geomorphology

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 3 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

Explores the relationships between surface processes such as weathering, mass movements, running water, wind, waves, and glacial ice, and the landforms these processes create. The course looks at geomorphic systems and the role of tectonics and climate in changing the balance of these systems. Actual research projects are presented to demonstrate geomorphic approaches to environmental questions. Students are exposed to research methods in the field and lab. Field trips and field reports, use of maps, and hands-on labs are included. A fee will be charged for this course.

Prerequisite(s): GEP 201, GEOL 102 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEP 351 - Natural Hazards

Unit(s): 3 This course focuses on geologic and atmospheric processes that result in natural hazards (e.g. hurricanes and earthquakes) and anthropogenic-caused climate change. It covers hazard monitoring, predication, risk assessment, and mitigation. The course examines the intersection between natural hazards and human society and the magnification of hazards to disasters and catastrophes.

Prerequisite(s): Completion of GE Golden Four (A1, A2, A3, B4) with a C- or better and completion of B1, B2 and at least 45 units

GE Category: Upper Division B

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEP 352 - Soil Science

Unit(s): 3-4 An introduction to soil science emphasizing applications to agronomy, archaeology, botany, ecology, engineering, geography, geology, land use planning, hazardous materials management, and water quality. Technical exercises emphasize low-cost scientific analytical equipment.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEP 354 - Watershed Hydrology and Management

Unit(s): 4 This course focuses on the flow of water between Earth's atmosphere, surface and the root zone of the soil, with a focus on the watershed unit. The hydrologic processes affecting surface and groundwater resources in a watershed, including precipitation, evapotranspiration, infiltration, and runoff will be examined in lectures and labs. Students work on an individual research project where they explore hydrological data and analysis.

Prerequisite(s): GEP 201 Co-requisite(s): GEP 387 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEP 355 - Weather and Climate

Unit(s): 3 An exploration of the atmosphere, how it differs from place to place and time to time. The role of radiation, temperature, humidity, evaporation, cloudiness, precipitation, and surface factors (topography, exposure and altitude) in differentiating world climates. Climate's influence on man physically and culturally, in history and prehistory. Climate change, drought and flood, and solar radiation are among the topics investigated in detail.

Prerequisite(s): Completion of GE Golden Four (A1, A2, A3, B4) with a C- or better and completion of B1, B2 and at least 45 units.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEP 360 - Introduction to Urban and Regional Planning

Unit(s): 4 Survey of contemporary planning as it has evolved in response to physical, environmental, social, and economic problems. Standard tools and innovative new approaches used by planners and governments to improve the urban environment.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEP 362 - Environmental Impact Assessment

Unit(s): 3-4 The practice of preparing environmental review documents as mandated by state and federal law. Information resources and methods used in analysis of impacts. Relationship between environmental review and comprehensive planning

Prerequisite(s): Class open to Juniors, Seniors, and Graduate Students only.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEP 367 - Transportation Policy and Technology

Unit(s): 3-4 Characteristics of multi-modal urban transportation systems and their role in society. Contemporary approaches in providing for travel demand and mitigating associated externalities. Potential implications of emerging transportation technologies

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEP 368 - Urban Design

Unit(s): 3-4 Exploration of the physical and visual form of urban communities. The appearance and aesthetic qualities of public open spaces and their constituent elements. Meaning of "sense of place." The effects of public policy on urban form. Urban design as one of the twin traditions of urban planning.

Prerequisite(s): Junior- or senior-level standing; Introduction to Urban and Regional Planning (GEP 360) is recommended.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEP 370 - Globalization and the City

Unit(s): 4 This course examines the evolution of cities as local and global political, economic and social centers. It explore the forces that drove urban growth and change in the 20th century, with a focus on how these forces shape contemporary issues such as inequality, cultural change, and segregation.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEP 371 - Social Geography of the American City

Unit(s): 3 Distribution of demographic and social groups across American urban, suburban, and rural areas, including historical and continuing patterns of segregation. Investigation of the roles of individual private decisions and government policy. Differences in societal experiences between socio-spatial groups.

Prerequisite(s): Completion of GE Golden Four (A1, A2, A3, B4) with a C- or better and completion of lower division D coursework and at least 45 units.

GE Category: Upper Division D

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEP 373 - Energy, Technology, and Society

Unit(s): 4 A lecture/discussion course designed to assist students in understanding energy as a fundamental measure of organization, structure, and transformation in society. Principal topics include: energy history; thermodynamics; energy resources and conversion technologies; global issues and trends; environmental impacts; energy economics, institutions, and politics. Elementary quantitative analysis.

Prerequisite(s): Junior- or senior-level standing, and completion of GE Area B4 (Math/Quantitative Reasoning) or prior or concurrent enrollment in GEP 280.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEP 374A - Strategies for Carbon and Energy Reductions

Unit(s): 3 How do we create and evaluate effective ways to reach our combined environmental, energy, climate, and social goals? You will construct cause and effect chains and learn how financial, thermal, and electrical models can estimate and evaluate the efficacy of policies. We'll use case studies from the SSU and Sonoma County climate plans.

Prerequisite(s): GEP 280

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEP 374B - Laboratory Methods for Energy Efficiency

Unit(s): 1 How can the use of laboratory instruments and techniques help us meet our energy and climate goals? You will create quantitative predictions of thermal and electrical energy use using mathematical models and computational techniques and compare them to observations of laboratory experiments. You will cover circuits, solar panels, insulation, motors, and other topics

Prerequisite(s): GEP 280 Co-requisite(s): GEP 374A

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEP 375 - Renewable and Resilient Energy Sources

Unit(s): 4 How do we bring energy to the places we need it with minimal impact to the environment? You will learn about energy generation, distribution, and coordination. Topics include solar photovoltaics, electricity markets, energy land use and environmental impacts, microgrids, and battery storage

Prerequisite(s): GEP 374a and GEP 374b

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEP 380 - Environmental Remote Sensing

Unit(s): 4 Environmental remote sensing uses imagery from satellite and airborne sensors to map properties of the Earth over broad spatial scales. This course develops an understanding of physical principles behind remote sensing, explores a range of sensors, spatial scales, and locations, and uses image processing techniques for extracting useful environmental information.

Prerequisite(s): GEP 387

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEP 385 - Cartographic Visualization

Unit(s): 3-4 Lecture: 2 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

Map and graphic methods in geography: history, design, theory, and construction. Topics include selection of map projections, use of scales, generalization, data input and processing, color, visualization of spatial data, and map production. Emphasis is placed on effective communication through graphic design. Covers the increasing role of geographic information systems (GIS) in cartography. Also examines the collection of geographic data, such as with global positioning systems (GPS). Exercises guide students through increasingly complex methods of data collection and cartographic construction. Laboratory fee may be charged; see current Schedule of Classes.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEP 387 - Introduction to Geographic Information Systems

Unit(s): 4 Geographic information system (GIS) technologies provide researchers and policy-makers with a powerful analytical framework for making decisions and predictions. As with any technology, the appropriate use of GIS depends greatly on the knowledge and skills of the user. This course addresses the scientific and technical aspects of working with geographical data, so that GIS users understand the general principles, opportunities, and pitfalls of recording, collecting, storing, retrieving, analyzing, and presenting spatial information. Both fundamental concepts and "hands on" experience with state-of-the-art software are incorporated through readings, lecture discussion, and laboratory assignments. The first half of the course focuses on the "nuts and bolts" of how a GIS works, while the second half concentrates on methods for spatial analysis and modeling. Course requires a basic competency with Microsoft operating system and Office applications.

Prerequisite(s): Course open to sophomores, Juniors, Seniors and graduate students

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEP 388 - Environmental Geographic Information Systems

Unit(s): 3-4 Environmental issues typically involve a range of physical, ecological and socioeconomic factors with complex interactions that span multiple spatial and temporal scales. Computer-based Geographic Information Systems (GIS) are particularly well-suited for describing, analyzing and modeling environmental problems and datasets, and the technology is widely used for local- to global-scale research, impact assessment, conservation planning and natural resource management. This course investigates a range of environmental problems through the unique perspective afforded by geospatial data analysis within a GIS. Lectures introduce the ecological, scientific and societal issues associated with major environmental issues of our time, such as land-use change, biodiversity loss, and global carbon emissions. These issues are then quantitatively analyzed with real-world spatial datasets using GIS-based methods and tools in coordinated laboratory exercises. In the process, students extend and strengthen GIS skills and concepts acquired through GEP 387.

Prerequisite(s): GEP 387, basic college-level math, statistics helpful.

Typically Offered Spring Odd Years

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEP 396 - Selected Topics

Unit(s): 1-4 Intensive study of selected topics related to geography, environment, and/or planning. Topics vary from semester to semester.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated Yes How many times? 3 Maximum units for credit

8

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEP 397 - Special Topics: Lab

Unit(s): 2-4 A single subject or set of related subjects not ordinarily covered by the GEP Department. Offerings will vary depending on visiting faculty, experimental courses, and educational needs.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated Yes How many times? 1 Maximum units for credit

8

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEP 400 - Special Topics Capstone

Unit(s): 3-4 Intensive capstone level study of selected topics of geography, environment, and/or planning. Topics vary from semester to semester. May be repeated for credit up to a maximum of 8 units.

Prerequisite(s): Completion of GEP Lower Division Foundation Coursework

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated Yes How many times? 2 Maximum units for credit

GEP 422 - Globalization and Environments

Unit(s): 4 This course critically analyzes the practices and ideas that underlie economic development and the resultant degradation of environments. The class attends to ways that specific people and places have either resisted environmental impoverishment, or alternatively worked together to create different, environmentally and socially sustainable paths to empowerment and well-being.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEP 431 - Restoration and Society

Unit(s): 4 This capstone course focuses on the ideas and theories behind environmental restoration work and asks some critical questions about the field: where did the idea of restoration come from? What are the goals of environmental restorations, and how do you know if a project is meeting those goals? What do we mean by the terms "wilderness", "native", "diversity", and so forth? Do environmental mitigation projects really work? We will also look at several specific case studies through the semester.

Prerequisite(s): Seniors and Graduate students only, consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEP 446 - Restoration Ecology

Unit(s): 4 Lecture and field course introducing major concepts and practical aspects of restoration ecology. Topics include: setting restoration goals, understanding ecological principles that guide restoration, using science to inform restoration, and planning, implementation, and measuring the success of restoration projects. Also examines the social, biological, and political forces that shape the design and outcome of restoration projects. Practical techniques covered include: invasive species removal, planting native species, conducting monitoring of biological systems, and the process of grant writing. Topics are addressed in diverse local systems, with a variety of community partners in the restoration field.

Prerequisite(s): GEP 340 or BIOL 131 or consent of instructor

Typically Offered Spring Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEP 456 - Global Climate Change: Past, Present, and Future

Unit(s): 4 An advanced course focusing on evidence of past climate change and predicted future change. Research methods used to reconstruct past climates are explored. Climate dynamics and the response of the environment will be examined.

Prerequisite(s): GEP 201 or GEOL 102, and Juniors, Seniors and Graduate students only.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEP 461 - Planning Practice and Methodology

Unit(s): 4 Techniques of professional planning practice. Collection, organization, and presentation of information and data used in planning. Preparation of staff reports and components of long-range plans. Current trends, issues, and debates facing practitioners.

Prerequisite(s): GEP 360 or can be taken concurrently, junior- or senior-level standing,

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEP 476 - Energy Services and Efficiency

Unit(s): 4 What are the most promising energy strategies to meet human needs with the least effect on the environment? You'll use mathematical models to estimate the energy use, cost, and carbon emissions for insulated buildings, heating and cooling, electric motors, and refrigeration. We'll use analytical and numerical methods for estimation and measurement

Prerequisite(s): GEP 374A and GEP 374B

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEP 486 - Environmental Data Analysis

Unit(s): 4 This course will introduce students to environmental data (Atmospheric, Oceanic and Earth's surface). Students will learn how to access, pre-process and analyze data using different statistical methods and geographic information systems (GIS). The course will also examine research questions that can be answered using these types of data and analyses. Lecture/Lab.

Prerequisite(s): GEP 201, GEP 280 and GEP 387, or consent of instructor. Course requires a basic competency with Microsoft operating system and Office applications.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEP 489 - Advanced Geographic Information Systems

Unit(s): 3-4 This capstone course provides greater depth in Geographic Information Systems (GIS). Through lab exercises, students build GIS databases, perform geospatial analyses, and create maps. Students conduct an independent research project on a topic of their choice, gather the appropriate spatial data, conduct GIS analyses, and present their results.

Prerequisite(s): GEP 387 and GEP 280, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEP 490 - Capstone Project Methods

Unit(s): 3 This is the first semester of an intensive, year-long project in which students conduct original research and/or produce a professional product. During Fall semester, students formulate a research project and develop the research skills needed to conduct that project. This is a prerequisite for GEP 491.

Prerequisite(s): GEP Majors. Crosslisted: GLBL 490

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEP 491 - Capstone Project

Unit(s): 3 A continuation of GEP 490. In the Spring semester, students conduct their work, produce their final product, and present their results. Students continue the same section that they completed in GEP 490.

Crosslisted: GLBL 491

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GEP 495 - Special Studies

Unit(s): 1-4 Independent study designed in consultation with an instructor. Requires prior approval of GEP faculty member and department chair.

Prerequisite(s): successful completion of at least two GEP courses and submission of a completed SSU special studies form; GEP majors or minors or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated Course may be repeated for credit for up to 8 units.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GEP 595 - Graduate Special Studies

Unit(s): 1-6 Advanced research and writing. Students work under close supervision of faculty members. Subject matter variable.

Prerequisite(s): consent of instructor and completed special studies form.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GER 101 - First Semester - The Personal World

Unit(s): 4 German for beginners. Through communicative activities covering the four language skills (listening, speaking, reading, and writing), students learn to ask and answer questions and share information about themselves, their families, and their daily activities.

GE Category: Satisfies GE Area C3 (Comparative Perspectives and Foreign Languages).

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GER 102 - Second Semester - Contemporary Germany

Unit(s): 4 Expansion of the skills acquired in GER 101. Students build on their knowledge of German culture. They improve their communicative competence, and develop skills needed to negotiate a variety of everyday situations in Germany.

Prerequisite(s): GER 101 or consent of instructor.

GE Category: Satisfies GE Area C3 (Comparative Perspectives and Foreign Languages).

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GER 195 - Elementary Special Studies

Unit(s): 1-4 Directed individual study.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GER 200 - Intermediate German: The German-Speaking World Today

Unit(s): 4 This course introduces various cities and regions that provide the context to review first-year German. Students develop ability to communicate in German and their understanding of Germany, Austria, and Switzerland by engaging with increasingly complex topics (i.e. education, environmental issues, politics, history).

Prerequisite(s): GER 102 or consent of instructor.

GE Category: Satisfies GE Area C3 (Comparative Perspectives and Foreign Languages).

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GER 210 - Intermediate German through Film

Unit(s): 4 This course uses films to expand students' knowledge of the history and culture of the German-speaking world. Films promote vocabulary enhancement, grammar review as well as improvement of speaking and writing skills. Cross-cultural comparisons encourage critical thinking skills.

Prerequisite(s): GER 102. This course may be taken before GER 200.

GE Category: Satisfies GE Area C3 (Comparative Perspectives and Foreign Languages).

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GER 300 - Advanced German Studies

Unit(s): 4 Prepares students for the Goethe-Certificate B1 proficiency examination (Zertifikat Deutsch). Students acquire differentiated vocabulary, greater grammatical accuracy, and improve their speaking and writing skills by focusing on varied language use in different contexts. Content may include: issues of gender or multiculturalism, the continued influence of the Nazi past, and German reunification.

Prerequisite(s): GER 200 and GER 210, or consent of instructor. Course may be taken before GER 314.

GE Category: Satisfies GE Area C3 (Comparative Perspectives and/or Foreign Languages).

Typically Offered Spring Only

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit under different subtitles. Must be taken in residence at SSU.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GER 314 - Love and Desire in German Literature

Unit(s): 4 Studies of literature, including film, art, and the cultural history of German-speaking countries.

Prerequisite(s): ENGL 101

GE Category: Satisfies GE Area C2.

Typically Offered Fall Only

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit under different title.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

GER 315 - German Language and Literature

Unit(s): 1 Readings and discussion of selected literary works in German. Review of vocabulary and grammar. Includes practice of pronunciation. Students pursuing the minor or special major in German must take this course concurrently with GER 314. Also open to other German students.

Prerequisite(s): GER 102 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GER 395 - Community Involvement Program

Unit(s): 1-4 CIP involves students in basic community projects, performing such tasks as tutoring, coaching, and assisting others in the process of learning. Students receive 1 to 4 units, depending on the specific tasks performed.

Prerequisite(s): consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

GER 495 - Special Studies

Unit(s): 1-4 Directed individual study.

GLBL 110 - Communication of Global Social Justice

Unit(s): 3 In this class students learn how to communicate information about global social justice issues through audio-visual presentation more effectively. We first focus on researching, designing, framing and delivering presentations generally. Then, through the frame of four global social justice topics (such as precarious, child, sweatshop, and forced labor, fair trade, corporate social responsibility, and ethical consumerism, and activism), we improve our abilities to research and design both positioned and more objective individual and group presentations. We will participate in group evaluation workshops following each presentation to engage our critical listening and critical thinking skills to improve our confidence with making public presentations.

GE Category: A1 - Oral Communication

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GLBL 310 - Professional Development

Unit(s): 2 This seminar covers topics essential for professional preparation in the fields of geography, global, environmental studies. Topics include discussions with guest speakers on career options in governmental, private, and non-profit settings; writing highly effective resumes, CVs, and cover letters; and techniques for successful interviewing. The course will also cover preparation for future training in professional and academic fields.

Prerequisite(s): GLBL Major and Sophomore, Junior or Senior Crosslisted: GEP 310

Typically Offered Spring Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

GLBL 490 - Capstone Project Methods

Unit(s): 2-3 This is the first semester of an intensive, year-long project in which students produce a group research project. Students formulate a research question, conduct literature reviews and evaluate analytical frameworks. Students are introduced to techniques specific to the group research and writing process. This is a prerequisite for GLBL 491.

Prerequisite(s): GLBL Major and Senior Crosslisted: GEP 490

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

GLBL 491 - Capstone Project

Unit(s): 3-4 A continuation of GLBL 490. Students conduct their work, produce their final product, and present their results.

GLBL 497 - Cross-Cultural Community Service Internship

Unit(s): 3 A three-unit community service internship is required of all students. This is a supervised program of cross-cultural community service work and study for a governmental or non-governmental agency, completed either at home or abroad. A minimum of 135 hours of supervised work is required. Students will keep a daily journal of their experiences, and upon completion will submit 1) a formal letter from their internship supervisor, verifying hours worked and duties performed; and 2) a four-page essay summarizing their experience in rich personal detail. Information about a broad spectrum of internship options is available from the Global Studies coordinator, whose approval is required for all service internship proposals.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

HD 200 - Introduction to Human Aging

Unit(s): 3 HD 200 is an introduction to the field of human aging. The course is a multidisciplinary examination of the way in which human aging is viewed by individuals and society from multiple perspectives including social, political and biological sciences, caregiving, social services, and ethics.

GE Category: E - Life Long learning & Self Development

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

HD 320 - Culture and the Life Course

Unit(s): 4 This course explores how culture shapes the human experience of the life course. Possible topics include the role of culture in human development (including its impact on interventions designed to facilitate development), the significance of institutions such as the school for processes of socialization, the way that language facilitates processes of human development, and the sociocultural context of developmental disabilities. Topics vary with each offering;

Prerequisite(s): open to upper division Human Development Majors only.

Typically Offered Fall Only

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit with consent of program coordinator.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face & Online Grading: Graded

HD 321 - Human Development Core Concepts

Unit(s): 4 This course offers an introduction to the social scientific theories that influence the study of human development. We consider theorists who examine the influence of political economy, culture, psychology, and biology on the life course. The course emphasizes the close reading, analysis, and discussion of texts representative of major approaches.

Prerequisite(s): open to upper division Human Development Majors only.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

HD 322 - Applied Human Development

Unit(s): 4 This capstone course considers some of the essential characteristics of what we might refer to as "applied human development." We take up four topics: 1) the politics and ethics of what it means to do applied work; 2) the challenges of applying divergent theoretical perspectives to practical problems; 3) the practical challenges of working on a specific applied project; and 4) the institutional characteristics of some of the career contexts in which human development knowledge gets applied. With these last two topics, we will engage with community partners in ways that help us to understand applied human development work.

Prerequisite(s): enrollment in or completion of HD 450 and either HD 320 or HD 321; open to Human Development Majors with senior standing only.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face & Online Grading: Graded

HD 325 - Topics in Human Development: Childhood and Adolescence

Unit(s): 3-4 This seminar deals with current topics in the development of humans during childhood and adolescence. Topics vary with each offering.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Human Development Majors with upper-division standing only.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit if topic differs. Open to upper-division Human Development majors only.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

HD 335 - Topics in Human Development: Adulthood and Lifespan

Unit(s): 3-4 This seminar deals with current topics in the development of humans during adulthood or across the lifespan. Topics vary with each offering.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Human Development Majors with upper-division standing only.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit if topic differs. Open to upper-division Human Development majors only.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

HD 350 - Topics in Human Development

Unit(s): 3-4 A seminar dealing with current topics in human development. Topics vary with each offering. Possible topics include: autism across the lifespan; child, adolescent, and adult development in sociocultural context; human difference across the lifespan; language and learning; culturally-shaped conceptions of childhood and development; interventions in human development.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Human Development Majors with upper-division standing only.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit if topic differs.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

HD 365 - Topics in Human Development: Gender and Sexuality

Unit(s): 3-4 This seminar deals with current topics in gender and sexuality across the lifespan. Topics vary with each offering.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Human Development Majors with upper-division standing only.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit if topic differs. Open to upper-division Human Development majors only.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

HD 375 - Topics in Human Development: Society, Culture and Language

Unit(s): 3-4 This seminar deals with current topics of human development in social, cultural and linguistic perspectives. Topics vary with each offering.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Human Development Majors with upper-division standing only.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit if topic differs. Open to upper-division Human Development majors only.

HD 450 - Qualitative Research Design

Unit(s): 4 This course introduces the way in which qualitative methods can be used to study the life course. After considering what it means to pose an interesting, viable, and ethical research question, the class will provide extensive training in one method central to the study of the cultural character of the life course: semi-structured interviews. Students will develop and carry out a collaborative research project throughout the course of the class.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Human Development Majors with upper-division standing only.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

HD 490 - Senior Project

Unit(s): 1 A senior capstone course devoted to senior projects required of Human Development students.

Prerequisite(s): Admission to the Human Development major, senior standing.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

HD 495 - Special Studies

Unit(s): 1-4 The Human Development major encourages independent study as preparation and practice for life-long self-directed learning. Students should formulate plans in consultation with a faculty member. Special forms for this purpose are available in the department office. These should be completed and filed during the add/drop period.

Prerequisite(s): upper-division Human Development majors with a minimum 3.0 GPA and consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit up to 8 units.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

HD 496 - Agency Internships

Unit(s): 1-4 Agency Internship to allow students in Human Development to do supervised internships in a variety of educational and social service settings.

Prerequisite(s): Upper division Human Development majors and consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

HEBR 101 - Elementary Modern Hebrew - First Semester

Unit(s): 4 This course offered as the first semester course in Hebrew Program. As such it addresses appropriate material for the beginning level. The course requires no prior Hebrew background. Students are exposed to spoken Hebrew during each class; they are expected to communicate in Hebrew with one another as well as with the instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

HEBR 102 - Elementary Modern Hebrew - Second Semester

Unit(s): 4 Hebrew for beginners, second level. Elementary oral expression and fundamentals of grammar, cultural readings, and beginning practice in composition.

Prerequisite(s): JWST 101 or equivalent, or instructor permission.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

HIST 150 - History: Credit by Examination

Unit(s): 3 Challenge Examination - The state code requirement in world or U.S. history may be satisfied by passing the department's challenge examination. (Dates and times are published at the beginning of each semester.) Instructor consent required.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

HIST 201 - Foundations of World Civilization

Unit(s): 3 An introduction to the early, classical, and medieval civilizations that have most influenced the modern world. Developments (from prehistory to 1500 C.E.) include the Eastern traditions of India, China, and Japan; the world of Judaism, Christianity, and Islam; the classical Mediterranean civilizations; tropical Africa; and the medieval and Renaissance cultures of the emerging West.

HIST 242 - History of the Americas Since Independence

Unit(s): 3 A comparison of the development of the United States after independence with that of Latin America. Topics include: colonial legacies, political leadership, expansion and conflict, regionalism, economic development, reform and revolution, church and state, race relations, education, and inter-American relations.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

HIST 251 - History of the United States to 1877

Unit(s): 3 A general survey of the major developments in U.S. history from the European discovery and colonization of the Western Hemisphere through Reconstruction. Required of all history majors.

GE Category: Satisfies GE Area D3 (U.S. History), and the state code requirement in history.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

HIST 252 - History of the United States Since 1865

Unit(s): 3 A general survey of the major developments in U.S. history from the end of Reconstruction to the present day.

GE Category: Satisfies GE Area D3 (U.S. History) and the state code requirement in history.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

HIST 305 - Warfare in the Pre-Modern Era

Unit(s): 4 This course will examine warfare in the ancient and medieval Near East, Mediterranean, and European worlds. Particular emphases will be placed on the development of new military technologies and strategies and their social, economic, and political ramifications. The class will also investigate the consequences of war and its impact on non-combatants.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

HIST 324 - Archaeology and the Bible

Unit(s): 4 An exploration of the archaeology and history of the ancient Near East, from the earliest human settlements through the Persian empire (ca. 10,500-332 BCE). Societies described in the Hebrew Bible are emphasized, with topics ranging from the rise of the state and international trade, to the identities and everyday lives of men, women, and children. The history and socio-political impacts of "Biblical Archaeology" are also examined. Prerequisites: upper-division standing or consent of instructor.

Prerequisite(s): Class open to Juniors, Seniors, and Graduate Students only. Crosslisted: JWST 324

HIST 404 - The Dark Ages

Unit(s): 4 The period following the 'fall of the Roman Empire' has often been thought of as a dark age when civilization all but collapsed. But how dark was it really? How much did things change for ordinary individuals? Did people really stop reading, writing, and bathing? To address these and related questions, this course examines the political, social, religious, economic, and military history of the Mediterranean world from roughly the sixth century to the year 1000, taking as its focus the relationship between the three principal religiopolitical blocs, which defined the period: the Byzantine (East Roman) Empire, the Islamic world, and the various successor states in the Latin West, including Vandal Africa, Visigothic Spain, Anglo-Saxon England, Ostrogothic and Lombard Italy, and Merovingian Gaul. We will also consider the Christianization of Europe, the formation and collapse of the Carolingian Empire, the rise of the Vikings.

ITDS 499 - Internship

Unit(s): 1-6 ITDS 499 is an opportunity for students to gain experiential learning in a professional/workplace environment. Students are expected to find a position that allows them to gain experience while solving a problem that uses the skill set they developed from an interdisciplinary perspective and apply these back to their course work and portfolio for the capstone experience. Liberal Study students are allowed to enroll in ITDS 499 each semester and these units will be counted toward the elective units for their degree completion. ITDS 499 is a contract course and the Liberal Studies Director will submit your paperwork and enroll you into the course. Each unit of internship should be considered 3 hours of time spent working with a supervisor at an off-site location or remotely and should have a total of 45 verified hours. Students are expected to find their own placement but this placement will be vetted by the university as per the policy on internships. Once a placement has been agreed upon a contract is filled out between the student, off-site supervisor and Director of Liberal Studies that explains how this internship supports an interdisciplinary degree.

JWST 342 - The Jewish Diaspora

Unit(s): 4 Jews across the world are connected to one another through the religious tradition they hold in common and through a shared sense of identity as a people. Yet, over the past two millennia, Jewish peoples have also been shaped by their diaspora experiences. Scattered across the globe, their diverse histories and environments have given rise to a variety of Jewish religious, cultural and social forms. This course compares on Jewish life in Eastern Europe, North Africa, Central Asia, Israel and the United States. These select case studies will not provide a comprehensive view of the great range of Jewish diaspora life. They will, however, provide a framework for understanding some of the critical issues at stake in the discussion of the Jewish Diaspora experience, including: cultural and religious adaptability, social boundary flexibility and maintenance, and ambivalence surrounding the question of where home is.

KIN 446 - Exercise Instruction

Unit(s): 3 This course provides each student with practical learning experiences designed to develop the skills needed to be a competent exercise instructor/leader. The course allows students to put into practice their knowledge of exercise from their previous major coursework in biomechanics, exercise physiology, and conditioning for performance and health. Students will be involved in group-centered instruction, field observation, laboratory experiences, and skill execution practicals.

Prerequisite(s): Kinesiology majors, BIOL 220, and BIOL 224 required.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

KIN 495D - Special Studies: Exercise Science

Unit(s): 1-4 Includes completion of a project designed to meet a specialized advanced study need. The student should have prerequisite skills. The project should be planned and described in writing, in consultation with and with the consent of the faculty advisor. There are two areas of study: 495D Special Studies in Exercise Science, and KIN 495E Special Studies in Lifetime Fitness.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

LIBS 201 - Exploring the Unknown

Unit(s): 9 An investigation of the meaning and limits of knowledge with respect to the nature of the mind and physical reality. These issues are pursued through several different but interrelated fields of study, including literature, art, philosophy, comparative religion, and science. The course considers Newtonian and quantum mechanical theories of physical reality, the religions of various cultures, and the functions of myth. The term includes a section focusing on the nature of human creativity.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to LIBS Majors or Minors only.

LIBS 204 - Minorities in American Cinema

Unit(s): 4 This course is designed to examine the fundamental beliefs, assumptions, and "self-evident" truths that serve as the foundation for American culture, and then to consider those truths in light of challenges provided by multicultural perspectives. Our primary focus will be the representations of racial minorities in American cinema from the beginning of the 20th century up to the present day. Applying an interdisciplinary and multicultural approach, we will investigate the depictions of race, racial identity, and interracial relationships in both mainstream (Hollywood) and alternative cinemas. We will supplement our inquiry through related works of literature and drama, in addition to readings in film theory, film history, and critical cultural studies. Thus, even as we consider the historical truths of American culture, these "truths" will be consistently interrogated and reformulated by examining the representations of minority figures and groups in American cinema.

GE Category: C1 - Arts and Critical Race Studies.

LIBS 320A - Elective Seminar Core A

Unit(s): 3 Courses under this core area focus on the relationship between the individual human societies. The moral and ethical underpinnings of our patterns of social interaction are investigated with special attention paid to how these affect race, gender, and class relations. Of particular importance to social scientists are questions concerning whether the goals of human dignity, political justice, economic opportunity, and cultural expression are being enhanced or destroyed by specific historical developments, cultural practices, economic arrangements, and political institutions.

Prerequisite(s): Restricted to LIBS Majors and Minors, LIBS 202 or LIBS 302 required.

LIBS 396 - Field Study

Unit(s): 1-4 Field Study for juniors and seniors is a project conducted outside of the University classroom setting that is taken for credit/no credit. It may include work that is literally outside in the field, or other hands on experience (e.g., a research study). Field Study projects are co-designed by a student and a sponsoring faculty member; or a faculty member may design a project, with student participation solicited. A student consults with a faculty member on the project, develops a plan of study, including number of units, project outcomes, number of meetings with the faculty sponsor and deadline for completion. A Project Contract is submitted to Admissions after the beginning of the semester and before the last day to add classes. Consent of instructor.

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to LIBS Majors or Minors only.

Unit(s): 3 The first half of a two-semester sequence that in two semesters covers the same material covered by the current one-semester MATH 150 (Modern Geometry) course, as well as providing just-in-time instruction in the algebra skills required in the course. Successful completion of the two-semester sequence

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Stretch Math eligible students.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

MATH 150B - Transformational Geometry

Unit(s): 3 The second half of a two-semester sequence that in two semesters covers the same material covered by the current one-semester MATH 150 (Modern Geometry) course, as well as providing just-in-time instruction in the algebra skills required in the course.

Prerequisite(s): MATH 150A

GE Category: B4 - Mathematics/Quantitative Reasoning

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

MATH 160 - Precalculus Mathematics

Unit(s): 4 Covers a brief review of college algebra; functional notation, composition, and decomposition of functions and inverse functions; behavior of families of functions such as polynomial, rational, exponential, and logarithmic; trigonometric functions, equations, and identities and some mathematical modeling. Emphasis on problem solving.

Prerequisite(s): Students must be eligible for single semester GE math to register for this course.

GE Category: B4 - Mathematics/Quantitative Reasoning

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

MATH 160W - Precalculus

Unit(s): 1 A workshop designed to be taken with MATH 160. Exploration of precalculus concepts through problem solving in a group setting.

Co-requisite(s): MATH 160.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

MATH 161 - Differential and Integral Calculus I

Unit(s): 4 Calculus I includes limits, continuity, the concept of the derivative, differentiation rules, and applications of the derivative, including curve sketching, extremum problems, L'Hopital's rule, implicit differentiation, related rates, Mean Value Theorem, introduction to integration, fundamental theorem of calculus, and substitution.

Prerequisite(s): Students must be eligible for single semester GE math to register for this course.

GE Category: B4 - Mathematics/Quantitative Reasoning

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

MATH 161A - Functions and Rates of Change

Unit(s): 4 The first half of a two-semester sequence that in two semesters covers the same material covered by the current one-semester MATH 161 (Differential and Integral Calculus 1) course, as well as providing just-in-time instruction in the algebra skills required in the course.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

MATH 161B - Functions and Rates of Change

Unit(s): 4 The second half of a two-semester sequence that in two semesters covers the same material covered by the current one-semester MATH 161 (Differential and Integral Calculus 1) course, as well as providing just-in-time instruction in the algebra skills required in the course.

Prerequisite(s): MATH 161A

GE Category: B4 - Mathematics/Quantitative Reasoning

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

MATH 161W - Calculus I Workshop

Unit(s): 1 A workshop designed to be taken with MATH 161. Exploration of first-semester calculus concepts through problem solving in a group setting.

Co-requisite(s): MATH 161 or MATH 161X

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

MATH 161X - Differential and Integral Calculus 1 Extended

Unit(s): 6 A 6-unit version of MATH 161 for students who feel that they need to refresh their algebra skills.

Prerequisite(s): Students must be eligible for single semester GE math to register for this course.

GE Category: B4 - Mathematics/Quantitative Reasoning

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

MATH 165 - Elementary Applied Statistics

Unit(s): 4 This course is a technology-intensive introduction to elementary statistics. Topics include: elementary descriptive and inferential statistics and their application to the behavioral, natural, and social sciences; sampling; special distributions; central limit theorem; estimation; tests of hypothesis; analysis of variance; linear regression; and correlation.

Prerequisite(s): Students must be eligible for single semester GE math to register for this course.

GE Category: B4 - Mathematics/Quantitative Reasoning

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

MATH 165A - Data Visualization and Analysis

Unit(s): 4 The first half of a two-semester sequence that in two semesters covers the same material covered by the current one-semester MATH 165 (Elementary Applied Statistics) course, as well as providing just-in-time instruction in the algebra skills required in the course. Successful completion of the two-semester sequence

Prerequisite(s): Course restricted to Stretch Math eligible students.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

MATH 165B - Data Visualization and Analysis

Unit(s): 4 The second half of a two-semester sequence that in two semesters covers the same material covered by the current one-semester Math 165 (Elementary Applied Statistics) course, as well as providing just-in-time instruction in the algebra skills required in the course.

Prerequisite(s): MATH 165A

GE Category: B4 - Mathematics/Quantitative Reasoning

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

MATH 165X - Elementary Applied Statistics Extended

Unit(s): 6 An active-learning introduction to elementary statistics. Topics include: descriptive and inferential statistics with applications to behavioral, natural, and social sciences; sampling; special distributions; central limit theorem; estimation; hypothesis testing; analysis of variance; linear regression; and correlation. Math 165X is equivalent to Math 165 enhanced by just-in-time additional mathematics support.

Prerequisite(s): Consent of Department of Mathematics and Statistics

GE Category: B4 - Mathematics/Quantitative Reasoning

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

MATH 175 - Mathematics Colloquium

Unit(s): 1 A student taking this course will be required to attend all presentations in the M*A*T*H Colloquium series during the semester and, in addition, keep a journal.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated May be taken three times for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

MATH 180 - Computing for Mathematics and Science

Unit(s): 2 This course will utilize a software system, such as Mathematica, to implement numerical, symbolic, and graphical computations useful in mathematics and science. It will also introduce students to procedural programming in that system.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in MATH 161 or MATH 161X or MATH 161B or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

MATH 185 - Selected Topics in Math

Unit(s): 1-5 Subject matter to be determined by instructor and may differ from semester to semester. The course title will appear on the student's transcript.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated This course may be repeated with different subject matter for up to 12 units.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

MATH 195 - Special Studies

Unit(s): 1-4 Special Studies may be arranged to cover an area of interest not covered in the lower-division courses offered by the department.

Prerequisite(s): a college-level math course and consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

MATH 200 - Discrete Mathematics

Unit(s): 3 Designed for elementary and middle school teachers, this course is a study of discrete mathematics with emphasis on its use in other areas of mathematics and in real world problems. Topics include selections from logic, proof, coding and cryptography, set theory, sequences, mathematical induction, combinatorics, graphs, and others as selected by the instructor.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in a GE mathematics class or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Not Recently Offered

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

MATH 211 - Differential and Integral Calculus II

Unit(s): 4 Calculus II includes the calculus of exponential and logarithmic functions, trigonometric and inverse trigonometric functions, numerical integration, techniques of integration, introduction to applications of integration including volumes and probability distributions, differential equations, Taylor polynomials, L'Hopital's rules, improper integrals, series, and introduction to partial derivatives.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in MATH 161, MATH 161B or MATH 161X or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

MATH 211S - Calculus II-S

Unit(s): 2 First half of MATH 211.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in MATH 161 or MATH 161X or MATH 161B or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

MATH 211W - Calculus II Workshop

Unit(s): 1 A workshop designed to be taken with MATH 211. Exploration of second semester calculus concepts through problem solving in a group setting.

Co-requisite(s): MATH 211.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

MATH 220 - Reasoning and Proof

Unit(s): 4 This course will teach students to analyze and evaluate scientific and rhetorical reasoning, with emphasis on the reasoning used in Mathematical proofs. Students will identify and evaluate unstated assumptions in statistical tables and charts from real-world media, submit coherent and original proofs of theorems, and develop verbal and non-verbal skills for making persuasive oral arguments and presentations on mathematical topics.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in (MATH 161 or MATH 161X or MATH 161B and a Math/Stats course numbered 200 or above) or CS 242 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

MATH 222 - Elementary Applied Linear Algebra

Unit(s): 3 A course in vector and matrix algebra applied to science and computing. Topics include systems of linear equations, determinants, Euclidean and general vector spaces, eigenvalues and eigenvectors, linear transformations.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in MATH 160 or MATH 161 or MATH 161B or MATH 161X or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

MATH 241 - Linear Algebra with Applications in Differential Equations

Unit(s): 4 A course in vector and matrix algebra applied to the study of differential equations. Topics include vectors and matrices, linear independence, spanning, bases, linear transformations, first order differential equations and linear systems, phase planes, geometric and numerical methods.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in MATH 211 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

MATH 250 - Probability and Statistics for Future Teachers

Unit(s): 2 A study of elementary probability and statistics and their real-world contexts. Topics include the binomial distribution, conditional probability, expected value, data collection and sampling, measures of location and variability, estimation and simple hypothesis testing. The course is designed for teachers and may not be substituted for MATH 165.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in MATH 300B or MATH 161 or MATH 161B or MATH 161X or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Spring Only

May Be Repeated Repeatable for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

MATH 261 - Multivariable Calculus

Unit(s): 4 Multivariable calculus includes partial derivatives, multiple integrals, alternative coordinate systems, vector functions and their derivatives, line integrals, Green's Theorem, Stokes' Theorem, and Divergence Theorem.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in Math 211 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

MATH 265 - Intermediate Applied Statistics with SPSS

Unit(s): 4 This course is a technology-intensive examination of the application of statistical techniques to the real world using SPSS. The course extends the concepts learned in an elementary statistic course and introduces new topics; it is suitable for students with an interest in applying statistics to their field of interest. Topics selected from: theory of estimation, ANOVA (analysis of variance), multiple regression, principles of experimental design, sampling theory, time series analysis, non-parametric statistics, and multivariate analysis.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in MATH 165 or MATH 165X or MATH 165B or MATH 250 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

MATH 295 - Community Involvement Program

Unit(s): 1-4 CIP involves students in basic community problems, performing such tasks as tutoring, coaching, and reading for the blind. Students receive 1 to 4 units, depending on the specific tasks performed. No more than 3 units of credit in CIP may be applied toward any Mathematics degree.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

MATH 300A - Elementary Number Systems

Unit(s): 3 This course, designed for prospective elementary and middle school teachers, explores numerical ideas underlying the K-8 mathematics curriculum. The emphasis is on understanding the mathematical ideas and procedures, and on representing them in ways that children can understand. Alternative ways of representing and solving problems are encouraged. Problem solving and logical thinking are emphasized throughout.

Prerequisite(s): Completion of GE Golden Four (A1, A2, A3, B4) with a C- or better and completion of B1, B2 and at least 45 units.

GE Category: GE Area B UD Science

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

MATH 300B - Data, Chance, and Algebra

Unit(s): 3 This course is designed for prospective elementary and middle school teachers. The focus in algebra is on patterns and functions, algebraic structure, representations and connections, and reasoning and problem solving. The focus in data and chance is on developing solid understanding of fundamental concepts and skills in statistics and probability, and on enhancing students' understanding and skills in number and computation proportional reasoning, and algebra.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in MATH 300A required.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

MATH 303 - Interest Theory

Unit(s): 3 Basic interest theory, including patterns of growth, interest operations, basic applications, level payment annuities, non-level payment annuities, yield rates, amortization and sinking funds, and bonds.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in MATH 161 or MATH 161B or MATH 161X or equivalent, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

MATH 306 - Number Theory

Unit(s): 4 Topics include mathematical induction, Euclidean algorithm, congruences, primes, fundamental theorem of arithmetic, Fermat's little theorem, Euler's theorem, primitive roots, quadratic reciprocity, and polynomials over the real numbers. Additional topics may include Pythagorean triples, the Goldbach conjecture, perfect numbers, amicable numbers, Chinese remainder theorem, Fibonacci numbers, cryptography, prime number theorem, Möbius inversion.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in MATH 220 or MATH 142 or CS 242 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Spring Only

May Be Repeated Repeatable for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

MATH 308 - College Geometry

Unit(s): 4 Topics include neutral geometry, plane and solid Euclidean geometry, isometries in the Euclidean plane (transformational geometry), and hyperbolic geometry. Additional topics may include the Hilbert postulates, construction of geometries from fields, and projective geometry.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in MATH 220 or MATH 142 or CS 242 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Spring Only

May Be Repeated Repeatable for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

MATH 310 - History of Mathematics

Unit(s): 4 Mathematics from ancient times to the present. The student learns how to solve problems of the past using only the tools of the past. Students will complete a major project using adaptations of historical sources to link the history of mathematics to the teaching of mathematics.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in MATH 161 or MATH 161X or MATH 161B or consent of instructor required.

Typically Offered Fall Only

May Be Repeated Repeatable for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

MATH 316 - Graph Theory and Combinatorics

Unit(s): 4 A study of combinatorics, probability, and graph theory. Topics will include the elements of set theory, counting techniques such as permutations and combinations, discrete probability, Hamiltonian and Eulerian properties of graphs, graph isomorphism, coloring and planarity. Additional topics may include the pigeonhole principle, the inclusion-exclusion principle, generating functions, partitions and recurrence relations, Polya's theorem, matching, and trees, with applications in many disciplines. Students may not earn credit for both Math 316 and MATH 416.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in MATH 220 or MATH 142 or CS 242 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Spring Only

May Be Repeated Repeatable for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

MATH 320 - Modern Algebra I

Unit(s): 4 An introduction to the theory of groups, rings, and fields. Topics covered include permutation and cyclic groups, factor groups, ideals and factor rings, and isomorphism and homomorphism theory of groups and rings.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in MATH 220 or consent of instructor required.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

MATH 322 - Linear Algebra

Unit(s): 4 Topics include vector spaces, linear transformations, matrices, linear equations, determinants, diagonalization, inner product spaces, and additional topics such as the Cayley-Hamilton Theorem, Singular Value Decomposition, or Canonical Forms.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in MATH 220 and (MATH 241 or MATH 222) or consent of instructor required.

Typically Offered Spring Only

May Be Repeated Repeatable for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

MATH 330 - Techniques of Problem Solving

Unit(s): 1 Cultivates by experience and example the mental disciplines for generating creative solutions to challenging problems. The problems to be considered will be taken largely from recent examinations in the William Lowell Putnam Mathematical Competition, sponsored by the Mathematical Association of America. No more than 4 units of credit in this course may be applied toward any Mathematics degree.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in MATH 161 or MATH 161X or MATH 161B or consent of instructor required.

Typically Offered Fall Only

May Be Repeated May be taken four times for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

MATH 340 - Real Analysis I

Unit(s): 4 Topics may include construction of the real numbers, sequences, topology of the real numbers, metric spaces, continuity, the derivative, and the Riemann integral.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in MATH 220 and (MATH 241 or MATH 261) or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

MATH 345 - Probability Theory

Unit(s): 4 Topics include probability spaces, discrete and continuous random variables, selected probability distributions for random phenomena, distributions of functions of random variables, moment generating functions, expected value, covariance and correlation, conditional expectation, law of large numbers and central limit theorem, and sampling distribution of estimators.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in MATH 261 or Math 261 can be taken concurrently, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

MATH 345E - Probability Theory for Engineering

Unit(s): 2 Lecture: 2 hours

This is a two-unit one-half semester introduction to probability theory for Engineering students. Topics covered include basic set theory, probability, combatorics, discrete and continuous random variables, probability distribution and density functions, first and second moments, and functions of random variables.

Prerequisite(s): MATH 211 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Not Recently Offered

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

MATH 352 - Numerical Analysis

Unit(s): 4 Selected numerical and iterative processes for solving mathematical problems and their applications. Topics include finding roots with bisection and Newton's method; solving systems of linear equations using LU decomposition and Gauss-Seidel methods; polynomial approximation using Taylor's Theorem, Lagrange interpolations, and the theory of spline functions; numerical integration using Simpson's rule and Gaussian integration; numerical solutions to ODEs using Euler's and modified Euler's method.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in MATH 241 (or may take Math 241 concurrently), MATH 180, CS 115 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall Only

May Be Repeated Repeatable for credit..

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

MATH 367 - Statistical Consulting and Communication

Unit(s): 2 This course is a blending of theoretical and practical aspects of statistical consulting. Students learn how to consult with professionals in various fields, find creative statistical solutions to real-world problems, and present results in oral and written form. Students also learn about research and statistical software packages.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in MATH 265 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

MATH 375 - M*A*T*H Colloquium

Unit(s): 1 Students will be required to attend M*A*T*H talks, keep a journal, and write a significant paper on one of the talks. No more than 3 units may be applied to the upper-division major or minor requirements. May not be taken concurrently with MATH 175.

Prerequisite(s): Completion of at least 60 semester units

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated May be taken three times for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

MATH 381 - Computing for Statistics: SAS Programming Language

Unit(s): 2 Students will learn how to write SAS programs in order to perform data management tasks, statistical analysis, and to generate summary graphs and SAS reports. Topics include essential programming concepts (the environment and steps); typical data processing tasks; data management techniques (working with SAS libraries and different types of data, data set input and output, validation, merging, and subsets); statistical analyses (descriptive statistics, histograms and bar charts, k analysis of variance, regression analysis); and generation of SAS reports.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in MATH 265 or concurrent enrollment in Math 265.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

MATH 390 - Fieldwork and Seminar: Secondary Mathematics Teaching

Unit(s): 2 Forty-five hours of observation in middle school, junior high, and/or high school mathematics classrooms, plus a weekly seminar. Students begin to view school mathematics from the vantage point of a teacher. Intended primarily for Mathematics majors in the secondary teaching track or students considering a career in this field. This course satisfies the 45 hours of field observation Required for acceptance into SSU's Single Subject Credential Program, and initiates the development of the Mathematics Portfolio required for Mathematics majors in the secondary teaching track.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in MATH 161 or MATH 161X or MATH 161B or consent of instructor required.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

MATH 399 - Practicum in Mathematics

Unit(s): 1-4 Supervised unpaid instructional work experience in Mathematics. May include tutoring, assisting with classroom activities, and leading supplementary course workshops. Thirty hours of contact time is required for each unit. Does not count for credit in the major or the minor, except for one unit in the Integrated Program.

Prerequisite(s): requires previous or concurrent enrollment in an upper-division mathematics course and consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated May be repeated for up to 4 units of credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

MATH 416 - Graph Theory and Combinatorics

Unit(s): 4 A study of combinatorics, probability, and graph theory. Math 416 covers the same topics as MATH 316. Students taking Math 416 will work advanced problems from these topics and do a special research project which requires a significant paper and an oral presentation. Students may not earn credit for both MATH 316 and Math 416.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in MATH 142 or MATH 220 or CS 242 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated Not repeatable for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

MATH 418 - Topology

Unit(s): 4 Topics include definition of a topology, open & closed sets, continuous mappings, subspaces, bases and subbases of a topology, compact topological spaces, separation axioms, connected, path connected, normal spaces, regular spaces, metric spaces, product spaces, and quotient spaces. Will also include homotopy, the fundamental group, and covering spaces as time permits. Theorems include the Urysohn lemma, Tietze Extension Theorem, and the Tychonoff Theorem.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in MATH 340 or consent of instructor. MATH 320 is recommended.

Typically Offered Spring Alternate Years

May Be Repeated Not repeatable for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

MATH 420 - Modern Algebra II

Unit(s): 4 A continuation of MATH 320. Advanced topics in the theory of groups, rings, and fields. Depth in Algebra at a level expected of entering graduate students. Coverage will include topics such as the direct product of groups, finite Abelian groups, Sylow Theorems, unique factorization domains, field extensions, and Galois Theory.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in MATH 320 or equivalent.

Typically Offered Spring Alternate Years

May Be Repeated Not repeatable for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

MATH 430 - Linear Systems Theory

Unit(s): 3 Topics may include correlation, convolution, Fourier, Laplace and z-transform, difference equations, fast Fourier transforms, and state variable theory.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in MATH 241 or other differential equations course, or consent of instructor. Crosslisted: EE 400 and CES 400

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

MATH 431 - Applied Partial Differential Equations

Unit(s): 4 Topics covered in this course will include Introduction and Classification of PDEs, Mathematical models in physics and engineering, Theory and solution of quasilinear first-order PDEs, Power series solutions of an ODE, The Sturm separation theorem for second-order linear equations, Second-order linear and nonlinear PDEs including applications, Fourier series, boundary-value problems, Fourier and Laplace transforms, numerical methods and solutions, and approximation of solutions using the finite-difference method.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in MATH 241 and (MATH 180 or CS 115), or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Spring Only

May Be Repeated Not repeatable for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

MATH 440 - Real Analysis II

Unit(s): 4 Topics include sequences and series of functions, pointwise versus uniform convergence, power and Taylor series, Lebesgue measure, Lebesgue measurable functions and the Lebesgue integral. Additional topics may include the Weierstrass approximation theorem, orthogonal functions, Fourier series, square-integrable functions, sigma algebras of subsets, and general measure spaces.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- of better in MATH 340 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Spring Alternate Years

May Be Repeated Not repeatable for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

MATH 441 - Operations Research

Unit(s): 3 A course in operations research and industrial problem solving. Topics may include Student Optimization, simplex algorithm for linear programming, queueing theory, game theory, PERT least time path analysis, and mathematical modeling of industrial problems.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- of better in MATH 345 and (MATH 241 or MATH 222), or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

MATH 445 - Mathematical Statistics and Operations Research

Unit(s): 4 Topics include: properties of statistics, convergence in probability, theory of estimation and confidence intervals, Bayesian statistics, tests of significance, power and uniformly most powerful tests, random processes (with emphasis on queueing theory), and stationarity.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- of better in MATH 345 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

MATH 460 - Complex Analysis

Unit(s): 4 Topics will include the complex field, functions, limits, continuity, differentiation, the Cauchy-Riemann equations, conformal mappings, path integration, Cauchy's Integral Theorem and Integral Formulas, the Liouville Theorems, the Laurent Expansion, singularities, poles, residues, contour integration. Additional topics may include topics such as Mittag-Leffler's Partial-fractions Theorem, and Riemann surfaces.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- of better in MATH 340 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Spring Alternate Years

May Be Repeated Not repeatable for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

MATH 465 - Experimental Design and Regression Analysis

Unit(s): 4 Advanced course in simple and multiple linear regression analysis; nonlinear and nonparametric regression analysis. Design of experiments and analysis of variance including one-way, two-way and block design; nonparametric techniques and multiple comparison methods.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in (MATH 241 or MATH 222) and in MATH 265 and MATH 345 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

MATH 467 - Statistical Consulting, Communication, and Project Management

Unit(s): 2 This course is a blending of theoretical and practical aspects of statistical consulting. Students learn how to consult with professionals in various fields, find creative statistical solutions to real-world problems and present results in oral and written form. Students also learn about research and statistical software packages. MATH 467 covers the same topics as MATH 367. In addition, students taking MATH 467 will also learn how to oversee a statistical project completed by a team.

Prerequisite(s): Grade of C- or better in MATH 367 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

MATH 470 - Mathematical and Statistical Modeling

Unit(s): 4 The process of expressing scientific principles, experiments, and conjectures in mathematical terms. Topics include: gathering reliable data, exposing underlying assumptions, variables, relationships, levels, refining of models, and stochastic models. Deterministic vs. stochastic, discrete vs continuous, and deductive vs statistical models. Applications to biology, physics, chemistry, geology, social science and environmental sciences.

Prerequisite(s): Completion of GE Golden Four (A1, A2, A3, B4) with a C- or better and completion of B1, B2 and at least 45 units. Grade of C- or better in MATH 211 or consent of instructor.

GE Category: Upper Division B

Typically Offered Fall Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

MATH 485 - Selected Topics in . . .

Unit(s): 1-3 Subject matter and number of units to be determined by the instructor and may differ from semester to semester. Some of the possible areas of study are multivariable analysis, calculus of variations, convex geometry, differentiable manifolds, graph theory, Galois theory, algebraic topology, and integral equations.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated This course may be repeated for up to 6 units. The course title will appear on the student's transcript.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

MATH 490 - Capstone Seminar: Secondary Mathematics Teaching

Unit(s): 1 Seminar focusing on connections among undergraduate coursework, secondary school curriculum, and learning and teaching mathematics. Students present their completed Mathematics Subject Matter Program portfolios for final evaluation. Students draw upon their portfolios, experiences, and readings in mathematics education to present information and engage fellow students in discussion of relevant issues.

Prerequisite(s): Completion of 90 semester units or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Spring Only

PHIL 101 - Critical Thinking

Unit(s): 3 Critical Thinking is the best defense against intellectual trickery and self-delusion. It provides specific techniques and tools whereby we can avoid basic fallacies in our own thinking and detect them in the thought of others. Reasoning is a highly complicated human activity and cannot be satisfactorily studied in an intellectual vacuum. Hence, in this course, critical thinking and uncritical thought are contrasted in the context of the world of human interests and activities-- social, political and scientific. All of the basic 'tricks' for persuading people to accept false premises and conclusions as true are systematically laid out and their detection practiced. Some basic works of world philosophers will be studied to substantiate and contextualize the technical focus of the course.

Faculty will select the specific figures in light of their current research interests and projects. The course can range over historical and contemporary texts. Possible topics might include Hegel, Kant, Nietzsche, Aristotle, Heidegger, and Habermas. Per faculty interest, students may study philosophical figures from non-Western traditions, such as Buddhism.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

PHIL 309 - Philosophy and Robotics

Unit(s): 4 Robotics stands to transform every aspect of our society. This class explores the values and ethical norms that are impacted by the development of these technologies as well as the political policies that might need to be developed to mitigate those impacts. The course includes lecture and lab sessions so the student can learn the practice, as well as the theories, behind the creation of robotics technologies. The labs utilize the SSU Maker Space and students will engage in hands on interactions with simple robotics systems.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face & Hybrid Grading: Graded

PHIL 312 - Philosophy of Love and Emotion

Unit(s): 4 Students examine the nature of love and emotion through a philosophically informed interdisciplinary framework. Philosophy provides the means for integrating recent empirical theories of love from psychology, biology and neuroscience. Students read historical and contemporary philosophical writings and selections from work in evolutionary biology, the neurological structure of emotion, attachment theory, positive and developmental psychology and social psychology. Students integrate these diverse theoretical approaches using the tools of philosophy.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face & Online Grading: Graded

PHIL 375 - Drugs, Prostitution, Punishment and More: Philosophy of Law

Unit(s): 4 This course will expose students to classical and contemporary issues in Philosophy of Law. Topics may include the following: When can the government use the law to infringe on our liberty? Is it legitimate for the law to force us to act in our own best interests, say by prohibiting drugs or prostitution? When can the law interfere with freedom of expression? In particular, can it prohibit offensive speech, such as racist or sexist speech, or pornography? Should we abolish punishment, so that criminal offenders are never punished for their crimes? This course will also address classical analytic jurisprudence.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

PHIL 376 - Gender and Social Justice

Unit(s): 4 This course uses philosophy's tools to analyze how gender has been implicated in questions of social justice that arise in a multi-cultural, global context. The investigation will be intersectional and global, taking seriously how gender and gendered experience is shaped by and interacts with other social phenomenon, such as race, sexuality, nationality, and geographic and cultural context. This course will consider foundational texts and debates in feminist philosophy, as well as contemporary developments.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

PHIL 377 - Legal reasoning and the LSAT

Unit(s): 4 This course will expose students to legal reasoning in order to prepare them for the LSAT. It builds skills in the kind of Analytical Reasoning and Logical Reasoning that constitute the core of the LSAT and covers logical concepts, analytical reading, application of legal concepts, oral arguments and reasoning.

Crosslisted: CCJS 377, POLS 377

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

PHIL 390 - Advanced Topics in Philosophy

Unit(s): 1-6 Topics courses are intended to cover some particular aspect of a philosophical problem, a particular philosopher, or some philosophical issue not normally explored in detail in any of the standard course offerings. Topics include: philosophy in literature, American philosophy, phenomenology, advanced logic, philosophy of science, Eastern world views, and 20th century philosophy.

Typically Offered Not Recently Offered

May Be Repeated May be repeated (with a different focus) for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

PHIL 400 - Senior Seminar

Unit(s): 4 A capstone research-based seminar for students in their senior year. Students determine topics based on their concentration in the major. Students must complete 32 units of credit, including all their lower division major unit load before taking this course.

Typically Offered Spring Only

May Be Repeated May not be repeated for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

PHIL 450 - Senior Thesis (A)

Unit(s): 3 Writing of a paper deemed acceptable by a faculty director and reader. Superior papers nominated for distinction will be defended before the philosophy faculty. Students wishing to be candidates for graduation "with distinction" are urged to write a thesis.

Prerequisite(s): advanced standing and instructor consent.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

PHIL 452 - Senior Thesis (B)

Unit(s): 3 Writing of a paper deemed acceptable by a faculty director and reader. Superior papers nominated for distinction will be defended before the philosophy faculty. Students wishing to be candidates for graduation "with distinction" are urged to write a thesis.

Prerequisite(s): PHIL 450

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

PHIL 462 - Research Assistant in Philosophy

Unit(s): 1-6 Intended to give selected students experience in participating in the construction of a professor's research project.

Prerequisite(s): advanced standing and a faculty invitation.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

PHIL 470 - Teaching Assistant in Philosophy

Unit(s): 1-6 Intended to give students experience in assisting the instructor in a philosophy course by doing research and tutoring students in the class.

Prerequisite(s): advanced standing and consent of the instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

PHIL 495 - Special Studies

Unit(s): 1-4 Advanced individualized instruction and research with one or more members of the philosophy faculty. The course is designed to provide advanced students with an opportunity to do specialized research and study under strict faculty supervision.

Prerequisite(s): consent of the instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit up to 8 units.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

PHIL 499 - Law, Ethics, and Justice Internship

Unit(s): 1-4 Supervised training and experience in applied philosophy for advanced students in community organizations. Internship contracts are required.

Prerequisite(s): Consent of the instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

PHYS 100 - Descriptive Physics

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

A descriptive survey of the important principles of physics.

GE Category: B1 - Physical science

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

PHYS 102 - Descriptive Physics Laboratory

Unit(s): 1 Laboratory: 3 hours

Experimental demonstrations, exercises, and field trips illustrating the methods by which physicists have learned what they claim to know about the world. Instruction is at the PHYS 100 level.

GE Category: B3 - Laboratory Activity

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

PHYS 107 - Introduction to Physical Science for Teachers

Unit(s): 3 A course designed to introduce students to a range of topics in physics and chemistry that are required by the California Science Standards for grades K-8, including the laws of motion, energy, the structure of matter, the states of matter, electricity and magnetism, and light and optics. Lectures include many demonstrations to illustrate physical science principles and students will be asked to think about how they would demonstrate or explain various concepts.

Crosslisted: CHEM 107

Typically Offered Fall Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Graded

PHYS 114 - Introduction to Physics I

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 4 hours

The first of three basic sequential courses in physics for science and mathematics majors. A calculus based introduction to classical mechanics; including vector analysis, laws of motion, conservation laws, and rotational motion.

Prerequisite(s): MATH 161, MATH 161B, or MATH 161X or equivalent, or consent of instructor.

GE Category: B1 - Physical science

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

PHYS 114W - Physics I Workshop

Unit(s): 1 A workshop designed to be taken with PHYS 114. Exploration of first-semester calculus based physics concepts through inquiry based learning and problem solving in a group setting.

Co-requisite(s): PHYS 114

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

PHYS 116 - Introductory Laboratory Experience

Unit(s): 1 Laboratory: 3 hours

Demonstrations and participatory experiments are used to increase the student's familiarity with classical mechanics. Applications include biological, geophysical, medical, and environmental phenomena.

Prerequisite(s): PHYS 114 Co-requisite(s): PHYS 114

GE Category: B3 - Laboratory Activity

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

PHYS 209A - General Physics Laboratory

Unit(s): 1 Laboratory: 3 hours

Laboratory experiments to accompany PHYS 210A and develop the student's ability to perform measurements of physical phenomena and to increase their appreciation of the sense of the physical universe gained through experimentation.

Prerequisite(s): high school algebra and trigonometry and a high school physical science, and previous or concurrent enrollment in PHYS 210A

GE Category: B3 - Laboratory Activity

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

PHYS 209B - General Physics Laboratory

Unit(s): 1 Laboratory: 3 hours

Laboratory experiments to accompany PHYS 210B and develop the student's ability to perform measurements of physical phenomena and to increase their appreciation of the sense of the physical universe gained through experimentation.

Prerequisite(s): PHYS 209A and PHYS 210A or PHYS 114 and PHYS 116 Co-requisite(s):

Concurrent enrollment in PHYS 210B is strongly recommended.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

PHYS 210A - General Physics

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

A basic course in physics for students majoring in Biology, Geology, or preprofessional programs. Fundamentals of kinematics, Newton's laws, work, momentum, harmonic motion, and an introduction to fluids and concepts of temperature. Registration by Mathematics majors requires Physics and Astronomy Department approval.

Prerequisite(s): Students need to be GE Math ready to register for this course.

GE Category: B1 - Physical science

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

PHYS 210B - General Physics

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

A basic course in physics for students majoring in Biology, Geology, or preprofessional programs. Topics include: electric charges, potentials, fields and currents, magnetism, electromagnetic waves, and optics. Registration by Mathematics majors requires Physics and Astronomy Department approval.

Prerequisite(s): PHYS 210A or PHYS 114

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

PHYS 214 - Introduction to Physics II

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 4 hours

The continuation of PHYS 114. Electrostatics, quasistatic fields and currents, magnetostatics; electromagnetic induction; waves; physical and geometric optics.

Prerequisite(s): PHYS 114 and MATH 211

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

PHYS 216 - Introductory Laboratory

Unit(s): 1 Laboratory: 3 hours

Selected experiments to increase the student's working physical knowledge of the natural world.

Prerequisite(s): PHYS 114 and PHYS 116 and MATH 211. Co-requisite(s): Concurrent enrollment in PHYS 214 is strongly recommended.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

PHYS 300 - Physics of Music

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

Introduction to physical principles encountered in the study of music, applicable laws of mechanics and acoustics, harmonic analysis, musical scales, sound production in musical instruments, elements of electronic music.

Prerequisite(s): Completion of GE Golden Four (A1, A2, A3, B4) with a C- or better and completion of B1, B2 and at least 45 units.

GE Category: Upper Division B

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

PHYS 304 - The Strange World of Modern Physics

Unit(s): 3 A primarily conceptual introduction to the physical principles of Special Relativity and Quantum Mechanics. Among other things, this course will include studies of: how time passes at different rates for different observers, to what extent a particle can be in multiple places at once, and the foundational experiments supporting these surprising phenomena.

Prerequisite(s): Completion of GE Golden Four (A1, A2, A3, B4) with a C- or better and completion of B1, B2 and at least 45 units.

GE Category: Upper Division B

Typically Offered Spring Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face, Hybrid & Online Grading: Student Option

PHYS 313 - Electronics

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

A comprehensive review of DC and AC circuit theory, applications of diodes, transistors and operational amplifiers, electronic test instruments, electronic transducers, waveform generators, noise, logic gates and Boolean algebra, number systems and codes, combinational logic circuits, and applications of circuit simulation programs.

Prerequisite(s): PHYS 210B or PHYS 214, MATH 160, MATH 161, MATH 161B or MATH 161X or consent of instructor. Co-requisite(s): PHYS 313L

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

PHYS 313L - Electronics Laboratory

Unit(s): 1 Laboratory: 3 hours

Laboratory to accompany PHYS 313. Experiments in this lab are designed to address the major topics of the PHYS 313 lecture course. Students will experiment with physical and simulated circuits.

Prerequisite(s): PHYS 209B or PHYS 216; MATH 160, MATH 161, MATH 161B or MATH 161X; or consent of instructor. Co-requisite(s): PHYS 313

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

PHYS 314 - Introduction to Physics III

Unit(s): 4 Lecture: 4 hours

The continuation of PHYS 214. Special relativity, elementary quantum mechanics, the Bohr atom and deBroglie waves, the Schrödinger wave equation with applications to simple one-dimensional problems and to atomic structure, elementary nuclear physics, introduction to thermal physics and equilibrium statistical mechanics, the partition function, Boltzmann statistics.

Prerequisite(s): PHYS 214 and MATH 261

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

PHYS 320 - Analytical Mechanics

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

This course is an exploration into the principles of Newtonian, Lagrangian, and Hamiltonian mechanics. It also includes a treatment of noninertial reference frames, rigid body rotation, central force problems, and the dynamics of a system of particles.

Prerequisite(s): PHYS 325 and MATH 241, or consent of instructor

Typically Offered Spring Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

PHYS 325 - Introduction To Mathematical Physics

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

This course examines advanced mathematical methods and serves as a foundation for future courses. Topics include coordinate systems and vectors, vector calculus, series expansions, differential equations, orthonormal functions, solutions of systems of linear equations, matrices and tensors, complex numbers, eigenvalues and eigenfunctions, Fourier series and Fourier integrals, and use of mathematical symbolic processing software.

Prerequisite(s): PHYS 214 and MATH 261 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

PHYS 340 - Light and Student Optionics

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

An examination of the properties of light from geometric and physical optics perspectives. Topics include: ray optics, refraction, diffraction, coherence, interference, and polarization. The course will present Fermat's principle, Huygens' principle, and Fourier optics.

Prerequisite(s): PHYS 314 or PHYS 325

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

PHYS 342 - Light and Color

Unit(s): 3 Laboratory: 3 hours

An investigation of the physical properties of light, its perception and its uses. This course includes examining cameras, telescopes and microscopes, the color and depth perception of the human eye, wave optics, and current optical technology.

Prerequisite(s): Completion of GE Golden Four (A1, A2, A3, B4) with a C- or better and completion of B1, B2 and at least 45 units.

GE Category: Upper Division B

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

PHYS 366 - Intermediate Experimental Physics

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 2 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

An introduction to contemporary techniques and problems in physics. Selected topics in lasers and photonics, materials science (including high-magnetic field measurements and surface analysis using scanning electron and atomic force microscopy), X-ray analysis, and adaptive optics.

Prerequisite(s): PHYS 314 and PHYS 216, or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

PHYS 381 - Computer Applications for Scientists

Unit(s): 2 Lecture: 1 hour Laboratory: 3 hours

A survey of problem solving techniques including computer modeling and simulation for the physical sciences. The student is introduced to high-level programming languages such as C++ and various mathematical tools such as Excel, Mathematica, and MatLab. Topics include modern programming techniques, use of graphics and mathematical function libraries, linear least squares data fitting techniques, numerical solution of algebraic and differential equations, and error analysis.

Prerequisite(s): PHYS 114 and MATH 211

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

PHYS 395 - Community Involvement Program

Unit(s): 1-2 CIP involves students in basic community problems related to physics and astronomy -- performing such tasks as tutoring; reading to the blind; service to local, county, and state agencies; and service as teacher aides to elementary schools. Students receive 1-2 units, depending on the specific task performed. Not more than 4 CIP units will be applicable to the Physics major requirements. May be taken by petition only.

Typically Offered Not Recently Offered

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

PHYS 396 - Selected Topics in Physics

Unit(s): 1-4 A course of lectures on a single topic or set of related topics not ordinarily covered in the Physics curriculum.

Prerequisite(s): consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Not Recently Offered

May Be Repeated The course may be repeated for credit with a different topic.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

PHYS 430 - Electricity and Magnetism

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

An investigation into the fundamentals of electromagnetic theory and its applications. Topics include vector analysis, electrostatics, method of images, magnetostatics, electric currents, electromagnetic induction, electric and magnetic fields in matter, Maxwell's equations, electromagnetic waves, potentials, and fields.

Prerequisite(s): PHYS 214 and PHYS 325 Crosslisted: EE 430

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

PHYS 445 - Photonics

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

A practical examination of Gaussian beams; guided-wave optics; fiber optics; optical resonators; resonant cavities; laser oscillation and amplification; laser excitation; optical pumping; solid state, gas, dye, chemical, excimer, and free electron lasers; semiconductor lasers; laser spectroscopy; fiber optic communication; photomultiplier and semiconductor radiation detectors including photoconductors and junction photodiodes; p-i-n diodes and avalanche photodiodes; and detector noise.

Prerequisite(s): PHYS 314 or consent of instructor. Crosslisted: ECE 430 and EE 445

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

PHYS 450 - Statistical Physics

Unit(s): 2 Lecture: 2 hours

An introduction to statistical methods. Topics include ideal gas, heat capacities, entropy, enthalpy, and the laws of thermodynamics; Boltzmann, Bose, and Fermi statistics; and applications such as engines and refrigerators.

Prerequisite(s): PHYS 314

Typically Offered Fall Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

PHYS 460 - Quantum Physics

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

This course examines the Schrödinger equation and its solution for free particles, potential wells, harmonic oscillators, central potentials, and the hydrogen atom. Other topics may include Hilbert space, Hermitian operators, Dirac notation, angular momentum and spin, scattering, wave function symmetry, and elementary perturbation theory.

Prerequisite(s): PHYS 314, PHYS 325 and MATH 241; or consent of instructor

Typically Offered Fall Only

May Be Repeated No

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

PHYS 466 - Advanced Experimental Physics

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 2 hours Laboratory: 3 hours

Advanced topics in lasers and photonics, materials science (including high-magnetic field measurements and surface analysis using scanning electron and atomic force microscopy), X-ray analysis, and adaptive optics.

Prerequisite(s): PHYS 314 and PHYS 216 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

PHYS 475 - Physics of Semiconductor Devices

Unit(s): 3 Lecture: 3 hours

A detailed study of semiconductors and their applications. Topics include semiconductor materials, crystal structure and growth, energy bands and charge carriers, conductivity and mobility, metal-semiconductor and p-n junctions, p-n junction diodes, bipolar junction transistors, field-effect transistors, CCDs, photonic devices, and integrated circuits. Conductivity and contact resistance measurements, I-V and C-V characteristics of diodes, characterization of transistors.

Prerequisite(s): PHYS 314 or consent of instructor. Crosslisted: ECE 432 and EE 432

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

PHYS 491 - Capstone Preparatory Seminar

Unit(s): 1 A one-hour seminar designed to be taken concurrently with a capstone course. This supports students conducting their capstone, presenting key concepts such as managing and scheduling large projects and presenting research through written, visual, and verbal means. Students share weekly progress reports and the course supports students in their preparation of concluding posters and oral presentations.

Co-requisite(s): PHYS 492, PHYS 493, PHYS 497, ASTR 492, or ASTR 497 or consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

PHYS 492 - Instructional Design Project

Unit(s): 2 A directed project to develop at least one laboratory experiment and/or classroom activity that teaches basic concepts in undergraduate physics. Both written and oral presentations (including a demonstration of the experiment or activity) will be required.

Prerequisite(s): PHYS 214 and PHYS 216 or PHYS 210B and PHYS 209B

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

PHYS 493 - Senior Design Project

Unit(s): 2 A directed project to develop either a working prototype or a detailed conceptual design for an operational laboratory device. Both written and oral presentations (including a demonstration) will be required.

Prerequisite(s): PHYS 313L Application form required prior to enrollment.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

PHYS 494 - Physics Seminar

Unit(s): 1 A series of lectures on topics of interest in physics, astronomy, and related fields.

Prerequisite(s): consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit up to 3 units maximum.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

PHYS 495 - Special Studies

Unit(s): 1-4 The Physics and Astronomy Department encourages independent study and considers it to be an educational undertaking. Students wishing to enroll for special studies are required to submit proposals to their supervising faculty members that outline their projects and exhibit concrete plans for their successful completion.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit up to 8 units.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

PHYS 497 - Undergraduate Research in Physics

Unit(s): 2 Supervised research in an area of physics that is currently under investigation by one or more members of the Physics and Astronomy Department's faculty. Both written and oral presentations will be required.

Prerequisite(s): junior-level standing and consent of instructor.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

POLS 151 - Credit by Exam: California Government

Unit(s): 1 The state code requirement in California state and local government may be satisfied by passing an examination in the Political Science department.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

May Be Repeated Yes How many times? 2

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Credit/No-Credit

POLS 199 - Introductory Topics in Political Science

Unit(s): 1-4 A lower division lecture/discussion series on a specific theme or topic presented by members of the department, other SSU faculty, and guest speakers. May be audited (space permitting) or taken for credit.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

May Be Repeated May be repeated for credit with different topic.

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

POLS 200 - American Political System

Unit(s): 3 An examination of American politics and governmental institutions. Introduces students to the political system and how to participate in it, should the need arise. Satisfies the code requirements in American Constitution and California state and local government.

GE Category: Satisfies GE Area D4 (U.S. Constitution and State and Local Government).

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face & Hybrid Grading: Student Option

POLS 201 - Ideas and Institutions

Unit(s): 4 An analysis of the basic political values and their impact on society. Students will be introduced to the relationship between values, ideology, and the political process. Political Science majors are expected to take this course, which stresses written expression, during their first year in the department.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

POLS 202 - Issues in Modern American Politics

Unit(s): 4 Leaders and issues in American political life considered in relation to major policies and movements, e.g., progressivism, isolationism, the New Deal, and containment.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

POLS 302 - Social Science Research Methods

Unit(s): 4 Social science research methods, emphasizing various facets of research design such as hypothesis formulation, literature review and/or computer-based data analysis. May include building data files and engaging in data analysis using quantitative or qualitative methods in a directed research project. Course includes up to a two-hour laboratory.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

POLS 303 - Comparative Political Analysis

Unit(s): 4 Reviews the principal concepts and theories of comparative politics, and assesses the institutions that comprise varied systems of government. Concrete examples taken from modern systems will be applied throughout the course. Special attention is focused on the political systems of Britain, France, Japan, Russia, and China. Students are assigned research projects on political systems of developing nations.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

POLS 304 - Theory and Analysis of International Relations

Unit(s): 4 An analysis of the dynamics of the international political system, stressing the roles of supranational organizations, internal and external factors in foreign policy formulation by nation-states. Review of traditional and contemporary theories of international interaction.

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

POLS 307 - Perspectives on the Holocaust and Genocide

Unit(s): 4 This course is a weekly lecture series on the Holocaust, selected genocides and human rights. Guest lecturers and SSU faculty provide a variety of political and interdisciplinary perspectives on the topics. The course explores the intellectual, emotional, and ethical aspects of the Holocaust and genocides and seeks to deepen students' understanding of organized society, political leadership, democratic participation and human nature. Students also attend a weekly discussion group to explore and synthesize information presented in the weekly lectures.

Prerequisite(s): Class open to Juniors, Seniors, and Graduate Students only.

GE Category: Satisfies upper-division GE, Category D5, (Contemporary International Perspectives.)

Typically Offered Spring Only

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Graded

POLS 310 - Classical Political Thought

Unit(s): 2-4 A comprehensive look at the foundations of Western political thought, with particular attention to the theories of Plato, Aristotle, and Thomas Aquinas.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

POLS 311 - Modern Political Thought: Machiavelli to Obama

Unit(s): 4 Examination of the major writings from Machiavelli to the present. Emphasis on original sources and development of student opinions on ideas discussed.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

POLS 312 - American Political Thought

Unit(s): 4 An examination of the development of American political ideas as reflected in the works and careers of representative writers and political leaders.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

POLS 313 - Critical Theory: Race and Gender

Unit(s): 4 Using race and gender as analytical tools, we investigate how major authors in the field "deconstruct" concepts such as rights, democracy, the autonomous individual, and freedom. We will evaluate the central proposition of critical theory that these political principles have been used to "disguise" disparities in power and resources in this country. The ultimate question students will answer, is how useful critical theory is in reevaluating our political values as we face an increasingly diverse and interdependent world.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

POLS 314 - Environmental Political Theory

Unit(s): 4 This course covers contemporary political theory related to the environment, human/nature relations, theories of environmental and social justice and related movements, and theories of sustainability. Texts include works on feminism, justice, sustainability, political ideologies, political economy, and democracy.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

POLS 315 - Modern Political Ideologies

Unit(s): 3-4 Examination of the major ideas of important theorists about the relationships among democracy, capitalism, and socialism. A consideration of the actual strengths and shortcomings of some of the current world's major political/economic systems that attempt to put these ideas into practice.

GE Category: Satisfies GE Area D5 (Contemporary International Perspectives).

Typically Offered Fall & Spring

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

POLS 320 - State, City, and County Government

Unit(s): 4 Study of the political structure and process at the state, county, and municipal levels, with emphasis on urban and regional problems. The changing relationships between the state and federal governments will be explored. Political decision making at all three levels will be discussed in depth. Can be used to fulfill prerequisite courses for the M.P.A. program for structure of state and local government agencies, as well as the political science requirement for the California cultural studies major.

GE Category: Satisfies, by petition, the state code requirement in California state and local government.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

POLS 330 - Race, Ethnicity, and Politics

Unit(s): 4 A survey of the unique impact of race and ethnicity on American politics, including analysis of constitutional, legal, and historical factors affecting the status of persons of color. Attention to the role race and ethnicity play in the media, elections, political participation and representation, public opinion, public policy, and popular culture.

Typically Offered Variable Intermittently

Teaching Mode: Face-to-Face Grading: Student Option

POLS 345 - Model United Nations (MUN)

Unit(s): 4 Introduction to the political structure and functions of the United Nations, with emphasis on team participation at the Western MUN or National MUN in New York. Students play decision-maker roles that they research for preparation of position papers on agenda items. Consent of instructor required.

POLS 447 - Nonviolent Strategies in International Relations

Unit(s): 4 The use of force is often considered to be the most effective form of power, yet nonviolent strategies of action can, in many cases, provide more efficient and successful means to achieve one's goals than the ultima ratio of violence. Those who rely on "just war theory" to advocate for the necessity of war should note that in the 20th century (and early 21st century), nonviolent forms of resistance to oppressive authority generated more profound social and political transformations than violence. Most recently, direct nonviolent action has helped facilitate democratic transitions and is proving to be the most promising means to bring justice and overcome oppression in current struggles in Burma, Egypt, Iran, Iraq, Western Sahara, Zimbabwe, and Belarus. This course will draw on a range of literature, theory, and case studies in international relations to examine these and other questions: "When is nonviolence a preferable alternative, both ethically and strategically?", "How does the regime context (e.g., open society vs. dictatorship) influence the menu of nonviolent options?", "Why have some nonviolent movements been successful while others have failed?", and "What insights does the application of nonviolent action provide to the global community?".

Degree Requirements

Baccalaureate Candidates

The University grants baccalaureates for the successful completion of a coherent course of study at the University and the maintenance of appropriate levels of scholarship. The requirements that follow specify certain course work, unit distributions, and levels of scholarship that the California State University and the faculty of Sonoma State University have determined provide an appropriate educational framework for all students pursuing a baccalaureate. These requirements, however, provide only a framework. It is critical that each student consult regularly with an academic advisor. Students who have declared a major are assigned an academic advisor in the department of their major.

Students who have not yet declared a major are assigned advisors through the Advising and Transfer Center, Schulz 1125a, (707) 664-2730.

Students are eligible for graduation when they are in good standing and have fulfilled the following requirements:

- Faculty Approval

The determination that students have achieved appropriate proficiency in any and all parts of the curriculum to warrant the granting of a degree is the responsibility of the faculty. A favorable vote of the faculty acting through the academic senate is required for the granting of any degree.

- Completion of a General Education Program

The effectiveness of an education in the liberal arts and sciences is critically dependent upon the broad foundation of studies called general education. Through a program of general education, students learn a variety of basic skills and modes of disciplinary inquiry. General education courses are not simply the preliminary and introductory studies of the various disciplines; rather, they provide the necessary context for the more specific study in the major and for the selection of appropriate electives. Completion of one of Sonoma State University's general education programs also ensures completion of graduation requirements in U.S. History, Constitution, American Ideals (American Institution requirements) and Ethnic Studies.

- Completion of a Major

Through a concentration of studies in a particular major, students focus in depth upon a particular set of disciplines or subject areas. Because major programs vary considerably in their requirements, students should consult with faculty advisors early in their academic programs. Students may declare a major at any time, but are required to do so by the time they have earned 60 units. Descriptions of the majors are found with the department listing in the University Curricula section of this catalog.

- Completion of the Written English Proficiency Requirement

All students of the California State University system must demonstrate competency in writing as a requirement for graduation. At Sonoma State University, students complete this requirement by passing the Written English Proficiency Test (WEPT) or by completing a writing intensive course (WIC) with a C-, CR or better. All students taking the WEPT are required to do so in their junior year and cannot take it earlier. To sign up for the WEPT, students must pay the exam fee at the Seawolf Services Center and then register at the Writing Center. Exam dates are posted at the Writing Center and on the Writing Center's Website. Students who have difficulty passing the WEPT are advised to seek assistance through the WEPT workshops provided by the Writing Center. The Center offers two workshop series per term. Students who have failed the WEPT and feel they would benefit from additional formal instruction in writing may elect to enroll in ENGL 275, a course specifically designed to help students develop skills necessary to pass the WEPT. Students who have questions about the WEPT should contact the WEPT coordinator.

- Maintenance of Scholarship

A grade point average of C (2.00) or better is required in work undertaken in residence at Sonoma State University, as well as in the student's total undergraduate work and in the major field. The C average for the major includes all classes listed on the Major Requirements form, except that supporting courses, while required for some majors, are not included in the major grade point average.

- Unit Requirements and Limitations

- Total Units: A minimum of 120 semester units is required for graduation (some majors may require more units for graduation);
- Upper-Division Units: Forty units must be upper-division work (300-499 courses), including a minimum of 12 units in the major for the B.A. degree or 18 units in the major for the B.S. degree;
- Residence Units: Thirty units must be completed in residence at Sonoma State University, including 24 upper-division units and 12 units in the major. The B.F.A. in Art requires 24 upper-division units in Art in residence. Note: Units earned in Extension, Open University, Visitor status Sonoma, non baccalaureate-level courses, and through credit by examination may not be applied to residence requirements; and
- Credit/No Credit Grades. A maximum of 24 units of courses with nontraditional grades may be elected. Courses fulfilling major and minor requirements must be graded A-F, except for courses not available in the A-F mode.
- The following requirements and limitations governing course credit units must be observed: Other maximum limits of semester units to be applied toward degree requirements are:

Note: Students who have been separated from the University for a substantial amount of time may need to have their previous coursework re-verified by the Department Chair of the major. General Education work may need to be re-verified by the GE subcommittee. Any work found to be expired will convert to Elective Credit. New, additional coursework may be required to complete the degree. Students must meet all of the requirements in place for the current catalog year for the major, minor and/or General Education. Students should meet with their advisor to confirm graduation requirements. Additional graduation information can be found through the Office of the Registrar.

Minor Programs

A minor is not required for graduation. Many departments, however, offer programs leading to a minor, and students are encouraged to consider pursuing a minor that complements their major. Minor programs ordinarily consist of approximately 16-20 units, 6 of which must be upper division, and require maintenance of a C (2.00) average in minor coursework. Faculty advisors in the department offering the minor will assist students in selecting appropriate courses. Coursework in the minor must be completed by the degree date. The minor appears on the student's official transcripts but not on the diploma.

Electives

To complete the minimum of 120 semester units required for graduation after fulfillment of general education, statutory, and major requirements, students may choose from a broad spectrum of courses to broaden their education, deepen understanding of their specialties, pursue work in related fields, and satisfy their curiosity and enthusiasm regarding particular areas of interest.

Double Majors

It is sometimes possible for a student to complete the requirements for more than one major within 120-140 units. If you complete requirements for two bachelor degrees, both will appear on your diploma and transcripts. Students who wish to complete requirements for a second major should consult with a faculty advisor early in their academic program.

Second Bachelor's Degree

To earn a second baccalaureate at Sonoma State University, students must fulfill the requirements of the major, and demonstrate competence in English composition by passing the Written English Proficiency Test. Second baccalaureate candidates must complete 30 units of residence credit at Sonoma State University and should consult with their faculty advisors regarding the portion of those 30 units that must be earned in upper-division courses (minimum 24 for residency). Note: Units earned in Extension, Open University, and Visitor status, and through credit-by-examination may not be applied to residence requirements.

Second baccalaureate students may carry only one major and are not eligible for second majors or minors. Students are also eligible for honors if they meet the regular requirements for honors, which is 45 units of letter graded classes taken in residence.

Awarding of Degrees

Degrees are awarded three times a year in December, May, and August. Students are eligible to apply for graduation when they have completed at least 15 units residence and 90 units overall. Students should consult with their advisor to determine any remaining requirements and any deficiencies to be completed. After filing for graduation, students must meet all degree requirements by the date of graduation in order to graduate. If you do not graduate within two terms of your initial filing, you will need to reapply for graduation. Diplomas are mailed 6-8 weeks after the award of degree.

Honors at Graduation

The University awards two types of honors to students at graduation: degree honors and department honors.

Degree Honors

Criteria used to determine honors at graduation are those in effect as of the date of graduation. Students graduating with the baccalaureate earn degree honors by meeting the following criteria:

- Completion at Sonoma State University of a minimum of 45 letter-graded semester units in residence; and
- Attainment of cumulative grade point averages as indicated below:

Degree Honor Designation

Summa Cum Laude - is awarded to those students achieving a cumulative grade point average in all university and college work and a cumulative grade point average in all work undertaken at SSU of not less than 3.90.

Magna Cum Laude - is awarded to those students achieving cumulative grade point average in all university and college work and a cumulative grade point average in all work undertaken at SSU of not less than 3.75.

Cum Laude - is awarded to those students achieving a cumulative grade point average in all university and college work and a cumulative grade point average in all work undertaken at SSU of no less than 3.50.

Degree honors are noted on the student's transcript and on the diploma.

Department Honors

Students graduating with the baccalaureate who are judged by their departments to have made outstanding contributions to their disciplines graduate "with distinction." Check with your major department to learn if they offer departmental honors. Departmental honors are noted on the student's transcript and on the diploma.

Certificates

If you have completed an approved certificate, it will be listed on your official transcript once your degree is posted.

Graduate Degrees

Graduate education at Sonoma State University provides opportunities for students to develop the ability to conduct independent study and research and to enhance their professional competence in their field of interest. In order to accommodate students who are unable to pursue graduate work on a full-time basis, many master's programs at the University are scheduled to allow completion of degree requirements on a part-time basis over several semesters.

Descriptions of the following graduate programs are contained in academic department listings:

Residence Master's Degree Programs

Graduate Admission Requirements

Admission requirements and procedures for graduate students are described in the Admissions section in this catalog. Admission to the University with unclassified post-baccalaureate standing does not in any way constitute admission to, or assurance of consideration for admission to, a graduate degree or credential program. Two admissions procedures are involved in pursuing graduate work at the University: 1) admission to the University; and 2) admission to the department offering the degree or credential program in which the student is interested. Students should, therefore, contact both the relevant department and the Admissions Office, (707) 664-2778.

Change in Graduate Standing

Many students are admitted to the University in conditionally classified standing with contingencies to remove prior to becoming a classified student. This admission does not guarantee a space in the graduate program. Such a guarantee is obtained by a change in graduate standing to classified status verified by the program in question. Each department has its own procedures for evaluating the appropriateness of granting the student a place in their program. At the time this status is confirmed, a form is filed with the Admissions and Records Office and the Graduate Studies Office confirming the department's approval of this change in status.

Advancement to Candidacy

Master's degree students are advanced to candidacy when the department has assessed the academic and professional capacities of the student and is convinced that the student has the competence to complete all requirements for the degree, including the culminating project. Advancement to candidacy is done by filing the Advancement to Candidacy form (GSO1), which describes the culminating project, is approved by all of the members of the student's advisory committee, and is reviewed by the Graduate Studies Office. Culminating projects, including theses, investigative projects, creative projects, and curriculum projects, are approved by the department and theses are reviewed by the Graduate Studies Office prior to clearance for the degree. Theses and projects are published by the Sonoma State Library and become part of its permanent digital collection.

Completion of the Graduation Writing Assessment Requirement

In order to ensure that graduate students possess the ability to communicate effectively in written English, advancement to candidacy will be contingent upon fulfillment of departmentally administered review procedures that have been approved by the graduate studies subcommittee and placed on file with the Graduate Studies Office.

General Requirements for the Master's Degree

Master's programs require a minimum of 30 semester units of approved coherent coursework. All courses applied to the program must be completed with an overall GPA of 3.00, and no course for which a final grade below C is assigned may be used to satisfy this requirement. Graduate programs must be completed in no more than 7 years, which is computed as 14 semesters. No more than 6 semester units shall be allowed for a thesis project.

Other University-wide criteria:

- A classified student must demonstrate, throughout enrollment in the graduate program, the level of competence required to be successful in the completion of the requirements. This evaluation of competence is primarily the responsibility of faculty actively teaching in the program.
- Advancement to candidacy is required and should be done before the student begins their culminating experience. Departments vary in the way they evaluate student competency and in what is required to advance the student to candidacy for the degree. Advancement to candidacy requires completion of the GSO1 form.
- No fewer than one-half of the total units required shall be in graduate (500-level) coursework.
- At least 21 semester units shall be completed in residence.
- No more than 6 semester units shall be allowed for a thesis or project.
- No more than 30 percent of coursework shall be allowed in transfer, including work done through Extended Education.
- No credit toward a master's degree will be given for student teaching in a credential program.
- At the discretion of the department, up to one-third of the total program units may be in a nontraditional grading mode (credit/no credit).
- No classes completed as an undergraduate may be used except those granted provisional graduate credit prior to award of the baccalaureate degree.
- The candidate must complete a thesis, project, or comprehensive exam as required by the department. Culminating projects that are published by the library require review by the Graduate Studies Office, as well as final approval by the student's faculty committee.
- A public defense of the thesis is required and may be required for a project.
- The student has four semesters to complete the thesis/project, including the first semester of enrollment for thesis units. The RP (Report in Progress) grade will remain until the student submits the culminating project. Projects taking more than four semesters to complete will require an approval for extension by the Graduate Studies Office or may require reapplication to the program and re-enrollment in the units.

Continuous Enrollment Policy

Graduate students who have completed their coursework or who have begun to work on their thesis or other final project must be enrolled each additional semester through one of the following mechanisms:

- Those students who wish to maintain eligibility for financial aid and use the full resources of the University should maintain regular half-time enrollment and pay half-time fees. Graduate programs create enrollment opportunities for these students by providing mechanisms such as sections of 535 (Directed Writing) or 599 (Research and Thesis) in the regular class schedule, or by allowing students to enroll in 595 (Special Studies) through the regular registration procedure.
- Those students who do not seek the full services of the University may maintain enrollment through Extended Education via a Project Continuation course.
- With the support of their graduate advisors, those students who, due to extraordinary circumstances, cannot continue work on their programs may seek special consideration by petitioning the Graduate Studies Office for a leave of absence for a defined period of time not to exceed two years. This petition process would not extend the seven-year limitation on coursework applied to the degree.

Students who allow their enrollment to lapse for two semesters without taking a leave of absence will be considered to have withdrawn from the University and from their degree program. Should such students decide to return, they will be required to apply for readmission.

Validation of Expired Graduate Courses

As specified in Title V, coursework must be completed within seven years of award of degree. Courses taken within the program in residence more than seven years prior to the date of award of the degree may be validated through passing an assessment (oral or written) covering the subject matter involved or through repeating the course. Revalidation shall be administered only in exceptional circumstances, when the program deems that serious and compelling reasons have kept the student from completing the degree in the seven years. The nature of the assessment will be determined by the department in which the degree is to be granted, administered by a faculty subject expert, and approved by the Graduate Program Coordinator and the Associate Vice President of Academic Programs. A maximum of one third of all courses used to satisfy program degree requirements are eligible for validation.

Provisional Unclassified Graduate Status for Senior Students

Students who plan to complete upper-division or graduate-level courses in their final semester may petition for provisional unclassified graduate credit for such courses. Courses required for the baccalaureate will not be granted this provisional status. The petition must be filed at the same time as the application for award of the degree. Teaching credential candidates should consult the Department of Education about the advisability of such a petition.

Provisional unclassified post baccalaureate credit can be granted only for upper-division and graduate-level courses and will be recorded in the student's academic record as earned prior to the award of the baccalaureate. Such credit is applicable to graduate objectives at the discretion of the relevant academic department. Should requirements for the baccalaureate not be completed by the date specified on the application, the petition for post baccalaureate credit becomes null and void.

Courses that may be included in a Master's Program

300-499 Upper-division courses may be acceptable for graduate credit. See Provisional Unclassified Graduate Status for Senior Students, above.

500-599 Graduate courses degree. Teaching credential candidates should consult the Department of Education about the advisability of such a petition.

Stacking Undergraduate & Graduate Courses

A course may be stacked¹ between undergraduate & graduate levels if the course meets the following criteria:

- The undergraduate course must be at the upper-division (300-400) level. Lower-division (100-200) level courses may not be used to fulfill post baccalaureate requirements and may not be stacked with graduate (500) level coursework.
- Separate syllabi are required (per WSCUC) for the undergraduate and graduate components of the stacked course.

- Topics (special topics) courses may not be stacked. Each undergraduate & graduate stacked course must be permanent and have appropriate approved course titles, descriptions, unit values, and CS codes.
- Student enrollment in a stacked course is determined by specific programmatic policy for each course as approved through the governance review process. An antirequisite may be used by the program on 500-level courses cross-listed with 300/400-level courses to prevent enrollment in the 500 level course if the student already earned credit in the 300/400 level course.
- It is recommended that the courses being stacked utilize matching course numbers and titles whenever possible. For example POLS 487 & POLS 587.
- When creating new undergraduate courses to be stacked with graduate courses, it is recommended that the undergraduate course be at the 400 level.

¹ An undergraduate course and a graduate course offered together, meeting at the same time and place, with a shared class experience and instructor(s), but with more advanced learning outcomes, readings/assignments, grading rubric, and syllabi at the graduate level.

General Education Program

Seawolf Experience

Whether you come to Sonoma State as a first-year or transfer student, the Seawolf Experience makes you part of the SSU community—people who are passionate about academic excellence, community and civic engagement, diversity, sustainability, and lifelong learning.

Foundation and Exploration

During your first two years of college, you will lay the foundation for college success and begin to explore areas of interest:

- Participate in a first-year learning community (FLC)
- Complete the Golden Four (Foundations courses: critical thinking, quantitative reasoning, written and oral communication)
- Develop a sound understanding of American history and political institutions
- Explore SSU values of sustainability, critical race studies, and global awareness
- Learn how to be successful in college, including learning about campus resources, skills, and dispositions you need to succeed
- Explore the natural sciences, arts, humanities, and human societies
- Lay a foundation for major through introductory courses
- Choose and/or affirm your choice of major
- Set goals and identify academic and co-curricular activities that can help you move toward your professional life goals (including language study, study abroad, internships, student research, service learning, certificate programs, clubs, student leadership, and more).

Integration and Reflection

During your last two years of college, you will build on your lower-division foundation, reflect on what you have learned and where you are going, and integrate your knowledge and experiences as you begin to move toward professional and civic engagement:

- Explore connections, communities, and guidance for transfers to SSU through Transfer Transitions
- Take Deeper Dives into natural sciences, arts, humanities, and human societies through upper-division GE, developing your foundational skills
- Complete your Seawolf Studies explorations: American Institutions, critical race studies, and a Writing Intensive Course (WIC) to strengthen your ability to write for audiences both inside and outside your field of study
- Integrate your classroom learning with life experience by participating in high impact practices such as study abroad, an internship, student leadership, service learning, student research, language study, etc.
- Study a particular field in depth through your major
- Complete a major capstone course with a culminating project and/or guidance in transitioning from your major to professional opportunities
- Reflect on how your GE, high-impact practices, and work in your major intersect and how they have helped you move toward your personal and professional goals.

Statement of Purpose

The Sonoma State General Education (GE) Program provides students an intentional, coherent, inclusive undergraduate experience across multiple disciplinary perspectives, fostering broad transferable skills and integrated, engaged learning that positions students to create and participate meaningfully and ethically in our interconnected and interdependent world.

Goals

- Broad Transferable Skills
- Teaches academic skills, including
 - Written communication
 - Oral communication
 - Critical thinking and questioning
 - Quantitative reasoning
 - Information literacy
 - Cultural competency
- Teaches life skills, including
 - Practicing collaboration
 - Engaging in problem-solving
 - Reading critically and digesting materials
 - Planning, organizing, and carrying through complex projects in a timely fashion
 - Cultivating an understanding and appreciation of social power and difference
 - Cultivates lifelong learning dispositions, including
 - Creativity
 - Curiosity
 - Flexibility
 - Reflection
 - Challenge-seeking
 - Persistence
 - Inclusiveness

- Disciplinary and Interdisciplinary Perspectives
- Introduces students to disciplinary and interdisciplinary ways of knowing
- Supporting students in exploring, choosing, and affirming majors and areas of focus
- Developing breadth of knowledge
- Affords students the opportunity to practice knowledge-making
- Expects understanding and appreciation of human diversity and multicultural perspectives
- Integrated Learning
- Builds bridges between disciplines and schools
- Synthesizing between general and specialized studies
- Bringing multiple disciplinary perspectives to the students' programs of study
- Teaches students to apply knowledge, skills, and multiple perspectives to new situations and problem-solving.
- Encourages students to embrace ambiguity and appreciate/value difference
- Engaged and real-world learning
- Provides opportunities and encourages students to engage in hands-on learning and applications in and beyond the classroom
- Fosters social responsibility of individuals within diverse communities.

Learning Outcomes

- Critical Reading: Actively analyze texts in a variety of forms, genres, and disciplines.
- Information Literacy: Iteratively formulate questions for research by gathering diverse types of information, identifying gaps, correlations and contradictions, and using sources ethically toward a creative, informed synthesis of ideas.
- Argument: Advance cogent and ethical arguments in a variety of genres with rigor and critical inquiry.
- Communication: Communicate clearly and eloquently in written, oral, and/or performative forms in a variety of genres and disciplines.
- Quantitative Reasoning: Interpret, evaluate, and employ quantitative analysis and arguments.
- Disciplinary and Interdisciplinary Knowledge: Identify, interpret, and apply methods, intellectual approaches, and fundamental concepts from disciplines within the social sciences, natural and physical sciences, arts, and humanities.
- Integration: Synthesize and apply theoretical and practical perspectives from multiple disciplines to develop an understanding of complex issues.
- Diverse Cultural Competencies: Attain and apply knowledge of social power and difference in relations between self, other people, and social structures locally and nationally while honoring contributions of people of different identities.

- Civic Responsibility: Drawing on the past and present, develop knowledge and skills that promote active citizenship, with the capacity to deliberate, act, and lead in a democratic society.
- Sustainable Development: Explore past and present relationships among humans and between societies and environments and create new ways to cultivate a more secure and resilient future for all of our planet.
- Global Awareness: Develop knowledge of past and present political, economic, and cultural relations operating at international to global scale.
- Creative Problem Solving: Apply knowledge, skills, and multiple perspectives in new situations to analyze and formulate solutions to complex problems with confidence and creativity.

Assessment of General Education

All undergraduates will participate in assessment of SSU's general education program. Assessment helps the university community understand how well students are learning and helps us change the curriculum to better meet student needs. All general education courses will include a signature assignment, a key assignment that is mapped to one or more of the learning outcomes listed above. Student work products for those signature assignments will be submitted (without identifying names or other information) to faculty groups who will evaluate student learning and make recommendations for curricular change. Student participation in these processes is as simple as turning in your course work—it is automatic and confidential.

Lower Division General Education

Lower division general education consists of 39 units of introductory course work that promotes foundational learning and exploration. These courses are generally numbered 100-299 and are taken in the first two years of the college degree. These courses have minimal prerequisites and offer students an understanding of disciplinary ways of knowing. Transfer students are likely to meet these requirements prior to enrolling at Sonoma State. Students may double count lower division general education courses as requirements or electives in the major, as the academic department allows.

Upper Division General Education

Upper division general education consists of 9 units of course work in Life and Physical Sciences, Arts and Humanities, and the Social Sciences. These courses are generally numbered 300-499 and are generally taken in the last two years of the college degree. These courses have minimal prerequisites and offer students an integrative and deep understanding of a broad field of study. To take an upper division general education course, students must have taken the Golden Four (critical thinking, quantitative reasoning, written and oral communication), 45 units of college-level course work, and lower-division general education in the same GE area as the course being taken. Transfer students are required to take upper-division general education as part of their degree. Students may double count upper division general education courses as requirements or electives in the major, as the academic department allows.

Met-in-Major

Met-in-major courses are major courses that satisfy upper division general education requirements. These courses are for majors only and do not appear in the list of approved general education courses. These courses may have prerequisites, and students must take all prerequisites to sign up for the courses. Students may only take three units of GE course work in one GE area as met-in-major. Met-in-major courses must be mapped to the GE learning outcomes and will be assessed using signature assignments with other GE courses.

General Education Catalog Year

Students who began their undergraduate degree prior to attendance at SSU may be eligible to complete the general education requirements at the time they began attending regular sessions at any California State University campus, at any California community college, or any combination of California community colleges and campuses of The California State University.

General Education Curriculum*

Area A: English Language Communication and Critical Thinking (9 units)

Area B: Scientific Inquiry and Quantitative Reasoning (12 units)

Area C: Arts and Humanities (12 units)

Area D: Social Sciences (9 units)

Area E: Lifelong Learning and Self-Development (3 units)

Area F: Ethnic Studies (3 units)

*This curriculum applies to students with expected graduation dates in 2024-2025. Courses that fulfill GE requirements are in a state of change. The course schedule each semester has the most accurate list of courses that fulfill these requirements.

Some three unit B1 and B2 courses include the required lab activity.

Golden Four Requirements

The Golden Four include Oral Communication (A1), Written Communication (A2), Critical Thinking (A3), and Quantitative Reasoning (B4). Students must take the Golden Four requirements in the first 60 units of the baccalaureate degree. Written Communication (A2) and Quantitative Reasoning (B4) must be completed in the first 30 units. Critical Thinking (A3) and Oral Communication (A1) must be completed within the first 60 units.

First-Year Learning Communities (FLCs)

FLCs are year-long integrative experiences for first-year students that support student success. They are available to all entering first-year students but are not required. Each FLC must meet at least two areas/subareas of general education and must offer transitional content that provides the academic skills, such as note-taking and time management, and college-level dispositions, such as healthy relationship-building and financial literacy, that students need to be successful in college. The transitional content is supported by peer mentors who assist faculty in and out of the classroom. FLCs will earn 6 units of general education credit and up to 2 units of elective credit.

Seawolf Studies Degree Requirements

Graduation Writing Assessment Requirement (GWAR) (0-3 units minimum)

The GWAR is a requirement of all undergraduate students in the California State University system. Students may meet this degree requirement in one of two ways: the Written English Proficiency Test (WEPT) or a Writing Intensive Course (WIC). WICs are upper-division courses and may be met in general education, the major, or an elective. Please see the WEPT web page for changes.

American Institutions Requirement (minimum 6 units)

Six units of American Institutions requirements are mandated by Title V of the California Code, covering three areas: American History, the Constitution, and State and Local Government. At Sonoma State, these requirements may be met through two three-unit courses in general education, the major, or an elective. Transfer students may use course work taken at other institutions to meet these requirements.

Critical Race Studies (minimum 3 units)

Critical Race Studies is an important part of the educational environment in the State of California and is a key requirement to gaining an understanding of American multicultural perspectives. At Sonoma State, this three-unit requirement must be met through a course in Area F of GE. Transfer students may use coursework taken at other institutions to meet this requirement or additional SSU course options depending upon catalog year. Please see an advisor for additional information.

Catalog Year for Graduation Requirements

An undergraduate matriculated student who has been in continuous enrollment in regular sessions pursuing a degree may elect to meet baccalaureate graduation requirements in effect at any of the three time periods:

- at the time of first entering a California community college or CSU campus
- at the time of matriculation at Sonoma State
- at the time of graduation

For the purpose of this regulation, "continuous enrollment" means attendance in at least one semester each calendar year. Attendance in summer or winter term is not applicable to this regulation. An absence for an approved leave, or for attendance not to exceed two years at another regionally accredited college, may be permitted. Students who do not enroll at least part-time for one semester each calendar year risk the loss of rights to their original catalog year for graduation requirements.

Program admission and completion requirements for a credential or an additional degree or major will be established by the catalog applicable at the time of subsequent program admission.

Regulations and Policies

Changes in Rules and Policies

Although every effort has been made to assure the accuracy of the information in this catalog, students and others who use this catalog should note that laws, rules and policies change from time to time and that these changes may alter the information contained in this publication. Changes may come in the form of statutes enacted by the Legislature, rules and policies adopted by the Board of Trustees of the California State University, by the Chancellor or designee of the California State University, or by the President or designee of the campus. It is not possible in a publication of this size to include all of the rules, policies, and other information that pertain to students, the institution, and the California State University. More current or complete information may be obtained from the appropriate department, school, or administrative office.

Nothing in this catalog shall be construed as, operate as, or have the effect of an abridgment or a limitation of any rights, powers, or privileges of the Board of Trustees of the California State University, the Chancellor of the California State University, or the President of the campus. The Trustees, the Chancellor, and the President are authorized by law to adopt, amend, or repeal rules and policies that apply to students. This catalog does not constitute a contract or the terms and conditions of a contract between the student and the campus or the California State University. The relationship of the students to the campus and the California State University is one governed by statute, rules, and policy adopted by the Legislature, the Trustees, the Chancellor, the Presidents, and their duly authorized designees.

Academic Regulations

Office of the Registrar
Salazar Hall 2030
(707) 664-2778

Registration and Enrollment

You must be either a continuing student or an admitted applicant who has paid their Enrollment Reservation Deposit (ERD) in order to be eligible for registration. You are a continuing student if you registered for one or both of the previous two semesters (summer and intersession excluded). Continuing student status will be lost if you earned your bachelor's degree, were academically disqualified, or were separated from the University for 2 semesters or more without being on an approved Leave of Absence.

New students must confirm their intention to enroll at Sonoma by paying an Enrollment Reservation Deposit (ERD). Information will be sent at the time of admission about the deposit. All eligible continuing students and all admitted applicants who have paid the deposit will be sent registration notifications at least one week prior to registration with the exception of first-time freshmen who register during summer orientation. This registration notification will provide a link to the Registration website, which will include information about advising, registration appointment times, important dates, and procedures for registering.

The best source for registration information is the Admissions and Records website. The Schedule of Classes is available on our online Student Information System (MySSU) and is updated in real time. A PDF version of the Schedule of Classes is published electronically each semester.

Registration

All students at Sonoma State University register online. Students will find online registration through MySSU quick and easy. Carefully read all of the registration information on the Admissions and Records website to make the registration process even simpler.

User ID and Password

Access online registration requires the entry of your Seawolf User ID and password. Information on how to obtain your user ID and password can be found at the Admissions and Records website.

Registration Fee Payment Deadline

The Seawolf Service Center website publishes the fee schedule and payment due dates. Students who fail to pay their fees by the registration fee deadline will be dropped from their classes. Credit will not be granted in any course unless all registration procedures are completed and fees are paid.

Information for Students Using Veterans Benefits

Information for Students Using Veteran Readiness and Employment (formerly called Vocational Rehabilitation and Employment Benefits) (CH31) or Post 9/11 G.I. Bill® (CH33)

A student using Veteran Readiness and Employment (formerly called Vocational Rehabilitation and Employment) benefits (CH31) or Post-9/11 G.I. Bill® (CH33) will be allowed to enroll in and attend courses and access campus facilities while the campus awaits payment for tuition and fees from the VA. While awaiting receipt of funds from the VA, Sonoma State University will not impose any penalty, charge late fees or require an eligible student to borrow additional funds to cover tuition or fees. This waiting period begins the date the student provides appropriate documentation and continues either until funds are received from the VA or until 90 days after the School Certifying Official has certified the student's enrollment for tuition and fees.

To demonstrate current eligibility and intent to use Chapter 31 or 33 benefits, a student must provide the following documents:

- Authorization from a Vocational Rehabilitation Counselor (VRC); or
- Certificate of Eligibility (COE) or Education Enrollment Status form (printed from the VA website).
- A written request to use either VA Veterans Readiness and Employment (formerly called Vocational Rehabilitation and Employment) or Post 9/11 G.I. Bill benefits; and
- All additional information requested by the School Certifying Official to properly certify enrollment to the VA.

For more information regarding this policy, contact your School Certifying Official, Julia Ibañez at julia.ibanez@sonoma.edu or (707)664-3173.

GI Bill® is a registered trademark of the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs (VA). More information about education benefits offered by VA is available at the official U.S. government Web site.

Holds

Be sure to clear any holds before registration. Depending on the nature of the hold, access to registration may be blocked, and the student may miss his or her registration appointment. You can view your holds online. For additional information about a financial hold, contact the Seawolf Services Center. For non-financial holds, contact the office that placed the hold.

Categories of Enrollment

With the exception of first-time freshmen who register at Summer Orientation, appointments are assigned by class level in descending order of units earned. The order is:

SSU reserves the right to give priority registration appointments to certain populations of students approved by the Academic Senate.

Academic Load

A minimum of two hours preparation for each hour of regular class work should be expected; in upper-division and graduate-level courses, additional time may be required.

Undergraduate students who need to be registered full-time should note that 12 units is the minimum load to qualify for full-time status. At no time can a student take more than 23 units.

The maximum academic load recommended for graduate students is 12 units.

Graduate students officially accepted into master's degree programs who are taking classes that are part of their approved plan of study and need to be registered full-time should note that 8 units is the minimum load to qualify for full-time status. Other postbaccalaureate students (e.g. Credential, unclassified, etc.) follow the same rules as Undergraduate students.

Add/Drop

You can adjust your schedule by adding or dropping courses during the registration periods as noted by the Add/Drop deadline posted on the Academic Calendar. After that, students will have approximately two weeks (until Census date) to petition to late add a class/es. A petition form and fee are required.

You may only add a class if space is available online and you have successfully added the class to your schedule. Sitting in a class is not equivalent to enrollment in a class and you will not receive credit for the class. You should stop attending and schedule to retake it in a future semester.

Withdrawal from Courses

In accordance with CSU Executive Order No. 1037, it is the policy of Sonoma State University that:

- Unit Limit for Withdrawal from Courses:

Undergraduate students may withdraw from no more than 18 total semester units of coursework attempted at Sonoma State University. Withdrawals for "serious and compelling" reasons, which are documented and approved according to the procedures below, will not count toward the maximum of 18 semester units.

- Definitions of "Serious and Compelling" and "Appropriate Documentation":

A. For the purposes of withdrawal, the University defines "serious and compelling reasons" as follows:

1. The standard of "serious and compelling" applies to situations, such as illness or accident, clearly beyond the student's control. All situations require documentation.

2. The following situations are typical of those for which "serious and compelling" is appropriate justification for withdrawal:

- An extended absence due to verifiable accident, illness, or personal problem serious enough to cause withdrawal from the university;
- An extended absence due to a death in the immediate family;
- A necessary change in employment status that interferes with the student's ability to attend class;
- Errors made by SSU;
- Other unusual or very special cases will be considered on their merit by the University Standards Committee.

3. The following situations DO NOT fall under the intent of "serious and compelling":

- Grade anticipated in class is not sufficiently high, or student is doing failing work (including situations where the student has been penalized with a failing grade for academic dishonesty);
- Failure to attend class in person and/or participate online when appropriate, complete assignments, or take a test;
- Dissatisfaction with the course material, instructional method, or instructor;
- Class is harder than expected;
- Pressure of other classes, employment, and/or participation in extracurricular activities;
- A change of major;
- Lack of awareness of the withdrawal process or procedures.

B. All petitions for withdrawal after the census date must be accompanied by appropriate documentation of the "serious and compelling" reasons for withdrawal. Documentation may include:

- Verification of accident or illness (such as a letter on letterhead from the treating physician or licensed counselor, or copies of medical bills);
- Death certificate;
- Employer verification of change of work status;
- PeopleSoft records;
- Other like documentation as appropriate.

III. Dropping or Withdrawing from one or more – but not all – courses during the current semester

A. Dropping a Course:

- Students may drop a course (or courses) online and without penalty until the drop deadline (check Academic Calendar).
- A course dropped before the drop deadline will not appear on the student's transcript.

B. Withdrawing from a course or courses after the drop deadline:

1. When a student withdraws from a course or courses after the drop deadline, these courses will remain on the student's transcript and be marked with a non-punitive grade of "W" (a "W" does not count toward the student's GPA).

2. From the drop deadline through the "last day to Drop with W" (check Academic Calendar),

a. During this period, students without "serious and compelling" reasons may withdraw from a course (or courses) through PeopleSoft.

b. Withdrawing from a course (or courses) for reasons that are not "serious and compelling" will count toward the 18-unit maximum.

c. Students withdrawing from a course or courses for "serious and compelling" reasons should file a Petition to Withdraw, accompanied by documentation and appropriate signatures (as outlined in III.B.3.b below), instead of withdrawing through PeopleSoft.

d. Students may withdraw from the university (or withdraw from ALL current courses) for any reason during this period by filing an online Petition to Withdraw.

- From the "last day to Drop with W" and prior to the last 20% of instruction (check Academic Calendar),

a. Students must have documented "serious and compelling" reasons in order to withdraw from a course, multiple courses, or all courses.

b. During this period, students must obtain the signatures of the course instructor and the student's faculty advisor (or professional academic advisor if the student is undeclared), and the chair of the department in which the course is taught.

c. Such withdrawals will not count against the maximum number of units in Section I above.

- During the last 20% of instruction (see Academic Calendar),

a. Students must have documented "serious and compelling" reasons clearly beyond the student's control in order to withdraw from a course, multiple courses, or all courses.

b. While in many cases withdrawing from a course may be the best option, students may wish to consult with the course instructor about whether an incomplete is practicable.

c. Procedures are the same as for Section B above. However, for this period, the registrar has the final authority to approve or disapprove the petition.

d. Such withdrawals will not count against the maximum number of units in Section I above.

IV. Total Withdrawal (Withdrawing from all courses and from the university)

A. During the period between the Drop Deadline and the "last day to withdraw with a W online,"

- A student wishing to completely withdraw from the semester (drop all courses) must complete the online Petition to Withdraw Form.
- During this period, a student may withdraw completely for any reason.
- However, if the student has documented "serious and compelling" reasons for withdrawing, the units will not count toward the maximum number of units in Section I above.

B. During the period from the census date to the end of instruction,

- A student wishing to completely withdraw from the semester may do so ONLY for "serious and compelling reasons," which must be documented, using the online Petition to Withdraw form.
- Such withdrawals will not count against the maximum number of units in Section I above.

V. Retroactive Withdrawal (after a semester has ended)

- After a given semester has ended, students may petition to retroactively withdraw from an entire semester if there are "serious and compelling" reasons for such a withdrawal.
- Students may withdraw from a single course retroactively if and only if there are "serious and compelling" reasons affecting a single course (such as being unable to finish a PE course due to a broken leg).
- The student must file the online Withdrawal form, which must be accompanied by documentation of the "serious and compelling" reasons.
- The petition must be supported by the student's faculty advisor or by a professional academic advisor if the student is undeclared.
- The University Standards Committee has the final authority to approve or deny such petitions.
- Retroactive withdrawals for "serious and compelling" reasons will not count against the maximum number of units in Section II, A above.

Cancellation of Registration or Withdrawal From the Institution

Students who find it necessary to cancel their registration or to withdraw from all classes after enrolling for any academic term are required to follow the university's official withdrawal procedures. Failure to follow formal university procedures may result in an obligation to pay fees as well as the assignment of failing grades in all courses and the need to apply for readmission before being permitted to enroll in another academic term. Information on cancelling registration and withdrawal procedures is available from Admissions & Records Salazar Hall 2030, (707) 664-2778.

Students who receive financial aid funds must consult with the Financial Aid Office prior to withdrawing from the university regarding any required return or repayment of grant or loan assistance received for that academic term or payment period. Students who have received financial aid and withdraw from the institution during the academic term or payment period may need to return or repay some or all of the funds received, which may result in a debt owed to the institution.

Information concerning the refund of fees due to complete withdrawal from the University may be obtained from Seawolf Services.

Students who are living in Student Housing must consult with the Director of Housing to make arrangements to vacate.

Leave of Absence

The Leave of Absence allows for leaves of one or two semesters. Continuing students can file a leave form with the Office of Admissions and Records indicating the duration of the leave (1 or 2 semesters only) within the first two weeks of the first semester of the requested leave. Students must file a leave form to be eligible for enrollment in the subsequent semesters. New students may not request a Leave for the first semester of enrollment at the University.

A leave request for health reasons needs to be completed with the appropriate signatures. Documentation from a licensed State of California health professional will normally be required.

A leave for educational reasons permits a student to be absent from regular attendance for one or two terms while maintaining continuing enrollment status. Applicants must have an intention to return to formal study within a specified period and plan for how the time is to be spent in relation to an educational objective.

For students who are on a leave of two semesters, you must participate in registration for the term you are returning for in order to maintain enrollment eligibility. For students returning in a Fall semester, you must register in April. For students returning in a Spring semester, you must register in November. Students failing to register will have their continuous enrollment eligibility cancelled and will need to reapply for admission.

Continuing Student Status

Once you enroll, pay fees, and attend classes at Sonoma State University, you will be in "continuing student status" for the current and subsequent semester. Reapplication to SSU is required if you take a leave of two semesters and are not on an approved Educational Leave of Absence; if you graduate with a baccalaureate from this or any other institution; or if you are a newly admitted student who enrolls, pays registration fees, and then withdraws before Census day, which is the 20th day of the semester.

The term "student" means any person taking courses at a campus, both full-time and part-time, including summer session, special session, and Extended Education.

Continuing: Student is enrolled in regular programs in one or both of the previous two semesters (summer and intersession excluded) or is resuming studies after an approved Educational Leave of Absence of no more than two consecutive semesters.

New: Student who is registering in a regular term for the first time.

Former: Student who has not registered in two previous consecutive semesters (summer and intersession excluded).

Readmitted: Student who previously attended SSU, broke continuous enrollment status, reapplied, and is readmitted to SSU in a regular program.

State-support matriculated students are permitted to enroll concurrently in SSU self-support courses and pay self-support fees when enrolling voluntarily in self-support courses. Students who have applied and been admitted to the University but who do not pay fees or enroll in state-support University Courses, or who have been disqualified for either academic or administrative reasons are also not eligible to enroll in self-support courses. There will be no exceptions to this policy. Self-support students admitted in state-support classes (through Open University) shall receive the same credit as they would receive in matriculated classes. Concurrent enrollment of self-support students in state-support classes does not constitute admission to the University; nor does it entitle them to student services available to state-support matriculated students with the exception of library privileges. Additional information is available at the Office of the School of Extended and International Education.

CSU Concurrent Enrollment

SSU students wishing to enroll concurrently at SSU and any of the other 23 California State University campuses must request permission to do so from the Office of Admissions and Records. Concurrent enrollment within the California State University system is limited to students who have completed a minimum of 12 units at SSU, have a minimum 2.0 grade-point average (3.0 for post-baccalaureate students), are in good academic standing and have paid fees at SSU for 7 units or more regardless of the total number of units earned at both campuses. Concurrent Enrollment is subject to space availability and registration priority policies at the host campus.

Conditions for Enrollment - Outgoing SSU Students

- Approval is subject to space availability, registration priority policies and deadlines of the host campus, academic advisement is available only through SSU.
- Overlap in academic terms may not be possible. Check with the host campus.
- Students may be required to provide proof of completion of prerequisites.
- Financial aid is only available through SSU.

Course Match Registration CSU Online Concurrent Enrollment

You now have access to more online courses at other CSU's. To participate in this program, you must meet the following qualifications:

- Completed at least one term at SSU as a matriculated student and earned at least 12 units here,
- Earned at least a 2.0 at SSU and are in good standing,
- Enrolled at SSU during the period of concurrent enrollment, and
- Paid tuition/fees as a full-time student (7 or more units)

Students are eligible to take one course at one school per semester.

Visitor Enrollment within the CSU (Outgoing SSU students)

Students enrolled at SSU may apply to transfer temporarily to another CSU campus in Visitor status, if they have (1) completed 12 units at home campus, (2) have earned at least a 2.0 cumulative GPA at the home campus, (3) are in good academic standing at the home campus, and (4) are eligible to register under continuing status at the home campus. Approval for visitor enrollment is valid for one term only and is subject to the host campus policies including application deadlines, space availability, and registration priority. Details and Visitor Enrollment Applications are available at the Office of Admissions and Records. Students from other CSU campuses seeking visitor status at SSU must also contact their home registration office for additional information.

Graduate students must have (1) completed one semester at SSU, (2) have earned at least a 3.0 cumulative GPA at SSU, and (3) be in good academic standing.

Conditions for Enrollment - Outgoing SSU students:

- Students will be approved for Visitor Enrollment for one term only,
- Approval is subject to space availability, registration priority policies and deadlines of the host campus, academic advisement is available only through SSU,
- Overlap in academic terms may not be possible. Check with the host campus,
- Students may be required to provide proof of completion of prerequisites, and
- Financial aid is available only through SSU.

Enrolling at SSU From Other Institutions

Check your home campus for their eligibility requirements and procedures.

Visitor and Concurrent Enrollment (Incoming Students)

- Approval is subject to space availability, SSU registration priority policies and SSU deadlines.
- Academic advisement is available only through the home campus.
- Overlap in academic terms may not be possible.
- Students will be required to provide proof of completion of prerequisites to the academic department of the course requested.
- Financial aid is available only through the home campus.

In addition to meeting the above conditions, students must satisfy the following CSU criteria at their home campus:

- Have earned at least 12 units.
- Have a 2.0 GPA
- Be in good academic standing.
- Be eligible to register under continuing students status.
- Have paid fees (Concurrent students only).

Concurrent Enrollment is allowed for more than one term, however, students must submit a new Intrasystem Application form for each term of concurrent enrollment. Approval for Visitor enrollment is valid for one (1) term only.

Cross Enrollment (Outgoing Students)

The Cross Enrollment Program is designed to enhance the educational experience of California students by providing them with increased access to courses offered by campuses of other public higher education institutions. Students may speed progress toward meeting degree requirements by investigating course availability at campuses of other systems when they are unable to gain access to required courses at their home campus or are unable to find a course offered at a convenient time. Cross enrollment also expands educational horizons by providing students with opportunities to explore disciplines not offered by the home campus. Cross enrollment opportunities are subject to host school availability.

CSU full-time undergraduate students have an opportunity to enroll without formal admission and without payment of an additional State University Fee in one course each academic term at a campus of the University of California or at participating campuses of the California Community Colleges. The Cross Enrollment Program is open to California residents enrolled for a minimum of six units, who have completed at least one term at their home campus, and who have a cumulative grade point average of at least 2.00. Eligibility for enrollment in a course offered by another segment is based on available space and appropriate academic preparation for the course as determined by the host campus. Although the host campus will not require the regular course fee, a discounted administration fee may be assessed for each term, and students are expected to pay any course-related fees (lab, materials, computer use, etc.).

Sonoma also offers cross-registration for undergraduate students with the University of California. For more information, contact the Office of Admissions and Records, Salazar Hall 2030.

Cross Enrollment (Incoming Students)

To attend SSU through the Cross-Enrollment program:

- Obtain an Application for Cross-Enrollment and appropriate approvals from your home campus.

At SSU:

- Obtain registration information and signatures from the appropriate SSU instructor. Attend the first class session and ask the instructor if there is space available to enroll through cross enrollment; if so:
 - Follow instructions for adding a class and obtain required approvals.
 - Submit the approved Application for Cross Enrollment, and $10 fee to Admissions and Records by the deadlines that are published on our website.
 - Approved Cross-Enrollment requests are processed on a space available basis.

Military and Veteran Resources Center

Serves student Veterans and dependents of Veterans through the Federal VA and California CalVet programs. Students in the Federal VA program must provide Certificate of Eligibility and submit current enrollment information prior to first semester. Students in the CalVet program must submit the College Fee Waiver Authorization prior to each academic year.

ROTC Programs (Reserve Officer Training Corps)

ROTC is a training program that prepares college students to become officers in the U.S. Army, Navy, or Air Force. Sonoma State University students wishing to pursue ROTC training may do so by participating in ROTC programs offered at the University of California at Berkeley. For more information on enrollment requirements, procedures, and scholarship information, visit the Military Affairs website.

Provisional Unclassified Graduate Credit for Senior Students

Students who plan to complete upper-division or graduate-level courses in their final semester may petition for provisional unclassified graduate credit for such courses. Courses required for the baccalaureate will not be granted this provisional status. The petition must be filed at the same time as the application for award of the degree. Teaching credential candidates should consult the Education Department regarding the advisability of such a petition.

Provisional unclassified post-baccalaureate credit can only be granted for upper-division and graduate-level courses in the semester prior to graduation and will be recorded in the student's academic record as earned prior to the award of the baccalaureate. Such credit is applicable to graduate objectives at the discretion of the relevant academic department. Should requirements for the baccalaureate not be completed by the date specified on the application, the petition for postbaccalaureate credit becomes null and void.

Special Studies Courses

The University makes arrangements through Special Studies 495 and 595 for advanced or exceptionally talented students who want to pursue academic interests beyond the scope of the regular curriculum. Such course work is subject to the following conditions and restrictions:

- Special studies courses are limited to upper-division students who have a) a cumulative GPA of 3.00 or better, and b) an appropriate background for undertaking the proposed topic.
- Special studies are confined principally to on-site academic study and research projects (see internship and research assistant credit courses for other kinds of credited course work).
- No more than 8 units of special studies work — with a maximum of 4 units per course — may be taken in any department.
- No more than 12 units of special studies may count toward the baccalaureate.
- Special studies may not duplicate a course that is listed in the catalog and that is normally offered within a two-year period.
- Meetings between instructor and student should be scheduled at intervals appropriate to the topic and the number of units assigned.
- Each unit of credit requires a minimum of 45 hours of academic work.
- Approval for registration must be obtained from the advisor, instructor, department chair, and dean.

Declaring or Changing a Major

Enrolled SSU undergraduate students in good standing may, with prior departmental approval, change their major. A Change of Major form must be submitted to the Office of Admissions and Records with the appropriate departmental approvals. Students should contact their intended department for major change requirements and change of major periods. The same rules apply to adding or changing a minor.

Catalog Year Requirement

Undergraduate students remaining in continuous attendance and continuing in the same major at Sonoma, at any other California State University, or in any California community college, or any combination of California community and state colleges may elect to meet the Sonoma graduation requirements in effect at the time of their entering the major or at the time of their graduation from Sonoma. Substitutions for discontinued courses may be authorized or required by the proper campus authorities. The continuous attendance policy allows interruptions in enrollment so long as the student is enrolled at least one semester or two quarters each calendar year.

Auditing

At Sonoma State, auditing is an informal arrangement between an auditor and a faculty member. With the permission of the instructor and if space is available, an auditor may attend a course on an informal basis. The auditor and the instructor must agree upon the extent to which the auditor will participate, and whether the auditor's work will be required and evaluated. Students do not register for these classes and no official records are maintained of these informal audits.

Transcripts of SSU Courses

Students may obtain transcripts of their Sonoma State University records from the Office of Admissions and Records only upon written request. Include your name, date of birth, Social Security number or SSU ID number, the dates you attended SSU, where you wish the transcripts mailed, and any special instructions (e.g., hold for degree or grades). All transcript requests must include a signature. The University reserves the right to withhold issuing the transcript of any student not in good financial standing with the University. Transcripts may be ordered by mail, or by fax, at (707) 664-2060. There is no charge for SSU transcripts. Please allow 5-10 business days for processing.

Credit Hour

On July 1, 2020, the United States Department of Education changed its definition of the student credit hour. Fundamentally, the change now shifts responsibility for credit hour compliance to the accreditation agency and/or to the state.

As such, the CSU's accreditor, the WASC Senior College and University Commission (WSCUC), has published its own updated definition of student credit hour and related accreditation processes. The new regulations no longer require an accrediting agency to review an institution's credit hour policy and procedures. It does require the WSCUC to review the institution's definition of credit hour and (as a newly introduced practice) an institutions' processes and policies for ensuring the credit hour policy is followed.

The CSU credit hour definition is consistent with federal law (600.2 and 600.4 revised July 1, 2020) and the requirements of the WSCUC. The CSU defines a credit hour as an amount of work represented in stated learning outcomes and verified by evidence of student achievement. Such evidence is an institutionally established equivalency that:

- Approximates not less than:
- One hour of direct faculty instruction and a minimum of two hours of out-of-class student work each week for approximately 15 weeks for one semester or equivalent amount of work over a different amount of time; or
- At least an equivalent amount of work as required in paragraph 1.a. of this definition for other academic activities as established by the institution including laboratory work, internships, practica, studio work and other academic work leading to the award of credit hours; and
- Permits an institution, in determining the amount of work associated with a credit hour, to take into account a variety of delivery methods, measurements of student work, academic calendars, disciplines and degree levels. Institutions have the flexibility to award a greater number of credits for courses that require more student work.

As in the past, a credit hour is assumed to be a 50-minute (not 60-minute) period. In some courses, such as those offered online, in which "seat time" does not apply, a credit hour may be measured by an equivalent amount of work, as demonstrated by student achievement.

For purposes of accreditation, all CSU campuses are required to develop, communicate and implement procedures for regular, periodic review of this credit hour policy to ensure that credit hour assignments are accurate, reliable and consistently applied. WSCUC published new draft guidelines that will take effect in June 2021. Campuses will be responsible (effective summer 2021) for publishing a clearly stated practice or process that ensures they are in compliance with the student credit hour definition.

Grading

Identification of Grades

The University uses a combination of traditional and nontraditional grading options, as follows:

Traditional Grades (A, B, C, D, F)

Letters A, B, C, and D are passing grades; F means failure. Additional + (plus) and - (minus) supplements add or subtract 0.30 grade points per unit. These apply to the A, B, C, and D grades; there is no A+.

Nontraditional Grades (Cr/NC)

Credit (Cr) may be awarded in undergraduate classes (499 and below) for work equivalent to a letter grade of C- or better, and for graduate-level classes (500) for work equivalent to a B- or better. NC, indicating No Credit, is given for work equivalent to D+ and below for undergraduate classes and C+ and below for graduate-level classes.

In classes in which there is an option between traditional and nontraditional grading modes, the mode must be declared using Web Registration by Census day. (See www.sonoma.edu/admissions/filing.html or the appropriate Schedule of Classes for instructions.) Undergraduate students may count a maximum of 24 units of Cr (credit) grades toward their undergraduate degree.

Only courses graded A-F may be applied toward major and minor requirements, except for courses not available in the A-F mode. Thus, a course taken Cr/NC when the alternative is available can be counted only as an elective or toward the general education requirements. This provision is enforced only when the student applies for graduation rather than upon each class enrollment. Students taking more than the maximum number of Cr units will be required to complete more than the minimum number of units required for the degree.

All non traditionally graded units earned at other institutions that have been accepted for transfer will be accepted toward the bachelor's degree. If fewer than 24 such units are transferred, they will count toward the 24-unit limit. If 24 or more such units have been accepted, no additional Cr/NC course may be taken unless it is offered Cr/NC only and is required for the major.

All lower-division general education units earned in the Hutchins School will be acceptable for graduation, irrespective of their number, up to the 48 units that constitute the Hutchins School general education program. A student who completes at least 24 Cr/NC units in the Hutchins

School general education program may not take other Cr/NC courses unless the units are earned in a course that is available only on a Cr/NC grading basis and is required for the major. Graduate students may, at the discretion of the department, take up to one-third of the total units applied to their master's degree in a nontraditional grading mode. Each department will designate those courses that may be graded only in the Cr/NC mode.

Definitions of Grading Symbols

The accompanying grade chart indicates grade symbols and their numerical equivalents for evaluating coursework. In addition, more complete definitions of administrative grades are provided.

Grade	Description	Quality Points
A	Outstanding	4.0 per unit value of course
A-		3.7 per unit value of course
B+		3.3 per unit value of course
B	Very Good	3.0 per unit value of course
B-		2.7 per unit value of course
C+		2.3 per unit value of course
C	Average	2.0 per unit value of course
C-		1.7 per unit value of course
D+		1.3 per unit value of course
D	Barely Passing	1 per unit value of course
D-		0.7 per unit value of course
F	Failure	0 per unit value of course
Cr	Credit	Not applicable
NC	No Credit	Not applicable
I	Incomplete	Not applicable
IC	Incomplete Charged	0 per unit value of course
RP	Report in Progress	Not applicable
W	Withdrawal	Not applicable

WU	Withdrawal Unauthorized	0 per unit value of course
RD	Report Delayed	Not applicable
PRV	Provisional Graduate Credit	Not applicable

Incomplete (I)

The symbol "I" indicates that a portion of required course work has not been completed and evaluated in the prescribed time period due to unforeseen, but fully justified, reasons and that there is still a possibility of earning credit. It is the responsibility of the student to bring pertinent information to the attention of the instructor and to determine from the instructor the remaining course requirements that must be satisfied to remove the Incomplete. A final grade is assigned when the work agreed upon has been completed and evaluated.

An Incomplete shall be converted to the appropriate grade within one year following the end of the term during which it was assigned. Where campus policy requires assignment of final grades on the basis of numerous demonstrations of competency by the student, it may be appropriate for a faculty member to submit a letter grade to be assigned in the event the Incomplete is not made up within one year. If the Incomplete is not converted within the prescribed time limit, it shall be counted as a failing grade in calculating grade point average and progress points unless the faculty member has assigned a grade in accordance with campus policy.

Incomplete Charged (IC)

This limitation prevails whether or not the student maintains continuous enrollment. Failure to complete the assigned work will result in an "I" being converted to an "IC" symbol, unless the faculty member assigns a specific letter grade at the time the Incomplete is assigned, which would replace the "I" in the student's record at the end of the calendar year deadline. If the Incomplete is not converted within the prescribed time limit, it shall be counted as a failing grade (if the course was registered as a graded course) in calculating grade point average and progress points unless the faculty member has assigned a grade in accordance with campus policy. If the course was registered as CR/NC, a NC will be assigned as the final grade.

Repeat (RPT) (inactive as of Spring 2011)

The "RPT" grade indicates course has been approved as repeat. Units are not used in calculation of grade point. Repeated courses are noted on the transcript as either, replaced or averaged.

Report in Progress (RP)

The "RP" symbol is used in connection with Graduate level courses that extend beyond one academic year. It indicates that work is in progress but that assignment of a final grade must await completion of additional work. Work is to be completed within one year except for graduate degree theses.

Enrollment for more units of credit than the total number of units that can be applied to the fulfillment of the student's educational objective is prohibited. Work is to be completed within a stipulated time. This may not exceed two years, but may not exceed the overall time limit for completion of all master's degree requirements. Any extension of time limits must receive prior authorization by the Associate Vice President for Academic Programs and Graduate Studies.

Report Delayed (RD)

The "RD" symbol is an administrative grade used when a grade has not yet been determined for the student or has been delayed in the grade reporting process and is not used in calculating grade point average.

Withdrawal (W)

"W" indicates that the student withdrew from the course after the end of the add/drop period. It carries no connotation of quality of student performance and is not used in calculating grade point.

Withdrawal Unauthorized (WU)

The symbol "WU" indicates that an enrolled student did not formally withdraw from the course and failed to complete course requirements. It is used when, in the opinion of the instructor, completed assignments or course activities or both were insufficient to make normal evaluation of academic performance possible. For purposes of grade point average and progress point computation, this symbol is equivalent to an "F."

Credit (Cr)

"CR" grades are not included in the calculation of grade point average.

No Credit (NC)

"NC" grades are not included in the calculation of grade point average.

Grade Reporting

Grades for Fall and Spring semesters are posted one time per semester in batch. Once grades are posted, they will be available to view online. If a clerical or procedural error in the reporting of a grade by the instructor can be documented, you may request a change of grade with the instructor. It is preferred that the request be made by the 2nd week of the following semester. Summer and winter-session grades are posted by the School of Extended & International Education. No changes to the permanent record will be permitted after a degree has been awarded.

Dean's List

Undergraduate students who earn at least a 3.50 GPA in a minimum of 12 units of letter-graded work will be awarded Dean's List recognition. Courses taken from Extended Education or credit by examination will not be included in this calculation. Only the grades for one semester will be used in the computation of the GPA for purposes of granting this recognition.

Academic Records

Student academic records are maintained by the Office of Admissions and Records. These records are considered confidential and, while available to faculty members for advising purposes, the information contained is subject to very strict control. Parents of minor students have authorized access to the academic records of their children. All other persons requesting access to academic records, including governmental investigators and parents of students 18 years old or older, must have the student's written permission.

A student's permanent academic record cannot be changed except where an error in recording has occurred or by approval of the proper University authority. Records will not be changed once a degree has been awarded.

Individuals may have access to their official records by appointment with the Office of Admissions and Records. Records of work done at other institutions cannot be copied; students' files will be kept for no more than five years after the semester last attended.

Diplomas

After students apply for graduation they can go into their MySSU account and review/edit their diploma name and address. The name must be legally and verifiably their own as it appears on an appropriate form of identification, such as a driver's license or Social Security card. Family names and nicknames cannot be used. The policy applies for reissued diplomas and certificates as well.

Diplomas are mailed approximately ten to twelve weeks after the graduation date so be sure you adjust for this when changing or modifying your diploma address. A replacement copy of a lost diploma may be purchased for $10.

Scholastic Status

Grade point average (GPA), used as a measurement of satisfactory scholarship, is calculated by dividing the number of grade points by the number of units attempted for the grades of A, B, C, D, F, WU, and IC. CR and NC are not used in this calculation.

Academic Standing

Academic standing refers to the quality of a student's academic work at the University. Academic Standing is calculated for all college units attempted (cumulative GPA) and for all units attempted at Sonoma State University (resident GPA). Students falling below acceptable standards are placed on academic probation and become subject to academic disqualification should the quality of their academic work not improve to meet minimum standards.

Good Standing

Undergraduate students who have maintained satisfactory scholarship with at least a 2.00 cumulative grade point average and their SSU resident GPA are in good standing. Graduate and Credential students who have maintained satisfactory scholarship with at least a 3.00 cumulative grade point average are in good standing.

Academic Probation and Academic Disqualification

Academic Standing is computed twice a year - once at the end of the Spring semester, and once at the end of the Fall semester. There are two probationary and disqualification statuses to which students may be subject to: academic or administrative. Grade changes made after the running of academic standing will not be reflected until academic standing is run following the next regular graded semester.

Academic Probation

An undergraduate student is subject to academic probation if at any time the cumulative grade point average in all college work attempted or cumulative grade point average at the campus where enrolled falls below 2.0 (Title 5. California Code of Regulations, Section 41300 (a)).

An undergraduate student shall be removed from academic probation when the cumulative grade point average in all college work attempted and the cumulative grade point average at the campus where enrolled is 2.0 or higher.

Probation and Disqualification of post-baccalaureate and graduate students are subject to Section 41300 (d), (e), and (f) of Title 5 and criteria established by the campus.

Undergraduate 2.00

Graduate and Credential Students 3.00

Academic Disqualification

As authorized by Section 41300 (b) of Title 5, undergraduate students on academic probation are subject to academic disqualification when they fall below a 2.00 (C) average by the number of grade points indicated either for all units attempted or for all units attempted at Sonoma State University.

Class Level	Minimum GPA
--------------------	--------------------

Freshmen (0-29 units completed)	1.50
---------------------------------	------

Sophomores (30-59 units completed)	1.70
------------------------------------	------

Juniors (60-89 units completed)	1.85
---------------------------------	------

Seniors (90 or more units completed)	1.95
--------------------------------------	------

Undergraduate students who have been disqualified may not apply for immediate reinstatement. Students who have been disqualified should plan to retake any course(s) for which you received grades of C- or below (including WU and IC); examine the circumstances that led to your unsatisfactory performance and make appropriate adjustments to ensure the circumstances do not recur.

Once a student has been disqualified and who has been separated from the University for at least one full semester, may apply to the University Standards Committee for consideration of reinstatement. The Committee shall take into consideration qualitative and quantitative evidence of the student's ability to overcome his/her grade point deficit (SSU and cumulative). Lower division students shall normally be expected to repeat and complete enough transferable college-level course work elsewhere to raise their GPA to at least 2.0 before applying for reinstatement.

Graduate and credential students: Minimum GPA 3.0. A graduate or credential student on academic probation who fails to earn sufficient grade points for removal from probationary status is subject to academic disqualification.

Notice of Disqualification: Students who are disqualified at the end of an enrollment period under any of the provisions of Executive Order 823 will be notified before the beginning of the next consecutive regular enrollment period. Students disqualified at the beginning of a summer enrollment break should be notified at least one month before the start of the fall term.

Academic Disqualification of Students not on Probation

A student not on probation may be disqualified if a) at the end of any term, the student has a cumulative GPA below 1.0, AND b) the cumulative GPA is so low that, in view of the student's overall educational record, it seems unlikely that the deficiency will be removed within a reasonable period, as determined by the registrar in consultation with the University Standard Committee. Such disqualifications may be appealed to the University Standards Committee.

Administrative-Academic Probation

A student may be placed on administrative-academic probation for 1) withdrawal from a substantial portion of a program in two successive terms; 2) repeated failure to progress toward a degree; 3) repeated failure to progress toward the stated degree objective or other program objective, including that resulting from assignment of 15 units of NC; or 4) failure to comply with an academic requirement or regulation that is routine for all students or for a defined group of students.

Administrative-Academic Disqualification

Students may be placed in administrative-academic disqualified status for continued failure to remedy the condition resulting in their being on administrative academic probation. Additionally, the President may designate a campus official to act for him or her in the disqualification of students not on probation when: 1) a student has, at the end of any term, fewer cumulative grade points than cumulative units attempted; and 2) the cumulative grade point deficiency is so great that, in view of the student's overall educational program, it seems unlikely that the deficiency will be corrected within a reasonable period of time. A student disqualified from the University may be reinstated only by special action.

Reinstatement after Disqualification

Students are not academically disqualified from the University on the basis of a single semester of unsatisfactory work EXCEPT in the case above (Academic Disqualification of Students not on Probation). A student who has been at the University for more than one semester and whose SSU or cumulative grade point average results in disqualification will not be allowed to apply for readmission to the University until he/she has been away from the University for a period of time (generally a minimum of one semester) and has demonstrated academic success (or an equivalent experience) in another environment.

Disqualified students may be considered for reinstatement by petitioning to the University Standards Committee (in care of the Office of Admissions and Records). Petitions must be accompanied by evidence (such as satisfactory academic work elsewhere) that would justify reinstatement and a letter of support from the student's SSU major department. Petitions are reviewed and approved or denied by the University Standards Committee. Disqualified students who are reinstated will be on a probationary basis until all grade point deficiencies have been removed or until they are again disqualified. Students who have been reinstated after disqualification and then disqualified again will not be reinstated except under exceptional circumstances.

Course Repeat

For detailed information on the CSU's Course Repeat Policy

Excessive Enrollment and Duplicate Credit

If a student enrolls in the same course beyond catalog limitations, units earned will not be counted toward a baccalaureate. The grades and any grade points earned, however, will be averaged with the student's other grades. The same holds true for students who have taken the same course outside of what is allowed. Units will only count once, but the two grades will average into the GPA. The University does not award credit for a course twice.

Academic Renewal

The trustees of the California State University have established a program of academic renewal whereby students who are having difficulty meeting graduation requirements due to a grade point deficiency may petition to have up to two semesters or three quarters of previous college work discounted from all considerations associated with meeting requirements for the baccalaureate. Academic renewal is intended only to facilitate graduation from SSU and is not applicable for individuals who already possess a baccalaureate or who meet graduation requirements without the approval of a petition for academic renewal.

Conditions: To qualify for academic renewal, all of the following conditions established by the trustees must be met:

- The student must present evidence in the petition that the coursework to be disregarded was substandard and not representative of the student's present scholastic ability and level of performance, because of extenuating circumstances.
- The student must present evidence that if the petition is denied, it would be necessary for the student to enroll in additional coursework involving one or more additional terms in order to qualify for graduation. The student should include the specific coursework or requirements involved. Normally students should have completed 90 units prior to filing the petition.
- Five years must have elapsed since the term or terms to be disregarded were completed. Terms taken at any institution may be disregarded.
- Subsequent to the completion of the term(s) to be disregarded, the student must have completed the following coursework at Sonoma State University: 15 semester units with at least a 3.00 GPA, or 30 semester units with at least a 2.50 GPA, or 45 semester units with at least a 2.00 GPA.

If and when the petition is granted, the student's permanent academic record will be annotated so that it is readily evident to all users of the record that no work taken during the disregarded term(s), even if satisfactory, will apply toward baccalaureate graduation requirements. However, all work will remain legible on the record to ensure a true and complete academic history.

A final decision on the petition will be made by the University Standards Committee. The Committee will review petitions only if all of the basic requirements (indicated above) are met. Normally, students will be notified of the decision within 30 days after the completed petition is submitted.

Class Attendance

Class attendance is an important part of a student's university experience. However, there are legitimate reasons for missing class, such as illness, accidents, death of a close family member, jury duty, religious observance or representing the University at officially approved University activities. Students should be cautioned that even though absences may be for legitimate reasons, such absences can impair performance and result in a lower grade. Faculty have primary authority for setting class attendance policy according to discipline standards. There are class activities, such as labs, assignments and discussions that cannot reasonably be made up.

When students are absent from classes, it is their responsibility to provide the instructor with due notice and documentation when possible, and to inform the instructor of the reason for absence. Students are also responsible for requesting, in a timely manner, to make up missed assignments and class work if these are reasonably able to be provided.

Instructors are responsible for providing a clear statement on the course outline about the impact of attendance on students' grades. For students who have missed classes for legitimate reasons, instructors are also responsible for providing an opportunity to complete make-up work or grade substitution, if the instructor determines that such is reasonably able to be provided.

Graduate and Postbaccalaureate Regulations

- No fewer than one-half of the units shall be in graduate (500-level) courses.
- A classified student must continue to demonstrate, throughout enrollment in the graduate program, the level of competence required to be successful in the completion of the requirements. This evaluation of competence is primarily the responsibility of faculty actively teaching in the program.
- The master's program contract advances the student to candidacy and must be filed no later than the time the student files for graduation.
- At least 21 semester units shall be completed in residence.
- At least 18 semester units shall be completed in the major.
- No more than 6 semester units shall be allowed for a thesis.
- No more than 9 units of Extension or transfer credit (or combination of the two) may be allowed, subject to the approval of the department concerned.
- No credit toward a master's degree will be given for student teaching in a credential program.
- The candidate must complete a thesis, project, or comprehensive exam as required by the department. Culminating projects that are published by the library require review by the Graduate Studies Office, as well as the student's faculty committee. A public defense of the thesis or project is required.
- Graduate students at Sonoma State University may, at the discretion of the department, take up to one-third of the total units applied to the master's degree in a nontraditional grading mode.
- The student may take three semesters to complete the thesis/project following initial enrollment in the units. The SP grade will remain until the student submits the culminating project. Projects taking more than four semesters to complete will require approval by the Associate Vice President for Academic Programs and Graduate Studies, the appropriate campus authority, or re-enrollment in units.

Change in Graduate Standing

Many students are admitted to the University in conditionally classified standing with contingencies to remove prior to becoming a classified student. This admission does not guarantee a space in the graduate program. Such a guarantee is obtained by a change in graduate standing to classified status verified by the program in question. Each department has its own procedures for granting the student a place in its program. At the time this status is confirmed, a Change in Graduate Status form is filed with the Admission and Records Office and the Graduate Studies Office confirming the department's approval of this change in status. Changes to graduate status may not be processed until the end of the semester.

Students who graduated with a bachelor's degree from a foreign institution and change from working toward a second bachelor's to a graduate program must submit a qualifying TOEFL or IELTS score.

Syllabus Policy

The University Syllabus Policy states faculty shall provide students with a syllabus for all university courses that confer academic credit. Course outlines shall be provided to students that are accessible to each student within the first full week of classes and must include the following items:

- Name of instructor, office location, office hours, office telephone number, and email address.
- Course number, title, and semester/year.
- General course information, including classroom, course format, meeting days/times, pre-requisites, fees, and GE category (as applicable).
- Course description from the catalog or departmental description compatible with description from the university catalog.
- Student learning outcomes. Student learning outcomes should be written in such a way that a. Outcomes are measurable, specific, and achievable in the course time frame.
b. Alignment between course requirements and student learning outcomes is clear.
- General Education Mission, Goals, and Objectives (MGOs), either printed or as URL reference (for GE Courses).
- Course materials that must be procured by the student, including texts, software, or other equipment
- Course requirements such as written work, exams, quizzes, projects, labs, fieldwork, and attendance
- Expected Schedule of topics, readings, assignments, and exams. Specify how students will be notified if changes to the schedule are necessary.
- Grading policy -- indicate the relative weight of course requirements, expected due dates, and method for determining final grades.
- Reminder about policies -- for recommended language, see the Accessible Syllabus Template

- Clear statement of department or faculty member's policy for assigning attendance and participation credit, responding to cheating and plagiarism, and accepting late work. For more information, see the full syllabus policy.

Student Policies

Privacy Rights of Students in Education Records (FERPA)

The federal Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (20 U.S.C. 1232g) (FERPA) and regulations adopted thereunder (34 C.F.R. 99) set out requirements designed to protect students' privacy in their educational records maintained by the campus. The statute and regulations govern access to certain student records maintained by the campus and the release of those records. FERPA provides that the campus must give students access to most records directly related to the student, and must also provide opportunity for a hearing to correct the records if the student claims they are inaccurate, misleading, or otherwise inappropriate. The right to a hearing under this law does not include any right to challenge the appropriateness of a grade determined by the instructor. FERPA generally requires the campus obtain a student's written consent before releasing personally identifiable data pertaining to the student. The campus has adopted a set of policies and procedures governing implementation of FERPA and the regulations. Copies of these policies and procedures may be obtained in the Registrar's Office. Among the information included in the campus statement of policies and procedures is: (1) the student records maintained and the information they contain; (2) the campus official responsible for maintaining each record; (3) the location of access lists indicating persons requesting or receiving information from the record; (4) policies for reviewing and expunging records; (5) student access rights to their records; (6) procedure for challenging the content of student records; and (7) the student's right to file a complaint with the Department of Education. The Department of Education has established an office and review board to investigate complaints and adjudicate violations. The designated office is: Family Policy Compliance Office, U.S. Department of Education, 400 Maryland Avenue, SW, Washington, D.C. 20202-5920.

FERPA authorizes the campus to release "directory information" pertaining to students. "Directory information" may include the student's name, address, telephone listing, electronic mail address, photograph, date and place of birth, major field of study, participation in officially recognized activities and sports, weight and height of members of athletic teams, dates of attendance, grade level, enrollment status, degrees, honors, and awards received, and the most recent previous educational agency or institution the student attended. The campus may release this "directory information" at any time unless the campus has received prior written objection from the student specifying the information the student requests not be released. Written objections must be sent to:

The campus is authorized to provide access to student records to campus officials and employees who have legitimate educational interests in such access. These persons have responsibilities in the campus's academic, administrative or service functions and have reason for accessing student records associated with their campus or other related academic responsibilities. Student records will be disclosed to the CSU Chancellor's Office to conduct research, to analyze trends, or to provide other administrative services. Student records may also be disclosed to other persons or organizations under certain conditions (e.g., as part of the accreditation or program evaluation; in response to a court order or subpoena; in connection with financial aid; or to other institutions to which the student is transferring).

Immunization Requirements and Registration Holds for Non-Compliance

In accordance with California State University policy, entering students are required to provide SSU with copies of official records showing full immunization (or blood test proof of immunity if applicable) to the diseases listed below. All incoming new students are required to submit immunization documentation to the SSU Student Health Center through the "My Health Portal" tile on their My SSU Online Services Portal. This must be completed at least 6 weeks prior to the start of each student's first semester of classes at Sonoma State University. Students who do not meet this deadline are subject to conditional enrollment and other late compliance penalties. Holds are placed on the records of students who have not provided SSU with the required documentation. These registration holds prohibit students from registering for future classes until the required documents have been received and processed.

- Measles/Mumps/Rubella (MMR): proof of immunization is required of all students born after 12/31/56. Immunization records must show that the student received two doses of MMR vaccine after 12 months of age and spaced at least one month apart. Students may also meet this requirement by submitting copies of blood test results showing that the student is immune to Rubeola (Measles), Mumps and Rubella.
- Hepatitis B vaccine: proof of immunization is required of all students who are or were under age 19 at the start of their first semester of classes at SSU. Immunization records must show that the student received three appropriately spaced doses of Hepatitis B vaccine or copies of a blood test showing immunity to Hepatitis B. These requirements persist until fully satisfied, regardless of the student's subsequent age.
- Varicella (Chickenpox) vaccine: two doses with first dose on or after 1st birthday; OR blood test showing immunity. History of contracting the disease does NOT meet compliance requirement.
- Meningococcal conjugate (Serogroups A, C, Y & W-135) vaccine: one dose on or after age 16 years for all students age 21 years or younger at the time of the start of first semester of classes at SSU.
- Tetanus, Diphtheria and Pertussis (Tdap) vaccine: One dose after age 7

- Screening/Risk Assessment for Tuberculosis (TB): All incoming students must complete a TB risk questionnaire. Incoming students who are at higher risk for TB infection, as indicated by answering "yes" to any of the screening questions, should undergo either skin or blood testing for TB infection within one year of CSU entry. Higher risk includes travel to or living in (for one month or more) South or Central America, Africa, Asia, Eastern Europe and the Middle East; prior positive TB test; or exposure to someone with active TB disease.

Students in need of immunizations or blood tests to demonstrate immunity should contact an off campus health care provider. Incoming SSU students who have paid their enrollment deposit are eligible to utilize the SSU Student Health Center (SHC) for these services prior to the beginning of their first semester of classes. There are charges for these services at the SHC.

In addition to the required immunizations, the following immunizations are strongly recommended for college students by the US Centers for Disease Control (CDC):

- Hepatitis B vaccine– Students age 19 and older
- Hepatitis A vaccine – All students regardless of age
- Human Papillomavirus (HPV) vaccine --Women and men through age 26 years
- Meningococcal B vaccine--Students age 16-23 who elect vaccination after discussion with their healthcare provider
- Pneumococcal vaccine -- for students with certain medical conditions such as severe asthma, diabetes, chronic liver or kidney disease
- Poliovirus -- Regardless of age, if the series was not completed as a child

Office of Student Rights and Responsibilities

(707) 664-3396

The President of the University has authority in disciplinary actions. In compliance with CSU Executive Order 1098 the President may assign a campus official or officials to be the Student Conduct Administrator (SCA), whose responsibility is to determine whether to initiate disciplinary action under the Student Conduct Code. The Chief Student Affairs Officer is the designated Student Conduct Administrator for this University.

Purpose Statement

Promote a safe and secure campus environment for learning and growing by serving as the primary source of student conduct and academic integrity.

Student Conduct Procedures

Inappropriate conduct by students or by applicants for admission is subject to disciplinary action by the University as provided in sections 41301 through 41304 of Title 5 of the California Code of Regulations. The purpose of the code is to provide procedures that are fair and just, both to the student alleged and to the institution, by which it can be determined whether violations of conduct have occurred. A complaint against a student for an alleged violation of conduct (as defined in Sections 41301 through 41304 of Title 5) may be filed by a student, faculty member, staff member, University police officer, or community member. The complaint should be filed with the SCA, and will be assigned a hearing officer who will investigate the alleged violation. The hearing officer will hold a conference with the student to obtain their response to the alleged misconduct and to determine if the complaint may be dealt with informally by mutual consent through a student conduct resolution agreement. If the allegations of misconduct have not been resolved informally by conference and the SCA determines that formal disciplinary action should be taken, the SCA shall initiate the disciplinary action process by written Notice of Hearing. This notice shall be served in person or served by certified mail return receipt requested to the student charged at the last known address on campus records. For detailed information about the Notice of Hearing process and requirements, please refer to CSU Executive Order 1098. At any point in the process, the student may waive a hearing and accept a sanction without admitting that they engaged in the conduct charged. The hearing will be conducted by a hearing officer, who will be an administrative officer of the University appointed by the President. The hearing officer will submit a report and recommendations to the President, who will decide the matter, notify the student, and take action as appropriate. Discipline that may be imposed includes, but is not limited to, probation, suspension, and expulsion.

Student Conduct

Title 5, California Code of Regulations, § 41301. Standards for Student Conduct

• Campus Community Values

The University is committed to maintaining a safe and healthy living and learning environment for students, faculty, and staff. Each member of the campus community should choose behaviors that contribute toward this end. Students are expected to be good citizens and to engage in responsible behaviors that reflect well upon their university, to be civil to one another and to others in the campus community, and contribute positively to student and university life.

• Grounds for Student Discipline

Student behavior that is not consistent with the Student Conduct Code is addressed through an educational process that is designed to promote safety and good citizenship and, when necessary, impose appropriate consequences. The following behavior is subject to disciplinary sanctions:

- Dishonesty, including:
- Cheating, plagiarism, or other forms of academic dishonesty that are intended to gain unfair academic advantage.
- Furnishing false information to a University official, faculty member, or campus office.
- Forgery, alteration, or misuse of a University document, key, or identification instrument.
- Misrepresenting one's self to be an authorized agent of the University or one of its auxiliaries.
- Unauthorized entry into, presence in, use of, or misuse of University property.
- Willful, material, and substantial disruption or obstruction of a University-related activity, or any on-campus activity.
- Participating in an activity that substantially and materially disrupts the normal operations of the University, or infringes on the rights of members of the University community.
- Willful, material, and substantial obstruction of the free flow of pedestrian or other traffic, on or leading to campus property or an off-campus University related activity.
- Disorderly, lewd, indecent, or obscene behavior at a University related activity, or directed toward a member of the University community.
- Conduct that threatens or endangers the health or safety of any person within or related to the University community, including physical abuse, threats, intimidation, harassment, or sexual misconduct.

- Hazing or conspiracy to haze. Hazing is defined as any method of initiation or pre-initiation into a student organization or student body, whether or not the organization or body is officially recognized by an educational institution, which is likely to cause serious bodily injury to any former, current, or prospective student of any school, community college, college, university or other educational institution in this state (Penal Code 245.6), and in addition, any act likely to cause physical harm, personal degradation or disgrace resulting in physical or mental harm, to any former, current, or prospective student of any school, community college, college, university or other educational institution. The term "hazing" does not include customary athletic events or school sanctioned events.

Neither the express or implied consent of a victim of hazing, nor the lack of active participation in a particular hazing incident is a defense. Apathy or acquiescence in the presence of hazing is not a neutral act, and is also a violation of this section.

- Use, possession, manufacture, or distribution of illegal drugs or drug- related paraphernalia, (except as expressly permitted by law and University regulations) or the misuse of legal pharmaceutical drugs.
- Use, possession, manufacture, or distribution of alcoholic beverages (except as expressly permitted by law and University regulations), or public intoxication while on campus or at a University related activity.
- Theft of property or services from the University community, or misappropriation of University resources.
- Unauthorized destruction, or damage to University property or other property in the University community.
- Possession or misuse of firearms or guns, replicas, ammunition, explosives, fireworks, knives, other weapons, or dangerous chemicals (without the prior authorization of the campus President) on campus or at a University related activity.
- Unauthorized recording, dissemination, or publication of academic presentations (including handwritten notes) for a commercial purpose.
- Misuse of computer facilities or resources, including:
 - Unauthorized entry into a file, for any purpose.
 - Unauthorized transfer of a file.
 - Use of another's identification or password.
 - Use of computing facilities, campus network, or other resources to interfere with the work of another member of the University community.
 - Use of computing facilities and resources to send obscene or intimidating and abusive messages.
 - Use of computing facilities and resources to interfere with normal University operations.
 - Use of computing facilities and resources in violation of copyright laws.
 - Violation of a campus computer use policy.
 - Violation of any published University policy, rule, regulation, or Presidential order.
 - Failure to comply with directions or, or interference with, any University official or any public safety officer while acting in the performance of his/her duties.
 - Any act chargeable as a violation of a federal, state, or local law that poses a substantial threat to the safety or well-being of members of the University community, to property within the University community or poses a significant threat of disruption or interference with University operations.
- Violation of the Student Conduct Procedures, including:

- Falsification, distortion, or misrepresentation of information related to a student discipline matter.
- Disruption or interference with the orderly progress of a student discipline proceeding.
- Initiation of a student discipline proceeding in bad faith.
- Attempting to discourage another from participating in a student discipline matter.
- Attempting to influence the impartiality of any participant in a student discipline matter.
- Verbal or physical harassment or intimidation of any participant in a student discipline matter.
- Failure to comply with the sanction(s) imposed under a student discipline proceeding.
- (20) Encouraging, permitting, or assisting another to do any act that could subject him or her to discipline.

- Procedures for Enforcing This Code

The chancellor shall adopt procedures to ensure students are afforded appropriate notice and an opportunity to be heard before the University imposes any sanction for a violation of the Student Conduct Code.

Note: At the time of publication, such procedures are set forth in California State University Executive Order 1098 (Revised March 29, 2019).

- Application of This Code

Sanctions for the conduct listed above can be imposed on applicants, enrolled students, students between academic terms, graduates awaiting degrees, and students who withdraw from school while a disciplinary matter is pending. Conduct that threatens the safety or security of the campus community, or substantially disrupts the functions or operation of the University is within the jurisdiction of this Article regardless of whether it occurs on or off campus. Nothing in this Code may conflict with Education Code Section 66301 that prohibits disciplinary action against students based on behavior protected by the First Amendment.

Note: Authority cited: Sections 66017, 66452, 66600, 69810, 89030, and 89035, Education Code. Reference: Sections 66450, 69813 et seq. and 89030, Education Code.

Title 5, California Code of Regulations, § 41302. Disposition of Fees: Campus Emergency; Interim Suspension.

The President of the campus may place on probation, suspend, or expel a student for one or more of the causes enumerated in Section 41301. No fees or tuition paid by or for such student for the semester, quarter, or summer session in which he or she is suspended or expelled shall be refunded. If the student is readmitted before the close of the semester, quarter, or summer session in which he or she is suspended, no additional tuition or fees shall be required of the student on account of the suspension.

During periods of campus emergency, as determined by the President of the individual campus, the President may, after consultation with the Chancellor, place into immediate effect any emergency regulations, procedures, and other measures deemed necessary or appropriate to meet the emergency, safeguard persons and property, and maintain educational activities.

The President may immediately impose an interim suspension in all cases in which there is reasonable cause to believe that such an immediate suspension is required in order to protect lives or property and to insure the maintenance of order. A student so placed on interim suspension shall be given prompt notice of charges and the opportunity for a hearing within 10 days of the imposition of interim suspension. During the period of interim suspension, the student shall not, without prior written permission of the President or designated representative, enter any campus of the California State University other than to attend the hearing. Violation of any condition of interim suspension shall be grounds for expulsion.

Notwithstanding any provision in this Chapter 1 to the contrary, admission or readmission may be qualified or denied to any person who, while not enrolled as a student, commits acts which, were he enrolled as a student, would be the basis for disciplinary proceedings pursuant to Sections 41301 or 41302. Admission or readmission may be qualified or denied to any person who, while a student, commits acts which are subject to disciplinary action pursuant to Section 41301 or Section 41302. Qualified admission or denial of admission in such cases shall be determined under procedures adopted pursuant to Section 41304.

41304. Student Disciplinary Procedures for the California State University

The Chancellor shall prescribe, and may from time to time revise, a code of student disciplinary procedures for the California State University. Subject to other applicable law, this code shall provide for determinations of fact and sanctions to be applied for conduct which is a ground of discipline under Sections 41301 or 41302, and for qualified admission or denial of admission under Section 41303; the authority of the campus President in such matters; conduct related determinations on financial aid eligibility and termination; alternative kinds of proceedings, including proceedings conducted by a Hearing Officer; time limitations; notice; conduct of hearings, including provisions governing evidence, a record, and review; and such other related matters as may be appropriate. The Chancellor shall report to the Board actions taken under this section.

Clery Act Compliance

The Annual Security Report for Sonoma State University includes crime statistics for the previous three calendar years concerning reported crimes that occurred on campus, in certain non-campus buildings or property owned or controlled by Sonoma State University, and on public property within or immediately adjacent to and accessible from the campus. The report also includes institutional policies concerning campus safety, such as policies concerning alcohol and drug use, crime prevention, the reporting of crimes, sexual assault, and other matters. Crime prevention and personal safety information and pamphlets are available at the University Police Department and on the SSU Police website.

In 2013, the VAWA/SaVE Act was reauthorized to include broader hate crime definitions and the additional crimes of domestic violence, dating violence and stalking. These statistics are included in this year's report.

You can access this report online or you can obtain a paper copy upon request by calling (707) 664-3408 or visiting the Administration and Finance Division offices on the 2nd floor of Salazar Hall..

In compliance with the Campus Fire Safety Right-to-Know Act, Sonoma State University's annual Fire Safety Report. The report is compiled by SSU Residential Education and Campus Housing (REACH) office. It includes all on campus student housing fire statistics, a description of fire safety systems, the number of residential fire drills, procedures for student housing evacuation, fire safety education programs, any planned future improvements in fire safety, and policies and rules regarding use of appliances, smoking, and open flames in student housing.

Paper copies of the report are available upon request by visiting the REACH Office in Zinfandel Village.

Student Grievance Procedures

Dispute Resolution Board
Stevenson 1027
(707) 664-2801
<http://senate.sonoma.edu/forms/drb>

A grievance may arise out of a decision or action reached or taken in the course of official duty, following a specific policy or procedure, by a member of the faculty, staff, or administration of Sonoma State University. The purpose of the grievance procedures is to provide a process for an impartial review and to ensure that the rights of students are properly recognized and protected. A student who wishes to initiate the grievance process should read the Grievance Policy, the Formal Dispute Resolution Procedures and may contact the Vice President of Student Affairs office. Informal procedures must be followed before a formal dispute may be filed. The above mentioned policies, procedures and a handbook for students can be found online.

Grade Appeal

In order to protect the rights of students and faculty, principles of due process are incorporated into the grade appeal procedures. A student who wishes to initiate a grade appeal procedure should read the Grade Appeal Policy, the Formal Dispute Resolution Procedures and may contact the Senate Analyst in the Academic Senate office. Informal procedures must be followed before a formal dispute may be filed. The above mentioned policies, procedures and a handbook for students can be found online at

Student/Applicant Complaint Procedure

Division of Student Affairs
International Hall 205
(707) 664-2838

The California State University takes very seriously complaints and concerns regarding the institution. If you have a complaint regarding the CSU, you may present your complaint as follows:

- If your complaint concerns CSU's compliance with academic program quality and accrediting standards, you may present your complaint on the Western Association of Schools and Colleges (WASC) website. WASC is the agency that accredits the CSU's academic program.
- If your complaint concerns an alleged violation by CSU of any law that prohibits discrimination, harassment or retaliation based on a protected status (such as age, disability, gender (or sex), gender identity, gender expression, nationality, race or ethnicity (including color or ancestry), religion or veteran or military status), you may present your complaint as described in Section XVI (Nondiscrimination Policy).
- If your complaint concerns an alleged violation by the CSU of other state law, including laws prohibiting fraud and false advertising, you may present your claim complaint to the campus president or designee at Student Affairs. See Procedure for Student Complaints—Executive Order No. 1063 for details regarding the complaint requirements and complaint process.

- Other complaints regarding the CSU may be presented to the campus dean of students, who will provide guidance on the appropriate campus process for addressing your particular issue. If you believe that your complaint warrants further attention after you have exhausted all the steps outlined by the campus, or by WASC, you may file an appeal with the Assistant Vice Chancellor, Academic and Student Affairs (or designee) at the CSU Chancellor's Office.

This procedure should not be construed to limit any right that you may have to take legal action to resolve your complaint.

If you believe that your complaint warrants further attention after you have exhausted all the steps outlined by the president or designee, or by WASC, you may file an appeal with the Associate Vice Chancellor, Academic Affairs at the CSU Chancellor's Office.

This procedure should not be construed to limit any right that you may have to take civil or criminal legal action to resolve your complaint.

Financial Aid Appeal Policy

Students have the right to appeal their financial aid award or any other financial aid decision that they feel affects them adversely and that falls outside of the jurisdiction of federal, state, or Chancellor's office regulations. This right includes answers to questions, explanations of financial aid policies and procedures, and a request for reconsideration. The appeal is made to the student's financial aid representative and ultimately it will be presented to the Financial Aid Committee. Any decisions made by the Committee are final.

Smoking and Tobacco Policy

Sonoma State University has a responsibility to students, employees, and visitors to support and maintain a safe and healthful environment. Research shows that the use of tobacco products, smoking, exposure to second hand smoke, and discarded smoking and tobacco related items constitute significant public and environmental health hazards, and contribute to campus fire risk, cleaning and maintenance expenses and costs associated with absenteeism, medical care for tobacco related illness, and health insurance premiums.

In order to reduce these significant hazards, smoking, as well as the use of chewing tobacco and e-cigarettes are prohibited on the entire Sonoma State University campus. These prohibitions also apply to off-campus sites and vehicles owned, leased, or rented by SSU. Tobacco products may not be disposed of in or on the grounds of all locations covered by this policy. Information, including frequently asked questions, cessation resources, the policy text, etc. is available at: <http://www.sonoma.edu/uaffairs/smokingandtobaccofree>

Nondiscrimination Policy and Complaint Procedures

Protected Status: Genetic Information, Marital Status, Medical Condition, Nationality, Race or Ethnicity (including color or ancestry), Religion or Religious Creed, and Veteran or Military Status.

California State University does not discriminate on the basis of age, genetic information, marital status, medical condition, nationality, race or ethnicity (including color and ancestry), religion (or religious creed), and veteran or military status – as these terms are defined in CSU Executive Order 1097– in its programs and activities, including admission and access. Federal and state laws, including Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and the California Equity in Higher Education Act, prohibit such discrimination.

Protected Status: Disability

The California State University does not discriminate on the basis of disability (physical and mental) – as this term is defined in CSU Executive Order 1097 – in its programs and activities, including admission and access. Federal and state laws, including sections 504 and 508 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, prohibit such discrimination. CSU Executive Order 1097 Revised August 24, 2021, (or any successor policy) is the system wide procedure for all complaints of discrimination, harassment or retaliation made by students against the CSU, a CSU employee, other CSU students or a third party.

Protected Status: Gender (or sex), Gender Identity (including transgender), Gender Expression and Sexual Orientation

California State University does not discriminate on the basis of gender (or sex), gender (including transgender) identity, gender expression or sexual orientation – as these terms are defined in CSU policy – in its programs and activities, including admission and access. Federal and state laws, including Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, prohibit such discrimination. The California State University is committed to providing equal opportunities to all CSU students in all campus programs, including intercollegiate athletics. CSU Executive Order 1097 Revised August 24, 2021, (or any successor policy) is the system wide procedure for all complaints of discrimination, harassment or retaliation made by students against the CSU, a CSU employee, other CSU students or a third party.

Denise Oldham, Title IX Officer/DHR Administrator, Senior Director of the Office for the Prevention of Harassment & Discrimination has been designated to coordinate the efforts of SSU to comply with all applicable federal and state laws prohibiting discrimination on these bases. Inquiries concerning compliance may be presented to this person at:

International Hall,

As a matter of federal and state law and California State University policy, the following types of conduct are prohibited:

Sex Discrimination or Gender Discrimination means an adverse action taken against a student by the CSU, a CSU employee, or another student because of gender or sex (including sexual harassment, sexual misconduct, domestic violence, dating violence and stalking).

Sexual Harassment, a form of sex discrimination, is unwelcome verbal, nonverbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature that includes, but is not limited to, sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and any other conduct of a sexual nature where:

- Submission to, or rejection of, the conduct is explicitly or implicitly used as the basis for any decision affecting a complainant's academic status or progress, or access to benefits and services, honors, programs, or activities available at or through the university; or
- The conduct is sufficiently severe, persistent or pervasive that its effect, whether or not intended, could be considered by a reasonable person in the shoes of the complainant, and is in fact considered by the complainant, as limiting his or her ability to participate in or benefit from the services, activities or opportunities offered by the university; or
- The conduct is sufficiently severe, persistent or pervasive that its effect, whether or not intended, could be considered by a reasonable person in the shoes of the complainant, and is in fact considered by the complainant, as creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive environment.

Sexual harassment could include being forced to engage in unwanted sexual contact as a condition of membership in a student organization; being subjected to video exploitation or a campaign of sexually explicit graffiti; or frequently being exposed to unwanted images of a sexual nature in a classroom that are unrelated to the coursework.

Sexual harassment also includes acts of verbal, non-verbal or physical aggression, intimidation or hostility based on gender or sex-stereotyping, even if those acts do not involve conduct of a sexual nature.

Executive Order 1097 covers unwelcome conduct of a sexual nature. While romantic, sexual, intimate, personal or social relationships between members of the university community may begin as consensual, they may evolve into situations that lead to sexual harassment or sexual misconduct, including dating or domestic violence, or stalking, subject to this policy.

Claiming that the conduct was not motivated by sexual desire is not a defense to a complaint of harassment based on gender.

Sexual Misconduct: All sexual activity between members of the university community must be based on affirmative consent. Engaging in any sexual activity without first obtaining affirmative consent to the specific activity is sexual misconduct, whether or not the conduct violates any civil or criminal law.

Sexual activity includes, but is not limited to, kissing, touching intimate body parts, fondling, intercourse, penetration of any body part, and oral sex. It also includes any unwelcome physical acts, such as unwelcome sexual touching, sexual assault, sexual battery, rape, and dating violence. When based on gender, domestic violence or stalking also constitute sexual misconduct. Sexual misconduct may include using physical force, violence, threat or intimidation, ignoring the objections of the other person, causing the other person's intoxication or incapacitated through the use of drugs or alcohol, or taking advantage of the other person's incapacitation (including voluntary intoxication) to engage in sexual activity. Men as well as women can be victims of these forms of sexual misconduct. Sexual activity with a minor is never consensual when the complainant is under 18 years old, because the minor is considered incapable of giving legal consent due to age.

Sexual Assault is a form of sexual misconduct and is an attempt, coupled with the ability, to commit a violent injury on the person of another because of that person's gender or sex.

Sexual Battery is a form of sexual misconduct and is any willful and unlawful use of force or violence upon the person of another because of that person's gender or sex as well as touching an intimate part of another person against that person's will and for the purpose of sexual arousal, gratification or abuse.

Rape is a form of sexual misconduct and is non-consensual sexual intercourse that may also involve the use of threat of force, violence, or immediate and unlawful bodily injury or threats of future retaliation and duress. Any sexual penetration, however slight, is sufficient to constitute rape. Sexual acts including intercourse are considered non-consensual when a person is incapable of giving consent because they are incapacitated from alcohol and/or drugs, is under 18 years old, or if a mental disorder or developmental or physical disability renders the person incapable of giving consent. The respondent's relationship to the person (such as family member, spouse, friend, acquaintance or stranger) is irrelevant.

Acquaintance Rape is a form of sexual misconduct committed by an individual known to the victim. This includes a person the victim may have just met; i.e., at a party, introduced through a friend, or on a social networking website.

Affirmative Consent means an informed, affirmative, conscious, voluntary, and mutual agreement to engage in sexual activity. It is the responsibility of each person involved in the sexual activity to ensure that they have the affirmative consent of the other participant(s) to engage in the sexual activity. Lack of protest or resistance does not mean consent nor does silence mean consent. Affirmative consent must be voluntary, and given without coercion, force, threats or intimidation.

- The existence of a dating or social relationship between those involved, or the fact of past sexual activities between them, should never by itself be assumed to be an indicator of affirmative consent. A request for someone to use a condom or birth control does not, in and of itself, constitute affirmative consent.
- Affirmative consent can be withdrawn or revoked. Consent to one form of sexual activity (or sexual act) does not constitute consent to other forms of sexual activity. Consent given to sexual activity on one occasion does not constitute consent on another occasion. There must always be mutual and affirmative consent to engage in sexual activity. Consent must be ongoing throughout a sexual activity and can be revoked at any time, including after penetration. Once consent is withdrawn or revoked, the sexual activity must stop immediately.
- A person who is incapacitated cannot give affirmative consent. A person is unable to consent when they are asleep, unconscious or is incapacitated due to the influence of drugs, alcohol, or medication so that they could not understand the fact, nature or extent of the sexual activity. A person is incapacitated if they lack the physical and/or mental ability to make informed, rational decisions.
- Whether an intoxicated person (as a result of using alcohol or other drugs) is incapacitated depends on the extent to which the alcohol or other drugs impact the person's decision-making capacity, awareness of consequences, and ability to make fully informed judgments. A person's own intoxication or incapacitation from drugs or alcohol does not diminish that person's responsibility to obtain affirmative consent before engaging in sexual activity.

- A person with a medical or mental disability may also lack the capacity to give consent.
- Sexual activity with a minor (a person under 18 years old) is not consensual, because a minor is considered incapable of giving legal consent due to age.
- It shall not be a valid excuse that a person affirmatively consented to the sexual activity if the respondent knew or reasonably should have known that the person was unable to consent to the sexual activity under any of the following circumstances:
 - The person was asleep or unconscious;
 - The person was incapacitated due to the influence of drugs, alcohol or medication, so that the person could not understand the fact, nature or extent of the sexual activity;
 - The person was unable to communicate due to a mental or physical condition.
- It shall not be a valid excuse that the respondent believed that the person consented to the sexual activity under either of the following circumstances:
 - The respondent's belief in affirmative consent arose from the intoxication or recklessness of the respondent;
 - The respondent did not take reasonable steps, in the circumstances known to the respondent at the time, to ascertain whether the person affirmatively consented.

Consensual Relationships: Consensual relationship means a sexual or romantic relationship between two persons who voluntarily enter into such a relationship. While sexual and/or romantic relationships between members of the university community may begin as consensual, they may evolve into situations that lead to discrimination, harassment, retaliation, sexual misconduct, dating or domestic violence or stalking.

- A CSU employee shall not enter into a consensual relationship with a student or employee over whom they exercise direct or otherwise significant academic, administrative, supervisory, evaluative, counseling, or extracurricular authority. In the event such a relationship already exists, each campus shall develop a procedure to reassign such authority to avoid violations of this policy.
- This prohibition does not limit the right of an employee to make a recommendation on the personnel matters concerning a family or household member where the right to make recommendations on such personnel matters is explicitly provided for in the applicable collective bargaining agreement or MPP/confidential personnel plan.

Domestic Violence is abuse committed against someone who is a current or former spouse, current or former cohabitant, someone with whom the respondent has a child, someone with whom the respondent has or had a dating or engagement relationship, or a person similarly situated under California domestic or family violence law. Cohabitant means two unrelated persons living together for a substantial period of time, resulting in some permanency of relationship. It does not include roommates who do not have a romantic, intimate, or sexual relationship. Factors that may determine whether persons are cohabiting include, but are not limited to

- (1) sexual relations between the parties while sharing the same living quarters,
- (2) sharing of income or expenses,
- (3) joint use or ownership of property,
- (4) whether the parties hold themselves out as spouses,
- (5) the continuity of the relationship, and
- (6) the length of the relationship.

For purposes of this definition, "abuse" means intentionally or recklessly causing or attempting to cause bodily injury or placing another person in reasonable apprehension of imminent serious bodily injury to himself or herself, or another. Abuse does not include non-physical, emotional distress or injury.

Dating Violence is abuse committed by a person who is or has been in a social or dating relationship of a romantic or intimate nature with the victim.¹¹ This may include someone the victim just met; i.e., at a party, introduced through a friend, or on a social networking website. For purposes of this definition, "abuse" means intentionally or recklessly causing or attempting to cause bodily injury or placing another person in reasonable apprehension of imminent serious bodily injury to self or another. Abuse does not include non-physical, emotional distress or injury.

Stalking means engaging in a repeated Course of Conduct directed at a specific person that would cause a Reasonable Person to fear for the safety of self or others' safety or to suffer Substantial Emotional Distress. For purposes of this definition:

- Course of conduct means two or more acts, including but not limited to, acts in which the stalker directly, indirectly, or through Third Parties, by any action, method, device, or means, follows, monitors, observes, surveils, threatens, or communicates to or about a person, or interferes with a person's property;
- Reasonable person means a reasonable person under similar circumstances and with the same Protected Status(es) as the Complainant;
- Substantial emotional distress means significant mental suffering or anguish that may, but does not necessarily require medical or other professional treatment or counseling.

CSU Executive Order 1097 Revised August 14, 2020,(or any successor policy) is the system wide procedure for all complaints of discrimination, harassment or retaliation made by students against the CSU, a CSU employee, other CSU students or a third party.

Whom to Contact If You Have Complaints, Questions or Concerns

Title IX requires the university to designate a Title IX Coordinator to monitor and oversee overall Title IX compliance. The campus Title IX Coordinator is available to explain and discuss the university's complaint process, including the investigation and hearing process; the availability of reasonable supportive measures (both on and off campus regardless of whether the person chooses to report the conduct); the right to file a criminal complaint (for example, in cases of sexual misconduct); how confidentiality is handled; and other related matters. If you are in the midst of an emergency, please call the police immediately by dialing 9-1-1.

Title IX requires the university to adopt and publish complaint procedures that provide for prompt and equitable resolution of gender discrimination complaints, including sexual harassment and misconduct, as well as provide training, education and preventive measures related to sex discrimination. CSU Executive Order 1097, revised August 24, 2021 (or any successor policy) is the system wide procedure for all complaints of discrimination, harassment or retaliation made by students against the CSU, a CSU employee, other CSU students or a third party.

Duty to Report. Except as provided below under confidentiality and sexual misconduct, dating violence, domestic violence, and stalking, any university employee who knows or has reason to know of allegations or acts that violate university policy shall promptly inform the Title IX Coordinator. These employees are required to disclose all information including the names of the parties, even where the person has requested that their name remain confidential. The Title IX Coordinator will determine whether confidentiality is appropriate given the circumstances of each such incident. (See confidential reporting options outlined below.)

Regardless of whether an alleged victim of gender discrimination ultimately files a complaint, if the campus knows or has reason to know about possible sexual discrimination, harassment or misconduct, it must review the matter to determine if an investigation is warranted. The campus must then take appropriate steps to eliminate any gender discrimination/harassment/misconduct, prevent its recurrence, and remedy its effects.

If you wish to fill out a complaint form online with the OCR, you may do so using the OCR Electronic Complaint Form.

Safety of the Campus Community is Primary

The university's primary concern is the safety of its campus community members. The use of alcohol or drugs never makes the victim at fault for gender discrimination, harassment or sexual misconduct; therefore, victims should not be deterred from reporting incidents of sexual misconduct out of a concern that they might be disciplined for related violations of drug, alcohol or other university policies. Except in extreme circumstances, victims of sexual misconduct shall not be subject to discipline for related violations of the Student Conduct Code (at or near the time of the misconduct).

Information Regarding Campus, Criminal and Civil Consequences of Committing Acts of Sexual Violence

Individuals alleged to have committed sexual misconduct may face criminal prosecution by law enforcement and may incur penalties as a result of civil litigation. In addition, students may face discipline at the university, up to and including suspension or expulsion and withholding of their degrees. Employees may face sanctions up to and including suspension, demotion or dismissal from employment, pursuant to established CSU policies and provisions of applicable collective bargaining unit agreements.

Students who are charged by the university with gender discrimination, harassment or sexual misconduct will be subject to discipline, pursuant to the California State University Student Conduct Procedures (see Executive Order 1098, revised on August 14, 2020, or any successor executive order) and will be subject to appropriate sanctions. In addition, during any investigation, the university may implement interim measures in order to maintain a safe and non-discriminatory educational environment. Such measures may include but not be limited to: immediate interim suspension from the university; a required move from university-owned or affiliated housing; adjustments to course schedule; and/or prohibition from contact with parties involved in the alleged incident.

Confidentiality and Sexual Misconduct, Dating Violence, Domestic Violence and Stalking

The university encourages victims of sexual misconduct, dating violence, domestic violence or stalking to talk to someone about what happened – so they can get the support they need, and so the university can respond appropriately.

Privileged and Confidential Communications

Physicians, Psychotherapists, Professional Licensed Counselors, Licensed Clinical Social Workers, and Clergy – Physicians, psychotherapists, professional, licensed counselors, licensed clinical social workers, and clergy who work or volunteer on or off campus, acting solely in those roles or capacities as part of their employment, and who provide medical or mental health treatment or counseling (and those who act under their supervision, including all individuals who work or volunteer in their centers and offices) may not report any information about an incident of sexual misconduct to anyone else at the university, including the Title IX Coordinator, without the victim's consent. A victim can seek assistance and support from physicians, psychotherapists, professional, licensed counselors, licensed clinical social workers and clergy without triggering a university investigation that could reveal the victim's identity or the fact of the victim's disclosure. However, see limited exceptions below regarding when health care practitioners must report to local law enforcement agencies. Health care practitioners should explain these limited exceptions to victims, if applicable.

Sexual Assault and Domestic Violence Counselors and Advocates – Sexual assault and domestic violence counselors and advocates who work or volunteer on or off campus in sexual assault centers, victim advocacy offices, women's centers and health centers (including those who act in that role under their supervision, along with non-professional counselors or advocates who work or volunteer in sexual assault centers, victim advocacy offices, women's centers, gender equity centers, or health centers), may talk to a victim without revealing any information about the victim and the incident of sexual misconduct to anyone else at the university, including the Title IX Coordinator, without the victim's consent. A victim can seek assistance and support from these counselors and advocates without triggering a university investigation that could reveal his/her identity or that a victim disclosed an incident to them. However, see limited exceptions below regarding when sexual assault and domestic violence counselors and advocates must report to local law enforcement agencies. Counselors and advocates should explain these limited exceptions to victims, if applicable.

The university will be unable to conduct an investigation into a particular incident or pursue disciplinary action against a perpetrator if a victim chooses to (1) speak only to a physician, professional licensed counselor, licensed clinical social worker, clergy member, sexual assault counselor, domestic violence counselor or advocate; and (2) maintain complete confidentiality. Even so, these individuals will assist victims in receiving other necessary protection and support, such as victim advocacy, disability services, medical/health or mental health services, or legal services, and will advise victims regarding their right to file a Title IX complaint with the university and a separate complaint with local or university police. If a victim insists on confidentiality, such professionals, counselors and advocates will likely not be able to assist the victim with: university academic support or accommodations; changes to university-based living or working schedules; or adjustments to course schedules. A victim who at first requests confidentiality may later decide to file a complaint with the university or report the incident to the police, and thus have the incident fully investigated. These counselors and advocates can provide victims with that assistance if requested by the victim. These counselors and advocates will also explain that Title IX includes protections against retaliation, and that the university will not only take steps to prevent retaliation when it knows or reasonably should know of possible retaliation, but will also take strong responsive action if retaliation occurs.

EXCEPTIONS: Under California law, any health practitioner employed in a health facility, clinic, physician's office, or local or state public health department or clinic is required to make a report to local law enforcement if he or she provides medical services for a physical condition to a patient/victim who he or she knows or reasonably suspects is suffering from (1) a wound or physical injury inflicted by a firearm; or (2) any wound or other physical injury inflicted upon a victim where the injury is the result of assaultive or abusive conduct (including sexual misconduct, domestic violence, and dating violence). This exception does not apply to sexual assault and domestic violence counselors and advocates. Health care practitioners should explain this limited exception to victims, if applicable.

Additionally, under California law, all professionals described above (physicians, psychotherapists, professional counselors, licensed clinical social workers, clergy, and sexual assault and domestic violence counselors and advocates) are mandatory child abuse and neglect reporters, and are required to report incidents involving victims under 18 years of age to local law enforcement. These professionals will explain this limited exception to victims, if applicable.

Finally, some or all of these professionals may also have reporting obligations under California law to: (1) local law enforcement in cases involving threats of immediate or imminent harm to self or others where disclosure of the information is necessary to prevent the threatened danger; or (2) to the court if compelled by court order or subpoena in a criminal proceeding related to the sexual misconduct, dating or domestic violence, or stalking incident. If applicable, these professionals will explain this limited exception to victims.

REPORTING TO UNIVERSITY OR LOCAL POLICE

If a victim reports to local or university police about sexual misconduct crimes, the police are required to notify victims that their names will become a matter of public record unless confidentiality is requested. If a victim requests that their identity be kept confidential, their name will not become a matter of public record and the police will not report the victim's identity to anyone else at the university, including the Title IX Coordinator. University police will, however, report the facts of the incident itself to the Title IX Coordinator being sure not to reveal to the Title IX Coordinator victim names/identities or compromise their own criminal investigation. The university is required by the federal Clery Act to report certain types of crimes (including certain sex offenses) in statistical reports. However, while the university will report the type of incident in the annual crime statistics report known as the Annual Security Report, victim names/identities will not be revealed.

REPORTING TO THE TITLE IX COORDINATOR AND OTHER UNIVERSITY EMPLOYEES

Most university employees have a duty to report incidents of sexual misconduct when they are on notice of it. When a victim tells the Title IX Coordinator or another university employee about an incident of sexual misconduct, the victim has the right to expect the university to take immediate and appropriate steps to investigate what happened and to resolve the matter promptly and equitably. In all cases, the university strongly encourages victims to report incidents of sexual misconduct directly to the campus Title IX Coordinator.

As detailed above in the Privileged and Confidential Communications section of this policy, all University Employees except physicians, licensed counselors, sexual assault counselors and advocates, and their staffs must report to the Title IX Coordinator all known details about any Sex Discrimination, Sexual Harassment, Sexual Misconduct, Dating or Domestic Violence, or Stalking incidents of which they become aware. The University will need to determine what happened – and will need to know the names of the person(s) involved, any witnesses, and any other relevant facts, including the date, time and specific location of the incident.

To the extent possible, information reported to the Title IX Coordinator or other University Employees will be shared only with individuals responsible for handling the University's response to the incident. The University will protect the privacy of individuals involved in the incident except as otherwise required by law or University policy. A Sex Discrimination, Sexual Harassment, Sexual Misconduct, Dating or Domestic Violence, or Stalking report may result in the gathering of extremely sensitive information about individuals in the Campus community. While such information is considered confidential, University policy regarding access to public records and disclosure of personal information may require disclosure of certain information concerning a report. In such cases, efforts will be made to redact the records, as appropriate, in order to protect the victim's identity and privacy and the privacy of other involved individuals. Except as detailed in the section on Privileged and Confidential Communications above, no University Employee, including the Title IX Coordinator, should disclose the victim's identity or the facts of the incident to the police without the victim's consent or unless the victim has also reported the incident to the police.

If a victim requests of the Title IX Coordinator or another University Employee that his/her identity remain completely confidential, the Title IX Coordinator or University Employee will explain that the University cannot always honor that request and guarantee complete confidentiality. If a victim wishes to remain confidential or request that no investigation be conducted or disciplinary action taken, the University must weigh that request against the University's obligation to provide a safe, non-discriminatory environment for all Students, Employees and Third Parties, including the victim requesting confidentiality. Under those circumstances, only the Title IX Coordinator will determine whether the victim's request for complete confidentiality and/or no investigation can be honored under the facts and circumstances of the particular case, including whether the University has a legal obligation to report the incident, conduct an investigation or take other appropriate steps. Without information about a victim's identity, the University's ability to meaningfully investigate the incident and pursue disciplinary action against a perpetrator may be severely limited.

See Executive Order 1095 (or any successor executive order) for further details around confidential reporting, and other related matters.

Credit for Prior Learning Policy

Policy

In accordance with the provisions of this policy, presidents of the California State University (CSU), campuses or their designees shall apply toward admission eligibility and/or the degree, academic credit earned from (1) examinations, (2) learning, skills, and knowledge acquired through experience, (3) learning acquired outside formal higher education and/or (4) education, training and service provided by the Armed Forces of the United States.

Awarding academic credit for prior learning promotes access for fair and equitable recognition of prior learning, helps support student retention and persistence, reduces time to graduation and assures quality and equity across various academic experiences.

Article 1. Academic Credit for Examinations

- Campus-Originated Challenge Examinations
- Students who pass campus-originated challenge examinations (as differentiated from placement examinations) shall earn credit toward the degree and/or toward the determination of admission eligibility.
- Campuses shall develop procedures governing the awarding of credit for these examinations that are consistent with the conditions set forth in this policy.
- Information about challenge examinations shall be included in campus catalogs and web sites.
- Campuses shall make a challenge exam available upon student request (per Title 5, §40408)
- Standardized Examinations
- Campuses shall award credit to be applied toward the degree and/or admission eligibility for students who pass a standardized examination such as Advanced Placement (AP) Tests, International Baccalaureate (IB), and College Level Entrance Program (CLEP).
- Conditions of Award of Credit for Standardized Examinations
- For standardized examinations, the passing score and the minimum amount of credit awarded for the calculation of admission eligibility and toward the degree shall be uniform throughout the system and determined according to procedures set forth in Section 1.2.4 of this policy.
- Credit for passage of standardized examinations shall not be awarded if the student has taken that examination within the previous term and received a passing score.

- Credit for passage of standardized examinations shall not be awarded if equivalent degree credit has been previously earned for regular coursework, prior learning assessment, or other instructional processes.
- Credit for passage of standardized examinations shall not be awarded when credit has been granted at a level more advanced than the content level in the examination.
- Care shall be taken not to award duplicate credit because of overlapping tests, college-level courses, or both. Where there is partial overlap, the amount of examination credit shall be reduced accordingly as determined by the CSU campus at which the student matriculates.
- Application of Credits for Standardized Examinations
- Campuses shall establish policies specifying whether the credits earned by passing standardized examinations shall be applicable as general education, major, or elective credits. These policies shall comport with Section 1.2.4 of this policy.
- For students who enter with an Associate Degree for Transfer (ADT), full or partial certification in CSU General Education (GE) Breadth, campuses shall honor certifications that apply credits earned by passing standardized examinations as authorized by CSU policy and set forth in Section 1.2.4 of this policy.
- Campuses shall establish policies that allow the granting of additional credits earned by standardized examination upon matriculation.
- Except for International Baccalaureate and Advanced Placement Tests, no more than 30 semester (45 quarter) total units of credit shall be applied to the calculation of admission eligibility or to the degree on the basis of passing standardized exams. Advanced Placement and International Baccalaureate are excluded from this limit. In no case shall the number of credits granted exceed those allowed by WSCUC.
- The name of the examination, student 's score, and credit earned shall be identified on the student's academic record.
- Procedures for Evaluating Appropriateness of Examinations for Systemwide Credit
- As requested by the Office of the Chancellor, the Chancellor's General Education Advisory Committee shall evaluate a proposed standardized examination for systemwide general education academic credit and make a recommendation on its appropriateness.
- The Office of the Chancellor shall maintain a list of standardized examinations and their appropriateness for systemwide general education credit.
- This list shall include passing scores, minimum credits toward admission eligibility, minimum credits toward the degree, and, for transfer students seeking general education certification before matriculation, placement in CSU GE-Breadth area.
- The Office of the Chancellor shall be responsible for publicizing and periodically updating the list of examinations appropriate for systemwide credit. The current list can be found at CSU Systemwide Credit for External Examinations.

Article 2. Credit for Demonstrated Learning, Knowledge, or Skills Acquired Through Experience

- Designation of Authority Each campus shall establish a process to determine how may earn academic credit toward the degree for learning, knowledge, or skills acquired through experience. However, academic credit for learning, knowledge, or skills acquired through experience shall not be used in determining eligibility for admission, unless it was previously transcribed on the student's academic record.

- Conditions of Award of Academic Credit for Demonstrated Learning, Knowledge, or Skills Acquired Through Experience Academic credit for documented learning, skills, and knowledge acquired through experience shall be subject to the following conditions:
 - The student seeking credit for experiential learning shall be matriculated at a CSU campus awarding credit.
 - The assessment of experiential learning shall be appropriate to the applicant's degree objectives and/or general education requirements.
 - Academic credit for such experiential learning shall be awarded only when it is academically creditable and verifiable through a prior learning assessment methodology. Before academic credit earned for experiential learning becomes a part of the student 's academic record, the student shall complete 15 units at the degree granting institution a sufficient number of units to establish evidence of a satisfactory learning pattern. Graduate students shall complete three units in residence at the degree granting institution.
 - Verification and Evaluation of Learning, Knowledge, or Skills Acquired through Experience Campus policy shall be established to award such credit, which shall be verified through a variety of assessment methodologies including written examinations, portfolios, personal interviews, demonstrations, and/or other appropriate means of documentation. Assessments shall be created and evaluated in accordance with academic standards by faculty and/or subject matter experts. Supporting information may be supplied by a field supervisor and/or employer.
 - Application of Credit for Demonstrated Learning, Knowledge, or Skills Acquired Through Experience Credit shall be awarded for a specific university course or a specific category of university degree credit. Each campus shall determine the extent to which credits earned for demonstrated learning, knowledge, or skills acquired through experience shall be applied as major, general education, or elective credit according to established campus procedures. For students who enter with an Associate Degree for Transfer (ADT), full or partial certification in CSU General Education Breadth, and consistent with CSU policy on transfer, transcribed credit awarded for demonstrated learning, knowledge, or skills acquired through experience shall be accepted for articulation and transfer, including credits for CSU-GE breadth and CSU-IGETC based on current system-wide articulation guidance. Students shall be allowed to appeal decisions regarding credit for demonstrated learning, knowledge, or skills acquired through experience through existing campus grade appeal procedures.
 - Documentation
 - The student's academic record shall identify the specific course or category of degree requirement for which the student has received credit for demonstrated learning, knowledge, or skills acquired through experience.
 - The objectives, policies, procedures, and bases for the awarding of credit for demonstrated learning, knowledge, or skills acquired through experience shall be fully described in the campus catalog and web site.

Article 3. Credit for prior learning acquired outside of traditional higher education

Students can also earn academic credit based on recommendations provided by, for example, the National College Credit Recommendation Service (NCCRS) and the American Council on Education (ACE) that conduct evaluations of training that is offered by employers or the military. Academic credit may also be earned through other prior learning assessment methods such as portfolio assessment. Examples of industryrecognized credentials that are listed in the ACE

National Guide include SHRM (Society of Human Resource Management), IBM Corporation, Google IT and Fire and Rescue Training <https://www.acenet.edu/National>

- Types of Instruction Approved for the Awarding of Credit for Workforce and Industry Learning Students shall be granted credit toward the degree for the following types of learning acquired outside of traditional higher education:
 - Completion of learning acquired outside traditional higher education, such as recommended by American Council on Education's National Guide.
 - Successful completion of other learning outside of traditional higher education that utilizes prior learning assessment methods such as portfolio assessment, attempted independently or as part of a course.
 - Application of Credit for Learning Acquired outside traditional higher education:
 - Campuses shall accept and award course credit as recommended by ACE National Guide to College Credit for Workforce Training, as appropriate for a student's academic objectives.
 - Credit shall be awarded for a specific university course or a specific category of university degree credit. Each campus shall determine the extent to which units earned for learning acquired outside of traditional higher education shall be applied as major, general education, or elective credit according to established campus procedures. For students who enter with an ADT, full or partial certification in CSU General Education Breadth, and consistent with CSU policy on transfer, transcribed credit awarded for learning acquired outside of traditional higher education shall be accepted for articulation and transfer, including credits for CSU-GE breadth and CSU-IGETC based on current system-wide articulation guidance. Students shall be allowed to appeal decisions regarding credit for demonstrated learning, knowledge, or skills acquired through experience through existing campus grade appeal procedures.

Article 4. Credit for education, training and service provided by the Armed Forces of the United States

To be eligible to enroll students participating in the G.I. Bill, campuses are required by federal law (38 CFR § 21.4253 (d)(3)) to evaluate prior learning, provide credit where appropriate, and shorten the time to academic objective accordingly. Accurate records that such credit has been awarded must be maintained for review by state and federal veterans' education compliance officials. NOTE: This section pertains to education, training and service completed during military service but not at one of the many U.S. Armed Forces institutions that are regionally accredited to offer associate, bachelors, masters and doctoral degrees. Education completed at one of those institutions should be evaluated in the same manner as other regionally accredited colleges and/or universities.

- Students shall be granted undergraduate or graduate credit for learning acquired through training and education provided by the Armed Forces of the United States as recommended by the American Council on Education (ACE) Military Guide e (<https://www.acenet.edu/Programs-Services/Pages/CreditTranscripts/Military-Guide-Online.aspx>). Such credit shall be applied as appropriate towards the completion of students' academic programs.
 - Application of Credit for education, training and service provided by the Armed Forces of the United States
 - Campuses shall allow the number of units recommended by ACE in The Military Guide.
 - Credit shall be awarded for a specific university course or a specific category of university degree credit. Each campus shall determine the extent to which units earned for education, training and service provided by the Armed Forces of the United States shall be applied as major, general education, or elective credit according to established campus procedures. For students who enter with an ADT, full or partial certification in CSU General Education Breadth, and consistent with CSU policy on transfer, transcribed credit awarded for education, training and service provided by the Armed Forces of the United States shall be accepted for articulation and transfer, including credits for CSU-GE breadth and CSU-IGETC based on current system-wide articulation guidance

Students shall be allowed to appeal decisions regarding credit for demonstrated learning, knowledge, or skills acquired through experience through existing campus grade appeal procedures.

- Completion of basic military training (boot camp) may be used to satisfy Area E in the university's general education requirements, Title 5, Section 40405.1(A)(5). Satisfaction of Area E in this manner does not exempt students from completing health courses required to earn a teacher credential.
- Documentation of education, training and service provided by the Armed Forces of the United States shall address:
 - Both the completed military courses and the schools at which the work was completed must be documented on Community College of the Air Force (CCAF) transcripts or Joint Services Transcripts (JST).
 - The objectives, policies, procedures, and bases for the awarding of credit for documented prior learning shall be fully described in the campus catalog and web site.
 - Credit earned for education, training and service in the U.S. Armed Forces shall be clearly identified in the student's academic record.
 - Guidance for assigning academic credit for the Defense Language Proficiency Test (DLPT):
 - Utilizing the ACE recommendations, three lower division semester hours for language shall equate to three semester units (or their quarter equivalent) in CSU GE Breadth Subarea C2.
 - When assigning academic credit using the DLPT, campuses should refer to the ACE National Guide (<https://www.acenet.edu/national-guide/Pages/default.aspx>) . Acceptable documentation for awarding DLPT GE or Course Credit includes:
 - Official Defense Language Institute Foreign Language (DLIFLC) Transcripts
 - Official joint Services Transcripts (JST) c. Defense Manpower Data Center (DMDC) DLPT Examinee Results d. DA Form 330 Language Proficiency Questionnaire

GLOSSARY OF TERMS

Credit for Prior Learning - Academic credit granted for demonstrated college-level equivalencies gained through learning experiences outside of the college classroom, using one of the well-established methods for assessing extra-institutional learning, including third-party validation of formal training or individualized assessment, such as portfolios (ACE).

Credit for prior learning is a practice used by institutions, typically at or near the time of a student's enrollment, to recognize or award credit for demonstrated college-level learning gained in settings outside of higher education.

Prior learning assessment is one type of credit for prior learning practice: "the evaluation and assessment of an individual's life learning for college credit, certification, or advanced standing toward further education or training. Prior learning assessment is often applied to military and work experience, as well as community service, informal online learning, and other [college-level] learning acquired outside traditional academic institutions" (CAEL).

Prior learning and prior learning assessment are often used interchangeably with credit for prior learning.

Experiential Learning - A teaching philosophy that informs many methodologies in which educators purposefully engage with learners in direct experience and focused reflection in order to increase knowledge, develop skills, clarify values, and develop people's capacity to contribute to their communities (Association of Experiential Education).

Competency-based Education –Transitioning away from seat time, in favor of a structure that creates flexibility, allows students to progress as they demonstrate mastery of academic content, regardless of time, place, or pace of learning. Competency-based strategies provide flexibility in the way that credit can be earned or awarded and provide students with personalized learning opportunities. These strategies include online and blended learning, dual enrollment and early college high schools, project-based and community based learning, and credit recovery, among others. This type of learning leads to better student engagement because the content is relevant to each student and tailored to their unique needs. It also leads to better student outcomes because the pace of learning is customized to each student (US Department of Education).

By enabling students to master skills at their own pace, competency-based learning systems help to save both time and money. Depending on the strategy pursued, competency-based systems also create multiple pathways to graduation, make better use of technology, support new staffing patterns that utilize teacher skills and interests differently, take advantage of learning opportunities outside of school hours and walls, and help identify opportunities to target interventions to meet the specific learning needs of students. Each of these presents an opportunity to achieve greater efficiency and increase productivity.

Authority

This policy is issued pursuant to Section II of the Standing Orders of the Board of Trustees of the California State University, and as further delegated by the Standing Delegations of Administrative Authority.

Admissions

Welcome! Thank you for your interest in Sonoma State University. You are probably attracted to Sonoma because of our success in academic programs, the intellectual accomplishments of our students and faculty, our exciting curricula, or perhaps the location and beauty of the campus. Whatever spurred your interest, we are delighted you've taken the time to glance through our catalog. Here you will learn how to apply, what documents are needed, and the admission requirements.

Application Filing Periods, 2022-2023

(Not all campuses/programs are open for admission to every term.)

Term	Applications First Accepted	Initial Filing Period
Summer Semester	February 1	February 1-28
Fall Semester	October 1	Oct 1- Nov 30
Winter Quarter	June 1	June 1-30
Spring Semester	August 1	August 1-31

Each non-impacted campus accepts applications until capacities are reached. Many campuses limit undergraduate admission in an enrollment category due to overall enrollment limits. If applying after the initial filing period, consult the campus admission office for current information. Similar information is conveniently available at: Cal State Apply.

Admission Procedures and Policies

Requirements for admission to Sonoma State University are in accordance with Title 5, Chapter 1, Subchapter 3, of the California Code of Regulations. Complete information is available on the California State University website.

All CSU applications must be submitted online on the Cal State Apply website. An acknowledgment will be sent to the applicant when the online application has been submitted.

Importance of Filing Complete, Accurate, and Authentic Application Documents

Sonoma State University advises prospective students that they must supply complete and accurate information on the application for admission, residency questionnaire, and financial aid forms. Further, applicants must, when requested, submit authentic and official transcripts of all previous academic work attempted. Failure to file complete, accurate, and authentic application documents may result in denial of admission, cancellation of registration or academic credit, suspension, or expulsion (Section 41301, Article 1.1, Title 5, California Code of Regulations).

Undergraduate Application Procedures

Prospective students applying for part-time or full-time undergraduate programs of study must submit a completed undergraduate application. The $70 nonrefundable application fee must be paid online at the time of application via credit card, e-check, or PayPal and may not be transferred or used to apply to another term. An alternate major may be indicated on the application. The applications of persons denied admission to an impacted campus may be re-routed to another campus at no cost, but only if the applicant is CSU eligible

Impacted Programs

The CSU designates programs as impacted when more applications from regularly eligible applicants are received in the initial filing period (October and November for fall terms, June for winter terms, August for spring terms, February for summer terms) than can be accommodated. Some programs are impacted at every campus which they are offered; others are impacted only at a few campuses. Candidates for admission must meet all of the campus' specified supplementary admission criteria if applying to an impacted program or campus.

The CSU will announce during the fall filing period those campuses or programs that are impacted. Detailed information on campus and program impaction is available on the Impaction at the CSU website.

Campuses will communicate supplementary admission criteria for all impacted programs to high schools and community colleges in their application service area and will disseminate this information to the public through appropriate media. This information will also be published on the Sonoma State University Admissions website

Applicants must file applications for admission to an impacted program during the initial filing period. Applicants who wish to be considered for impacted programs at more than one campus should file an application at each campus for which they seek admission consideration.

Supplementary Admission Criteria

Each campus with impacted programs or class-level admission categories uses supplementary admission criteria in screening applicants. Supplementary criteria may include rank-ordering of freshman applicants based on the CSU eligibility index or rank-ordering of transfer applicants based on verification of the Associate in Arts for Transfer (AA-T) or Associate in Science Transfer (AS-T) degrees, the overall transfer grade point average (GPA), completion of specified prerequisite courses and a combination of campus-developed criteria. Applicants for freshman admission to impacted campuses or programs may need to have a higher "a-g" GPA . In no case will standardized test scores be utilized in making freshman admission decisions.

The supplementary admission criteria used by individual campuses to screen applicants are made available by the campuses to all applicants seeking admission to an impacted program.

Use of Social Security Number

Applicants are required to include their correct social security numbers in designated places on applications for admission pursuant to the authority contained in Section 41201, Title 5, California Code of Regulations, and Section 6109 of the Internal Revenue Code (26 U.S.C. 6109). The University uses the social security number to identify students and their records, including identification for purposes of financial aid eligibility and disbursement as well as the repayment of financial aid and other debts payable to the institution. Also, the Internal Revenue Service requires the University to file information returns that include the student's social security number and other information such as the amount paid for qualified tuition, related expenses, and interest on educational loans. This information is used by the IRS to help determine whether a student, or a person claiming a student as a dependent, may take a credit or deduction to reduce federal income taxes.

Graduate and Post-baccalaureate Application Procedures

All graduate and post-baccalaureate applicants (e.g., Ed.D., joint Ph.D. applicants, master's degree applicants, those seeking educational credentials or certificates, and where permitted, holders of baccalaureate degrees interested in taking courses for personal or professional growth) must file a complete graduate application as described in the graduate and post-baccalaureate admission materials at Cal State Apply. Applicants seeking a second bachelor's degree should submit the undergraduate application for admission unless specifically requested to do otherwise. Applicants who completed undergraduate degree requirements and graduated the preceding term are also required to complete and submit an application and the $70 nonrefundable application fee. Since applicants for post-baccalaureate programs may be limited to the choice of a single campus on each application, re-routing to alternate campuses or later changes of campus choice are not guaranteed. To be assured of initial consideration by more than one campus, it is necessary to submit separate applications (including fees) to each. Applications submitted by way of Cal State Apply are expected unless submission of an electronic application is impossible. An acknowledgement will be sent to the applicant when the online application has been submitted.

Application Filing Periods

Terms	Applications First Accepted	Initial Filing Period
Fall Semester or Quarter	October 1	October 1-November 30
Winter Quarter	June 1	June 1-30
Spring Semester or Quarter	August 1	August 1-31
Summer Semester or Quarter (Most campuses do not admit students to summer term.)	February 1	February 1-28

Filing Period Duration

Each non-impacted campus accepts applications until capacities are reached. Many campuses limit undergraduate admission in an enrollment category due to overall enrollment limits. If applying after the initial filing period, consult the campus admission office for current information.

On-time applicants may expect to receive an acknowledgment from the campuses to which they have applied within two to four weeks of filing the application. The notice may also include a request that applicants submit additional records necessary to evaluate academic qualifications. Applicants may be assured of admission if the evaluation of relevant qualifications indicates that applicants meet CSU admission requirements, and in the case of admission impactation, supplemental criteria for admission to an impacted program. Unless specific written approval/confirmation is received, an offer of admission is not transferable to another term or to another campus.

Reapplication for Subsequent Semesters

If you apply and are admitted to the University for a given semester, but do not register, you will forfeit your admission. Should you later wish to enroll in courses at the University, you must file a new application, pay a new application fee, and meet all of the current requirements for admission. Materials supporting an application for admission, such as transcripts and entrance examination scores, will be held for one year only and may be used during this time to meet the requirements for admission. After one year these materials will be destroyed.

Application Acknowledgment

On-time applicants may expect to receive an acknowledgment from the campuses to which they have applied within two to four weeks of filing the application. The notice may also include a request that applicants submit additional records necessary to evaluate academic qualifications. Applicants may be assured of admission if the evaluation of relevant qualifications indicates that applicants meet CSU admission requirements, and in the case of admission impactation, supplemental criteria for admission to an impacted program. Unless specific written approval/confirmation is received, an offer of admission is not transferable to another term or to another campus.

Hardship Petitions

The campus has established procedures for consideration of qualified applicants who would be faced with extreme hardship if not admitted. Petitioners should write the campus Admission Offices regarding specific policies governing hardship admission, Admissions Appeal Process

Undergraduate Admission Requirements

Freshman Requirements

Generally, applicants will qualify for consideration for first-time freshman admission if they meet the following requirements:

1. Have graduated from high school, have earned a Certificate of General Education Development (GED) or have passed the California High School Proficiency Examination (CHSPE);
2. Complete the 15-unit comprehensive "a-g" pattern of college preparatory courses;
3. Have completed, with grades of C- or better, each of the courses in the comprehensive pattern of college preparatory subject requirements also known as the "a-g" pattern (see "Subject Requirements"); and

- The CSU will accept "Credit" or "Pass" grades to satisfy "a-g" requirements completed during Winter, Spring, Summer or Fall 2020 terms and during Winter, Spring or Summer 2021 terms. The CSU expects and assumes that high school Pass (Credit) grades will represent work completed at the C- or higher level. Beginning Fall 2021 and forward, grades are expected for courses.
4. Earn a qualifying "a-g" grade point average (GPA) as described below.
 - California residents and graduates of California high schools will be eligible for admission by earning a 2.50 or greater "a-g" GPA.
 - Any California high school graduate or resident of California earning a GPA between 2.00 and 2.49 may be evaluated for admission based upon supplemental factors such as number of courses exceeding minimum "a-g" requirements, household income, extracurricular involvement, and other available information that would inform the campus admission decision.
 - Non-California residents may be eligible for admission to the CSU by earning a 3.00 or greater "a-g" GPA along with other supplemental factors utilized by the individual campus, including those outlined by impacted campuses and programs.
 - Any Non-California resident earning a GPA between 2.47 and 2.99 may be evaluated for admission based upon supplemental factors such as number of courses exceeding minimum "a-g" requirements, household income, extracurricular involvement, and other available information that would inform the campus admission decision.
 5. Each CSU campus will determine the supplemental factors used with GPA to determine eligibility in these cases and communicate these criteria publicly for prospective students.

The California State University (CSU) has permanently discontinued the use of ACT/SAT examinations in determining admission eligibility. Submitted test scores by admitted students would be considered only for purposes of student placement in Math or English courses.

Provisional Admission

Sonoma State may provisionally admit first-time freshman applicants based on their academic preparation through the junior year of high school and planned coursework for the senior year. The campus will monitor the final terms of study to ensure that admitted students complete their secondary school studies satisfactorily, including the required college preparatory subjects, and graduate from high school. Students are required to submit an official transcript after graduation to certify that all coursework has been satisfactorily completed. Official high school transcripts must be received prior to the deadline set by the university. In no case may documentation of high school graduation be received any later than the census date for a student's first term of CSU enrollment. A campus may rescind admission decisions, cancel financial aid awards, withdraw housing contracts and cancel any university registration for students who are found to be ineligible after the final transcript has been evaluated.

Applicants will qualify for regular (non-provisional) admission when the university verifies that they have graduated and received a high school diploma, have completed the comprehensive pattern of college preparatory "a-g" subjects and, if applying to an impacted program or campus, have met all supplementary criteria.

Subject requirements – The CSU requires that first-time freshman applicants complete, with grades of C- or better, a comprehensive pattern of college preparatory study totaling 15 units. A "unit" is one year of study in high school.

- 2 years of social science, including 1 year of U.S. history, or U.S. history and government

- 4 years of English
- 3 years of math (algebra, geometry and intermediate algebra; four years recommended)
- 2 years of laboratory science (1 biological & 1 physical, both must have laboratory instruction)
- 2 years in the same foreign language (subject to waiver for applicants demonstrating equivalent competence)
- 1 year of visual and performing arts: art, dance, drama/theater or music
- 1 year of electives: selected from English, advanced mathematics, social science, history, laboratory science, foreign language, visual and performing arts or other courses approved and included on the UC/CSU "a-g" list

The California Promise

The California Promise Program enables a specific number of CSU campuses to establish pledge programs for entering first-time students who are both interested and able to complete baccalaureate degrees in 4-years. All campuses have established programs for students with Associate Degrees for Transfer from any California Community College to complete their baccalaureate degrees in 2-years. The program is limited to students who are residents of California.

Students who commit to enter either the 4-year or 2-year pledge will be given a priority registration appointment for each state-supported enrollment period and will be provided with routine and thorough academic advisement. In order to remain in the program, students must meet with their advisors as prescribed, develop an enrollment plan and complete 30 semester units or the quarter equivalent within each academic year, including summer. Participating campuses may stipulate other requirements as well. Interested students entering the CSU should contact campus offices or visit the California Promise Program website.

Benefits of Participating

Students participating in the program will receive a variety of benefits, including:

- Support: Tailored academic advising from a California Promise Advisor to support on-time graduation, complimenting the academic advising provided by students' primary faculty advisor and/or professional academic advisor.
- Access: Early access to courses each semester via a priority registration appointment.
- Success: Maintaining eligibility for the program sets you up for success! On average, Sonoma State students who take at least 15-units per term earn higher GPA's, have higher persistence rates, and are more likely to graduate on-time.
- Savings: On-time graduation can save students up to $14,410 per semester, or $28,820 annually.
- Increased earning potential: In California, on average, a person with a bachelor's degree earns $60,521 per year compared to $30,627 for a person with only a high school diploma. That is nearly $30,000 more per year!

Eligibility for the 2-Year Program

In order to participate in the 2-year program, incoming transfer students must meet the eligibility criteria:

- Interested and able to complete a baccalaureate degree in two years.

- Starting at Sonoma State in Fall 2017 or later.
- Have an ADT, to be verified through our Admissions Office.
- Have declared one of the eligible majors, which must be "similar" to the completed ADT
- Have completed at least 50% of the units required for the degree.
- Be a California Resident.
- Attend orientation at entrance to the University.
- Complete a California Promise Program pledge form.

Eligibility for the 4-Year Program

In order to participate in the 4-year program, incoming first-time, first-year students must meet the eligibility criteria:

- Interested and able to complete a baccalaureate degree in four years.
- Starting at Sonoma State in Fall 2019 or later.
- Have declared one of the eligible majors.
- Be a California Resident.
- Meet at least one of the following three conditions:
 - Qualify as a low-income student;
 - Be a graduate of a high school located in a community that is underrepresented in college attendance; and/or
 - Be a first-generation college student.
- Attend orientation at entrance to the University.
- Complete a California Promise Program pledge form.

Maintaining Eligibility for the Program

In order to continue to participate in either the 2-year or 4-year program, students are expected to:

- Develop and maintain a 2-year or 4-year enrollment plan with your primary faculty advisor and/or professional academic advisor, using the Degree Planner tool within the Student Center of your MySSU portal.
- Review the enrollment plan with your California Promise Advisor every semester.
- Maintain good academic standing with at least a 2.000 GPA in all college units attempted (cumulative GPA) and for all units attempted at Sonoma State University (resident GPA).
- Complete 30-semester units within each academic year, which may include winter and summer intersessions.
- Complete all required courses on the first attempt with the minimum grade required.
- Clear any registration holds prior to your assigned priority registration window.
- Register for classes during your assigned priority registration window, i.e., within the first 24-hours of your registration appointment.
- Take required classes when they are offered, regardless of the scheduled time.
- Unless sequenced otherwise by your major, attempt to meet the Graduation Writing Assessment Requirement (GWAR) no later than the semester before the semester you anticipate graduating.
- Submit a Graduation Application no later than the semester before the semester you anticipate graduating.
- Pay fees by the required deadlines.

- Remain in your admitted major. If you wish to change majors (or add a major or minor), you must first receive approval from both your California Promise Advisor and an advisor in the new department, verifying that the change will not impede your time to degree.
- Complete your degree within two years if you are a transfer or four years if you are a first-time, first-year student, beginning with the first term of enrollment.

How to Apply

Prospective students wanting to participate in the California Promise Program must indicate their interest during the application process, by completing the California Promise portion of the Cal State Apply application. More information can be found through Cal State Apply, via their California Promise Program webpage. Students who have expressed their interest during the application process will be contacted for next steps. Note, at this time, we may not be able to accommodate students who express interest after they have already completed their Cal State Apply application.

If you have any questions, please contact the Advising & Transfer Center, located on the first floor of the Library, in Schulz 1125A. Our telephone number is 707-664-2730. When emailing, please include your name, SSU ID number, major, and whether you're inquiring about the 2-year or 4-year program.

High School Students

High school students may be considered for enrollment on a space available basis in certain special programs if recommended by the principal and the appropriate campus department chair and if preparation is equivalent to that required of eligible California high school graduates. Such admission is only for a given specific program and does not constitute a right to continued enrollment.

Transfer Policies of CSU Campuses

Most commonly, college-level credits earned from an institution of higher education accredited by a regional accrediting agency are accepted for transfer to campuses of the CSU; however, authority for decisions regarding the transfer of undergraduate credits is delegated to each CSU campus.

California Community Colleges and other authorized certifying institutions can certify up to 39 semester (58.5 quarter) units of General Education-Breadth (GE-Breadth) or 37 semester (55.5 quarter) units of the Intersegmental General Education Transfer Curriculum (IGETC) for transfer students to fulfill lower-division general education requirements for any CSU campus prior to transfer.

"Certification" is the official notification from a California Community College or authorized institution that a transfer student has completed courses fulfilling lower-division general education requirements. The CSU GE-Breadth and the Intersegmental General Education Transfer Curriculum (IGETC) certification course lists for particular community colleges can be accessed on the official transfer and articulation system for California's public colleges and universities website, assist.org.

CSU campuses may enter into course-to-course or program-to-program articulation agreements with other CSU campuses, any or all of the California community colleges and other regionally accredited institutions. Established CSU and CCC articulations may be found on www.assist.org. Students may be permitted to transfer no more than 70 semester (105 quarter) units to a CSU campus from an institution which does not offer bachelor's degrees or their equivalents, for example, community colleges. Given the university's 30-semester (45-quarter) unit residency requirement, no more than a total of 90 semester (135 quarter) units may be transferred into the university from all sources.

Transfer Requirements

Applicants who have completed fewer than 60 transferable semester college units (fewer than 90 quarter units) are considered lower-division transfer students. Applicants who have completed 60 or more transferable semester college units (90 or more quarter units) are considered upper-division transfer students. Applicants who complete college units during high school or through the summer immediately following high school graduation are considered first-time freshmen and must meet the CSU minimum eligibility requirements for first-time freshmen admission. Transferable courses are those designated for baccalaureate credit by the college or university offering the courses and accepted as such by the campus to which the applicant seeks admission.

Lower-Division Transfer Admission Requirements

Due to increased enrollment demands, most CSU campuses do not admit lower-division transfer applicants. Students are advised to check the respective campus they are interested in to see if lower division transfer applications are accepted.

An applicant who completes fewer than 60 semester (90 quarter) units of college credit is considered a lower-division transfer student. Due to enrollment pressures, most CSU campuses do not admit lower-division transfers so that more upper-division transfers can be accommodated.

Having fewer than 60 semester (90 quarter) units at the point of transfer may affect eligibility for registration priority at CSU campuses and may affect the student's financial aid status.

California resident transfer applicants with fewer than 60 semester or 90 quarter units must:

- Have a cumulative grade point average of 2.0 (C) or better in all transferable units attempted;
- Have completed, with a grade of C- or better, a course in written communication and a course in mathematics or quantitative reasoning at a level satisfying CSU General Education Breadth Area A2 and B4 requirements, respectively;
- Be in good standing at the last institution attended; and
- Meet any one of the following eligibility standards.

Transfer Based on Current Admission Criteria

The applicant meets the freshman admission requirements in effect for the term for which the application is filed; - OR -

Transfer based on High School Eligibility

The applicant was eligible as a freshman at the time of high school graduation and has been in continuous attendance in an accredited college since high school graduation; - OR -

Transfer Based on Making Up Missing Subjects

The applicant had a qualifiable eligibility index at the time of high school graduation (combination of GPA and test scores if needed), has made up any missing college preparatory subject requirements with a grade of C- or better, and has been in continuous attendance in an accredited college since high school graduation.

One baccalaureate-level course of at least 3 semester (4 quarter) units is usually considered equivalent to one year of high school study.

Note: Some campuses may require lower-division transfer students to complete specific college coursework, for example the four basic skill courses, as part of their admission criteria.

Upper-Division Transfer Requirements

Generally, applicants will qualify for consideration for upper-division transfer admission if they meet all of the following requirements

1. Cumulative grade point average of at least 2.0 (C or better) in all transferable units attempted;
2. In good standing at the last college or university attended; and
3. Completed at least sixty (60) transferable semester (90 quarter) units of college level coursework with a grade point average of 2.0 or higher and a grade C- or better in each course used to meet the CSU general education requirements in written communication, oral communication, critical thinking, and quantitative reasoning, e.g. mathematics.

The 60 units must include at least 30 units of courses, which meet CSU general education requirement including all of the general education requirements in communication in the English language (both oral and written) and critical thinking and the requirement in mathematics/quantitative reasoning (usually 3 semester units) OR the Intersegmental General Education Transfer Curriculum (IGETC) requirements in English communication and mathematical concepts and quantitative reasoning.

Due to enrollment constraints, priority is given to "local service area" applicants. The local service area for SSU is comprised of six counties: Sonoma, Napa, Lake, Marin, Mendocino, and Solano.

Associate Degrees for Transfer (AA-T or AS-T) / Student Transfer Achievement Reform (STAR) Act (SB 1440)

The Associate in Arts for Transfer (AA-T) and the Associate in Science for Transfer (AS-T) degrees offered at the California Community Colleges (CCC) are designed to provide a California community college student the optimum transfer preparation and a clear admission pathway to the CSU degree majors.

CCC students who earn an Associate Degree for Transfer (AA-T or AS-T) are guaranteed admission with junior standing to a CSU and given priority admission consideration over other transfer applicants when applying to a local CSU campus or non-impacted CSU program. AA-T or AS-T admission applicants are given limited priority consideration based on their eligibility ranking to an impacted campus/program or to campuses/programs that have been deemed similar to the degree completed at the community college. Students who have completed an AA-T/AS-T in a program deemed similar to a CSU major are able to complete remaining requirements for graduation within 60 semester (90 quarter) units. It is the responsibility of the student who has earned an AA-T/AS-T to provide documentation of the degree to the CSU campus. For the admissions process, students are responsible for working with their community college counselors to complete verification of AA-T or AS-T degree progress through the e-Verify process within the established campus deadlines.

Provisional Admission

Sonoma State may provisionally or conditionally admit transfer applicants based on their academic preparation and courses planned for completion. The campus will monitor the final terms to ensure that those admitted complete all required courses satisfactorily. All accepted applicants are required to submit an official transcript of all college-level work completed. Campuses may rescind admission for any student who is found to be ineligible after the final transcript has been evaluated. In no case may such documents be received and validated by the university any later than a student's registration for their second term of CSU enrollment.

English Language Requirement

All undergraduate applicants whose native language is not English and who have not attended schools in the United States at the secondary level or above for at least three years full time where English is the principal language of instruction must present a score of 61 iBT or above on the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL.) Some majors and some campuses may require a score higher than 61. A few campuses may also use alternative methods of assessing English fluency: Pearson Test of English Academic (PTE Academic), the International English Language Testing System (IELTS), and the International Test of English Proficiency (ITEP). Each campus will post the tests it accepts on its website and will notify students after they apply about the tests it accepts and when to submit scores.

CSU minimum TOEFL standards are:

	Internet Paper
Undergraduate 61	500
Graduate 80	550

Placement Measures for First-Year GE Written Communication and Mathematics/Quantitative Reasoning Courses

Freshman skills assessment and placement for general education written communication and mathematics/quantitative reasoning shall be based on systemwide skills assessment standards that include the Early Assessment Program/ Smarter Balanced Achievement Levels, ACT scores and/or SAT scores, high school coursework, high school GPA and math GPA.

Skills assessments are not a condition for admission to the CSU; they are a condition of enrollment.

These skills assessments are designed to inform entering freshmen of placement in appropriate baccalaureate-level courses based on their skills and needs.

First-time freshmen in need of support as determined by the skills assessment will be placed in supported instruction. Supported instruction is designed to assist students in credit bearing courses. Students may also be required to participate in the Early Start Program.

The Early Start Program gives students the opportunity to earn college credit in written communication and mathematics/ quantitative reasoning the summer before their first term.

Assessments and Placement for GE Written Communications Has Fulfilled the GE Subarea A2 English Requirement

The student has met the requirement via completion of one of the following:

Advanced Placement (AP) Test

- 3 or above: AP Language and Composition
- 3 or above: AP Composition and Literature

College Transfer Coursework

- Completed approved college course that satisfies CSU GE Area A2 (written communication) with a grade of C- or better

Placement in a GE Subarea A2 English Course

The student has met examination standards and/or multiple measures- informed standards via one of the criteria below:

English CAASPP/EAP Test:

- Standard Exceeded
- Standard Met and completed 12th grade approved year-long English course (CSU ERWC, AP, Weighted Honors English) with grade of C- or better

SAT Evidence-Based REading and Writing Test:

- 550 or above
- 510 – 540 and completed 12th grade approved year-long English course (CSU ERWC, AP, Weighted Honors English) with grade of C- or better English

ACT Test:

- 22 or higher
- 19-21 and completed 12th grade approved year-long English course (CSU ERWC, AP, Weighted Honors English) with grade of C- or better

High School Courses and GPA:

- Weighted GPA 3.3 or above
- GPA 3.0 or above and completed approved 12 grade year-long English course (AP, CSU ERWC, Weighted Honors English)
- GPA 3.0 or above and completed Honors English
- GPA 3.0 or above and 5 or more years of high school English

Placement in a Supported GE Subarea A2 English Course

The student has met examination standards and/or multiple measures- informed standards via one of the criteria below:

SAT Evidence-Based Reading and Writing Test:

- 510 – 540 and 4 or more years of high school English ACT Test:
- 19-21 and 4 or more years of high school English

High School Courses and GPA:

- Weighted GPA 3.0 or above and 4 or more years of high school English

Placement in a Supported GE Subarea A2 English Course and Participation in the Early Start Program Required

Based on multiple measures evaluation, student needs additional academic support including participation in the Early Start Program. Visit the Early Start Page to learn about the Early Start Program.

Assessments and Placement for GE Mathematics/Quantitative Reasoning: Non-Math Intensive Majors (Algebra and Statistics Disciplines, Non-STEM and Undecided Majors) Has Fulfilled the GE Subarea B4 Math/Quantitative Reasoning Requirement

The student has met the requirement via completion of one of the following:

Advanced Placement (AP) Test:

- 3 or above: Calculus AB
- 3 or above on AP Calculus BC
- 3 or above on AP Statistics
- 3 or above on AP Computer Science Principles

International Baccalaureate (IB) Test:

- 4 or above on Math Higher Level (HL)

College Level Examination Program (CLEP):

- 50 or above on: Calculus, College Algebra, College Algebra-Trigonometry, Pre-Calculus or Trigonometry

College Transfer Coursework:

- Completed math/quantitative reasoning college course with a C- or better that satisfies CSU GE Area B4

Placement in a GE Subarea B4 Math/Quantitative Reasoning Requirement

The student has met examination standards and/or multiple measures-informed standards via one of the following criteria:

CAASPP/EAP Math Exam:

- Standard Exceeded
- Standard Met and completed 12th grade approved year-long math course beyond Algebra 2 with a C- or better
- Standard Met and 4 or more years of high school math or quantitative reasoning

SAT Math Test:

- 570 or above
- 550 or above on Subject Test in Math Level 1 or 2
- 520 – 560 and completed 12th grade approved year-long math course beyond Algebra 2 with a C- or better

ACT Math Test:

- 23 or above
- 20-22 and completed 12th grade approved year-long math course beyond Algebra 2 with a C- or better
- *SAT score conversion for scores prior to March 2016 (old SAT)

High School Courses and GPA:

- Weighted math GPA 3.0 or above and completed 12th grade approved year-long math course beyond Algebra 2 with a C- or better
- Weighted math GPA 3.0 or above and 5 or more years of high school math or quantitative reasoning
- Weighted high school GPA 3.7 or above

- Weighted high school GPA 3.5 or above and 4 or more years of high school math or quantitative reasoning

Placement in a Supported GE Subarea B4 Math/ Quantitative Reasoning Requirement

The student has met examination standards and/or multiple measures- informed standards via one of the criteria below:

High School GPA:

- Weighted math GPA 3.3 or above
- Weighted high school GPA 3.0 or above

Placement in a Supported GE Subarea B4 Math/ Quantitative Reasoning Requirement and Participation in the Early Start Program Required

Based on multiple measures evaluation, student needs additional academic support including participation in the Early Start Program. Visit the Early Start page to learn about the Early Start Program.

Placement in a Supported GE Subarea B4 Math/ Quantitative Reasoning Requirement and Participation in the Early Start Program Required

Based on multiple measures evaluation, student needs additional academic support including participation in the Early Start Program. Visit the Early Start page to learn about the Early Start Program.

The goal of Early Start Program (ESP) is to:

- Better prepare students in written composition and mathematics/quantitative reasoning before the fall term of freshman year, improving students' chances of successful completion of a baccalaureate degree.
- If required to participate in ESP, as determined by multiple measures, students will begin in the summer before the start of the freshman year.
- For general information about ESP including fees and course listings, visit csstudentsuccess.org/early-start-overview. Students are encouraged to visit the campus website for ESP information once admitted.
- Eligible financial aid applicants with an Estimated Family Contribution (EFC) of $65,000 or less will be eligible for waiver of the per unit ESP fee. For more information on assessments, placements and the Early Start Program, please visit the Student Success website.

Adult Students

As an alternative to regular admission criteria, an applicant who is 25 years of age or older may be considered for admission as an adult student if he or she meets all of the following conditions:

1. Possesses a high school diploma (or has established equivalence through either the General Educational Development or the California High School Proficiency Examination);
2. Has not been enrolled in college as a full-time student for more than one term during the past five years; and
3. If there has been any college attendance in the last five years, has earned a C average or better in all college work attempted.

Consideration will be based upon a judgment as to whether the applicant is as likely to succeed as a regularly admitted freshman or transfer student and will include an assessment of basic skills in the English language and mathematical computation.

You must send a formal letter of appeal and all transcripts from high school and colleges. An admissions committee will review each appeal for adult admission. Admission is determined on a case-by-case basis. Recent course work in math and English to demonstrate college-level proficiency is essential for admission.

Graduation Requirement in Writing Proficiency

All students must demonstrate competency in writing skills as a requirement for graduation. Information on currently available ways to meet this graduation requirement may be obtained from

Graduate and Post-baccalaureate Admission Requirements

Admission Requirements

Graduate and post-baccalaureate applicants may apply for a degree objective, a credential or certificate objective, or where approved, may have no program objective. Depending on the objective, the CSU will consider an application for admission as follows:

- General Requirements - The minimum requirements for admission to graduate and post baccalaureate studies at a California State University campus are in accordance with university regulations as well as Title 5, Chapter 1, Subchapter 3 of the California Code of Regulations.
 - Specifically, a student shall at the time of enrollment: (1) have completed a four-year college course of study and hold an acceptable baccalaureate degree from an institution accredited by a regional accrediting association, or shall have completed equivalent academic preparation as determined by appropriate campus authorities; (2) be in good academic standing at the last college or university attended; (3) have earned a grade point average of at least 2.5 on the last degree completed by the candidate or have attained a grade point average of at least 2.5 (A=4.0) in the last 60 semester (90 quarter) units attempted; and (4) satisfactorily meet the professional, personal, scholastic, and other standards for graduate study, including qualifying examinations, as appropriate campus authorities may prescribe. In unusual circumstances, a campus may make exceptions to these criteria.
- Students who meet the minimum requirements for graduate and post-baccalaureate studies may be considered for admission in one of the four following categories:
 - Graduate Classified - To pursue a graduate degree, applicants are required to fulfill all of the professional, personal, scholastic, and other standards, including qualifying examinations, prescribed by the campus; or
 - Graduate Conditionally Classified - Applicants may be admitted to a graduate degree program in this category if, in the opinion of appropriate campus authority, deficiencies may be remedied by additional preparation; or
 - Post-baccalaureate Classified, e.g. admission to an education credential program - Persons wishing to enroll in a credential or certificate program, will be required to satisfy additional professional, personal, scholastic, and other standards, including qualifying examinations, prescribed by the campus; or
 - Post-baccalaureate Unclassified - To enroll in undergraduate courses as preparation for advanced degree programs or to enroll in graduate courses for professional or personal growth, applicants must be admitted as post-baccalaureate unclassified students. By meeting the general requirements, applicants are eligible for admission as post-baccalaureate unclassified students. Admission in this status does not constitute admission to, or assurance of consideration for admission to, any graduate degree or credential program (Most CSU campuses do not offer admission to unclassified post-baccalaureate students).

(These and other CSU admission requirements are subject to change as policies are revised and laws are amended. The CSU website and the CSU admission portal are good sources for the most up-to-date information.)

Graduate, Post-baccalaureate English Language Requirement

All graduate and post-baccalaureate applicants, regardless of citizenship, whose native language is not English and whose preparatory education was principally in a language other than English must demonstrate competence in English. Those who do not possess a bachelor's degree from a postsecondary institution where English is the principal language of instruction must receive a qualifying minimum score 80 iBT on the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL). Several CSU campuses may use alternative methods for assessing fluency in English including Pearson Test of English Academic (PTE Academic), the International English Language Testing System (IELTS), and the International Test of English Proficiency (ITEP). Minimum score requirements may be found on the website for international student admissions.

Returning Students

If you were previously enrolled as a post baccalaureate student at Sonoma State University, but have not registered for two or more semesters, you must file an application for readmission online at Cal State Apply and submit the application to Sonoma State University. If you missed only one semester, you need not reapply. If coursework was attempted at another college or university, one official transcript reflecting this work must be filed with the Office of Admissions and Records. Previously enrolled students who are reapplying are subject to the same application dates and fees as new applicants. If you attended Sonoma State as a visitor, concurrent enrollee, or exchange student, and you wish to continue your enrollment at Sonoma, you must file a new application for admission at Cal State Apply and submit the application to Sonoma State University.

International (Foreign) Student Admission Requirements

The CSU must assess the academic preparation of foreign students. For this purpose, "foreign students" include those who hold U.S. temporary visas as students, exchange visitors or in other non-immigrant classifications.

The CSU uses separate requirements and application filing dates in the admission of international students. Verification of English proficiency (see the section on the English Language Requirement above for undergraduate applicants), financial resources, and academic performance are all important considerations for admission. Academic records from foreign institutions must be on file by the close of the application period for the semester for which entry is desired and, if not in English, must be accompanied by certified English translations.

Sonoma State University welcomes applications from qualified international students. The application and admissions process for international students is distinct from the process for domestic students. Please read the following information carefully.

Sonoma State University International Student Application forms and information are available online at Admissions. The application for university admission can be found at Cal State Apply.

SSU admits international students twice a year for entry into either the fall or spring semesters. Application periods are as follows:

For fall semester entry

October 1 through April 30

For spring semester entry

August 1 through September 30

Academic Qualification

Undergraduate applicants must provide evidence of graduation from an appropriate secondary educational institution or successful study at a recognized institution of higher education with a minimum cumulative grade point average of at least 2.00 on a 4.00 scale or the equivalent. Admissions to some fields of study may be competitive.

Graduate applicants must meet the standards applicable to the University and to the SSU graduate program as indicated elsewhere in this catalog.

Housing

International students who file complete applications (including transcripts and financial affidavits) prior to the end dates of the respective application periods should be able to obtain on-campus housing.

International Student Fees and Expenses (Academic Year)

To receive an F-1 or J-1 visa, applicant must provide evidence that they have sufficient funds to cover their first year of study in the U.S. Sonoma State University offers international students an outstanding education at a very attractive price; however, it does not, in general, offer them financial assistance. For this reason, applicants must describe their plans for financing their studies in some detail. Instructions on financial certifications are in the application packet. Part-time employment on campus is permitted, but work opportunities are very limited. Having a good financial plan is, therefore, extremely important. Fees and tuition amounts are subject to change.

Estimates of Annual Undergraduate and Graduate Costs at Sonoma State University

These amounts are estimates and are subject to change without notice. Actual expenses may vary.

Tuition and fees are subject to change by the Trustees of the CSU without prior notice and are usually increased each academic year.

Expense	Undergraduate (12 units) Graduate (8 units)
California State Tuition Fees*	$7,388	$8,654
Non-Resident Tuition ($372 per unit)	$8,928	$5,952
Books and Materials	$1,788	$1,788

Housing/Food (full meal plan:	$15,000	$15,000
Personal Expenses	$3,500	$3,500
Health Insurance (annual fee2017-2018) $1,687		$1,687
TOTAL:	$30,291	$36,581

 The California State University makes every effort to keep student costs to a minimum. Fees listed in published schedules or student accounts may need to be increased when public funding is inadequate. Therefore, CSU must reserve the right, even after initial fee payments are made, to increase or modify any listed fees, without notice, until the date when instruction for a particular semester has begun. All CSU listed fees should be regarded as estimates that are subject to change upon approval by the Board of Trustees.*

 Health Insurance typically increases annually so this estimate is possibly a little low*

* For M.B.A. only - $254 per unit professional fee (additional $4,448 per year)*

Please note that international travel and extraordinary personal expenses are not included in the cost estimates above.

Family members: Students who will be accompanied by a spouse and/or children will need to submit additional documentation of financial support ($5,000 for spouse and $4,000 for each child).

If you will be a graduate student in either the EMBA, MSCES, Modern Languages Program, Organizational Development, or Psychology you will pay through our Extended and International Education Division and the tuition/fee structure is different. Housing, food, personal expense, and health insurance estimates remain the same.

Other Applicants

Intrasystem and Intersystem Enrollment Programs

Fully matriculated students enrolled at any CSU campus have access to courses at other CSU campuses on a space available basis unless those campuses/programs are impacted. This access is offered without students being required to be admitted formally to the host campus and in most cases without paying additional fees. Students should consult their home campus academic advisors to determine how such courses may apply to their specific degree programs before enrolling at the host campus.

There are two programs for enrollment within the CSU and one for enrollment between CSU and the University of California or California Community Colleges. Additional information about these programs is available from the Registrar's Office.

CSU Fully Online Courses – Matriculated students in good standing may request enrollment in one course per term, offered by a CSU host campus. Enrollment requests will be granted based on available space, as well as completion of any stated pre-requisites. Credit earned at the host campus is electronically reported to the student's home campus to be included on the student's transcript at the home campus.

CSU Visitor Enrollment– Matriculated students in good standing enrolled at one CSU campus may enroll at another CSU campus for one term. Credit earned at the host campus is reported at the student's request to the home campus to be included on the student's transcript at the home campus.

Intersystem Cross Enrollment– matriculated CSU, UC, or community college students may enroll on a "space available" basis for one course per term at another CSU, UC, or community college and request that a transcript of record be sent to the home campus.

Educational Opportunity Program

The Educational Opportunity Program (EOP) serves as a primary vehicle for the CSU in increasing the access, academic excellence and retention of California's educationally and economically disadvantaged students, thus working in the spirit and abiding by the legislative intent that originally established the program in 1969.

Applying to EOP

The Educational Opportunity Program at Sonoma State requires completion of the CSU application, including the completion of the supplemental EOP application, the submission of two electronic recommendation forms and completing of the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) or the CA DREAM Act by the March 2 deadline.

The application is available at Cal State Apply

The EOP application is included in the Cal State application. When filling out personal information an applicant will need to select "Yes" in response to the question "Do you wish to apply through the Educational Opportunity Program (EOP)?" This will generate the EOP application questions. Each question must be answered. The application also requires two electronic letters of recommendation. An applicant can send the electronic recommendation request form to a recommender by selecting the Supporting Information tile on Cal State Apply and filling out the requested information.

EOP Application Checklist:

- Start the CSU application at Cal State Apply.
- On the CSU application, check "yes" to the question, "Do you wish to apply through the Educational Opportunity Program?"
- Complete and submit the CSU Application online
- Follow up to confirm your electronic EOP recommendation letters have been submitted.
- SSU's EOP Application Deadlines:
 - Priority deadline for First Time Freshmen is December 15. The application including recommendation forms must be completed by then.
 - Regular deadline for First Time Freshmen is January 15 and EOP letters of recommendation are due January 30.
 - Remember to complete separately the financial aid application either Free Application for Free Student Aid (FAFSA) or the CA DREAM Act by March 2, available at www.fafsa.ed.gov or <https://dream.csac.ca.gov/>.

For additional information about the Educational Opportunity Program, please email our EOP Office at (707) 664-2427.

Veterans

If you are a veteran of the United States military service and a California resident, you may possibly be granted admission even if you do not meet the University's regular admissions requirements. If you wish to request consideration under this provision, follow regular application procedures, and send a letter of appeal to the Office of Admissions.

Applicants Not Regularly Eligible

Applicants not admissible under one of the above provisions may enroll in extension courses, at a community college, or at another appropriate institution to meet eligibility requirements. Denied applicants may choose to petition for special admission consideration. Only under the most unusual circumstances and only by special action will such applicants be admitted to Sonoma State University.

CSU Interim COVID-19 Vaccination Policy

Entering CSU students are required to present proof of the following immunizations to the CSU campus they will be attending before the beginning of their first term of enrollment.

All individuals who access Campus/Programs must be Fully Vaccinated against the COVID-19 virus, as defined by this policy, subject to the terms and limited Exemptions described in this policy, as well as comply with Other Safety Measures established on each campus.

A Student may be exempted from the vaccine requirement in this policy as described below:

Medical Exemption: due to a medical (including mental health) condition for which an Approved Vaccine presents a significant risk of a serious adverse reaction. Any medical Exemption must be verified by a certified or licensed healthcare professional.

Religious Exemption: due to either (i) a person's sincerely held religious belief, observance, or practice, which includes any traditionally recognized religion, or (ii) beliefs, observances, or practices which an individual sincerely holds and that occupy a place of importance in that individual's life, comparable to that of traditionally recognized religions.

SSU Vaccination Requirement Information

CSU Immunization Requirements

Entering CSU students are required to present proof of the following immunizations to the CSU campus they will be attending before the beginning of their first term of enrollment.

Measles, Mumps and Rubella (MMR): Two (2) doses with first dose on or after 1st birthday; OR positive titer (laboratory evidence of immunity to disease).

Hepatitis B (Hep B): All new students who will be 18 years of age or younger at the start of their first term at a CSU campus must provide proof of full immunization against Hepatitis B before enrolling. Full immunization against Hepatitis B consists of three timed doses of vaccine over a minimum 4 to 6 months' period. If you need further details please consult the Student Health Center.

Varicella (Chickenpox): Two (2) doses with first dose on or after 1st birthday; OR positive titer (laboratory evidence of immunity to disease) prior to enrollment.

Tetanus, Diphtheria, Pertussis (Tdap): One (1) dose after age 7.

Meningococcal conjugate (Serogroups A, C, Y, & W-135): One (1) dose on or after 16 for all students and age 21 or younger.

Tuberculosis Screening/Risk Assessment: All incoming students must complete a Tuberculosis risk questionnaire. Incoming students who are at higher risk* for TB infection, as indicated by answering "yes" to any of the screening questions, should undergo either skin or blood testing for TB infection within one year of CSU entry.

Higher risk include travel or living in South or Central America, Africa, Asia, Eastern Europe, and the Middle East; prior positive TB test; or exposure to someone with active TB disease.*

The above are not admission requirements but are required of students as conditions of enrollment in CSU.

Those unable to locate proof of previous immunization may send the results of blood tests confirming that they are immune to the diseases prevented by the required vaccines.

While prospective students can be accepted for admission to SSU before they have sent the required proof of immunization, once they have been accepted, students who wish to attend SSU must send SSU this proof at least 5-6 weeks before school starts. Those who don't meet compliance deadlines will incur late penalties and will be prohibited from registering for future classes until the necessary documentation has been received.

The SSU Student Health Center can provide MMR and Hepatitis B immunizations or blood tests to check for immunity for a nominal fee once an entering student has paid his/her Enrollment Reservation Deposit to SSU.

Individual immunization records or copies of blood tests documenting immunity, labeled with the entering student's full name and birth date should be sent to:

General Information About Admission and Evaluation of Academic Records

Advanced Placement

Sonoma State University grants credit toward its undergraduate degrees for successful completion of examinations of the Advanced Placement Program of the College Board. Students who present scores of three or better will be granted up to six semester units (nine quarter units) of college credit.

Credit by Examination

Students may challenge courses by taking examinations developed at Sonoma State University. Credit shall be awarded to those who pass them successfully.

Credit by Challenge Examinations

SSU grants undergraduate degree credit for successful completion of non-collegiate instruction, either military or civilian, appropriate to the baccalaureate degree, which has been recommended by the Commission on Educational Credit and Credentials of the American Council on Education. The numbers of units allowed are those recommended in the Guide to the Evaluation of Educational Experience in the Armed Services and the National Guide to Educational Credit for Training Programs.

You may earn unit credit for an SSU course that you successfully challenge by examination. The University, in the interest of accelerating the academic progress of capable students with special interests and experience, encourages the earning of such credit. The following regulations govern the challenging of courses:

1. Students may challenge only those courses that are listed in the SSU catalog and for which the challenger has not otherwise received credit. A course may be challenged only during the semester in which it is regularly offered;
2. Only students in resident study may challenge a course;
3. Examinations are set and administered by the instructor of the course challenged or by a faculty designee of the appropriate department chair. Completed examinations are filed in the department offices;
4. Application for Unit Credit by Challenge Examination must be approved by the appropriate department chair;
5. For summer sessions only, challenge examinations must be taken within the first two weeks of the Six Week Summer Session; and
6. When students pass the examination for credit, a CR will be recorded on their permanent record but will not be posted to students' records until 30 units have been earned in residence. No resident credit is earned, and units graded CR do not affect the grade point average. Forms for Application for Unit Credit by Challenge Examination are available in department offices.

Credit for Non collegiate Instruction

Sonoma State University grants undergraduate degree credit for successful completion of non-collegiate instruction, either military or civilian, appropriate to the baccalaureate degree, that has been recommended by the Commission on Educational Credit and Credentials of the American Council on Education. The number of units allowed are those recommended in the Guide to the Evaluation of Educational Experience in the Armed Services and the National Guide to Educational Credit for Training Programs.

Faculty Evaluated Prior Learning Program

Rachel Carson Hall 53, (707) 664-3977

Coordinator

Beth Warner

Sonoma State University subscribes to the principles recognized by the California State University and by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges. It offers the Faculty-Evaluated Prior Learning (FEPL) Program in order to serve highly motivated students with substantial experiential learning. Sonoma State University may grant up to 30 units of undergraduate credit for skills-based knowledge that has been documented and evaluated according to campus policy.

In defining creditable prior learning, it is perhaps easier to begin with what it is not. It is not giving credit for living. Everyone has lived and has had experience, but not everyone's life and experience produce learning equivalent to portions of a prescribed college curriculum. Credit is not awarded for raw experience but rather for significant learning experiences that result in a blend of practical and theoretical understanding applicable to other situations. This understanding must be both demonstrable and demonstrated.

The gateway into the program is a Portfolio Workshop, UNIV 310, which is offered through the School of Extended and International Education. This is a three-unit, interdisciplinary upper-division course that is open to anyone who wishes to benefit from a guided self-assessment to focus on academic goals and achievement. This course provides a structure for articulating and organizing prior-learning experiences into a prescribed portfolio format for faculty evaluation. This portfolio is useful for future educational and career planning, and can also be submitted for assessment and award of credit by following the procedures outlined below. These are outlined in more detail in program materials available from the Coordinator.

FEPL Procedures

To submit a portfolio for evaluation, the student must:

1. Have successfully completed the UNIV 310 Portfolio Workshop;
2. Have been admitted to an undergraduate degree program at Sonoma State University;
3. Be enrolled in coursework at SSU in the semester during which the evaluation of the portfolio takes place; and
4. Follow the established program procedures.

Orientation and Advising

This step is accomplished by enrolling in the UNIV 310 Portfolio Workshop. The seminar instructor will help the student assess the appropriateness of prior learning experiences for pursuit of credit via FEPL, the College Level Examination Program (CLEP), or challenge exams. The instructor will also guide students in creating a portfolio that can be used as a source of information for these endeavors.

Payment of User Fee

If the student, the seminar instructor, and the FEPL coordinator agree that the portfolio warrants formal application for award of credit, the next step is payment of a one-time non-refundable fee, based partly upon the complexity of the portfolio (please see FEPL brochure for details). The fee is assessed to cover the cost of faculty evaluation of the portfolio and does not guarantee the award of credit.

Faculty Evaluation

The final recommendations, including units to be awarded and specific descriptive titles, are forwarded by the FEPL coordinator to Admissions and Records for transcription. The FEPL coordinator forwards the completed portfolio to appropriate faculty evaluators who consider whether the learning demonstrated in the portfolio meets the criteria for college-level learning in their disciplines, whether it is upper- or lower-division level, and whether it is appropriate for credit in general education (GE), electives, or the major. Recommendations for award of credit for GE are reviewed according to standard university procedures. The evaluators also recommend the exact titling of the credit to be awarded and the number of units to be awarded in each category. The evaluators' recommendations and the portfolio are then returned to the FEPL coordinator. The time line for this process is one semester.

FEPL Policies

1. In accordance with WASC guidelines and University policy, no more than 30 baccalaureate units may be earned through FEPL;
2. FEPL units may not be transferable to another college, even in the CSU, as policies for earning credit for prior learning vary from campus to campus. However, the FEPL Coordinator will, at the request of any institution or agency, furnish full documentation showing how such learning was evaluated and the basis upon which units were awarded;
3. FEPL units cannot be used to fulfill transfer requirements; however, credit earned for UNIV 310 can be counted for unit requirements as part of the 24 units allowed for Extension credit;
4. Students can apply for credit only in areas where SSU has degree programs and faculty expertise;
5. Credit can only be awarded toward an approved degree program; and
6. FEPL credit is not available at the graduate level.

Programs Leading To Licensure And Credentialing

Admission into programs leading to licensure and credentialing does not guarantee that students will obtain a license or credential. Licensure and credentialing requirements are set by agencies that are not controlled by or affiliated with the CSU and requirements can change at any time. For example, licensure or credentialing requirements can include evidence of the right to work in the United States (e.g., social security number or taxpayer identification number) or successfully passing a criminal background check. Students are responsible for determining whether they can meet licensure or credentialing requirements.

The CSU will not refund tuition, fees or any associated costs to students who determine subsequent to admission that they cannot meet licensure or credentialing requirements.

The California State University has not determined whether its programs meet other states' educational or professional requirements for licensure and certification. Students enrolled in a California State University program who are planning to pursue licensure or certification in other states are responsible for determining whether they will meet their state's requirements for licensure or certification. This disclosure is made pursuant to 34 CFR §668.43(a)(5)(v)(C).

Appeal of Admission Decision

Section 89030.7 of the California Education Code requires that the California State University establishes specific requirements for appeal procedures for a denial of admission. Each CSU campus must publish appeal procedures for applicants denied admission to the University. The procedure is limited to addressing campus decisions to deny an applicant admission to the University.

Admission appeal procedures must address the basis for appeals, provide 15 business days for an applicant to submit an appeal, stipulate a maximum of one appeal per academic term, provide specific contact information for the individual or office to which the appeal should be submitted and indicate a time estimate for when the campus expects to respond to an appeal. The appeal procedures must be included in all denial of admission notifications to students and must also be published on the campus website.

SCHEDULE OF TUITION AND FEES – 2021/22

The CSU makes every effort to keep student costs to a minimum. Tuition and fees listed in published schedules or student accounts may need to be increased when public funding is inadequate. Therefore, CSU reserves the right, even after tuition or fees are initially charged or initial payments are made, to increase or modify any listed tuition or fees. All listed fees, other than mandatory systemwide tuition, are subject to change without notice, until the date when instruction for a particular semester or quarter has begun. All CSU-listed tuition and fees should be regarded as estimates that are subject to change upon approval by the Board of Trustees, the chancellor or the presidents, as appropriate. Changes in mandatory systemwide tuition will be made in accordance with the requirements of the Working Families Student Fee Transparency and Accountability Act (Sections 66028 through 66028.6 of the California Education Code).

The following reflects applicable systemwide tuition and fees for both semester and quarter campuses. These rates are subject to change.

In addition, fees are required for miscellaneous expenses in some courses, as indicated in catalog course descriptions, and for field trips.

A fee of $25 per semester is charged for use of music department instruments and equipment. In addition, a deposit of $20 is required for each instrument checked out for each semester. The deposit will be refunded with the return of the instrument.

Refund of Mandatory Student Charges and Fees, Including Nonresident Tuition

Regulations governing the refund of tuition and mandatory fees, including nonresident tuition, for students enrolling at the California State University are included in Section 41802 of Title 5, California Code of Regulations. For purposes of the refund policy, mandatory fees are defined as those systemwide and campus fees that are required to be paid in order to enroll in state-supported academic programs at the CSU. Refunds of fees and tuition charges for self-support, special session and extended education programs or courses at the CSU are governed by a separate policy established by the university, available in the Registrar's Office.

In order to receive a full refund of tuition and mandatory fees, including nonresident tuition, less an administrative charge established by the campus, a student must cancel registration or drop all courses prior to the first day of instruction for the term. Information on procedures and deadlines for canceling registration and dropping classes is available in the Registrar's office.

For state-supported semesters, quarters and non-standard terms or courses of four weeks or more, a student who withdraws during the term in accordance with the university's established procedures or drops all courses prior to the campus-designated drop period will receive a refund of tuition and mandatory fees, including nonresident tuition, based on the portion of the term during which the student was enrolled. No student withdrawing after the 60 percent point in the term will be entitled to a refund of any mandatory fees or nonresident tuition.

A student who, within the campus designated drop period and in accordance with campus procedures, drops units resulting in a lower tuition and/or mandatory fee obligation shall be entitled to a refund of applicable tuition and mandatory fees less an administrative charge established by the campus.

For state-supported non-standard terms or courses of less than four weeks, no refunds of tuition and mandatory fees, including nonresident tuition, will be made unless a student cancels registration or drops all classes, in accordance with the university's established procedures and deadlines, prior to the first day of instruction for state-supported non-standard terms or courses or prior to the first meeting for courses of less than four weeks.

Students will also receive a refund of tuition and mandatory fees, including nonresident tuition, under the following circumstances:

- The tuition and fees were assessed or collected in error;
- The course for which the tuition and fees were assessed or collected was canceled by the university;

- The university makes a delayed decision that the student was not eligible to enroll in the term for which tuition and mandatory fees were assessed and collected and the delayed decision was not due to incomplete or inaccurate information provided by the student; or
- The student was activated for compulsory military service.

Students who are not entitled to a refund as described above may petition the university for a refund demonstrating exceptional circumstances and the chief financial officer of the university or designee may authorize a refund if he or she determines that the fees and tuition were not earned by the university.

Information concerning any aspect of the refund of fees may be obtained from Seawolf Services located on the first floor of Salazar Hall at (707) 664-2308.

Fees and Debts Owed to the Institution

Should a student or former student fail to pay a fee or a debt owed to the institution, including tuition and student charges, the institution may "withhold permission to register, to use facilities for which a fee is authorized to be charged, to receive services, materials, food or merchandise or any combination of the above from any person owing a debt" until the debt is paid (see Title 5, California Code of Regulations, Sections 42380 and 42381).

Prospective students who register for courses offered by the university are obligated for the payment of charges and fees associated with registration for those courses. Failure to cancel registration in any course for an academic term prior to the first day of the academic term gives rise to an obligation to pay student charges and fees including any tuition for the reservation of space in the course.

The institution may withhold permission to register or other services offered by the institution from anyone owing fees or another debt to the institution. The institution may also report the debt to a credit bureau, offset the amount due against any future state tax refunds due the student, refer the debt to an outside collection agency and/or charge the student actual and reasonable collection costs, including reasonable attorney fees if litigation is necessary, in collecting any amount not paid when due.

The institution may not withhold an official transcript of grades by the institution from anyone owing fees or another debt to the institution (see Title 1.6C.7 (commencing with Section 1788.90) Part 4 of Division 3 of the Civil Code). The institution can still charge a fee for the issuance of the transcript pursuant to their published transcript processing fees.

If a person believes he or she does not owe all or part of an asserted unpaid obligation, that person may contact Seawolf Services at (707) 664-2308. Seawolf Services will review all pertinent information provided by the person and available to the campus and will advise the person of its conclusions.

Fee Waivers and Exemptions

The California Education Code provides for the waiver of mandatory systemwide tuition fees as summarized below:

Section 66025.3 –

Military

Dependent eligible to receive assistance under Article 2 of Chapter 4 of Division 4 of the Military and Veterans Code; child of veteran of the United States military who has a service-connected disability, has been killed in service, or has died of a service-connected disability, and meets specified income provisions; dependent, or surviving spouse who has not re-married of a member of the California National Guard who, in the line of duty, and while in the active service of the state, was killed, died of a disability resulting from an event that occurred while in the active service of the state, or is permanently disabled as a result of an event that occurred while in the active service of the state; and undergraduate student who is a recipient of a Medal of Honor, or undergraduate student who is a child of a recipient of a Medal of Honor who is no more than 27 years old, meets the income restriction and California residency requirement.

Foster Youth

Current or former foster youth who are 25 years of age or younger; have been in foster care for at least 12 consecutive months after reaching 10 years of age; meet one of the following: is under a current foster care placement order by the juvenile court, was under a foster care placement order by the juvenile court upon reaching 18 years of age, or was adopted, or entered guardianship, from foster care; completes and submits the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA); maintains a minimum grade point average and meets the conditions necessary to be in good standing at the campus; and meets the financial need requirements established for Cal Grant A awards. The waiver of mandatory systemwide tuition and fees under this section applies only to a person who is determined to be a resident of California pursuant to Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 68000) of Part 41 of the California Education Code.

Section 66602 – A qualifying student from the California State University who is appointed by the Governor to serve as Trustee of the California State University for the duration of his or her term of office.

Section 68120 –Surviving spouse or child of a deceased resident who was employed by a public agency, or was a contractor or an employee of a contractor, performing services for a public agency, and was killed or died as a result of an industrial injury or illness arising out of and in the course of the performance of his/her principal duties of active law enforcement or active fire suppression and prevention duties (referred to as Alan Pattee Scholarships).

Additionally, a person who qualifies for the waiver under this section as a surviving child of a contractor or of an employee of a contractor, who performed services for a public agency, must have enrolled as an undergraduate student at the California State University and meet the applicable income restriction requirement with supporting documentation (i.e. his/her income, including the value of parent support, does not exceed the maximum household income and asset level for an applicant for a Cal Grant B award).

Section 68121 –A qualifying student enrolled in an undergraduate program who is the surviving dependent of any individual killed in the September 11, 2001, terrorist attacks on the World Trade Center in New York City, the Pentagon building in Washington, D.C., or the crash of United Airlines Flight 93 in southwestern Pennsylvania, if the student meets the financial need requirements set forth in Government Code Section 69432.7 for the Cal Grant A Program and either the surviving dependent or the individual killed in the attacks was a resident of California on September 11, 2001.

Section 69000 – A person who has been exonerated, as that term is defined in Section 3007.05(e) of the Penal Code; completes and submits the FAFSA; and meets the financial need requirements established for Cal Grant A awards. The waiver of mandatory systemwide tuition and fees under this section applies only to a person who is determined to be a resident of California pursuant to Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 68000) of Part 41 of the California Education Code.

Students who may qualify for the above benefits should contact the Admissions/Registrar's Office for further information and/or an eligibility determination.

The California Education Code provides for the following nonresident tuition exemptions as summarized below:

Section 68075 - A student who is a member of the Armed Forces of the United States stationed in this state, except a member of the Armed Forces assigned for educational purposes to a state-supported institution of higher education, is entitled to resident classification only for the purpose of determining the amount of tuition and fees.

If that member of the Armed Forces of the United States who is in attendance at an institution is thereafter transferred on military orders to a place outside this state where the member continues to serve in the Armed Forces of the United States, the member shall not lose the member's resident classification so long as the member remains continuously enrolled at that institution.

Section 68075.7 – A nonresident student is exempt from paying nonresident tuition or any other fee that is exclusively applicable to nonresident students if the student (1) resides in California, (2) meets the definition of "covered individual" as defined in Section 3679(c)(2) of Title 38 of the United States Code, (3) is eligible for education benefits under the federal Montgomery GI Bill-Active Duty program or the Post-9/11 GI Bill program as each read on January 1, 2017.

Section 68122 – A student who is a victim of trafficking, domestic violence, and other serious crimes who has been granted a status under Section 1101(a)(15)(T)(i) or (ii), or Section 1101(a)(15)(U)(i) or (ii), of Title 8 of the United States Code shall be exempt from paying nonresident tuition to the same extent as individuals who are admitted to the United States as refugees under Section 1157 of Title 8 of the United States Code.

Section 68130.5 – A student, other than a person excluded from the term "immigrant" for purposes of the federal Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. Sec. 1101), pursuant to paragraph (15) of subsection (a) of Section 1101 of Title 8 of the United States Code, who is not a resident of California is exempt from paying nonresident tuition if the student meets the requirements of (1) through (4), below:

1. Satisfaction of the requirements of either subparagraph (A) or subparagraph (B):
 1. A total attendance of, or attainment of credits earned while in California equivalent to, three or more years of full-time attendance or attainment of credits at any of the following:
 1. California high schools.
 2. California high schools established by the State Board of Education.
 3. California adult schools established by a county office of education, a unified school district or high school district, or the Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation (subject to the class hours' requirement).
 4. Campuses of the California Community Colleges (subject to the credit requirements).
 5. A combination of those schools set forth in clauses (i) to (iv), inclusive.
 2. Three or more years of full-time high school coursework, and a total of three or more years of attendance in California elementary schools, California secondary schools, or a combination of California elementary and secondary schools.
2. Satisfaction of any of the following:
 1. Graduation from a California high school or attainment of the equivalent thereof.
 2. Attainment of an associate degree from a campus of the California Community Colleges.
 3. Fulfillment of the minimum transfer requirements established for the California State University for students transferring from a campus of the California Community Colleges.
3. Registration as an entering student at, or current enrollment at, an accredited institution of higher education in California not earlier than the fall semester or quarter of the 2001–02 academic year.
4. In the case of a person without lawful immigration status, the filing of an affidavit with the institution of higher education stating that the student has filed an application to legalize the student's immigration status or will file an application as soon as the student is eligible to do so.

Determination of Residency for Tuition Purposes

University requirements for establishing residency for tuition purposes are independent from requirements for establishing residency for other purposes, such as for tax purposes, or other state or institutional residency. These regulations were promulgated not to determine whether a student is a resident or nonresident of California, but rather to determine whether a student qualifies to pay university fees at the in-state or out-of-state rate. A resident for tuition purposes is someone who meets the requirements set forth in the Uniform Student Residency Requirements. These laws governing residency for tuition purposes at the California State University are California Education Code sections 68000-68086, 68120-68133, and 89705-89707.5, and California Code of Regulations, Title 5, Subchapter 5, Article 4, sections 41900- 41915. This material can be viewed by accessing the California State University Office of General Counsel website.

Each campus's Admissions Office is responsible for determining the residency status of that campus's new and returning students based, as applicable, on the student's Application for Admission, Residency Questionnaire, and, as necessary, other information the student furnishes. A student who fails to provide sufficient information to establish resident status will be classified a nonresident.

Residency Requirements

Requirements for Residency for Tuition Purposes

Physical Presence: The student or parent/guardian must be physically present in California for more than one year immediately preceding the Residence Determination Date in which enrollment is contemplated. For example, if a student plans to attend the CSU for the Fall 2022 academic term, and the Residence Determination Date for that term is September 20, 2022, the student must establish physical presence in California no later than September 19, 2021.

Intent: California law stipulates the burden of proof rests with the student, and merely living in California for a year does not support a claim for residency for tuition purposes. The student, or in some cases a parent or legal guardian, must demonstrate intent to remain indefinitely in the state for more than one year immediately preceding the Residence Determination Date (RDD) and sever all residential ties with the former state or country of residence. If the student is under the age of 19, the student's residence status is derived from that of the parent or legal guardian unless an exception applies. There must be sufficient documentation to demonstrate that intent was established more than one year (a minimum of one year and one day) before the RDD.

Documents must include the student's name, the student's California address, and a date at least one year and one day prior or on the RDD for the term. For students under the age of 19, documents must be in the parent or legal guardian's name unless an exception applies. Also, a parent or legal guardian's immigration status does not preclude a student from establishing residency; therefore, the parent or legal guardian is not required to provide any immigration documents to demonstrate intent.

Evidence demonstrating intent to remain in the State of California indefinitely may vary from case to case, but will include, and is not necessarily limited to, the absence of residential ties to any other state, California voter registration and history of actually voting in California elections, maintaining California vehicle registration and driver's license, maintaining active California bank accounts, filing California income tax returns and listing a California address on federal tax returns, owning residential property or occupying or renting a residence where permanent belongings are kept, maintaining active memberships in California professional or social organizations, and maintaining a permanent military address and home of record in California.

Immigration Information

A student seeking to pay in-state tuition at a California State University campus as a first-time freshman, transfer, or as a post-baccalaureate/graduate student must have an eligible immigration status to establish residency. Therefore, the student must be a United States citizen, a permanent resident (Green Card holder), or hold an eligible visa status (see list). If a student does not qualify as a California resident, the student may be eligible for certain exceptions and exemptions.

Nonimmigrant Statuses and Other Categories that are Eligible to Establish California Residency for Tuition Purposes

The Immigration and Nationality Act allows individuals in certain nonimmigrant statuses to establish permanent residency in the United States. Therefore, they are entitled to establish California residency for tuition purposes. For a complete list of eligible visas and other eligible categories, review the Nonimmigrant list. Students must hold an eligible visa status at least one year before the Residence Determination Date to be eligible to establish California residency for tuition purposes.

Students in the category of Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA) or Temporary Protected Status (TPS) are also eligible to establish residency for tuition purposes. Also, students who are adjusting their immigration status, such as asylum, may qualify for residency depending on where they are in the application process.

Most nonimmigrant visa holders, such as an F-1 or J-1 visa holder, are not eligible to establish California residency for tuition purposes. Students with a visa or without an immigration status should contact the campus Admissions Office.

Exceptions

Exceptions to the general residency requirements are contained in California Education Code sections 68070-68086 and California Code of Regulations, Title 5, Subchapter 5, Article 4, sections 41906-41906.6, 41910. Whether an exception applies to a particular student can only be determined after the submission of an application for admission and, as necessary, additional supporting documentation. Because neither the campus nor the Chancellor's Office staff may give legal advice, applicants are strongly urged to review the material for themselves and consult with a legal advisor.

Reclassification - Financial Independence (only applies to continuing students)

A student classified as a nonresident for a prior term may seek reclassification in any subsequent term; however, reclassification requires that, in addition to satisfying the requirements of physical presence and intent to remain indefinitely in the state, the student must also satisfy the requirement of financial independence as outlined in Title 5 CCR § 41905.5. To do so, the student must contact the appropriate person in the campus admissions office and complete a Residency Questionnaire Form and provide supporting documents.

41905.5. Residence Reclassification - Financial Independence Requirement

- Any nonresident student requesting reclassification to resident for tuition purposes must demonstrate financial independence
- Student has not and will not be claimed as an exemption for state and federal tax purposes by his/her parent in the calendar year the reclassification application is made and in any of the three calendar years prior to the reclassification application
- Student has not and will not receive more than seven hundred fifty dollars ($750) per year in financial assistance from his/her parent in the calendar year the reclassification application is made and in any of the three calendar years prior to the reclassification application
- Student has not lived and will not live for more than six weeks in the home of his/her parent during the calendar year the reclassification application is made and in any of the three calendar years prior to the reclassification application
- Note: Students who receive a government scholarship and/or financial assistance should be viewed the same as state and federal financial aid, and athletics grants-in-aid; and should not be counted as parental support.
- Effective Fall 2020 academic term, if the student meets at least one of the following criteria, the student does not have to meet the financial independence requirement. Student must provide the campus admissions office supporting documents (e.g. state income tax returns, court documents, marriage certificate, military order form) that demonstrate they meet the criteria.
- Dependent on a parent who has California residence for more than one year immediately preceding the residence determination date;
- Enrolled in a graduate or post-baccalaureate program, regardless of age;
- Turned 24 years of age by the residence determination date;
- Married or registered domestic partner as of the residence determination date;
- Active duty members serving in the U.S Armed Forces
- Veteran of the U.S. Armed Forces
- Legal dependent other than spouse or registered domestic partner
- Former ward of the court, foster youth or both parents are deceased
- Declared by a court to be an emancipated minor
- Unaccompanied youth who is homeless or at risk of becoming homeless

Residency Appeals

A student classified as a nonresident may appeal a final campus decision within 30 days of notification by the campus. Appeals will be accepted only if at least one of the following criteria applies:

1. The decision was based on:
 1. a significant error of fact by the campus;
 2. a significant procedural error by the campus; or
 3. an incorrect application of the law which, if corrected would require that the student be reclassified as a California resident; and/or

2. Significant new information, not previously known or available to the student, became available after the date of the campus decision classifying the student as a nonresident and based on the new information, the classification as a nonresident is incorrect.

Instructions to submit an appeal and additional information can be found on the California Residency for Tuition Purposes Website.

Appeals via email, fax and U.S. mail will not be accepted. A student with a documented disability who is requesting an accommodation to submit an appeal through the CSU website should contact Student Affairs and Enrollment Management at residencyappeals@calstate.edu.

The Chancellor's Office will either decide the appeal or send the matter back to the campus for further review.

A student incorrectly classified as a resident or incorrectly granted an exception from nonresident tuition is subject to reclassification as a nonresident or withdrawal of the exception and subject to payment of nonresident tuition in arrears. If incorrect classification results from false or concealed facts, the student may also be subject to discipline pursuant to Section 41301 of Title 5 of the California Code of Regulations. A student previously classified as a resident or previously granted an exception is required to immediately notify the Admissions Office if the student has reason to believe that the student no longer qualifies as a resident or no longer meets the criteria for an exception.

Changes may have been made in the rate of nonresident tuition and in the statutes and regulations governing residency for tuition purposes in California between the time this information is published and the relevant residency determination date. Students are urged to review the statutes and regulations stated above.

Procedure for the Establishment or Abolishment of Campus-Based Mandatory Fees

The law governing the California State University provides that specific campus fees defined as mandatory, such as a student association fee and a student center fee, may be established. A student association fee must be established upon a favorable vote of two-thirds of the students voting in an election held for this purpose (Education Code, Section 89300). The campus president may adjust the student association fee only after the fee adjustment has been approved by a majority of students voting in a referendum established for that purpose. The required fee shall be subject to referendum at any time upon the presentation of a petition to the campus president containing the signatures of 10 percent of the regularly enrolled students at the university. Student association fees support a variety of cultural and recreational programs, childcare centers, and special student support programs. A student center fee may be established only after a fee referendum is held which approves by a two-thirds favorable vote the establishment of the fee (Education Code, Section 89304). Once bonds are issued, authority to set and adjust student center fees is governed by provisions of the State University Revenue Bond Act of 1947, including, but not limited to, Education Code sections 90012, 90027, and 90068. A student success fee may be established or adjusted only after the campus undertakes a rigorous consultation process and a fee referendum is held with a simple majority favorable vote (Education Code, Section 89712). The student success fee may be rescinded by a majority vote of the students only after six years have elapsed following the vote to implement the fee.

The process to establish and adjust other campus-based mandatory fees requires consideration by the campus fee advisory committee and a consultation or student referendum process as established by California State University Student Fee Policy, Section III (or any successor policy). The campus president may use consultation mechanisms if he/she determines that a referendum is not the best mechanism to achieve appropriate and meaningful consultation, and referendum is not required by the Education Code or Student Success Fee policy. Results of the referendum and the fee committee review are advisory to the campus president. The president may adjust campus-based mandatory fees but must request the chancellor to establish a new mandatory fee. The president shall provide to the campus fee advisory committee a report of all campus-based mandatory fees. The campus shall report annually to the chancellor a complete inventory of all campus-based mandatory fees.

Average Support Cost Per Full-time Equivalent Student and Sources of Funds

The total support cost per full-time equivalent student (FTES) includes the expenditures for current operations, including payments made to students in the form of financial aid, and all fully reimbursed programs contained in state appropriations. The average support cost is determined by dividing the total cost by the number of FTES. The total CSU 2021/22 budget amounts were $4,228,282,000 from state General Fund (GF) appropriations, before a $(4.4) million CalPERS retirement adjustment, $2,509,668,000 from gross tuition revenue, and $653,724,000 from other fee revenues for a total of $7,391,674,000. The 2021/22 resident FTES target is 374,246 and the nonresident FTES based on past-year actual is 19,430 for a total of 393,676 FTES. The GF appropriation is applicable to resident students only whereas fee revenues are collected from resident and nonresident students. FTES is derived by dividing the total student credit units attempted by a fixed amount depending on academic level (e.g., 30 for a semester campus and 45 for a quarter campus, the figures that define a full-time undergraduate or postbaccalaureate student's academic load).

2021/22	Amount	Average Cost per FTES	Percentage
State Appropriation (GF) 1	4,228,282,000	11,298	57.2%
Gross Tuition Revenue 2	2,509,668,000	6,374	34%
Other Fees Revenue 2	653,724,000	1,661	8.8%
Total Support Cost	7,391,674,000	19,333	100%

1. Represents state GF appropriation in the Budget Act of 2021/22; GF is divisible by resident students only (374,246 FTES).

2. Represents CSU Operating Fund, gross tuition and other fees revenue amounts submitted in campus August 2020/21 final budgets. Revenues are divisible by resident and nonresident students (393,676 FTES).

The 2021/22 average support cost per FTES based on GF appropriation and net tuition fee revenue only is $17,672 and when including all three sources as indicated below is $19,333, which includes all fee revenue (e.g. tuition fees, application fees, and other campus mandatory fees) in the CSU Operating Fund. Of this amount, the average net tuition and other fee revenue per FTES is $8,035.

The average CSU 2021/22 academic year, resident, undergraduate student basic tuition and other mandatory fees required to apply to, enroll in, or attend the university is $7,439 ($5,742 tuition fee plus $1,621 average campus-based fees). However, the costs paid by individual students will vary depending on campus, program, and whether a student is part-time, full-time, resident, or nonresident.

Selective Service

The federal Military Selective Service Act (the "Act") requires most males residing in the United States to register themselves with the Selective Service System (SSS) within thirty days of their eighteenth birthdays. Most males between the ages of 18 and 25 must be registered. Males born after December 31, 1959, may be required to submit a statement of compliance with the Act. In California, students subject to the Act who fail to register are ineligible to receive any student grants funded by the state.

Selective Service registration forms are available at any U.S. Post Office, and many high schools have a staff member or teacher appointed as a Selective Service Registrar. Applicants for financial aid can also request that information provided on the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA), or the California Dream Application, be used to register them with the Selective Service. Information on the Selective Service System is available and the registration process may be initiated online.

By contacting the Financial Aid Office staff and accessing the office's website, students and their families can find out about federal and state financial aid programs and, if eligible, be awarded monetary assistance to meet the costs of attending Sonoma State University. The staff is committed to providing each applicant with timely and efficient customer service, as well as ensuring that students have access to current and accurate information about the steps and deadlines for completing the financial aid application process.

Financial Aid Programs

Financial aid can be in the form of grants, loans, employment, and scholarships. Students may receive assistance from the following programs:

Federal Aid

- Federal Pell Grants
- Federal TEACH Grants

- Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants
- Bureau of Indian Affairs Grants
- Federal Work Study (FWS)
- Federal Direct Student Loans
- Federal Direct Parent Loans for Undergraduate Students

State Aid

- Cal Grants A and B
- Middle Class Scholarship
- Child Development Teacher Grants
- Alan Pattee Scholarships
- Assumption Program of Loans for Education
- Graduate Assumption Program of Loans for Education
- Robert C. Byrd Honors Scholarships
- Educational Opportunity Program Grants
- Graduate Equity Fellowships
- State University Grant
- Professional Program Fee Grant

The Financial Aid Office has developed an informative and supportive website where students can find descriptions and specific eligibility requirements for the programs listed above. Students are encouraged to visit links provided on the website, to apply online, and to review the information about the California Student Aid Commission's programs and information about federal financial aid.

Application Procedures for California Dream Act

Students who qualify for the waiver of non-resident tuition under AB540 may be eligible for the State University Grant, Cal Grant, or Middle Class Scholarship. Please review the information available at the California Student Aid Commission's website, and complete the California Dream Act application available through their website. The priority deadline is March 2.

Please Note: Students who are eligible for federal financial aid must complete the Free Application for Federal Aid (FAFSA), as explained in the next section, not the Dream Act Application.

Application Procedures

All new and continuing financial aid applicants are required to complete and submit the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) or the California Dream Act application. By submitting this single application, applicants will be considered for most of the federal and state financial aid programs that are listed above (excluding BIA and non-FWS employment). New applicants for Cal Grants must also file a California Student Aid Commission GPA Verification Form by March 2. The FAFSA or California Dream Act application asks for confidential information about family income, assets, household size, etc., which is used by the Financial Aid Office to establish financial need and determine what aid, if any, the student is eligible to receive.

FAFSA Applicants

To help avoid errors and to speed up processing of your FAFSA, apply online at studentaid.gov. You (and your parent, if you will be required to report your parents' information) should also apply for a Federal Student Aid ID (FSAID) at Federal Student Aid ID (FSAID) so you can sign your FAFSA electronically.

California Dream Act Applicants

To help avoid errors and to speed up processing of your California Dream Act application, apply online at the California Student Aid Commission's website.

Apply as early after October 1 as possible. Those who apply in October or November will have first priority to the available funding. To be considered for priority filing and to apply for a new Cal Grant or Middle Class Scholarship you must file your application by March 2.

The Financial Aid Office expects the student and the student's family to make every effort possible to assist with the cost of the student's education. Students who do not meet the federal/state definition of financial independence from their parents must provide parental financial data. This information, in addition to the student's own resources, will be taken into consideration when determining a student's eligibility for the various aid programs administered by the University. The student's financial need is determined by subtracting those resources available for education from a standard student budget.

It is toward meeting this need—the difference between costs and resources—that financial aid is directed. Generally, the need is met by a "package"—loan, scholarship, employment, and/or grant. Notification of aid for the following year is sent to each applicant once the FAFSA or California Dream Act application has been received. This process usually begins in February for newly admitted students and in late March for continuing students.

Questions regarding a student's eligibility or types of financial aid offered should be directed to the Financial Aid Office. Contact hours, phone numbers, and email addresses are available on the Financial Aid Office website.

Financial Aid Appeals

Students have the right to appeal their financial aid award or any other financial aid decision that they feel affects them adversely and that falls outside of the jurisdiction of federal, state, or Chancellor's Office regulations. This right includes answers to questions, explanations of financial aid policies and procedures, and a request for reconsideration. The initial appeal is made to the student's Financial Aid Representative. The appeal is made to the student's financial aid representative and ultimately it will be presented to the Financial Aid Committee. Any decisions made by the Committee are final.

University Scholarship Program

The University Scholarship Program at Sonoma State is made possible through the generous support of individuals, businesses, and organizations who recognize the outstanding contributions made by the University and its graduates.

Scholarship applications are available beginning November 1 each year and are due February 1 of the application year. Students interested in applying for any of the awards offered through the University Scholarship Program may visit the scholarship office website.

Any incoming degree seeking student planning to attend Sonoma State University full-time beginning in the fall semester, whether entering or continuing, is eligible to apply. Entering students must have applied for admission to access the scholarship portal, but formal acceptance to SSU is not required by February 1.

Most University scholarships are awarded on the basis of an applicant's academic record and overall achievements without special consideration of financial need. A minimum cumulative GPA of 3.00 on a 4.00 point scale is required.

Questions about the scholarship program may be sent to scholarships@sonoma.edu or by calling (707) 664-2261.

Alan Pattee Scholarships

Children and spouses of deceased public law enforcement or fire suppression employees who were California residents and who were killed in the course of law enforcement or fire prevention or suppression duties are not charged mandatory tuition fees (tuition fee and application fee) at any California State University campus, according to the Alan Pattee Scholarship Act, Education Code, Section 68120. Students qualifying for these benefits are known as Alan Pattee scholars. For more information, contact the Office of Admissions for an eligibility determination.

Departmental and Athletic Scholarships

Many departments at SSU offer scholarships to students within their majors. Athletic scholarships are also given. Contact your department or respective coach for more information.

External Scholarships

Community, social and service groups, employers, churches, and other organizations often provide scholarships. Applicants should check with their high school counselors or local foundations and community groups for more information as well as visit the External Scholarships resource page on the Scholarship Office website.

Note: Receipt of any scholarship may affect eligibility for certain financial aid. Recipients should check with the Financial Aid Office to determine their options.

Additional Work Opportunities

Employment is generally available in Sonoma County and the surrounding University service area to students with ability and initiative. The Career Center can be helpful in referring interested students to part-time job opportunities. Please see the Career Center website for more information.

Join Us Making Progress

Student Center, 2nd Floor
Meredith Bates, Community Service Coordinator
(707) 664-2782

JUMP is the community service program of the Associated Students Inc., which provides Sonoma State University students the opportunity for personal growth, leadership, and education through service to the campus and the community. By organizing service and advocacy opportunities in response to our community's needs, JUMP encourages students to pursue purposeful action and education while promoting change and impacting our world.

Student Government

Student Center, 2nd Floor
Jesse Magana III, Coordinator
(707) 664-4375

The Student Government exists to serve the students at Sonoma State University through awareness, advocacy, and representation. The AS Senate serves as the official voice for all the students of Sonoma State University. We also work to empower students of SSU to engage in shared governance, representing the student perspective to members of the campus community through leadership and active citizenship.

Counseling & Psychological Services (CAPS)

Building 17A (East of Salazar Hall)
(707) 664-2153 or (707) 664-4444 (when CAPS is closed)

The purpose of Counseling & Psychological Services is to support student mental health and wellbeing. Short-term counseling is provided to enrolled students who are experiencing personal difficulties that interfere with their ability to take full advantage of the University experience. Licensed Psychologists, Marriage and Family Therapists and post-doctoral residents provide individual, couples, and group counseling. Our goal is to facilitate the following: personal growth and self-esteem, development of satisfying relationships, effective communication and decision-making skills, and the establishment of personal values. CAPS counselors help clients express and clarify their concerns and identify specific changes that might be helpful to them. Interventions are aimed at increasing self-awareness, utilizing existing coping strategies more effectively, and developing additional skills to deal more successfully with problems.

The counseling staff offers group therapy, workshops, trainings and outreach on a variety of themes, such as grief/loss, adjusting to college, assertiveness training, eating and body image issues, support groups for LGBTQ students and students of color, test anxiety, procrastination, suicide prevention and men's and women's issues.

Drop-in/crisis hours are available daily and after-hours counseling support is available 24/7 by calling our main phone number. Consultation services are available to friends, family, staff and faculty who are concerned about a student's mental health. Referrals are made to community agencies and private practitioners for students requiring specialized services or long-term psychotherapy.

CAPS staff strive to acknowledge, accept, and support the perspectives of a diverse campus population. This includes, but is not limited to, race/ethnicity, gender, age, sexual orientation, ability, religious/spiritual affiliation, socio-economic status, and immigration status. All are welcome here.

For information and appointments, call (707) 664-2153.

Providing Equal Access

Sonoma State University is committed to providing an inclusive environment, which is responsive to the needs of all students. To ensure this inclusion, appropriate accommodations are provided to students and prospective students who have self-identified with various disabilities and who require these accommodations in order to enjoy access to university programs, services, or activities for which the individual are otherwise qualified. Accommodations will not be provided if they fundamentally alter or impact the nature of the program, inappropriately impede access for others or cause a direct threat to the health and safety of the student with a disability or others. The university's goal is to provide an equivalent academic experience and learning opportunity, but does not guarantee a student's academic success.

Role of Disability Services for Students

The University has designated Disability Services for Students (DSS) as the office responsible for receiving, reviewing, and verifying disability documentation for students, authorizing and providing specialized support services, and assisting faculty, staff, and managers in providing equal access with reasonable and appropriate accommodations to students with disabilities within a reasonable and timely manner.

Accommodation Services

DSS considers factors such as documentation from professionals specializing in the area of the student's diagnosed disability, the student's functional limitations, and the student's input and accommodation history when determining appropriate accommodations. DSS works with the student and relevant faculty and staff through an interactive process designed to identify an accommodation that provides equal access, while also ensuring that the academic integrity of the University is maintained by requiring that all students complete the same requirements that have been determined to be essential to the program of instruction or directly related to any licensing requirement.

How to register for services

The Disability Services for Students office (DSS) welcomes Sonoma State University students who are interested in receiving accommodation services related to their disability. All SSU students seeking services through DSS are responsible for completing the following three steps before their academic accommodations are provided:

- Complete the Student Intake Form
- Provide Documentation of one's disability
- Schedule an "Intake Appointment"

The DSS office is committed to ensuring that all students with disabilities have equal access to the educational environment at Sonoma State University. Students are provided with the opportunity to have an interactive working relationship with DSS staff members in order to implement appropriate academic accommodations and services; and students are encouraged to take full advantage of the numerous campus-wide academic support services available to help themselves work to their highest potential.

Care Team

Student Center 3020
(707) 664-3225

The Care Team serves as a central network focused on assisting students displaying behaviors that may impede their ability to be successful in the University community. Our focus is to offer supportive intervention and guidance to any students who appear to be struggling and help restore their lives academically and personally.

Care exists to ensure continuity of services and connecting students with the support they may need. It does not preempt any other University department in performing its duties in enforcing the law or managing student situations.

To Confidentially Refer a Student

Please complete a Student of Concern Report.

The confidentiality of both the student and submitter is protected to the fullest extent of the law and within University policy parameters.

Student Health Center

Student Health Center (between Library and Rachel Carson Hall)
(707) 664-2921

Accredited by the Accreditation Association for Ambulatory Healthcare, Inc.

Sonoma State University maintains a nationally accredited, on-campus Student Health Center (SHC) that provides outpatient primary medical care as well as health education, public health, and disease prevention services for regularly enrolled SSU students. The Student Health Center is located along West Redwood Circle, between the Schultz Library/Information Center and Rachel Carson Hall, and East of the Zinfandel village area of the residence halls.

Hours: 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. M-Th, 9:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Fridays, excluding campus closures and holidays.

Staffing: The Student Health Center's licensed professional staff includes board certified physicians, nurses, pharmacist, clinical lab scientist, and X-ray technologist.

Services: The SHC provides quality outpatient medical care for standard illnesses, injuries, and basic acute mental health concerns. Pharmacy, lab, x-ray, travel and athletic medicine, and preventative medical services such as immunizations, Pap smears, contraception, and health education are also provided. While interim and transitional care are offered for medical stabilization, support and continuity of care purposes, long term comprehensive care for chronic complex conditions that require hospitalization or 24/7 continuing treatment by a specialist, are beyond the scope, staffing, or hours of operation of the Student Health Center.

SHC basic medical visits, health education, and public health services are available at no additional charge to regularly enrolled SSU students who have paid the mandatory per semester student health fees. Nominal user fees are charged for pre-employment and pre-participation physicals and for summer services. Discounted user fees are also in place to cover the acquisition cost of medications, vaccines, specialized diagnostic tests, and certain other medical supplies as well as augmented services.

Regularly enrolled SSU students who have paid the per semester mandatory campus health fees along with other SSU campus registration fees may receive basic medical visit services at

Sonoma State University as well as other California State University Student Health Centers without additional charge during their regular academic year enrollment. Health insurance is not required to use the Student Health Center. However, personal health insurance is recommended, because students are financially responsible for medical services they receive outside the SHC and from off campus entities.

Confidentiality: SHC medical records and related individually identifiable health information are confidential and are held in a manner consistent with state and federal law as well as national accreditation standards. Parents, family members, University personnel, and other individuals who are not the healthcare providers and SHC support staff directly involved in the student's medical care do not have access to SHC medical information without the patient's consent.

Student Health Advisory Committee (SHAC): Opportunities for student involvement and advocacy relevant to campus health issues are available through SHAC and health promotion projects. Learn about SHAC and how to become involved. Those interested in serving on SHAC are encouraged to contact the Student Health Center. Those interested in health promotion projects should contact the SHC Health Promotion Specialist.
